EXPLANATION OF THE RELATION OF THIS SUPPLEMENT TO FOOD PRODUCTS REGULATION NO. 2

Not all of the provisions affecting the maximum prices for sales of grain by retailers are stated in this supplement. Those which are not specifically set forth here are stated in Food Products Regulation No. 2, and they are just as much a part of this Supplement as if they were printed here.

The particular sections of Food Products Regulation No. 2 which are applicable to this supplement are listed at appropriate places in the provisions which follow. When any applicable section of the regulation is amended, the amendment also is applicable to this Supplement.

SECTION 1. Applicability. Except for those sales exempted by paragraph (a) of this section, this supplement shall apply to all sales of grain by retailers, and to all deliveries of such grain, whether immediate or future.

(a) Exempt sales—(1) Export sales. This supplement shall not apply to any export sale. The maximum price for such sales shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the 2nd Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, as amended.

(2) Emergency purchases. Section 1.2 (a) of Food Products Regulation No. 2, dealing with the exemption of emergency purchases, is applicable to this supplement.

(3) Seed grains and racehorse oats. This supplement shall not apply to sales by retailers of grains used for seed for planting, or of racehorse oats as they are defined in Supplement No. 2 to Food Products Regulation No. 2. Section 2.7 of Food Products Regulation No. 2, dealing with special rules for such sales is applicable to this supplement.

SEC. 2. Sales at other than maximum prices. (a) Regardless of any contract or obligation, no retailer shall sell or deliver, and no person shall, in the course of trade or business, buy or receive, any commodity covered by this supplement at a price above the maximum price established by this supplement, nor shall any person agree, solicit, offer or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, however, That certain agreements to raise prices are permissible, as provided for in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(1) Adjustable pricing. Section 1.2 (b) of Food Products Regulation No. 2, dealing with adjustable pricing, is applicable to this supplement.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices established by this supplement may of course, be charged or paid.

SEC. 3. Evasion. Any method whereby a seller obtains greater consideration than the maximum price, or whereby he gives less than the consideration due the buyer for the maximum price is an evasion of this supplement, and therefore prohibited; and any offer or agreement which accomplishes or attempts to accomplish such results is equally prohibited.

SEC. 4. Applicability of certain provisions of Food Products Regulation No. 2. (a) Provisions relating to the following matters are set forth in Food Products Regulation No. 2, and the sections of that regulation listed below are applicable to and made a part of this supplement as though set forth herein in full.

(1) Documents, records and reports. (Sec. 1.2 (c))
(2) Licensing. (Sec. 1.2 (d))
(3) Enforcement. (Sec. 1.2 (e))
(4) Protests and petitions for amendment. (Sec. 1.2 (f))
(5) Rule relating to commingling. (Sec. 2.2)
(6) Pricing provisions for mixed grain. (Article IV)

(b) In addition, various other provisions of Food Products Regulation No. 2 are applicable to and made a part of this supplement. References to such provisions are made at appropriate points throughout the supplement.

SEC. 5. Definitions. When used herein (either in provisions specifically set out in this supplement, or in those provisions of Food Products Regulation No. 2, which are applicable), the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association or other organized group of persons or the legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing and includes the United States or any other government or any political subdivision or agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Store" means a building where a regular business of selling and delivering grain and/or feeds to feeders is carried on, and where the owner or one or more of his employees work on a substantially full-time basis in such business or in a general retail business of which such grain and feed business is a part. If several employees divide their time between the retail business and other work, the requirement of a substantially full-time employee will be satisfied if the aggregate time which the several employees spend in the retail business equals a full work day for one person. Occasional sales of grain and feed to other than feeders may be made, but only as an incidental part of the business if its status as a "store" is to be maintained.

(3) "Retailer" means, with respect to any lot of grain or feed, a person who receives such grain or feed into his store, and sells and delivers it to a feeder.

(4) "Your cost" means, with respect to any lot received into your store, your supplier's charge to you plus your transportation cost, if any, to your store from the point at which your supplier delivers the lot to you.

(5) "Your transportation cost" means:

(i) If you employ a common carrier, contract carrier or other carrier for hire or compensation, the charge which you actually incur for the transportation service; or

(ii) If you do your own hauling by truck or wagon, the hauling allowance at the scale set forth in definition (6), or

(iii) When any movement involves a combination of more than one of the types of transportation included in (i) and (ii) the transportation cost for the movement of each type shall be computed separately and the results added.

(6) "Hauling allowance" means the following scale of charges:

(i) If the total haul does not exceed 100 miles—3 cents per 100 pounds for the first five miles or fraction thereof plus 1 cent per 100 pounds for each additional five miles or fraction thereof;

(ii) If the haul exceeds 100 miles, the lowest carload rail rate applicable to the commodity from the rail point nearest the point of origin to the rail point nearest point of destination plus 8 cents per 100 pounds, but not to exceed 22 cents per 100 pounds, plus ¼ cent per 100 pounds for each five miles or fraction thereof over 100 miles.

(iii) In applying the above mileage scale all distances shall be determined via the shortest route between point of origin and point of destination reasonably suitable for truck movement.

(7) "Bushel", as a unit of measurement of grain means the following:

	Pounds
Oats	32
Barley	48
Corn	56
Grain Sorghums	56
Wheat	60
Rye	56

(8) The terms "corn", "oats", "barley", "wheat", "rye", "grain sorghums" and "mixed grain" mean such grains as defined in Official Grain Standards of the United States.

(9) "Grain" refers to oats, barley, grain sorghums, corn, wheat, and all mixed grains.

(10) "Commodity" means a kind of grain, except that if a retailer sells on grade as to any particular grain, each grade or quality on which he bases a separate price shall be a different "commodity" hereunder. Retailers are not, however, required to sell grains according to grade or quality.

(11) "Feeder" means, with respect to any lot of grain, a person who uses such grain for feeding to animals or poultry.

(12) "His supplier" or "Your supplier" means, as to any seller, the person from whom he or you purchased the grain involved.

(13) "His customer" or "Your customer" means, as to any seller, the person to whom he or you sell the lot of grain involved.

(14) "Carload shipment" means any lot of grain of 30,000 pounds or more when shipped by rail in such a manner as to take a carload rate under tariff requirements.

(15) "Less than carload lot" means a lot of grain of less than 60,000 pounds, other than a carload shipment. It includes any delivery by or into a truck.

(16) "Carload receipt" means, as to any grain received into your store, a lot which your supplier delivered to you, pursuant to a sale to you, in a carload quantity. If the term carload quantity is defined in the regulation establishing a maximum price on the delivery to you, it shall have the same meaning in this supplement; if it is not so defined, it shall mean a quantity of 60,000 pounds or more or any carload shipment.

(17) "Less than carload receipt" means as to any grain received into your store, a lot which your supplier delivered to you in less than carload quantity. The term less than carload quantity means any quantity other than a carload quantity or pool car lot.

SEC. 6. Maximum prices for sales by retailers. You are a retailer under this supplement only on sales to feeders of grain which you have handled through your "store". The maximum price for any sale by you as a retailer is determined by adding the applicable markup, delivery charge and addition for bags, if any, shown in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section, to a base price determined under section 7 of this supplement. (Several ways of determining a base price are provided, and you may choose the method which best fits your actual practices.)

(a) Maximum markups. The maximum markup for the sale of any grain as a retailer shall be:

(1) $4.00 per ton of 2,000 pounds (or 20 cents per 100 pounds), or,

(2) If you customarily sell at a "per bushel" price, the appropriate one of the following:

	Cents
Oats	6½
Barley	9½
Corn	11
Grain Sorghums	11

(b) Delivery charge. (1) If you use a common carrier, contract carrier, or other carrier for hire or compensation, the maximum delivery charge from your store shall be the charge you incur.

(2) If you do your own hauling, your delivery charge shall be:

$1.00 per ton for distances of not more than 5 miles; or,

$1.50 per ton for distances over 5 miles; or,

At your option, the "hauling allowance" as defined herein.

(i) Any Regional Administrator, or any District Director authorized by the appropriate Regional Administrator, may adjust the delivery charge provided in this subparagraph (2) insofar as it applies to deliveries to a specified locality from any named point or points, when it appears that the nature of the haul is such that the charges otherwise permitted are, in view of the unusual local conditions, inadequate and are likely to disrupt the movement of the commodity to that locality.

(c) Addition for bags. If you receive grain in bulk and deliver it in bags furnished by you, you may add the reasonable value of the bags, not exceeding any maximum price thereon.

SEC. 7. Base prices. In this section, 6 methods for arriving at base prices are provided for use by you on your sales to feeders out of your store. Obviously, you use as your base price for sales for immediate delivery, the base price appropriate at the time of the sale and delivery. On sales for future delivery, you may use the base price appropriate at the time of sale if delivery is made within 60 days, or you may agree to use the base price that will be appropriate at the time of delivery.

In connection with each method, provision is made for the records that you must keep if you use that method. These are in addition to the standard record keeping provisions found in section 1.2 (c) of Food Products Regulation No. 2. In many instances you will, for any commodity, be able to use any number of the methods outlined. In such a case, you may use the method or, where not prohibited below, the several methods you think will be most convenient for you. If you choose, you may vary your methods and use one for one commodity and another for a different commodity, and, under the conditions specified below, change from one method to another for the same commodity.

(a) First method: Cost of the lot. (1) If you maintain the identity of each receipt into your store, you may use as the base price on resale of such a receipt "your cost" on that receipt. You may use this method of figuring a base price for all your sales as a retailer even if you also occasionally sell part of such a receipt as a wholesaler, or otherwise.

(2) Posting. If you use this method, you may post your maximum price conspicuously in your store. If you do so, and if you keep some permanent record of your posted prices, you will be relieved of keeping the records of your sales otherwise required by section 1.2 (c) of Food Products Regulation No. 2.

(b) Second method: First in first out. (1) If you do not wish to maintain the identity of each receipt of a commodity into your store, you may use as your base price for your sales as a retailer, "your cost" on your oldest receipt in stock at the time you are fixing a maximum price. To determine your oldest receipt in stock, you must first estimate your present inventory of a commodity and then consult your invoices for your most recent receipts into your store up to a total weight equal to your estimated inventory. From these invoices, choose the oldest receipt, and from that, you can arrive at "your cost" of your oldest receipt in stock. You use this as your base price for all sales of the commodity until you have sold, either on the basis of this price or at the price referred to in paragraph (g), an amount of the commodity equal to the weight of that receipt. Thereafter, you use the next oldest receipt.

(2) Posting and records. If you use this method, you must post, conspicuously in your store, your maximum price for each commodity whose base price is figured by this method. You must also keep a record, in some form, of the total quantity sold at any maximum price.

(c) Third method: Weighted average of cost. (1) If you qualify to use the second method, you may use as your base price on your sales as a retailer, a weighted average of your costs on any two or more lots you select instead of using your cost on individual lots. You arrive at this weighted average by multiplying "your cost" on your oldest receipt in stock (determined as explained in section 7 (b) (1) above, except that you disregard any receipt, and its cost, that you are excluding from the average) by the weight of such receipt and by multiplying your cost on each of your more recent receipts by the weight of each such receipt, adding the results and dividing by the total weight of the lots averaged. This average price shall be your base price for all sales of the commodity, except for sales of those lots not included in the average, from the time you determine the average price until you have sold, either on the basis of the price so figured or at the price referred to in paragraph (g), an amount of the commodity equal to the total weight averaged. You may, however, at any time prior thereto, calculate a new average base price. In doing so, you use as your oldest receipt the unsold weight included in the previous average, and you use as your cost of such receipt the previous average base price.

(2) Posting and records. If you use this method, you must post, conspicuously in your store, your maximum price for each commodity whose base price is figured by this method. You must keep a record in your files of the calculation upon which such price was determined, and, in some form, a record of the total quantity sold at any maximum price.

(d) Fourth method: Weekly selling price. (1) The first three methods depend upon your keeping some record of the quantity received and sold. This fourth method, the weekly selling price method, permits the calculation of a base price (and therefore of a maximum price) without regard to quantity sold or its relation to the quantity received. Under this method you calculate your base price for each commodity for which you use this method, once each week. You select a day for calculations and recalculate on that day each week thereafter (except that when that day falls on a legal holiday, you recalculate on the next business day). For each commodity for which you calculate a weekly selling price, you may use, to arrive at your base price, either one of the following methods which is appropriate.

(i) Average cost. You may calculate a base price for use for one week by reference to your costs of receipts in stock. Whenever you begin to use this method, you may use as your base price the weighted average of your cost of your last receipt of the commodity and of all receipts of the commodity for the 28 days preceding such last receipt. You use this as your base price for all sales of the commodity for the first week. Upon the next and all succeeding calculation days, you refigure your base price by taking a weighted average of your cost of your last receipt and of any other receipts of the commodity during the 14 day period preceding such last receipt.

(ii) Supplier's list price. If you can establish, by your old list prices or otherwise, that you have customarily figured some or all of your selling prices on the basis of the list price of a customary supplier and provided that you have not customarily kept records adequate for the computation of a base price under (i) above, you may use as your base price for any commodity for any week, the price shown on the list for that week of the customary supplier whose list you customarily used for that commodity.

(2) Posting and records. If you use this method, you must post your maximum price conspicuously in your store and retain a permanent record in your files of your maximum and selling prices for the week, and the basis on which such price was determined. You need not keep a record of the quantity sold during any one week.

(3) If you wish to discontinue using this method, you may do so only if, on the next calculation day, you take an inventory of the commodity. You then may treat the amount in inventory as a receipt on which your cost is the base price you would compute for the succeeding week. Subsequently, you may use any of the other methods applicable.

(e) Fifth method: Supplier's maximum price. (1) If you wish to check your supplier's maximum price to you and be responsible for its accuracy as to all your sales of a commodity, you may use, in lieu of "your cost" under any of the above methods, your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you plus your transportation cost if any, to your store.

(2) Records. If you use this method, you must preserve in your store a permanent record of the evidence from which you ascertained your supplier's maximum price, in addition to the records required by the method under which you use your supplier's maximum price in lieu of "your cost."

(f) Sixth method: Withdrawals. (1) If you are a processor or manufacturer of some grain products or feeds you sell, and if you also sell grains to feeders from a store, your sales of grain from your store are covered by this supplement. If, on arrival, you segregate those of your receipts which you will use only for resale as a retailer, you may establish a base price for the sale of such grains under any of the methods provided above. However, if any grain you sell as a retailer is not so segregated on receipt all of your receipts which are commingled are subject to the provisions relating to withdrawals set forth in section 2.3 of Food Products Regulation No. 2 which is hereby made applicable to this supplement. Each lot must be withdrawn, as provided in section 2.3 of Food Products Regulation No. 2. Following such withdrawal, you figure your base price for sales at retail as follows:

(i) If you make a withdrawal only for an individual sale at retail, your base price is the withdrawal price figured under section 2.3.

(ii) If you make a general withdrawal for a separate stock for sales at retail, each such withdrawal may be considered as a receipt into your retail stock, and "your cost" on such a receipt is the withdrawal price figured under section 2.3 of Food Products Regulation No. 2. Thereafter you may use any of the methods set forth in (a), (b), (c) or (d) above.

(2) Records. If you are subject to this method of figuring a base price, you must keep the records provided for in section 2.3, in addition to those provided for in connection with the pricing method you use.

(g) Occasional sales. Those occasional sales that a seller makes from his store to persons other than feeders and which he is permitted to make without having his place of business lose its status as a "store" under this regulation, are not priced under this supplement. The maximum price for such a sale is determined under the supplement covering sales other than at retail of the grain.

This supplement shall become effective on the 26th day of July 1944.

NOTE: The record-keeping provisions of this supplement have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget, in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 21st day of July 1944.

PART 1351—FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[FPR 2, Supp. 2]

OATS

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish permanent maximum prices for the sale and delivery of oats. The prices established herein are, in the judgment of the Administrator, generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and of Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328.

Maximum Price Regulation 511, as amended, is superseded insofar as it establishes maximum prices for the sale and delivery of oats.

Such specifications and standards as are used in this supplement were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this supplement, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

EXPLANATION OF THE RELATION OF THIS SUPPLEMENT TO FOOD PRODUCTS REGULATION NO. 2

Not all of the provisions affecting the maximum prices for sales of oats are stated in this supplement. Those which are not specifically set forth here are stated in Food Products Regulation No. 2, and they are just as much a part of this supplement as if they were printed here.

The particular sections of Food Products Regulation No. 2 which are applicable to this supplement are listed at appropriate places in the provisions which follow. When any applicable section of the regulation is amended, the amendment also is applicable to this supplement.

SECTION 1. Applicability. Except for those sales exempted by paragraph (a) of this section, this supplement shall apply to all sales of imported and domestic oats, to all deliveries of such oats, whether immediate or future, and to all purchases in the course of trade or business of Canadian oats to be imported into the United States.

(a) Exempt sales—(1) Sales by retailers. This supplement shall not apply to sales by retailers as defined herein. Supplement No. 1 to Food Products Regulation No. 2 shall apply.

(2) Export sales. This supplement shall not apply to any export sale. The maximum price for such sales shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the 2nd Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, as amended.

(3) Emergency purchases. Section 1.2 (a) of Food Products Regulation No. 2, dealing with the exemption of emergency purchases, is applicable to this supplement.

(4) Seed oats. This supplement shall not apply to sales of oats which the buyer intends to use for seed for planting or to resell for ultimate use as seed for planting. Section 2.7 of Food Products Regulation No. 2, dealing with special rules for such sales, is applicable to this supplement.

(5) Prior contracts. This supplement shall not apply to deliveries made prior to August 1, 1944 pursuant to contracts for oats entered into before the date of issuance of this supplement, if such contracts complied with the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation 511, as amended.

SEC. 2. Sales at other than maximum prices. Regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall in the course of trade or business buy or receive, any oats covered by this supplement at a price above the maximum price established by this supplement, nor shall any person agree, solicit, offer, or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, however, That certain agreements to raise prices are permissible, as provided for in paragraph (a) of this section.

(a) Adjustable pricing. Section 1.2 (b) of Food Products Regulation No. 2, dealing with adjustable pricing, is applicable to this supplement.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices established by this supplement may, of course, be charged or paid.

SEC. 3. Evasion. Any method whereby a seller obtains greater consideration than the maximum price, or whereby he gives less than the consideration due the buyer for the maximum price, is an evasion of this supplement, and, therefore, prohibited; any offer or agreement which accomplishes or attempts to accomplish such results is equally prohibited.

SEC. 4. (a) Applicability of provisions of Food Products Regulation No. 2. All provisions of Food Products Regulation No. 2 are applicable to and made a part of this supplement. The sections of Article I not heretofore referred to, and the sections of Articles II, III, IV, and V, with an indication of their subject matter, follows:

ARTICLE I

Section 1.2 (c) Documents, records and reports.
Section 1.2 (d) Licensing.
Section 1.2 (e) Enforcement.
Section 1.2 (f) Protests and petitions for amendment.

ARTICLE II

Section 2.1 Rules relating to delivery.
Section 2.2 Rules relating to commingling.
Section 2.3 General rules for determining the prices applicable to a withdrawal from a place of business. (This includes both provisions for averaging and for selling without averaging.)
Section 2.4 Limitation on markups by persons having certain agreements with their suppliers under which the supplier receives a rebate, dividend, or share of the profit.
Section 2.5 Rules providing markups for persons performing several marketing functions—the so-called "integrated business" rule.
Section 2.6 Pricing grains handled by processors when used in processing.
Section 2.7 Rules respecting sales of grain exempted, or for which a premium may be paid on basis of ultimate use.

ARTICLE III

Section 3.1 Definitions.

ARTICLE IV

Section 4.1 Base price of mixed grain.
Section 4.2 Maximum prices for sales of mixed grain.
Section 4.3 Applicability of this article.

ARTICLE V

Section 5.1 Sales on contract futures markets.

SEC. 5. Definitions and explanation of the supplement—(a) Definitions appearing in Food Products Regulation No. 2. The definitions of the following terms, set forth in the designated sections of Food Products Regulation No. 2, are applicable to all the provisions of this supplement:

(1) "Person": Section 3.1 (a) (1) of Food Products Regulation No. 2.
(2) "Bushel": Section 3.1 (a) (2) of Food Products Regulation No. 2.
(3) "Oats" and "mixed grain": Section 3.1 (a) (3) of Food Products Regulation No. 2.
(4) "Feeder": Section 3.1 (a) (5) of Food Products Regulation No. 2.
(5) "His supplier" or "your supplier": Section 3.1 (a) (6) of Food Products Regulation No. 2.
(6) "His customer" or "your customer": Section 3.1 (a) (7) of Food Products Regulation No. 2.
(7) "Processor": Section 3.1 (a) (8) of Food Products Regulation No. 2.
(8) "Carload shipment": Section 3.1 (a) (9) of Food Products Regulation No. 2.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(9) "Less than carload lot" and "less than carload quantity": Section 3.1 (a) (10) of Food Products Regulation No. 2.

(b) Additional definitions. When used in this supplement, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Test weight per bushel" means that factor in determining the grade of oats under the method prescribed in the Official Grain Standards of the United States.

(2) "Racehorse oats" means oats grading No. 2 oats or better, with a test weight of 38 pounds per bushel or better, which have been carefully sized and recleaned to contain less than one percent foreign material and to remove all string, metal, and foreign substance, and which the buyer intends to use for feeding to thoroughbred horses or to resell for ultimate use for such purpose.

(3) "United States," when it refers to an area, means the 48 states and the District of Columbia.

"Area A" means the surplus producing areas of oats in the United States, as described in Table II of Appendix A.

"Area B" means all parts of the United States not included in "Area A."

(4) "Your transportation cost" means

(i) If you employ a common carrier, contract carrier, or other carrier for hire or compensation, the charge which you actually incur for the transportation service; or

(ii) If you do your own hauling by truck or wagon, the hauling allowance at the scale set forth in definition (5); or

(iii) If you transport the lot by barge or vessel owned, leased, or chartered and operated by you, the going rate for the same movement, if there is such a going rate, or if there is no going rate for the same movement, then the going rate for the most similar movement not to exceed the reasonable value of the service; or

(iv) When any movement involves a combination of more than one of the types of transportation included in (i), (ii), and (iii), the transportation cost for the movement of each type shall be computed separately and the results added.

(v) If any part of the movement is by barge or vessel, you may add customary vessel brokerage, cargo insurance, and outturn insurance or allowance on such lot, to the extent not included in the cost computed under (i) or (iii) above.

(5) "Hauling allowance" means the following scale of charges:

If the total haul does not exceed 100 miles—3 cents per 100 pounds for the first five miles or fraction thereof plus 1 cent per 100 pounds for each additional five miles or fraction thereof;

If the haul exceeds 100 miles, the lowest carload rail rate from the rail point nearest the point of origin to the rail point nearest point of destination plus 8 cents per 100 pounds, but not to exceed 22 cents per 100 pounds plus ¼ cent per 100 pounds for each five miles or fraction thereof over 100 miles.

In applying the above mileage scale all distances shall be determined via the shortest route between point of origin and point of destination reasonably suitable for truck movement.

(6) "Producer" means, with respect to any lot of oats, grown in the United States, either.

(i) The person who grew or harvested such lot of oats; or

(ii) A landlord who received such lot of oats as or in lieu of rent for the farm where grown; or

(iii) Any person who delivers the oats to his customer at the farm where grown or at roadside near such farm. The result of this is that if you do not deliver the oats to your customer off the farm where grown you do not secure a higher price than the person who grew them would have received.

(7) "Country shipper" means, with respect to any lot of oats, a person who purchases and receives the oats from a producer in any quantity before any movement by rail car or barge, and (i) delivers them to his customer at a point which is neither on the farm where grown nor at roadside near such farm, and (ii) delivers them in any manner other than as a trucker-merchant or as a retailer.

(8) "Trucker-merchant" means, with respect to any lot of oats, a person who purchases such oats for resale and without loading them into a barge or railroad car or unloading them into an elevator or warehouse for his own account and use, transports and delivers the same to his customer in a truck or wagon owned or leased and operated by him.

(9) "Merchandiser" means, with respect to any lot of oats owned by him, a seller, other than a retailer, for whom a maximum price is not otherwise provided in this supplement. In other words, he is a person who merchandises the oats other than as a producer, country shipper, trucker-merchant, importer, or retailer.

(10) "Retailer" means, with respect to any lot of oats, a person who unloads such oats into his store and sells and delivers them to a feeder.

(11) "Store" means a building where a regular business of selling and delivering grain and/or feeds to feeders is carried on, and where the owner or one or more of his employees work on a substantially full-time basis in such business or in a general retail business of which such grain and feed business is a part. If several employees divide their time between the retail business and other work, the requirement of a substantially full-time employee will be satisfied if the aggregate time which the several employees spend in the retail business equals a full work day for one person. Occasional sales of grain and feed to other than feeders may be made, but only as an incidental part of the business if its status as a "store" is to be maintained.

(12) "Broker" means, with respect to any lot of oats, a person who, acting for the account of either seller or buyer or both, negotiates a sale or purchase of such oats for either seller or buyer or both other than as a commission merchant or as an employee of either seller or buyer. No person can be a broker as to oats owned by him.

(13) "Commission merchant" means, with respect to any lot of oats, a person who receives a carload shipment or a lot of 60,000 pounds or more on behalf of another person who is the owner thereof and negotiates or has negotiated a sale of such oats in his own name to a person other than himself on a recognized grain exchange in any of the following cities:

Buffalo, N. Y.	Louisville, Ky.
Chicago, Ill.	Memphis, Tenn.
Cincinnati, Ohio	Milwaukee, Wis.
Dallas, Tex.	Minneapolis, Minn.
Denver, Colo.	Omaha, Nebr.
Des Moines, Iowa.	Peoria, Ill.
Duluth, Minn.	St. Joseph, Mo.
Enid, Okla.	St. Louis, Mo.
Fort Worth, Tex.	Salina, Kans.
Hutchinson, Kans.	Sioux City, Iowa
Indianapolis, Ind.	Toledo, Ohio
Kansas City, Mo.

Regardless of any of the provisions of this supplement, division of commission charges may be made with and paid to exchange members in accordance with rules of the respective exchanges which were in effect January 1, 1943, and sellers of oats who are members may receive such divisions.

(14) "Terminal base point" means any city listed in Section 6, and includes all points within the corporate or switching limits of such city.

(15) "Interior point" means any point other than a terminal base point, except that with respect to any particular lot of oats it does not include the farm where such oats were grown.

(16) "Interior rail point" means any point other than a terminal base point having facilities for the loading of railroad freight cars and from which railroad freight rates are published as provided by law.

(17) "Barge loading point" means the barge loading facility or facilities at the points specified or described as barge loading points in Table 3 of Appendix A.

(18) "Base price" means the price per bushel, with adjustments for grade and quality, as provided in section 6. These base prices shall not be used independently as maximum prices nor shall they be used in any other method than is specifically provided in the maximum pricing provisions (sections 7 to 11, inclusive).

(c) General explanation of the pricing provisions in this supplement. This supplement provides a maximum price for every kind of seller and for every kind of sale not exempted under other provisions of this supplement. You may not always be the same type of seller on different lots of oats that you sell, and you must consult the definitions to learn the type of seller you are in connection with any particular sale. In order that pricing provisions should be fair to every kind of handler, it has been necessary to define types of sellers more closely by reference to the functions they perform in each transaction rather than by popular terminology used by the trade. You must, therefore, be careful to study the definitions in connection with the particular sale you want to price. After you have decided the type of seller you are on a particular sale, you look in the following sections for your maximum price.

If you are a producer, see section 7.
If you are a trucker-merchant, see section 8.
If you are a country shipper, see section 9.
If you are a merchandiser, see section 10.
If you are an importer, see section 11.
If you are a retailer, you will find your maximum price in Supplement No. 1 to Food Products Regulation No. 2.
If you are selling mixed grain, your maximum price is provided in Article IV of Food Products Regulation No. 2.

In some cases, you will find that your maximum price depends on your supplier's maximum price. In other cases, as in sections 7, 9, 10, or 11, you will find that your maximum price for the sale of a particular lot of oats depends on what is called a "base price," which you will find in section 6. Base prices are not maximum prices although sometimes you will find that the maximum price on a particular lot is the same as the base price; but more often the maximum pricing provisions provide that you deduct something from, or add something to, the base price in computing your maximum price.

SEC. 6. Base price. As explained in the preceding section, "base prices" are not maximum prices but are used in the determination of maximum prices. All oats do not have the same value because of variations in grade and quality, and also because oats located at one point may command a different price than oats located at another point. Base prices are, accordingly, worked out to reflect differences in grade and quality and differences in location. Generally speaking, this supplement starts any lot of oats into marketing channels with a maximum price at or near its origin, and these base prices are for the purpose of arriving at such initial maximum price for the particular grade, quality, and location. At different levels of marketing the supplement permits the addition to base prices of transportation costs, markups, and similar incidents to distribution.

In order to provide a base price for domestic oats at every point in the United States for every grade and quality, it is necessary to establish base prices by location for a "standard grade" of oats and provide premiums and discounts from that "standard grade" for other grades and qualities. The "standard grade" is No. 3 oats having a test weight of 27 pounds per bushel and a moisture content of not more than 14½ per cent. Base prices for other grades and qualities are determined by adding or subtracting the premiums and discounts provided in Table I of Appendix A to or from the corresponding price for the "standard grade;" Except, that oats grown in California and Nevada and in the counties of Lake and Klamath in Oregon are not required to be sold on grade and the base prices in paragraph (a) shall apply on all sales of such oats without discount or premium.

(a) Base prices by location for the "standard grade" of oats, and for other oats not required to be sold on grade, shall be as follows:

(1) At the following terminal base points, the prices per bushel as shown:

Terminal base point:	Price per bushel
Chicago, Ill	$0.76
Milwaukee, Wis	.76
Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn	.72
Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis	.72
Omaha, Nebr., and Council Bluffs, Iowa	.72
Kansas City, Mo., and Kansas City, Kans	.74
St. Louis, Mo., and East St. Louis, Ill	.76
Philadelphia, Pa	.83½
Portland, Oreg	.71
Seattle and Tacoma, Wash	.71
Ogden, Utah	.75

(2) At any interior rail point in Area A the highest price determined by deducting from the base price at any terminal base point the transportation charges per bushel from such interior rail point to such terminal base point at the lowest domestic carload freight rate.

(3) At any interior point in Area A, other than an interior rail or barge loading point, the base price at the nearest interior rail point.

(4) At any barge loading point, the price set forth in Table III of Appendix A: Provided, That if any oats are shipped out of the barge loading point other than by barge, the base price on resale shall be the base price which would be applicable to such interior point if it were not also a barge loading point.

(5) At any interior point in Area B, the price set forth in Table IV of Appendix A opposite the state and county or parish wherein the interior point in question is situated. If any interior point lies in two price zones, its base price shall be the price of the higher zone. If any interior point lies in a zone for which no price is named, its base price shall be the highest base price in any county or parish abutting such zone.

(6) At the farm where grown (i) the base price of the nearest interior rail point or barge loading point (whichever is nearer to such farm) less 3¢ per bushel or (ii) the base price at the nearest barge loading point less 2¢ per bushel and less hauling allowance: Provided, That if not hauled and delivered to a barge loading point, the base price on resale shall be as in (i) above.

(b) For base prices on Canadian oats see Section 11 of this supplement.

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for sales by producers. You will find that the term "producer" has been defined to include several persons. It includes a person who grew or harvested the lot of oats, and a landlord who received such oats as or in lieu of rent for the farm where grown. In addition, for the purposes of the maximum pricing provisions, it includes any other person who delivers the oats to his customer on the farm where grown or at roadside near such farm, the price result of this being that you must deliver the oats to your customer away from the farm where grown or roadside nearby in order to secure a higher price than the person who grew the oats could have received.

You will not be acting as a producer in selling such oats, but as a country shipper, merchandiser, or retailer, as the case may be: Provided, That before selling the oats you have them transported to a store, elevator, or warehouse operated by you at which you carry on a regular business of buying and selling grain produced by others, and in the operation of which business you employ, at such place, one or more full-time salaried employees, or yourself work in such business at such place on substantially a full-time basis. Under such circumstances, your maximum price shall be determined as though you purchased the oats from another producer at such producer's maximum price on the delivery made to such store, elevator, or warehouse.

In connection with any delivery by you as a producer, if your customer performs any service or incurs any expense in connection with growing, threshing, harvesting, collecting from field, or assembling at point where available for ready transportation from farm, the reasonable value of all such services performed and the expense so incurred must be deducted when he pays you the appropriate maximum price.

The maximum price of a producer is as follows:

(a) If you deliver any lot of oats on the farm where grown or at roadside near such farm, your maximum price per bushel, bulk, shall be the base price at the farm where grown, with the following two exceptions:

(1) If there is an interior rail point on the farm, and you deliver the oats to your customer at a rail loading facility at such interior rail point, your maximum price shall be the base price at the interior rail point, less one cent per bushel if delivered to your customer loaded in a rail car or less 2 cents per bushel if not so loaded.

(2) If you are a landlord and you receive the oats from your tenant as or in lieu of rent, and if the lease or rental agreement between you provides for delivery of the oats at some point other than the farm where grown, then your maximum price for the sale of the oats to your tenant for delivery at such farm shall be the base price at the farm plus one cent per bushel.

(b) If you deliver the oats by truck or wagon from the farm where grown to an elevator or warehouse (not including a delivery to a feeder, store, or processing plant in Area B which is covered in paragraph (d) separately), your maximum prices per bushel, bulk, are as follows:

(1) If such elevator or warehouse is located within the switching, corporate, town, or city limits in which a barge loading point is located, your maximum price is the base price at such barge loading point less 2 cents per bushel.

(2) If such elevator or warehouse is located at any interior point other than a barge loading point, your maximum price is the higher of either

(i) The base price at such point less 2 cents per bushel, or

(ii) (In order to allow such elevator or warehouse to handle the oats in a competitive manner with a nearby barge loading point) The base price at the nearest barge loading point less 2 cents per bushel and less the hauling allowance provided in section 5 (b) (5) depending on the distance from the elevator or warehouse to the barge loading point.

(3) If you store the oats in any elevator or warehouse located at an interior point and deliver them to your customer in storage, your maximum price shall be the base price at such point less 1 cent per bushel, but you must either pay or have deducted from the payment of the maximum price to you all accrued storage and handling charges, including the loading out charges. If your customer is also the warehouseman, the deduction for handling and loading shall be not less than 1 cent per bushel.

(c) (1) If you deliver the oats by truck or wagon from the farm where grown to your customer at a rail loading facility at an interior rail point, without loading into cars, your maximum price per bushel, bulk, shall be the base price at such point less 2 cents per bushel; or

(2) If you deliver the oats to your customer loaded aboard a rail car or barge, and if they are delivered at point of loading, your maximum price shall be the base price at point of loading less 1 cent per bushel; or

(3) If after so loading the oats on a rail car or barge, you deliver them to your customer following a rail or barge movement, your maximum price shall be the base price at point of loading less 1 cent per bushel but plus your transportation cost from the point of loading: Provided, That if after such a movement you store the oats, you must either pay or have deducted from the payment of such maximum price to you all accrued storage and handling charges, and the loading out charges. If your customer is also the warehouseman, such deduction for handling and loading out shall be not less than 1 cent per bushel.

(d) You may deliver the oats by truck or wagon to either a feeder, store, or processing plant, in which case your maximum price per bushel, bulk, shall be the base price at the farm where grown plus your transportation cost from such farm to the point of delivery to your customer.

(e) If you deliver the oats to your customer in any manner other than as provided above, your maximum price shall be the base price on the farm where grown plus 1 cent per bushel.

SEC. 8. Maximum prices for sales by trucker-merchants. Trucker-merchant is defined as one who purchases oats for resale and, without loading them into a barge or railroad car or unloading them into an elevator or warehouse for his own account and use, transports and delivers the oats to his customer in a truck or wagon owned or leased and operated by him.

If you are a trucker-merchant under this definition, your maximum price per bushel, bulk, for the sale of any lot of oats is your supplier's maximum price on the sale and delivery to you plus your hauling allowance from the point where you received delivery from your supplier to the point of delivery to your customer: Provided, That if you deliver the oats to a terminal base point or a barge loading point, your maximum price shall not exceed the base price at such point less 1 cent per bushel.

Every trucker-merchant shall, with respect to every lot of oats transported by him as such, procure or prepare a statement of information which shall accompany the oats while in transit on the truck. Such statement shall set forth the name and address of the trucker-merchant and of his supplier, the date of purchase, and the grade and purchase price of the oats. Upon delivery of the oats by the trucker-merchant to his customer, a copy of the statement of information signed by the trucker-merchant shall be given to his customer showing also the transportation charge being made. Copies of this statement shall be retained by the trucker-merchant and by his customer as a part of their records.

For enforcement purposes, it is necessary that both the shipments themselves and the records of the trucker-merchant covering such shipments be inspected while in transit. Failure of a trucker-merchant to stop for such inspection in response to instructions in a sign conspicuously posted at roadsides or upon signal by an Office of Price Administration enforcement officer shall be a violation of this supplement, subject to all penalties of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 9. Maximum prices for sales by country shippers. "Country shipper" is defined in section 5 (b) (7) to mean, with respect to any lot of oats, a person who purchases and receives the oats from a producer in any quantity before any movement by rail or barge and delivers them to his customer at a point which is neither on the farm where grown nor at roadside near such farm, in any manner other than as a trucker-merchant or retailer.

This section sets forth the maximum prices for the ordinary "country shipper" marketing transactions. To these prices you may be entitled to add various charges which you may incur, or allowances for special handling of the oats, under the rules provided in section 13. Subject to such additions, the maximum prices per bushel, bulk, for sales by a country shipper are as follows:

(a) If you deliver the oats in a lot of 60,000 pounds or more, or as a carload shipment, loaded in a rail car or barge, or after a movement by such rail car or barge, your maximum price per bushel, bulk, shall be the base price at the point where first so loaded plus your transportation cost, if any, from such point of loading: Provided, That (1) If, after such a movement you store the oats, you must either pay or have deducted from the payment to you of such maximum price all accrued storage and handling charges, and the loading out charge. If your customer is also the warehouseman, such deductions for handling and loading out shall be not less than 1 cent per bushel.

(2) If your delivery, after any movement by rail car or barge, is in a less-than-carload quantity, you shall add 2 cents per bushel if delivered to a feeder, or 1 cent per bushel if delivered to any other person, to your maximum price for a carload shipment as computed in paragraph (a), and plus your transportation cost, if any: Provided, That if in making delivery you do your own hauling, you shall add the hauling allowance, but if the distance is more than 60 miles, you shall not add the extra markup provided in this paragraph.

(b) If you deliver the oats in any quantity stored in the elevator or warehouse to which they were hauled by truck or wagon from the farm where grown, your maximum price per bushel, bulk, shall be the base price at the point where the elevator or warehouse is located, but you must either pay, or have deducted from payment of the maximum price to you, all accrued storage and handling charges, and the loading out charges. If your customer is also the warehouseman, the deduction for handling and loading out shall be not less than 1 cent per bushel.

(1) If you deliver the oats from such elevator or warehouse, except as provided in paragraph (c), in a less-than-carload quantity, your maximum price shall be the base price at such point plus 2 cents per bushel if delivered to a feeder, or plus 1 cent per bushel if delivered to any other person, and plus your transportation cost, if any: Provided, That if in making delivery you do your own hauling, you shall add the hauling allowance, but if the distance is more than 60 miles, you shall not add the extra markup provided in the paragraph.

(c) If you deliver the oats to an elevator or warehouse which is within the switching, corporate, town, or city limits in which a barge loading point is located, your maximum price shall be the base price at such barge loading point less 1 cent per bushel.

(d) If you deliver the oats from the farm where grown by a for-hire truck or wagon to a store, feeder, or processor, your maximum price shall be the base price at such farm, plus 2 cents per bushel, and plus your transportation cost. (If so delivered in your own truck, you would come under the definition of "trucker-merchant" and price accordingly.)

(e) The maximum price for the sale by a country shipper of any lot of oats handled in any manner not specified above shall be the base price at the farm where grown plus 1 cent per bushel.

SEC. 10. Maximum prices for sales by merchandisers. With the exception of persons acting as producers, country shippers, or importers, all sellers who deliver oats in any manner other than as trucker-merchants or retailers, are "merchandisers" by definition.

(a) This section sets forth the maximum prices for the ordinary "merchandiser" marketing transactions. All markups are subject to the limitations of section 12 of this supplement. To these prices you may be entitled to add various charges which you may incur, or allowances for special handling of the grain, under the rules provided in section 13 of this supplement. Subject to such additions, the maximum prices per bushel, bulk, for sales by a merchandiser are as follows:

(1) For all deliveries of oats, which you receive and deliver in quantities of 60,000 pounds, or more, or as a carload shipment, you calculate your maximum price by adding to your supplier's maximum price on the sale and delivery to you (or to the price of, a withdrawal as determined under section 2.3 of Food Products Regulation No. 2) your transportation cost and a markup of 1 cent per bushel.

(2) If you receive any lot of oats from your supplier by truck or wagon, and his maximum price on the sale and delivery to you exceeds the base price at the point where he delivered the oats to you, less 1 cent per bushel, you must, if you reship the oats by rail or barge or sell them in storage, use such base price less 1 cent per bushel in place of your supplier's maximum price, and after such adjustment you calculate your maximum price as provided in paragraph (1).

(3) If you deliver any lot of oats in a less-than-carload quantity, your maximum price shall be as computed in subparagraph (1) plus 2 cents per bushel if delivered to a feeder or plus 1 cent per bushel if delivered to any other person, and plus your transportation cost, if any: Provided, That if you do your own hauling and, therefore, your transportation cost is the hauling allowance set forth in section 5 (b) (5), and if the distance hauled is more than 60 miles, the scale is so established that it includes markups for the sale of the grain so hauled and, therefore, you shall not be permitted to add the markups provided above in such cases. The additional markups in this paragraph will not be subject to the limitations on markups as provided in section 12 of this supplement.

(b) If you deliver the oats to your customer in storage, you must either pay or have deducted from the payment of the maximum price to you all accrued storage and handling charges, and the loading out charges. If your customer is also the warehouseman, such deduction for handling and loading out shall be not less than 1 cent per bushel.

SEC. 11. Maximum prices for purchases and sales by importers. (a) (1) "Importer" means, with respect to any lot of oats grown outside the United States, the first person who owns such lot after entry into the United States, and who sells it through his office located in the United States or who processes it at his plant located within the United States. When he sells the oats, the importer will be either a merchandiser, trucker-merchant, or retailer, according to the manner in which he sells.

(2) "Canadian oats" means any lot of oats grown in Canada which is either:

(i) To be imported into the United States, or

(ii) Still owned by the importer of such lot.

(3) "Cif" (cost, insurance, freight) means, with respect to the price of any lot of oats delivered by vessel, the price delivered alongside or on the vessel at the port where discharged, the seller having paid all customary expenses to that point and also marine insurance and freight to the delivery port, together with any export taxes, or other fees or charges, if any, levied because of exportation. The buyer shall receive the oats upon arrival, handle and pay for all subsequent movement of the oats, including taking delivery from the vessel in accordance with bill of lading clauses and terms; pay all costs of landing, including any duties, taxes, and other expenses at the named point of destination. The buyer must also pay for war risk insurance, if any, provided by the seller and for certificates of origin, consular invoices, or any other documents issued in the country of origin, or of shipment, or both, which may be required for importation of the oats into the United States.

(b) (1) Base prices for Canadian oats entering the United States via different gateways are determined with reference to the following base points: For vessel shipment via the Great Lakes, the base point is Buffalo, New York; for rail shipments entering the United States via Sweetgrass, Montana, or via rail points of entry west of Sweetgrass, Montana, the base point is Portland, Oregon; for rail shipments entering the United States via rail points of entry east of Sweetgrass, Montana, but west of Lake Superior, the base point is Minneapolis, Minnesota; for rail shipments entering the United States east of Lake Superior, the base point is Boston, Massachusetts.

(2) Following are the base prices in United States dollars, bulk, per bushel of 32 pounds for Canadian oats at the base points listed below:

Base points:	Cents per bushel
Buffalo, N. Y.	65
Minneapolis, Minn.	78
Boston, Mass.	92

Whenever it becomes necessary under the provisions of this supplement to adjust the price of such oats according to premiums or discounts provided for oats graded under United States Official Grain Standards, the foregoing base prices shall be deemed to be for No. 3 oats with a test weight of 38 pounds per bushel and with a moisture content not exceeding 14½%.

(3) The base prices per bushel, bulk, for Canadian oats delivered by rail or vessel at any destination in the United States other than the above base points, shall be determined as follows:

(i) If the transportation charge from the Canadian point of origin to such destination exceeds the transportation charge from such point of origin to the base point appropriate for the shipment, by adding such excess to the base point price; if it is less, by deducting the difference.

(4) The base prices per bushel, bulk, for Canadian oats which enter the United States by truck or wagon shall be the base price on domestic oats at the point of delivery, adjusted to the basis of No. 3 oats with a test weight of 38 pounds per bushel.

(c) If you are an importer, the maximum price per bushel, bulk, at which you can purchase any lot of Canadian oats shall be:

(1) For vessel shipment via the Great Lakes:

(i) If purchased loaded aboard rail cars, barge or truck, the base price at the port of discharge of the vessel, plus your supplier's transportation cost, if any, from such port of discharge, or

(ii) If purchased in storage at any point, the maximum price as calculated in subdivision (i) for such point but your supplier must either pay or have deducted from the payment of the maximum price to him all accrued storage and handling charges including loading out charges, and the out inspection and weighing charges, or

(iii) If purchased Cif the port of discharge, the base price at such point less 1¼ cents per bushel.

(2) If purchased for rail shipment into the United States, the base price at the destination to which your supplier incurs the freight: Provided, That if purchased in storage after rail shipment into the United States, your supplier must either pay or have deducted from the payment of the maximum price to him all accrued storage and handling charges, and the loading out charges.

(3) (i) If purchased for shipment or after shipment into the United States by truck or wagon the base price at the point of delivery to you less two cents per bushel: Provided, That if purchased in storage after such movement, the maximum price is the base price less 1 cent per bushel, but your supplier must either pay or have deducted from the payment of the maximum price to him all accrued storage and handling charges, and the loading out charge, or

(ii) If purchased loaded aboard rail cars after shipment into the United States by truck or wagon, the base price at the rail point where so loaded less 1 cent per bushel, and plus your supplier's transportation cost, if any, on his sale and delivery to you.

(d) If you are an importer, your maximum price per bushel, bulk, for the sale of any lot of Canadian oats shall be determined under section 8 of this supplement if you sell as a trucker-merchant, or section 10 if you sell as a merchandiser, or under Supplement No. 1 to Food Products Regulation No. 2 if you sell as a retailer, by substituting your maximum purchase price as computed in this section, for "your supplier's" maximum price.

(e) Canadian oats may be resold in the United States on the basis of their Canadian inspection without application of the schedule of premiums and discounts in Table I of Appendix A provided they are not commingled or averaged with domestic oats, but if commingled or averaged with other Canadian oats, they will not be subject to the provision of section 2.3 of Food Products Regulation No. 2 relating to use of standard grade and quality, and all Canadian oats so commingled or averaged shall be considered to be of the same grade and quality.

If commingled or averaged with oats grown in the United States, all provisions of section 2.3 of Food Products Regulation No. 2 shall apply.

SEC. 12. Limitations on total markups of country shippers and merchandisers, and on service charges of commission merchants and brokers which may be included in a maximum price. In order to prevent undue accumulation of markups for distribution services, all markups which merchandisers may add under this supplement (except the extra markup referred to in section 10 (a) (3)) or under Food Products Regulation No. 2, also all service charges of commission merchants and brokers and all merchandising markups of country shippers under Food Products Regulation No. 2 are subject to the limitations provided in this section. These limitations apply to the total of all such markups and service charges for commission merchants and brokers.

(a) The maximum price for the sale of any lot of oats shall never include an amount in excess of 4 cents per bushel as a total of all merchandising markups and of all service charges for brokers and commission merchants, but this maximum of 4 cents per bushel shall be subject to the following zoning limitations as to transactions in Areas A and B;

(1) If you are the first person who contracts to deliver into Area A to a customer located in Area A a lot of oats originating or which has originated in Area B, such total shall not exceed 1½ cents per bushel: Provided, That this zoning limitation shall not apply to sales in Area A by a selling office located in Area A of a merchandiser otherwise entitled to a greater markup under section 2.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 2.

(2) When oats are delivered to anyone in Area A, except as provided in (1), such total shall not exceed 2½ cents per bushel.

(3) If you are the first person who contracts to deliver into Area B to a customer located in Area B oats originating in Area A or oats which previously have been marketed in Area A, such total shall not exceed 2½ cents per bushel: Provided, That this zoning limitation shall not apply to sales in Area B by a selling office located in Area B of a merchandiser otherwise entitled to a greater markup under section 2.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 2.

These are limitations on the total of markups and service charges which may be included in any maximum price. They may lessen, but will never increase, the amount of any single maximum markup or maximum service charge.

SEC. 13. Rules relating to additions to the Maximum price—(a) Maximum charges for services of brokers and commission merchants, also provision for adding such charges subject to limitations. (1) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other regulation, the maximum charge which a broker or a commission merchant may charge for all services in connection with any purchase and sale of a lot of oats shall be as set forth below. These are maximum service charges regardless of whether the oats are sold at their maximum price and regardless of whether the markups may be added to any maximum price.

(i) Brokers. The maximum service charge for all services of a broker with respect to a purchase and sale of any lot of oats is ½ cent per bushel.

(ii) Commission merchants. The maximum service charge for all services of commission merchants with respect to a purchase and sale of any lot of oats is 1 cent per bushel.

(2) Subject to the limitations set forth in section 12 of this supplement, any seller may add the service charge of a broker and any seller may add the service charge of a commission merchant to the maximum price he would otherwise be entitled to charge: Provided, That the seller actually incurs such charge and provided that no maximum price shall ever include more than 1 cent per bushel for broker's service charges and 1 cent per bushel for commission merchant's charges.

(b) Elevation charges which may be added to your maximum price. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2), if oats are unloaded into an elevator or warehouse from a rail car, barge, or vessel, the maximum price of the seller shall be increased by 1 cent per bushel provided the seller has actually incurred the expense of such elevation or handling, including loading out, except that if the seller is not the warehouseman and the expense he incurs or bears is less than 1 cent per bushel, he shall add to his maximum price only the actual amount so incurred or borne.

(2) When any lot of oats is transferred from rail cars or barge through an elevator or warehouse to lake vessel, the elevation or handling charges actually incurred by the seller (but not exceeding the charges in effect December 6, 1943) may be added to his maximum price: Provided, That if the oats are handled through an elevator or warehouse operated by the seller, he may add 1 cent per bushel.

(c) Inspection and weighing charges. (1) Where to complete a contract of sale of oats official inspection is necessary, the cost thereof shall be borne by the seller.

(2) Where to complete a contract of sale of oats official weighing is necessary, the cost thereof may be borne by either seller or buyer as the parties may agree: Provided, That if paid by the buyer, said expenditure shall not be added to the maximum price for any resale of said oats.

(d) Sacks and sacking. (1) When oats are sold in sacks furnished by the seller, there may be added to the appropriate maximum price the reasonable market value of the sacks used (not exceeding any maximum price established thereon) plus a sacking charge of 2½ cents per bushel.

(2) When oats are sold in sacks furnished by the buyer and the seller does the sacking, there may be added to the appropriate maximum price a sacking charge of 2½ cents per bushel.

(3) These charges may be added to the appropriate maximum price for succeeding sales while the oats are sold in sacks.

(e) Storage and carrying charges. (1) If the seller, under a contract of sale, agrees to carry the oats beyond the date of sale, there may be added to the maximum price otherwise applicable a storage and carrying charge of not to exceed 1/35 of a cent per bushel per day, commencing at any agreed time after date of sale and continuing to the date of delivery or shipment, or until 5 days after the date which the buyer names as the shipping or delivery date, whichever is earlier, provided that the buyer incurs no other cost of storage and carrying charge upon such oats during that period.

(2) For any resale, the maximum price of the seller shall not be increased for any such storage and carrying charges so added.

(3) This provision for the addition of storage and carrying charges shall have no application to oats stored or remaining on the farm where grown.

(f) Under certain special conditions persons performing several marketing functions may add to their maximum price merchandising markups for special services. These markups, and the conditions under which they may be added, are set forth in Section 2.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 2.

SEC. 14. Separate invoicing of charges, markups, and costs. All service charges, markups, elevation and handling costs, and transportation costs permitted in respect to distributors in carload quantities shall be separately stated on the invoice to each purchaser of a carload quantity of oats.

APPENDIX A

TABLE I

(a) Schedule of premiums and discounts over or under standard grade and quality. The base price of the standard grade and quality, no. 3 oats with a test weight of 27 pounds per bushel and moisture content not over 14½ percent, shall be adjusted for other grades and qualities by the following premiums (shown as plus) and discounts (shown as minus):

Grade (all classes and special grade designations)	Minimum test weights per bushel
	under 27#	27#	30#	32#	34#	36#	38#	40#	42#
#1 oats	------	------	------	+4	+5	+6	+8	+10	+12

#4 oats 85% S. C. or better	−2	−1	+1	+1½	+2	+3	+4½	+6	+7½
#4 oats under 85%	−3	−2	0	+½	+1	+2	+3½	+5	+5
Sample grade	−4	−3	−1	−½	0	+1	+2½	+4	+4
			26#	29#	32#	34#	36#	38#
#1 feed oats 70% S. C., or better	------	------	------	------	−1	0	+1	+2	------
#1 feed oats under 70% S. C.	------	------	------	------	−2	−1	0	+1	------
#2 feed oats	------	------	------	−4	−3	−2	−1	−1	------
#3 feed oats	------	------	−6	−5	−4	−3	−2	−2	------
Sample grade feed oats	------	------	−7	−6	−5	−4	−3	−3	------
#1 mixed feed oats	------	------	------	------	−5	−4	−3	−3	------
#2 mixed feed oats	------	------	------	−7	−6	−5	−4	−4	------
#3 mixed feed oats	------	------	−9	−8	−7	−6	−5	−5	------
Sample grade mixed feed oats	------	------	−10	−9	−8	−7	−6	−6	------

The above to be discounted from the schedule prices if carrying the following grade notations: "Weevily"—1¢; "Thin"—1¢; "Smutty"—2¢; "Tough"—1¢; "Garlicky"—2¢; "Ergoty"—2¢. These discounts shall be cumulative.

Premiums for special oats:

"Racehorse oats," as defined herein may be sold, subject to all the provisions of section 2.7 of Food Products Regulation No. 2 for sales of such special commodities, at a premium of 10 cents per bushel over the maximum price for the grade and quality of oats so delivered as computed elsewhere in this supplement.

"Recleaned oats." Oats which have been processed by cleaning and separation and containing less than 1 per cent of foreign material may be sold at a premium of 2 cents per bushel over the maximum price for the grade and quality of the oats so delivered as computed elsewhere in this regulation. This provision shall not apply as an additional premium in the case of "racehorse oats."

(b) Method of adjusting prices for grade and quality. The premiums and discounts in paragraph (a) of this table are used to adjust the price for the standard grade and quality (No. 3 oats, testing 27 pounds per bushel) so as to arrive at the price for a lot of oats grading other than standard. When oats are shipped out of a place of business, such outbound lot may be of different grade and quality than the inbound lot whose history you are using for the purpose of pricing the outbound lot. In such cases it is necessary to make a price adjustment to reflect such differences in grade and quality. This is done by adjusting the price of the inbound lot to a No. 3—27 pound (standard grade and quality) basis, by applying the schedule of premiums and discounts set forth in paragraph (a) of this table, and then adjusting that price in the same manner to determine the correct price for the grade and quality of the outbound shipment.

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

[MPR 394,[1] Amdt. 6]

RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR KOSHER BEEF, VEAL, LAMB AND MUTTON CUTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 394 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1 is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes dollar-and-cents ceiling prices on all retail sales of kosher beef, veal, lamb and mutton cuts, variety meats and edible by-products and kosher sausage. It also fixes dollar-and-cents ceiling prices on all sales of retail cuts of kosher beef, veal, lamb and mutton, variety meats and edible by-products and kosher sausage, which kosher retail dealers are permitted to make to purveyors of kosher meals. It also fixes dollar-and-cents ceiling prices on the kosher meat items covered by this regulation when permission has been granted kosher retail dealers to sell to other kosher retail dealers for resale purposes. You shall not sell any retail kosher beef, veal, lamb or mutton cuts, variety meat item or edible by-product at a price higher than the ceiling price for the corresponding non-kosher retail cut or item, or at the ceiling price fixed in this regulation, unless you maintain a store at or through which you regularly and generally sell kosher meat as such.

Kosher meat means any retail cut, variety meat item, edible by-product, or kosher sausage product derived from livestock slaughtered, approved and stamped as kosher under rabbinical supervision and sold after preparation according to Jewish dietary law. The only retail kosher beef, veal, lamb and mutton cuts which may be sold are those described in section 16 of this regulation. The United States is divided into zones, and different ceiling prices depend on the zone where your store is, its group, and the grade of meat you are selling. A store includes any place where kosher beef, veal, lamb and mutton cuts or variety meats and edible by-products are sold at retail.

2. Section 2 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) You will find your ceiling price for each grade of kosher beef, veal, lamb and mutton cuts on your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices for Kosher Beef, Veal, Lamb, and Mutton—Fresh, Frozen, Cured" (Article II section 19), for variety meats and edible by-products on your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices for Kosher Variety Meats and Edible By-Products" (Article II, section 22), and for kosher sausage products on your OPA List of Ceiling Prices for Kosher Sausage (Article II, section 23), on all sales made to individuals for consumption by themselves or their families off your premises. You will also use the same ceiling prices on sales to kosher eating places if the dollar volume of such sales does not exceed 20% of your total dollar volume of all kosher sales during any calendar month. If you have not obtained written permission in advance from your appropriate Regional Office you cannot sell more than 20% of the total dollar volume of your sales of kosher meat during any calendar month to purveyors of kosher meals. In exceptional cases where you have been granted permission in advance to sell more than 20% of your dollar volume of kosher meats to kosher eating places your ceiling prices on all sales made to kosher eating places shall be the prices on your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Kosher Eating Places or Other Kosher Retailers" (Article II, section 24). In those cases where you have been granted permission to make sales to another kosher retail dealer for resale purposes you will find your ceiling prices for such sales on your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Kosher Eating Places or Other Kosher Retailers" (Article II, section 24). A copy of the lists for each kind of kosher meat, variety meat and edible by-products, and kosher sausage product for your zone will be attached to this regulation. A complete price list showing prices for all retail cuts of kosher meat, variety meats and edible by-products, and kosher sausage products can be obtained from your local War Price and Rationing Board or from your District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

3. Section 3 (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) On July 26, 1944, the dollars-and-cents supplementary ceiling prices fixed for kosher beef, veal, lamb and mutton cuts, variety meats and edible by-products, and kosher sausage products to which this regulation applies sold to kosher eating places or to other retail kosher dealers for resale where written permission to make such sales has been granted in advance (Article II, section 24), take the place of all previous ceiling prices fixed by the Office of Price Administration for these particular sales made to the limited types of buyers and sales described. On and after July 26, 1944, in the exceptional instances where these special types of kosher sales are permitted to be made, you must not sell or offer to sell any of the items named and priced in Article II, section 24, to purveyors of kosher meals or to other retail kosher dealers, at prices higher than those therein specified.

4. Section 5, including the headnote, is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 5. The types of kosher sales you are allowed to make. (a) You may make sales to individuals for consumption by themselves or their families off your premises.

(b) You may make sales to hotels, restaurants, institutions, and other purveyors of meals selling or furnishing kosher meals, of not more than 20% of the total dollar volume of your kosher sales during any month. Your ceiling prices for such sales are the ceiling prices fixed by this regulation for sales to individuals for consumption by themselves or their families off your premises.

(c) You may make sales to hotels, restaurants, institutions and other purveyors of meals selling or furnishing kosher meals, of more than 20% of the total dollar volume of your kosher sales during any month only after the appropriate Regional Administrator has declared the area in which your store is located to be an area deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals, and, following such declaration, you have applied to the appropriate OPA District Office for, and have received written permission to make such sales.

Each Regional Administrator is authorized either on his own motion or after consideration of applications made by one or more retail dealers, to declare any portion of the region under his jurisdiction to be an area deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals when he finds that the following conditions exist:

(1) Purveyors of meals within the area are unable to obtain fabricated meat cuts in sufficient volume to supply their requirements as determined under Ration Order No. 16 during the two month period immediately preceding May 1, 1944;

(2) The deficiency in supply is caused either by the fact that there are no dealers in the area selling fabricated meat cuts, or the dealers in the area selling fabricated meat cuts do not have adequate facilities or quotas to supply the requirements of purveyors of meals located in the area as determined under the first condition;

(3) Purveyors of meals in the area customarily have relied upon, and find it necessary to continue to rely upon local retail dealers for supplies of meat sufficient to fill their requirements.

Applications calling upon the appropriate Regional Administrator to declare a specific area to be deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals may be filed with the appropriate OPA District or Regional Office at any time during business hours on any business day by one or more retail dealers who operate a retail store or stores within the area.

Applications must be in writing, must be signed by the applicant or applicants, must describe the specific area for which the declaration is sought, and must set forth facts which indicate the existence of the conditions under which the Regional Administrator is authorized to declare the area to be deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals. If the application is filed in an OPA District Office, it shall be forwarded within five days to the appropriate Regional Office together with the recommendations of the OPA District Office Director based upon an accompanying analysis of the conditions existing in the specific area for which the declaration is sought.

Upon a finding by the Regional Administrator, either on his own motion or after consideration of a proper application or applications, that the conditions under which he is authorized to act exist, he shall declare the specific area to be deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals.

Following a declaration by the appropriate Regional Administrator that any specific area under his jurisdiction is deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals any retail dealer having a store located in that area may apply in writing to his OPA District Office for permission to sell more than 20% of the total dollar volume of his sales of meat made at his retail store or stores located in the area to purveyors of meals. The application for permission must be in duplicate, must be signed by the applicant, must give the address of the store or stores from which he intends to make sales by virtue of the permission, and must declare that the applicant, in all sales made from such store or stores to purveyors of meals after receipt of the requested permission, will charge no more than the ceiling prices listed in his "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Kosher Eating Places or Other Kosher Retailers" (Article II section 24). For purposes of convenience he may combine an application made under this section with applications made under the analogous sections of Maximum Price Regulation No. 336 and/or Maximum Price Regulation No. 355.

Upon receipt of an application the OPA District Director shall grant the applicant the requested permission in writing. When the applicant has received such permission, his ceiling prices on all kosher sales thereafter made to purveyors of kosher meals must not exceed the ceiling prices for each grade of kosher beef, veal, lamb and mutton retail cuts listed in the "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Kosher Eating Places or Other Kosher Retailers" (Article II, section 24).

(d) You may make sales to other kosher retail dealers who purchase your retail kosher meat cuts for resale, or you may buy retail kosher meat cuts for resale purposes from other kosher retail dealers, only after written permission to make such sales or purchases has been granted to both the seller and the buyer by the appropriate Regional Office. The seller and the buyer must submit joint applications in duplicate to the appropriate OPA District Office for such permission and must state therein the reasons why permission to make such sales and purchases is being sought. The joint application submitted must be signed by both parties and must set forth facts which indicate the existence of the following conditions:

(1) The purchasing kosher retail dealer serves an area which will be deprived of its adequate supply of kosher meats unless provision is made for him to procure kosher meats in the form of retail cuts;

(2) The purchasing kosher retail dealer does not have the facilities necessary to cut kosher wholesale cuts into retail cuts;

(3) The purchasing kosher retail dealer either customarily purchased his kosher meats in the form of retail cuts prior to May 17, 1943, or is just starting to sell kosher meats at retail in the designated location;

(4) The selling kosher retail dealer is regularly engaged in the business of making sales at retail, the major portion of his kosher meat business consisting of sales to individuals for consumption by themselves or their families off his premises;

(5) The contemplated sale of kosher retail cuts to the purchasing kosher retail dealer will constitute only an incidental part of the selling kosher retail dealer's business. In no event may sales of kosher retail cuts to other kosher retail dealers exceed 40% of the total dollar volume of kosher sales made by the selling kosher retail dealer.

The application also must include statements showing (1) the approximate total volume of kosher retail cuts expected to be transferred monthly as a result of the arrangement, (2) the expected duration of the arrangement, (3) the name and address of both parties. For purposes of convenience buyers and sellers may combine applications made under this section with applications made under the analogous sections of Maximum Price Regulation No. 336 and/or Maximum Price Regulation No. 355. The OPA District Office shall forward the application to the appropriate Regional Office together with its recommendations.

Upon receipt of a joint application, together with the recommendations of the OPA District Office, the appropriate Regional Office shall conduct whatever investigations it deems necessary concerning the statements in the joint application. Upon a finding by the Regional Administrator that all of the requirements of this section have been satisfied, he is authorized to grant permission in writing authorizing the purchasing kosher retail dealer to buy and the selling kosher retail dealer to sell kosher retail cuts for resale in whatever quantity and for whatever period as he may find to be appropriate under the circumstances. He also shall send a copy of whatever order he may make to the forwarding OPA District Office.

Where such permission has been granted, and if you are the kosher retail seller, you may charge the kosher retail dealer authorized to purchase kosher retail cuts from you no more than the ceiling price for the cut and grade of kosher beef, veal, lamb and mutton retail cuts listed on your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Kosher Eating Places or Other Kosher Retailers" (Article II, section 24).

If you are the authorized purchasing kosher retail dealer you may pay the authorized selling kosher retail dealer no more than the ceiling price for the cut and grade of kosher beef, veal, lamb and mutton retail cuts listed on your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Kosher Eating Places or Other Kosher Retailers" (Article II, section 24).

5. Section 9 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 9. Records, sales slips, and receipts. After May 17, 1943, you shall keep the same kind of records you have customarily kept, showing the prices you charge for kosher beef, veal, lamb and mutton cuts, variety meats and edible by-products, and kosher sausage products. On all sales to hotels, restaurants, institutions and other eating places selling or furnishing kosher meals made after July 26, 1944, you must keep records and give receipts to each respective purchaser, showing the name and address of each such purchaser, the date of each purchase, your name and address, the component items of each order including the name, weight and grade of each retail kosher meat cut, variety meat item and edible by-product, or kosher sausage products sold, and the price charged therefor. If you are permitted to sell to other kosher retail dealers for resale purposes you must keep records of each transaction and give receipts showing the same facts that you are required to show on your sales to kosher eating places. You shall show the records to any representative of the Office of Price Administration upon request. If you have customarily given a customer a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you shall continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your previous custom, you shall, upon request by any customer, give a receipt showing the date, your name and address, the name, weight and grade of each cut of kosher meat, variety meat or edible by-product sold, the name, type, weight, and casing, container or wrapper identification of each kosher sausage product sold, and the price you received for the kosher meat cut, variety meat or edible by-product, or kosher sausage product.

6. In section 19 (g) the New York area in Zone 7 is amended to read as follows:

The county of Chautauqua in New York.

7. In section 19 (i) the New York area in Zone 8 North, is amended to read as follows:

All that portion of New York west of and including the counties of Oswego, Oneida, Madison, Chenango, and Broome; but excluding the county of Chautauqua.

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

[MPR 336,[1] Amdt. 15]

RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR PORK CUTS AND CERTAIN SAUSAGE PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Maximum Price Regulation No. 336 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1 is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes dollar-and-cents ceiling prices on all retail sales of fresh and processed pork cuts, and on all retail sales of the following sausage products: fresh and smoked pork sausage and breakfast sausage, frankfurters, bologna, Lebanon bologna, all beef knackwurst and all beef salami, loaves, Braunschweiger, fresh and smoked liver sausage, liver cheese, liver pudding, New England, minced luncheon, Berliner or Berlin, and Polish sausage. It also fixes dollar-and-cents ceiling prices on all sales of retail pork cuts and the sausage products subject to this regulation which retail dealers are permitted to make to purveyors of meals. It also fixes dollars-and-cents ceiling prices on the meat items covered by this regulation when permission has been granted retail dealers to sell to other retail dealers for resale purposes. The only retail pork cuts which may be sold are those named and priced in section 19 of this regulation. The United States is divided into zones and different ceiling prices depend on the zone where your store is, its group, the pork cut you are selling, or the type and casing, wrapper or container of the sausage product you are selling. A store includes any place where pork cuts or sausage products subject to this regulation are sold at retail.

2. Section 2 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) You will find your ceiling prices for pork cuts on your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices for Pork Cuts" (Article III, section 19) and for sausage products subject to this regulation on your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices for Sausage Products covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 336" (Article III, section 20) on all sales made to individuals for consumption by themselves or their families off your premises. You will also use the same ceiling prices on sales to eating places if the dollar volume of such sales does not exceed 20% of your total dollar volume of all sales during any calendar month. If you have not obtained written permission in advance from your appropriate District Office, you cannot sell more than 20% of the total dollar volume of your sales during any calendar month to purveyors of meals. In exceptional cases where you have been granted permission in advance to sell more than 20% of your dollar volume of meats to eating places your ceiling price on all sales made to eating places shall be the prices on your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Eating Places or Other Retailers" (Article III, section 21. In those cases where you have been granted permission to make sales to another retail dealer for resale purposes you will find your ceiling prices for such sales on your "OPA" List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Eating Places or Other Retailers" (Article III, section 21). A copy of these lists for your zone and group will be attached to this regulation. A complete price list showing prices for both pork cuts and sausage products may be obtained from your local War Price and Rationing Board or from your District Office of the Office of Price Administration. (If you are a "Group 3 and 4" store you should obtain your copy of the complete price list from your Regional Office of Price Administration Office.)

3. Section 3 (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) On July 26, 1944, the dollars-and-cents specially authorized ceiling prices for fresh and processed pork cuts and the sausage products subject to this regulation sold to eating places or to other retail dealers for resale where written permission to make such sales has been granted in advance (Article III, section 21) take the place of all previous ceiling prices fixed by the Office of Price Administration for these particular sales made to the limited types of buyers and sales described. On and after July 26, 1944, in the exceptional instances where these special types of sales are permitted to be made, you must not sell or offer to sell any of the items named and priced in Article III, section 21, to purveyors of meals or to other retail dealers at prices higher than those therein specified.

4. Section 5, including the headnote, is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 5. The types of sales you are allowed to make. (a) You may make sales to individuals for consumption by themselves or their families off your premises.

(b) You may make sales to hotels, restaurants, institutions, and other purveyors of meals selling or furnishing meals, of not more than 20% of the total dollar volume of your sales during any month. Your ceiling prices for such sales are the ceiling prices fixed by this regulation for sales to individuals for consumption by themselves or their families off your premises. (Article III, sections 19 and 20).

(c) You may make sales to hotels, restaurants, institutions and other eating places selling or furnishing meals, of more than 20% of the total dollar volume of your sales during any month only after the appropriate Regional Administrator has declared the area in which your store is located to be an area deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals, and—following such declaration—you have applied to the appropriate OPT District Office for, and have received written permission to make such sales.

Each Regional Administrator is authorized, either on his own motion or after consideration of applications made by one or more retail dealers, to declare any portion of the region under his jurisdiction to be an area deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals when he finds that the following conditions exist:

(1) Purveyors of meals within the area are unable to obtain fabricated meat cuts in sufficient volume to supply their requirements as determined under Ration Order No. 16 during the two month period immediately preceding May 1, 1944;

(2) The deficiency in supply is caused either by the fact that there are no dealers in the area selling fabricated meat cuts, or the dealers in the area selling fabricated meat cuts do not have adequate facilities or quotas to supply the requirements of purveyors of meals located in the area as determined under the first condition;

(3) Purveyors of meals in the area customarily have relied upon, and find it necessary to continue to rely upon local retail dealers for supplies of meat sufficient to fill their requirements.

Application calling upon the appropriate Regional Administrator to declare a specific area to be deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals may be filed with the appropriate OPA District or Regional Office at any time during business hours on any business day by one or more retail dealers who operate a retail store or stores within the area.

Applications must be in writing, must be signed by the applicant or applicants, must describe the specific area for which the declaration is sought, and must set forth facts which indicate the existence of the conditions under which the Regional Administrator is authorized to declare the area to be deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals. If the application is filed in an OPA District Office, it shall be forwarded within five days to the appropriate Regional Office together with the recommendations of the OPA District Office Director based upon an accompanying analysis of the conditions existing in the specific area for which the declaration is sought.

Upon a finding by the Regional Administrator, either on his own motion or after consideration of a proper application or applications, that the conditions under which he is authorized to act exist, he shall declare the specific area to be deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals.

Following a declaration by the appropriate Regional Administrator that any specific area under his jurisdiction is deficient in supplies of fabricated meat cuts for purveyors of meals any retail dealer having a store located in that area may apply in writing to his OPA District Office for permission to sell more than 20% of the total volume of his sales of meat made at his retail store or stores located in the area to purveyors of meals. The application for permission must be in duplicate, must be signed by the applicant, must give the address of the store or stores from which he intends to make sales by virtue of the permission, and must declare that the applicant, in all sales made from such store or stores to purveyors of meals after receipt of the requested permission, will charge no more than the ceiling prices listed in his "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Eating Places or Other Retailers" (Article III, section 21). For purposes of convenience he may combine an application made under this section with applications made under the analogous sections of Maximum Price Regulation No. 355 and/or Maximum Price Regulation No. 394.

Upon receipt of an application the OPA District Director shall grant the applicant the requested permission in writing. When the applicant has received such permission, his ceiling prices on all sales thereafter made to purveyors of meals must not exceed the ceiling prices for each grade of beef, veal, lamb and mutton retail cuts listed in the "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Eating Places or Other Retailers" (Article III, section 21).

(d) You may make sales to other retail dealers who purchase your retail pork cuts for resale or you may buy retail pork cuts for resale purposes from other retail dealers only after written permission to make such sales or purchases has been granted to both the seller and the buyer by the appropriate Regional Office. The buyer and seller must submit joint applications in duplicate to the appropriate OPA District Office for such permission and must state therein the reasons why permission to make such sales and purchases is being sought. The joint application submitted must be signed by both parties and must set forth facts which indicate the existence of the following conditions:

(1) The purchasing retail dealer serves an area which will be deprived of its adequate supply of meats unless provision is made for him to procure meats in the form of retail cuts;

(2) The purchasing retail dealer does not have the facilities necessary to cut wholesale cuts into retail cuts;

(3) The purchasing retail dealer either customarily purchased his meats in the form of retail cuts prior to May 17, 1943, or is just starting to sell meats at retail in the designated location;

(4) The selling retail dealer is regularly engaged in the business of making sales at retail, the major portion of his meat business consisting of sales to individuals for consumption by themselves or their families off his premises;

(5) The contemplated sale of retail cuts to the purchasing retail dealer will constitute only an incidental part of the selling retail dealer's business. In no event may sales of retail cuts to other retail dealers exceed 40% of the total dollar volume of sales made by the selling retail dealer.

The application also must include statements showing (1) the approximate total volume of meat cuts expected to be transferred monthly as a result of the arrangement, (2) the expected duration of the arrangement, (3) the name and address of both parties. For purposes of convenience buyers and sellers may combine applications made under this section with applications made under the analogous sections of Maximum Price Regulation No. 355 and/or Maximum Price Regulation No. 394. The OPA District Office shall forward the application to the appropriate regional office together with its recommendations.

Upon receipt of a joint application together with the recommendations of the OPA District Office, the appropriate Regional Office shall conduct whatever investigations it deems necessary concerning the statements in the joint application. Upon a finding by the Regional Administrator that all of the requirements of this section have been satisfied he is authorized to grant permission in writing authorizing the purchasing retail dealer to buy, and the selling retail dealer to sell retail meat cuts for resale in whatever quantity and for whatever period as he may find to be appropriate under the circumstances. He also shall send a copy of whatever order he may make to the forwarding OPA District Office.

Where such permission has been granted, and if you are the retail seller, you may charge the retail dealer authorized to purchase retail pork cuts and the sausage products subject to this regulation from you no more than the ceiling price for the pork cuts and sausage products listed on your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially Authorized Sales to Eating Places or Other Retailers" (Article III, section 21).

If you are the authorized purchasing retail dealer you may pay the authorized selling retail dealer no more than the ceiling price for the pork cuts and sausage products listed in your "OPA List of Retail Ceiling Prices on Specially authorized Sales to Eating Places or Other Retailers (Article III, section 21).

5. Section 7 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 7. Records and Reports. After May 17, 1943, you shall keep the same kind of records you have customarily kept, showing the prices you charge for fresh and processed pork cuts, and sausage products subject to this regulation. On all sales to hotels, restaurants, institutions and other eating places selling or furnishing meals made after July 26, 1944, you must keep records and give receipts to each respective purchaser, showing the name and address of each such purchaser, the date of each purchase, your name and address, the component items of each order including the name and weight, of each pork cut and the name, type, weight and casing, container or wrapper identification of each sausage product sold and the price charged therefor. If you are permitted to sell to other retail dealers for resale purposes you must keep records of each transaction and give receipts showing the same facts that you are required to show on your sales to eating places. You shall show the records to any representative of the Office of Price Administration upon request. If you have customarily given a customer a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you shall continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your previous custom, you shall, upon request by any customer, give a receipt showing the date, your name and address, the name and weight of each pork cut, the name, type, weight and casing, container or wrapper identification of each sausage product sold, and the price you received for the pork cut or sausage product.

6. Section 21 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 21. Retail ceiling prices on specially authorized sales to eating places or other retailers.—(a) Pork cuts.

NOTE 1. Deduction for oily pork cuts. The ceiling price for a pork cut which comes from an oily hog carcass is lower than the ceiling price listed below for that pork cut. The ceiling price is one cent a pound lower for all hams, fat back, and dressed hogs from oily hogs. The ceiling price is four cents a pound lower for all shoulders, shoulder cuts, pork loins, bellies, and slab bacon from oily hogs.

NOTE 2. Slices of processed picnics and processed bone-in hams. Slices from processed picnics and processed bone-in hams shall be center slices only and shall not be more than 33⅓ % of the weight of the total picnic or bone-in ham.

NOTE 3. Slices of fresh picnics and hams. Slices from fresh picnics and hams shall be center slices only and shall not be more than 20% of the weight of the total picnic or ham.

NOTE 4. Shank and round or butt halves and ends. Shank and round or butt halves and ends of fresh, smoked and ready to eat hams and picnics may be split lengthwise once and the pieces so produced may be sold at or below the applicable ceiling prices listed for shank and round or butt halves and ends.

NOTE 5. Center cut pork chops. Center cut pork chops shall be not more than 33⅓ % of the weight of the pork loin.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[RO 5C[1], Amdt. 137]

MILEAGE RATIONING: GASOLINE REGULATIONS

A rationale accompanying this amendment issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order 5C is amended in the following respects:

1. In § 1394.7751 (a) the statement in parentheses is amended to read as follows:

(other than passenger automobiles and motorcycles owned or leased and operated by the armed forces of the United States or by State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended)

2. In § 1394.7801 (a) the first sentence is amended to read as follows:

Subject to the provisions of § 1394.7802, transport rations shall be issued by a Board to permit the acquisition of gasoline required for the propulsion of registered and unregistered commercial motor vehicles and motor vehicles owned or leased by and operated by the State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended.

3. In § 1394.7802 the last sentence is amended to read as follows:

The owner or person entitled to the use of a motor vehicle which is owned or leased by and operated by the State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended, may obtain a transport ration authorizing the acquisition of the number of gallons of gasoline required for the operation of such vehicle during the quarterly period for which the ration is to be used.

4. In § 1394.7803 (a) the first sentence is amended to read as follows:

Class T coupons, and, in the case of motorcycles owned or leased by and operated by the State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended, Class D books marked "Transport" shall be issued as transport rations.

5. Section 1394.7804(c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) In the event application is made for a transport ration for use with a motor vehicle owned or leased by and operated by the State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended, the application shall state the number of gallons required during the quarterly period for which the ration is sought for all operations of the vehicle, or in the case of a fleet, for all of the vehicles for which a ration is sought.

6. In section 1394.7805 (c) the first sentence is amended to read as follows:

When an application is made for a ration for use with a motor vehicle which is owned or leased by and operated by the State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended, no Certificate of War Necessity is required.

7. Section 1394.7851(b) (3) (v) is added to read as follows:

(v) To operate a motor vehicle purchased or leased by the military or naval forces of the United States or State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended, from the place of purchase or lease to a place designated by such military or naval forces.

8. Section 1394.7851(b) (3) (vi) is added to read as follows:

(vi) To move a motor vehicle owned or leased by the military or naval forces of the United States or State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended, from one military or naval facility to another military or naval facility when such movement is under the control and supervision of a private contractor.

9. Section 1394.8183(b) (8) is added to read as follows:

(8) Any movement of a motor vehicle purchased or leased by the military or naval forces of the United States or State military forces organized pursuant to section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended, from the place of such purchase or lease, to a place designated by such military or naval forces.

This amendment shall become effective July 25, 1944.

PART 1439—UNPROCESSED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

LEGUME AND GRASS SEEDS

Maximum Price Regulation 471 is redesignated Revised Maximum Price Regulation 471 and is revised and amended to read as set forth herein. In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and comply with all the provisions and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and of Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

REVISED MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION NO. 471—LEGUME AND GRASS SEEDS

Sec.

2. Sales at other than maximum prices.
3. Evasion.
4. Enforcement.
5. Licensing.
6. Records and reports.
7. Protests and petitions for amendment.
8. Definitions.
9. Certain maximum service charges.
10. Maximum prices for sales of thresher run seeds.
11. Maximum prices for sales of rough cleaned seeds.
12. Maximum prices for sales of quality cleaned and processed seeds.
13. Base prices applicable to quality cleaned and processed legume and grass seeds.

AUTHORITY: (Secs. 1 to 13, inclusive, § 1439.6) issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; 57 Stat. 566; Pub. Law 383, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R.4681.

SECTION 1. Applicability. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, this regulation shall apply to all sales within the 48 states and the District of Columbia of the following domestic and imported legume and grass seeds, viz: alfalfa, medium red and mammoth red clover, alsike clover, sweet clover and timothy; and certain processed seed mixtures.

(b) Sales excepted. This regulation shall not apply to:

(1) State Certified seed of the following improved alfalfa varieties: Atlantic, Buffalo, Nemestan and Ranger;

(2) State Certified seed of the following improved red clover strains: Emerson, Kentucky 215, Kirsh, Letcher, Otten, Rahn, Sanford, Tennessee Anthracnose Resistant and Van Fossen;

(3) State Certified seed of the following improved timothy varieties: Cornell 1777, Cornell 4059, Lorain, Marietta and Milton;

(4) Any export sale of any legume and grass seeds. The maximum price for such sale shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation;[2]

(5) Sales of legume and grass seeds when sold to planters in quantities of 5 pounds or less;

(6) Any legume and grass seeds purchased by the United States or any of its agencies under such circumstances of emergency as to make delivery imperative and as to render it impossible to secure or unfair to require immediate delivery at the maximum price which would otherwise be applicable, if such purchases and deliveries are made pursuant to the provisions of section 4.3 (f) of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 1 to the General Maximum Price Regulation, as amended: Provided, however, That the Administrator may, by order, waive the reporting of any part of the information required by section 4.3 (f) in connection with a particular purchase or group of purchases upon determining that such information may not reasonably be required under all the circumstances, and he may, in lieu thereof, require the reporting of other information more suited to the circumstances.

SEC. 2. Sales at other than maximum prices. (a) Regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall, in the course of trade or business, buy or receive any of the commodities covered by this regulation at a price above the maximum price established by this regulation, nor shall any person agree, solicit, offer, or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, however, That this prohibition is subject to the exception provided for in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(1) Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery, but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by an order of the Administrator or of any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices established by this regulation may be charged or paid.

SEC. 3. Evasion. (a) Any method whereby a seller obtains greater consideration than the maximum price, or whereby he gives less than the consideration due the buyer for the maximum price, is an evasion of this regulation, and therefore prohibited, and any offer or agreement which accomplishes or attempts to accomplish such result is equally prohibited. Without limiting the general prohibitions of this section, the following practices are specifically prohibited.

(1) Requiring payment of any commission, service, transportation or other charge not specifically provided for in the regulation;

(2) Receiving any premium not provided for in the regulation;

(3) Changing a normal business practice for no other reason than to obtain a price higher than the maximum price;

(4) Requiring the purchase of any commodity or service as a condition of the sale of another commodity;

(5) Requiring the sale of one commodity as a condition of the sale of another commodity;

(6) Any other method which, in effect, gives the seller a higher price than he is entitled to.

SEC. 4. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the license revocation or suspension provisions, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and criminal penalties, as provided in the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 5. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1[3] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 6. Records and reports. (a) Every seller subject to this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect his customary records including all bills, invoices and other documents relating to every sale or delivery of commodities subject to this regulation and documents necessary to the determination of purity and germination, after the effective date of this regulation.[4]

(b) Upon demand every such seller shall submit such records to the Office of Price Administration and keep such further records as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.[4]

SEC. 7. Protests and petitions for amendment. Any person desiring to file a protest against or seeking an amendment of any provisions of this regulation may do so in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[5] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 8. Definitions. (a) As used in this regulation the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Legume and grass seeds" means alfalfa, medium red clover, mammoth red clover, alsike clover, sweet clover and timothy seeds.

(2) "Northern alfalfa seed" means alfalfa seed produced in the following places: In the States of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, North Dakota, South Dakota, Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, and in the counties of any state east of Nebraska which are north of or intersected by the 40th parallel; and in Canada.

(3) "Central alfalfa seed" means alfalfa seed produced in the following places: In the counties of the State of California north of the 40th parallel, and in the counties of Tehama and Plumas; in the States of Nevada, Utah, Colorado, Kansas, and Oklahoma (and labelled "Oklahoma approved origin seed"); in the counties of Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and New Jersey which lie entirely south of the 40th parallel; and in the States of Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

(4) "Southern alfalfa seed" is alfalfa seed produced in places in the United States south of the places where central alfalfa seed is produced; and in Central and South America.

(5) "Thresher-run seeds" means legume and grass seeds in the condition in which they come from a thresher or harvesting machine.

(6) "Rough cleaned seeds" means legume and grass seeds which have been partially cleaned by a cleaning machine separate from and not attached to a thresher or harvesting machine.

(7) "Quality cleaned seeds" means legume and grass seeds which have been thoroughly cleaned, sacked, tested in a laboratory (on the basis of a representative sample) for purity, germination, weed seed content and rate of occurrence of noxious weed seeds, and labelled in compliance with the applicable seed laws.

(8) "Processed seeds" means seeds of uniform quality which a commercial processor has cleaned and purified (with or without blending), sacked, tested in a laboratory for purity, germination, weed seed content and rate of occurrence of noxious weed seeds and labelled pursuant to the applicable state and federal seed laws.

(9) "Processed seed mixture" means any mixture of processed seeds in which at least two kinds of seeds (exclusive of weed seeds and noxious weed seeds) are present in excess of 5% of the whole.

(10) "Weed seeds" means weed seeds as defined in the Federal Seed Act or any applicable State Seed Law.

(11) "Noxious weed seeds" for which discounts must be made in this regulation are seeds of Lepidium draba, Lepidium repens (Schrenk) Boiss, Hymenophysa Pubescens C. A., Mey., white top; Cirsium arvense Scop., Canada thistle; Cuscuta spp., dodder; Agropyron, repens Beauv., quackgrass; Sorghum halepense Pers., Johnson grass; Convolvulus arvensis, bindweed; Centaurea picris Pall., Russian Knapweed; Sonchus arvensis, perennial sowthistle; Eurphorbia esula, leafy spurge: Provided, That these weed seeds are considered noxious and their rate of occurrence is such that labelling to show their presence is required by the laws and regulations of the State in which the legume or grass seeds in question are delivered (or by the Federal Seed Act, if delivered in the District of Columbia).

(12) "Dockage" means inert matter, weed seeds and other crop seeds in thresher-run seeds or rough cleaned seeds. The determination of dockage shall be made from a representative sample drawn from each bag or container, removing as much dockage as possible therefrom by the use of one of the following combinations of hand-screens:

Seed	Combination of screen sizes
Alfalfa	5/64" or 3/64" x 5/16"	1/4"	4 x 24.
Medium and Mammoth Red Clover	5/64" or 3/64" x 5/16"	5/16"	6 x 24.
Alsike Clover	1/16"		6 x 32.
White Blosson Sweet Clover	5/64" or 3/64" x 5/16"	5/16"	6 x 24.
Yellow Blosson Sweet Clover	5/64" or 3/64" x 5/16"	5/16"	4 x 20.
Timothy	3/64"		6 x 34.

and, thereafter removing the remaining dockage in said representative sample by the hand separation method as prescribed by the regulations issued under and for the enforcement of the Federal Seed Act.

(13) "Your transportation cost" means:

(i) If you employ a common carrier, contract carrier, or other carrier for hire or compensation, the charge which you actually incur for the transportation service; or

(ii) If you do your own hauling by truck, automobile or wagon, the following scale of charges:

If the total haul does not exceed 100 miles—3 cents per 100 pounds for the first five miles or fraction thereof plus 1 cent per 100 pounds for each additional five miles or fraction thereof;

If the haul exceeds 100 miles the lowest carload rail rate from the rail point nearest the point of origin to the rail point nearest the point of destination plus 8 cents per 100 pounds, but not to exceed 22 cents per 100 pounds plus ¼ cent per 100 pounds for each five miles or fraction thereof over 100 miles.

In applying the above mileage scale all distances shall be determined via the shortest route between point of origin and point of destination reasonably suitable for truck movement.

(iii) When any movement involves a combination of the above types of transportation the transportation cost for such movement shall be the sum of the amounts computed separately for each part of the movement.

(iv) If you bulk two or more lots of legume and grass seeds, on which you have paid varying transportation costs, into a single lot, you may use a weighted average of such transportation costs for the entire quantity.

(14) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association or other organized group of persons or the legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any other Government or any political subdivision or agency of any of the foregoing.

(15) "Producer" means with respect to a particular lot of thresher-run or rough cleaned legume and grass seeds, a person who produced or harvested such lot.

(16) "Country dealer" means with respect to a particular lot of legume and grass seeds, a person other than a commercial processor who:

(i) Thoroughly cleans thresher-run seeds or rough cleaned seeds in a seed cleaning plant maintained and operated by him; and

(ii) Has a representative sample of such seeds tested in a laboratory for purity, germination, weed seed content and rate of occurrence of noxious weed seeds; and

(iii) Sells such seeds properly labelled in compliance with the applicable seed laws.

(17) "Commercial processor" means, with respect to a particular lot of legume and grass seeds, a person who performs the following functions, and who performed the same prior to September 29, 1943, in a seed processing plant equipped with specialized seed processing machinery in addition to fanning and screening mills, which plant he maintains and operates:

(i) Blends and bulks thresher-run seeds and rough cleaned seeds;

(ii) Refines and purifies thresher-run seed and rough cleaned seed through the use of specialized processing machinery designed to remove weed seeds and noxious weed seeds;

(iii) Blends and bulks processed legume and grass seeds into lots of uniform quality;

(iv) Tests or has tested such seeds to determine uniformity of quality and to determine purity, germination, weed seed content and rate of occurrence of noxious weed seeds; and

(v) Sells such seeds properly labelled in compliance with the applicable seed laws.

A processor must file a reference sample of each lot of seed he processes and keep the same available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

(18) "Wholesaler" means, with respect to a particular lot of legume and grass seeds, a person who buys quality cleaned or processed legume and grass seeds, unloads them into a warehouse and resells the same to retailers.

(19) "Retailer" is any person who sells quality cleaned or processed legume and grass seeds to planters.

(20) "His supplier" or "your supplier" means, as to any seller, the person from whom he or you purchased the seeds involved.

(21) "His customer" or "your customer" means, as to any seller, the person to whom he sells or you sell the lot of seeds involved.

(22) "Base price" means the price computed in accordance with section 13 hereof. These are merely basic prices from which the maximum price for every sale by every seller is calculated under the provisions of section 13 hereof. These base prices shall not be used independently as a maximum price for any sale.

(b) The foregoing definitions have like meaning in this regulation whether referring to the class as a whole (e. g. legume and grass seeds) or to a specific kind or variety comprised therein (e. g. alfalfa, Northern, Central or Southern).

SEC. 9. Certain maximum service charges. The maximum charges which may be made per 100 pounds for the services of assembling, rough cleaning, and quality cleaning legume and grass seeds are set forth below. These are maximum service charges regardless of whether the legume and grass seeds are sold at their maximum price.

(a) Assembling:

Kind of seed:	Maximum service charge (to be reduced by the percentage of dockage in the lot)
Alfalfa:
Northern, Central and Southern	$1.00
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	1.00

(c) If your purchased thresher-run seed from a person other than a producer, your maximum price per 100 pounds, shall be your supplier's maximum price, plus your transportation cost.

(d) If you are a seller under paragraph (a), (b), or (c), you may increase your maximum price by the reasonable value (not exceeding any maximum price thereon) of the sacks actually furnished by you.

SEC. 11. Maximum prices for sales of rough cleaned seeds. (a) If you are a seller of rough cleaned seeds your maximum price, per 100 pounds, for the sale or delivery of such seeds shall be the maximum price at which you could have sold or delivered such seeds as thresher-run seeds, plus your transportation cost and plus the applicable mark-up shown below:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up (to be reduced by the percentage of dockage in the lot)
Alfalfa:
Northern, Central and Southern	$1.00
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	1.00
Sweet	.50
Timothy	.40

(b) You may increase your maximum price under paragraph (a) by the reasonable value (not exceeding any maximum price thereon) of the sacks actually furnished by you.

SEC. 12. Maximum prices for sales of quality cleaned and processed seeds. Maximum prices for all sales of quality cleaned and processed seeds are found in this section. Maximum prices of such seeds vary according to quality, type of seller and according to whether they are sold by a seller who has customarily sold seeds on a basis of uniform quality. Differences in degree of purity and germination are adjusted in the tables of base prices which are found in section 13. You may take the applicable premiums provided in section 13, but you must give the applicable discounts provided therein. Whenever reference is made to a base price, refer to that section. In section 13 you will find that the particular quality of the seed you are selling has its own base price, without reference to the type of seller you may happen to be.

Once a base price has been determined, this section will explain how you determine your own maximum price. You must consult the definitions to determine your class of seller on the particular sale, as we have defined your status according to the particular sale you are making. You may be one class of seller on one sale and another class of seller on a different sale.

If you are a producer selling seeds which have been quality cleaned from seeds produced by you, your maximum price will be found in paragraph (a). If you meet the requirements of the definition of a Commercial Processor, as we have defined him, your maximum price is provided in paragraph (b). If you are a wholesaler, as we define him, your maximum price is found in paragraph (c) or if a retailer in paragraph (d). All other sellers find their maximum prices in paragraph (e).

(a) Maximum prices for a producer. If you are a producer selling seeds which have been quality cleaned from seeds produced by you, your maximum price will depend on the party to whom you sell the seed. In all cases your maximum price will be the appropriate base price for the kind and quality of seed you are selling, plus your transportation cost, and plus the applicable markup shown in subparagraphs (1) and (2) below.

(1) If your customer is any person other than a planter your maximum markup shall be:

Kind of seed:	Maximum markup per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$3.50
Southern	3.00
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	3.10
Sweet	2.00
Timothy	1.30

(2) If your customer is a planter your maximum markup shall be:

Kind of seed:	Maximum markup per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$8.00
Southern (except when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	8.00
Southern (when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	6.50
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	6.95
Sweet	5.00
Timothy	3.50

(b) Maximum prices for a commercial processor. If you are a commercial processor, your maximum price will depend on the party to whom you sell the seed. In all cases your maximum price will be the appropriate base price for the kind and quality of seed you are selling, plus your transportation cost, and plus the applicable markup shown in subparagraphs (1), (2) or (3) below.

(1) If your customer is a commercial processor, wholesaler or any other person (except a retailer or planter) your maximum markup shall be:

Kind of seed:	Maximum markup per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$6.50
Southern (except when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	6.00
Southern (when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	4.00
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	5.85
Sweet	3.75
Timothy	2.15

(2) If your customer is a retailer your maximum markup shall be:

Kind of seed:	Maximum markup per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$10.40
Southern (except when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	9.90
Southern (when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	7.40
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	9.65
Sweet	6.00
Timothy	3.55

(3) (i) If your customer is a planter and you are selling from your processing plant your maximum markup shall be:

Kind of seed:	Maximum markup per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$11.00
Southern (except when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	11.00
Southern (when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	7.50
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	9.70
Sweet	6.75
Timothy	4.35

(ii) If your customer is a planter and you are selling from a retail store or from a retail mail order house in connection with which you publish a retail mail order seed catalogue and said store or mail order house is owned or leased by you and located on premises not adjacent to your processing plant your maximum markup shall be:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$14.90
Southern (except when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	14.90
Southern (when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	10.90
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	13.50
Sweet	9.00
Timothy	5.75

(c) Maximum prices for a wholesaler. (1) If you are a wholesaler who does not maintain and operate a retail store or a retail mail order house in connection with which you publish a retail mail order seed catalogue your maximum price shall be your supplier's maximum price on the sale and delivery to you, plus your transportation cost, and plus the applicable mark-up shown below:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$3.90
Sotuhern (except when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	3.90
Southern (when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	3.40
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	3.80
Timothy	1.40

(2) If you are a wholesaler who maintains and operates a retail store or a retail mail order house in connection with which you publish a seed catalogue and sell to planters, your maximum price shall be your supplier's maximum price on the sale and delivery to you, plus your transportation cost, and plus the applicable mark-up shown below:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$8.40
Southern (except when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	8.90
Southern (when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	6.90
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	7.65
Timothy	3.60

(d) Maximum prices for a retailer. (1) If you are a retailer, other than a country dealer selling seeds which have been quality cleaned by you, your maximum price shall be your supplier's maximum price on the sale and delivery to you, plus your transportation cost, and plus the applicable mark-up shown below:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$4.50
Southern (except when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	5.00
Southern (when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	3.50
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	3.85
Sweet	3.00
Timothy	2.20

(2) If you are a country dealer selling seeds which have been quality cleaned

by you, your maximum price shall be the appropriate base price in section 14, plus your transportation cost, and plus the applicable mark-up shown below:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$8.00
Southern (except when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	8.00
Southern (when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	6.50
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	6.95
Sweet	5.00
Timothy	3.50

(3) If you are a retailer under subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph and make sales to planters in quantities of more than 5 pounds and less than 60 pounds, the maximum prices established in subparagraphs (1) and (2) may be increased by the reasonable value (not exceeding any maximum price thereon) of the sacks actually used, plus the applicable mark-up per pound shown below:

(i) In the States of Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and in the District of Columbia:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per pound
Alfalfa:
Northern, Central and Southern	$0.03
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	.03
Sweet	.02
Timothy	.02

(ii) In any state not mentioned in subdivision (i):

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per pound
Any legume and grass seeds	$0.01½

(e) Maximum prices for any person other than a producer, commercial processor, wholesaler or retailer. If you are any person other than a producer, commercial processor, wholesaler or retailer your maximum price for the sale or delivery of any lot of quality cleaned or processed legume and grass seeds shall be the appropriate base price plus your transportation cost and plus the applicable mark-up shown below:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$3.50
Southern	3.00
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	3.10
Sweet	2.00
Timothy	1.30

(f) If you belong to one of the classes of sellers provided for in this section, your maximum mark-up for the sale or delivery of a processed seed mixture of seeds provided for in section 14 shall be the weighted average of your maximum mark-ups for the respective seeds in the mixture which are subject to this regulation.

SEC. 13. Base prices applicable to quality cleaned and processed legume and grass seeds. You have found in the maximum pricing provisions that base prices are provided in this section. These base prices are on a dollars and cents basis per 100 pounds, net weight, sacks free, and are so worked out that you can find a base price on the particular kind and quality of processed seed or processed seed mixture on which you are determining a maximum price. Base prices are not maximum prices and are to be used only as indicated in other provisions of the regulation. This section refers you to tables in the appendix where the base prices, discounts, and premiums are set forth in dollars and cents.

The base prices in dollars per 100 pounds, net weight, sacks free, on Alfalfa, Red Clover, Alsike Clover, Sweet Clover and Timothy seeds are those set forth in the appendix which also shows discounts for weed seed content, noxious weed seed content, and sweet clover seed content; premiums for extra high quality seed; and base prices for processed seed mixtures. All the applicable discounts must be taken, and the premiums may be taken with respect to each lot in which they appear.

You shall first determine the appropriate figure for the particular lot in question according to its pure seed percentage and its percentage of total germination and hard seed. Then you determine the weed seed content, noxious weed seed content and sweet clover seed content, and subtract the appropriate amounts to be deducted for these factors from the amount obtained in the previous sentence. If you have extra high quality seed you may add the applicable premiums. The amount which you obtain as a result of these calculations will be your pure seed base price. "Pure seed" means with respect to any kind of seed being considered, seed of that kind which meets the qualifications of purity and germination as set forth in the tables in the appendix.

Whenever processed legume and grass seeds or processed seed mixtures are sold in bulk or buyer's sacks, the maximum prices set forth in this section shall be decreased by the reasonable market value of the sacks used (not exceeding any maximum price established thereon).

(c) Premiums. The prices in the foregoing tables may be increased per 100 pounds of seed as follows:

(1) $1.00 for premium grade, meeting all the following specifications:

More than 99.25% pure seed.

More than 90.00% germination and hard seed.

Less than 0.25% weed seed content.

Less than 9 noxious weed seeds per pound.

Less than 0.25% sweet clover seed content.

(2) (i) $7.00 for the following State Certified Improved Varieties: Baltic, Cossack, Grimm, Hardigan, Hardistan, Ladak, and Orestan.

(ii) You may add this premium to the base price of the alfalfa seed in the region in which your seed was produced, and you may add this premium to the base price for Northern Alfalfa Seed, when:

(a) You are selling the State Certified Improved variety of Baltic produced in the State of Colorado; or

(b) You are selling alfalfa seed produced in regions other than the Northern region from northern grown State Certified Alfalfa Seed of one of the above-named improved varieties and such seed is labelled "Northern adapted first generation increase" by the State Certifying Agency.

(3) $3.00 for the following State Certified Improved Varieties of:

(i) Central Alfalfa Seed: Kansas Common and Utah Pioneer;

(ii) Southern Alfalfa Seed: Hairy Peruvian, Arizona Chilean, Cimarron, New Mexico Common and Texas Southwestern Common.

(1) $1.00 for premium grade meeting all the following specifications:

(i) For Red Clover Seed:
More than 99.25% pure seed.
More than 90.00% Germination and hard seed.
Less than 0.25% weed seed content.
Less than 9 noxious weed seeds per pound.
Less than 0.25% sweet clover seed content.

(ii) For Alsike Clover Seed:
More than 98.50% pure seed.
More than 90.00% germination and hard seed.
Less than 0.25% weed seed content.
Less than 9 noxious weed seeds per pound.

(iii) For Sweet Clover Seed:
More than 99.25% pure seed.
More than 90.00% germination and hard seed.
Less than 0.25% weed seed content.
Less than 9 noxious weed seeds per pound.

(2) $6.00 for the following State Certified Improved Varieties of:

(i) Red Clover Seed: Cumberland and Midland.

(ii) Sweet Clover Seed: Evergreen, Madrid, Spanish and Willamette.

(3) $5.00 for the Hubam Variety of Sweet Clover Seed.

(4) $3.00 for the Common Biennial White State Certified Improved Variety of Sweet Clover Seed.

(h) Processed seed mixtures. (1) Processed seed mixture composed of alsike clover and white Dutch clover seeds: The base price per 100 pounds for the sale of a processed seed mixture composed of alsike clover and white Dutch clover seeds shall be the base price per 100 pounds of alsike clover seed, figuring the purity according to the combined purities of the two kinds of seeds and the germination and hard seed according to the weighted average of the percentages of germination and hard seed in said two kinds of seeds, plus an addition at the rate of 35 cents per pound for each one pound or fraction thereof over 5 pounds of processed white Dutch clover seed per 100 pounds of the lot. This base price shall be reduced per 100 pounds of seed as follows:

(i) For weed seed content, by the same discount provided for alsike clover seed under paragraph (f) (1) of this section;

(ii) For noxious weed seed content, by the same discount provided for alsike clover seed under paragraph (f) (2) of this section.

(2) This paragraph establishes base prices for two classes of mixtures:—processed seed mixtures in which all of the seeds are subject to the regulation and processed seed mixtures composed of two or more seeds subject to the regulation and one or more seeds not subject to the regulation.

The base prices for such mixtures shall be determined by multiplying the percentage of each processed seed subject to the regulation in 100 pounds of the mixture by its base price per 100 pounds as shown in paragraphs (a) (d) and (e), whichever is applicable, of this section, taking the highest possible purity and the particular percentage of germination and hard seed for each kind of seed subject to the regulation in the mixture, and adding the results. This base price shall be reduced per 100 pounds of seed as follows:

(i) For weed seed content:

Weed seed content:	Amount to be deducted per 100 pounds of seed
Less than 0.50 percent	None
0.50–1.00 percent	$0.50
1.01–1.50 percent	1.00
1.51–2.00 percent	1.50
Above 2.00 percent	[1] 1.50

PART 11—STANDARD CONTRACT PROCEDURE

ESCALATION PROVISION IN PROCUREMENT OF COAL

The regulations in this part are hereby amended by the addition of the following subpart:

§ 11.200 Coal; escalation provision. Only the following escalation provision may be used by all departments and establishments in the Executive Branch of the Government in contracts for the procurement of coal where it is deemed necessary to provide for escalation by reason of changes in applicable maximum price ceilings established by the Office of Price Administration or other authorized Federal agency:

The contractor represents and warrants that the prices shown herein are not in excess of the maximum prices established by the Office of Price Administration, or other authorized Government agency, and in effect upon the date hereof for the supplies to be furnished hereunder. In the event such maximum price applicable to any item is increased, or decreased, the price payable for any subsequent delivery of such item, made in accordance with the provisions of the contract, shall be increased or decreased by the same number of cents, or fractions thereof, per unit, that such maximum price may be increased, or decreased, up to and including the date of delivery.

(Sec. 1 E.O. 6166, June 10, 1933, as Subdivision D, Regulations Governing the Operation of the Branch of Supply, Procurement Division, Treasury Department, approved by the President April 12, 1935 (41 CFR 1.2, 11.1, 11.3))

§ 201.2 Statutory exemptions. • • •

(a) Where the contracting officer is authorized by the express language of a statute to purchase "in the open market", or where a purchase of articles, supplies, materials or equipment, either in being or virtually so, is made without advertising for bids under circumstances bringing such purchase within the exception to the General Purchase Statute, R.S. 3709, that is, where immediate delivery is required by the public exigency.

Dated: July 5, 1944.

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Chapter I—General Land Office

[Circular 1560]

PART 250—PUBLIC SALES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Sections 250.7, 250.17 and 250.20 are amended to read as follows:

§ 250.7 Effect of application. The filing of an application under section 2455 of the Revised Statutes as amended (43 U.S.C. 1171) in conformity with the regulations in this part will segregate the lands applied for from other disposition under the public land laws, subject to any prior valid right which has attached under any pending entry or location. However, until the issuance of a [illegible] the Commissioner may at any time determine that the lands should not be sold, the applicant or any bidder

Applicants for such preference right must be supported by proof of the applicant's ownership of the whole title of the contiguous lands; that is, he must show by affidavit that he has the title in fee. If a preference right is asserted or if conflicting preference rights are asserted, and there is an amicable agreement between the parties, and all other necessary evidence and money has been tendered by the respective parties, the register will make the award; at the same time returning the amount on deposit to the credit of the highest bidder with notice that the land has been sold to the preference right claimant. In no event can the land be sold until the end of the 30 days preference right period.

If, at the end of the 30 days preference right period, no assertion of preference right is made, the sale will be declared closed and the highest bidder may be declared the purchaser.

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

Approved: July 1, 1944.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 50—CLASSIFICATION OF WIRE TELEGRAPH EMPLOYEES[1]

[illegible] tive immediately, adopted the following

DEFINITIONS

§ 52.1 Employees. (a) For the purpose of statistical count and classification the word employees, as used in this part, is intended to include all persons in the service of the reporting company subject to its continuing authority to supervise and direct the manner of rendition of their service.

(b) All persons employed by the company as agents and paid exclusively on a commission basis should not be reported as employees of the company.

(c) Temporary, occasional, extra and similar employees should be included in the count of employees.

(d) Employees who are on paid vacations during the period for which information is required, should be reported as regular employees.

(e) Employees on leave of absence or furloughs not paid for by the company should not be included in the statistical count and classification.

(f) Employees temporarily on leave on account of disability due to accident or sickness should be included in the statistical count and classification.

(g) Pensioners not required to render service should not be included as employees of the company. Pensioners recalled to service should be counted as regular employees and should be counted and classified in the occupational group in which they are employed.

(h) Employees of the company working in the United States should be classified according to §§ 52.21 to 52.41, inclusive. Employees of the company working outside of the United States are subject only to § 52.42.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 52.11 Method; time at [illegible]

by you, your maximum price shall be the appropriate base price in section 14, plus your transportation cost, and plus the applicable mark-up shown below:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$8.00
Southern (except when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	8.00
Southern (when grown, sold and delivered for planting in the State of Arizona or in the State of California south of the 40th parallel)	6.50
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	6.95
Sweet	5.00
Timothy	3.50

(3) If you are a retailer under subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph and make sales to planters in quantities of more than 5 pounds and less than 60 pounds, the maximum prices established in subparagraphs (1) and (2) may be increased by the reasonable value (not exceeding any maximum price thereon) of the sacks actually used, plus the applicable mark-up per pound shown below:

(i) In the States of Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia and in the District of Columbia:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per pound
Alfalfa:
Northern, Central and Southern	$0.03
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	.03
Sweet	.02
Timothy	.02

(ii) In any state not mentioned in subdivision (i):

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per pound
Any legume and grass seeds	$0.01½

(e) Maximum prices for any person other than a producer, commercial processor, wholesaler or retailer. If you are any person other than a producer, commercial processor, wholesaler or retailer your maximum price for the sale or delivery of any lot of quality cleaned or processed legume and grass seeds shall be the appropriate base price plus your transportation cost and plus the applicable mark-up shown below:

Kind of seed:	Maximum mark-up per 100 pounds
Alfalfa:
Northern and Central	$3.50
Southern	3.00
Clover:
Medium Red, Mammoth Red and Alsike	3.10
Sweet	2.00
Timothy	1.30

(f) If you belong to one of the classes of sellers provided for in this section, your maximum mark-up for the sale or delivery of a processed seed mixture of seeds provided for in section 14 shall be the weighted average of your maximum mark-ups for the respective seeds in the mixture which are subject to this regulation.

SEC. 13. Base prices applicable to quality cleaned and processed legume and grass seeds. You have found in the maximum pricing provisions that base prices are provided in this section. These base prices are on a dollars and cents basis per 100 pounds, net weight, sacks free, and are so worked out that you can find a base price on the particular kind and quality of processed seed or processed seed mixture on which you are determining a maximum price. Base prices are not maximum prices and are to be used only as indicated in other provisions of the regulation. This section refers you to tables in the appendix where the base prices, discounts, and premiums are set forth in dollars and cents.

The base prices in dollars per 100 pounds, net weight, sacks free, on Alfalfa, Red Clover, Alsike Clover, Sweet Clover and Timothy seeds are those set forth in the appendix which also shows discounts for weed seed content, noxious weed seed content, and sweet clover seed content; premiums for extra high quality seed; and base prices for processed seed mixtures. All the applicable discounts must be taken, and the premiums may be taken with respect to each lot in which they appear.

You shall first determine the appropriate figure for the particular lot in question according to its pure seed percentage and its percentage of total germination and hard seed. Then you determine the weed seed content, noxious weed seed content and sweet clover seed content, and subtract the appropriate amounts to be deducted for these factors from the amount obtained in the previous sentence. If you have extra high quality seed you may add the applicable premiums. The amount which you obtain as a result of these calculations will be your pure seed base price. "Pure seed" means with respect to any kind of seed being considered, seed of that kind which meets the qualifications of purity and germination as set forth in the tables in the appendix.

Whenever processed legume and grass seeds or processed seed mixtures are sold in bulk or buyer's sacks, the maximum prices set forth in this section shall be decreased by the reasonable market value of the sacks used (not exceeding any maximum price established thereon).

More than 99.25% pure seed.

More than 90.00% germination and hard seed.

Less than 0.25% weed seed content.

Less than 9 noxious weed seeds per pound.

Less than 0.25% sweet clover seed content.

(2) (i) $7.00 for the following State Certified Improved Varieties: Baltic, Cossack, Grimm, Hardigan, Hardistan, Ladak, and Orestan.

(ii) You may add this premium to the base price of the alfalfa seed in the region in which your seed was produced, and you may add this premium to the base price for Northern Alfalfa Seed, when:

(a) You are selling the State Certified Improved variety of Baltic produced in the State of Colorado; or

(b) You are selling alfalfa seed produced in regions other than the Northern region from northern grown State Certified Alfalfa Seed of one of the above-named improved varieties and such seed is labelled "Northern adapted first generation increase" by the State Certifying Agency.

(3) $3.00 for the following State Certified Improved Varieties of:

(i) Central Alfalfa Seed: Kansas Common and Utah Pioneer;

(ii) Southern Alfalfa Seed: Hairy Peruvian, Arizona Chilean, Cimarron, New Mexico Common and Texas Southwestern Common.

(g) Premiums. The prices in the tables in paragraphs (d) and (e) may be increased per 100 pounds of seed as follows:

(1) $1.00 for premium grade meeting all the following specifications:

(i) For Red Clover Seed:
More than 99.25% pure seed.
More than 90.00% Germination and hard seed.
Less than 0.25% weed seed content.
Less than 9 noxious weed seeds per pound.
Less than 0.25% sweet clover seed content.

(ii) For Alsike Clover Seed:
More than 98.50% pure seed.
More than 90.00% germination and hard seed.
Less than 0.25% weed seed content.
Less than 9 noxious weed seeds per pound.

(iii) For Sweet Clover Seed:
More than 99.25% pure seed.
More than 90.00% germination and hard seed.
Less than 0.25% weed seed content.
Less than 9 noxious weed seeds per pound.

(2) $6.00 for the following State Certified Improved Varieties of:

(i) Red Clover Seed: Cumberland and Midland.

(ii) Sweet Clover Seed: Evergreen, Madrid, Spanish and Willamette.

(3) $5.00 for the Hubam Variety of Sweet Clover Seed.

(4) $3.00 for the Common Biennial White State Certified Improved Variety of Sweet Clover Seed.

(h) Processed seed mixtures. (1) Processed seed mixture composed of alsike clover and white Dutch clover seeds. The base price per 100 pounds for the sale of a processed seed mixture composed of alsike clover and white Dutch clover seeds shall be the base price per 100 pounds of alsike clover seed, figuring the purity according to the combined purities of the two kinds of seeds and the germination and hard seed according to the weighted average of the percentages of germination and hard seed in said two kinds of seeds, plus an addition at the rate of 35 cents per pound for each one pound or fraction thereof over 5 pounds of processed white Dutch clover seed per 100 pounds of the lot. This base price shall be reduced per 100 pounds of seed as follows:

(i) For weed seed content, by the same discount provided for alsike clover seed under paragraph (f) (1) of this section;

(ii) For noxious weed seed content, by the same discount provided for alsike clover seed under paragraph (f) (2) of this section.

(2) This paragraph establishes base prices for two classes of mixtures:—processed seed mixtures in which all of the seeds are subject to the regulation and processed seed mixtures composed of two or more seeds subject to the regulation and one or more seeds not subject to the regulation.

The base prices for such mixtures shall be determined by multiplying the percentage of each processed seed subject to the regulation in 100 pounds of the mixture by its base price per 100 pounds as shown in paragraphs (a) (d) and (e), whichever is applicable, of this section, taking the highest possible purity and the particular percentage of germination and hard seed for each kind of seed subject to the regulation in the mixture, and adding the results. This base price shall be reduced per 100 pounds of seed as follows:

(i) For weed seed content:

Weed seed content:	Amount to be deducted per 100 pounds of seed
Less than 0.50 percent	None
0.50–1.00 percent	$0.50
1.01–1.50 percent	1.00
1.51–2.00 percent	1.50
Above 2.00 percent	[1] .50

[1] For each additional one-half of one percent or fraction thereof above 2%.

(ii) For noxious weed seed content:

Number of noxious weed seed per pound of seed:	Amount to be deducted per 100 pounds of seed
Less than 9 per pound	None
9–36 per pound	$0.50
37–63 per pound	1.00
64–100 per pound	1.50
101–150 per pound	2.00
Above 150 per pound	2.50

(3) Processed seed mixtures composed of one processed seed subject to the regulation and processed seeds not subject to the regulation, when the former is in excess of 75% of the whole.

The base price for the sale of any processed seed mixture, in which one of the seeds subject to the regulation is mixed with seeds not subject to the regulation, and the former is present in excess of 75% of the whole, shall be determined by multiplying the percentage of the principal component in 100 pounds of the mixture by its base price per 100 pounds, figured on the basis of its highest possible purity and its actual percentage of germination and hard seeds in the mixture, and the result shall be the base price for such mixture. This base price shall be reduced per 100 pounds of seed as follows:

(i) For weed seed content, by the same discounts for weed seeds that are provided for the principal component under paragraphs (b) (1) and (f) (1) of this section;

(ii) For noxious weed seed content, by the same discounts for noxious weed seeds that are provided for the principal component under paragraphs (b) (2) and (f) (2) of this section;

(iii) For sweet clover seed content, by the same discounts that are provided for the principal component under paragraphs (b) (3) and (f) (3) of this section.

This regulation shall become effective July 26, 1944.

Issued this 21st day of July 1944.

IVAN D. CARSON,
Acting Administrator.

Approved: July 11, 1944.

GROVER B. HILL,
Acting War Food Administrator.

TITLE 33—NAVIGATION AND NAVIGABLE WATERS

Chapter II—Corps of Engineers, War Department

PART 204—DANGER ZONE REGULATIONS

SHEEPSCOT RIVER, MAINE, AREA

Pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917 (40 Stat. 266; 33 U.S.C. 1), the following regulations are hereby prescribed to govern the use and navigation of waters of Sheepscot Bay, at the mouth of Sheepscot River, Maine, comprising an air to ground gunnery of the Naval Air Station, Brunswick, Maine:

§ 204.3 Waters of Sheepscot Bay, at mouth of Sheepscot River, Maine; Air to Ground Gunnery Range, Naval Air Station, Brunswick, Maine—(a) The danger zone. An area in Sheepscot Bay, at the mouth of Sheepscot River, Maine, bounded as follows: Beginning at the center of the mouth of Little River, approximately lat. 43°46'14" N., long. 69°44'30" W.; thence southeasterly, about 2.9 miles, to Tom Rock, approximately lat. 43°43'56" N., long. 69°43'00" W.; thence northeasterly, about 3.1 miles, to a spar buoy, painted in black and white horizontal bands, approximately lat. 43°45'25" N., long. 69°40'00" W.; thence northwesterly about 2.8 miles, to Griffith Head Ledge, approximately lat. 43°47'00" N., long. 69°42'31" W.; thence southwesterly, about 0.6 mile, to Griffith Head, approximately lat. 43°46'56" N., long. 69°43'18" W.; thence southwesterly along the southeasterly shore line of Georgetown Island to the point of beginning.

(b) The regulations. (1) Navigation in the danger zone is prohibited at all times.

(2) These regulations shall be enforced by the Commandant, First Naval District, and such agencies as he may designate.

(Sec. 7, River and Harbor Act, Aug. 8, 1917; 40 Stat. 266; 33 U. S. C. 1) [Regs. 15 July 1944 (CE 800.2121 (Sheepscot Bay, Maine)—SPEWR)]

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

Chapter I—Procurement Division, Department of the Treasury

PART 11—STANDARD CONTRACT PROCEDURE

The regulations in this part are hereby amended by the addition of the following subpart:

§ 11.200 Coal; escalation provision. Only the following escalation provision may be used by all departments and establishments in the Executive Branch of the Government in contracts for the procurement of coal where it is deemed necessary to provide for escalation by reason of changes in applicable maximum price ceilings established by the Office of Price Administration or other authorized Federal agency:

The contractor represents and warrants that the prices shown herein are not in excess of the maximum prices established by the Office of Price Administration, or other authorized Government agency, and in effect upon the date hereof for the supplies to be furnished hereunder. In the event such maximum price applicable to any item is increased, or decreased, the price payable for any subsequent delivery of such item, made in accordance with the provisions of the contract, shall be increased, or decreased, by the same number of cents, or fractions thereof, per unit, that such maximum price may be increased, or decreased, up to and including the date of delivery.

(Sec. 1 E.O. 6166, June 10, 1933, subdivision D, Regulations Governing the Operation of the Branch of Supply, Procurement Division, Treasury Department, approved by the President April 12, 1935 (41 CFR 1.2, 11.1, 11.3))

[SEAL] CLIFTON E. MACK,
Director of Procurement.

Approved: July 17, 1944.

Chapter II—Division of Public Contracts

PART 201—PROCEDURE FOR THE STIPULATION OF CONDITIONS IN GOVERNMENT PURCHASE CONTRACTS

STATUTORY EXEMPTIONS

Amendment to regulations for administration of the Act of June 30, 1936, Public No. 846, 74th Congress.

By virtue of the authority vested in me by Section 4 of the Act approved June 30, 1936, 49 Stat. 2036, 41 U.S.C., secs. 35–45, and in order to clarify the meaning of paragraph (a), Article 2, of Regulations, No. 504 (41 CFR 201.2), prescribed by me under Public Act No. 846, 74th Congress (Series A), I hereby amend the paragraph to read as follows:

§ 201.2 Statutory exemptions. • • •

(a) Where the contracting officer is authorized by the express language of a statute to purchase "in the open market", or where a purchase of articles, supplies, materials or equipment, either in being or virtually so, is made without advertising for bids under circumstances bringing such purchase within the exception to the General Purchase Statute, R.S. 3709, that is, where immediate delivery is required by the public exigency.

Dated: July 5, 1944.

FRANCES PERKINS,
Secretary of Labor.

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Chapter I—General Land Office

[Circular 1580]

PART 250—PUBLIC SALES

Sections 250.7, 250.17 and 250.20 are amended to read as follows:

§ 250.7 Effect of application. The filing of an application under section 2455 of the Revised Statutes as amended (43 U.S.C. 1171) in conformity with the regulations in this part will segregate the lands applied for from other disposition under the public land laws, subject to any prior valid right which has attached under any pending entry or location. However, until the issuance of a certificate of sale, the Secretary may at any time determine that the lands should not be sold, the applicant or any bidder has no contractual or other rights as against the United States, and no action taken prior to the issuance of the certificate will create any contractual or other obligation of the United States.

§ 250.17 Preference right of owner of contiguous lands; failure to exercise right. Where lands have been authorized to be sold under the body of section 2455 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (43 U.S.C. 1171), and the highest bidder has been named, if the amount of his bid is paid immediately to the register, he will then declare the bidding closed subject to the preference right of purchase by owners of contiguous land. The amount tendered will be held in the unearned account of the register, and the register will notify the bidder that if within 30 days from the date of his bid no owner or owners of contiguous lands shall apply to purchase the lands at such highest bid price, but at not more than three times the appraised price if such highest bid be more than three times such appraised price, he may be declared the purchaser.

If, at the end of the 30 days preference right period, no assertion of preference right is made, the sale will be declared closed and the highest bidder may be declared the purchaser.

FRED W. JOHNSON,
Commissioner.

Approved: July 1, 1944.

Assistant Secretary.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 52—CLASSIFICATION OF WIRE-TELEGRAPH EMPLOYEES [1]

The Commission on July 11, 1944, effective immediately, adopted the following new Part 52:

DEFINITIONS

Sec.
52.1 Employees.

COUNTING EMPLOYEES

52.11 Method; time at which counted.

INFORMATION REQUIRED

52.21 Scheduled weekly hours.
52.22 Scheduled weekly compensation.
52.23 Hourly rate of pay.

CLASSIFICATION ON BASIS OF CHARACTER OF SERVICE

52.31 Basis of classification.
52.32 Officials and managerial assistants.
52.33 Professional and semi-professional employees.
52.34 Telegraph office superintendents and managers.
52.35 Sales employees.
52.36 Clerical employees.
52.37 Telegraph operators.
52.38 Messengers.
52.39 Construction, installation and maintenance employees.
52.40 Building service employees.
52.41 All other employees, not elsewhere classified.
52.42 Employees outside of the United States.

AUTHORITY: §§ 52.1 to 52.42, inclusive, issued under sec. 4 (i); 48 Stat. 1066; 47 U.S.C. 154 (i); sec. 219 (a), 48 Stat. 1077; 47 U.S.C. 219 (a); sec. 220 (a), 48 Stat. 1078; 47 U.S.C. 220 (a).

[1] Schedule 408B filed as a part of the original document.

DEFINITIONS

§ 52.1 Employees. (a) For the purpose of statistical count and classification the word employees, as used in this part, is intended to include all persons in the service of the reporting company subject to its continuing authority to supervise and direct the manner of rendition of their service.

(b) All persons employed by the company as agents and paid exclusively on a commission basis should not be reported as employees of the company.

(c) Temporary, occasional, extra and similar employees should be included in the count of employees.

(d) Employees who are on paid vacations during the period for which information is required, should be reported as regular employees.

(e) Employees on leave of absence or furloughs not paid for by the company should not be included in the statistical count and classification.

(f) Employees temporarily on leave on account of disability due to accident or sickness should be included in the statistical count and classification.

(g) Pensioners not required to render service should not be included as employees of the company. Pensioners recalled to service should be counted as regular employees and should be counted and classified in the occupational group in which they are employed.

(h) Employees of the company working in the United States should be classified according to §§ 52.21 to 52.41, inclusive. Employees of the company working outside of the United States are subject only to § 52.42.

COUNTING EMPLOYEES

§ 52.11 Method; time at which counted. Wire-telegraph companies are required to classify and count their employees, male and female separately, at two different times each year; viz., as of the end of each of the months of June and October. The last day of the month shall be considered the end of the month, except when it falls on a Sunday or a holiday, in which case the count shall be made as of the last preceding business day. Every person sustaining to the telegraph company the relation of employee, as defined in § 52.1 shall be included in the count.

INFORMATION REQUIRED

§ 52.21 Scheduled weekly hours. (a) The total number of weekly hours scheduled for employees at the end of October in each classification set forth in §§ 52.32 to 52.41, inclusive, shall be reported.

(b) Scheduled weekly hours are defined as an employee's regular daily tour of duty multiplied by the number of days, or fraction of days, scheduled to be worked during a week.

(c) For each occupational classification the total number of weekly hours scheduled shall include the hours of work of part-time and full-time employees.

(d) Full-time employees are those regularly assigned full time. Part-time employees are those regularly assigned shorter hours than a full-time schedule.

(e) Scheduled hours should include paid vacation and holiday hours.

(f) The hours of work of employees temporarily on leave on account of disability due to accident or sickness should be reported as the regularly scheduled hours of these employees.

§ 52.22 Scheduled weekly compensation. (a) The total amount of weekly compensation scheduled for employees at the end of October in each classification set forth in §§ 52.32 to 52.41, inclusive, shall be reported.

(b) Scheduled weekly compensation is defined as the wages scheduled to be paid for scheduled weekly hours as defined above in § 52.21 (b). This should include employee contributions for old age benefits, unemployment insurance and similar deductions, paid vacation and holiday hours, the regularly scheduled weekly compensation of employees temporarily on leave due to disability or sickness, and the scheduled weekly compensation of both full- and part-time employees.

(c) Payments scheduled to pensioners should not be included.

§ 52.23 Hourly rate of pay. (a) Persons in the employ of the company at the end of October in occupational groups outlined below in §§ 52.33 to 52.41 inclusive, shall be classified according to their hourly rate of pay.

(b) The hourly rate of pay is defined as the scheduled weekly compensation, as described in § 52.22, divided by the scheduled weekly hours, as defined in § 52.21.

CLASSIFICATION ON BASIS OF CHARACTER OF SERVICE

§ 52.31 Basis of classification. Employees working for the company in the United States shall be classified with respect to character of service rendered in accordance with definitions of classes given below. Where an employee's duties are such as to make him includible in two or more classes he shall be counted under that classification most representative of his work on in which he regularly spends the greater part of his time.

§ 52.32 Officials and managerial assistants. Include in this group employees in occupations that are primarily concerned with responsible policy-making, planning, supervising, coordinating or guiding the work activity of others, usually through intermediate supervisors or foremen. Employees reported in this group should be subdivided and reported separately as indicated in (a) and (b) below.

NOTE: Employees in occupations that embrace supervisory functions of the character of foremen, but that involve limited aspects of policy-making and management, should not be reported in § 52.32 but should be included in §§ 52.36, 52.37 or 52.39, whichever is applicable. Telegraph office superintendents and managers should be included in § 52.34.

(a) General and assistant general officers. Include under this head employees engaged in the general supervision of the affairs of the company as a whole or of a general department of the company such as president, vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, comptroller, general solicitor, chief engineer, assistants to the president, assistant secretaries, etc.

(b) Other officials and assistants. Include under this head all other officials and assistants engaged in and responsible for the administration of a division, city, or other operating subdivision of the company.

§ 52.33 Professional and semi-professional employees. Include in this group employees in such occupations that require for the proper performance of the work either extensive and comprehensive academic study or experience of such extent and character as to provide an equivalent background, or a combination of such education and experience. Some of the occupations within this group may require similar backgrounds with respect to education, training and experience as professional occupations but call for a lower level of initiative or judgment. Employees in such semi-professional occupations deal with less complicated work situations than those in fields which are considered professional. This group should also include employees who provide staff assistance which is based on their extensive training and experience in specialized types of work involved in the telegraph industry. Employees reported in this group should be subdivided and reported separately as indicated in (a) and (b) below.

(a) Engineers and engineering assistants. Include under this head employees not reported in § 52,32 such as automatic, central office, transmission, electronics, plant, design and civil engineers and engineering assistants and surveyors and draftsmen.

(b) Other professional and semi-professional employees. Include under this head all other professional and semi-professional employees such as statisticians, accountants, auditors, attorneys, laboratory technicians, nurses, physicians, dietitians and telegraph staff specialists.

§ 52.34 Telegraph office superintendents and managers. Include in this group all managers of offices where messages are filed by the public. In offices where only one employee is engaged and works both as an operator and office manager, the employee should be reported in this group and should not be included in § 52.37.

§ 52.35 Sales employees. Include in this group employees concerned with the sale of commodities, investments, real estate and services, and employees in occupations that are closely identified with sales transactions such as canvassers, solicitors, collectors, commercial representatives and contract agents working for the company on a salary basis.

NOTE: Clerical employees who assist in the work of sales employees should not be reported in this group but should be classified in § 52.36.

§ 52.36 Clerical employees. Include in this group all employees and supervisors of employees who primarily prepare, transcribe, transfer, systematize or preserve written communications and records. These employees include clerks engaged in the handling of public messages as well as clerks employed in the administrative work of the company. Most of these occupations may be performed by manual processes but some may include in part or in whole the operation of such machines as bookkeeping machines, typewriters, and calculating machines. Employees included in this group should be subdivided and reported separately as indicated in (a), (b) and (c) below.

(a) Supervisors of clerical employees. Include under this head all supervisors of clerical employees.

(b) Route aides. Include under this head all employees exclusive of supervisors engaged as route aides.

(c) Clerical employees. Include under this head all clerical employees, exclusive of supervisors and route aides. Employees classified under (c) should be subdivided according to the location of their employment, in the Commercial Department, Traffic Department, or all other departments of the company. Clerical employees include such employees as secretaries, stenographers, typists, bookkeepers, bookkeeping machine operators, cashiers, paymasters, timekeepers, checkers, office messengers, file clerks, accounting and auditing clerks, time clerks, etc.

§ 52.37 Telegraph operators. Include in this group all employees and supervisors of employees who operate telegraphic and telephone equipment including radiotelegraph and radiotelephone operators. Employees included in this group should be subdivided and reported separately as indicated in (a), (b), (c), (d) and (e) below.

(a) Traffic managers, chief operators, supervisors and instructors. Include under this head all traffic managers, chief operators, supervisors of operators and instructors. Instructors engaged in teaching employees on the job as well as those employed in schools operated by the company, should be reported under this head.

(b) Experienced telegraph operators (excluding Morse operators). Include under this head telegraph operators who have completed school and on-the-job training and who are engaged as automatic or multiplex operators, teleprinter operators, teletype operators and operators of other types of telegraphic equipment. Experienced telegraph operators classified under (b) should be subdivided and reported according to their location in the Commercial or Traffic Departments of the company. Morse operators should not be included under this head but should be reported under paragraph (e). Switching clerks should be classified separately under paragraph (c).

(c) Switching clerks. Include under this head all employees who operate reperforating-switching equipment.

(d) Operators in training. Include under this head all employees who are receiving operator training either on the job or in company schools and who will be or are now regularly employed by the company.

NOTE: Apprentices in other occupations should be classified in the occupation for which they are being trained. For example, apprentice clerks should be reported in § 52.36.

(e) All other operators. Report separately under this head all Morse operators, telephone operators and all other operators. Morse operators include Morse and Morse-automatic operators. Telephone operators are defined as operators who receive and transmit telegraph messages by means of the telephone. All other operators are defined as all telegraph and telephone operators not elsewhere classified, such as radiotelegraph and radiotelephone operators.

§ 52.38 Messengers. Include in this group all employees who deliver messages to and receive messages from customers, or who perform other messenger services. Employees reported in this group should be subdivided and reported separately as indicated in (a) and (b) below.

(a) Foot and bicycle messengers. Include under this head all messengers who either walk or use bicycles in the performance of their work.

(b) Motor messengers. Include under this head all messengers who either use motorcycles or automobiles in the performance of their work.

§ 52.39 Construction, installation and maintenance employees. Include in this group all employees engaged in the construction, installation, inspection and testing and repair of telegraphic equipment. Employees reported in this group should be subdivided and reported separately as indicated in (a), (b) and (c) below.

(a) Traffic testing and regulating employees. Include under this head all traffic employees engaged in the maintenance and repair or equipment such as wire chiefs and assistants, repeater chiefs and assistants, and automatic chiefs and assistants.

(b) Contruction, installation and maintenance employees. Include under this head all employees and supervisors and foremen of employees, not counted in (a) above, who construct, install and maintain telegraphic equipment on customers' premises and on the premises of the company. Employees reported under (b) should be further subdivided as indicated below under (1), (2), (3), and (4).

NOTE: Unskilled laborers should not be included under (b) which is limited to employees doing skilled or semi-skilled work. Laborers should be counted separately under (c).

(1) Foremen. Include under this head all foremen and supervisors, not reported in (a) above, who immediately direct the work of construction, installation and maintenance employees. This group should also include foremen of linemen and cablemen.

(2) Subscribers' equipment maintainers. Include under this head all employees who maintain and repair equipment on customers' premises. Do not include in this subsection traffic testing and regulating employees who should be classified in (a) above.

(3) Linemen and cablemen. Include under this head such employees as city, section and gang linemen, cable splicers and conduit men.

(4) Other installation and maintenance employees. Include under this head all construction, installation and maintenance employees not counted in (1), (2) and (3) above. Employees receiving training as apprentices in construction, installation and maintenance work should be reported in this group. Employees classified in this subsection should be engaged in skilled or semi-skilled work such as ticker, telegraph-repeater and plant installers, shopmen, toolmen, inspectors, powermen and electrical repairmen.

(c) Laborers. Include in this group all unskilled laborers engaged in construction, installation and maintenance work whose activity is predominantly of an unskilled nature.

§ 52.40 Building service employees. Include in this group all employees who maintain and care for buildings, offices and warehouses as well as those who render personal services. Employees reported in this group should be subdivided and reported separately as indicated in (a) and (b) below.

(a) Mechanics. Include under this head all skilled employees engaged in the maintenance of buildings, offices and warehouses such as stationary engineers, carpenters, painters, firemen, building electricians, plumbers and garage mechanics.

(b) Other building service employees. Include under this head all building, office and warehouse service employees exclusive of mechanics, such as janitors, porters, watchmen, elevator operators, window washers, cafeteria and restaurant employees and matrons.

§ 52.41 All other employees, not elsewhere classified. Include in this group all employees not reported under §§ 52.32 to 52.40 inclusive.

§ 52.42 Employees outside of the United States. Include in this group all employees, irrespective of occupation, who are engaged by the company outside of the United States.

By the Commission.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service

Subchapter C—National Wildlife Refuges: Individual Regulations

PART 22—MOUNTAIN REGION NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES

FISHING IN MEDICINE LAKE NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE, MONT.

Under authority of section 10 of the Migratory Bird Conservation Act of February 18, 1929 (45 Stat. 1222; 16 U.S.C. 715i), as amended, and in extension of § 12.3 of the Regulations for the Administration of National Wildlife Refuges under the Jurisdiction of the Fish and Wildlife Service, dated December 19, 1940, as amended, the following is hereby ordered:

§ 22.631 Medicine Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Montana; fishing. Fishing is permitted in the waters hereinafter specified of the Medicine Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Montana, when and as permitted by the laws and regulations of the State of Montana, in accordance with the provisions of the Regulations for the Administration of National Wildlife Refuges under the Jurisdiction of the Fish and Wildlife Service, dated December 19, 1940,[1] as amended, and subject to the following conditions, restrictions, and requirements:

(a) Waters open to fishing. The waters of the refuge in sections 5 and 6, SW¼ section 4, and NW¼ section 9, all west of Young Island and south of Bryces Island and the unnamed islands west thereof T. 31 N., R. 56 E., as indicated by suitable posting, Montana Principal Meridian, shall be open to fishing.

(b) State fishing laws. Any person who fishes within the refuge must comply with the applicable fishing laws and regulations of the State of Montana.

(c) Fishing licenses and permits. Any person who fishes within the refuge shall be in possession of a valid fishing license issued by the Montana State Fish and Game Commission, if such license is required. This license shall serve as a Federal permit for fishing in the specified waters of the refuge and must be carried on the person of the licensee while so fishing. The license must be exhibited upon the request of any representative of the Montana State Fish and Game Commission or of the Fish and Wildlife Service.

(d) Routes of travel. Entrance to the fishing area shall be made only from or through the recreational area adjacent to State Highway No. 16 in section 6. Travel over the truck trail south of the waters open to fishing will be permitted as designated by suitable posting by the officer in charge of the refuge.

(e) Use of boats. The use of boats will be permitted on the waters of the refuge, open to fishing as designated by the officer in charge.

(f) Temporary restrictions. During periods of waterfowl concentrations on the refuge, fishing will not be permitted in such areas of the refuge as, in the judgment of the officer in charge, should be closed to fishing in order to provide adequate protection for such waterfowl concentrations and are suitably posted by such officer.

The order of the Secretary of Agriculture dated August 19, 1936, is hereby revoked.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN, Assistant Secretary.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 6636]

COMMERCIAL CABLE CO., ET AL.

ORDER INSTITUTING INVESTIGATION

In the matter of limitation of liability of The Commercial Cable Company, Commercial Pacific Cable Company, Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc. For mistakes or delays in transmission or delivery of messages.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission, held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 18th day of July 1944;

It appearing that The Commercial Cable Company, Commercial Pacific Cable Company and Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., respectively, have on file with the Commission tariff schedules purporting to limit the liability of each such carrier, for mistakes or delays in the transmission or delivery, or for non-delivery or mis-delivery of, any messages received for transmission, in a sum not to exceed $5000 and providing that such carriers will not accept any message valued at more than $5000; said tariff schedules being designated as follows:

It further appearing that the provisions of the above-mentioned tariffs may be unjust or unreasonable, unjustly or unreasonably discriminatory, or may subject particular persons to undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantages or may otherwise be unlawful;

It is ordered, That an investigation be and it is hereby instituted by the Commission, upon its own motion without formal pleading, concerning the lawfulness of the above-mentioned provisions of the tariff schedules of The Commercial Cable Company, Commercial Pacific Cable Company, and Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc.;

It is further ordered, That The Commercial Cable Company, Commercial Pacific Cable Company and Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., be, and they are hereby, each made a party respondent to this proceeding:

It is further ordered, That each respondent shall appear and show cause, under oath, why the Commission should not find the provisions in their tariff schedules hereinabove referred to, unjust and unreasonable, unjustly or unreasonably discriminatory, or unduly or unreasonably preferential, advantageous, prejudicial, or disadvantageous, or otherwise violative of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

It is further ordered, That this proceeding be, and the same is hereby, assigned for hearing beginning at 10 a. m. on the 7th day of September 1944, at the offices of the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C.

[Docket Nos. G-428 and G-497]

NORTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

ORDER DISMISSING APPLICATIONS FOR CONTINUANCE

JULY 18, 1944.

Upon consideration of the applications filed July 15, 1944, and July 17, 1944, respectively, by the St. Paul Industrial Union Council, C. I. O., and the General Drivers, Helpers, and Truck Terminal Employees Union, Local 120, A. F. of L., for a continuance of the hearing in the above-entitled matters for a period of 90 days beyond July 26, 1944, the date now fixed; and

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) The application in Docket No. G-428 was filed on November 16, 1942, and notice thereof was given, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on December 29, 1942, at Volume 7, page 11032;

(b) The application in Docket No. G-497 was filed on September 4, 1943, and notice thereof was given, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on September 14, 1943, at Volume 8, page 12579;

(c) By order dated June 16, 1944, the Commission consolidated the proceedings on the aforesaid applications for purposes of a hearing to be held in St. Paul, Minnesota, commencing July 26, 1944, and notice of such order was given, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 22, 1944, at Volume 9, page 6918.

The Commission finds that: No good cause has been shown for granting at this time the applications for continuance;

The Commission orders that: The aforesaid applications for a continuance of the hearing in the above-entitled matters be and the same are hereby dismissed without prejudice to the renewal of such applications at the hearing upon the conclusion of the direct case of Northern Natural Gas Company.

[Docket No. G-534]

KANSAS POWER AND LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF AMENDMENT TO APPLICATION

JULY 20, 1944.

On June 27, 1944, a hearing was held in the above-entitled matter in Kansas City, Missouri, concerning the application of The Kansas Power & Light Company for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to authorize the construction and operation of approximately 38,000 feet of 8-inch pipe line extending in a southwesterly direction from the Cities Service Gas Company's Breitenbach No. 1 and English No. 1 gas wells in Edwards County, Kansas, and connecting with the Applicant's existing 8-inch pipe line at a point in the southeast corner of Sec. 3, T. 26 S., 17 W., in Edwards County, Kansas. No protest to the application was received by the Commission.

The evidence adduced at the hearing showed that the proposed line is to be constructed from pipe obtained from two lines abandoned and removed by the applicant without first having obtained authorization from this Commission for such abandonment under section 7 (b) of the Natural Gas Act. On July 11, 1944, the applicant filed an amendment to conform its application to the evidence presented at the hearing with respect to the abandoned lines and requested authority from the Commission for such abandonment.

Applicant abandoned and removed 25,000 feet of 8-inch pipe from its Burton line, which pipe was formerly used in the transportation of sour gas from the Goering Field in Reno County, Kansas, to the Applicant's Hutchinson power plant. This line could no longer be operated economically because of the depletion of the field. No customers were served from the portion of the line removed.

The applicant also abandoned and removed 10,690 feet of 8-inch line extending from the Galva Field to the McPherson Gasoline Plant, located in McPherson County, Kansas. The line removed was one of three parallel lines between those points, and was no longer required in its former location because of the depletion of the Galva Field. Service to no customer was affected by the removal of this line.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with respect to the removal and abandonment of the aforesaid pipe lines should, on or before the 5th day of August, 1944, file with the Federal Power Commission a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

[Region III Order G-49 Under RMPR 122]

Specified Solid Fuels in Cleveland, Ohio, Area

Order No. G-49 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. Solid fuels sold and delivered by dealers. Maximum prices for specified solid fuels in the Cleveland, Ohio, Area.

For the reasons stated in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region III of the Office of Price Administration by § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does. This order establishes maximum prices for sales of specified solid fuels made within the Cleveland, Ohio, area defined to include all of Cuyahoga County, with the exception of the municipalities of Bedford and Berea. These are the highest prices that any dealer may charge when he delivers such fuel at or to a point in such Cleveland, Ohio, area; they are also the highest prices that any buyer in the course of trade or business may pay for them.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any obligation, no person shall:

(1) Sell or, in the course of trade or business, buy solid fuels at prices higher than the maximum prices set by this Order No. G-49; but less than maximum prices may at any time be charged, paid or offered;

(2) Obtain a higher than ceiling price by

(i) Charging a price higher than the scheduled price for a service or making a charge for a service not authorized by this order,

(ii) Using any other device by which a higher than maximum price is obtained, directly or indirectly,

(iii) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the fuel requested by him, except that a dealer may comply with requirements or standards with respect to deliveries which have been or may be issued by an agency of the United States Government.

(c) Schedule for sales of coal—(1) Price schedule. This schedule sets forth maximum prices for sales of specified sizes, kinds and quantities of solid fuels. Column I describes the coal for which prices are established; Column II shows maximum prices for credit sales on a "direct delivery" basis; Column III shows maximum prices for sales on a "direct delivery" basis where payment is made on or before the fifteenth day of the month that follows the date of delivery; Column IV shows maximum prices for credit "commercial sales" on a "direct delivery" basis.

[1] In accordance with Regional Supplementary Order No. 3, $.10 per ton may be added to the prices of these coals if the coal has been subjected to an oil or calcium chloride treatment by the producer to allay dust or prevent freezing and if such charge is separately stated on the dealer's invoice.

(2) Discounts. (i) Discounts on "commercial sales" for payment within a specified period—All prices quoted in Column IV are credit prices and shall be subject to a discount of 2% where payment is made on or before the fifteenth of the month that follows the date of delivery.

(ii) Discounts for "yard sales"—All prices quoted in Column II or Column III shall be subject to a discount of $1.00 per net ton on "yard sales" of one or more tons to a consumer.—All prices quoted in Column II or Column III shall be subject to a discount of $1.85 per net ton on "yard sales" of one or more tons to a dealer purchasing for resale.

(3) Descriptive terms. All terms used herein to describe size, volatility and producing district are those that were established and defined by the Bituminous Coal Division and in effect as of midnight, August 23, 1943.

(d) The maximum prices for all sales by dealers of solid fuel not provided for by this Order No. G-49 shall be the maximum prices established by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122.

(e) Schedule of service charges. This schedule sets forth maximum prices which a dealer may charge for special services rendered in connection with all sales under paragraph (c). These charges may be made only if the buyer requests such service of the dealer and only when the dealer renders the service. Every service charge shall be separately stated in the dealer's invoice.

Trimming in bin	$0.85 per hour.
Carry from curb	$1.00 per ton.
Wheel-in from curb	$0.75 per ton.
Service charge for deliveries in quantities of one-half ton	$0.65
Forking (limited to low volatile lump and egg coals from Districts 7 and 8, and Size Group No. 1, M. F. C. "A", from District 3)	$1.00 per ton.

(f) The transportation tax. The transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 may be collected in addition to the maximum prices set by this order, provided the dealer states it separately from the price on his invoice or statement. However, such tax need not be so separately stated on sales to the United States or any agency thereof, the District of Columbia, any state government or any political subdivision thereof.

(g) Addition of increase in suppliers prices prohibited. The maximum prices set by this order may not be increased by a dealer to reflect increases in purchase costs or in supplier's maximum prices occurring after the effective date hereon; but increases in the maximum prices set hereby to reflect such increases are within the discretion of the Regional Administrator.

(h) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition shall be filed with the Regional Administrator and acted upon by him.

(i) Applicability of other regulations. Every dealer subject to this order is governed by the licensing provisions of Supplementary Order No. 72, effective October 1, 1943.

(j) Right of amendment or revocation. The Regional Administrator or Price Administrator may amend, revoke, or rescind this order, or any provision thereof, at any time.

(k) Records. Every person making a sale of solid fuel for which a maximum price is set by this order shall keep a record thereof showing: the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged and the type and kind of solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in the order. The record shall also separately state each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(l) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips. (1) Each dealer subject to this order shall post all the maximum prices set by it for all his types of sales. He shall post his prices in his place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public. He shall also keep a copy of this order available for examination by any person inquiring as to his prices for solid fuel. No report of the maximum prices established by this order need be made by any dealer under § 1340.262 (c) of Regulation No. 122.

(2) Every dealer selling solid fuel for sales of which a maximum price is set by this order shall, within thirty days after the delivery of the fuel, give to the buyer a statement showing: the date of the sale, the name and address of the dealer and of the buyer, the kind, size and quantity of the solid fuel sold, the price charged and separately stating any item which is required to be separately stated by this order.

(m) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the Cleveland District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

(n) Definitions and explanations. (1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, any other organized group of persons, legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, any agency thereof, any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, and any agency of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Sell" includes sell, supply, dispose, barter, exchange, lease, transfer and deliver and contracts and offers to do any of the foregoing. The terms "sale", "selling", "sold", "seller", "buy", "purchase", and "puchaser" shall be construed accordingly.

(3) "Dealer" means any person selling solid fuel except producers or distributors making sales at or from a mine, a preparation plant operated as an adjunct of any mine, a coke oven, or a briquette plant.

(4) "Direct delivery" means dumping, shoveling or chuting the fuel from the seller's truck directly into the buyer's bin or storage space; but, if this is physically impossible, the term means discharging the fuel directly from the seller's truck at a point where this can be done and at the point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space.

(5) "Yard sales" shall mean sales and deliveries made by the dealer in his customary manner at his yard.

(6) "Commercial sales" shall mean sales and deliveries made by the dealer to commercial or industrial consumers, and sales made by the dealer for delivery to a single location for the heating of four or more units from a central heating plant where the annual requirements amount to 75 or more tons and purchases are made from the same dealer.

(7) "Screened" means passing coal over screen of appropriate size at the dealer's yard.

(8) Except as otherwise provided herein or as the context may otherwise require, the definitions set forth in §§ 1340.255 and 1340.266 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, as amended, shall apply to terms used herein, and in full force and effect.

(o) Applicability of this order. To the extent applicable, the provisions of this order supersede Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122.

NOTE: The reporting and record keeping provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This Order No. G-49 under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 shall become effective July 24, 1944.

FLUID MILK IN WILSON, ARK.

Order No. G–4 under § 1499.73a (a) (1) (vii) (d) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14A to the General Maximum Price Regulation. Adjustment of maximum prices for approved fluid milk in the City of Wilson, Arkansas.

For the reasons set forth in the opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator, Region V, of the Office of Price Administration by § 1499.73a (a) (1) (vii) (d) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14A and § 1499.75 (a) (9) of Supplementary Regulation No. 15 to the General Maximum Price Regulation: It is hereby ordered:

(a) The maximum prices established by § 1499.73a (a) (1) (vii) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14A to the General Maximum Price Regulation for fluid milk in the city of Wilson, Arkansas, are adjusted as follows:

(1) Sellers of milk in determining maximum prices for the sale of approved fluid milk in containers of one gallon or less shall determine such prices as though Wilson, Arkansas, were classified in the Appendix to § 1499.73a (a) (1) (vii) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14A to the General Maximum Price Regulation as being in Area 2a.

(b) This order may be revoked, amended or corrected at any time.

(c) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in § 1499.73a (a) (1) (vii) (b) of Supplementary Regulation No. 14A to the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to the terms used herein.

This order shall become effective July 15, 1944.

[Region VI Order G–74 Under SR15, MPR 280 and 329]

FLUID MILK IN PAXTON, ILL.

Order No. G–74 under § 1499.75 (a) (9) of Supplementary Regulation No. 15 to the General Maximum Price Regulation under Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 and under Maximum Price Regulation No. 329. Adjustment of fluid milk prices for Paxton, Illinois.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by § 1499.75 (a) (9) of Supplementary Regulation No. 15 to the General Maximum Price Regulation, by § 1351.807 (a) to the Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 and § 1351.406 (a) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 329, it is ordered:

(a) Maximum producer prices. The maximum price which distributors may pay to producers for milk for human consumption in fluid form shall be $2.95 per cwt. for 4% milk, plus not more than 5¢ for each 1/10 of a pound of butterfat in excess of 4% and minus not less than 5¢ for each 1/10 of a pound of butterfat below 4%.

(b) Applicability of producer prices. Maximum prices established by paragraph (a) of this order shall apply to all purchases of fluid milk from producers for resale for human consumption in fluid form by distributors whose bottling plants are located within the corporate limits of Paxton, Illinois, or who sell within this community 50% or more of the milk sold by them. The maximum price provided in paragraph (a) of this order shall only apply to purchases from producers from whom distributors covered by this order purchased from August 1, 1943 to December 31, 1943, and are not applicable to purchases from producers who did not in that period sell to distributors located in Paxton, Illinois.

(c) Maximum distributor prices for sales to civilian purchasers. The maximum price for the sale and delivery of fluid milk at wholesale and retail in Paxton, Illinois, shall be the maximum price determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation, or Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, or the following prices, whichever shall be the higher:

STANDARD BUTTERFAT CONTENT, FLUID MILK

Container size	Wholesale	Retail
Gallon (in bulk)	$0.34
Gallon	.34	$0.42
½ gallon	.18	.22
Quart	.10½	.12½
Pint	.05½	.06½
½ pint	.03¼	.04
CHOCOLATE MILK
½ pint	.03¼	.05
BUTTERMILK
Quart	$0.09	$0.11

Where the maximum price set forth is expressed in terms of ½ cent, the price charged for a single unit at retail may be increased to the next even cent. An opportunity must, however, be given to each buyer to purchase two units for which the maximum price will be twice the single unit price. All sales at wholesale and home delivery sales at retail shall be considered multiple unit sales unless separate collections are made for single units when delivered.

(d) Maximum distributor prices for sales to the Army and Navy. The maximum price for the sale and delivery of fluid milk to the Army and Navy shall be the price at wholesale computed under paragraph (c) of this order for the particular size and type of container, plus whichever of the following provisions is the higher:

(1) One-half cent per quart or a proportionate amount for a part of a quart.

(2) The actual transportation costs from the seller's plant to the point of delivery at the lowest common carrier rate.

(e) Applicability of distributor prices. For the purpose of paragraph (c) of this order, sales and deliveries within the Paxton, Illinois, area shall mean:

(1) All sales made within the city limits of Paxton, Illinois, and all sales at or from an establishment located in Paxton, Illinois.

(2) All sales of fluid milk by any seller at retail at or from an establishment obtaining the major portion of its supply of milk from a seller at wholesale located within Paxton, Illinois.

(f) Definitions. (1) Standard butterfat content milk shall mean cow's milk having a butterfat content of not less than 3.2% or the legal minimum established by statute or municipal ordinance and distributed and sold for consumption in fluid form as whole milk.

(2) Sales at wholesale shall include all sales to retail stores, restaurants, schools, hospitals, prisons and other institutions.

(3) Army or Navy means the War Department or the Department of the Navy of the United States, including such Departments' sales stores, commissaries, ships' stores, officers' messes, and stores operated as Army canteens or post exchanges.

(g) Relation of this order to Office of Price Administration Regulations. No purchaser shall pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery or supply of milk from producers than he paid on deliveries during January 1942. Except as modified by this order, the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, of Maximum Price Regulation No. 329, and of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be evaded by any change in business or trade practices in effect during the applicable base period of such regulations.

(h) Revocability. This order may be revoked, amended or corrected at any time.

The portion of this order which applies to prices which may be paid to producers has been approved by the Administrator of the War Food Administration.

This order shall be effective July 3, 1944.

(b) Maximum distributor prices for sales to the Army and Navy. The maximum price for the sale and delivery of fluid milk to the Army and Navy shall be the price at wholesale computed under paragraph (a) of this order for the particular size and type of container, plus whichever of the following provisions is the higher:

(1) One-half cent per quart or a proportionate amount for a part of a quart.

(2) The actual transportation costs from the seller's plant to the point of delivery at the lowest common carrier rate.

(c) Applicability of distributor prices. For the purpose of paragraph (a) of this order, sales and deliveries within the Taylorville, Illinois, area shall mean:

(1) All sales made within the city limits of Taylorville, Illinois; and all sales at or from an establishment located in Taylorville, Illinois.

(2) All sales of fluid milk by any seller at retail at or from an establishment obtaining the major portion of its supply of milk from a seller at wholesale located within Taylorville, Illinois.

(d) Definitions. (1) Standard butterfat content milk shall mean cow's milk having a butterfat content of not less than 3.2% or the legal minimum established by statute or municipal ordinance and distributed and sold for consumption in fluid form as whole milk.

(2) Sales at wholesale shall include all sales to retail stores, restaurants, schools, hospitals, prisons and other institutions.

(3) Army or Navy means the War Department or the Department of the Navy of the United States, including such Departments' sales stores, commissaries, ships' stores, officers' messes, and stores operated as Army canteens or post exchanges.

(e) Relation of this order to Office of Price Administration regulations. Except as modified by this order, the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 and of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be evaded by any change in business or trade practices in effect during the applicable base period of such regulations.

(f) Revocability. This order may be revoked, amended or corrected at any time.

This order shall be effective July 3, 1944.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

Chapter VIII—Procurement and Disposal of Equipment and Supplies

WAR DEPARTMENT PROCUREMENT REGULATIONS

The following regulations in Parts 801 to 816 of this chapter comprise the complete War Department Procurement Regulations, 5 September 1942, as amended by changes issued subsequent to that date, including change 36 dated 7 June 1944, and change 37 dated 29 June 1944.

[SEAL] J. A. ULIO, Major General, The Adjutant General.

NOTE: In order to conform the Procurement Regulations to the numbering system used in the Code of Federal Regulations, the following changes have been made:

(1) Each procurement regulation has been assigned a part number in Chapter VIII of this title, but the last one or two digits in the part number correspond to the regulation number. Thus Procurement Regulation 1 appears as Part 801, Procurement Regulation 2 appears as Part 802, etc.

(2) Sections in the original regulations have been treated as subparts. Thus Section I of any regulation becomes Subpart A and Section II becomes Subpart B, etc. Paragraphs in the original regulations become sections, with the number to the right of the decimal point corresponding to the original paragraph number, except that paragraphs containing a decimal point appear as "a", "b", "c", etc., within the section.

SUBPART A—INTRODUCTION

§ 801.101 Publication of procurement regulation. During the past few years it has been the practice of the War Department to publish procurement regulations in several different publications, viz: Army Regulations, War Department Procurement Circulars, etc. It has also been the practice to include in such regulations precise details of how purchases were to be effected. For reasons too obvious to mention, neither practice can be justifiably continued in view of the present war emergency. Accordingly, a new numbered series of procurement regulations has been prepared to replace all other procurement regulations outstanding as of this date. As changes in or additions to this new series of regulations become necessary, the same will be effected by the publication of corrected or supplemental sheets to the appropriate regulation.

AR 5-5
AR 5-50
AR 5-100
AR 5-140
AR 5-160
AR 5-200
AR 5-220

AR 5-260
AR 5-300
AR 5-320
AR 5-340
AR 5-360

§ 801.103 Rescission of Procurement Circulars. Effective July 1, 1942, all War Department Procurement Circulars which have not been rescinded heretofore are hereby rescinded.

§ 801.103a Rescission of "T" Series of procurement regulations. The temporary series of procurement regulations with numbers followed by "T", heretofore issued, is hereby rescinded.

FLUID MILK FOR TAYLORVILLE, ILL.

Order No. G–76 under § 1499.75 (a) (9) of Supplementary Regulation No. 15 to the General Maximum Price Regulation and under Maximum Price Regulation No. 280. Adjustment of fluid milk prices for Taylorville, Illinois.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by § 1499.75 (a) (9) of Supplementary Regulation No. 15 to the General Maximum Price Regulation, and by § 1351.807 (a) to the Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, it is ordered:

(a) Maximum distributor prices for sales to civilian purchasers. The maximum price for the sale and delivery of standard content butterfat fluid milk at wholesale and retail in Taylorville, Illinois, shall be the maximum price determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation, or Maximum Price Regulation No. 280, or the following prices, whichever shall be the higher:

Container size	Wholesale	Retail
Gallon (in bulk)	$0.43
Gallon	.43	$0.52
½ gallon	.21½	.26
Quart	.11	.13
Pint	.06	.07
½ pint	.03½	.04

particular size and type of container, plus whichever of the following provisions is the higher:

(1) One-half cent per quart or a proportionate amount for a part of a quart.

(2) The actual transportation costs from the seller's plant to the point of delivery at the lowest common carrier rate.

(c) Applicability of distributor prices. For the purpose of paragraph (a) of this order, sales and deliveries within the Taylorville, Illinois, area shall mean:

(1) All sales made within the city limits of Taylorville, Illinois, and all sales at or from an establishment located in Taylorville, Illinois.

(2) All sales of fluid milk by any seller at retail at or from an establishment obtaining the major portion of its supply of milk from a seller at wholesale located within Taylorville, Illinois.

(d) Definitions. (1) Standard butterfat content milk shall mean cow's milk having a butterfat content of not less than 3.2% or the legal minimum established by statute or municipal ordinance and distributed and sold for consumption in fluid form as whole milk.

(2) Sales at wholesale shall include all sales to retail stores, restaurants, schools, hospitals, prisons and other institutions.

(3) Army or Navy means the War Department or the Department of the Navy of the United States, including such Departments' sales stores, commissaries, ships' stores, officers' messes, and stores operated as Army canteens or post exchanges.

(e) Relation of this order to Office of Price Administration regulations. Except as modified by this order, the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 280 and of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be evaded by any change in business or trade practices in effect during the applicable base period of such regulations.

(f) Revocability. This order may be revoked, amended or corrected at any time.

This order shall be effective July 3, 1944.

TITLE 10—ARMY: WAR DEPARTMENT

Chapter VIII—Procurement and Disposal of Equipment and Supplies

WAR DEPARTMENT PROCUREMENT REGULATIONS

The following regulations in Parts 801 to 816 of this chapter comprise the complete War Department Procurement Regulations, 5 September 1942, as amended by changes issued subsequent to that date, including change 36 dated 7 June 1944, and change 37 dated 29 June 1944.

[SEAL] J. A. ULIO, Major General, The Adjutant General.

NOTE: In order to conform the Procurement Regulations to the numbering system used in the Code of Federal Regulations, the following changes have been made:

(1) Each procurement regulation has been assigned a part number in Chapter VIII of this title, but the last one or two digits in the part number correspond to the regulation number. Thus Procurement Regulation 1 appears as Part 801, Procurement Regulation 2 appears as Part 802, etc.

(2) Sections in the original regulations have been treated as subparts. Thus Section I of any regulation becomes Subpart A and Section II becomes Subpart B, etc. Paragraphs in the original regulations become sections, with the number to the right of the decimal point corresponding to the original paragraph number, except that paragraphs containing a decimal point appear as "a", "b", "c", etc., within the section.

801.119 Reports on legislative proposals.

SUBPART A—INTRODUCTION

§ 801.101 Publication of procurement regulation. During the past few years it has been the practice of the War Department to publish procurement regulations in several different publications, viz: Army Regulations, War Department Procurement Circulars, etc. It has also been the practice to include in such regulations precise details of how purchases were to be effected. For reasons too obvious to mention, neither practice can be justifiably continued in view of the present war emergency. Accordingly, a new numbered series of procurement regulations has been prepared to replace all other procurement regulations outstanding as of this date. As changes in or additions to this new series of regulations become necessary, the same will be effected by the publication of corrected or supplemental sheets to the appropriate regulation.

AR 5–5
AR 5–50
AR 5–100
AR 5–140
AR 5–160
AR 5–200
AR 5–220
AR–5–240
AR 5–260
AR 5–300
AR 5–320
AR 5–340
AR 5–360

§ 801.103 Rescission of Procurement Circulars. Effective July 1, 1942, all War Department Procurement Circulars which have not been rescinded heretofore are hereby rescinded.

§ 801.103a Rescission of "T" Series of procurement regulations. The temporary series of procurement regulations with numbers followed by "T", heretofore issued, is hereby rescinded.

§ 801.104 Rescission of other instructions and directives. All prior instructions and directives which are inconsistent with instructions contained in these procurement regulations, as originally issued under date of July 1, 1942, or as the same shall be amended from time to time, shall be deemed rescinded as of July 1, 1942 or as of the date of any such amendment, as the case may be.

SUBPART B—DISTRIBUTION OF PROCUREMENT REGULATIONS

§ 801.106 Distribution of procurement regulations. All communications pertaining to the distribution of procurement regulations including:

(1) Requests for complete sets;

(2) Requests for increase or decrease in the number of copies of revisions to be furnished;

(3) Requests for copies of particular revisions;

(4) Requests for missing pages or tab cards;

(5) Requests for change of address to which revisions are to be forwarded; should be sent to: Legal Branch, Office, Director of Matériel, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, Room 5C 659 The Pentagon, Washington 25, D. C.

Any request which involves any increase or decrease in the number of copies of revisions to be furnished should specify not only the new number of copies desired but also the number of copies currently being furnished. In addition, any such request and any request for a change of address should specify the mailing address (as appearing on the envelope or package in which revisions are received) to which revisions currently are being forwarded.

Communications (including requests mentioned in this section) pertaining to the distribution of procurement regulations may be by letter or memorandum. Such requests need not be in the form of formal requisitions.

SUBPART C—APPLICABILITY OF REGULATIONS

§ 801.107 Authority with respect to procurement—(a) Basic statute. Sec. 897 of the Military Laws (Supp. II, 1942) provides as follows:

Secretary of War, Under Secretary of War, and Assistant Secretary of War; duties in connection with procurement. Hereafter the Secretary of War, in addition to other duties imposed upon him by law, shall be charged with the supervision of the procurement of all military supplies and other business of the War Department pertaining thereto and the assurance of adequate provision for the mobilization of matériel and industrial organizations essential to wartime needs, and he may assign to the Under Secretary of War and The Assistant Secretary of War such duties in connection therewith as he may deem proper. • • • Sec. 5a, added to act of June 3, 1916, by sec. 5, act of June 4, 1920 (41 Stat. 761); sec. 2, act of Dec. 16, 1940 (54 Stat. 1224); 10 U.S.C. 1193.

(b) Delegations from the Secretary of War to the Under Secretary of War. (1) On April 21, 1941, the Secretary of War issued the following order:

Pursuant to authority contained in the Act of December 16, 1940 (Public No. 891—76th Congress):

a. The duties and responsibilities placed on the Secretary of War by Section 5a of the National Defense Act, as amended, are hereby assigned to the Under Secretary of War.

b. Chiefs of branches of the Army will report directly to the Under Secretary of War regarding all matters of procurement.

c. The Under Secretary of War will continue to perform the duties and discharge the responsibilities placed on the Assistant Secretary of War by Army Regulations No. 5–5, July 16, 1932, Orders E. War Department, November 28, 1933, and all other existing orders or instructions.

d. The office heretofore designated as the Office of The Assistant Secretary of War will hereafter be designated the Office of the Under Secretary of War. All officers and civilian employees now detailed to the Office of the Under Secretary of War or the Office of The Assistant Secretary of War from the branches engaged in procurement, and all other officers and employees now on duty in the Office of the Under Secretary of War or in the Office of The Assistant Secretary of War, shall continue on such detail and duty in the Office of the Under Secretary of War.

e. During the absence or disability of the Under Secretary of War, or in the event of a temporary vacancy in that office, the duties and responsibilities of the Under Secretary of War shall be performed and discharged by The Assistant Secretary of War, and in the case of the absence or disability of both the Under Secretary of War and The Assistant Secretary of War, or in the event of a temporary vacancy in both of said offices, the duties and responsibilities of the Under Secretary of War shall be performed and discharged by the Assistant Secretary of War for Air.

(2) Under date of December 30, 1941, the Secretary of War issued the following memorandum:

MEMORANDUM for the Under Secretary of War.

Subject: Delegation of Authority under Executive Order No. 9001.

The powers delegated to the War Department by Executive Order No. 9001, dated December 27, 1941, to enter into contracts and into amendments or modifications of contracts heretofore or hereafter made, and to make advance, progress, and other payments thereon, without regard to the provisions of law relating to the making, performance, amendment, or modification of contracts are hereby further delegated to the Under Secretary of War. He may, pursuant to Executive Order No. 9001, exercise such powers either personally or through such officer or officers or civilian officials of the War Department as he may direct, and he may confer upon such officers or civilian officials the power to make further delegations of such powers within the War Department.

HENRY L. STIMSON,
Secretary of War.

(3) War Department Circular 59, issued under date of March 2, 1942, provides in part as follows:

1. The President has approved a reorganization of the War Department and the Army, effective March 9, 1942. Pending the issuance of detailed instructions and changes in regulation, a summary description of the new organization is furnished for the information and guidance of all concerned.

• • • • • •

e. Supply arms and services and War Department offices and agencies will come under the direct command of the Commanding General, Services of Supply as indicated below:

(1) Those parts of the office of the Under Secretary of War engaged in functions of procurement and industrial mobilization.

• • • • • •

b. The mission of the Army Air Forces is to procure and maintain equipment peculiar to the Army Air Forces, and to provide air force units properly organized, trained, and equipped for combat operations. Procurement and related functions will be executed under the direction of the Under Secretary of War.

• • • • • •

7. Services of Supply. a. The duties and responsibilities placed on the Secretary of War by Section 5a of the National Defense Act, as amended, shall continue to be performed by the Under Secretary of War. The Director of Production shall continue to perform his present services reporting direct to the Under Secretary of War.

b. The Commanding General, Services of Supply, shall, on procurement and related matters, act under the direction of the Under Secretary of War and shall, on military matters, report to the Chief of Staff. The Commanding General, Services of Supply, is charged in general with the functions, responsibilities, and authorities of command authorized by law, Army Regulations, and custom over individuals and units assigned to the Services of Supply.

c. The mission of the Services of Supply is to provide services and supplies to meet military requirements except those peculiar to the Army Air Forces. Procurement and related functions will be executed under the direction of the Under Secretary of War.

d. The Services of Supply consolidates under the jurisdiction of the Commanding General, Services of Supply, the supply arms and services, certain administrative services of the War Department, certain parts of the office of the Under Secretary of War, certain boards and committees, general depots, ports of embarkation and auxiliaries, and corps areas, with such amalgamation, reallocation of duties, and reorganization as is necessary or advisable.

e. The following duties are specifically assigned to the Services of Supply:

(1) The direction and supervision of engineering research, development, procurement, storage, and distribution of supplies and equipment, except those peculiar to the Army Air Forces.

(2) The establishment of purchasing and contractual policies and procedure.

(3) Transportation and traffic control.

(4) Construction for the Army.

(5) The consolidation of programs and requirements of the Army with the programs and requirements received from Defense Aid and the Navy and procured by the Army.

(c) Responsibilities of the Under Secretary of War fixed by AR 5–5. Although Army Regulation 5–5 is rescinded, the portion thereof relating to the responsibilities of The Assistant Secretary of War (now the Under Secretary of War) is incorporated by reference in paragraph c. of the above quoted order of the Secretary of War, dated April 21, 1941. The portion of said regulation which is thus continued in force reads as follows:

• • • • • •

b. Definition. Under section 5a, national defense act, as amended, the Assistant Secretary of War, under the direction of the Secretary of War, is charged, among other duties, with the supervision of all administrative and operative functions and installations of the Military Establishment concerned in the acquisition or production of military supplies. The types of matériel desired having been specified by the proper agencies, the responsibilities of the Assistant Secretary of War, under the statute, begin with the necessary preliminary and preparatory measures for the procurement or production of such matériel, and end with its delivery to the proper supply arms and services for issue.

c. Supervision over procurement includes preparation of plans and policies and supervision of activities concerning—

(1) Research and development of substitutes for critical and strategic materials and of materials, methods or processes, and facilities for manufacturing purposes.

(2) The procurement of materials and facilities for manufacturing purposes.

(3) Preparation of United States Army manufacturing specifications and the commercial standardization activities of the supply arms and services. See AR 850–25.

(4) Procurement of all military supplies by purchase, production, or other means, whether obtained for experimental, service test, or issue purposes; inspection, test, acceptance, and storage of supplies incident to procurement; the procurement of real estate and the construction, operation, maintenance, repair, and inspection of all establishments and facilities for the foregoing purposes.

(5) Procurement of supplies for other Government departments or for foreign governments at their request.

(6) The acquisition and use of patent rights by the War Department and the Army.

(7) The transfer or exchange of military supplies in conformity with approved policies.

(8) The renovation of matériel on a production basis at an establishment functioning under the direct control of a chief of a supply arm or service in accordance with approved policies and projects.

(9) The collection of information and compilation of data pertaining to sources of supply.

(10) The assurance of adequate and timely provisions for the mobilization of the matériel and industrial organizations essential to war-time needs, including arrangements in the supply arms and services and arrangements with the agencies outside the War Department.

(11) The Army Industrial College, Washington, D. C.

(12) Instruction in business administration at civilian institutions.

(13) Fiscal matters pertinent to procurement in accordance with instructions contained in paragraph 1b (2) and (4) of orders E, War Department, October 29, 1925.

(14) Legislation relating to procurement.

(15) Civilian personnel engaged on procurement duties.

(16) Any other matters pertaining solely to the business activities of the War Department in the procurement of military supplies. The determining factor in all cases will be whether the aspect of the particular activity concerned in the given case is incident to procurement. If it is, the statute places it under the supervision of the Assistant Secretary of War.

d. The Assistant Secretary of War will represent the War Department—

(1) On all interdepartmental boards for the standardization of—

(a) Specifications.

(b) Procurement procedure.

(2) On the army and Navy Munitions Board.

(3) In dealing with any interdepartmental or superdepartmental agency that may be created in connection with the allocation of matériel or industrial facilities to various uses.

(4) In arranging necessary contacts with other standardization bodies such as the American Engineering Standards Committee and the Division of Simplified Practice, Department of Commerce.

(5) On the Patents and Design Board. Sec. 10 (r), act July 2, 1926 (44 Stat. 788; U.S.C. 10:310 (r); sec. 2041, M. L., 1929).

(6) On the Advisory Air Coordination Committee.

(7) In dealing with any interdepartmental or superdepartmental agency that may be created in connection with aeronautical matters.

e. Chiefs of supply arms and services will report directly to and will correspond directly with the Assistant Secretary of War on all matters covered above.

2. Delegated duties. The following duties are delegated to the Assistant Secretary of War and are classified as follows:

a. Military.

(1) (a) Matters pertaining to the Militia Bureau and the National Guard.

(b) Matters pertaining to the Officers' Reserve Corps and the Organized Reserves.

(c) Clemency cases in mitigation or remission of sentence by courts-martial.

(2) Correspondence on the matters in (1) above will follow the usual military channels.

b. Nonmilitary. (1) (a) The sale or disposal of surplus supplies, equipment, plants, land, or other facilities.

(b) Claims, foreign or domestic, by or against the War Department, including those resulting from the operation of aircraft.

(c) The purchase and sale of real estate; the lease of real estate for the use of the War Department; the granting of leases or licenses to individuals, corporations, or organizations for the temporary use of land, buildings, or other property under War Department control; and easements or rights of way across military reservations, in accordance with approved policies.

(d) The activities relating to the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice and to civilian marksmanship.

(e) Approval of expenditures from funds allotted, and of public vouchers for expenditures by the disbursing clerk of the War Department; approval of the program of expenditures by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice; routine expenditures from the appropriation "Contingencies of the Army"; and expenditures from "Contingencies, Military Information Division," for extraordinary expenses of military attachés and observers abroad.

(f) Matters relating to national military parks and national monuments.

(g) Matters relating to national cemeteries in the United States and abroad.

(h) Authorization of advertising.

(i) Regulations for burial expenses of deceased military personnel [AR 30–1830].

(j) The use of patent rights by the War Department and the Army.

(k) Bridge permits and extensions of time for completion of bridges.

(l) Disposition of engineer property pertaining to rivers and harbors.

(m) Permits for laying submarine cable.

(2) Correspondence on the matters in (1) above will be direct between the office of the Assistant Secretary of War and the agency or office concerned unless otherwise directed.

(d) Orders, directives, regulations, and instructions relating to procurement policy, organization or procedure. Under date of 16 September 1943, the Under Secretary of War addressed the following memorandum to the Commanding General, Army Air Forces and the Commanding General, Army Service Forces:

MEMORANDUM for: The Commanding General, Army Air Forces; The Commanding General, Army Service Forces.

1. Until otherwise directed, existing orders, directives, regulations and instructions with reference to procurement policy, organization or procedure, which have heretofore been issued by the Under Secretary of War, or by The Commanding General, Army Service Forces (formerly Services of Supply), or by higher authority, are applicable to the Army Air Forces as well as the Army Service Forces, unless otherwise specifically indicated.

2. Uniformity of policies and procedures in procurement and related matters will be accomplished in so far as practicable. To achieve this objective the following procedure is prescribed:

a. Prior to their issuance, important orders, directives, regulations or instructions affecting major policies on procurement or related matters will be presented to the Under Secretary of War for his approval.

b. All other orders, directives, regulations or instructions to carry out approved policies will be processed and issued by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, without reference to the Under Secretary of War.

c. Orders, directives, regulations and instructions indicated in paragraphs a. and b. above will be issued by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces. They will be applicable to the Army Air Forces unless otherwise specifically indicated. Where so applicable, they shall, prior to their issuance, be cleared in each case with the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, through an Army Air Forces Liaison Officer designated by him. The Director, Purchases Division, Army Service Forces, will be responsible for referring such orders, directives, regulations and instructions to the Army Air Forces Liaison Officer for clearance. If the Army Air Forces disagree with the proposal in so far as it would be applicable to them, the matter will be submitted to the Under Secretary of War for decision.

d. The Commanding General, Army Service Forces, will furnish the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, with such number of copies of said orders, directives, regulations and instructions as the latter desires for redistribution to agencies under his jurisdiction.

3. This memorandum will supersede my communication dated 9 April 1942 to The Commanding General, Matériel Command, Army Air Forces and The Commanding General, Services of Supply, on the same subject. [The superseded memorandum was formerly set forth in this section].

ROBERT P. PATTERSON,
Under Secretary of War.

(e) Delegations from the Under Secretary of War—(1) To the Commanding General, Army Service Forces. Under date of September 15, 1942, the following memorandum was issued by the Under Secretary of War:

MEMORANDUM for the Commanding General, Services of Supply.

Subject: Delegation of Authority.

1. In confirmation of and supplementing the memorandum of the undersigned to the Commanding General, Services of Supply dated June 29, 1942 on the above subject, authority is hereby delegated to the Commanding General, Services of Supply, to act for the Secretary of War or the Under Secretary of War in clearing, approving, and taking other action in respect to contracts, change orders, supplemental agreements, advance payments, awards, letters of intent, letter contracts, letter purchase orders, leases, amendments of contracts, and other contractual instruments; to make, authorize and approve sales or contracts for the sale of equipment, supplies and material; to prescribe and modify regulations in respect of procurement; and to approve new War Department contract forms and deviations from approved forms of contracts, including all authority heretofore delegated to the undersigned by the Secretary of War pursuant to Public Law 354, 77th Congress and Executive Order 9001.

2. Without any limitation of the powers and authority hereinbefore granted, there is hereby vested in the Commanding General, Services of Supply, pursuant to and subject to the provisions of Title II of the First War Powers Act (Public Law 354, 77th Congress) and Executive Order 9001 the authority to take the following action:

a. He may enter into, amend or modify contracts, may make purchases, may place orders, and may make advance progress and other payments on such contracts, purchases and orders without regard to the provisions of law relating to the making, performance, amendment or modification of contracts.

b. The contracts hereby authorized to be made include agreements of all kinds (whether in the form of letters of intent, purchase orders, or otherwise) for all types and kinds of things and services necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of war, or for the invention, development, or production of, or research concerning any such things, including but not limited to, aircraft, buildings, vessels, arms, armament, equipment, or supplies of any kind, or any portion thereof, including plans, spare parts and equipment therefor, materials, supplies, facilities, utilities, machinery, machine tools, and any other equipment, without any restriction of any kind, either as to type, character, location or form.

c. Whenever, in the judgment of the Commanding General, Services of Supply (or of an officer or civilian employee of the War Department to whom authority has been delegated to exercise such powers), the prosecution of the war is thereby facilitated, he may amend or modify contracts heretofore or hereafter made for the purpose of (1) obtaining continued operations by contractors engaged in war production, (2) encouraging greater diligence on the part of contractors, (3) protecting contractors from the consequences of unforeseen or unexpected events, (4) adjusting contracts to new conditions and circumstances, including those created by the rules, orders, instructions and determinations of Government departments, or (5) for any other purposes for facilitating the prosecution of the war.

Such amendments and modifications of contracts may be without consideration, other than the determination that the prosecution of the war will thereby be facilitated, and may be utilized to accomplish the same things as any original contract could accomplish, irrespective of the time or circumstances of the making of or the form of the contract amended or modified, or of the amending or modifying contract, and irrespective of rights which may have accrued under the contract or the amendments or modifications thereof. The powers hereby delegated may be exercised by (1) supplemental agreements which modify or amend or settle claims by or against the United States arising under or with respect to any contracts heretofore or hereafter made; (2) agreements with contractors or obligors modifying or releasing accrued obligations of any sort, including accrued liquidated damages or liability under any surety or other bond; or (3) supplemental agreements and change orders suspending or modifying the operation of existing contracts as yet uncompleted, and providing for the payment by the Government of the damages incurred by a contractor by reason of such suspension or modification; provided in each instance that full performance by the contractor under such contract, or under a series of contracts between the United States and the same contractor for substantially the same goods, shall not have been completed and final payment made thereunder. The supplemental contracts hereby authorized to be made include agreements of all kinds for all types and kinds of things and services necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of the war, or for the invention, development, or production of, or research concerning any such things.

d. He may waive bid, payment, performance, or other bonds, and dispense with advertising for bids and competitive bidding.

3. Nothing herein shall affect the existing authority of the Commanding General, Services of Supply, as to matters relating to the Army Air Forces, the extent of which is set forth in the letter of April 9, 1942, from the Under Secretary of War to the Commanding General, Matériel Command, Army Air Forces, and to the Commanding General, Services of Supply, or any authority in respect of Army Air Force contracts and other contractual instruments, delegated to Colonel Albert J. Browning, A. U. S., by memoranda of the undersigned dated June 1, 1942, and September 15, 1942, nor shall anything herein contained be construed to limit or affect the power and authority of any commander in any theatre of operation.

4. The Commanding General, Services of Supply, or any person acting by delegation from him in the exercise of the powers hereby granted, shall have power to ratify and approve any contractual documents entered into or action taken by others, which he himself might have entered into or taken by virtue of the powers hereby granted.

5. The powers, authority and discretion hereby conferred upon the Commanding General, Services of Supply, or any portion or portions thereof, may be redelegated by him to whomsoever he may designate, including without limitation the Director, Purchases Division, Services of Supply, with the power of redelegating such powers, in whole or in part, to any officer or officers or civilian official or officials of the War Department. In any delegation of power or authority hereunder there may be included such terms and conditions, if any, as the person making such delegation may deem appropriate to ensure proper exercise of such power and authority in the interest of the United States and of the prosecution of the war.

ROBERT P. PATTERSON,
Under Secretary of War.

The memorandum of the Under Secretary of War, dated June 29, 1942, referred to in above memorandum reads as follows:

MEMORANDUM for the Commanding General, Services of Supply.

Subject: Delegation of Authority.

1. Authority is hereby delegated to the Commanding General, Services of Supply, to act for the Secretary of War or the Under Secretary of War in clearing, approving, and taking other action in respect to contracts, change orders, supplemental agreements, advance payments, awards, letters of intent, letter contracts, letter purchase orders, leases, amendments of contracts, and other contractual instruments; to approve sales of equipment, supplies and material; and to approve new War Department contract forms and deviations from approved forms of contracts, including all authority heretofore delegated to the undersigned by the Secretary of War pursuant to Public Law 354, 77th Congress and Executive Order No. 9001.

2. The Commanding General, Services of Supply, is authorized further to delegate the above powers or any portion thereof to whomsoever he may designate, with the power of redelegation.

3. The following memoranda are each hereby revoked; viz: (1) Memorandum for Mr. Albert J. Browning, dated March 13, 1942, delegating certain authority to the Chief of the Purchase Branch, Procurement and Distribution Division, Services of Supply, and (2) Memorandum for Colonel Albert J. Browning, A. U. S., dated June 2, 1942, delegating certain authority to him, as Chief of the Purchases Branch, Procurement and Distribution Division, Services of Supply. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as revoking the delegation of authority to Chiefs of Supply Services contained in Procurement Circular No. 91, dated December 29, 1941, and Procurement Circular No. 17, dated February 24, 1942, nor any delegation of authority heretofore made by the Commanding General, Services of Supply, or the Chief, Purchases Branch, Procurement and Distribution Division.

4. Nothing herein shall affect the existing authority of the Commanding General, Services of Supply, as to matters relating to the Army Air Forces, the extent of which is set forth in the letter of April 9, 1942, from the Under Secretary of War to the Commanding General, Matériel Command, Army Air Forces, and to the Commanding General, Services of Supply, or any authority in respect of Army Air Force contracts and other contractual instruments, delegated to Colonel Albert J. Browning, A. U. S., by memorandum of the undersigned, dated June 1, 1942.

ROBERT P. PATTERSON,
Under Secretary of War.

(2) To the Chief of Staff. Under date of January 11, 1943, the following memorandum was issued by the Under Secretary of War:

MEMORANDUM for The Chief of Staff:

1. There is hereby delegated to the Chief of Staff full power, in connection with operations subject to his direction and control, to exercise any of the authority and powers pursuant to Executive Order No. 9001 delegated to the undersigned by the Secretary of War by instrument dated December 30, 1941 [see paragraph (b) of this section]. The Chief of Staff may, pursuant to Executive Order No. 9001, exercise such powers either personally or through such officer or officers or civilian officials of the War Department as he may direct and he may confer upon such officers or civilian officials the power to make further delegations of such powers within the War Department.

2. All action heretofore taken by the Chief of Staff or by the direction of the Chief of Staff, that would by this delegation be authorized, is hereby ratified and confirmed. There is hereby expressly conferred upon the Chief of Staff the power and authority to ratify and confirm any action heretofore taken by any person responsible directly or indirectly to the Chief of Staff that would by this delegation of authority be authorized.

Dated this 11th day of January, 1943.

ROBERT P. PATTERSON,
Under Secretary of War.

(f) Delegations from the Commanding General, Services of Supply, to the Director, Purchases Division. Under date of September 16, 1942, the following memorandum was issued by the Commanding General, Services of Supply:

MEMORANDUM for Director, Purchases Division.

Subject: Delegation of Authority.

In confirmation of and supplementing the memorandum of the undersigned, dated June 29, 1942, to the Chief, Purchases Branch, Procurement and Distribution Division, Services of Supply (now the Director, Purchases Division, Services of Supply), the authority delegated to the Commanding General, Services of Supply, by memorandum of the Under Secretary of War, dated September 15, 1942 to act for the Secretary of War or the Under Secretary of War in clearing, approving, and taking other action in respect to contracts, change orders, supplemental agreements, advance payments, awards, letters of intent, letter contracts, letter purchase orders, leases, amendments of contracts and other contractual instruments, to make, authorize and approve sales or contracts for the sale of equipment, supplies and material and to approve War Department contract forms and deviations from approved forms, including all authority heretofore delegated to the undersigned pursuant to Public Law 354, 77th Congress, and Executive Order 9001 (including without limitation all authority pursuant to Public Law 354 and Executive Order 9001 delegated to the undersigned by the Under Secretary of War by the memorandum dated September 15, 1942), is hereby delegated to the Director, Purchases Division, Services of Supply. The Director, Purchases Division, is authorized to delegate further the above powers, authority, and discretions or any portion thereof to any officer or officers, or civilian official or officials of the War Department he may designate, with the power of redelegation. In any delegation of power or authority hereunder there may be included such terms and conditions, if any, as the person making such delegation may deem appropriate to ensure proper exercise of such power and authority in the interest of the United States and of the prosecution of the War.

BREHON SOMERVELL,
Lieutenant General, Commanding.

The memorandum of the Commanding General dated June 29, 1942, referred to in the above memorandum reads as follows:

MEMORANDUM for Chief, Purchases Branch, Procurement and Distribution Division.

Subject: Delegation of Authority.

The authority delegated to the Commanding General, Services of Supply, by memorandum of the Under Secretary of War, dated June 29, 1942, to act for the Secretary of War or the Under Secretary of War in clearing, approving, and taking other action in respect to contracts, change orders, supplemental agreements, advance payments, awards, letters of intent, letter purchase orders, leases, amendments of contracts and other contractual instruments, to approve sales of equipment, supplies and material and to approve War Department contract forms and deviations from approved forms, including all authority heretofore delegated to the undersigned pursuant to Public Law 354, 77th Congress, and Executive Order 9001, is hereby delegated to the Chief, Purchases Branch, Procurement and Distribution Division, Services of Supply. The Chief, Purchases Branch, Procurement and Distribution Division, is authorized to delegate further the above powers or any portion thereof to whomsoever he may designate, with the power of redelegation.

BREHON SOMERVELL,
Lieutenant General, Commanding.

(g) Delegations from the Under Secretary of War to the Special Representative of the Under Secretary of War for the Army Air Forces. Under date of September 15, 1942, the following memorandum was issued by the Under Secretary of War:

MEMORANDUM for Colonel Albert J. Browning, A. U. S., Special Representative of the Under Secretary of War.

Subject: Delegation of Authority.

1. In confirmation of and supplementing the memorandum of the undersigned to Colonel Albert J. Browning, A. U. S., dated June 1, 1942, on the above subject, authority is hereby delegated to Colonel Browning to act for the Secretary of War or the Under Secretary of War, in clearing, approving, and taking other action in respect to Army Air Force contracts, change orders, supplemental agreements, advance payments, awards, letters of intent, letter contracts, letter purchase orders, leases, amendments of contracts, and other contractual instruments; to make, authorize and approve sales or contracts for the sale of Army Air Force equipment, supplies and material; and to approve new War Department Army Air Force contract forms and deviations from approved forms of contracts, including all authority with respect to Army Air Force contracts and agreements of all kinds heretofore delegated to the undersigned by the Secretary of War pursuant to Public Law 354, 77th Congress, and Executive Order No. 9001. This memorandum, however, shall not affect the existing authority of the Commanding General, Services of Supply, as to matters relating to the Air Forces, the extent of which is set forth in the letter dated April 9, 1942 from the Under Secretary of War to the Commanding General, Matériel Command, Army Air Forces, and to the Commanding General, Services of Supply. Colonel Browning, and any person or persons designated by him as such, acting under the authority herein contained will act as "Special Representative of the Under Secretary of War."

2. Without any limitation of the powers and authority hereinbefore granted, there is hereby vested in Colonel Browning, pursuant to and subject to the provisions of Title II of the First War Powers Act (Public Law 354, 77th Congress) and Executive Order No. 9001 the authority to take the following action:

a. He may enter into, amend or modify contracts, may make purchases, may place orders, and may make advance progress and other payments on such contracts, purchases and orders without regard to the provisions of law relative to the making, performance, amendment, or modification of contracts.

b. The contracts hereby authorized to be made include agreements of all kinds (whether in the form of letters of intent, purchase orders, or otherwise) for all types and kinds of things and services necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of war, or for the invention, development, or production of, or research concerning any such things, including but not limited to, aircraft, buildings, vessels, arms, armament, equipment, or supplies of any kind, or any portion thereof, including plans, spare parts and equipment therefor, materials, supplies, facilities, utilities machinery, machine tools, and any other equipment, without any restriction of any kind, either as to type, character, location or form.

c. Whenever, in the judgment of Colonel Browning, (or of an officer or civilian employee of the War Department to whom authority has been delegated to exercise such powers), the prosecution of the war is thereby facilitated, he may amend or modify contracts heretofore or hereafter made for the purpose of (a) obtaining continued operations by contractors engaged in war production, (b) encouraging greater diligence on the part of contractors, (c) protecting contractors from the consequences of unforeseen or unexpected events, (d) adjusting contracts to new conditions and circumstances, including those created by the rules, orders, instructions and determinations of Government departments, or (e) for any other purposes for facilitating the prosecution of the war.

Such amendments and modifications of contracts may be made without consideration, other than the determination that the prosecution of the war will thereby be facilitated, and may be utilized to accomplish the same things as any original contract could accomplish, irrespective of the time or circumstances of the making of or the form of the contract amended or modified, or of the amending or modifying contract, and irrespective of rights which may have accrued under the contract or the amendments or modifications thereof. The powers hereby delegated may be exercised by (a) supplemental agreements which modify or amend or settle claims by or against the United States arising under or with respect to any contacts heretofore or hereafter made; (b) agreements with contractors or obligors modifying or releasing accrued obligations of any sort, including accrued liquidated damages or liability under any surety or other bond; or (c) supplemental agreements and change orders suspending or modifying the operation of existing contracts as yet uncompleted, and providing for the payment by the Government of the damages incurred by a contractor by reason of such suspension or modification; provided in each instance that full performance by the contractor under such contract, or under a series of contracts between the United States and the same contractor for substantially the same goods, shall not have been completed and final payment made thereunder. The supplemental contracts hereby authorized to be made include agreements of all kinds for all types and kinds of things and services necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of the war, or for the invention, development or production of, or research concerning any such things.

d. He may waive bid, payment, performance, or other bonds, and dispense with advertising for bids and competitive bidding.

4. Colonel Browning, or any person acting by delegation from him in the exercise of the powers hereby granted, shall have power to ratify and approve any contractual documents entered into or action taken by others, which he himself might have entered into or taken by virtue of the powers hereby granted.

5. The powers, authority and discretion hereby conferred upon Colonel Browning, or any portion or portions thereof, may be redelegated by him to whomsoever he may designate, with the power of redelegating such powers, in whole or in part, to any officer or officers or civilian official or officials of the War Department. In any delegation of power or authority hereunder there may be included such terms and conditions, if any, as the person making such delegation may deem appropriate to ensure proper exercise of such power and authority in the interest of the United States and of the prosecution of the war.

ROBERT P. PATTERSON,
Under Secretary of War.

The memorandum of the Under Secretary of War, dated June 1, 1942, referred to in the above memorandum, reads as follows:

MEMORANDUM for Colonel Albert J. Browning, A. U. S.

Authority is hereby delegated to Colonel Albert J. Browning, A. U. S. to act for the Secretary of War and/or the Under Secretary of War in clearing, approving and taking other action in respect to Army Air Force contracts, change orders, supplemental agreements, advance payments, awards, letters of intent, letter contracts, letter purchase orders, leases, amendments of contracts and other contractual instruments; to approve sales of Army Air Force equipment, supplies and materials; and to approve new War Department Army Air Force contract forms and deviations from approved forms of Army Air Force contracts.

The foregoing authority, or any portion thereof, is likewise delegated to such person or persons as may be designated in writing by Colonel Albert J. Browning, A. U. S.

The individual acting under the foregoing authority will so act as "Special Representative of the Under Secretary of War."

The foregoing authority shall remain in full force and effect until revoked by this office.

By direction of the Secretary of War:

ROBERT P. PATTERSON,
Under Secretary of War.

(h) Delegation of authority to Legal Assistant to Director of Matériel and to Chief, Legal Branch to approve contract forms. Under date of 12 November 1943 the following memorandum was issued:

MEMORANDUM for Legal Assistant to the Director of Matériel and to the Chief, Legal Branch, Director of Matériel.

Subject: Delegation of Authority to Approve Contract Forms and Deviations from Approved Forms.

The authority delegated to the Director, Purchases Division, by the Commanding General, Services of Supply, dated September 18, 1942 and the authority delegated to me by the Under Secretary of War, dated September 15, 1942 (in respect of matters relating to the Army Air Forces) to act for the Secretary of War or the Under Secretary of War in approving War Department contract forms and deviations from approved forms is hereby further delegated to the Legal Assistant to the Director of Matériel, and to the Chief, Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, Army Service Forces, or either of them, and to any person who for the time being may be acting in either capacity.

ALBERT J. BROWNING,
Brigadier General, General Staff Corps,
Director, Purchases Division.

(i) Authority delegated by these procurement regulations. These regulations to the extent, and only to the extent, that they actually confer authority upon the chiefs of the technical services and other officers or civilian officials of the War Department to exercise power to enter into contracts and into amendments or modifications of contracts heretofore or hereafter made and to make advance, progress and other payments thereon shall constitute a redelegation by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces of the authority delegated to him as set forth in paragraph (e) of this section, and by the Special Representative of the Under Secretary of War of the authority delegated to him, as set forth in paragraph (g). The authority granted as provided in the preceding sentence, of course, does not dispense with the necessity of obtaining any approval expressly specified in any paragraph of these procurement regulations (see e. g. § 803.315 (a)). Authority conferred upon the chiefs of the technical services under any paragraph of these procurement regulations may be redelegated (with or without power of further redelegation) to such officer or officers or civilian official or officials as the chiefs of the technical services severally may direct, whether or not express mention of the powers of redelegation is made in any such paragraph, unless it is expressly provided in the paragraph that the power shall not be redelegated. The exercise prior to the date of these regulations of any such authority by any such officer or officers or civilian official or officials is hereby ratified and confirmed in all respects.

(j) Since the regulations are generally declaratory of policy only, it will be necessary for the chief of each technical service to publish appropriate instructions on procedure.

§ 801.108 Applicability of these procurement regulations—(a) Preliminary definitions. (1) The term "procurement activities", as used in paragraph (b) of this section, includes all such activities except the acquisition and disposal of real estate so far as the latter are governed and regulated by AR 100–60, 100–61, 100–62 and 100–63. The term comprises, but is not necessarily limited to, the procurement of supplies, material and equipment and the procurement of construction work, including that on rivers and harbors.

(2) The term "Army agencies", as used in paragraph (b) of this section, includes all personnel of the Army, except as indicated in paragraph (f). In particular, it includes the agencies referred to in paragraphs (d) and (e).

(3) The term "appropriated funds", as used in paragraph (b) of this section, comprises all such funds, including such funds allocated to, as distinguished from appropriated to, the War Department; but does not include organizational, unit or similar funds.

(b) These procurement regulations are applicable to all procurement activities carried on by Army agencies with appropriated funds. If a project involves both a procurement activity and acquisition or disposal of real estate governed and regulated by the Army Regulations referred to in paragraph (a) of this section, these procurement regulations are applicable so far as the procurement activity is concerned and are inapplicable so far as the acquisition or disposal of real estate is concerned.

(c) Technical services and supply services. Pursuant to Circular No. 30, Headquarters Army Service Forces, 15 May 1943, the designation of "supply services" is changed to "technical services". This change is being made in the procurement regulations as occasion arises to reprint pages for other reasons. In the meantime, the term "supply services" should be read as "technical services".

(d) Army Air Forces. (1) The regulations have been issued with the approval of the Army Air Forces, and shall, unless otherwise specifically indicated, apply to the Army Air Forces.

(2) Whenever used herein, unless otherwise specifically indicated, the term "technical services" shall be deemed to include the Army Air Forces, and the term "chiefs of the technical services" shall be deemed to include the Commanding General, Army Air Forces. Likewise, the terms "Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces" and "Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces", when used in connection with action to be taken in respect of the Army Air Forces, shall, unless otherwise specifically indicated, be deemed to refer to the Special Representative of the Under Secretary of War designated for that purpose.

(3) Except as specifically otherwise provided, all communications to the Army Air Forces or to the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, relating to procurement, should be addressed to the attention of the Procurement Branch, Matériel Division, Office of the Assistant Chief of Air Staff, Matériel, Maintenance and Distribution.

(e) Service commands. These regulations are applicable to the procurement activities of the service commands. Where procurement is accomplished by a service command at the direction of the chief of a technical service or his duly authorized representative, the directions will contain references to the applicable paragraphs of the procurement regulations and will also contain supplementary instructions where appropriate. In such a case, for the purposes of these regulations, the procurement shall be regarded as procurement by the technical service concerned and the contract will be regarded as a contract of that technical service. In all other cases, the service command accomplishing the procurement shall act independently of any technical service and the term "technical service" and the term "service", as used in these regulations, shall be deemed to refer to the service commands and the term "chiefs of technical services" and "chiefs of services" shall be deemed to refer to the Commanding Generals of the service commands. In connection with this paragraph see (c) above.

(f) Procurement and contracting authority of commanding officers outside continental United States. In general, Commanding Officers in charge of United States armed forces outside the continental United States and its territories and possessions including Alaska are not required, in connection with the procurement of supplies necessary to accomplish the mission confided in them, to comply with the procurement regulations or any other regulations, circulars or instructions or with any provisions or restrictions of the laws of the United States which may be applicable within the United States or any territory or possession thereof. This matter is more fully treated in section I of Circular No. 21, War Department, 1943. Likewise, Commanding Officers in charge of United States Armed Forces outside the continental United States but within the territories or possessions of the United States including Alaska, who are responsible directly to the War Department (that is, the chief of staff), in connection with the procurement of supplies necessary to the accomplishment of the mission confided in them are authorized to disregard procurement regulations and other War Department regulations, restrictions, circulars and instructions, and when they find that to do so will facilitate the prosecution of the war, they are authorized to disregard the provisions of law relating to procurement; all subject however to (1) Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, (2) the restrictive provisions contained in Executive Order No. 9001 and (3) any law approved after December 18, 1941. This matter is more fully set forth in section II of Circular No. 21, War Department, 1943.

(g) Procurement within the United States for armed forces abroad. It is to be noted that the provisions of Circular No. 21, War Department, 1943, referred to in (f) of this section have no application to procurement within the United States for armed forces abroad.

SUBPART D—MISCELLANEOUS PROHIBITIONS

§ 801.109 Prohibition against voluntary service. (a) No department or officer of the Government may accept voluntary service for the Government except in cases of sudden emergency involving the loss of human life or the destruction of property, or when a written statement is obtained that the service rendered will not be made the basis of a future claim against the Government for compensation.

§ 801.110 Prohibition against use of troop labor. (a) Except in cases of manifest necessity or when authorized by the Secretary of War, the labor of troops will not be used to enable the contractors to fulfill contracts.

(b) Whenever troop labor has been used:

(1) Authority therefor will be given in writing.

(2) A report enumerating in detail the service rendered will be forwarded to the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, Attention of Industrial Personnel Division.

(3) Full deduction will be made for the value of the service rendered.

§ 801.111 Conflicts between outside interests of officers or civilian employees and their official duties. (a) Basic statute. Section 41 of the United States Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. 93) provides as follows:

No officer or agent of any corporation, joint-stock company, or association, and no member or agent of any firm, or person directly or indirectly interested in the pecuniary profits or contracts of such corporation, joint-stock company, association, or firm, shall be employed or shall act as an officer or agent of the United States for the transaction of business with such corporation, joint-stock company, association, or firm. Whoever shall violate the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $2,000 and imprisoned not more than two years.

(b) Construction of basic statute. The general language of section 41 of the United States Criminal Code has been the subject of interpretation from time to time by The Judge Advocate General and by the Attorney General. The Judge Advocate General has been careful to point out that the question of construction presented "involves the construction and application of criminal statutes concerning which the Federal courts alone can speak with final authority." However, the substance of certain of those opinions is set forth as an aid in the construction of the statute:

(1) In Vol. 40, Op. No. 42, March 31, 1942, the Attorney General rendered an opinion concerning the use of a certain Army officer as a Liaison officer between a corporation and the War Department. It appeared that the officer was also an officer and stockholder in the corporation. In holding that the basic statute would be violated if the officer acted in that capacity, the Attorney General stated in part:

No man can serve two masters. The statute in question is clearly grounded on this assumption. Its manifest purpose is such that any attempt to reconcile it with the proposed employment runs into difficulties. Some of these difficulties are pointed out by The Judge Advocate General of the Army in his opinion on the question. Others are equally apparent.

No matter how high are the motives of the Army Officer who advises, he is likely as a realistic matter to be consciously or unconsciously influenced by the fact that his actions may benefit the corporation of which he is an officer and a stockholder. To a degree his salary as an officer of the corporation would be affected by whether his advice leads the War Department to enter into a procurement contract with his company. To a larger degree his share in the earnings of the corporation as a stockholder would be affected by his advice.

(2) In two recent opinions (SPJGA 210.4 and SPJGA 250.7) rendered respectively on May 22, 1942 and March 28, 1942 The Judge Advocate General concluded that a person holding stock in a corporation may be a "person directly or indirectly interested in the pecuniary costs or contracts of such corporation," within the meaning of the statute. It is to be emphasized, however, that these two opinions relate solely to that issue and do not constitute opinions on what constitutes the "transaction of business" with the corporation within the meaning of the statute. The construction of these words, as contained in the statute, was the subject of an opinion discussed in subparagraph (3) below.

(3) Under date of December 3, 1942 (SPJGA 1942/5702) the opinion of The Judge Advocate General was requested with respect to the employment of a person as head of an agency which would have complete charge of all phases of production of certain items which were purchased by the War and Navy Departments. The prospective head of the agency had been for some years an officer of a corporation which was one of the largest producers of the items with which the agency would be concerned, but at the time of the opinion was on leave of absence without pay. It appeared, however, that under a retirement system established by the corporation he would, if he lived to a specified age, become entitled to certain annual payments. It further appeared that there was an understanding that if the agency were called upon to transact business with the corporation in question, such transactions would be conducted by other officers or employees of the agency and that if questions were presented not capable of final decision by such other officers or employees, such questions would be referred to higher authority for decision. However, it also appeared that the head of the agency would be called upon to determine questions of general policy which would affect the corporation of which he was formerly an officer along with other producers. The Judge Advocate General concluded that section 41 of the Criminal Code would not be violated by the employment of such an individual as head of the agency.

(4) In an opinion dated February 3, 1923, the Acting Judge Advocate General throws further light on what constitutes transacting business within the meaning of section 41 of the Criminal Code. He had been requested to review the law in relation to the interest of the agents or officers of the United States in contracts with the United States with a view to the submission of proposed amendments thereto so as to permit the utilization of leading men in industry in an advisory capacity in connection with the planning and supervision of the procurement of war necessities. The opinion in part reads as follows:

The statute is to be strictly construed and criminality attaches only when an individual, being an officer, or member of a business concern or directly or indirectly interested in the profits of the concern is employed or acts as agent of the United States for the transaction of business with that concern. The Act contemplates the actual transaction of business. The negotiation of a tentative contract by an agent of the Government with a business concern in which that agent is an officer, member, or in which he is interested, although not binding upon either party until executed, in accordance with statutory authority and an appropriation sufficient for the fulfillment thereof, would probably be considered a violation of the statute if the performance of the contract was thereafter entered upon. For this reason, in the preparation of procurement plans, no person should be permitted to have a part as agent for the United States in the negotiation of tentative contracts with a concern of which he is an officer, agent or member, or in which he is pecuniarily interested. * * * it is considered that acting in a solely advisory capacity without actual participation in the negotiation or awarding of a contract or directing the awarding of a contract would not be a violation of Section 41 of the Federal Criminal Code.

(c) Regulations supplementary to basic statute. The following regulations supplementary to the statute set forth in paragraph (a) of this section are prescribed:

(1) No officer or employee of the War Department may act as an agent of the United States in advising, recommending, making or approving the purchase of supplies or other property, or in contracting therefor, if he would be admitted to share or receive directly or indirectly any pecuniary profit or benefit from such purchase or contract.

(2) No officer or civilian employee of the War Department shall be in direct charge of the negotiation of, or exercise authority for the final approval of, any contract with any corporation, joint-stock company, association or firm, if at any time during the period subsequent to December 7, 1936, such officer or civilian employee was employed by or engaged in a course of substantial non-Governmental business dealings with such corporation, joint-stock company, association or firm.

The Under Secretary of War is authorized to make exceptions to the regulation contained in subparagraph (2) above. In cases where the chief of a technical service feels that the application of the regulations contained in such subparagraph is impracticable, he should forward to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, a request for an exemption. Such request should be accompanied by a full statement of the circumstances which are believed to make such exemption necessary. No exemption may be made from the provisions of the statute referred to in paragraph (a) of this section or from subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

SUBPART E—PROPOSALS FOR LEGISLATIVE ACTION AND FOR EXECUTIVE ORDERS AFFECTING PROCUREMENT

§ 801.113 General. By Circular No. 59, War Department, 1942, the Legislative and Liaison Division, War Department, is charged with supervising the preparation of legislation requested by the War Department, with preparing reports to Committees of Congress and with the maintenance of liaison necessary thereto. Said Circular No. 59 further provides that the preparation of reports on legislation affecting the Army Ground Forces, the Army Air Forces or the Army Service Forces may be assigned to the command concerned.

§ 801.114 Legislation includes Executive orders. The terms "legislation" and "legislative", as hereinafter used in this subpart refer to action taken or to be taken by Congress, other than the enactment of strictly appropriation items, and to all Executive orders.

§ 801.115 Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War. With the approval and by the authority of the Under Secretary of War, the Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, is designated as the agency charged with the coordination within that Office, the Army Service Forces and the Army Air Forces, of all legislative matters affecting procurement or related functions.

§ 801.116 Proposals for legislative action affecting procurement. (a) Except as specifically otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this section, all proposals for legislative action affecting procurement or related functions, originating from any source whatsoever, will be referred to the Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, for coordination.

(b) All such proposals, other than proposals for Executive orders, originating from sources outside the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Army Service Forces or the Army Air Forces, will be referred to the Legal Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. The Legislative Section of that Branch will promptly review such proposals to determine which are of sufficient importance to the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Army Service Forces, Army Air Forces, or any of them to warrant further consideration. Such of the proposals as warrant such consideration will be referred directly to the Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, for coordination.

§ 801.117 Action of Legislative Division. The Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, will, with respect to such proposals originating within the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Army Service Forces, or the Army Air Forces:

(a) Take all necessary action to secure the views of those individuals and elements within the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Army Service Forces and the Army Air Forces, whose responsibilities would be affected by such legislative action.

(b) Refer any questions regarding the form of the proposed legislative action to the Legal Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for consideration and report.

(c) Make all necessary arrangements for proper coordination with other Government departments and agencies whose functions would be affected.

(d) If it is determined by proper authority to initiate such legislative action, coordinate the matter with the Legislative and Liaison Division, War Department.

(e) Take any other necessary or appropriate action in connection therewith.

With respect to such proposal originating from sources outside the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Army Service Forces or the Army Air Forces, Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War will, upon receipt of such proposals, take the action described in paragraphs (a), (c) and (e) above.

§ 801.118 Congressional hearings. Arrangements for appropriate representation from the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Army Service Forces and the Army Air Forces, at Congressional hearings on legislative proposals affecting procurement or related functions will be made through the Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War.

§ 801.119 Reports on legislative proposals. All requests from official sources, within or without the War Department, for reports on legislative proposals affecting procurement or related functions will, upon receipt by the Office of the Under Secretary of War, the Army Service Forces or the Army Air Forces, be referred to the Legislative Division, Office of the Under Secretary of War, which will secure reports from the appropriate sources within the aforesaid elements of the War Department and will forward such reports, after approval thereof by proper authority, through established channels to the sources of the requests.

SUBPART A—GENERAL

§ 802.201 Rescission of regulations. Army Regulations 5–140, May 22, 1940, as amended; Army Regulations 5–160, October 24, 1941, as amended; Army Regulations 5–240, February 11, 1936, as amended; and all other prior directives and instructions of whatsoever nature relating to negotiated purchases, open market purchases, procurement without advertising, and other purchasing methods are hereby rescinded.

§ 802.202 Compliance with this part. Unless otherwise specifically provided, compliance with any provision of this part or of any amendment thereto which requires a change in contract procedure or in any contract provision shall not be mandatory until thirty days after the issuance of such regulation or amendment.

§ 802.203 Definitions. (a) The term "negotiation" as used in these procurement regulations includes any method of contracting or purchasing, except the formal advertising and sealed bid procedure prescribed by section 3709, Revised Statutes.

(b) The term "negotiated purchases" includes all purchases made by negotiation as so defined. (See § 802.241).

§ 802.204 Contracting authority—(a) Basis. War Department contracting and purchasing are now based primarily on the authority contained in the act of December 18, 1941 (Public No. 354, 77th Congress) referred to as the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001, December 27, 1941. The earlier authority contained in sections 1 (a) and (b) of the act of July 2, 1940 (Public No. 703, 76th Congress) has also been extended, however, by section 9 of the act of June 30, 1941 (Public No. 139, 77th Congress) and by section 13 of the act of June 5, 1942 (Public No. 580, 77th Congress). (See § 802.240).

(b) First War Powers Act. Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, reads as follows:

SEC. 201. The President may authorize any department or agency of the Government exercising functions in connection with the prosecution of the war effort, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the President for the protection of the interests of the Government, to enter into contracts and into amendments or modifications of contracts heretofore or hereafter made and to make advance, progress and other payments thereon, without regard to the provisions of law relating to the making, performance, amendment, or modification of contracts whenever he deems such action would facilitate the prosecution of the war: Provided, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the use of the cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost system of contracting: Provided further, That nothing herein shall be construed to authorize any contracts in violation of existing law relating to limitation of profits: Provided further, That all acts under the authority of this section shall be made a matter of public record under regulations prescribed by the President and when deemed by him not to be incompatible with the public interest.

(c) Authority conferred. Title I of Executive Order No. 9001 confers authority on the War Department under The First War Powers Act, 1941, as follows:

(1) Section 1 of the Executive order authorizes the Secretary of War "within the limits of the amounts appropriated therefor, to enter into contracts and into amendments or modifications of contracts heretofore or hereafter made, and to make advance, progress, and other payments thereon, without regard to the provisions of law relating to the making, performance, amendment, or modification of contracts" and to delegate these powers with authority to redelegate them. With respect to such delegations, see § 801.107 and following of this chapter, and especially § 801.107 (i).

(2) "The contracts hereby authorized to be made include agreements of all kinds (whether in the form of letters of intent, purchase orders, or otherwise) for all types and kinds of things and services necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of war, or for the invention, development, or production of, or research concerning any such things, including but not limited to, aircraft, buildings, vessels, arms, armament, equipment, or supplies of any kind, or any portion thereof, including plans, spare parts and equipment therefor, materials, supplies, facilities, utilities, machinery, machine tools, and any other equipment, without any restriction of any kind, either as to type, character, location or form."

(3) "The War Department, the Navy Department, and the United States Maritime Commission may by agreement modify or amend or settle claims under contracts heretofore or hereafter made, may make advance, progress and other payments upon such contracts of any percentum of the contract price, and may enter into agreements with contractors and/or obligors, modifying or releasing accrued obligations of any sort, including accrued liquidated damages or liability under surety or other bonds, whenever, in the judgment of the War Department, the Navy Department, or the United States Maritime Commission respectively the prosecution of the war is thereby facilitated. Amendments and modifications of contracts may be with or without consideration and may be utilized to accomplish the same things as any original contract could have accomplished hereunder, irrespective of the time or circumstances of the making of or the form of the contract amended or modified, or of the amending or modifying contract, and irrespective of rights which may have accrued under the contract, or the amendments or modifications thereof."

(4) "Advertising, competitive bidding and bid, payment, performance, or other bonds or other forms of security, need not be required." (See Part 804 of this chapter.)

(d) Restrictions on powers. Title II of Executive Order No. 9001 prescribes the following regulations for the exercise of the authority thereby conferred.

(1) "Complete data shall be maintained by the War Department, the Navy Department, and the United States Maritime Commission as to all contracts and purchases which they respectively make pursuant to the act and this Executive order. The Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, and the Chairman of the United States Maritime Commission shall make available for public inspection, as they may respectively deem compatible with the public interest, so much of such data as does not cover restricted, confidential, or secret contracts or purchases." (As amended by E.O. 9296, January 30, 1943. See Subpart I of this part.)

(2) Notwithstanding anything in the act or Executive order, the War Department, the Navy Department, and the United States Maritime Commission shall not discriminate in any act performed thereunder against any person on the ground of race, creed, color or national origin, and all contracts shall be deemed to incorporate by reference a provision that the contractor and any subcontractors thereunder shall not so discriminate. (See § 803.325.)

(3) No claim against the United States arising under any purchase or contract made under the authority of the Act shall be assigned except in accordance with the Assignment of Claims Act, 1940 (Public No. 811, 76th Congress, approved October 9, 1940). (See § 803.390.)

(4) Advance payments shall be made hereunder only after careful scrutiny to determine that such payments will promote the national interest and under such regulations to that end as the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy, or the United States Maritime Commission may prescribe. (See § 803.321.)

(5) Every contract entered into pursuant to the act and Executive order must contain the warranty by the contractor against payment of commissions and contingent fees set out in § 803.323 or § 807.726 (see § 811.1181).

(6) The cost-plus-a-percentage-of-cost system of contracting shall not be used.

(7) Provisions of law limiting profits under contracts or fixed-fees continue in effect and in no case shall the fixed fee under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract exceed 7% of the estimated cost exclusive of the fee.

(8) No contract or modification or amendment thereof shall be exempt from the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Act (49 Stat. 2036) because of being entered into without advertising or competitive bidding, and the provisions of that act, the Davis-Bacon Act, as amended (49 Stat. 1011), the Copeland Act, as amended (48 Stat. 948) and the Eight Hour Law, as amended by the act of September 9, 1940 (Public No. 781, 76th Congress) if otherwise applicable apply to contracts made and performed under the authority of the act and Executive order. (See Part 809 of this chapter.)

(e) Extent of authority. By an opinion dated August 29, 1942, the Attorney General of the United States has construed the power conferred by the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001. This opinion ruled that a proposed delegation of authority from the Under Secretary of War to the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, substantially similar to the delegation contained in § 801.107 (e) was within the authority of the act and Executive order.

§ 802.205 Purpose of regulations. In conferring the powers under the First War Powers Act, Executive Order No. 9001 directed the war agencies to work with the War Production Board "to bring about the conversion of manufacturing industries to war production, including the surveying of the war potential of industries, plant by plant; the spreading of war orders; the conversion of facilities; the assurance of efficient and speedy production; the development and use of subcontracting to the fullest extent and conservation of strategic materials." The policies and procedures designed to carry out these procurement objectives are stated in this and the following regulations. This regulation discusses the basic principles underlying the policies and methods elaborated in the subsequent regulations, and the relation of these various policies to the procurement program as a whole.

SUBPART B—CONTRACT PLACEMENT

§ 802.220 Scope of subpart. (a) Attainment of the essential procurement objectives with the minimum disruption of the nation's economic system, and effective use of available labor, materials and facilities, depend to a large extent on sound contract placement. This section states the policies to be followed and the factors to be considered in placing contracts, in selecting contractors, in scheduling deliveries and in revising delivery schedules.

(b) Related regulations. Further policies governing placement of contracts for plant facilities expansion are treated in Part 810 of this chapter. Policies governing purchasing through other services and other departments are discussed in Part 806 of this chapter, and foreign purchases are treated in Part 805. Policies governing cutbacks and curtailment of production are stated in Part 815.

§ 802.221 Purchase of used or second-hand materials—(a) Policy. In view of the prevalent shortages of raw materials, manufacturing facilities and labor, second-hand or used articles will be procured instead of new articles whenever (1) they are suitable in quality and design for the particular purpose involved, and (2) they can be obtained at reasonable cost with reasonable effort at the time required, unless any agency allocating such articles (such as the Machine Tool Section of the Production Division) orders otherwise.

(b) Execution. The chief of each technical service will make adequate provision to insure that all procurement officers and agencies under his direction comply with the policy stated in paragraph (a) of this section, and will place responsibility upon a designated member of his staff for requiring compliance with that policy to the greatest extent practicable.

(c) Obstacles. Whenever a statute, order or regulation prevents the effective procurement of suitable used articles or other articles already available instead of new articles, the chief of the technical service concerned will notify the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, of this fact so that appropriate action may be taken pursuant to the First War Powers Act, 1941 and Executive Order 9001, or otherwise, to remove any obstruction to such procurement.

(d) Purchases through Procurement Division, Treasury Department. In connection with the use of used or second hand materials, it is of the utmost importance that all procurement offices and agencies avail themselves of the facilities of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department as more fully set forth in § 806.613. That division makes available to the War Department property which is surplus to the need of other Government agencies. Chiefs of technical services should see that all procurement offices and agencies under their direction obtain the catalog of available property referred to in § 806.613 (f), and that they keep in touch with the Regional Property Officers of the Procurement Division referred to in § 806.613 (e). In this way much used and second hand material can be obtained.

§ 802.222 Time for placing contracts and scheduling deliveries—(a) General policies. (1) At an earlier stage in the war program, procuring agencies were encouraged to place contracts at the earliest possible time and to require contractors to commence production or to place subcontracts immediately. That policy was desirable as long as Army procurement was directed primarily to the task of providing the initial equipment for the rapidly expanding requirements of the Army and of the United Nations. However, that phase of procurement is now approaching completion. Except for comparatively few items, procurement for the future is designed to meet estimated replacements and operational requirements. The paramount and governing policy is still to place contracts sufficiently in advance of the actual need for the supplies to assure that deliveries will be made on time and in the proper quantities. Subject to this guiding principle, conditions now make it advisable that in the placement of contracts consideration also be given (i) to restricting contract commitments to the practicable minimum both as to time and quantity, and (ii) to the use of contract forms which will provide for the maximum flexibility in production rates while at the same time assuring the availability of the production facilities needed to produce all known requirements. This change of emphasis is essential if useless surpluses and costly cancellation and termination changes are to be avoided.

(2) The schedule of deliveries to correspond more closely with actual requirements is likewise essential in the present stage of the war program. Close scheduling tends to prevent the building up of surpluses and to diminish termination claims. It is also vital to the most efficient use of available industrial capacity. If manufacturers are required to produce and deliver items long before they will actually be needed, they may be forced to increase the number of their employees abnormally or be unable to produce other items which will be needed sooner, and scarce materials may be tied in inventory not currently needed. Thus the failure to schedule deliveries properly tends to disrupt the Army supply program and prevents industrial capacity from being used in the production of items as they are needed. Accordingly future contracts will be scheduled so that supplies will be delivered to synchronize with actual requirements, unless in a particular case efficient production requires otherwise. Existing contracts will also be reviewed with a view to rescheduling deliveries on the same basis.

(b) Suggested methods for minimizing contract commitments or increasing flexibility of production rates. In succeeding paragraphs, certain contract procedures are outlined by which in particular cases flexibility of production rates of may be attained or contract commitments reduced in time and amount. These procedures are suggestive only; they are not all-inclusive. It is recognized that variations of these procedures and the adoption of wholly different procedures may be required in many cases. It is emphasized, however, that it is a condition to the effective use of any such procedures that procuring agencies know, well in advance, the total procurement program with which they are charged; appraise the availability of production facilities in relation to that program; and understand the production problems of their contractors.

(c) Avoiding excessive "lead time"—(1) Withholding contract placement. Where it is known that production facilities will be available and adequate for a given period, it will often be possible and prudent to withhold the placement of contracts (or of some portion of the total contracts to be placed) until shortly before the start of the actual "lead time" which is required for the particular procurement.

(2) Controlling rate of performance. In other instances, where it is necessary to obtain more definite assurance of the availability of production facilities, it will be feasible to place contracts well in advance of the actually required "lead time," but to provide expressly, by contract, that acquisition of materials, placement of subcontracts, or manufacture shall not commence until an agreed date, or shall proceed at a rate of speed not in excess of an agreed rate.

(d) Short term contracts. For a variety of reasons, some of which were related only to administrative convenience, procuring agencies have in the past tended to enter upon long term commitments covering all the supplies believed to be needed over a lengthy period of time. Long term commitments may be necessary where, for example, the supplies to be procured are distinctively war items and involve long range development. Long term commitments, however, are often not essential where the supplies to be procured are standard commercial items, especially if any excess production, not absorbed by the Army, is needed or may readily be absorbed by the civilian economy. In such cases commitments may well be short term and for relatively small amounts. Besides reducing outstanding commitments, this procedure will tend to bring about lower prices because allowances for contingencies are reduced when the contract period is short. It will also tend to effect savings when engineering changes are ordered.

(e) Short term commitments with options of renewal. In some cases it will be found advisable to enter into a short term initial commitment with an option or a number of successive options in the Government to extend or renew the commitment, exercisable by giving notice an agreed period of time in advance of completion of the initial commitment, sufficient for the contractor to procure the necessary materials to assure continuity of production if the option is exercised by the Government. Prices for option periods extending over any long period of time should not be made final at the time the original commitment is made. The techniques of price redetermination and price revision (see Part 812, Subparts B, C, and D, of this chapter) should be availed of where possible.

(f) Cancelling future deliveries by advance notice. Particularly in the procurement of standard commercial items, it will often be possible without hardship on contractors to provide that the Government may cancel future deliveries without liability, upon giving notice to the contractor an agreed period of time in advance. This period of advance notice should be fixed with due regard to the contractor's problems in scheduling raw materials and component parts and avoiding excessive inventories at the effective date of cancellation. Experience has shown that many contractors will readily acquiesce in this procedure and will not claim increased prices to compensate for the contingency of cancellation. However, in some cases where the procedure here described is availed of, it may be proper to provide for a sliding scale of prices with higher prices for early than for later deliveries, in order that starting load costs may be covered if future deliveries are cancelled. As an alternative, it may be advisable to provide that prices for all or for the later deliveries shall be subject to an appropriate type of price redetermination or price revision. The contract should provide that in case the contract is cancelled for the convenience of the Government without the agreed advance notice, settlement will be made under the uniform termination article (§ 803.324 (g)) as though the contract called only for the deliveries scheduled up to the date upon which the agreed period of notice would have expired.

(g) Use of "Letter of Commitment" for controlled materials or critical components. (1) Especially in the procurement of items other than standard commercial items, the tendency to make a long term commitment has frequently been based upon the fact that the contractor must have a binding contract well in advance in order to place his orders for CMP materials, or for critical components which require a long period of manufacture. In many of these cases the time required by the prime contractor to manufacture the end item, after the CMP materials or critical components have been delivered, is relatively short, and there would be no occasion for a long term commitment were it not for the time required for the procurement of the controlled materials or the critical components. Under such circumstances it is proper to make an early commitment with a prime contractor which will empower him to purchase the controlled materials or to acquire the critical components, but to withhold placing the contract for the end item until shortly before the "lead time" actually required for the production of the end item. This plan is considered particularly effective where a surplus of facilities exists and competition is present.

(2) A form of "Letter of Commitment (Raw Materials Under CMP)" has been published as a standard form (§ 813.1328). Under this form the contractor is authorized to purchase controlled materials. The Government does not commit itself to place a production contract for the end item with the contractor who received the letter of commitment. If the letter of commitment is terminated, or a production contract is not placed with the contractor who has received the letter of commitment, the contractor is assured reimbursement of his costs upon transfer of the materials to the Government or its designee (who may be another contractor to whom a production contract is awarded). To the extent that a production contract is awarded to the contractor requiring the use of the controlled materials, the Government's obligation under the letter of commitment is correspondingly reduced.

(3) The form of letter of commitment may be accommodated by proper amendments to cases where it is desired that critical components be acquired, or critical components plus controlled materials.

(4) The form of letter of commitment here discussed is not to be considered a letter of intent or letter order within the meaning of § 803.303a, which deals with temporary or preliminary contract instruments (see §§ 813.1307, 813.1308, 813.1309, 813.1310) calling upon the contractor to commence production of an item, rather than merely to acquire raw materials or critical components. While the use of letters of intent or letter orders of the former type is discouraged, and the technical services are urged to supersede such instruments by definitive contacts at the earliest feasible time, the letter of commitment will be used wherever feasible in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, and it will not be supplanted by definitive production contracts until shortly before the commencement of the required "lead time" for production. The form of letter of commitment published at § 813.1328 includes no provision for the allowance of a profit in case of termination. Provision for a profit in such contingency may, however, be included with the prior approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(h) Use of special "changes" article (§ 803.329a). The special "changes" article set forth at § 803.329a authorizes, within agreed limits, and on certain conditions, the increase or decrease of the quantity of supplies to be delivered under a contract, and the extension or acceleration of delivery schedules. This article affords a ready means of adjusting quantities and deliveries to meet actual requirements, especially in the purchase of items which do not involve a long "lead time". It is not, however, intended that the special "changes" article shall be used as a means of avoiding the regular termination procedure for large scale terminations.

(i) Illustrative contract provisions. Two sets of contract provisions are here reproduced, exemplifying certain of the techniques discussed above.

(1) "Short term supply contract with Government options." Under this form of contract, the Government contracts for a quantity of supplies to be delivered over a period of three months, reserving options of renewal for three successive quarterly periods. Prices for each option period are to be negotiated, and, failing agreement, are to be fixed by the contracting officer at an amount representing fair and just compensation (with a right of review under the Disputes article). The contractor is obligated to procure necessary raw materials including packing supplies during an agreed "lead time" preceding the exercise of each option and is to be paid his applicable costs plus 2% in case the Government fails to exercise the option. W. D. Contract Form No. 1 (§ 813.1301) is used with the following additional provisions:

(a) The three months for which a delivery schedule is set forth herein is hereafter referred to as the "base period" and the amount to be delivered during such period is hereafter referred to as the "base period amount."

(b) The Government further authorizes the Contractor and the Contractor agrees to take as promptly as necessary all steps required in accordance with good business practice to have available all raw materials including packing supplies so as to be able to deliver during the three months succeeding the base period a quantity of the articles contracted for equal to the base period amount.

(c) Contractor agrees that the Government shall have the option to purchase a quantity of the articles contracted for, equal to the base period amount, to be delivered F. O. B. ---------- in accordance with the delivery schedule determined by the Government, within a period of three months from the last delivery date immediately preceding the said option period. Such option shall be exercised by the delivery to the Contractor by the Contracting Officer of a notice to that effect thirty days prior to said delivery date. Upon receipt of said notice, the Contractor further agrees to take as promptly as necessary all steps required in accordance with good business practice to have available all raw materials, including packing supplies, so as to be able to deliver during the three months succeeding the said option period a second additional quantity of the articles covered by this contract equal to the base period amount.

(d) The parties agree that the price for the quantity covered by such option to be delivered in accordance with the delivery schedule determined by the Government shall be agreed upon at least fifteen days prior to the last delivery date immediately preceding the said option period, or within such further period as may be agreed upon by the Contractor and the Contracting Officer, and, when agreed upon, shall be evidenced by supplemental agreement hereto.

(e) In the event that the parties fail to agree, within the time specified, as to the price of the articles so to be delivered during such three months option period, the price payable therefor shall be determined at an amount constituting fair and just compensation for such articles. Such determination shall be made by the Contracting Officer and shall be subject to review in the manner provided in Article —— (Disputes).

(f) Negotiations for the fixing of the price for the quantities to be delivered during the three month option period shall be conducted on the same basis and shall employ the same types of data as in the case of a negotiation of a price under a new contract. The Contracting Officer may request and the Contractor shall supply the same types of information as in the case of a new contract including, without limiting the foregoing, the information developed and the additional experience gained in the performance of this contract.

(g) The Contractor agrees that if the Government shall exercise the option above provided for, it shall have two additional successive options to purchase additional quantities of the articles contracted for, each equal to the base period amount, and each such quantity to be delivered F. O. B. ---------- within periods of three months each immediately succeeding the preceding option periods. The manner in which these additional successive options shall be exercised and the method of determining the prices for the quantities to be delivered during such additional option periods respectively shall be as set forth with respect to the first option except that as to the last three month option, the Contractor is not authorized to incur any costs for any raw material or packing supplies for any deliveries beyond said last option period. If the Government fails to exercise any one of the aforesaid options it may not exercise any successive option.

(h) In the event the Government does not exercise any one of the options herein granted to it the Government agrees to reimburse the Contractor for all costs incurred by it in connection with having available raw materials and packing supplies as provided herein, and in addition a sum equal to 2% of such costs, and the Contractor agrees that it shall transfer title to and deliver such supplies and raw materials to or upon the order of the Government in the manner, to the extent and at the times directed by the Contracting Officer, or in the absence of such directions, shall retain such raw materials and packing supplies at prices to be agreed upon.

(i) The fixing of the contract price for any period as hereinbefore provided shall be without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under the Renegotiation Act, as amended, or any contract article inserted pursuant to that Act or providing for renegotiation of the contract price to eliminate excessive profits.

(2) "Supply contract with short term limitations." Under this form of contract, the Government contracts for a year's quantity, but the price and delivery schedule are established in the contract for the first three month period only. Prices for the quantities directed by the Government to be delivered during each ensuing quarterly period are to be negotiated in advance of the commencement of each period, and, failing agreement, are to be fixed by the contracting officer at an amount representing fair and just compensation (with a right of review under the Disputes article). The contractor is obligated, during certain "lead" times, to procure raw materials including packing supplies and perform processing and manufacturing operations adequate to meet deliveries during the period succeeding the period for which prices are agreed to or fixed. Appropriate amendment is made of the uniform termination article (§ 803.324 (g)) restricting in certain respects the rights of the Contractor in the event of termination of the contract for the convenience of the Government. W. D. Contract Form No. 1 is used, with the following additional provisions:

(a) The three months for which delivery schedule is set forth herein is hereafter referred to as the "base period."

(b) The unit price or prices for the quantities directed by the Government to be delivered in each three month period subsequent to the expiration of the base period in accordance with the delivery schedule determined by the Government shall be fixed by agreement between the parties within 30 days but not less than 15 days immediately preceding the commencement of each subsequent period or such other time as may be agreed upon by the Contractor and the Contracting Officer, and when agreed upon shall be evidenced by Supplemental Agreement hereto. In the event that the parties fail to agree, within the specified time, upon the price of the articles so to be delivered during any such subsequent three-month period, the price payable therefor shall be determined at an amount constituting fair and just compensation for such articles. Such determination shall be made by the Contracting Officer and shall be subject to review in the manner provided in Article —— (Disputes).

(c) Negotiations for the fixing of the price for the quantities to be delivered during any three month period succeeding the base period shall be conducted on the same basis and shall employ the same types of data as in the case of a negotiation of a price under a new contract. The Contracting Officer may request and the Contractor shall supply the same types of information as in the case of a new contract including, without limiting the foregoing, the information developed and the additional experience gained in the performance of this contract.

(d) The Contractor agrees to take, and to continue to take from time to time as prices are fixed for periods succeeding the base period, as promptly as necessary all steps required in accordance with good business practice (i) to have available all raw materials including packing supplies so as to be able to deliver during the three month period succeeding the date for which unit prices shall last have been fixed, quantities equal to those for which unit prices shall last have been fixed, but not in excess thereof, and (ii) to perform processing or manufacturing operations with respect to said quantities so as to be able to deliver them during such succeeding period but not to begin such operations prior to 30 days immediately preceding the commencement of such subsequent period without the approval in advance of the Contracting Officer, and, in such event, only to the extent to which the Contracting Officer shall approve in advance.

(e) In the event that this contract shall be terminated pursuant to the provisions of Article — ("Termination at the Option of the Government") the rights of the parties as respects that portion of the contract for which unit prices shall not have been fixed shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Article —: Provided, however,

(i) That the Government shall reimburse the Contractor in connection with such portion of this contract for which unit prices shall not have then been agreed upon for costs which were incurred only in connection with (a) raw materials and packing supplies for quantities to be delivered during a period of three months succeeding the period for which unit prices shall have last then been fixed and (b) the processing and manufacturing operations performed with respect to such quantities in accordance with the aforesaid provisions. If as a result of such operations the Contractor shall have completed supplies called for herein in excess of the quantity for which unit prices shall have been agreed upon, the Contractor may, but is not obligated to, transfer title and deliver such completed supplies to or upon the order of the Government in the manner, to the extent and at the times directed by the Contracting Officer. If the Contractor transfers such title and makes such delivery of completed supplies, the Government will pay therefor, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with this paragraph, the unit price last fixed under this contract or by Supplemental Agreement thereto; if the Contractor does not transfer title or deliver such supplies as herein set forth the Government shall not reimburse the Contractor for any costs incurred in connection therewith.

(ii) For the purposes of paragraph (d) Article — ("Termination at the Option of the Government") the contract price of all units of supplies called for by this contract, the price of which shall not have been fixed, shall be deemed to be the unit price last fixed under this contract or by Supplemental Agreement thereto.

(f) The fixing of the contract price for any period as hereinbefore provided shall be without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under the Renegotiation Act, as amended, or any contract article inserted pursuant to that Act or providing for renegotiation of the contract price to eliminate excessive profits.

(j) Technical services urged to devise contract provisions and procedures to carry out the foregoing program. Subject to any approvals of higher authority required to be obtained in particular cases under Parts 801 to 816 of this chapter (see especially § 803.306), the technical services are urged to devise and employ contract provisions and procedures along the lines discussed above.

§ 802.223 Factors governing placement of contracts. The selection of a contractor for a particular contract from among the available qualified producers depends on a number of factors. In making such selections effect must be given to various policies expressed by the Office of War Mobilization, by the War Production Board (see Directive No. 2, 18 September 1943; 8 F.R. 12968), by the War Manpower Commission in its directives, and by Congress, as in the Smaller War Plants Act. These policies, their relation and relative importance are discussed in the following paragraphs, which are applicable both to the placement of new business and to the revision or reduction of existing programs:

(a) Ability to perform. Primary emphasis shall be placed upon securing performance or deliveries at the time, in the quantity, and of the quality required by the war program. As indicated in § 802.222 (a), the objective is to insure delivery in time to avoid delays in the war program, but to avoid creation of unnecessary inventories.

(b) War Manpower Commission labor area. The War Manpower Commission has divided the country into twelve Regions and from time to time classifies localities in each Region according to their labor supply conditions and on this basis designates them as:

Group I: Areas of current acute labor shortage.

Group II: Areas of labor stringency and those anticipating a labor shortage within six months.

Group III: Areas in which a slight labor reserve will remain after six months.

Group IV: Areas in which a substantial labor reserve will remain after six months.

The Industrial Personnel Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will advise the technical services monthly, or more often if conditions warrant, of the designations of the War Manpower Commission.

(c) Area Production Urgency Committee areas. Effective 15 September 1943 the Office of War Mobilization announced a program for dealing with the acute labor shortage problem in certain localities of the West Coast. On 5 October 1943 the War Production Board announced a program for the placement of contracts in the States of Washington, Oregon and California. The War Production Board announced a similar program for the Hartford, Connecticut, Akron, Ohio, and Detroit, Michigan areas, on 15 October 1943; for the Cleveland, Ohio, and Buffalo, New York areas on 14 December 1943; and for the Chicago, Illinois, area on 29 March 1944. Area Production Urgency Committees have been appointed for and are functioning in respect of these unusually critical labor areas. Similar programs may be adopted for other such labor areas, in which event any necessary directives will be issued prescribing the procedures to be followed for complying therewith. The policies stated in the remaining paragraphs of this section will be subject to the requirements of such directives.

(d) Policy with respect to placing of contracts in labor shortage areas. The following policies will be observed with respect to the placing of contracts in the labor shortage areas:

(d–1) Group I areas for which Area Production Urgency Committees have been appointed—(1) Contracts not requiring clearance of Committee; reporting as to intended placement. (i) Except to the extent provided in any directive issued after 1 February 1944 as to any Group I Area for which an Area Production Committee has been appointed, the provisions of which directive will control as to the placement of contracts in that area until revoked,[1] the following types of contracts may be placed in these areas without clearance with, or approval of, the appropriate Committee:

(a) New and continuation contracts which cannot be placed elsewhere with adequate assurance of obtaining satisfactory performance and timely deliveries and which will not increase employment in the contractor's plant; and

(b) New and continuation contracts with independent contractors (those not subsidiaries of larger concerns) that employ no more than 100 persons (excluding office and sales personnel) which will result in no increase whatsoever in the number of persons so employed; for example, an independent concern employing 30 persons, if performance of the contract will not require it to increase the number above 30; Provided, That, such contracts may be placed with independent contractors in the States of Washington, Oregon or California only if they employ no more than 50 such persons.

(ii) Although such contracts may be placed in any such area without approval of the appropriate Committee, nevertheless before such placement of an unclassified contract of a total value in excess of $50,000, there will be transmitted to the Appropriate Committee four copies of form GA–861, duly completed, which will have endorsed thereon the proposed contract number and the legend "For Information Only". These will be transmitted through the Army representative on the Committee, or in the case of the Army Air Forces the Army Air Forces representative on the Committee, at least seven days before placement of the contract, unless this will unduly delay production, in which case they will be transmitted as far before placement as is practicable.

(2) Contracts requiring clearance of Committee; application for such clearance. (i) The following types of contracts must be cleared with the appropriate Area Production Urgency Committee before placement in any Group I area for which a Committee has been appointed and may be placed in these areas only if such placement has been approved by the Committee:

(a) New and continuation contracts which cannot be placed elsewhere with adequate assurance of obtaining satisfactory performance and timely deliveries but which will increase employment in the contractor's plant;

(b) New contracts which can be placed elsewhere with adequate assurance of obtaining satisfactory performance and timely deliveries but which the technical service believes should be placed in the area, as, for example, to effect a substantial saving in transportation;

(c) Continuation contracts which can be placed elsewhere with adequate assurance of obtaining satisfactory performance and timely deliveries but which the technical service desires to continue in the area, as, for example, to prevent an undue hardship to the contractor which might result from withholding continuation orders.

(ii) Since the Committee areas are the most critical of all the Group I areas, the technical services will not request Committee approval under subdivisions (b) or (c) above for any contract which the technical services are not authorized to place in non-Committee Group I areas under paragraph (d–2) of this section.

(iii) Applications for clearance by the Committee will be made to the Committee for the area in which the facilities of the contractor at which the work, or a major part of the work, will be done are situated. Applications, which may seek approval of a single contract or an entire program, will be submitted in four copies on form GA–861 and will be transmitted through the Army or, in the case of the Army Air Forces, the Army Air Forces representative on the Committee.

(d–2) Group I areas for which no Area Production Committee has been appointed. It is the intent to avoid so far as possible the placement of contracts in these areas. The only contracts which may be placed in these areas are those:

(1) Which cannot be placed elsewhere with adequate assurance of obtaining satisfactory performance and timely deliveries; or

(2) For which established special facilities exist and for which labor has been specially trained; or

(3) Which, in the considered judgment of the chief of the technical service concerned, or of any person or persons to whom he may delegate his authority in this respect, it is impracticable to place elsewhere.

(d–3) Group II areas. The following types of contracts may be placed in Group II areas:

(1) Continuation contracts which will require no labor in addition to that currently employed by the contractor and

(2) New and continuation contracts which cannot be placed in a Group III, IV or an unclassified area with adequate assurance of satisfactory performance and timely deliveries.

(d–4) Exceptions as to restrictions applying to Group I and Group II areas. (1) The foregoing restrictions upon the placement of contracts contained in paragraphs (d–1) to (d–4) do not apply to contracts with originating manufacturers for newly developed articles placed in accordance with § 802.224. The provisions of paragraph (d–1) (1) (ii), with respect to reporting placement to the Area Production Urgency Committee, however, apply in the event such contracts are placed in a Group I area for which a Committee has been appointed.

(2) The restrictions contained in paragraphs (d–2) and (d–3) do not apply with respect to contracts with firms which currently employ less than 100 wage earners and which will not employ more than 100 wage earners during the performance of the contract.

(d–5) Group III and unclassified areas. There are no restrictions upon the placement of contracts in Group III and unclassified areas.

(e) Policy with respect to placing of contracts in labor surplus areas. It is the policy of the War Department to make every effort to place a substantial amount of its business with concerns located in Group IV areas, to the extent placement there is consistent with other procurement objectives and satisfactory performance and timely deliveries can be assured.

(f) Subcontracting in labor shortage areas. (1) Prime contractors holding the bulk of War Department contracts have received a request from the Under Secretary of War to apply principles similar to those described in paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section in placing their subcontracts for the fabrication of products required by their prime contracts. When new prime contracts which may involve subcontracting are made, the prime contractors will be advised of these principles by contracting officers and will be strongly urged to apply them in placing subcontracts.

(2) Where to give effect to changes in the classification of labor supply areas occurring after the execution of a particular prime contract would decrease the efficiency or increase the cost of placing recurring subcontracts thereunder, the chief of a technical service or his duly authorized representative is authorized, pursuant to the First War Powers Act, 1941, to enter into and approve supplemental agreements to provide for the payment of any increased price to the prime contractor to cover increased costs resulting from such changes in subcontracting, in the same manner as provided in § 802.225 (f) (3). It is hereby determined that supplemental agreements entered into for this purpose will facilitate the prosecution of the war.

(3) Many prime contractors are regularly receiving the monthly classification

[1] Special restrictions upon the placement and continuation of contracts in the Hartford, Connecticut area are stated in Army Service Forces Circular No. 38 of 3 February 1944, to which reference is made for the policy governing placement in that area so long as the provisions of such Circular are in effect.

of labor market areas issued by the War Manpower Commission. Arrangements may be made to have additional prime contractors supplied with them by communicating directly with the Division of Procurement Policy, War Production Board, Washington, D. C.

(g) Other factors. When policies relating to ability to perform and labor supply have been met, contracts will be placed so as to give due weight in each instance to the following objectives:

(1) Cost and efficiency. Placements of contracts so as to use the minimum number of man-hours and the minimum quantity of material to make the supplies needed. In the long run this will result in the lowest cost to the Government. In the absence of actual data as to the relative efficiency of producers in utilizing manpower and material, their comparative prices are normally the best test of their relative efficiency in these respects, unless other differences between them (such as differences in their cost of transportation or in their expenditures for facilities) distort the comparison. Whenever such information is needed producers will be required to furnish actual or estimated cost data covering their production. In so far as possible contracts should provide the maximum incentive to the producer for the reduction of his costs.

(2) Small business concerns. Placement of contracts so as to make the most effective utilization of the small plants of the nation. To this end, as large a proportion of awards as practicable will be made to qualified small concerns, directly if feasible and, if not, through awards to larger firms which will subcontract to small concerns. To achieve these objectives, payment of a reasonable premium is authorized where necessary, in accordance with directives from time to time in effect.

(3) Conservation of special abilities. Conservation for the more difficult war production problems of the resources of concerns best able, by reason of engineering, managerial and physical resources, to handle them, through placement of contracts for items which involve relatively simple production problems with concerns, normally the smaller ones, which are less able to handle the more difficult problems.

(4) New facilities. Avoidance, so far as possible, of the creation of additional new (as distinguished from existing) machinery, equipment or facilities.

(5) Transportation. Conservation of transportation facilities by avoiding unnecessary crosshauling of raw, semifinished or finished material from the point of origin to the point of consumption and by avoiding long hauling when such materials are available at a shorter distance.

(6) More than one source of supply. Placement of contracts, whenever practicable, so as to have for each item of supply and equipment at least two producers so located as not to be subject to the same hazard. Determination of whether it is practicable so to do shall be made by the chief of the technical service concerned.

No one of the six objectives stated in this paragraph should alone be regarded as controlling. The placement or revision of contracts should reflect an evaluation of all these objectives which are applicable to the particular case.

(h) Price. (1) The application of the principles stated in paragraphs (a) to (g), inclusive, will in some instances require the payment of prices higher than those of the lowest bidder. The technical services are hereby authorized and directed to pay higher prices than would otherwise be required to the extent that such action is necessary to carry out the foregoing policies.

(2) When the foregoing policies have been met and selection among available contractors is still possible, contracts will be so placed as to obtain the lowest price for the Government.

§ 802.224 Contracts for newly developed articles. In placing contracts for new articles developed by a manufacturer for War Department use, the following principles will be observed:

(a) In general a substantial proportion of the initial orders for a new article should be placed with the manufacturer who developed it. Unless the chief of the technical service concerned deems it impracticable so to do, effort should be made to place enough of the volume with other qualified producers to develop at least one other experienced source; except in unusual cases this should be a going production order and not a limited quantity educational order.

(b) When the originating manufacturer demands a price for the item substantially higher than the price for which it can be secured elsewhere, or will require substantially more facilities or tools than some other producer in order to get into production, or is already heavily loaded with orders, and the article can readily be made by one or more other producers, the contracts for the article should be placed with such producers. In such cases the originating manufacturer should be fairly paid for his developmental work as such.

§ 802.225 Smaller War Plants policy—(a) Smaller War Plants Act. (1) Public Law 603—77th Congress (approved June 11, 1942) creates the "Smaller War Plants Corporation" (hereinafter referred to as "SWPC") and gives the Chairman of the War Production Board certain powers and responsibilities incident to placement of Government contracts with smaller plants. The majority of such powers have been delegated by the Chairman of the War Production Board to the Chairman of SWPC.

(2) The act gives SWPC power to enter into prime contracts with the War Department for articles, equipment, supplies or materials, or parts thereof, or work in connection therewith, and to subcontract the production of these items to small business concerns. If the Chairman of the War Production Board certifies that SWPC is competent to perform any specific Government procurement contract, the contract must be let to it on such terms and conditions as the Chairman may specify.

(3) The act also authorizes SWPC, by delegation from the Chairman of the War Production Board, to certify small business concerns or groups of such concerns to the Secretary of War with respect to capacity and credit as to a specific Government procurement contract. The War Department is directed to accept such certification as conclusive and is authorized to place the contract with the concern or group of concerns without requiring the meeting of any other requirements with respect to capacity and credit.

(4) The act recognizes that small plants are frequently unable to produce at as low a per unit cost as larger plants and that, as a consequence, it may be necessary for the Government to pay a higher per unit price for articles when obtaining them from small plants than it pays to business concerns operating large plants. War Department policy in respect to this will be prescribed by further instructions from time to time.

(b) General policy. (1) The established policy of the War Department is to place the greatest practicable volume of prime contracts and to encourage subcontracts with small business concerns or groups of such concerns without the necessity of plant certification or the taking of prime contracts by SWPC. To implement this policy, the basic program covered in paragraphs (c) to (i) of this section is established in order to assist the smaller plants to participate to the greatest practicable extent in War Department contracts.

(2) It is recognized that procurement procedures vary as between technical services, and it is the policy of the War Department that procedures to be established between each technical service and SWPC will coordinate closely with the normal operations of the technical service. It is the responsibility of the chief of each technical service to establish operating procedures within his technical service with SWPC in conformity with the policies stated in this section. Such procedures shall be established by mutual agreement between SWPC and each technical service, and shall be in writing. A copy of such agreement shall be provided the Small War Plants Branch, Purchases Division, Army Service Forces, which office is available for any assistance requested in connection with preparing the agreement.

(c) Designations by, and representatives of, SWPC. (1) To date no certifications as referred to in pargraph (a) (3) have been made to the Secretary of War by SWPC. However, a program has been and will continue to be in effect whereby small concerns are recommended by SWPC to each contracting office of the War Department as being capable of performing contracts under particular procurements. Such recommendations are called designations, and firms so designated are known as SWPC designees.

(2) SWPC has appointed a representative to each contracting office of the War Department. Such representative is known as a SWPC Procurement Specialist, and one of his duties is to present designations to the contracting office as set forth in paragraph (f).

(3) SWPC has appointed a representative to the office of each technical service issuing procurement directives, and this representative is also known as a SWPC Procurement Specialist. Among his duties are those set forth in paragraph (e).

(d) Basic program. (1) The following points of policy are established with respect to actions by the War Department in connection with SWPC, and have been agreed upon between SWPC and the War Department:

(i) This program will be undertaken on all procurements, except that procurements of secret or confidential items and those of an emergency nature may be excluded at the discretion of the chief of a technical service. "Emergency nature" relates to those situations where military necessity will not permit the processing of the procurements as outlined herein.

(ii) The War Department's general definition of a small concern is an independently-owned concern employing less than 500 wage earners. Nevertheless, it is within the discretion of a contracting office, independently or upon the request of SWPC, to consider the relative size of a firm within its industry and treat it as large or small accordingly.

(iii) All decisions with respect to the degree of participation of and the desired geographical location of small concerns, and to the choice of particular small concerns to participate in War Department procurements, will be reached at the contracting offices of each technical service, (or at whatever office in the technical service decisions are reached regarding the use of specific facilities).

(iv) Since small concerns considered by the contracting office as suitable to bid for a procurement will normally be reviewed by SWPC to determine whether or not such firms will become SWPC designees for such procurement, it is anticipated that the final list of concerns so designated by SWPC will include many of the small concerns acceptable to the contracting office.

(2) Chiefs of technical services will designate Small War Plants officers at the contracting offices, and also at either the headquarters of the technical services or at the offices issuing procurement directives. Such officers will be charged with administering War Department policy in respect to small concerns, with working in cooperation with SWPC Procurement Specialists at such offices and with acting as specific contacts for representatives of small concerns calling at such offices. Each technical service will conduct staff supervision of contracting office procedures in connection with the small plant program.

(e) Action at the office issuing procurement directives. Opportunity will be afforded the SWPC Procurement Specialist at the office issuing procurement directives (1) to review with the proper personnel of the technical service the related parts of the Army Supply Program for the purpose of selecting products which will be generally suitable for small concerns, and (2) to examine all procurement directives (except those for secret and confidential items and those of an emergency nature, unless authorized to do so by the chief of the technical service). Where a technical service buys through district offices whose purchasing responsibility is confined to limited geographical areas, suggestions from the SWPC Procurement Specialist as to distribution to districts will be received and considered. When the SWPC Procurement Specialist indicates an interest in further action by SWPC on a procurement, this interest will be noted on the procurement directive that is sent to the contracting office. Lack of such notation of interest will not eliminate a procurement from further consideration under paragraph (f) (1) of this section. Copies of procurement directives which have been examined (except those for secret and confidential items) will be supplied by the office issuing them to the SWPC Procurement Specialist at that office, to the extent desired by SWPC.

(f) Action at the contracting office. (1) The contracting office and the SWPC Procurement Specialist at that office will mutually decide, on all procurements (secret and confidential procurements are excluded, except where specifically authorized under paragraph (e) (2) of this section:

(i) Whether a particular procurement is suitable for manufacture by small concerns.

(ii) The minimum portions of procurements found suitable under (i) which the contracting office will endeavor to place with designees of SWPC in compliance with paragraphs (a) to (g) of § 802.223.

(iii) In cases found suitable under (i) and (ii), how many SWPC designations will be sought, from which SWPC regions they will be sought, and by what date such designations will be submitted to the contracting office.

(iv) While emergency procurements are normally excluded under paragraph (d) (1) (i) from further processing through SWPC, the contracting office may in its discretion allow the SWPC Procurement Specialist, if time permits, to suggest sources, when such action does not delay the procurement.

(2) Other action to be taken by the contracting office includes:

(i) A set of drawings, specifications and prints will be made available to the SWPC Procurement Specialist as soon as practicable after the SWPC Procurement Specialist requests them in connection with a particular procurement. Additional sets will be furnished, if available; and if not available, full descriptive information to the extent available will be given the SWPC Procurement Specialist.

(ii) The contracting office will make available to the SWPC Procurement Specialist the names of small plant sources considered suitable by the contracting office for a particular procurement. SWPC will, under its procedures, designate or indicate reasons for refusing to designate such sources.

(iii) Small concerns designated by SWPC in accordance with (1) (iii) above will normally be given an opportunity to bid or negotiate. If a contracting office does not consider that a SWPC designee should receive this opportunity, the SWPC Procurement Specialist shall be given the reasons therefor.

(iv) On the date established under (1) (iii) the contracting office will consider not only SWPC designations that have been submitted for the particular procurement by that date but also any other sources of the contracting office's choice, and will determine which of such firms will be given an opportunity to bid or negotiate.

(v) Opportunity will be given the SWPC Procurement Specialist to make representations to the contracting office in behalf of concerns designated by SWPC for the procurement involved after final bid prices have been received but before final choice of contract placement is made. Copies of abstracts of bids, if available, on procurements in which SWPC participates under (1) (iii) will be furnished at this time to the SWPC Procurement Specialist; if a copy is not available, information will be made available so that the SWPC Procurement Specialist may make his own copy.

(vi) Negotiation and placement of awards will be governed by the factors enumerated in paragraphs (a) to (g) of § 802.223. While the contracting office will endeavor to fulfill the percentage allotment for SWPC designees, and to place contracts with such designees for as great a percentage as is practicable, first consideration shall be, in all cases, that of securing performance or deliveries at the time, in the quantity, and of the quality required by the war program, and nothing in this section shall detract from that consideration. In considering the factor referred to in § 802.223 (g) with respect to small business concerns, the contracting office may determine that the "most effective utilization of the small plants of the nation" will be accomplished, in a particular instance, by the payment of a higher price (when such price is proved to result from a justifiably higher cost) to a capable small plant in need of business as against a lower price bid by another small plant with an ample work-load.

(vii) The SWPC copy of the abstract or information indicated in (v) will be noted as to awards made and signed by the contracting office.

(3) In the event the SWPC Procurement Specialist does not agree with the position taken by a contracting officer on the points enumerated in (1) and (2), or if small firms chosen by the contracting office to receive awards are considered by SWPC as not suitable to receive award under the procurement and the reasons given by SWPC for this decision are not acceptable to the contracting office, reasonable opportunity will be given SWPC, if military urgency permits, to submit the difference of opinion to the chief of procurement of the contracting office for final decision.

(g) Encouraging subcontracting to small concerns. (1) In order to promote subcontracting to small concerns, the chief of each technical service will instruct contracting personnel at all levels to bring to the attention of prospective contractors the policy of the War Department to encourage subcontracting to the greatest practicable degree. The attention of such prospective contractors will be called to the contract clauses set forth in §§ 803.367 to 803.368 of this chapter.

(2) Additional subcontracting to small concerns by existing contractors will be fostered to the degree practicable. When the chief of a technical service or his duly authorized representative determines that increased costs under such additional subcontracts are justifiable, he is authorized to enter into and approve supplemental agreements amending or modifying such existing contracts to provide for the payment of an increased price to the prime contractor to cover the increased costs of such subcontracting. Any such agreement will be made pursuant to the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order 9001, and may be made without consideration to the Government other than the promotion of the policies stated in Public Law 603, 77th Congress and in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph.

(3) The procedures described in subparagraph (2) above will be applied to subcontracts where it appears to be practicable to get a subcontractor to spread his load among more subcontractors.

(h) Limitations—(1) Standardization. While the SWPC Procurement Specialists will be afforded every practicable assistance in bringing about the further spread of work to smaller plants, consistent with the factors enumerated in paragraphs (a) to (g) of § 802.223, inclusive, standardization programs on items where a flow of replacement parts is a factor will also be taken into account in connection with applying the Small War Plants policy.

(2) Preventing abuses. In carrying out the policy of spreading the work to smaller war plants, contracting officers must take precautions to prevent abuse of the preferred position of such plants. For instance, a smaller war plant contractor should not be allowed to subcontract substantially the entire work to a large plant at a lower price and thereby to operate virtually as a contract broker.

(i) Policy matters in connection with the Smaller War Plants Acts. Matters of procedural disagreement will be referred to the headquarters of the technical service involved for settlement with the SWPC Procurement Specialist at that headquarters. If such disagreements cannot be settled at that level, reference will be made by the technical service to the Small War Plants Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. All matters of basic policy relating to prime contracting and subcontracting with smaller plants will be dealt with for SWPC by its Washington headquarters and for the War Department by the Small War Plants Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. On such matters, contact will be between these offices.

§ 802.226 Debarred bidders—(a) Persons disqualified. Contracts will not be placed with persons who are on any of the following lists of debarred bidders.

(1) List of bidders debarred from bidding on War Department contracts by reason of violations of the Walsh-Healey Act. (See § 809.916 and following).

(2) List of bidders debarred from bidding on War Department contracts by reason of violations of the Davis-Bacon Act. (See § 809.910 and following.)

(3) War Department confidential list of bidders to whom awards will not be made.

(4) The proclaimed list of blocked nationals which the Secretary of State from time to time publishes listing persons and organizations deemed to be acting directly or indirectly for the benefit of the enemy. (See § 811.1185.)

(b) Distribution of lists. The Adjutant General will distribute to the technical services lists of bidders debarred by the Comptroller General by reason of violations of the Walsh-Healey Act or the Davis-Bacon Act and copies of the War Department confidential list of debarred bidders. Copies of the proclaimed list of blocked nationals will also be made available to the chiefs of the technical services.

(c) Procedures for placing bidders on confidential list—(1) Authority. The Adjutant General will place a bidder upon the confidential list of bidders to whom awards will not be made (i) where the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, determines that the bidder has been guilty of fraud or attempted fraud against the United States, or (ii) for the duration of the present war, in any instance where the Director, Purchases Division, determines that the best interests of the United States require that contracts be not awarded to the bidder. In recommending that a bidder's name be placed on the list, the chief of a technical service will submit to the Director, Purchases Division, a full report of the specific instances of the bidder's alleged dereliction together with any available evidence relating to the contract concerned and the complaint against the bidder.

(2) Notice. If such action has not already been taken, the Director, Purchases Division, will send to the bidder by registered mail, a notice stating (i) that a recommendation has been made that the bidder's name be placed on the War Department's confidential list of bidders to whom awards will not be made, (ii) the specific contract, bid, or action of the bidder as to which complaint is made, and the specific nature of the complaint in reasonable detail, and (iii) that the bidder may make a statement in writing with respect to the complaint on or before a date fixed in the notice. The bidder will not be given access to any evidence in the hands of the War Department, except in the notice and statement required by this subparagraph (2).

(3) Direction. The Director may make such investigations and study of the complaint, either directly or through The Judge Advocate General or The Inspector General, as he deems proper. If the Director determines that the bidder's name should be placed on the confidential list, he will transmit to The Adjutant General (i) the complete file, including any statement filed by the bidder, together with the direction to place the bidder's name on this list, and (ii) drafts of notices of the action taken to be sent by The Adjutant General to the bidder, the technical services and the Comptroller General.

§ 802.227 Policies governing allocation of cutbacks. The policies set forth in §§ 802.220 to 802.226 will be observed to such extent as may be practicable in connection with adjustments of supply contracts growing out of reductions in the Army supply program (see also §§ 815.103, 815.302).

§ 802.228 Exceptions. Upon specific request the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces may grant authority to depart from the policies stated in this subpart. Requests for such authority stating the reasons therefor will be forwarded to the Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. One such specific exemption granted to The Quartermaster General is referred to in QMS paragraph 2–2–3d (29 June, 43).

SUBPART C—CONTRACT PRICE POLICIES

§ 802.230 Basic objectives. Policies regarding contract prices have three main objectives: to maintain incentives for efficiency, reductions in costs and maximum production; to obtain fair prices and prevent excessive profits; and to contribute to the control of inflation.

(a) Incentives. Increasing shortages in materials and manpower imperatively require that all producers be encouraged to operate at their highest attainable efficiency with the minimum waste or misuse of materials and labor, if maximum production of war equipment is to be reached and maintained. Increased efficiency, improved methods, and lower costs mean better use of available resources and savings in labor, materials and facilities and can be encouraged by making profits depend on efficiency. This requires careful purchasing and contracting to keep prices close enough to costs so that producers must exercise careful management and ingenuity to increase production and decrease costs in order to earn a reasonable profit.

(b) Profit control. In spending public money the War Department has the duty to see that its purchases are made at fair prices. In addition, by section 403 of Public Law 528—77th Congress, approved April 28, 1942, and amended October 21, 1942, the War Department is directly charged with the responsibility for preventing and eliminating excessive profits on its contracts and on subcontracts thereunder. In many cases, skillful and careful negotiation of contracts will prevent excessive profits from accruing and make their renegotiation unnecessary.

(c) Inflation. For many types of military commodities ordinary methods of price control by maximum price regulations, formulas and ceilings become extremely complex and difficult to administer, and divide procurement responsibility. At the request of the War and Navy Departments the Office of Price Administration has agreed to refrain from further extending its price control over strictly military items, and in return the War and Navy Departments have undertaken the responsibility for maintaining control of prices in this limited exempted area. (See § 811.1131 (c)).

§ 802.231 General policy—(a) Sound pricing. The three objectives stated in § 802.230 are all closely related and must be handled accordingly. In order to promote efficiency and prevent inflation, it is vitally necessary to obtain sound contract prices reasonably close to costs, since recapture of profits for past periods on renegotiation will not operate to control costs or inflationary tendencies. This requires effective purchasing and price supervision to obtain well-negotiated original contracts. The chief of each technical service will see that this policy is implemented and followed in his service. This will require the use of appropriate contracts and contract provisions (discussed in this subpart), adequate methods of negotiation (discussed in Subpart D of this part) and effective price supervision (discussed in Subpart E of this part).

(b) Relation to contract placement policies. This basic policy of emphasizing the price element in negotiating contracts, stated in the preceding paragraph, is not inconsistent with the relatively minor importance of price in selecting contractors, stated in § 802.223 (g). The selection of a contractor for a particular contract from among the qualified producers is based primarily on policies regarding speed and quality in performance and efficient use of manpower, materials and facilities. (See § 802.223 (a) to (g).) In making this choice among producers the price of a particular producer as compared to other available producers is considered as less important than these other policies. When these other policies are satisfied by several producers, however, choice is based on comparative price. Moreover, the price to be fixed in the contract with the producer selected on these bases is vitally important. The fact that the war program requires that contractors be selected on bases other than comparative prices, makes it especially necessary to have sound methods of negotiation and price supervision to ensure that the contract prices agreed upon with such contractors will be close enough to their costs to encourage efficient operations, to prevent excessive profits and to restrain inflationary influences.

§ 802.232 Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts—(a) Disadvantages. Fixed-fee contracts have the following disadvantages:

(1) The fixed-fee contract does not encourage efficiency to the same extent as the well-negotiated fixed price contract. While the fixed-fee contractor is obligated to perform in an efficient manner, he does not have the same direct financial inducement to economize in the use of materials, machinery or manpower, or to keep down material and labor costs, or to use ingenuity and inventiveness in finding substitutes and improvements.

(2) Such contracts require uneconomical use of executive, auditing and administrative personnel, both by the Government and the contractor, in checking and rechecking vouchers, in auditing and allocating costs and in adjusting accounting questions.

(3) The financial pressures which restrain a fixed price contractor in competing for labor and accumulating inventories do not apply to the same extent to the fixed-fee contractor.

(b) Use discouraged. For the foregoing reasons supply contracts will be made on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis only if no practicable alternative exists. Difficulties in estimating costs with reasonable accuracy because of possible future fluctuations in material or labor costs should not be regarded as an adequate reason for using this type of contract. Even the unfamiliarity of the contractor with the manufacturing process involved, as in the case of new, experimental or developmental articles, does not necessarily justify the use of the fixed-fee contract. For instance, the experience of other manufacturers may often provide sufficient basis for estimating costs and fixing the price, or a fixed price contract may be used with provision for redetermination or for upward or downward price revision, as soon as costs become known and reasonably stable.

(c) Conditions on use. In the exceptional cases where the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee form is used for a supply contract the following conditions will be met:

(1) When the contractor is to be reimbursed for substantially all its costs, the fixed fee represents essentially profit without risk. It should be determined not by the amount of the estimated cost but by the extent and nature of the work supervised or the services to be performed by the contractor. Thus in fixing the fee consideration should be given, among other things, to whether the work or production involved is complicated or simple, the turnover slow or rapid, how much or little of the work will be subcontracted, and how extensive or difficult the duties of the prime contractor will be in supervising the subcontracted work.

(2) Whenever feasible, the contract will include a provision for conversion of the contract as soon as practicable to a fixed price basis related to the costs during the early part of the contract. (See § 812.1225).

(3) If conversion to a fixed price basis is not feasible, consideration will be given to inclusion of a provision for upward or downward adjustments in the fee based on efficiency after a test period. (See § 812.1226).

(4) The article for statutory renegotiation of the fixed-fee will be included in accordance with § 812.1208 (b).

(5) In no case will the fixed-fee exceed the statutory maximum of 7% for supply contracts.

(d) Construction contracts. Whenever feasible, construction contracts will be made on a fixed price rather than a fixed-fee basis.

(e) Existing contracts. (1) Whenever feasible, existing cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts will be amended to convert them or provide for converting them to a fixed price basis as soon as practicable. Special effort to obtain such conversions will be made because the change offers an opportunity to obtain more efficient production or appears otherwise to be of special advantage to the Government. Ordinarily, such conversion will take place by supplemental agreement substituting for the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract a fixed price contract covering the whole performance of the contract, effective retroactively to the beginning of the performance. Such a retroactive conversion will assist in avoiding complicated and time consuming allocations of costs, inventory and preparatory expense. However, in appropriate cases conversions may be made effective from some stated point in the performance of the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract.

(2) One purpose of the War Department in converting cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts to a fixed price basis is to develop lower prices and costs and greater efficiency in the utilization of manpower and capacity, not only under the contract which is being converted but also under future contracts for similar products. The policy of pressing for conversions is based upon the premise that a fixed price contract gives the contractor maximum incentive to achieve more efficient operations during the balance of the contract. Consequently, such conversions will be made only where a substantial portion of the contract remains to be performed, unless the prior approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, has been obtained in the particular case.

(3) The circumstances of such conversions will obviously vary and accordingly the considerations to be taken into account in determining a fixed price at which the contract is to be performed cannot be prescribed in specific terms applicable to each case. Essentially, however, the problem of converting the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract to a fixed price basis is no different from the original fixing of price and terms under any fixed price contract and Government representatives, in determining a fixed price, will be expected to give weight to the general factors relating to pricing ordinarily employed in connection with a fixed price contract as discussed in Army Service Forces Manual M–601, "Pricing in War Contracts."

(4) Although the probability is that a fixed price, properly determined, will result in lower expenditure by the Government than on the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis, in some instances it may be to the interest of the Government, to press for the conversion of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts for various reasons other than expected monetary saving. Indeed, in view of the present shortages of manpower and of some material, in some cases the amount of the proposed fixed price may not be the principal factor to be taken into account.

(5) Among the considerations that obviously must be given weight in determining the fixed price arrangement in connection with a conversion are the following:

(i) In cases where the supplemental agreement provides one fixed price for all the deliveries under the contract, retroactive to the beginning of the contract, the analysis of the fixed price, should include a consideration (together with all other relevant factors) of the estimated average costs over the life of the contract, giving due weight to past costs and to estimated future costs. In determining estimated average costs full weight will be given to the decline in costs normally to be expected as production experience is gained (see subdivision (vi) below).

(ii) In cases where the supplemental agreement provides a schedule of different prices for various sections or periods of deliveries, the objective should be to include in the price set for any past period an amount not in excess of a reasonable estimate of the allowable costs and fee properly to be allocated to the units completed or services rendered in that past period. It is recognized that a precise allocation of costs and fee in this connection may not be practicable without an unreasonable amount of accounting and auditing which is not necessary in view of the conversion to a fixed price basis. Accordingly, the objective above mentioned must be attained in many cases on the basis of reasonable approximations and estimates and no physical inventory or audit need be made for the purpose of achieving a precise allocation.

(iii) Any schedule contained in the supplemental agreement providing for different fixed prices for various sections or periods of deliveries should give due consideration to the variations in cost which are expected to take place during the life of the contract. Such schedules should also reflect the decline in costs normally to be anticipated as experience in production is gained. If, in fixing such a schedule of prices, starting and learning costs are allocated to the earlier periods of the contract, such costs obviously should not be taken into account in fixing the prices which the schedule provides will be paid for later periods of production.

(iv) The prices set under any supplemental agreement for converting to a fixed price basis should be fair and reasonable in the light of all the circumstances. It must be borne in mind that prior to the conversion the contractor's costs in substance have been guaranteed by the Government and that under the fixed price contract the contractor assumes additional risks which may properly be given consideration in fixing the price under the converted contract. Any weight given to such additional risks should not be greater than is warranted by the additional risks in fact assumed by the contractor. Also, full recognition should be given to the probability that operations on a fixed price basis will be conducted on a more efficient basis, with consequent lower costs to the contractor. For example, most manufacturers recognize that their labor may become more efficient under a fixed price contract than when operating under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract.

(v) Various contract provisions, frequently included in fixed price contracts, tend to reduce the additional risks assumed by the contractor upon converting to a fixed price basis as, for example, where a periodic pricing article or other price adjustment provision is used. In determining the fixed price, due consideration will be given to the effect of any such contract provisions, if included in the converted contract, as well as to the various pricing factors mentioned at page 7 of Army Service Forces Manual 601, "Pricing in War Contracts."

(vi) Assistance should be obtained from such evidence as may be available as to the historical costs on the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract prior to the date of the proposed conversion. However, such costs are frequently misleading (a) because of distortion by high starting and learning expenses and, in any event, are difficult to translate into unit costs without careful analysis, and (b) in view of the general tendency of costs to decline sharply with the greater efficiency obtained in the later stages of a contract. On this account greater weight should be given to the historical cost experience, most recent at the time of the conversion, than to the costs for earlier periods of the contract. In any instance, historical costs should be regarded only as a starting point in predicting the future costs under the contract and in the problem of price analysis.

(vii) In all cases where such data can be obtained, consideration should be given to prices paid to the same contractor and to others for comparable supplies under other fixed price contracts. Such data frequently provide a safer basis for price analysis than the historical costs of the particular contractor.

(viii) Where conversions are to be effective only with respect to deliveries after a stated date, care should be taken to fix the price on deliveries after that date on a basis which will not tend to duplicate payments for work in process the cost of which has been or will be reimbursed on the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis. Attention is directed to the fact that this type of conversion will ordinarily require fixing of a price upon materials on hand at the time of the conversion for transfer to the contractor.

(6) To ensure adequate analysis of such conversions the procedure set out in § 803.306 (e) will be followed.

(7) Where a conversion takes place by an agreement fixing a price retroactive to the beginning of the performance, action taken by the contractor in conformity with the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract as in force prior to the conversion (and proper when taken) need not be revised in the supplemental agreement to make it consistent with the fixed price basis; as, for example, purchases and dispositions of property for Government account, shipments of property on Government bill of lading, etc. All such actions, however, will be given consideration in determining the appropriate fixed prices to be set.

§ 802.232a Time and material or labor-hour contracts. The buying of articles or services on the basis of (1) direct labor at specified hourly rates, which rates are intended to include wages, overhead and profit, and (2) material at cost, is usually referred to as the time and material or labor-hour system of purchasing. The system was developed primarily for use in those situations where it was not possible at the time of placing the order or contract to estimate accurately the amount or duration of the work or to anticipate costs with any substantial accuracy, and has been employed to some extent in the procurement by the Army or by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors of (i) engineering and design services in connection with production of supplies, (ii) the engineering, design and manufacture of dies, jigs, fixtures, gauges and special machine tools, (iii) repair work of various kinds, and (iv) outside work on regular production in emergency cases.

(a) Use discouraged. In the light of present procurement conditions and the cost experience now accumulated the necessity for the use of this system either in direct procurement or in purchases by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors has been greatly reduced. The chiefs of the services will cause the use of this system of purchasing to be restricted to those situations where no practicable alternative exists.

(b) Conditions on use. In the restricted situations where this system is permitted to be used, the chiefs of the services will assure that reasonable precautions are taken to prevent the abuses to which it is susceptible. In this connection it is important that particular care be exercised to select firms of known integrity and efficiency and that the use of complete, clear and definite orders or contracts be insisted upon. Adequate control will also require that all time and material or labor-hour purchase orders or contracts issued by a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contractor be approved or ratified by the contracting officer.

(c) Adequacy of contract provisions. In determining the adequacy of the provisions of any such orders or contracts where their use is permitted, consideration of the following basic elements will be helpful:

(1) Labor. Only direct labor should be included in the billing and the types of labor or work to be included in the category of direct labor should be specified. It should also be specified that the time of non-productive personnel will not be included in direct labor. The time of partners, officers, supervisors, foremen, clerks, typists, timekeepers, material handlers, stockroom employees, tool crib attendants, cleaners, janitors, maintenance men, packers, watchmen, truck drivers, and receiving and shipping employees, would normally be considered as non-productive work.

(2) Hourly rate. Separate rates should be specified for (i) engineering and design, and (ii) manufacturing and construction work. Separate rates should also be quoted for normal time, overtime and double time work where overtime and double time are necessary.

(3) Costs of materials. The materials for which reimbursement is to be made should be adequately specified and should be billed at cost and without the addition of any so-called handling charge or profit. For example, it may be specified that material cost will include only raw materials and fabricated parts entering directly into the products; that purchases made specifically for the contract may be charged at their actual price; that materials withdrawn from stores may be charged at cost under any recognized method of pricing conforming to sound accounting practices and consistently followed; and that incoming transportation charges may be included. Provision should be made for a reduction in cost of materials for cash and trade discounts, rebates and allowances and the value of resulting scrap, where the amount of such scrap is appreciable.

(4) Overtime. In order to prevent excessive overtime and double time a provision having substantially the effect of one of the following should be employed:

(i) Vendor (the person or firm with whom the time and material or labor-hour order is placed) should covenant that the amount of overtime and double time used on the work will be fair and reasonable and will be in accordance with the exigencies of the particular job. (This will support any claims on account of excess overtime developed by an audit.)

(ii) The vendor should specify the maximum amount of overtime and double time, if any, which he anticipates will be required for the job and should agree that this amount cannot be exceeded without the prior written approval of the contracting officer or contractor, as the case may be, placing the order.

(iii) The vendor should agree that no overtime or double time may be used on the work without the prior written approval of the contracting officer or contractor, as the case may be, placing the order.

(5) Subcontracting by the vendor. The vendor will not be permitted to derive any profit on account of subcontracting a portion of the work. Where subcontracting is contemplated or is to be permitted, it should be provided that the amount billed on account of such work will neither exceed the amount charged therefor by the subcontractor nor the rates for such work regularly agreed upon between the vendor and the subcontractor. In order to control the amount of subcontracting, provision may be made that the vendor cannot subcontract any portion of the work in excess of a stated percentage without the prior written approval of the contracting officer or contractor, as the case may be, placing the order. Provisions should be made that there can be no subcontracting by a vendor at an hourly rate which exceeds the vendor's hourly rate, without the prior written approval of the contracting officer.

(6) Records. Provision will be made that the vendor will maintain detailed, complete and accurate accounting records on a job order basis; that the hours of labor will be supported by individual daily job time cards preferably signed by the workers performing the services and in all cases by evidence of actual payment; that material charges will be supported by paid invoices or storeroom requisitions; and that the records will be preserved for a period of at least three years.

(7) Invoices. A contractor placing a time and material or labor-hour order should require the vendor to support all invoices by a certificate that the amount billed is correct and just. In this connection, a contractor placing such an order may be required to furnish a supporting certificate that the prices stated in the invoice are fair and reasonable, or are not excessive.

(8) Audit. Provision should be made that the representatives of the Government and the contractor placing the order, or either of them, will be permitted to inspect and audit the books and records of the vendor and will have the right to determine the correctness and propriety of the costs charged. Provision should also be made that any overcharge found will be promptly refunded.

(9) Excessive use of unskilled labor. The vendor may be required to covenant that employees used on the work will be on the average be as efficient as the average for the departments of his plant concerned.

(d) Ceiling price. In any case or class of cases where the chief of the service is of the opinion that the use of a ceiling price will be effective and practicable in reducing costs, a provision should be incorporated in such contracts or orders that payment will be made on a time and material basis but not in excess of a stated maximum figure.

(e) Definite hourly rate. A definite hourly labor rate must be stated at the time of issuance in all orders intended to be priced on a time and material or labor-hour basis. In the exceptional emergency cases where work must be started before the rate is agreed upon, the complete confirming order must be issued as soon as possible and in any event prior to completion of a substantial portion of the work.

(f) Audit manual. Reference to the Manual for Administrative Audit of Time and Material Vendors' Charges, prepared by the Office of the Fiscal Director, will be helpful in the consideration of effective control measures in particular cases. Copies of this Manual may be obtained by addressing a request to the Publication Section, Administrative Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 802.233 Fixed price contracts—(a) Advantages. The ordinary fixed price contract without provisions for adjustment gives a contractor maximum incentives for efficiency if the original price is well negotiated. It is generally suitable for contracts of reasonable duration for standard articles made by an experienced producer. It should be used wherever conditions permit.

(b) Limitations. Under war conditions, however, the ordinary fixed price contract is not practicable for certain types of cases:

(1) When the articles required are new, experimental or developmental, or unfamiliar to the contractor, the lack of cost experience may prevent the setting of a fair price when the contract is made.

(2) Even where cost experience exists, shortages of materials, priorities and allocations and changes in the quantities and rates of delivery may seriously affect the costs during performance of the contract.

(c) Adaptation to war conditions. To meet these and other situations and to facilitate the use of the fixed price contract, various provisions and policies have been developed, including the following:

(1) Termination articles.
(2) Financing provisions.
(3) Price adjustment based on production experience.
(4) Provisions to assume specific risks and for short-term pricing.
(5) Periodic adjustment of price and exemption from renegotiation.
(6) Adjustments and relief, without contract provisions, under the First War Powers Act.

These provisions and policies are intended to adapt the fixed price contract to war conditions, to minimize the risks of the contractor from unpredictable contingencies, and to facilitate obtaining contract prices close to costs. To the extent that the risks of unpredictable contingencies are reduced, the contractor does not need reserves or allowances against them in his price.

§ 802.234 Termination article. The risk of loss from termination of the contract, either for a change in the procurement program or upon cessation of hostilities, would deter contractors from making fixed price contracts or would require large allowances in the price to protect against this risk. The termination article is designed to remove this risk of loss by guaranteeing the contractor payment for all proper expenditures and costs in connection with the contract and an appropriate allowance for profit on the unfinished work in process, and by providing for expeditious settlement and payment of the amounts due. (See § 803.324). These provisions reduce to the minimum any hardships on contractors resulting from necessary adjustments and reductions in the supply program.

§ 802.234a Unusual circumstances. On rare occasions, in connection with an initial contract with a contractor for a particular product or type of construction, involving a long period of preparation for the performance of the contract or unusually large development and planning costs, unusual circumstances may give rise to the request that the contractor be given special protection against loss through termination for the convenience of the Government at an early stage of the performance of the contract. In such cases, a full statement of the facts and a draft of any special contract provisions recommended will be submitted through the chief of the technical service negotiating the contract, to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for approval.

§ 802.235 Financing provisions. Lack of working capital or difficulties in financing would discourage contractors from undertaking fixed price contracts and necessitate the use of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. To overcome this, the War Department has arranged various methods of assisting contractors and subcontractors in financing war business. Three of these are (1) partial payments, (2) advance payments, and (3) guaranteed loans. The principles and purposes governing the use of these financing methods are discussed in §§ 803.319 to 803.321, 803.330 and 803.331 of this chapter. Other arrangements have been provided to assist with the financing and construction of plant facilities expansion. These are discussed in Part 810 of this chapter. Finally, the right to assign government contracts as security for financing is dealt with in § 803.390.

§ 802.236 Price adjustment provisions—(a) Price adjustment based on production experience. To adapt the fixed price contract to cases where the lack of experience with production of a new or unfamiliar article makes dependable estimates of costs and prices impracticable, several types of clauses have been developed to permit the fixing of a tentative price with provision for adjusting or fixing the price after part performance has supplied the necessary cost data. These clauses, discussed in Subpart B of Part 812, make the use of the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract unnecessary in such situations. For cases where the fixed-fee contract cannot be avoided, clauses are provided for converting it to a fixed price basis after part performance or for relating the fee to efficiency in production in order to minimize the disadvantages of this form of contract. (See Subpart B, Part 812).

(b) Provisions against specific risks. Normally contractors attempt to protect themselves against risks which will increase the cost of performance by allowances in their prices. Under war conditions, certain risks affecting the costs of performing war contracts, especially those of long duration, are particularly difficult to predict. If contingency allowances to cover them were permitted, it would make prices unreasonably high and reduce the incentives for efficient operation. Accordingly, it is the policy of the War Department to reduce the necessity for such contingency allowances in fixed price contracts as much as possible by contract provisions assuming certain unpredictable risks not subject to the contractor's control. Various contract articles of this type are discussed in Subpart C of Part 812. In return for the benefits of these provisions, the contractor will be required to eliminate from his price the allowances or reserves which would otherwise be needed to protect against these risks.

(c) Short-term pricing. These uncertainties as to future conditions can also be minimized by fixing prices for limited periods only. For commodities which do not involve a long period of production or planning, this can be done merely by making short-term contracts. Where longer contracts are necessary for production or other reasons, similar benefits can be obtained by providing for revising the price for future deliveries after a reasonable period. Such articles are discussed in Subpart C of Part 812.

(d) Periodic adjustment of price and exemption from renegotiation. The accumulation of more experience and data covering production and costs has made feasible a new type of contract combining (1) periodic adjustment of price at regular intervals during the life of the contract (compare paragraph (c) of this section) with (2) provision for exemption from renegotiation if the adjusted price is sufficiently low. It is designed to unite maximum incentives for efficient production with adequate control of profits and prices, by giving the contractor firm prices without commitments of too long duration. This type of contract is discussed in Subpart D of Part 812.

§ 802.237 Adjustments without contract provisions. Paralleling the contract provisions for price revision discussed under § 802.236, and necessary to complete the price program, are the policies regarding price adjustments and other relief under Title II of the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001 in the absence of contract provisions. Thus where a contractor, who has kept down the contingency allowances in his price, suffers some unexpected risk or event, it may often be equitable and in the interests of the Government for it to adjust the contract price or other terms by supplemental agreement so as to assume some or all of any resulting increases in costs. By granting such relief to contractors in appropriate cases, either with or without consideration, the Government will reduce the necessity for large allowances in prices and encourage greater cooperation by contractors. The application of these policies is discussed in Subpart E of Part 812.

§ 802.238 Policies on certain special items of cost—(a) Amortization. Under section 124 of the Internal Revenue Code, contractors who construct or acquire facilities necessary for the war effort are allowed under certain conditions to amortize the cost of them for tax purposes over a period of sixty months instead of the longer period of normal depreciation. This special tax credit was provided by Congress in order to encourage contractors to provide such facilities from their own funds rather than at Government expense. In view of this purpose, it is essential that in negotiating contracts involving the use of such facilities, the expense of such facilities be not passed on to the Government and that the price be fixed on the basis of only normal depreciation on the facilities and not at the accelerated rate of amortization permitted for tax purposes by section 124. In other words, the contractor may not treat the amortization at the accelerated rate as a cost against war contracts, but must provide for the excess over normal depreciation from his normal profit; this the tax credit greatly facilitates by leaving a larger net profit after taxes available for this purpose. Where the contractor desires the contract price to provide for a larger amount of the cost of such facilities, the Government is in effect paying for the facilities to the extent of the additional amount included in the contract. In such cases the contract must state the amount so included in the price and must contain suitable provisions to protect the interests of the Government in the facilities in accordance with § 810.1007 and following.

(b) Reconversion and storage. (1) In appropriate cases, the cost of converting plants to war production, including the removal of existing equipment and incidental building alterations, may be included in cost and therefore in the contract price and the contract may provide for payment, on termination of production for the Government, of the costs of removing Government-financed machinery and equipment, and of preparing it for storage and shipment.

(2) The Government will not bear either directly or indirectly, however, any part of the cost of reconverting the contractor's plant to commercial production (including installation of privately-owned machinery and equipment) or the cost of storing such machinery and equipment during the period between conversion and reconversion. This policy applies to all types of contracts, whether facilities contracts, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts or fixed price contracts. It does not, however, prevent giving a contractor, in exceptional cases where fairness so requires, special protection against loss through early termination of the contract in accordance with § 802.234a.

SUBPART D—NEGOTIATION OF CONTRACTS

§ 802.240 Method of contracting—(a) By negotiation. Except as provided in paragraph (b), all contracts and purchases made by the War Department will be made by negotiation under authority of the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001, and in accordance with these procurement regulations. While this act and Executive order are construed to embody all the authority conferred by sections 1 (a) and (b) of the act of July 2, 1940 (Public Law No. 703, 76th Congress), as extended, the earlier act may also be cited as authority for contracting in appropriate cases if desired (see § 802.204 (a)).

(b) By formal advertising. When authorized by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, contracts may be placed by formal advertising instead of by negotiations if deemed necessary in the interests of the Government.

(c) Aids to negotiation. Sound purchase control requires that the original contract be well negotiated on the basis of reliable cost experience and close estimates. To do this, all available information and aids to negotiation must be used as effectively as possible. This section deals with some of the methods and data which will assist such sound negotiation of contracts.

§ 802.241 Methods of negotiation—(a) General rule. Subject to specific provisions of these regulations, the chief of each technical service may determine the methods of negotiation to be followed by his service. Any method which, in the judgment of the chief of the technical service concerned, will result in the most efficient award of contracts and will protect the interests of the Government, is hereby authorized. Such methods may include not only face to face dealing but also informal written bids or telephone quotations, but the request for any such bids or quotations will clearly indicate that it is made undr the authority of the First War Powers Act, 1941.

(b) Decentralization. The chiefs of the technical services will decentralize to their field agencies the actual work of negotiating contracts to the greatest extent consistent with efficiency and proper safeguarding of the public interest.

§ 802.242 Use of informal bids. Where consistent with the required speed of war procurement, notification of the proposed procurement will be given to a reasonable number of qualified producers and suppliers, and quotations secured from them.

§ 802.243 Contractors' proposals—(a) Information to be furnished by contractors; methods of obtaining it. (1) In simple procurements for small amounts where effective competition exists and where it is, accordingly, expected that awards will be made to the lowest bidders (subject to the principles set forth in Subpart B of this part), information to be obtained from contractors may ordinarily be confined to quotations of prices. These quotations are frequently invited on W. D. Contract Form No. 5, § 813.1317d.

(2) In other cases—where the procurements are complex, or are for large amounts, or are to be carried out in the absence of effective competition—additional information is ordinarily required in order to base a judgment as to the awards. Detailed contractors' proposals are an important method of obtaining such information. As a general rule, such proposals should contain the following types of data:

(i) Separate quotations for the basic (or major) item, essential extra parts and assemblies, initial and extra equipment, and the costs of additional facilities required by the contractor.
(ii) Proposed delivery schedule.
(iii) Summary of the approximate number, amount and extent of completion of other outstanding Government contracts.
(iv) Itemized estimate of costs of production with adequate explanation of the basis used for allocating overhead, etc.
(v) Statement showing the cost experience for the same or similar items under other recent contracts.
(vi) Statement as to labor needs and supply, contemplated hours of work and number of shifts.
(vii) Contemplated method of financing the contract.
(viii) Statement of material to be furnished by the Government and disposition of scrap therefrom.
(ix) Summary of types and extent of subcontracting.
(x) Requirements for additional equipment and facilities.
(xi) Statement of any optional clauses desired in the contract.
(xii) Statement in detail of taxes included in the price and their estimated amount, and of any taxes to be excluded from the price for which contractor will claim reimbursement or a tax exemption certificate.

(3) Contractors' proposals are particularly useful when presented on standardized proposal forms. These proposal forms assist in obtaining all necessary information from the contractor at the same time, and facilitate the comparison and evaluation of proposals from several producers by insuring a uniform basis of statement. They facilitate selection of the appropriate contractor in accordance with Subpart B of this part and provide a basis for negotiation with the contractor in accordance with this Subpart.

(b) Standard proposal forms prescribed for use in certain cases. (1) In conformity with subparagraphs (2) and (3) of paragraph (a) above, certain standard proposal forms have been prepared in collaboration with the technical services and published as War Department Standard Procurement Forms (No. 1—Request for Proposal, No. 2—Contractor's Proposal, and Instructions for Filling Out Standard Procurement Form No. 2, § 813.1327).

(2) Whenever, in the opinion of the technical service involved, detailed cost or price information is necessary or desirable as an aid to the adequate negotiation of contracts for supplies (other than construction), the technical service will use the Standard Procurement Forms for this purpose. Except as permitted under subparagraph (3) below, the Standard Procurement Forms will be used in all such cases without deviation or addition, and no substitute or supplementary proposal forms will be used. Where necessary, however, information obtained through use of the Standard Procurement Forms may be clarified or amplified through correspondence or personal negotiation.

(3) Upon request and justification by the technical service involved, the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, may, in particular cases or classes of cases, permit deviations from or additions to the Standard Procurement Forms, or otherwise grant partial or complete exemptions from the requirements of subparagraph (2) above.

(4) The Standard Procurement Forms have considerable internal flexibility. The procurement office is required, by the terms of Form No. 1, to select and specify (within established limits) the data which the prospective contractor is requested to furnish on Form No. 2. Thus the procurement office has latitude to accommodate the Forms to the necessities of particular procurements; for example, it may relieve the contractor of the task of compiling data which are not pertinent to the procurement, or which are already known to the procurement office.

§ 802.244 Purchase analysis—(a) Price comparison. Comparative prices for similar items compiled in accordance with § 802.251 will be made available to contracting officers for use in negotiating new contracts. The prices offered for new contracts should be carefully compared with previous prices for similar items, making allowance for improved methods, rates of production, type of facilities and other factors. Where proposals are obtained from several producers they should be similarly compared with each other.

(b) Renegotiation information. The chief of each technical service will insure that contracting officers make regular use of studies and other information compiled by the price adjustment and cost analysis sections and useful in negotiating with contractors, such as data on volume of business, the policies regarding overhead and reserves, rates of profit and other material. (See § 802.252.)

(c) Cost analysis. When the prices or cost estimates submitted by a producer are out of line with previous experience or other proposals and use of his facilities is necessary or desirable in accordance with the policies stated in Subpart B of this Part, an analysis of the contractor's costs should ordinarily be made in order to find the causes of the higher costs or prices. Likewise where prices or cost estimates of a producer for an unfamiliar item are so low as to indicate mistakes in the estimates, a similar study should be made. Such study and analysis should be limited to the minimum necessary to obtain the required information and should be made with the least possible inconvenience to the producer (see § 802.253).

(d) Check lists. Orderly and speedy negotiations are facilitated by the use of standard negotiation check lists. Such forms should be designed to indicate the information to be obtained from the contractor and from other sources and the methods to be used in evaluating this material and in arriving at the final contract terms.

§ 802.245 Special clauses. The contracting officer should consider in each case whether use of any of the various articles for price adjustment discussed in Subpart C of this part and in Part 812 of this chapter is desirable. When such articles are used, the contracting officer will satisfy himself that the original price is sufficiently reduced, by eliminating or reducing contingency reserves and by lower profit margins, to justify the Government in agreeing to such adjustment provisions in favor of the contractor.

§ 802.246 Compulsory purchases. Where a fair contract cannot be obtained by voluntary negotiation, it may be necessary to resort to compulsory methods.

(a) Mandatory orders. Under section 9 of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 a mandatory order may be placed with any producer to require him to supply any item of the nature and kind usually produced or readily capable of being produced by him, for a fair and just compensation. While the general use of such orders is not favored, they should be resorted to where necessary after patient negotiations have failed. Thus where a qualified producer refuses to make a contract upon terms which in the opinion of the contracting officer are fair, the chief of the technical service may request the issuance of a mandatory order to the producer. Such requests will be forwarded to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, and will state the reasons for the request.

(b) Requisitioning. When needed articles are already in existence, but cannot be bought after reasonable negotiations, they may be obtained by requisition in accordance with Part 814 of this chapter.

§ 802.247 Assistance by Headquarters, Army Service Forces. The Purchase Pricing Methods Branch, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will assist any service in preparing standard forms for proposals by contractors, evaluation sheets or check lists and other aids to effective negotiation.

§ 802.248 Purchasing by prime contractors—(a) Purchasing methods of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors. Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors should ordinarily make their subcontracts and purchases by negotiation rather than by formal advertising. In connection with such negotiations, they will obtain informal quotations from qualified suppliers whenever feasible, but evidence of formal competition will not be required in connection with such agreements unless the contracting officer directs otherwise.

(b) Adjustment of prices and terms of subcontracts and purchase orders under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. (1) The cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor is obligated to procure materials and services at the most advantageous prices possible, with due regard to securing prompt delivery and satisfactory performance. Under some circumstances, commercial concerns find it necessary or desirable and advantageous to adjust the price or terms of an outstanding subcontract or purchase order, without legal consideration, for the benefit of the supplier. By permitting cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors to make similar adjustments in appropriate cases in accordance with this regulation, it is believed that they will be able to buy from their suppliers at closer prices in the first instance and that the maximum use of available facilities through subcontracting will be maintained.

(2) In order expressly to authorize such adjustments in accordance with this regulation, the chief of a technical service may include in any cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract substantially the following provision:

With the approval of the Contracting Officer, the Contractor may modify a subcontract or purchase order under this contract to increase the price or extend more favorable terms to the subcontractor. The chief of a technical service may amend any existing cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract to include this provision whenever in his opinion such action will be advantageous to the Government and will facilitate the prosecution of the war.

(3) It has been determined that it will facilitate the prosecution of the war to permit cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors to increase the price or to make other adjustments in the terms of a subcontract or purchase order, without legal consideration therefor, pursuant to the contract provision authorized by subparagraph (2) above, whenever the contracting officer specifically determines:

(i) That the price increase or other adjustment is necessary or desirable in order to continue or increase satisfactory production of essential supplies or to ensure their timely delivery; or

(ii) That fair and equitable dealing with the subcontractor or supplier in accordance with sound business practice requires such price increase or other adjustment; or

(iii) That the maximum use of available facilities through subcontracting will be thereby facilitated or encouraged; or

(iv) That the contractor through following such a policy will be enabled to buy from its suppliers and subcontractors at closer prices in the first instance.

(4) The contracting officer may approve any such increase in price or other adjustment in the terms of a subcontract or purchase order without legal consideration only if, in the light of all the facts and circumstances in the particular case, he makes the determination required by subparagraph (3) above. Whenever any such adjustment is approved, the contracting officer shall prepare and file a brief memorandum of the circumstances involved in the reasons for his approval, and shall forward a copy of this memorandum to the chief of the technical service concerned. Upon any such adjustment in the price or terms of a subcontract or purchase order, the contractor shall be reimbursed on the basis of the adjusted price or terms.

(5) As used herein the term "cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract" includes a provision in a fixed-price contract for procuring facilities for the account of the Government at cost (see § 803.332), and the term "contractor" includes the contractor operating under such a provision.

SUBPART E—PRICE SUPERVISION

§ 802.250 General policy. For the reasons stated in § 802.230, the War Department is responsible for supervising and controlling the prices of all supplies and equipment procured and of the various items and services entering into the costs of these supplies and equipment to insure that such prices are reasonable and not excessive. This subpart deals with the performance of this responsibility by the services.

§ 802.251 Price analysis—(a) Functions. The chief of each technical service will maintain within his service appropriate agencies to perform the following price analysis functions:

(1) To assemble, analyze, interpret and disseminate price data for all important items procured by the technical services and for important component items entering into the costs of such items;

(2) To prepare special price analysis reports for procurement officers; and

(3) To compile and maintain comparative price records and indices for such items and their important components.

(b) Sources of data. In performing their functions, price analysis agencies will make use of the following types of information:

(1) Contract prices for similar items, which will be compiled on a comparable basis with respect to the basic (or major) item, essential extra parts and assemblies, initial and extra equipment, Government furnished equipment and scrap salvage.

(2) Cost estimates and other relevant data from proposals submitted by contractors.

(3) Analyses of the effect of major production and engineering problems on prices and costs.

(4) Prices paid for important subcontracted items. (See § 802.254.)

(5) Breakdowns of costs of subcontractors and sub-subcontractors based on production experience.

(6) Balance sheets and operating statements and similar data for contractors and subcontractors from price adjustment sections and financial services.

(7) Information from other Government agencies such as the Office of Price Administration. (See §§ 811.1130 to 811.1135.)

(8) Where necessary, audits of costs of contractors and subcontractors made by the cost analysis sections.

(c) Use of price data. (1) The price analysis agencies will prepare full analyses and reports on the comparative prices paid for important items and their components, making proper allowance for differences in the size of the contract, in design, local wage scales, type of facilities, contract terms and other factors. These reports will be in a form usable by procurement officers and price adjustment sections and will contain any recommendations for necessary or desirable action by them.

(2) In making or revising contracts, procurement officers will consult with the appropriate price analysis section and make use of all pertinent price analyses and reports then available.

(3) The price analysis agency will cooperate closely with the price adjustment sections and will make available to them price analyses and reports for use in renegotiation. When renegotiation reveals excessive profits the price analysis agency should immediately make studies of the prices of such contractors.

(4) Price records on items procured by the technical service and important components will be kept in such manner as to be readily available for reporting to higher authority or to the Office of Price Administration as requested.

(d) Corrective action. When price analysis reveals that the prices of comparable items are out of line, the procurement officer directly concerned will immediately initiate measures to discover the reasons. The appropriate measures will depend upon the particular situation. The contractor or his important subcontractors may be required to furnish a breakdown of actual costs based on production experience. When these are inadequate, cost audits or spot checks may be undertaken through the financial analysis section, and studies of purchasing methods may be made in accordance with § 802.254. Unless the facts disclosed that differences in price are justified by higher costs and by the policies stated in Subpart B of this part, negotiations will be initiated for appropriate adjustments in contract or subcontract prices.

§ 802.252 Profit analysis. The studies, by the price adjustment sections of each technical service, of the overall costs, profits and financial position of contractors and subcontractors provide valuable data to assist contract negotiation, such as information regarding overhead, reserves, profit margins, volume of business and similar matters. The chief of each technical service will make arrangements to insure that such information is made readily available in useful form for procurement officers in conducting negotiations with such contractors and for price analysis agencies in performing their functions.

§ 802.253 Financial analysis—(a) Organization. Each technical service will maintain appropriate agencies to perform financial analysis functions and to act as fact finding units with respect to costs and profits on its contracts and subcontracts for use in negotiations by contracting officers as well as in renegotiation by price adjustment sections. The chief of each technical service may assign the financial analysis functions to such place in the organization of the service as seems most appropriate to him to permit their effective performance; they need not be placed in the fiscal section of the technical service unless the chief of the service so decides.

(b) Functions. When a financial analysis study of any contractor is made to prepare reports for the price adjustment section, there will also be made such study as seems appropriate in each case to aid procurement officers in future contract negotiations with the contractor. In addition, whenever price analysis indicates that prices or costs of a particular contractor or subcontractor are out of line and the procurement officer so requests, the financial analysis agency will make necessary studies of any contractor or subcontractor. Such studies will be limited to the extent necessary to obtain the desired information.

§ 802.254 Supervision of subcontracts and purchases—(a) Policy. The Government is vitally interested in the prices of component parts and materials of the items which it procures. The prices for such component articles are reflected in prices under fixed price prime contracts and are directly reimbursed under fixed-fee contracts. If excessive, such prices encourage inefficiency, inflationary expenditures and excessive profits in the same manner as excessive prime contract prices. Accordingly, the War Department and technical services must also supervise these prices. Because the Government could not attempt to inspect or approve individual purchases under all fixed price and fixed-fee contracts, they must be supervised by more selective methods adapted to varying circumstances.

(b) Methods of supervising purchases under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. While the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor is responsible for efficient buying, the lack of direct financial incentives for economy makes it essential to supervise its purchasing with respect to prices, quantities and capacity of suppliers. Experience has shown that detailed prior approval of all purchase orders and subcontracts under fixed-fee supply contracts is less efficient for this purpose than more selective methods. Accordingly the following procedure for supervision will be adopted in the case of supply contracts.

(1) The purchasing policies and methods of the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor should be carefully analyzed to determine their adequacy for sound purchasing. This analysis should ascertain (i) whether prices paid are reasonable; (ii) whether quantities purchased are proper; (iii) whether suppliers and subcontractors are reasonably qualified; (iv) whether the purchasing personnel are well-qualified; and (v) whether purchasing procedures are sound and adequate.

(2) If the purchasing policies and methods are adequate with respect to prices, quantities and suppliers and are consistently followed, prior approval of subcontracts and purchase orders by the representatives of the contracting officer need not be required, or may be limited to those of substantial amounts, if regular selective checking is maintained instead.

(3) If the purchasing methods are inadequate in any respect, steps should be taken immediately to require the contractor to correct the deficiency, and if necessary, prior approval of subcontracts and purchase orders by the representative of the contracting officer to check on the propriety of the prices and other terms should be required until the deficiency is corrected.

(4) Periodically a report should be prepared with respect to each important contractor, stating the results of the inspection of the purchases and examination during the preceding period.

(5) If at any time the chief of a technical service finds that the selective method of supervision is inadequate, he may require such further supervision, including prior approval of purchase orders and subcontracts, as he deems necessary.

(c) Methods of supervising purchasing by fixed price contractors. (1) In the case of fixed price contracts, the contractor ordinarily has strong incentives to purchase at low prices in order to enhance the profit, but with high excess profits taxes and renegotiation, this incentive can be fully maintained only by keeping the prices under prime contracts close to minimum costs. For this purpose procurement officers must have adequate information on what component parts and materials should cost if well purchased and must know whether the contractor is equipped to obtain the best prices available.

(2) Price analyses in accordance with § 802.251 will supply necessary information. In that connection, the purchasing policies and methods of important fixed price contractors should be analyzed in the manner described in paragraph (b). When such analysis or the study of the prices paid by different contractors for important component parts and materials reveals deficiencies, they should be called to the attention of the contractor with recommendations for their correction.

(d) Personnel. A selective method of control requires the use of well trained and experienced personnel with a knowledge of purchasing methods and industrial costs and prices. Each service should obtain an adequate number of qualified officers or employees to perform these functions.

§ 802.255 Sanctions. Whenever study or analysis reveals that the prices of a contractor or subcontractor are excessive, and he refuses to make appropriate adjustments, the facts should be reported through the chief of the technical service to the Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. In appropriate cases the Director may then authorize action to correct the situation by the use of compulsory orders, renegotiation, or other means.

§ 802.256 Coordination. Each technical service may determine the form of organization necessary to perform the foregoing functions within its service and to obtain their essential coordination and their integration with procurement. Thus, in its discretion, a technical service may combine these functions in a single agency or assign them to several separate agencies. Because these various price functions are so closely related, however, it is recommended that even where they are performed by several agencies in any service, all of them should be coordinated and integrated under a single head. Such an agency should supervise within the service all functions relating to contract clearance, negotiation aids, price analysis and supervision, liaison with the Office of Price Administration, renegotiation and price adjustment, and price research. This policy has been followed in Headquarters, Army Service Forces, by the creation within the Purchases Division of an Assistant Director for Price responsible for supervising all of these functions. Creation of a similar agency in each service will facilitate coordination and cooperation between Headquarters and the services.

SUBPART F—CONTRACTING POLICY REGARDING CONSTRUCTION AND MAINTENANCE WORK

§ 802.260 General. Wherever possible all construction work will be performed on a contract basis, and barring that possibility for practical reasons such construction work will be performed on a hired labor basis.

(a) Same; new construction. Job construction refers to work of a type generally performed by a construction contractor, which is non-recurrent and temporary in the sense that it terminates on the completion of a specific project. In general, this includes such work as the construction of new structures or alterations of like nature to existing structures.

(1) All such new work within the meaning of the above definition will be prosecuted under contract whenever possible.

(2) When such work does not adapt itself to contracting procedure for practical reasons, it will be done by the officer in charge on a hired labor basis.

(b) Same; maintenance work. Maintenance work refers to work which is regular and recurring, and which is continuous in the sense that it is not terminable on the completion of a specific project. This includes such work as repair, adjustment, overhauling, and upkeep of existing structures or installations. The term also includes, as specified in § 809.911 (e), the movement of machinery and installation of equipment, and alteration work incident thereto, performed as an incident of a supply contract. However, in making the determination required by § 809.911 (g), as applied to particular machinery movement or installation work, each contracting officer concerned will give careful consideration to the desirable objective sought in the overall policy statement outlined above.

(c) Same; construction or repair in restricted areas. It is recognized that in restricted areas, because of the various factors involved, it is not often feasible to prosecute the work either under contract or on a hired labor basis. In such instances the work may be done by maintenance forces. However, every effort will be made to insure that this practice is not abused.

(d) Same; termination of construction contracts. The completion of specific construction projects, including original installation of equipment, will be made whenever possible under construction contracts.

(1) When this procedure is not practical, resort will then be made to hired labor.

(2) Completion of specific construction projects by the maintenance forces will be adopted as a last resort, and only when to do otherwise would result in interference or interruption of production, or would demand wasteful retention of a construction supervisory overhead organization.

SUBPART I—PURCHASE ACTION REPORTS

§ 802.291 General. Compliance is required, effective 1 July 1944, with the revised procedures provided in this subpart with respect to purchase action reporting. Such procedures, however, may be followed prior to that date.

(a) Transfer of purchase action reporting from Statistics and Progress Branch, Control Division, to Purchases Division. Effective 15 March 1944 the responsibility formerly assigned to the Statistics and Progress Branch, Control Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, in connection with purchase action reporting, is transferred to the Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, Room 5D 674, The Pentagon, Washington, D. C. Purchases Division is responsible for supervision, preparation and submission of all Purchase Action Reports required by law to be submitted by the War Department to The Congress, as well as to other Federal agencies authorized to receive such reports.

(b) Definitions—(1) Technical service. Notwithstanding the provisions of § 801.108 (e), the term "technical service" when used in this subpart shall be deemed to include the Army Air Forces but shall not be deemed to include the service commands. The term "chief of a technical service" shall be deemed to include the Commanding General, Army Air Forces.

(2) Service command. The term "service command" shall be deemed to include the Military District of Washington.

(3) Purchase action. A purchase action is any transaction whatsoever (including all types of awards) with any individual, firm, corporation, or Governmental agency not under the jurisdiction of the War Department, involving the purchase or lease of goods, real estate or services of every character and description and usually obligating Government funds. The execution of a preliminary contractual agreement is to be regarded as a purchase action unless the dollar amount of the undertaking contained therein cannot be determined or estimated in advance or unless the undertaking contained therein is conditioned upon funds becoming available and hence does not obligate Government funds. (See, for example, the Letter of Intent which was the subject of the decision of the Comptroller General, issued under the date of 22 December 1941; B–21873; 21 Comp. Gen. 605.)

(4) Preliminary contractual agreements. The term "preliminary contractual agreements" as used in this subpart refers to all written agreements which do not obligate War Department funds to the full amount which it is anticipated will be obligated finally, (see War Department Contract Form No. 7, § 813.1307, as one type of such agreement) or to those which obligate no funds whatsoever. In the former case all such contracts exceeding $10,000 are to be reported at time of execution with a supplemental report for the difference between the amount originally reported and the actual dollar amount to be submitted upon execution of a formal contract or completion of the preliminary contractual agreement. In cases where no funds are obligated but the undertaking is not conditioned upon funds becoming available, such contracts are to be reported at time of award only if the dollar amount of the contract can be estimated and the estimate exceeds $10,000. A supplemental report adjusting the estimated figure and the actual expenditure will be submitted as described above. In cases where the undertaking is conditioned upon funds becoming available, the contract will be reported when it becomes final—that is, when total amount can be estimated or a final definitive contract has been issued; however, if expenditures under the preliminary agreement reach a sum in excess of $10,000, it will then be reported on the basis of such expenditures, and a supplemental report will be rendered when the contract becomes final.

(5) Open end contracts. An "open end contract" may be defined as one in which no final completiton date is set and one which usually involves recurring charges for goods and services. (Contracts for gas, electricity or water may be cited as examples.) Such contracts will be reported on a contract year basis. The original Purchase Action Report will be submitted within 5 days of the date of the contract and will include the full amount estimated to be expended for the first contract year. At the end of the contract year a supplementary report will be filed reconciling the difference between the estimated and actual expenditures and at the same time reporting the estimated expenditure for the second contract year. These will be shown as separate items. Similar supplements will be reported at the end of each succeeding contract year during the life of the contract. As of the termination date a final supplementary report clearly marked "Final Report", will be submitted adjusting any unreported quantity and figures, whether it be an increase or a decrease. Where the amount to be spent under the contract cannot be estimated, a Purchase Action Report will be filed on the basis of actual expenditures when the aggregate expenditures thereunder exceed $10,000. Supplements will be reported from time to time as additional expenditures aggregating in excess of $1,000 are incurred. Open end contracts, which are subject to open allotment as enumerated in Circular No. 149, War Department 1943, are not to be reported. All other open end contracts will be reported as above.

(6) Indefinite quantity contracts. For the purposes of this Subpart indefinite quantity contracts are considered to include those contracts which permit deliveries to be made in larger or smaller quantities than stated in the contract, either at the option of the contractor or the contracting officer, and with or without a written change order modifying the contract. They fall into three broad classes, as follows:

(i) Those containing the standard clause entitled "Variation in Quantities" (§ 803.329) which permits the contractor to deliver 10% over or under the quantity specified in the contract. In reporting this type of contract only the original quantity and value need be stated, and upon completion of deliveries no supplemental report is required even though deliveries may fall short or exceed the amount originally reported. However, any changes in the contract affecting the value by more than $1,000 by way of amendment, change order, etc., must be reported with a supplemental Purchase Action Report.

(ii) Those containing a clause (see § 803.329a) giving the contracting officer a power by change order to increase or decrease within stated percentage limits the quantity of articles called for by the contract. This type of contract will be reported originally at the quantity and value set forth in the contract, and change orders having a value of $1,000 (plus or minus) will be reported on a supplemental Purchase Action Report.

(iii) Any other type of indefinite quantity contract. For the purposes of this Subpart indefinite quantity contracts not falling within (i) or (ii) above will be considered to be and reported as open end contracts. (See § 802.291 (e).)

(c) Matters not to be reported. Pay of individuals, shipping and travelling expenses, etc., are not to be included in the reports required to be filed in this subpart. The items involved in this category are stated in Circular 149, War Department 1943.

§ 802.292 Reports required to be filed. Field installations will submit the reports set forth in §§ 802.293 and 802.294 either to the chief of the appropriate technical service or to the commanding general of the appropriate service command, depending upon whether the contract obligates technical service or service command funds. In general, this will be determined by the number of the contract. A contract bearing a technical service number in accordance with § 803.309 (b) will be reported to the chief of that technical service. A contract bearing a service command number in accordance with § 803.318b (e) will be reported to the commanding general of that service command.

§ 802.293 Original reports of purchase actions exceeding $10,000. A report of every original purchase action which exceeds $10,000 in amount (actual or estimated) will be made on W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 496. The original and five copies (or more if directed by appropriate authority) will be forwarded to the chief of the appropriate technical service or commanding general of the appropriate service command no later than the 5th calendar day following the purchase action. Reports will be made with respect to orders placed against indefinite quantity contracts executed by a technical service but will not be made with respect to orders placed against contracts executed by other departments of the Government, such as the contracts executed by the Procurement Division, Treasury Department. The standard form (W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 496) for reporting original purchase actions (Control Approval Symbol No. ICY 33) is set forth below. It is available on requisition at Adjutant General depots in the service commands, excepting Army Air Forces activities which will requisition upon the appropriate Area Air Service Command, Publication and Distribution Depot. W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 496 is printed on white paper. A form (W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 495) printed on blue paper is available for use in reporting supplemental action. (See paragraph (c).)

(a) Explanation of Purchase Action Report form. The following notes apply to the report form above. The report form contains cross references to these notes.

(1) Serial number. This was established to enable the contracting station and the controlling service to reconcile their records. As many stations may originate purchase actions for various services, a separate series of serial numbers may be used for each service (see §§ 803.309 and 803.318b (e) for types of contract symbols for the various services). Each series of serial numbers will begin with serial No. 1 for the new fiscal year and continue in exact sequence (based on the date of award as established in subparagragh (6) to the end of the fiscal year. No service symbol need appear as part of the serial number as it will be identical with the symbol shown in the contract number. Purchase Action Reports made in the new fiscal year for awards made in the previous fiscal year should have a serial number in the series of the previous fiscal year.

(2) This note has been deleted.

(3) Include name of station, location and station number.

(4) Name and address of contractor. If more than one, list each one as a split award on separate Purchase Action Reports.

(5) Name and location of establishment or plant or location where work will be performed. If more than one, list each one and where possible indicate the approximate percentage of work to be performed at each location. If this is same as contractor, so indicate. Show the street address as well as the city when such is shown on the face of the contract.

(6) Under the headings "Station", "Technical Service" and "Number" indicate the contract (purchase action) number in accordance with the system specified in §§ 803.309 (b) or 803.313b (e). When purchase orders are required to be reported, the number thereof will be shown under this item of the form. The date shown will be the date shown on the original agreement as established by the transmission of the document from the contracting officer to the contractor. It will be the date of the award of the agreement and not necessarily the date of the acceptance. If a purchase order is the original purchase action, use the symbol "P. O." and its serial number (rather than the contract number) followed by a symbol in parentheses indicating the technical service or service command.

(7) Indicate whether lump sum, unit price cost-plus-a-fixed-fee etc. If the transaction being reported is evidenced by a preliminary agreement (as defined in § 802.291 (d) indicate this also by word "preliminary".

(8) For construction, this means the date work is to begin. For real estate this means date of possession. The starting date may be the same as the completion date; and the starting date or both the starting date and completion date may be the same as the date of award. Where dates are dependent upon receipt of material, estimated dates are permissible but will be so indicated.

(9) Complete description of product, service, facilities, project or property. Long lists of items attached to Purchase Action Reports are not required for centralized reporting unless specifically directed by the chief of the technical service or the commanding general of the service command responsible for procurement of the item involved. Where assorted items of like nature are reported, indicate group headings such as various tank engine parts, various knit clothing, etc. Such headings must briefly but specifically state the type of article purchased to enable proper classification by end product. Do not indicate only "Spare parts"; instead, state for example, "Spare parts for trucks, except engine parts". If item or service is classified, state description but so label whole report, and transmit according to regulations covering classified information. If the purchase transaction being reported is the execution of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract, indicate the full estimated cost (not including the fixed-fee) in the description column. If the purchase transaction being reported is evidenced by a preliminary agreement under which the Government only obligates itself for a percentage of the anticipated total contract price, the anticipated full contract price should be shown under the heading "Description of Item".

(10) For the preference rating, the WPB priority rating (AAA, AA–1, A–1–a, AA–2x, etc.) will be shown.

(11) Number of units, unit cost and total cost. If cost is estimated, write "estimated" after amount. For purchase actions involving architect-engineer, management or similar services only, indicate as the total cost, the amount payable to the contractor and chargeable against a War Department appropriation. This applies primarily to cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. If under such a contract the contractor is to receive payment of an architect-engineer, management, or similar fee, and in addition is to receive payment for work performed or supplies furnished, each such payment will be shown separately. The total obligated amount will also be shown for this purchase action. In cases where land acquisition, plant expansion, tool expansion and supply items are involved on a single purchase action, a distribution by these groups and a total cost will be shown. If the purchase action is a preliminary contractual agreement, (see § 802.291 (d)) the amount for which the War Department is obligated will be shown as the total cost. In cases where a varied group of items are shown in the description section of the report and not detailed, indicate various unit prices in the same manner. Indicate this assortment either as a price range, i. e., $4.37 to $4.69 ea., or show the word "various" for a wide range of unit prices such as on tools. In all cases a total cost (actual or estimated) will be shown. This includes purchase actions for utilities or other open end contracts.

(12) State when an escalator clause is included in the contract and whether such clause is for labor, materials or both.

(13) Reporting provisions of the Walsh-Healey Act (Act of June 30, 1936; 41 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. 35-45) will, after May 1, 1943, be fulfilled by the submission of the report called for under paragraph 292. If any provision of that Act is applicable to the purchase action, the box should be checked as indicated. If the purchase action comes under any industry minimum wage determination, the industry involved should be indicated on the second line of this item. On the third line there should be indicated the date on which the poster (P. C. 13) was sent to the contractor and to the plant locations.

(14) Where total value of purchase action is in excess of $150,000.00 additional data are required as shown on form. As this additional information is required for the annual report to Congress, it must be complete.

(b) Reports of increased purchase actions not originally reported. When a purchase action, which originally was not reported because it involved a total cost of not more than $10,000 is increased to an amount in excess of $10,000, an original Purchase Action Report will be made on W. D., A. G. O. Form 496 set forth in § 802.293 showing the new net value of the purchase action and the date on which the agreement exceeded $10,000. Original and five copies will be forwarded to the chief of the technical service or commanding general of the service command not later than five days from date of change order. See item (5a) of § 802.294 (a) for method of treating such purchase actions in Monthly Summary Reports.

(c) Cancellations and Supplemental Reports. (1) A Supplemental Purchase Action Report (W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 495) will be used to report cancellations and supplemental actions as stated below. This form is printed on blue paper and is identical with W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 496 (this section), except that the words "Net change" should be substituted for the words "Total cost" on lines 9 and 11. If W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 495 (blue) is not available, W. D., A. G. O. Form No. 496 (white) may be used, in which event the substitution above mentioned should be made and the words "Supplemental Report" typed in the top and bottom margins. Supplemental Reports (whether on Form 495 or 496 and whether or not photostated) will have a one inch diagonal cut made from the bottom left corner. For supplemental purchase actions reportable to a technical service, the original and two copies of such reports will be submitted, no later than 5 calendar days after the action, to the chief of the appropriate technical service. For supplemental purchase actions reportable to a service command, the original and one copy of such reports will be submitted, no later than 5 calendar days after the action, to the commanding general of the appropriate service command. For supplemental agreements, the date shown as the award date will be that on which the supplement or cancellation was made and not the award date of the original action. The supplemental report will contain the same serial number as the original Purchase Action Report followed by a letter of the alphabet in parentheses, the first such change using the letter (a); the second (b); etc. In all cases the nature of the change will be indicated—viz.: quantity increase or decrease; price increases or decreases, etc. Where quantities have been changed show the number of units added or deleted; the unit price; the initial delivery date (if increased quantity) and the scheduled completion date; also indicate whether a decreased quantity represents a partial or complete termination for convenience of the Government, or a partial or complete termination by default of contractor. Where price changes have occurred indicate if this is due to a change in specifications or in costs. If prices have been affected by partial termination so indicate. Where a preliminary contractual agreement has been superseded by a definitive—or formal—contract, report this fact if a supplemental report is being issued to record a concurrent change in value.

(2) If a Purchase Action Report has been submitted under this section, and subsequently cancelled, completely cancelling the value of the purchase action, the action will be reported as stated in subparagraph (1) and the cancellation value shall equal the previously reported contract value (including supplements, if any).

(3) In case a previously reported individual purchase action has been decreased so that the net value is below $10,000, a supplemental report will be submitted showing a net change figure equal to the previously reported figures, not merely the amount of the decrease. For the purposes of this subpart, changes of this type will be considered as cancellations because only purchase actions having a net value in excess of $10,000 are reportable. Cancellations that do not reduce the contract to $10,000 or less will not be reported as cancellations even though the quantity of the item on contract may have been reduced to zero. Such cancellations will be reported merely as decreases and the new net value shall be shown.

(4) Changes—increase or decrease—of a previously reported purchase action will be reported as above when the change is in excess of $1,000. Changes resulting from renegotiation will be included. The report will be on the basis of the net increase or decrease (state which) and not the revised total cost of the purchase. However, the latter amount will always be shown thus:

Previously reported value (including supplements, if any)----------
Increase (or decrease) this supplement------
New value of contract----------

(5) Changes—increase or decrease—of $1,000 or less on purchase actions previously reported, which had a value in excess of $10,000, will not be reported in the manner set forth in subparagraph (4) above. Instead, a summary of such smaller changes (including changes resulting from renegotiation) will be included in the Monthly Summary Report required to be submitted on all purchase actions reportable to technical services. The net change figure reported for cancellations, as stated above, will include any of these smaller changes applying to the purchase action being cancelled.

§ 802.294 Monthly Summary Report of Purchase Actions. A summary of all purchase actions in excess of $10,000 will be rendered for each calendar month as of the last day thereof and submitted on an 8 inch by 10½ inch sheet to the chiefs of the various technical services within 5 calendar days after the close of the month. The report will be rendered on the basis of net obligations undertaken during the month and not appropriations authorized. The form set forth below will be used for all reports submitted. Only one copy is required, unless otherwise directed by appropriate authority.

(a) Explanation of Monthly Summary Report form. The following notes apply to the report form:

(1) Indicate station name, number and location.

(2) Record date submitted.

(3) The month in which the action took place will be shown. A separate monthly summary will be required for each month in which purchase actions, that have not been previously reported, were awarded. In the case of a supplement, cancellation or change, the award date of the supplement, cancellation or change is the determining month and not the date of the original award.

(4) Where a particular post, camp or station has purchases during a period coming under the jurisdiction of more than one technical service, a separate monthly summary report will be submitted to each technical service according to instructions included in § 802.292. Each monthly summary report submitted to a technical service should indicate on line (4) the technical service to which it is submitted and should contain entries only with respect to purchase actions reportable to that technical service. (See § 802.292.)

(5a) Include all original negotiated awards in excess of $10,000 let during the month shown in item (3). Include the cumulative value of awards that originally were let for $10,000 or less, but which by supplements or changes let this month are now in excess of $10,000.

(5b) Include all purchase action previously reported whose value (not quantity) was cancelled in their entirety during the month shown in item (3) as well as the full previously reported value (including all previous changes) of purchase actions that have been reported as being in excess of $10,000 and which by this change during the month shown in item (3) decreases the net value of $10,000 or less.

(5c) Include value of supplements or changes made during the month shown in item (3) and which had a value in excess of $1,000 and were reported on supplemental reports. (See § 802.293 (d).)

(5d) Include value of supplements or changes made during month shown in item (3) and which had a value of $1,000 or less and were not reported on supplemental reports as described in § 802.293 (c) (5).

(5e) Show the net total of items 5a, 5b, 5c, and 5d. (5c, 5d or 5e may be an increase or decrease. Indicate which.)

(6a) Show the number of purchase actions represented by the dollar value shown in item (5a).

(6b) Show the number of purchase actions represented by the dollar value shown in item (5b).

(6c) Show the net total of item 6a and 6b. (The number of purchase actions to be shown is only for original awards reported (5a) and cancellations (5b). The counts of purchase actions whose value is shown as items 5c and 5d will never be included.)

(7) Fill in signatures, name, rank and service.

(b) Service commands are not required to submit Monthly Summary Reports of Purchase Actions. The offices of the commanding generals of the service commands are not required to submit Monthly Summary Reports of Purchase Actions or recapitulations thereof. Installations under the jurisdiction of service commands are required to submit all Purchase Action Reports, including Monthly Summary Reports of Purchase Actions, to the appropriate chief of the technical service where the contract is numbered as a technical service contract in accordance with § 803.309 (b). (See § 802.292.) Such installations, unless so required by the commanding general of the appropriate service command, are not required to submit Monthly Summary Reports to the commanding general of the service command.

§ 802.295 Quarterly Report on Procurement. Pursuant to Public Law 528, 77th Congress, the chiefs of the technical services and the commanding generals of the service commands will submit to the Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, within 20 days from the close of each quarter of each fiscal year, the report designated "Quarterly Report on Procurement," Control Approval Symbol No. ICY–35. This report will be typed on individual strips arranged in alphabetical order by the contractor's name, into pages which shall have no more than 10 inches of printed and typed matter including the header strip showing. Header strips for each quarterly report will be furnished in advance by the Purchases Division. The headers and individual strips will be assembled into pages by use of crinkly "draftsman's type" Scotch tape. The pages will not be numbered. Total dollar value will be shown at the bottom of the last page submitted for each headquarters. This total will include only the total of the individual figures reported. No contract will be included in this report the original value of which does not exceed $150,000. Supplements, including increases, decreases or cancellations, will not be reported. No contract will be reported which had an original value of $150,000 or less but which, by reason of supplements, has been increased to a figure in excess of $150,000. Purchases Division will assemble the various reports submitted by the technical services and the service commands into one report which will be submitted to Congress. Subsequent to the preparation of this completed report by the Purchases Division the pages will be returned to the submitted headquarters for dis-assembly and filing of the individual strips for future reference. If no contract in excess of $150,000 has been let during the period a negative report will be submitted.

§ 802.296 Stations required to report. (1) Except as noted below, it is the responsibility of every station to which a reallocation, allotment, or suballotment has been made and which is located within the continental limits of the United States or in the Northwest Service Command to make reports of purchase actions. Stations under the jurisdiction of the commanding generals of the Army Ground Forces and the Defense Commands and all stations outside the continental limits of the United tates (except those in the Northwest Service Command) are not required to make such reports.

(2) Reports by exempted and non-exempted stations: Both individual Purchase Action Reports and Monthly Summary Reports will be submitted to the chiefs of the various technical services, for all contracts numbered as technical service contracts in accordance with § 803.309 (b). This will apply to all types of installations, whether Class I, II, III or IV. No stations are to submit any Purchase Action Reports whatsoever direct to the Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(3) Transmission of reports by functional staff divisions: Functional staff divisions, Army Service Forces, and stations under their jurisdiction will submit Purchase Action Reports in the same manner as chiefs of technical services and stations under the jurisdiction of the chiefs of technical services; provided, however, that one copy of each report forwarded will be retained by the office of the functional staff division involved, and the original and 5 copies will be forwarded from the office of such division to the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, attention Purchases Division, with 5 days from the date of action. The chiefs of the functional staff divisions will be responsible for complete, accurate, proper and timely submission of such reports. Nothing contained in this subpart, however, shall require the preparation or submission of any individual or summary reports from or with respect to purchase actions of Army Exchange Service.

(4) Reports not to be duplicated: When a formal contract is executed covering a previously reported purchase action (such as a preliminary contractual agreement) no additional purchase action will be filed. Likewise, a purchase order is to be reported only when it is the original purchase action on the item in question. A delivery order is not to be reported when it is an order placed against an existing transaction previously reported as a purchase action.

§ 802.297 Signing of reports. Reports should be signed by some responsible officer. Those required by § 802.293 should normally be signed by the contracting officer, and those required by § 802.294, by the officer in charge of the procurement covered by the report. If this is not practicable some other responsible officer may sign.

§ 802.298 Responsibility of the chiefs of the technical services and the commanding generals of the service commands. The chiefs of the technical services and the commanding generals of the service commands are charged with the following responsibilities:

(1) Responsibility for assuring that all reports required by this subpart are prepared by the stations under their jurisdiction and forwarded to them in accordance with §§ 802.293 and 802.294. This responsibility includes:

(i) Responsibility for controlling by means of the serial numbering system (see § 802.293 (a) (1)) the submission of Purchase Action Reports.

(ii) Responsibility for requiring the submission of the proper number of copies of Purchase Action Reports.

(iii) Responsibility for checking by contract number to assure that duplicate reports are not received, including the checking of terminations and cancellations.

(iv) Responsibility for reconciling individual Purchase Action Reports submitted by each station with the Monthly

Summary Reports submitted by such station. (Does not apply to commanding generals of service commands.)

(2) Responsibility for the preparation and submission of the Quarterly Report on Procurement.

(3) Responsibility for submission to Purchase Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces within ten days after the close of each month a Monthly Summary Report of Purchase Actions which will include all purchase actions reported to them during such month. The form established in § 802.294 will be used. The purpose of this report is to enable Headquarters, Army Service Forces to control purchase action reporting and to post to a master record the totals of all purchase actions as of the months in which the actions took place regardless of the month they are reported. It is essential therefor, that the chief of each technical service (this section does not apply to commanding generals of service commands) classify the Purchase Action Reports submitted to him by date of award, or in the case of supplemental reports, by the date of action, and render to Purchases Division separate Monthly Summary Reports of Purchase Actions for each month in which an action took place. All such separate Monthly Summary Reports submitted each month will be recapitulated and reconciled with the total, separately accumulated, for all W. D., A. G. O. Forms No. 496 and No. 495 submitted that month to Purchases Division by each chief of a technical service. The following form will be used and submitted attached to the Monthly Summary Reports of Purchase Actions, Control Approval Symbol ICY-34. One copy only of such summaries and reconciliation will be submitted to Purchases Division. A transmittal letter is not required.

SUBPART A—GENERAL

§ 803.301 Rescission of regulations. Army Regulations 5–200, dated January 2, 1940, as amended, and all other prior directives and instructions of whatsoever nature relating to the making of contracts are hereby rescinded.

(a) Compliance with this part. Unless otherwise specifically provided, compliance with any provision of this part or of any amendment thereto which requires a change in contract procedure or in any contract provision shall not be mandatory until thirty days after the issuance of such regulation or amendment.

§ 803.302 Definitions. As used in this part the following terms will have the meanings assigned to them in the following paragraphs:

(a) United States and Government. These terms are synonymous and include the War Department.

(b) Contractor. A contractor is any person, partnership, company, or corporation (or any combination of these) which is a party to a contract with the United States.

(c) Contracting officer. (1) A contracting officer is an officer or civilian official of the War Department who has been appointed by any one of the following persons, or by their direction, or in accordance with such orders and regulations as they may prescribe for their respective commands, to execute contracts on behalf of the United States:

(i) The Secretary of War;
(ii) The Under Secretary of War;
(iii) The Commanding General in a Theatre of Operations;
(iv) The Commanding General, Army Air Forces;
(v) The Director, Purchases Division, Army Service Forces;
(vi) The Chief of any Technical Service.

(2) Unless otherwise specifically provided, the words "the contracting officer," when used in this chapter or in any existing or future contract, supplemental agreement or change order, are construed to include:

(i) His duly appointed successor or authorized representative;

(ii) Any and all contracting officers, acting within the scope of the orders respectively appointing them contracting officers.

(3) Representatives may be designated as follows:

(i) The Chief of a Technical Service may designate any officer or civilian official to act as representative of the contracting officer or his duly appointed successor;

(ii) A commanding officer may designate any contracting officer assigned to his command or station to act as representative of any other contracting officer assigned to the same command or station, or of a contracting officer's duly appointed successor so assigned;

(iii) A contracting officer, his duly appointed successor, and any representative designated pursuant to (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph (3), may respectively designate any officers or civilian officials to act as their representatives.

(4) A designation authorized by subparagraph (3) may be made by instructions referring to particular contractual instruments or classes of instruments, and may, to the extent not specifically prohibited by the terms of the contractual instrument involved, empower the representative to take any or all action thereunder which could lawfully be taken by the contracting officer. In no event, however, shall a representative, by virtue only of his designation as such, be empowered to execute any contract or supplemental agreement (as distinguished from change order). Of course, if the representative is a contracting officer, he may, pursuant to the order appointing him a contracting officer, execute contracts or supplemental agreements.

(5) Any person duly appointed a contracting officer in accordance with subparagraph (1) above, with authority to execute contracts on behalf of a particular technical service, service command or the Army Air Forces may execute contracts on behalf of any other service when the necessary funds, if any, have been made available.

(6) All action heretofore taken which would have been valid if this paragraph had then been in effect, is hereby ratified and confirmed.

(d) Disbursing officer. A disbursing officer is the officer who has been designated to mak payments under a contract.

(e) The following are terms used in connection with contracts:

(1) Signed number. A signed number means the instrument with the required signatures.

(2) Authenticated copy. An authenticated copy means a copy of the instrument shown to be authentic by either:

(i) Certification as a true copy,
(ii) Official seal, or
(iii) Photostatic process.

The signatures on such copies may be either facsimile, stamped, or typed.

(3) Copy. A copy means a copy of the instrument, including the names of the contracting parties, but lacking authentication.

(f) Default. Default is the refusal or the failure of a contractor to carry out the terms of a contract.

§ 803.303 General requirements for contracts. (1) Every purchase transaction except those where payment is made coincidentally with receipt of supplies will be evidenced by a written contract.

(2) Where it has been administratively determined by the commanding officer as more economical and advantageous in the interest of the war effort, Class B agent officers may be appointed in procurement installations under the provisions of AR 35–320 for the purpose of making cash payments for emergency purchases and nonpersonal services not exceeding $100. The use of War Department Form No. 332 (Public Voucher—Emergency Purchases and Nonpersonal Services Not Exceeding $100), properly executed and supported by certified invoices, will be used for this purpose. War Department Form No. 332 may be closed periodically to suit local conditions and submitted to the disbursing officer for credit in the agent officers' accounts as prescribed by AR 35–320.

(3) War Department Form No. 332, when used as authorized in subparagraph

(2) above, will be prepared in quadruplicate (original and three memorandum copies) and distributed as follows:

(i) Original and duplicate to accountable disbursing officer, supported by certified invoices.

(ii) Triplicate to accountable property officer, supported by certified invoices and the following certificate:

I certify that the supplies enumerated hereon were received by me and that payment therefor has been made by me as agent officer in cash this _____ day of _____ 19____, from funds intrusted to me by _____, finance officer at _____, that the nonexpendable property listed hereon (if any) will be accounted for by the _____ property officer at _____, and that the expendable items hereon designated thus (x) are for immediate consumption in current service in _____

(State purpose for which the expendable supplier are to be immediately used. For example: "Operation of motor trucks or airplanes," "troops on the march," etc.)
Allotment No. _____

(Name, grade, and organization)
Agent Officer

(iii) Quadruplicate, without attachments, to Fiscal Officer, Service Command Headquarters, for property audit files. This copy will be stamped with stamp of agent officer to indicate payment in cash or by check.

(4) When funds are expended in accordance with the procedure outlined in subparagraphs (2) and (3) above, the transaction need not be evidenced by any written contract or purchase order, since payment will be made coincidentally with receipt of supplies.

(a) Contracts may be either formal or informal.

(b) A formal contract is one which is contained in one instrument executed by both parties. An illustration is War Department Contract Form No. 1 (see § 813.1301). Formal contracts may be used for any purchase transaction, regardless of amount and will be used for all purchase transactions, the contract price of which exceeds $500,000.

(c) For any purchase transaction, the contract price of which does not exceed $500,000, an informal contract consisting of two separate instruments, one signed by the contractor and the other signed by the contracting officer on behalf of the United States, may be used.

(d) (1) When a purchase order is preceded by a written quotation or is followed by a written evidence of acceptance executed by the contractor, it is to be regarded as an informal contract consisting of two instruments; and accordingly, may be used, in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section, for any purchase transaction the contract price of which does not exceed $500,000. If the contractor's assent is not evidenced either by a written quotation or by acceptance of the purchase order in writing, the purchase order may nevertheless be used for any purchase transaction the contract price of which does not exceed $500,000 provided that the purchase order is preceded by an oral quotation or is based upon a price list.

(2) When the contractor furnishes no evidence of his assent either (i) by a written or oral quotation, (ii) by a written acceptance or (iii) by the publication of a price list, the purchase order may not be used for any transaction the contract price of which exceeds $5,000; but may be used for any transaction the contract price of which does not exceed $5,000.

(3) The provisions of this paragraph and of paragraphs (b) and (c) are not applicable to interbranch or interdepartmental purchases (see § 806.605a and Subpart C of Part 806). Regardless of the amount involved, such purchases need not be evidenced by formal contracts. They should be evidenced by a delivery order (for suggested form see § 813.1317, Form No. 19).

(e) Numbering and distribution of contracts. (1) The numbering of contracts is discussed in §§ 803.309 and 803.318b (e) and the distribution of contracts is discussed in Subpart D of this part.

(2) Distribution of purchase orders. As pointed out in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (d), it is not necessary that a purchase order which does not exceed $5,000 in amount be preceded by a quotation. If the contract price exceeds $5,000, however, the following rules shall apply:

(i) If the purchase order was preceded by a written quotation signed by the contractor, or if the contractor delivered some written instrument evidencing the contractor's assent, the original of such written quotation or instrument should be forwarded to the appropriate Army Audit Branch of the General Accounting Office and a copy thereof attached to the copy of the purchase order furnished the disbursing officer.

(ii) If the contractor did not furnish a written quotation or written evidence of its assent and the purchase order merely accepted an oral quotation or was based on a price list, the purchase order, as forwarded to the Army Audit Branch of the General Accounting Office, should contain a reference to the oral quotation or price list. This may consist of a simple statement such as "Pursuant to oral quotation of even date" or "Pursuant to oral quotation of _____, 194__" or "Pursuant to _____ (Name of contractor or other _____ price list, dated _____, identification)
194__".

(f) Partial payments. It is to be noted that any type of contract, including the purchase order, may provide for partial payments upon completion of the delivery of one or more complete units called for under the contract, or upon the completion of one or more distinct items of service called for thereunder. Any existing contracts which provide for a single payment may be amended to provide for such partial payments. Likewise, prior to delivery, payments may be made on work in progress for the Government, Provided, That the contract contains a clause similar to one of the contract clauses set forth in §§ 803.330 and 803.331. Contracts (including purchase orders) under which it is contemplated that more than one payment will be involved must, of course, be numbered as required by § 803.309 (a) and distributed in accordance with § 803.316.

§ 803.303a Letters of intent and letter orders. The use of letters of intent and letter orders (see §§ 815.105 (c) and 815.107 (b) (1)) was frequently necessary in the earlier stages of the war procurement program to enable contractors to start work immediately upon war contracts prior to the time when the information was available upon which a definitive contract could be negotiated and without the delay incident to contract negotiations. At the present stage of the procurement program, such temporary contractual instruments will be used only for the most cogent reasons and will be superseded at the earliest possible moment by definitive contracts. In general, such instruments should be used only (1) where it is essential to give the contractor a binding commitment to permit of preparatory work immediately and without any delay, or (2) where because of the experimental nature of the work involved or the lack of definite information as to the volume of supplies to be ordered, the amount of work to be done, or detailed specifications, it is impossible to negotiate a definitive contract. Such instruments should not be used as a method of delaying the making of a definitive contract until a substantial portion of the contractor's performance of the contract has been completed. The standard termination provisions for inclusion in letter orders and letters of intent (see §§ 815.105 (c) and 815.107 (b) (1)) leave room for the insertion of a date by which the definitive contract is to be executed, and also permit postponement of such date by mutual consent (see paragraph 6 (a) of contracts in §§ 813.1307 to 813.1310, inclusive). The date inserted should be the earliest date feasible under the circumstances, and postponement should not be consented to except for good cause.

On or before the tenth of each month the chief of each technical service will file with the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, a report of each letter of intent or letter order which on the last day of the preceding month had been outstanding more than sixty days without the execution of a definitive contract. Such report shall set forth the following information:

(i) Contract number.
(ii) Name of contractor.
(iii) Amount of expenditures authorized under the letter order or letter of intent.
(iv) Date of letter order or letter of intent.
(v) A very brief statement of the reasons why a definitive contract has not been executed.

(a) Use of provisions for allowance of profit in standard termination provisions. (1) The standard termination provisions (see §§ 815.105 (c) and 815.107 (b) (1)) permit of an allowance for profit in the event of termination of a letter of intent or letter order for the convenience of the Government. Such provisions may be omitted in the discretion of the chief of the technical service. However, the chiefs of the technical services will normally include such provisions for a profit allowance (i) in letter orders and letters of intent which, because of inability on the part of the Government to furnish full specifications or essential information or other similar reason, will necessarily remain in effect for a considerable period before they can be superseded by definitive contract, and (ii) in cases where the contractor is required to proceed under a letter of intent or letter order, although willing to quote a reasonable fixed price, solely because the Government for its own interest is unwilling immediately to negotiate a definitive contract.

(2) Prior to, but not after, the giving of notice of termination, letter orders and letters of intent may be amended, with the approval of the chief of the technical service, to include substantially the standard termination provisions, including the provisions permitting an allowance of profit for work actually done, where the chief of the technical service determines that all of the following conditions exist:

(i) That there has been a prolonged delay in entering into definitive contract during which time the contractor has incurred substantial expense pursuant to the letter order or letter contract.

(ii) That all the delays in entering into a definitive contract have been without fault on the part of the contractor and the contractor has been ready and willing to cooperate in entering into a definitive contract.

(iii) That a settlement of the contract, in the event of its termination for the convenience of the Government, will be unfair to the contractor if an allowance of profit for work done by the contractor pursuant to the letter contract cannot be made.

(3) Letters of intent and letter orders may be amended to insert therein the standard termination provisions other than those portions of such provisions which permit an allowance of profit, in accordance with § 815.107 (b) (2).

(4) Each amendment of the type mentioned in subparagraphs (2) and (3) above shall be made pursuant to the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001 and shall be based upon a finding by or in behalf of the chief of the technical service that such amendment will facilitate the prosecution of the war. The authority to approve amendments made pursuant to subparagraph (2) shall be delegated by the chief of the technical service only to officers or employees of the War Department within the Headquarters Office of the chief of the technical service, except that the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, may delegate such authority within the Headquarters Offices of any of the component commands of the Army Air Forces.

(5) Amendments of the termination provisions of letter orders and letters of intent in any other manner, or at any other time, than is authorized by the provisions of subparagraphs (2) and (3) above shall be made only with the written approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, but no such amendments to include provisions permitting an allowance of profit (not theretofore provided by such order) shall be made after the giving of notice of termination.

SUBPART B—AUTHORITY TO MAKE AWARDS, CONTRACTS, AND MODIFICATIONS THEREOF; REQUIRED APPROVALS

§ 803.304 Definitions—(a) Standard forms of contract. The phrase "standard forms of contract", as used in this subpart, includes:

(1) Forms of contract which may from time to time be approved for the general use of all technical services by the Legal Assistant to the Director of Matériel or the Chief, Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. The following contract forms are hereby approved for such use:

(i) United States Standard forms of contract, provided they comply with the requirements of Subpart H.
(ii) Long Form Supply Contract:
Lump Sum Supply Contract (See § 813.1301).
(iii) Short Form Supply Contracts:
Purchase Order and Voucher (See § 813.1317a[1]).
Purchase Order (See § 813.1317b[1]).
Government's Order and Contractor's Acceptance (See § 813.1317c[1]).
Informal Invitation, Informal Bid, and Acceptance (See § 813.1317d[1]).
Delivery Order (See § 813.1317e).
Contractor's Offer and Government's Acceptance (See § 813.1317f[1]).
(iv) Construction and related contracts:
Lump Sum Construction Contract (See § 813.1302).
Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Construction Contract (See § 813.1303).
Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Architect-Engineer Contract (See § 813.1304).
Fixed-Fee Architect-Engineer-Construction-Management Services Contract (See § 813.1312).
Lump-Sum Contract for Architect-Engineer Services (With Optional Supervision) (See § 813.1316).
(v) Letter Orders:
Letter Order for Supplies (No Price Stated) (See § 813.1307).
Letter Order for Supplies (Price Stated) (See § 813.1308).
Letter Order Contract for Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Construction (See § 813.1309).
Letter Order Contract for Lump-Sum Construction (See § 813.1310).
(vi) Supplemental Agreements for Advance Payments:
Supplemental Agreement for Advance Payments with Interest on Fixed-Price Contracts (See § 813.1320).
Supplemental Agreement for Advance Payments with Interest on Fixed-Fee Contracts (See § 813.1321).
Supplemental Agreement for Advance Payments with Interest on a Letter Purchase Order (See § 813.1322).
Supplemental Agreement for Advance Payments without Interest on Fixed-Price Contracts (See § 813.1323).
Supplemental Agreement for Advance Payments without Interest on Fixed-Fee Contracts (See § 813.1324).
Supplemental Agreement for Advance Payments without Interest on Letter Purchase Orders (See § 813.1325).
(vii) Utility Service Forms:
Negotiated Electric Service Contract (Connection Charge) (See § 813.1315a).
Negotiated Utility Service Contract (No Connection Charge—Electric, Gas, Water, Sewage) (See § 813.1315b[1]).
(viii) Miscellaneous Contracts:
Defense Supplies Corporation (See § 813.1311).
War Supplies Limited (See § 813.1313).
Government-Owned Equipment Rental Agreement (See § 813.1314).
Informal Invitation, Informal Bid, and Acceptance (Sale of Property) (See § 813.1326[1]).

(2) Forms of contract, devised by a particular technical service, or a staff division exercising procurement functions, to meet the needs of a recurrent situation of a special type, which may from time to time be approved by the Legal Assistant to the Director of Matériel or the Chief, Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, Headquarters, Army Service Forces (see § 801.107 (h)), for the general use of that technical service or staff division. Forms so approved should be periodically revised (see § 803.301 (a)) to accord with requirements of these procurements regulations published following approval of the forms. If deviation from such requirements appears to be necessary, the forms should be resubmitted for approval.

(3) The forms of contract enumerated below have been approved pursuant to subparagraph (2). Except where the particular form was approved by separate indorsement or memorandum, in which case the precise terms approved will appear from the file containing the indorsement or memorandum, it may be assumed that that version of the form was approved which on 7 July 1943 was authorized for use by the technical service or staff division involved.

Office of the Chief of Chemical Warfare Service: Short Form Research Contract (consideration nominal).
Negotiated Sale Contract.
Office of the Chief of Engineers:

Engineer Form No. 84	Release of Claim for Additional Fee.
Engineer Form No. 85	Release of Claim for Additional Fee to Extent only of Joint-Venturer.
Engineer Form No. 17	Hire by Government of Plant or Equipment.
CE Form No. 186	Lease of Plant.
Engineer Form No. 213a	Quotation.
Engineer Form No. 213b	Purchase Order.
Engineer Form No. 520	Contract for Reconditioning Construction and Maintenance Equipment.

Contract for Boiler Inspection Service.

[1] To be used in accordance with instructions appearing in the cited section.

Office of the Chief of Ordnance:
- Notice of Award (Ordnance Procurement Instructions, par. 13,002).
- Purchase Order Form (O. P. I., par. 13,003).
- Equipment Lease Form (O. P. I., par. 13,004).
- Facility, Lease and Operation Form (O. P. I., par. 13,005).
- Disposition of Personal Property—Negotiated Sale Agreement (O. P. I., par. 13,006.1).
- Disposition of Personal Property—Form S (Allocation) Contract (O. P. I., par. 13,006.2).
- Sale of Property to Defense Plant Corporation (O. P. I., par. 13,006.3).
- Sale of Property by Defense Plant Corporation to Ordnance (O. P. I., par. 13,006.4).
- Gage Repair Contract (O. P. I., par. 13,008).
- Lease of Government-Owned Machine Tool Equipment, etc., and Supplement Thereto (O. P. I., pars. 13,009.1 and 13,009.2).
- Repair Service Contract ("Drive-Away" Carriers) (O. P. I., par. 13,013).
- Supplemental Agreement for Modifying Production Rates in Existing Contracts (O. P. I., par. 13,015).
- Extension of Letter Contract (O. P. I., par. 13,016).
- Letter Order for Emergency Supplies (O. P. C. No. 12–44)
- Contract for Spare Parts and Military Publications (O. P. C. No. 67–44).

Office of the Quartermaster General:

QMC Form No. 300	Purchase Order for Use in Purchasing Certain Food Supplies.
QMC Form No. 308	Purchase Order.
QMC Forms No. 315 and 316 (Tentative).	Invitation, Bid and Acceptance Form for Purchasing Coal.
QMC Form No. 327	Contract for Sale of Waste Material.
Uniform Burial Contract.
QMC Form No. P640	Petroleum Purchase and Storage (Interior).
QMC Form No. P641	Petroleum Storage Contract (Interior).
QMC Form No. P642	Contract for Purchasing Lubricating Oils and Greases.
QMC Form No. 1012	Contract for Warehouse Services.

- Contract for Procurement of Dehydrated Foods.

Office of the Chief Signal Officer:

O. C. S. O. Form No. 6–D.	General Contract for Purchase Order.
W. D. S. C. Form No. 57.[1]	Trunkline and other Communication Facilities and Services.
W. D. S. C. Form No. 134.[1]	Contract for Communication and Electric Time Facilities and Services.

- Contract for Radio and Phonograph Recordings.

Service Commands:
- Form for laundry (and dry cleaning) contract and hospital laundry contract (see Part Two, ASF Circular 128, 8 May 1944).

(b) Contract. As used in this subpart, the term "contract" means any contract except supplemental agreements and change orders and except those contracts referred to in §§ 810.1014 and 810.1015.

(c) Price. As used in this subpart, the term "price" means in the case of a lump-sum contract (or supplemental agreement or change order relating thereto), the stated price, and in the case of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract (or supplemental agreement or change order relating thereto), the estimated cost plus the fixed-fee.

(d) Technical service. Whenever authority is conferred by this subpart upon a technical service, that authority may be exercised by the chief of the technical service or by any officer or officers or civilian official or officials whom he may designate, subject to such regulations as he may prescribe.

§ 803.305 Making and approval of awards of contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders—(a) Authority of technical services to make awards. All awards of contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders, other than those described in paragraph (b) may be made by the technical service concerned without approval of higher authority.

(b) Awards requiring the approval of Director, Purchases Division. (1) The following awards must be submitted for approval to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces:

(i) Awards of contracts (other than Architect-Engineer Management or similar contracts) involving a price of $5,000,000 or more, and awards of supplemental agreements and change orders which have the effect of increasing the price of contracts (other than Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contracts) by $5,000,000 or more.

(ii) Awards of Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contracts when the construction contracts to which they relate involve a price of $5,000,000 or more, and awards of supplemental agreements and change orders affecting Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contracts when the changes being concurrently made in the construction contracts to which they relate have the effect of increasing the price of the construction contracts by $5,000,000 or more.

(2) If it is desired to execute a preliminary contract, as defined below, with a particular contractor, and the choice of contractor presents no real alternative, it shall not be necessary to obtain any approval pursuant to subparagraph (1) above. Such approval will, however, be obtained prior to the execution of the final definitive agreement, if required by subparagraph (1). The term "preliminary contract", as used in this subparagraph (2), refers to any type of tentative agreement (as, for example, a letter purchase order of the type set forth in § 813.1307) which, it is contemplated, will be subsequently superseded by a final definitive agreement which will obligate War Department funds in an estimated amount at least twice the amount obligated by the tentative agreement.

(c) Submission of contract, supplemental agreement or change order in lieu of award. In lieu of submitting an award for approval under paragraph (b), the contract, supplemental agreement or change order may itself be submitted for approval and manual execution by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(d) Information to be furnished in requesting approval of awards. Requests for approval of awards will include the information indicated below or such parts thereof as are relevant to the particular procurements. The requests should show the extent of the consideration given to the following points in the course of the negotiation and placement of the agreement.

(1) Requests for approval of awards under subparagraph (1) (i) of paragraph (b) (other than requests for approval of awards of preliminary agreements such as letter orders):

(i) Name and address of contractor.

(ii) Location of the plant from which items are to be furnished.

(iii) Quantity and brief description of items to be furnished.

(iv) Unit prices and total amount to be expended.

(v) Brief summary of delivery schedules.

(vi) Experience of contractor with same or similar work.

(vii) New facilities required and reference to any necessary approval thereof.

(viii) Whether negotiations were conducted with more than one contractor.

(ix) Brief reference to the consideration and application of contract placement policies (see Part 802, Subpart B).

(x) Reference to form of contract to be used, noting and justifying any provisions requiring approval of higher authority, or referring to any such approval previously obtained (see, for example, §§ 803.306 (b) and (d), 812.1243, 803.360 (a) and (b), 812.1224 and 803.341 (b)):

(xi) Price information showing that a careful and thorough price analysis was made in the course of the negotiation and giving a brief narrative history of the negotiations with the contractor. This information should be given in sufficient detail to permit an appraisal of the consideration given to comparative prices, components of price, and cost and price trends. (See ASF Manual M 601, "Pricing in War Contracts"; Part 802, Subpart C).

(a) Comparative prices: The value of this information depends in large part on whether the conditions and circumstances of the procurements offered for comparison are in fact fairly comparable with those involved in the procurement approval of which is sought. The request should therefore indicate the consideration given to the various factors in the particular case which affect comparability. The following list of such possible factors is merely suggestive, not exhaustive: (1) volume of production; (2) contractors' experience in producing the same or similar items; (3) Government-owned facilities and Government-furnished material; (4) financing provisions; (5) royalty payments; (6) risk factors, including those arising out of the length of delivery schedules; (7) Government's assumption of risks by means of contract provisions; (8) comparative price movements.

(b) Components of price: The request should reflect the types of approach used in analyzing components of price, of which the following are suggestive: (1) analysis of the contractor's cost breakdowns; (2) comparisons of the contractor's cost estimates with his experienced costs and with the estimated and experienced costs of other suppliers of the same or similar items; (3) comparison of the contractor's cost estimates with the overall operating statement for his latest fiscal year or with budgeted forecasts for the period of production; (4) analysis of engineering cost estimates.

The consideration given to trends in prices, in cost of materials, and in wage rates and utilization of labor should be indicated in the request.

The reasons for substantial differences in costs and prices as well as the effect of subcontracting on costs and prices, should be summarized.

Presentation of the foregoing information should indicate that the price analysis was made with a view to effectuating, wherever possible, the War Department policy of reducing costs and prices.

(xii) State whether advance payments are to be requested and indicate percentage of total price.

(xiii) Approximate amount of subcontracting, in dollars and in percentage of price, proposed to be done by the contractor. Where the amount or the percentage is large, a summary of the analysis of available subcontract prices and all available price comparisons for the major components should be given.

(xiv) Where the request for approval includes, in addition to the principal unit, spare parts or special packaging, or both, there should be a clear summary of the method of the pricing thereof. In the case of spare parts, for example, the summary may show the consideration given to the relationship between the total of the prices for all the parts used in assembling a unit and the price of an assembled unit.

(xv) Where the agreement is on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis, in addition to an analysis similar to that required elsewhere in this subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (to the extent feasible), a full statement of the reasons for the use of such type of agreement should be given (see § 802.232 (a) to (c)), together with an explanation of the basis of calculation of the fixed fee (see § 802.232 (c)).

(xvi) A brief statement of the consideration given to (a) the results of, (b) the information obtained in, and (c) any forward pricing agreement in connection with any statutory renegotiation of the contractor; together with a statement of the record of the contractor in making voluntary price reductions and refunds to the Government.

(xvii) Any other matters having a bearing on the reasonableness of the price, which it is desired to submit.

(xviii) Recommendation of the chief of the technical service, or his representative, as to the action desired to be taken by the Director, Purchases Division.

(2) Requests for approval of awards under subparagraph (1) (i) of paragraph (b) (other than requests for approval of awards of preliminary agreements such as letter orders):

(i) Name and address of contractor who is to furnish the services.

(ii) Brief description of the services and place of performance.

(iii) Brief statement of past performance record of the contractor.

(iv) Whether negotiations were conducted with more than one contractor.

(v) Brief description of project to which the services relate.

(vi) Form of agreement, with adequate reference to and justification of any provisions requiring approval of higher authority or to any such approval previously obtained.

(vii) The price, and whether it is considered reasonable.

(viii) If the agreement is on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis, the amount of the fixed fee, and whether the fixed fee exceeds the maximum allowed under the schedule established by the Under Secretary of War.

(ix) Ratio of fixed fee to estimated gross construction cost.

(x) Whether agreement covers design only or supervision only, or both design and supervision.

(xi) Whether release of claim for additional fee has been obtained with respect to all prior cost-plus-a-fixed-fee construction or architect-engineer contracts with the War Department.

(xii) Recommendation of the chief of the technical service, or his representative, as to the action desired to be taken by the Director, Purchases Division.

(3) Requests for approval of awards of preliminary agreements such as letter orders:

(i) Such of the information required by the foregoing provisions of this paragraph as should be available in the circumstances of the particular preliminary agreement, and the reasons for not giving the information which is not furnished.

(ii) The reason for the use of a preliminary agreement (see § 803.303a).

(iii) Recommendation of the chief of the service, or his representative, as to the action desired to be taken by the Director, Purchases Division.

§ 803.306 Making and approval of contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders—(a) Authority of technical services to make contracts. A contract may be made by the technical service concerned without approval of higher authority (provided that approval of the award has been obtained, if such approval is required under § 803.305 (b), and the contract substantially embodies the award as approved), if:

(1) The contract is written on a standard form of contract; or

(2) The contract (i) complies with the requirements of Subpart H of this part, and (ii) does not contain any provision or involve any matter of policy which, in the opinion of the technical service, should be considered and passed upon by authority higher than the technical service.

(b) In determining whether a contract provision or matter of policy should be considered and passed upon by higher authority, consideration shall be given by the technical service to the following factors among others:

(1) Whether there is involved a conflict with a policy theretofore approved by higher authority;

(2) Whether there is involved a decision on an important question of policy which has not theretofore been passed upon by higher authority;

(3) Whether there is involved a decision on any matter in which uniformity among the several technical services appears to be desirable;

(4) Whether there is involved a decision on an important or doubtful question of law.

(c) Authority of technical services to make supplemental agreements and change orders. Except as provided in paragraph (e) and in §§ 803.308a and 803.308g, a supplemental agreement to change order modifying a contract (other than an Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contract) may be made or issued by the technical services concerned without approval of higher authority (provided that approval of the award has been obtained if such approval is required under the provisions of § 803.305 (b) and the supplemental agreement, or change order substantially embodies the award as approved), if:

(1) The technical service had authority to make the original contract pursuant to paragraph (a), or the technical service did not have such authority but obtained approval pursuant to paragraph (d); and

(2) The provisions and features of the supplemental agreement or change order are themselves such that the technical service would have authority to include them in an original contract pursuant to paragraph (a).

Changes in Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contracts may also be made by the technical service concerned, provided that the requirements of subparagraphs (1) and (2) above are satisfied and provided that the change being currently made in the construction contract to which the Architect-Engineer, Management or similar contract relates does not necessitate approval. Supplemental agreements converting cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts to a fixed price basis will be governed by the provisions of paragraph (e).

(d) Contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders requiring approval of Purchases Division. The approval of the Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces shall be obtained, as herein provided, in connection with all contracts other than those specified in paragraph (a), and all supplemental agreements and change orders other than those specified in paragraph (c). Where approval is necessary solely because one or more provisions of the contract, supplemental agreement or change order fail to comply with the requirements of Subpart H or present a matter or matters of policy which should be considered by authority higher than the technical service, the necessary approval may be obtained, prior to execution of the instrument on behalf of the technical service, on submission of the contract or the material provisions thereof to the Legal Assistant to the Director of Matériel or the Chief, Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, whose approval will be signified by indorsement, memorandum, letter or telegram in response to the request for approval; or on submission of the contract, supplemental agreement or change order, after execution on behalf of the technical service, for approval and manual execution by the Director, Purchases Division. In every other instance the contract, supplemental agreement or change order must be submitted, after execution on behalf of the technical service, for approval and manual execution by the Director, Purchases Division. Upon receipt of requests for the approval of deviations from the contract clauses set forth in §§ 803.365, the Legal Assistant to the Director of Matériel or the Chief, Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will attend to all necessary clearances with the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(e) Supplemental agreements converting cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts to a fixed price basis. (1) In all cases, supplemental agreements converting cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts to a fixed price basis will be made subject to the approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. In the negotiation of all such supplemental agreements the general policies discussed in § 802.232 (e) should be considered so far as relevant. In submitting such supplemental agreements for the approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, in addition to any information required by § 803.305 (b) or other instructions as to contract clearance, a written statement should be presented (i) analyzing the price data and other similar information, if any, submitted by the contractor, (ii) describing the investigations of these data and other relevant facts which have been made by the War Department representatives, and (iii) setting forth the principal considerations relevant to the conversion of the particular contract to a fixed price basis on the terms recommended. In the case of a partial conversion (not retroactive to the beginning of performance), the statement will indicate what steps have been taken to exclude from the proposed fixed price starting load costs for which the contractor has already been reimbursed under the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract. The records of the cost analyses and other investigations made in connection with the conversion will be preserved in the procurement office charged with the conversion negotiations or in the office of the chief of the technical service concerned.

(2) Each supplemental agreement providing for such a conversion will be made only after the contracting officer has satisfied himself that the facts warrant substantially the following recitals which will be included with appropriate modifications to meet the needs of each particular case in each supplemental agreement:

Whereas it is the policy of the War Department to convert cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts to a fixed price basis to the greatest extent feasible, and

Whereas the conversion of this contract from a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract to a fixed price basis is designed to develop greater efficiency in the use of manpower, materials and capacity by providing the contractor with an incentive to improve its operations, and

Whereas such improvements in operating efficiency tend to develop lower prices and costs, and

Whereas such conversion will tend to reduce the expense and manpower necessary for administrative work, both for the Government and for the contractor, and

Whereas after consideration of all factors deemed relevant and after a reasonable price analysis the fixed price herein provided has been found to be reasonable under all the circumstances, and

Whereas it has been determined administratively that it is to the advantage of the Government and that it will facilitate the prosecution of the war to convert this contract to a fixed price basis by this supplemental agreement entered into pursuant to the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001.

(3) The supplemental agreement covering the conversion will be distributed as provided in §§ 803.303 (e) and 803.315 et seq. The statements and other data referred to in subparagraph (1) need not be submitted with the supplemental agreement to the General Accounting Office or to the finance officer, but will be retained as provided in subparagraph (1) available for inspection.

(4) It has been determined that the execution of supplemental agreements effecting such conversions of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts to a fixed price basis will facilitate the prosecution of the war, when the contracting officer has satisfied himself as provided in subparagraph (2) above and when the supplemental agreement has been approved as provided in subparagraph (1) above.

§ 803.307 Authority of technical service to reallocate awards and contracts. It is recognized that, in order to promote the more efficient utilization of combined manufacturing facilities or to prevent interruption of work, it may become advisable to reallocate an award, contract, or modification thereof. Accordingly, when an award, contract, or modification thereof has been made with required approvals, and the technical service concerned thereafter determines that it is advisable to obtain the materials or services involved wholly or in part from another contractor or from two or more contractors, it is authorized without further approval to reallocate the award, contract or modification thereof in whole or in part to another contractor or to two or more contractors, and for this purpose to make appropriate awards and appropriate contracts; Provided, That the aggregate quantities, aggregate prices, and the terms of the awards and contracts resulting from the reallocation are substantially the same as those contained in the award, contract or modification thereof which was the subject of the reallocation.

§ 803.308 Supplemental agreements and clauses prescribed by Subpart H. Except as otherwise specifically provided to the contrary in any section of these procurement regulations, whenever any contract (either as originally drawn or as the same may have been modified, amended or supplemented) contains a provision covering the same subject matter as a clause prescribed by Subpart H of this part, but in a form different from that therein prescribed, it will not be necessary, in executing any supplemental agreement or change order in connection with said contract, to amend such provision either with respect to the items which are the subject of the contract or with respect to the items which are the subject of the supplemental agreement or change order.

§ 803.308a Supplemental agreements and change orders not involving receipt of consideration. Except as otherwise specifically provided in these regulations, approval by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will be required for each supplemental agreement or change order which does not involve the receipt by the Government of adequate legal consideration, or which modifies or releases an accrued obligation owing directly or indirectly to the Government including accrued liquidated damages or liability under any surety or other bonds. In every such case the technical service shall submit a full statement of the case and of the action recommended together with a finding by the technical service, adequately supported, that the prosecution of the war would be facilitated by the action recommended. The Director, Purchases Division, will signify his approval by manual execution of the supplemental agreement or change order, where such instrument is submitted, or where such instrument is not submitted, by memorandum, indorsement, letter or telegram in response to the request for approval. Attention is directed to the provisions of § 803.308g. The provisions of this section apply to amendments or modifications of agreements for the repayment of excessive profits executed pursuant to the Renegotiation Act, as amended, except to those amendments of such agreements authorized by § 803.308e (b).

§ 803.308b Correction of mistakes. Effecting amendment of contracts with the least possible delay to correct misunderstanding, mistakes, errors, and ambiguities will facilitate the prosecution of the war by expediting the procurement program and by giving contractors proper assurance that mistakes unavoidable in a war program as large and extensive as that now in progress, will be corrected expeditiously and fairly. Accordingly, mistakes may be corrected by supplemental agreement pursuant to Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001, as follows:

(a) Each chief of a technical service may, within the time prescribed by § 803.308f, enter into a supplemental agreement correcting mistakes found by the chief of the technical service to be of the following types:

(1) Misunderstandings, mistakes, and errors of the parties to a written agreement, or ambiguities therein, the correction of which would result in benefit to the Government;

(2) Misunderstandings, mistakes and errors of the parties to a written agreement, or ambiguities therein, which consist solely of a failure to express in the written agreement the true agreement between the parties in accordance with the negotiations between them, or of a mutual mistake as to a material fact;

(3) Mistakes and errors of a contractor, even if unilateral which consist solely of the failure of the contractor, in good faith, to set forth in a bid or in a written agreement what he intended to include therein.

Except as to misunderstandings, mistakes, errors or ambiguities of the type referred to in subparagraph (1) above, the authority conferred upon the chiefs of the technical services by this paragraph (a) is subject to the following limitations:

(i) The notice of the mistake must have been given by the contractor to the contracting officer before completion of performance and before the giving of notice of termination of the contract; Provided, That in case of contracts for sale of government property, such notice must be given by the purchaser to the contracting officer before completion of deliveries by the government or before final payment by the purchaser, whichever is later.

(ii) The change involved must not result in an adjustment in excess of $50,000; and

(iii) Where the contract was made as a result of a formal or informal invitation to bid the change must not result, in the case of contracts for the sale of government property, in the payment by the contractor of a sum less than the amount of any bid submitted by any other bidder upon substantially the same terms and conditions, and in the case of other contracts, in the payment to the contractor of a sum in excess of the amount of any bid submitted by any other bidder upon substantially the same terms and conditions, except that, in either case, if the contract was not originally placed on a basis of competition as to price but primarily on the basis of other considerations the limitation contained in this subdivision (iii) shall not be applicable.

This paragraph (a) does not grant any authority to the chief of a technical service to correct a mistake in an agreement for the repayment of excessive profits under the Renegotiation Act, as amended, and the correction of a mistake in any such agreement may be made only with the prior written approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(b) At any time prior to the making of final payment under a termination settlement agreement, the chief of the technical service concerned may correct mistakes, errors and ambiguities in such termination settlement agreement when such correction will result in benefit to the Government or when the change involved does not result in an adjustment in excess of $50,000. The authority conferred by this paragraph (b) is not subject to any of the limitations created by paragraph (a) above or by § 803.308f.

(c) In any other case where the chief of a technical service determines that it will facilitate the prosecution of the war to execute a supplemental agreement to correct a mistake, he will first obtain approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(d) Approval of the Director, Purchases Division, will not be required in the case of any supplemental agreement correcting a mistake, under which the Government receives adequate new legal consideration, regardless of whether the supplemental agreement involves an adjustment amounting to $50,000 or more, and regardless of the time of execution of such supplemental agreement.

Requests for approval by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, of supplemental agreements to correct misunderstandings, mistakes, errors and ambiguities in contracts in accordance with the provisions of this section will be accompanied by a full statement of the circumstances including all relevant papers or copies thereof. The evidence submitted shall show that an error or mistake was made or that a misunderstanding or ambiguity exists, in what it consists, and how it occurred, the true intent of the parties, and the effect of the mistake, if not corrected, upon the financial condition of the contractor. When this section does not require that the approval of the Director, Purchases Division, be obtained, the chief of the technical service approving or executing such agreement will see that a similar statement is prepared with respect to each such supplemental agreement and that such statement and all relevant papers and evidences are carefully preserved. Attention is directed to the provisions of § 803.308g.

§ 803.308c Contracts or supplemental agreements providing for advance payments. The subject of advance payments is treated in Subpart G of this part. If a contract contains a clause authorizing the making of advance payments, the determination of whether the approval of the Purchases Division must be obtained under § 803.306 (d) should be based upon the provisions of the contract other than the clause providing for advance payments. If the making of advance payments is authorized under a supplemental agreement, the provisions of this subpart shall be inapplicable, and only Subpart G shall be considered in determining whether approval of such supplemental agreement by any authority higher than the technical service is necessary.

§ 803.308d Ratification of prior action. In any case where an existing War Department contract or any paragraph of these Procurement Regulations requires that any action affecting a War Department contract be approved by a contracting officer, chief of a technical service or other representative of the War Department in advance of the taking of such action or that it be so approved in writing by a stated time, such action may be approved or ratified in writing by such officer or representative of the War Department after such action has been taken or after such stated time. Such approval or ratification will take effect retroactively as of the date specified in the written instrument of approval or ratification. In general, cases which are appropriate for the exercise of the authority contained in this paragraph will fall into one of two categories, namely: (a) Cases where, in the interest of expediting production and without obtaining the requisite prior approvals, action has been taken in reliance in good faith upon assurances of a person in auhority, or (b) cases where the action taken without such assurances was of a nature which would have been approved had approval been sought seasonably. The prosecution of the war will be facilitated by the liberal use of the authority contained in this paragraph.

§ 803.308e Extension of time for performance. (a) The chief of each technical service may authorize contracting officers designated by him to extend by supplemental agreement within the time prescribed by § 803.308f, the time fixed for performance in any contract and to waive accrued liquidated damages. Each such supplemental agreement shall be entered into pursuant to the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001. If the contractor shall be in default by reason of delay at the date thereof, such supplemental agreement shall be subject to the approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, unless the contracting officer shall find that such delay caused no substantial damage to the Government (as distinguished from the accrual of liquidated damages under the contract). For the purposes of this section, the contractor shall not in any case be considered in default by reason of delay if such delay is excusable within the meaning of the contract. Attention is directed to the provisions of § 803.308g.

(b) The chief of the technical service to which any contract for the repayment to the government of excessive profits, executed pursuant to section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, has been assigned for administration, may extend by supplemental agreement the time within which any payment is to be made under such contract whenever he determines (1) that the extension is necessary to avoid an impairment of the contractor's ability to perform war contracts or subcontracts, and (2) that such action will facilitate the prosecution of the war. A copy of each such supplemental agreement, together with a full statement of the circumstances upon which the determination is based, will be forwarded to the Director, Renegotiation Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, upon the execution of the agreement.

§ 803.308f Amendment of contracts after final administrative determination of amount due. The authority granted to the chiefs of the technical services pursuant to §§ 803.308b (a), 803.308e (a), 803.379 and 803.380 will not be exercised (a) in the case of contracts for the sale of government property, after the completion of delivery by the government or final payment by the contractor, whichever is later or (b) in the case of other contracts, after the contracting officer has administratively determined the final amount due under the contract by communicating his determination to the contractor or by the approval of a final voucher therefor, except that if the contracting officer's determination is, by the terms of the contract, subject to review by the Secretary of War, or his duly authorized representative, such authority may be exercised at any time prior to final action on such review if the contractor perfects his right to such review. Attention is directed to the provisions of § 803.308g.

§ 803.308g Supplements and change orders dealing with or directly affecting matters pending before the General Accounting Office in respect of the amended contract. Chiefs of technical services may not approve or authorize the execution of any supplemental agreement or change order which deals with or directly affects the claim under the contract amended thereby which has been transmitted to the General Accounting Office, or any dispute under the contract which has been referred to the General Accounting Office. This limitation of authority is applicable to action taken pursuant to §§ 803.306 (c) and (d), 803.308a, 803.308b, 803.308e, 803.379 and 803.380 notwithstanding any authority granted to the chiefs of the technical services by those sections respectively. In requesting any approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, required by these regulations, the chiefs of the several technical services will call attention to any matters pending before the General Accounting Office with respect to the contract in question, or any closely related contract which may be affected or dealt with by the supplementary agreement, change order, or action, approval of which is requested, and will state fully the circumstances in any such pending matter.

SUBPART C—FORMALITIES IN CONNECTION WITH EXECUTION OF CONTRACTS AND MODIFICATIONS THEREOF

§ 803.309 Numbering contracts—(a) When required. (1) Every contract involving the receipt or expenditure of public moneys will be numbered when:

(i) The actual or estimated amount involved is $5,000 or more, or

(ii) It is contemplated that more than one payment (or receipt) will be involved, regardless of the amount involved.

(2) The provisions of subparagraph (1) are not applicable to delivery orders evidencing interbranch or interdepartmental purchases (see § 806.605a and Subpart C of Part 806). Such delivery orders need only be given such designation as may be prescribed by the chiefs of the technical services. If, however, it is contemplated that any such order will involve more than one payment, it must be numbered in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section or § 803.318b (e) unless the procedure prescribed in § 803.318 (a) (3) is followed.

(b) System. Contract numbers will be placed in the upper right-hand corner and will consist of the following in the order named:

(1) The capital letter "W", representing the War Department.

(2) Station number representing the station or office as published in the War Department Fiscal Code.

(3) The letter or letters representing the technical service. No approved letter symbol may be changed, nor may any new letter symbol be adopted, unless approval therefor is first obtained from the Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, which, before granting any such approval is required to obtain formal approval of the Comptroller General of the United States.

(4) A serial number, separated from the above by a hyphen, commencing with the number 1 and continuing in succession indefinitely without regard to the fiscal year. When the serial number reaches the limit of five digits (99,999), a new series will be used beginning with the serial number 1 and followed by the capital letter "A". Should additional series become necessary, they will be distinguished by the capital letters "B", "C", "D", etc., as may be required.

NOTE: The foregoing applies only to the numbering of technical service contracts and not to the numbering of service command contracts. As to the latter, see § 803.318b (e).

(c) Examples. Based upon paragraph (b) above, the following is the number of the first numbered contract executed by the Philadelphia Quartermaster Depot:

W-36-030 qm-1

(d) Effect of War Department Fiscal Code. (1) Under date of 1 July 1943, the War Department Fiscal Code was issued by the Office of the Fiscal Director.

(2) Part VIII of the aforementioned code prescribes a new list of station numbers. These new station numbers are to be used in numbering contracts (as required by paragraph (b) (2) and § 803.318b (e) (i) (ii)).

(3) It is to be noted that Part VII of the aforementioned code contain code numbers designating the various technical services as well as the various service commands. These code numbers are not to be substituted, in the numbering of contracts, for the letters previously used to designate the technical services and the service commands (as required by paragraph (b) (3) of this section and § 803.318b (e) (1) (iii)).

(4) When the new station numbers are put into use in connection with the numbering of contracts, a new series should be commenced; that is, the first contract so numbered at a given post should contain the serial number "1".

(5) If, since the issuance of the War Department Fiscal Code, the numbering of contracts has not been in accordance with the foregoing instructions, it is not necessary that the contracts be renumbered. If the system set forth in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) has been adopted, but a new series of contracts has not been commenced as directed by subparagraph (4), it is suggested that the contracts be not renumbered but that a new series of contract numbers be commenced as promptly as practicable.

§ 803.310 Fiscal procedures—(a) Allotments of funds not to be exceeded. The authority to make contracts is subject to the proviso that allotments made for supplies will not be exceeded. Officers who are charged with making contracts will submit, prior to the incurrence of obligations, all proposed contracts to the fiscal officer for verification as to the sufficiency of funds for that purpose. Officers who are charged with the fiscal record keeping will be held strictly responsible that obligations incurred on the basis of documents submitted for determination as to the sufficiency of funds do not exceed the amounts authorized and that such obligations include no other purpose than indicated in the allotment.

(b) Statements as to availability of funds. See AR 35-840 for the statements which will be made on contracts and on purchase orders placed under existing contracts as to the funds chargeable and the sufficiency thereof.

§ 803.311 Execution of contracts—(a) Contracts with individuals. A contract with an individual will be signed by the individual in his own name.

(b) Contracts with an individual trading as a firm. Such a contract will be signed by the individual in question. The following illustrates the form that such a contract will ordinarily take:

* * * * *

JOHN DOE COMPANY,
Contractor.

By _____ John Doe (Owner)

(Business Address)

(c) Contracts with partnerships. (1) The contract may be signed in the name of the partnership by one or more of the partners. Each partner who signs will sign as one of the firm.

(2) A contract with a partnership doing business through a local representative or agent may be executed in the name of the firm by such local representative or agent.

(3) If the contract is executed in the manner specified in subparagraph (2) and the contract involves a substantial contract price, there should, if practicable, be filed with the contract a properly certified copy of the power of attorney showing the authority of the representative or agent executing the contract.

(d) Contracts with corporations. (1) A contract with a corporation will have the name of the corporation written in the blank space provided therefor at the end of the contract form, followed by the word "by", after which the officer or person who has been authorized to contract on behalf of the corporation will sign his name, with the designation of his official capacity.

(2) The contracting officer will in all cases endeavor to satisfy himself that the signer has authority to bind the corporation.

(3) If the contract form being used contains alternate certificates of the type set forth in § 813.1301 (Art. 24), the contracting officer will, if practicable, procure or make one of such alternate certificates.

(4) If the contract form being used does not contain alternate certificates of the type set forth in § 813.1301 (Art. 24), no such certificate need be executed, nor will the evidence specified in subparagraph (5) be required.

(5) In lieu of complying with subparagraph (3) above, the contracting officer may obtain satisfactory evidence of the authority of the signer to bind the corporation and file such evidence with the contract. Such evidence will consist of extracts from the records of the corporation showing either

(i) The election or appointment of the officer executing the contract on behalf of the corporation and the grant of authority to such officer to execute the contract; or

(ii) If the contract is signed by someone other than an officer of the corporation, the grant of authority to such person to execute the contract.

The above-mentioned copies will be certified by the custodian of such records, under the corporate seal (if there be one), to be true copies of the records of the corporation.

(e) Contracts with joint-venturers. Contracts are sometimes entered into with joint-venturers, consisting of a corporation and a partnership, or a partnership and an individual, etc. In such cases the contract will be signed by each participant in the joint-venture in the manner indicated for each type of participant in paragraphs (a) to (d), inclusive, of this section.

(f) Contracting officer's signature. The contracting officer will sign on behalf of the United States in the space provided for his signature, and his official title will be added.

(g) Approval articles. If approval and manual execution of a contract, supplemental agreement or change order by any War Department officer or official other than the contracting officer are required pursuant to these procurement regulations or the regulations of the technical service concerned, (1) an appropriate approval article will be included in the instrument, (2) all changes and deletions shall have been made before the instrument is forwarded for such approval, and (3) the instrument shall not be valid until such approval and manual execution have been obtained.

§ 803.312 Statement and Certificate of Award (Standard Form No. 1036). (a) When contracts are negotiated in accordance with the authority referred to in § 802.204, Standard Form No. 1036 need not be executed. (General Regulations of Comptroller General No. 51, Supp. No. 8, June 1, 1942). However, when Standard Form No. 1036 is not executed either:

(1) The notation "Negotiated Contract", signed by the officer negotiating the contract, should appear under or in close proximity to the contract symbol and number on the cover sheet of the contract or,

(2) The contract should show in the wording thereof that it was negotiated under the authority referred to in § 803.204 (Decision of Comptroller General dated July 11, 1942 (A-51607), rendered in response to letter of Acting Judge Advocate General of Navy dated June 27, 1942).

(b) If in exceptional cases contracts are awarded pursuant to formal advertising, Standard Form No. 1036, properly executed in accordance with instructions contained on the form, will be attached to the copy of the agreement which is furnished the General Accounting Office.

§ 803.313 Form of supplemental agreements and change orders—(a) Supplemental agreements. (1) Supplemental agreements will be reduced to writing and signed by the contracting parties. Supplemental agreements will bear the same identification as the contract which is thereby modified or amended, and will be lettered or numbered, whichever method is authorized by the chief of the technical service concerned, in the order in which the modifications or amendments to the contract are issued. One continuous series of lettering or numbering as the case may be, will be used for each contract, even though it is modified or amended, both by supplemental agreements and by change orders.

(2) Whenever it is desired to effect a modification of more than one contract, it is permissible, in lieu of executing separate supplemental agreements for each contract, to execute a single supplemental agreement. This may be particularly desirable in effecting reductions in the total contract price of more than one contract or in the unit prices payable for items deliverable under more than one contract, (whether in conjunction with renegotiation under the provisions of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942 or otherwise). Such supplemental agreements should be numbered in accordance with subparagraph (1) above as a supplemental agreement to each contract modified thereby. This may be done either on the face thereof or on an exhibit thereto. The following illustrates the type of designation that should be given such a supplemental agreement:

Supplemental Agreement No. 3 to Contract No.:	W 669 qm-1

The above designations indicate that the single supplemental agreement constitutes the third modification of contract number W 669 qm-1; the fourth modification of contract number W 669 qm-2 and the eighth modification of contract number W 669 qm-3.

(b) Change orders. (1) Change orders will be in the form of letters addressed to the contractor, and will specify the number of the contract concerned, the changes to be made, the increase or decrease in price and time for performance, and such other terms as may be necessary. Change orders will bear the same identification as the contract which is thereby modified or amended and will be lettered or numbered whichever method is authorized by the chief of the technical service concerned, in the order in which the modifications or amendments to the contract are issued. One continuous series of lettering or numbering as the case may be will be used for each contract, even though it is modified or amended both by supplemental agreements and by change orders.

(2) In order to avoid the work involved in duplicating change orders, the following procedure may, in the discretion of the chief of the technical service, be adopted with respect to any or all contracts:

(i) Change orders will be classified as primary change orders and secondary change orders.

(ii) Primary change orders are those which specify an increase or decrease in price or make any other material change in the terms of the contract.

(iii) All other change orders (including those in which an increase or decrease in price will be necessitated, but the amount of which is not known at the time of the change order) are secondary change orders.

(iv) Primary change orders will be numbered in accordance with subparagraph (1) above.

(v) Secondary change orders will be given only such identification as the chief of the technical service shall prescribe.

(vi) Secondary change orders will not be included in the continuous series of lettering or numbering referred to in the last sentence of subparagraph (1).

(vii) If a secondary change order is executed and it subsequently becomes apparent that the change made thereby will result in an increase or decrease in price, a supplemental agreement will be executed to evidence such increase or decrease.

§ 803.314 Consent of sureties to modifications—(a) Supplemental agreements. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section, if payment or performance bonds have been executed in connection with a contract or if an advance payment bond has been given in connection with an advance payment made under a contract, the consent of the surety should be obtained to any supplemental agreement modifying or amending the contract.

(b) Change orders. Likewise, subject to the provisions of paragraph (c), the consent of such a surety should be obtained to any change order which has the effect of increasing the contract price by more than $25,000. Such consent is not necessary when the change order effects an increase in the contract price of $25,000 or less.

(c) Exception to requirement of consent of surety. The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) are subject to the qualification that the consent of a surety under a bond executed prior to the execution of a supplemental agreement, or change order is not necessary if (1) an additional bond is furnished in support of the supplemental agreement or change order and (2) such surety is also surety on the additional bond.

(d) Examination of consents of sureties. The original of each consent of surety required by paragraphs (a) and (b) together with the original signed number of the supplemental agreement or change order to which it relates will be forwarded through The Judge Advocate General to the General Accounting Office. The Judge Advocate General will examine the consent of surety as to form, execution and legal sufficiency and will then forward it together with the supplemental agreement or change order to the General Accounting Office for filing.

(e) Form of consent of surety. For form of consent of surety see § 804.496 (h).

SUBPART D—DISTRIBUTION OF CONTRACTS AND ORDERS THEREUNDER

§ 803.315 General. The following general instructions are applicable to the distribution of both numbered and unnumbered contracts:

(a) Contracts will not be distributed until properly signed by all parties, and approved, if approval is required.

(b) All instructions relating to distribution of contracts are subject to the provisions of AR 380–5 and all other current instructions governing the safeguarding and disclosing of information affecting the national defense of the United States. The General Accounting Office has requested that when contracts containing secret or confidential matter are forwarded to it, such contracts be transmitted under two covers, each cover to be addressed to the appropriate Army Audit Branch of the General Accounting Office (see § 803.317b). The inner cover only will be marked "Confidential."

§ 803.316 Numbered contracts. (a) Subject to such special instructions as may be issued by the chief of the technical service concerned, numbered contracts will be distributed as follows:

(1) The original signed number of each lump sum (fixed price) contract will be forwarded to the Army Audit Branch of the General Accounting Offices (see § 803.317b). The original signed number of each cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract will be forwarded to the War Contract Service Section, Audit Division, General Accounting Office, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) The duplicate signed number will be filed with the contracting officer or as directed by the chief of the technical service concerned.

(3) The triplicate signed number will be forwarded to the contractor.

(4) An authenticated copy will be forwarded to the disbursing officer for his files.

(5) Additional authenticated copies or unauthenticated copies will be distributed as directed by the chief of the technical service concerned.

§ 803.317 Unnumbered contracts. (a) The original signed number will be furnished the disbursing officer and will be attached to the voucher on which payment is made and will accompany such voucher to the Army Audit Branch of the General Accounting Office (see § 803.317b).

(b) The duplicate signed number will be forwarded to the contractor.

(c) An authenticated copy will be furnished the disbursing officer for his files.

(d) Additional copies will be prepared and distributed as directed by the chief of the technical service concerned.

(e) A contract may be entered into under which it was anticipated that delivery would be completed in a single shipment but due to subsequent unforeseen conditions and circumstances the contractor is precluded from completing such delivery and instead makes partial shipments in order to fulfill his obligation as expeditiously as practical. Under such circumstances payments, not to exceed five (5) in number on any given contract, may be made with respect to partial deliveries under unnumbered contracts, provided that the original signed contract is attached to the first payment voucher and cross references thereto noted on successive partial and final payment vouchers. Such cross references will include the following information as to the first payment voucher: the date and the disbursing officer's name and voucher number.

§ 803.317a Supplemental agreements and change orders. (1) Signed numbers and copies of supplemental agreements and change orders will be distributed in the same manner as is prescribed for the contracts to which they pertain and the contracting officer will note on his retained copy of the supplemental agreement or change order the date on which the contractor's number was delivered or mailed to him. When, pursuant to § 803.313 (a) (2), a single supplemental agreement is executed to modify more than one contract, the following procedure will be followed:

(i) The original signed number will be forwarded to the Army Audit Branch of the General Accounting Office (see § 803.317b).

(ii) The duplicate signed number will be filed with the contracting officer who supervised the execution thereof or with the chief of the technical service concerned and correct copies of the supplemental agreement will be furnished to the contracting officers under all of the contracts affected by the supplemental agreement.

(iii) The triplicate signed number will be forwarded to the contractor.

(iv) An authenticated copy will be forwarded to the disbursing officer under each contract affected by the supplemental agreement.

(2) If the alternative procedure of numbering change orders provided for in § 803.313 (b) (2) is adopted, only primary change orders will be distributed in accordance with subparagraph (1) above. Secondary change orders will be given only such distribution as the chief of the technical service concerned may prescribe.

§ 803.317b Army Audit Branches of the General Accounting Office. In order to decentralize its work, the General Accounting Office has established an Army Audit Branch at each Army Regional Accounting Office. Accordingly, contracts, supplemental agreements and change orders, which formerly were required to be forwarded to the General Accounting Office in Washington, D. C., will in the future be forwarded to the appropriate Army Audit Branch.

(a) (1) The Army Audit Branches are maintained at the various Army Regional Accounting Offices. The Army Audit Branch to which a particular contract, supplemental agreement or change order should be sent is the one located at the Army Regional Accounting Office to which the disbursing officer under the contract is required to submit his accounts (see paragraph (b) of this section). If a particular contract permits payment by more than one disbursing officer, and the accounts of such disbursing officers are submitted to different Army Regional Accounting Offices, copies of the contract (and of supplements and change orders) should be provided for the Army Audit Branches at each of such Army Regional Accounting Offices. In such cases, the original signed number and sufficient copies for each of the other Army Audit Branches concerned will be submitted to the Army Audit Branch for the area in which the contracting officer is located. The latter Branch will retain the original and distribute the copies to the other Army Audit Branches.

(2) It is to be emphasized that the contracts are not to be forwarded to the Army Regional Accounting Office but to the Army Audit Branch. Using the Los Angeles area as an example, the following illustrates the proper method of addressing the contracts:

General Accounting Office
Army Audit Branch
1206 Santee Street
Los Angeles, Calif.

(b) The following is a list of the Army Regional Accounting Offices to which disbursing officers presently are required to submit their accounts:

§ 803.318 Special cases—(a) Purchases under contracts of Procurement Division, Treasury Department; Navy Department; Post Office Department; etc. (1) Delivery orders covering such purchases will be distributed in accordance with § 803.317 above. If the delivery order is numbered in accordance with § 803.309 and following, it will, of course, be distributed in accordance with § 803.316 (a).

(2) The chief of the technical service concerned will secure compliance with all special instructions of the respective agencies which make the contracts. For example, the regulations of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department require that a copy of all delivery orders placed under General Schedule of Supplies Contracts be forwarded to that Division.

(3) Vouchers submitted to the Army Audit Branch of the General Accounting Office (see § 803.317b) may relate to less than all of the items covered by the delivery order. If the original signed number of the delivery order has not already been so submitted, it will be submitted to said Army Audit Branch with the first voucher; and when vouchers are submitted to said Army Audit Branch covering subsequent payments, a reference will be made to the first voucher. The reference should contain the date on which the invoice covered by the first voucher was paid and the name of the disbursing officer by whom such payment was made.

SUBPART E—CONTRACT PROCEDURE WITHIN THE SERVICE COMMANDS

§ 803.318a Organization of service commands.—(a) Functions of the service commands. The Commanding Generals of the service commands are the direct subordinates of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, and are his field representatives for the performance of the administrative, housing, hospitalization, and supply functions assigned to them. (See sec. 403.01 of the Army Service Forces Manual M 301.)

(b) Relationship between the service commands and the technical services. The former offices of the special staff (including the quartermaster, engineer, ordnance officer, and signal officer) are under the complete jurisdiction of the Commanding General of each service command, and are an integral part of his headquarters; such offices are not to be considered field offices or agencies of the technical services. The technical services act as staff agencies of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, for the functions assigned to them in directing and supervising those functions in the service commands. Accordingly, they may issue instructions to the Commanding Generals of the service commands in their own names or under the authority of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, but they may not exercise direct command of the subordinates in the headquarters of a Commanding General of a service command (including the quartermaster, engineer, ordnance officer, and signal officer). (See sec. 403.02 of the Army Service Forces Manual M 301.)

§ 803.318b Contract procedure—(a) Appointment of contracting officers. Commanding Generals of service commands are authorized to appoint contracting officers. Contracting officers so appointed may execute service command contracts as that term is defined in paragraph (c) below, as well as technical service contracts executed on behalf of a technical service as set forth in paragraph (c) (1) (vi) to (viii) below.

(b) As indicated in § 803.318a (b), as a result of the service command reorganization much of the contracting done at posts, camps and stations located within service commands is done under the complete jurisdiction of the commanding generals of the service commands. The chiefs of the technical services have no function to perform in connection with this contracting except as staff officers of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces. Some of the contracting done at posts, camps and stations is still, however, under the jurisdiction of the chiefs of the technical services. In order clearly to differentiate contracts which are executed under the jurisdiction of the commanding generals of the service commands from those executed under the jurisdiction of the chiefs of the technical services, it is important that contracts of the former type be numbered and distributed in a manner different from technical service contracts. Accordingly, in the succeeding paragraphs a separate system of numbering and distribution is provided for contracts of the former type which, for convenience will be referred to as service command contracts.

(c) (1) It is difficult to lay down any general rule as a guide to determining when a contract is to be numbered and distributed as a service command contract. The following general guides may be used for making the determination:

(i) All contracts which are executed within a service command and which are to be paid for with funds made available to the commanding generals of the service commands by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, are to be regarded as service command contracts and not contracts of any technical service.

(ii) Contracts which are executed under the supervision of the commanding generals of the service commands and which are to be financed under an open allotment (see Part V, section 1, of the War Department Fiscal Code), are to be regarded as service command contracts.

(iii) Training contracts are to be regarded as service command contracts.

(iv) Contracts for the disposition of property, by sale or otherwise, are to be designated as service command contracts unless, as in the case of contracts for the disposition of real estate, the contract is of a type over which the chief of one of the technical services exercises direct supervision. In connection with contracts for the disposition of property, see § 807.706.

(v) In addition to contracts coming within the categories enumerated in subdivisions (i) to (iv) above, all other contracts which, pursuant to the provisions of the Army Service Forces Manual or the provisions of any other regulations, are executed under the complete jurisdiction of the commanding generals of the service commands are to be regarded as service command contracts.

(vi) Any type of contract which is to be financed with technical service funds is to be regarded as a technical service contract. Subdivisions (vii) and (viii) below are two specific illustrations of the general rule contained in this subdivision (vi).

(vii) When a contracting officer within a service command is requested to execute a contract on behalf of a technical service, and it is understood that such contract is to be paid for out of technical service funds, such contract is to be regarded as a technical service contract.

(viii) When a given item is not available at a technical service depot, a representative of a service command may be given sufficient funds by a technical service to enable the service command to purchase the item in question. A contract executed in making such a purchase is to be regarded as a technical service contract.

(ix) Prisoner of war labor contracts are not to be regarded as service command contracts. They are to be numbered as contracts of the Office of the Provost Marshal General. Thus the first contract executed at the Prisoner of War Camp, Pine Camp, N. Y., would be numbered

W–30–178 pmg–1

(x) Contracts for furnishing local transportation to Government and other personnel, executed in accordance with Circular No. 80, War Department, 1943 and Memorandum No. W55–15–43, issued by the Office of the Adjutant General, will be numbered in accordance with § 803.309 (b) as Transportation Corps contracts. This subparagraph is applicable to contracts for furnishing transportation to Army Air Forces installations and to plants of Army Air Forces contractors, as well as to contracts for the furnishing of transportation to other War Department installations and to the plants of other War Department Contractors. Any contracts for furnishing local transportation which, in accordance with any previous instructions, may have been numbered in a manner inconsistent with this subdivision (x) should, if practicable, be renumbered.

(2) In case of doubt as to whether a particular contract should be numbered and distributed as a service command contract an inquiry should be addressed to the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, Attention: Legal Branch, Director of Matériel. If time does not permit making such inquiry, the contract should be numbered as in the past, and an inquiry should be addressed to the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, Attention: Legal Branch, Director of Matériel, for advice as to how that type of contract should be numbered in the future.

(3) As indicated in paragraph (a) of this section the authority of a contracting officer of a service command includes authority to execute technical service contracts of the type referred to in subdivisions (vi) to (viii).

(d) Distribution of service command contracts. The provisions of Subpart D are applicable to service command contracts. In connection with service command contracts the term "chief of the technical service" is to be read as "commanding general of the service command." Service command contracts (as that term is defined in § 803.318b (c)) should not be forwarded to the headquarters of the various technical services for legal review. If the chief of a technical service requests that copies of a particular type of service command contract be forwarded to his office in order to complete his technical records, such copies may be forwarded pursuant to § 803.316 (a) (5).

(e) Numbering of service command contracts. (1) Contract numbers will be placed in the upper right-hand corner of service command contracts and will consist of the following in the order named:

(i) The capital letter "W", representing the War Department, followed by a hyphen.

(ii) The station number, that is, the station or office as published in the War Department Fiscal Code. There may be added to the station number a capital letter or other designation to indicate the branch by which the contract was executed. The following symbols will be used to designate the respective branches set opposite each symbol:

Q—Quartermaster.
S—Signal.
T—Transportation.
O—Ordnance.
E—Engineer.
M—Medical.
C—Chemical.
U—Repairs & Utilities Branch.
Tng—Training Branch.
AST—Army Specialized Training Branch.

No symbol other than those enumerated in the preceding sentences will be used unless approval for such use is obtained from the Legal Branch, Office of Director of Matériel, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. Any request for such approval should specify the reason why additional symbols are required. The Legal Branch will advise the Contract Service Section, Audit Division, General Accounting Office, Washington, D. C., of any approvals granted for the use of such additional symbols. It is to be emphasized that the use of the additional symbols authorized by this subdivision (ii) is for the convenience of the post, camp or station and, accordingly, is optional. The use of these branch symbols may be dispensed with or, if desired, a single branch symbol (and one series of contracts) may be used for more than one, but less than all, branches at a given post, camp or station.

(iii) A symbol in parenthesis to indicate the service command. In the case of the nine service commands, this symbol will consist of the capital letters S. C. in parenthesis followed by a hyphen and a roman numeral indicating in which service command the contract was executed. It is important that capital letters followed by periods and by the roman numeral be used in order that no confusion will arise with Signal Corps contracts which bear the symbol "sc". In the case of the Northwest Service Command and the Military District of Washington, this symbol will respectively consist of the capital letters S.C.N.W. and M.D.W., the symbol to be in parenthesis.

(iv) A serial number separated from the above by a hyphen, commencing with the number "1" and continuing in succession indefinitely without regard to the fiscal year.

(2) It is to be emphasized that the numbering procedure set forth in this paragraph is applicable only to service command contracts (as the term is defined in paragraph (c) of this section). When technical service contracts are executed within a service command (see paragraph (c), particularly subdivisions (vi) to (viii), such contracts should be numbered as technical service contracts in accordance with the provisions of § 803.309 (b).

(3) Serial numbers: It is desirable that separate series be commenced for service command contracts (as defined in paragraph (c) of this section). This should be done as promptly as possible. By adding the branch symbols authorized by subdivision (ii) of subparagraph (1) above, separate series may be maintained for each branch of a post, camp or station.

(4) Effect of War Department Fiscal Code. See § 803.309 (d).

(5) Contract of sale: Reference is made to § 807.706. As indicated therein when a contract of sale, as distinguished from a contract of purchase, is executed, the letter "s" will be added after the parenthesis of the symbol specified in subparagraph (1) (iii) of this paragraph.

(f) Example. Based upon paragraph (e), the following is the number of the first numbered contract executed at the Quartermaster Branch at Fort Bragg, North Carolina: W–31–001Q (S.C. IV)–1. The foregoing is on the assumption that the contract is to be paid with funds allotted to the Fourth Service Command by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces.

SUBPART F—CONTRACT APPEALS

§ 803.318d War Department Board—(a) General. By memorandum of the Secretary of War, dated 8 August 1942, there was constituted in the Office of the Under Secretary of War a board to be known as "War Department Board of Contract Appeals". The board is hereinafter referred to as "the Board". The Board consists of three members, one of whom is designated as President of the Board. There is also a recorder. The President of the Board and the recorder are required to be persons trained in the law. The Under Secretary of War recommends appointees for membership on the Board and for the position of recorder, and nominates the President of the Board. Appointments are made by the Secretary of War. If the Under Secretary of War at any time determines that additional members of the Board are necessary in order to process appeals with reasonable despatch, he may from time to time recommend for appointment such additional members of the Board as he deems necessary, and may make recommendations for the filling of any vacancies on the Board and in the office of the recorder. Upon request of the Under Secretary of War, The Judge Advocate General is authorized to assign to the Board one or more judge advocates as trial attorneys or examiners; and if and when deemed necessary by the Under Secretary of War and upon his request, The Judge Advocate General may also assign a judge advocate as general counsel.

(b) Types of contracts, appeals from which may be taken. In general, contracts contain two types of "disputes" clauses under which appeals may be taken. Some specifically authorize the Secretary of War to appoint as his authorized representative either individuals or "a board". (See § 803.326). Others do not specifically authorize the appointment of "a board". Contracts containing clauses specifically authorizing the designation of "a board" are referred to in the succeeding paragraphs as "contracts containing the standard clause". Contracts containing clauses not specifically authorizing the designation of "a board" are hereinafter referred to as "contracts containing the nonstandard clause".

(c) Appeals under contracts containing standard clause. In the case of contracts containing the standard clause, appeals from decisions of contracting officers or other authorities (including the chiefs of the technical services) will be heard, considered and decided by the Board acting as the duly authorized representative of the Secretary of War, as fully and finally as the Secretary of War might do.

(d) Appeals under contracts containing the nonstandard clause. In the case of contracts containing the nonstandard clause, appeals from decisions of contracting officers or other authorities (including the chiefs of the technical services) will be heard and considered by the Board which will report its views on such appeals to the President of the Board. The President, as the authorized representative of the Secretary of War, will then make the decision, as fully and finally as the Secretary of War might do, unless he shall not be in accord with the decision of the Board, in which case he will promptly submit the case for final determination upon the record to the Under Secretary of War. The latter will then make the decision as the duly authorized representative of the Secretary of War for that purpose.

(e) Functioning of Board. The President of the Board from time to time may divide the Board into divisions of one or more members and assign members to such divisions. A majority of the members of the Board or of a division thereof shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of the business of the Board or of a division respectively, and the decision of a majority of the members of the Board or of a division shall be deemed to be the decision of the Board or of the division as the case may be. If a majority of the members of the division is unable to agree on a decision, or if within thirty days after a decision by a division the Board or the President thereof directs that the decision of the division be reviewed by the Board, the decision will be so reviewed; otherwise the decision of a majority of the members of the division shall become the decision of the Board. If a majority of the members of the Board is unable to agree upon a decision, the President of the Board will promptly submit the appeal to the Under Secretary of War for his decision upon the record. The Under Secretary of War is designated as the authorized representative of the Secretary of War for that purpose. A vacancy in the Board or in any division thereof shall not impair the powers nor affect the duties of the Board or division nor of the remaining members of the Board or division, respectively. The authority and procedure specified in this paragraph shall apply whether the Board be acting as the duly authorized representative of the Secretary of War under paragraph (c) or in an advisory capacity under paragraph (d) of this section.

(f) Taking testimony. Any member of the Board or any examiner designated by the President of the Board for that purpose may hold hearings, examine witnesses, receive evidence, and report the evidence to the Board or, if the case is pending before a division, to the appropriate division.

(g) Powers of Board. The Board has all powers necessary and incident to the proper performance of its duties and has the power with the approval of the Under Secretary of War to adopt its own methods of procedure and rules and regulations for its conduct and for the preparation and presentation of appeals. These rules and regulations are set forth in paragraphs (a) to (l) of § 803.316.

(h) Place for holding hearings. The office of the Board is in the office of the Under Secretary of War but hearings also may be held in such other places as the Board determines to be expedient or necessary for the proper performance of its duties.

(i) Procedure. The Board fixes the times when and places where hearings will be held, and serves notice thereof. The parties or their representatives are entitled to be heard and introduce evidence; Provided, That if a transcript of the evidence taken at a hearing in the office of the chief of a technical service accompanies the record, the Board may limit the testimony before it to matters not disclosed by the transcript.

(j) Correspondence. All correspondence pertaining to appeals to the Secretary of War is to be referred to and conducted by the Board.

§ 803.318e Rules and regulations of Board. The rules and regulations promulgated by the Board, and approved by the Under Secretary of War under date of September 25, 1942, are set forth in paragraphs (a) to (l) of this section. A form of notice of appeal is set forth in paragraph (m). As said rules and regulations or such form are amended by the Board from time to time, these paragraphs will be amended to conform.

(a) Rule I: General matters.

1. Correspondence. All correspondence with the Board shall be addressed "War Department Board of Contract Appeals, Office of the Under Secretary of War, Washington, D. C."

a. Channels of communication. The president, any member of the Board, and the recorder thereof are authorized to correspond directly, without regard to the usual channels of communication, with any officer or other person within or without the Army, the War Department, the Ground Forces, the Army Service Forces, or the Army Air Forces, relative to any information desired by the Board, or in connection with any matters pertaining to the business of the Board. Any information obtained from such correspondence shall not be used as evidence at the hearing on any appeal without first having been submitted to the parties to the appeal.

b. Letters. Letters advising the appellant or other party to an appeal of the final decision of the Board on any appeal and any further correspondence regarding the appeal, including letters to the Comptroller General, may be signed by the president or recorder of the Board.

c. Transmission of papers. The president of the Board or the recorder thereof, by direction of the Board, is authorized to transmit directly to the chief of any technical service concerned, for appropriate action, any papers, documents, or other data pertaining to any appeal that may come to the Board, which the chief of such service is authorized under the terms of the contract finally to determine or to determine subject to appeal to the Secretary of War.

d. Routing of correspondence. All papers pertaining to appeals to the Secretary of War under War Department contracts, received in the War Department or any agency thereof, or any technical service, shall be transmitted directly to the War Department Board of Contract Appeals, except as provided in Rule II.

2. Form, size and number of papers filed. Appeals, notices, motions, applications, stipulations, briefs, depositions, and other papers, if typewritten, filed with the Board shall be typewritten on one side of the paper only, with margin 1½ inches on the left of the page, and, as far as practicable, shall be upon paper 8½ x 11 inches in size. The papers shall be fastened on the left side without covers or back. Six copies of each of such papers, whether typewritten or not, except stipulations and depositions, shall be filed.

3. Number to be assigned to proceedings. The recorder shall assign a number to each appeal coming before the Board, which number will be placed on all papers in the case.

4. Amendments. The Board may, in its discretion, allow any paper to be amended or corrected or any omission therein to be supplied.

5. Service of papers. Service of papers in all hearings, investigations, and proceedings pending before the Board may be made personally, or by mailing the same in a sealed envelope, registered, return receipt requested, with postage prepaid, addressed to the party upon whom service shall be made, and the date of the registry receipt shall be the date of service. Waiver of the service of any paper may be noted thereon or on a copy thereof, or on a separate paper, signed by the parties or their attorneys and filed with the Board. When any party has appeared by attorney, service upon the attorney will be deemed proper service upon such party.

6. Substitution of parties. In the event of the death of an appellant, or for other cause, including a change in the name of a corporation or other party or the succession of one party to the functions or interests of another, or in the event of a mistake in the name or title of a proper party, the Board may order substitution of the proper name or title.

7. Motions for substitution. All motions for substitution shall be accompanied by pertinent documentary evidence, unless the parties by stipulation filed with the Board agree to the substitution.

8. Army Air Forces. The term "technical services" as used in these rules, includes the Army Air Forces; and the term "chiefs of the technical services" includes the Commanding General, Army Air Forces.

(b) Rule II: Proceedings preliminary to hearings.

1. Appeals, how taken. a. An appeal from the decision of a contracting officer and an appeal from the decision of the chief of a technical service must be in writing, filed with the officer from whose decision the appeal is taken, within the time allowed by the contract, unless for good cause shown, the board shall determine to consider the appeal on its merits, notwithstanding it was not filed within the time allowed by the contract.

b. Form of appeals. Each appeal shall state the particular provisions of the contract out of which the dispute arises; the exact nature of the dispute and the ruling of the contracting officer or other authority from which the appeal is taken, together with a statement of specific facts claimed by the appellant to sustain his position. If the appeal is insufficient in these respects it may be returned for appropriate amendment. The appeal should follow, substantially, the form annexed to these rules and must be signed and sworn to by the appellant. Six copies of the appeal should be filed.

2. Time of filing to be endorsed. When the appeal has been received by the contracting officer or the chief of a technical service, as the case may be, he will endorse thereon the date of filing and forward the appeal, as hereinafter provided.

3. Findings of fact and decisions. a. In rendering a decision on any dispute involving a question of fact, the contracting officer or the chief of a technical service, as the case may be, shall prepare and sign findings of fact, a true copy of which with his written decision, shall be promptly furnished the contractor; and in case of appeal, the officer from whose decision the appeal is taken shall forward a true copy of such findings and of the decision, as hereinafter provided.

b. Forwarding by contracting officer. When an appeal is taken from the decision of a contracting officer he shall promptly forward to the chief of service concerned, a true copy of his findings of fact and of his decision; the original written appeal and the required copies thereof; a transcript of any evidence taken by him; and all pertinent papers in the case.

c. Forwarding by chiefs of Technical Services of appeals from decisions of Contracting Officer. (1) If the appeal from the contracting officer's decision is to the Secretary of War, the chief of the technical service receiving the appeal will exercise the utmost care to see that the record is complete as required by these rules and regulations; will add to the file, if not already in it, an original duplicate or true copy of the contract, including the plans and specifications and all changes and supplemental agreements; and shall promptly forward the complete file to the War Department Board of Contract Appeals.

(2) If for any reason the complete file cannot be so forwarded within five days from the date the appeal is received, the chief of the technical service will report to the War Department Board of Contract Appeals the date on which the appeal was received in his office and the reason for the delay in forwarding the file.

(3) It will be unnecessary, hereafter, for the chiefs of the technical services to furnish the reports required by paragraph 7, of P & C General Directive No. 72, of November 7, 1941.

4. Forwarding appeals from chiefs of services. The chief of a technical service, within five days after the receipt of a written appeal from his decision, will forward the original written appeal and the required copies thereof to the War Department Board of Contract Appeals, together with the following papers: a copy of his findings of fact and decision; the advisory report, if there be one, of the contract settlement board in his office; a transcript of any testimony taken during the course of the proceedings; a duplicate original or a certified copy of the contract, including the plans and specifications and all changes and supplemental agreements; the findings of fact and decision of the contracting officer; and all papers and correspondence pertaining to the contract, pertinent to the consideration of the appeal.

5. Appeals improperly filed. If any officer or agency of the War Department should receive a written appeal which has not been filed as provided in paragraph 1, of this rule, the recipient shall, after endorsing thereon the date of its receipt, immediately transmit the appeal to the chief of the technical service concerned:

a. For appropriate action as provided in paragraph 4, of this rule, if the appeal is from the decision of such chief; or

b. If the appeal is from the decision of a contracting officer, then for transmission to the contracting officer for action as required by paragraphs 3 a. and 3 b. of this rule.

6. Calls for papers, documents and information. After an appeal has been filed, the Board, or any member thereof, or any person designated by the Board for that purpose, may call for the production of any papers, documents, or specific information in the possession of any of the parties, relevant to the dispute out of which the appeal arises.

(c) Rule III: Hearings.

1. Where held. Hearings shall be held at the office of the Board unless otherwise directed by the Board.

2. Notice of hearings. a. The appellant and the representative of the Government shall be given at least 10 days notice of the time and place of hearing.

b. Continuances will not be granted except upon written motion and for good cause shown.

3. Request for hearing at place other than office of the Board. If the appellant shall desire that a hearing be held at a place other than the office of the Board, he shall at the time of taking his appeal, or within a reasonable time thereafter, but before service of notice of hearing, make a request therefor, showing the name of the place where he would prefer the hearing to be held, and stating fully the reason for such request. The representative of the Government may, within 10 days after an appeal has been filed in the office of the Board, file with the Board a request for hearing at a place other than the office of the Board and shall in such request state fully the reasons therefor. If neither the appellant nor the representative of the Government request a hearing at a place other than at the office of the Board, the Board may, nevertheless, on its own motion hold a hearing at another place.

4. Stipulating facts. The appellant and the representative of the Government may, by stipulation in writing filed with the Board, agree upon the facts or any portion thereof involved in the appeal, which stipulation shall be regarded and used as evidence at the hearing. However, the Board may, in such case, require additional evidence.

5. Limiting testimony. Where there is a transcript of testimony taken in the office of the chief of any technical service, the Board may, in its discretion, limit the testimony before it to testimony relative to matters not disclosed by the transcript. In all cases the Board may limit the amount of testimony, where merely cumulative.

6. Submission on the record to the Under Secretary of War. Where a majority of the members of the Board are unable to agree upon a decision, and the matter is submitted on the record to the Under Secretary of War for final determination, ordinarily, no further testimony will be introduced. However, the Under Secretary of War may, in his discretion, direct that additional testimony be taken before the Board, a division thereof, or before such person as he may designate, or he may direct a re-hearing before the Board, or reconsideration by the Board.

7. Absence of parties or counsel. The unexcused absence of a party or his counsel at the time and place set for the hearing of any proceeding will not be the occasion for delay, but the hearing will proceed and the case will be regarded as submitted on the part of the absent party or parties.

8. Limitation of argument. Oral argument before the Board or any division thereof may be limited by the Board or by the division, respectively.

9. Briefs. The parties may file briefs in lieu of personal appearances or in connection therewith. All briefs will be filed within 20 days after conclusion of the hearing unless otherwise directed by the Board or by the division before which the appeal is pending.

10. Oral examination of witnesses. Witnesses before the Board or any division thereof or before any member or examiner will be examined orally under oath, unless the facts are stipulated or the Board or division thereof shall otherwise order.

(d) Rule IV: Evidence.

1. Copies of papers. When books, records, papers, or documents have been received in evidence, a true copy thereof or of such part thereof as may be material or relevant may, in the discretion of the Board or of the division holding the hearings, be substituted therefor.

2. Withdrawal of exhibits. After a decision has become final, the Board may, upon motion, permit the withdrawal of original exhibits, or any part thereof, by the party entitled thereto, or may, on its own motion make such other disposition thereof as it deems advisable.

3. Administration of oaths. Any judge advocate or acting judge advocate, the president, any member or the recorder of the Board, or any officer detailed to conduct an investigation, or hold a hearing, may administer oaths to witnesses.

4. Ex parte affidavits not evidence. Statements in the petition, ex parte affidavits, and briefs do not constitute evidence.

(e) Rule V: Depositions.

1. Before whom taken. a. Depositions to be read in evidence before the Board or any division thereof may be taken before and authenticated, by any officer, military or civil, authorized by the laws of the United States or by the laws of place where the deposition is taken, to administer oaths.

b. Form and return of deposition to Board. Each deposition shall show the docket number and the caption of the proceeding, the place and date of taking, the name of the witness, and the party by whom called. The officer taking a deposition shall enclose the original deposition and exhibits, in a sealed packet, with postage or other transportation prepaid, and direct and forward the same to the War Department Board of Contract Appeals, Office of the Under Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

2. Notice to take, or stipulation for taking. When either party desires to take a deposition, unless the parties shall stipulate as to the time when and place where the deposition is to be taken and the name of the officer before whom it is to be taken and the name and address of the witness, such party shall give to the opposite party at least 10 days notice of the time when and the place where such deposition will be taken and the name and address and official title of the officer before whom it is proposed to take the deposition, as well as the name of the witness. A deposition may be taken either upon written interrogatories or upon oral examination, as may be specified in the notice. If the deposition is to be taken upon written interrogatories, copies thereof shall accompany the notice to take depositions. If the opposite party desires to submit cross interrogatories, same must be served upon the party giving the notice within 5 days from the receipt of the notice to take the deposition, or within such further time as may be allowed by the Board. In order to avoid the taking of depositions or to avoid a continuance for the purpose of taking the testimony of any witness, the parties may stipulate what the testimony of the witness would be if present, and such stipulation shall be received in evidence by the Board.

3. Reason for taking. A duly authenticated deposition may be read in evidence before the Board, if such deposition be taken when the witness resides, is found, or is about to go beyond the State, Territory, or District in which the Board or a division thereof is to hold a hearing, or beyond the distance of 100 miles from the place of hearing, or when it appears to the satisfaction of the Board or a division thereof, that the witness by reason of age, sickness, bodily infirmity, imprisonment, or other reasonable cause is unable to appear and testify in person at the place of hearing.

4. Deposition not considered until offered. a. Testimony taken by deposition will not be considered until offered and received in evidence.

b. Introduction of deposition by opposite party. A deposition taken by one party may be introduced by the opposite party, but the whole deposition must be offered unless otherwise stipulated by the parties, or directed by the Board or by the division hearing the appeal.

(f) Rule VI: Decisions and findings.

1. Copies to be served on parties. Decisions and findings of the Board, including decisions of any division thereof which have become decisions of the Board, including findings on questions of fact, shall be certified under the seal of the Board and served upon the parties or their attorneys in the manner herein provided for the service of papers.

2. Divisional opinions. A copy of each opinion of a division shall be promptly furnished by the division to each member of the Board, and if a majority of the members of the Board, including the president, shall at any time within 30 days after the date of the decision by the division file with the recorder a statement in writing to the effect that they do not desire a review of the decision by the Board, the recorder will make an entry in the records of the Board to that effect as of the date on which a majority of the members of the Board shall have filed such statements. Thereupon the decision of the division shall become the decision of the Board, and the recorder will promptly furnish copies of the decision to the parties concerned.

(g) Rule VII: Representation.

a. Qualifications of attorneys. Any appellant may be represented before the Board by an attorney at law who has been admitted to practice and who is in good standing, before the Supreme Court of the United States, or before the highest court of any State, Territory, possession or the District of Columbia. The Board may, in its discretion, require any person appearing as an attorney at law, to present to the Board evidence that he or she possesses the above qualifications. The statement of the attorney may be accepted as satisfying the requirement of this rule.

b. Representation in lieu of counsel. Any individual appellant may appear for himself. Any partnership appellant may be represented by one or more partners. Any corporate appellant may be represented by a bonafide officer of the corporation.

(h) Rule VIII: Transcript of proceedings.

1. Record of hearings. A full and complete record shall be kept of all hearings before the Board or any division thereof.

2. Testimony to be taken stenographically. The testimony shall be stenographically reported, and transcripts thereof shall be made, if in the opinion of the Board or of the division holding the hearing, a permanent record of the testimony is deemed necessary. Transcripts shall be supplied to the parties and to the public by the official reporter at such rates as may be fixed by contract between the Board and the reporter.

(i) Rule IX: Rehearings.

a. Applications for rehearings, etc. Either party may apply to the Board for a rehearing, or reconsideration as to any matter determined by the Board, and to a division of the Board as to any matter determined by that division. Rehearing, further hearing or reconsideration of a decision, may be had, if in the judgment of the Board or of the members of the division in which the decision was rendered, as the case may be, sufficient reason therefor be made to appear.

b. Motions for. All motions for rehearing, or reconsideration shall set forth specifically the ground or grounds relied upon to sustain the motion, and must be filed within 10 days from the date of the service of a copy of the decision of the Board or of a division, respectively, upon the party filing the motion. All such motions will be determined upon the record and briefs submitted and without oral argument or additional evidence.

(j) Rule X: Computation of time.

Sundays and legal holidays to be counted. Whenever these rules or any order of the Board prescribe a time within which any act may be performed, Sundays and legal holidays in the District of Columbia shall count the same as other days, except that when the time prescribed for the performance of an act expires on a Sunday or a legal holiday in the District of Columbia, such time shall extend to and include the next succeeding day that is not a Sunday or such a legal holiday: Provided, That when the time for performing any act is prescribed by statute, nothing in these rules shall be deemed to be a limitation or extension of the statutory time period.

(k) Rule XI: Coordination with Price Adjustment Board.

1. Notice to Price Adjustment Board. Upon the filing of an appeal with the Board, the recorder thereof will promptly advise the War Department Price Adjustment Board of the pendency of the appeal, giving the name of the contractor, the contract number, the name of the contracting officer or other authority from whose decision the appeal has been taken, together with a copy of the appeal or a brief statement of the issues involved.

2. Information regarding renegotiation. Prior to any hearing, the Board will ascertain from the War Department Price Adjustment Board, whether any renegotiation agreement has been accomplished relating to the contract under which the appeal is pending or whether renegotiation proceedings relative to the contract are pending. If a renegotiation agreement has been entered into such agreement will be taken into consideration by the War Department Board of Contract Appeals in reaching its decision. If renegotiation proceedings are pending the Board may, in its discretion, suspend further proceedings on the appeal until the renegotiation proceedings have been concluded. A copy of each decision rendered by the Board will be furnished the War Department Price Adjustment Board.

(l) Rule XII: Effective date.

These rules shall become effective from the date of their approval by the Under Secretary of War, and from time to time may be amended by the Board with such approval.

(m) Form of notice of appeal.

§ 803.318f Appeals boards within the technical services—(a) General. There should exist in each technical service, a board to act as an advisor to the chiefs of the technical services with respect to appeals under contracts which authorize the chiefs of the technical services to pass upon appeals either finally or subject to further appeals by the contractor to the Secretary of War.

(b) Organization of boards. Each board should consist of at least three members. One member of the Board, preferably with legal training, should be designated as executive secretary, to maintain a calendar of such cases as may be appealed to the chief of the service; to make a preliminary analysis of each case, and if necessary, return the file for further evidence, papers or exhibits; to maintain a record of the progress of each case; and in general, to act as executive representative of the Board and of chief of the technical service with respect to such matters. The Under Secretary of War will be informed of the name and address of every such executive secretary. Unless the chief of any technical service considers the volume of such work to be sufficient to require the full-time services of such executive secretary or other board members, they should be directed to perform such services in addition to other duties.

(c) Procedure. In order that a uniform and orderly procedure may be followed, the following steps are prescribed in each case. The board should:

(1) Investigate and determine the facts in each case. During each such investigation, an opportunity should be afforded to the contractor, if he desires it, to present evidence in support of his contentions.

(2) Arrive at a finding of all essential facts and prepare a statement thereof for the information of the chief of the technical service concerned, and of the Under Secretary of War in cases forwarded to him for disposition. In the latter cases the report of the Board, together with the recommendation of the chief of the technical service concerned and the complete files in the case, will be forwarded to the Under Secretary of War.

(3) Based upon these findings of fact, prepare any necessary correspondence, supplemental agreements, or other documents for the action of the persons concerned.

(d) In the determination of disputes, it will be the policy of all concerned to do complete and fair justice to the legitimate claims and contentions of every contractor, subject, however, to the limitation that in the absence of specific statutory authority no officer or official of the United States is vested with any power to surrender without consideration to the United States, any asset or right of the United States; every such officer and official must be controlled by the express terms of the contract in question and the applicable statutes and regulations.

(e) The recommendations of the boards in question will be advisory only; the chief of the technical service concerned will not be bound by any such recommendation.

SUBPART G—GUARANTEES, LOANS AND COMMITMENTS, AND ADVANCE PAYMENTS

§ 803.319 General—(a) War Department policy. It is the policy of the War Department that, in general, guarantees of loans, not in excess of 90 per cent of the principal amount of the loan, are to be employed rather than direct loans or participations in loans; and that likewise, guarantees of loans are, in general, to be employed in preference to advance payments. It is not intended entirely to supplant advance payments, especially where the technical service concerned concludes that the negotiation or performance of a particular contract will be facilitated by the use of advance payments.

(b) Policy in connection with prime contractors. Guaranteed loans to a prime contractor are particularly preferable to advance payments to such a contractor in the following situations:

(1) Where a number of technical services are involved,

(2) Where the prime contractor is at the same time a subcontractor under other prime contracts,

(3) Where the prime contractor has contracts with several branches of the government,

(4) Where the prime contractor has a large number of contracts and purchase orders.

In the above situations, guaranteed loans avoid the difficulties of segregation, accounting and supervision which are inherent in advance payments.

(c) Policy in connection with subcontractors. Guaranteed loans to subcontractors are preferable to subadvances even though the guarantee may exceed 90 per cent of the principal amount of the loan.

(d) Cooperation with liaison officers. The closest cooperation should exist between contracting officers, liaison officers (see § 803.320 (d)), and the Federal Reserve Banks, from the time negotiations for an award of a prime contract commence. Only in this way can there be devised the most practical method of financing from the standpoint of maximum war production by the contractor. In a given case, the most practical method of financing may be (1) private financing, (2) a guaranteed loan, (3) advanced payments, or (4) a direct Government loan; if a guaranteed loan or a direct loan, it may or may not be policed as to expenditures by the technical service most interested. That method of financing which is most conducive to maximum production should be adopted by mutual agreement between the contracting officer and the liaison officer, and it shall be the function of the liaison officed to endeavor to insure cooperation among the several technical services and with other branches of the government to this end.

(e) Determination of method of financing at time of award. In the case of prime contractors, especially those having contracts with a single technical service, the method of working capital financing most conducive to maximum production should be determined prior to the making of an award. The question of the amount of facilities necessary for such production and the method of financing such facilities should also be determined at that time. To these ends, the fiscal and production branches of procurement offices should closely cooperate both internally and, where appropriate, with the liaison officers and the Federal Reserve Banks.

§ 803.320 Guarantees, loans and commitments under Executive Order No. 9112—(a) Executive Order No. 9112. Under date of March 26, 1942, Executive Order 9112 (7 F.R. 2367) was issued. It reads in part as follows:

(1) The War Department, Navy Department and the Maritime Commission are hereby respectively authorized, without regard to the provisions of law relating to the making, performance, amendment or modification of contracts, (a) to enter into contracts with any Federal Reserve Bank, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, or with any other financing institution guaranteeing such Reserve Bank, Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other financing institution against loss of principal or interest on loans, discounts or advances, or on commitments in connection therewith, which may be made by such Reserve Bank, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, or other financing institution for the purpose of financing any contractor, subcontractor or others engaged in any business or operation which is deemed by the War Department, Navy Department or Maritime Commission to be necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of the war, and to pay out funds in accordance with the terms of any such contract so entered into; and (b) to enter into contracts to make, or to participate with any Federal Reserve Bank, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, or other financing institution in making loans, discounts or advances, or commitments in connection therewith, for the purpose of financing any contractor, subcontractor or others engaged in any business or operation which is deemed by the War Department, Navy Department or Maritime Commission to be necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of the war, and to pay out funds in accordance with the terms of any such contract so entered into.

(b) Administration. The administration of the powers conferred upon the War Department by Executive Order 9112 are vested in the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. The general policies and procedures established by that Branch as well as the general contractual arrangements established by the Branch are subject to review by the Director, Purchase Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(c) Financial contracting officers. Financial contracting officers are officers or civilian officials attached to the Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces who have been granted authority by the Fiscal Director of said Division to execute or approve guarantees (either in the form of guarantees to save financial institutions harmless or in the form of commitments to purchase), to make direct Government loans, to enter into other financial arrangements, and to enter into commitments therefor, all pursuant to the authority conferred by Executive Order 9112; to participate in negotiations for financing; and to coordinate with the Federal Reserve Banks which act as agents of the War Department in arranging financing for businesses whose operations are necessary, appropriate or convenient for the prosecution of the war.

(d) Liaison officers. Liaison officers are officers or civilian officials attached to the Advanced Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, who have been detailed for duty in every city in which a Federal Reserve Bank is situated as well as in Los Angeles and Detroit. Their functions and duties are those specified in paragraphs (e) and (i) as well as in various other sections of this subpart.

(e) Procedure for obtaining guaranteed loans. Contractors may make applications for guaranteed loans:

(1) Through a local bank which in turn will transmit the applications to the Federal Reserve Bank in the district where the bank is located,

(2) Directly to the Federal Reserve Bank, or

(3) To a liaison officer.

It will be the duty of the liaison officer to obtain information from the procurement officers of the technical service or services concerned and from other appropriate sources as to whether the applicant's operations (existing or prospective) are necessary, appropriate, or convenient for the prosecution of the war and as to applicant's ability to perform its contracts. When liaison officers are not actually detailed to a given Federal Reserve District, the Federal Reserve Bank will perform this duty. Upon the basis of the information so obtained, the liaison officer will issue a Statement of Necessity. If the liaison officer is not satisfied that the terms and conditions of the loan will expedite production and protect the Government's interest to the fullest extent possible, the Statement of Necessity may be withheld pending the working out of satisfactory terms and conditions.

(f) Loans and guarantees not requiring submission to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director. Upon the issuance of a Statement of Necessity, a direct Government loan or a guarantee on behalf of the War Department may be completed by a Federal Reserve Bank, acting as fiscal agent of the United States on such terms and conditions as to it may seem advisable, provided that such loan or guarantee must be submitted for approval to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, if it comes within any of the categories set forth in paragraph (g).

(g) Loans and guarantees requiring submission to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch. Direct Government loans and guarantees coming within any of the following categories must be submitted for approval to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces:

(1) All direct Government loans and also all guarantees when the amount thereof plus the amount of all loans and guarantees made pursuant to Executive Order No. 9112 (including Navy Department and Maritime Commission loans and guarantees), which the contractor has then outstanding, exceed $100,000.

(2) All guarantees when the liaison officer and the Federal Reserve Bank disagree as to the terms and conditions thereof.

(3) All guarantees, regardless of the principal amount of the loan, when the guarantee is for an amount in excess of 90 percent of the principal amount of the loan.

(4) All guarantees when the Federal Reserve Bank is itself participating in the loan.

(h) Execution of loan or guarantee. If the Federal Reserve Bank does not participate in the loan, the guarantee normally will be executed by the Federal Reserve Bank as fiscal agent of the United States. If the Federal Reserve Bank does participate in the loan, the guarantee will be executed by the financial contracting officer. Direct Government loans will be executed by a financial contracting officer.

(i) Cooperation of procurement officers. When it has been determined pursuant to § 803.319 (a) and (d) that a guaranteed loan is the method of financing most conducive to maximum war production, it is essential that the Federal Reserve Bank, the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, the liaison officers, and the financial contracting officers receive the fullest and speediest cooperation from the procurement officers of the various technical services. Procurement officers of the technical services will furnish such information relating to contracts awarded or executed by them, and as to subcontractors and orders under such contracts, as may be called for by the Federal Reserve Bank, the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, liaison officers or financial contracting officers. In order to expedite this cooperation, special units may be established in the district offices of the technical services, or existing Advance Payment Sections may be utilized for this purpose. Information normally required to be furnished will include:

(1) The need for the borrower's production, and

(2) The ability of the borrower to perform from the view point of technical production.

Obtaining information as to the borrower's financial condition is primarily the responsibility of the liaison officer and the Federal Reserve Banks. However, procurement officers of a technical service may supply such information and may make recommendations with respect thereto which will be given due weight provided that the information as to the necessity for the production and the technical ability of the borrower to perform is not delayed.

§ 803.321 Advance payments—(a) General policy. Subject to provisions of § 803.319 (a) to (c), advance payments will be made to contractors upon their request in all cases where such action will facilitate the prosecution of the war provided that after careful scrutiny it is determined that the national interest will be promoted thereby and provided that the Government will be adequately protected.

(b) Types of contracts. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (a), advance payments may be made in connection with agreements of all kinds (whether contracts, letter contracts, letter purchase orders or other types of agreements).

(c) Advance payments under contracts executed prior to December 27, 1941. No advance payment in excess of 30 per cent of the amount of the contract will be authorized upon a contract entered into prior to December 27, 1941, except under a supplemental agreement containing provisions for such an advance payment executed on or after December 27, 1941.

(d) Security. Advance payments shall be authorized only upon the furnishing of adequate security by the contractor. The security to be furnished will be that required under the provisions of the standard clauses or standard forms of supplemental agreements referred to in paragraph (k). A guarantee by, or bond of, a parent corporation is desirable if the subsidiary corporation has limited financial responsibility, especially in the case of a newly formed subsidiary corporation. Whether guarantees, subordination agreements or other security devices should be required, in connection with advance payments, is within the discretion of the person having authority to approve the authorization of advance payments. Advance payments bonds will be required only in the most exceptional circumstances. (See §§ 804.406 (d) and 804.407 (a).)

(d–1) Release of security upon liquidation of advance payments. The execution, upon the liquidation of advance payments, of releases and agreements to release mortgages, guarantors in guaranty agreements, sureties on advance payment bonds, and other security devices, which may be required in connection with advance payments, will facilitate the prosecution of the war. Accordingly, such releases and agreements to release may be executed pursuant to Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order 9001, by the chief of a technical service or his duly authorized representative, or by the person to whom he may delegate such authority, in those cases where such security devices have been given to secure a specific advance payment or advance payments and no other obligations to the Government, and such advance payment or advance payments have been fully liquidated.

In cases where releases or agreements to release security devices, given in connection with advance payments, cannot be executed pursuant to the authority above granted, proposed releases or agreements to release, together with recommendations as to action requested, should be submitted to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, for prior approval and execution by the Fiscal Director or his duly authorized representative to whom authority to execute such releases and agreements to release is granted pursuant to Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order 9001.

(e) Definitions. As used in paragraphs (f), (g) and (n), the following terms shall have the following meaning:

(1) The amount of the contract: In the case of a lump sum contract, the contract price; in the case of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract, the estimated cost exclusive of the fixed-fee.

(2) Standard contract clause: A contract clause following without substantial deviation the wording of one of the contract clauses referred to in paragraph (k).

(3) Standard supplemental agreement: A supplemental agreement following without substantial deviation the wording of one of the forms of supplemental agreement referred to in paragraph (k).

The determination of whether there is a substantial deviation from contract clause or from a form of supplemental agreement is within the discretion of the chiefs of the technical services. In general, the determining factor is whether the modification changes established policies with respect to advance payments.

(f) Initial advance payments not requiring approval of Advance Payment and Loan Branch. Chiefs of technical services are authorized, without obtaining the approval of the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, to approve the authorization and making of initial advance payments on contracts pertaining to their respective services, when:

(1) The amount of the contract is less than $5,000,000 and the amount of the advance payment is not in excess of 50 per cent of the amount of the contract, and

(2) The advance payment is authorized under a standard contract clause or a standard supplemental agreement.

(g) Subsequent advance payments not requiring approval of Advance Payment and Loan Branch. The chiefs of the technical services are authorized, without obtaining the approval of the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, to approve the authorization and making of advance payments in addition to advance payments previously authorized in connection with a given contract, when:

(1) The amount of the contract on which the subsequent advance payment is based is less than $5,000,000 and the proposed advance payment does not exceed 50 per cent of such amount, and

(2) The proposed advance payment is authorized under an approved contract clause or an approved supplemental agreement.

As used in this paragraph (g), the term "amount of the contract on which the subsequent advance payment is based" means the amount by which the amount of the contract has been increased since the date of the last authorization of an advance payment.

(h) Advance payments requiring approval of Advance Payment and Loan Branch. Unless an advance payment comes within the provisions of paragraph (f) or (g), the authorization of such advance payment must be submitted for approval to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. The submission to said Branch will consist of a recommendation of the chief of the technical service concerned, together with the following information:

(1) The amount proposed to be advanced.

(2) The amount of contract involved and the subject matter thereof.

(3) Whether the contract was awarded on a fixed price or on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis.

(4) The terms of the proposed advance (including method and time of repayment or liquidation including, if possible, a schedule of deliveries).

(5) The national interest in making the advance.

(6) The security proposed to protect the Government against loss with the definite recommendation of the chief of the technical service as to the adequacy thereof.

(7) The financial position and the general character and responsibility of the contractor, as well as the technical ability of the contractor to perform the contract.

(8) A copy of the contractor's letter of request and any financial and budget data submitted relating to the necessity for the advance.

(9) Copy of contracting officer's report, if any, on the advance payment request.

(10) Any other information pertinent to a proper decision in the case.

(11) The date and identifying symbol of the approval of the award together with the appropriation available.

Requests for the approval of the authorization of an advance payment may be presented either during the negotiation of a contract or at any time thereafter. If the contract is available a copy thereof together with applicable letters of intent and intermediate supplemental agreements, if any, should be forwarded together with the recommendation. If a copy of the contract is not available at the time the recommendation is forwarded, such a copy should be submitted for review and filing promptly after execution.

(i) Special provision with respect to advance payments under open-end provisions in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. If in connection with a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract, it is proposed to authorize the making of an advance payment in an amount equivalent to a percentage of the estimated cost as the same may be amended from time to time, approval of the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, need not be obtained unless the estimated cost of the contract exclusive of the fixed-fee at the time of the granting of such authorization is $5,000,000 or more (provided, of course, that the authorization is made under a standard contract clause or a standard supplemental agreement). If, however, it subsequently becomes apparent that the cost will be $5,000,000 or more, no further advances will be made under such authorization until such approval has first been obtained. If such approval has once been obtained, the making of advance payments, in addition to those made prior to or at the time of such approval, may be made without further approval of the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, regardless of the amount of such additional advance payments.

(j) Advance payments in connection with letter contracts or letter purchase orders. Advance payments in connection with letter contracts or letter purchase orders will be provided for by a standard supplemental agreement. There should be included in such agreement a clause relieving a subsequent performance surety of the fidelity risk involved in making advance payments in any case where it is contemplated that a performance bond will be required in connection with the more formal contract and where no advance payment bond has been required.

(k) Forms of supplemental agreement and contract clauses. The following is a list of contract clauses and forms of supplemental agreements for use in connection with the authorization of advance payments:

(1) The contract clause contained in § 803.347 will be used in providing for advance payments with interest on fixed-price contracts.

(2) War Department Contract Form No. 20 will be used in executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments with interest on fixed-price contracts. (See § 813.1320)

(3) War Department Contract Form No. 21 will be used in executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments with interest on cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. (See § 813.1321)

(4) The contract clause contained in § 803.348a will be used in providing for advance payments with interest on cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts.

(5) War Department Contract Form No. 22 will be used in executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments with interest on a letter purchase order. (See § 813.1322)

(6) The contract clause contained in § 803.348 will be used in providing for advance payments without interest on fixed-price contracts.

(7) War Department Contract Form No. 23 will be used for executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments without interest on fixed-price contracts. (See § 813.1323)

(8) The contract clause contained in § 803.348b will be used in providing for advance payments without interest on cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts.

(9) War Department Contract Form No. 24 will be used for executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments without interest on cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. (See § 813.1324)

(10) War Department Contract Form No. 25 will be used for executing a supplemental agreement for advance payments without interest on letter purchase orders. (See § 813.1325)

(l) Interest. Except as set forth in paragraph (m) below, whenever an advance payment is made to a contractor by the War Department, a charge should be made for the use of the Government money so furnished. The charge should be in the nature of an interest charge computed, at convenient accounting periods, at the rate of two and one-half percent per annum on the unliquidated balance of advance payments outstanding from time to time. In the case of a fixed-price contract, the amount of the charge should be deducted from payments under the contract. In the case of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract, the charge should be deducted from the amount of the fee otherwise payable to the contractor, and should not be an item of reimbursable cost under the contract.

(m) Exceptions to interest requirement. The requirement that interest be charged on advance payments shall not be applicable to advance payments:

(1) Authorized in connection with contracts which provide that the work thereunder shall be performed at cost without profit or fee to the contractor.

(2) Authorized in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts on which the fee is disproportionately small compared to the amount of interest that would accrue on the advance payment.

(3) Authorized in connection with contracts entered into, or contracts the terms of which had been agreed upon, prior to June 8, 1942, to the extent that such application would be inconsistent with the terms upon which such contracts were negotiated.

(4) Authorized in connection with fixed price contracts which have been converted from cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts provided that advances previously authorized on the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts have been without interest and provided further that in negotiating the fixed prices on the converted contracts due allowance is made for the continuation of advances without interest. This does not preclude, however, the use of advances with interest in accordance with paragraph (l) in the negotiation of the converted contracts from a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee to fixed price basis if it is preferred to negotiate the new price on the use of advances with interest.

(5) Authorized to be made without interest by specific action of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(6) Authorized in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts which have been terminated in whole or in part to the extent that such advance payments are used for the making of partial payments to subcontractors on account of termination claims of such subcontractors. Interest will cease to accrue on that part of the advance payment balance outstanding so used from the time such partial payments are made until the time the prime contractor is reimbursed for termination settlements with such subcontractors. (See §§ 815.654 (a) and 803.349a.)

(n) Reports. In connection with advance payments, the technical services will make the following report:

(1) Individual advance payment report. A complete report of each advance payment, except those approved by the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, pursuant to paragraph (h) or (i), will be submitted to said Branch, for consideration, review and file. There will be submitted with the report a copy of the contract under which the advance payment was authorized or, if the advance payment was authorized under a supplemental agreement, a copy of the contract and of such supplemental agreement. The report will contain a statement of the amount of the contract, the amount of the advance payment authorized, the national interest in making the advance payment, the proposed security and a statement as to whether prior approval of withdrawal is to be required, as well as a statement of the financial responsibility of the contractor and of its ability to perform the contract. The contractor's most recent balance sheet or a Federal Reserve Bank report should also be filed.

(2) Quarterly report. In each year, there shall be rendered to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Headquarters, Army Service Forces reports for the periods ending March 31, June 30, September 30, and December 31. Each such report will be rendered fifteen days after the close of the period. There will be set forth in such reports the status of all contracts on which advance payments have been authorized. The following data should be included in the report:

(i) Contract number.
(ii) Name of contractor.
(iii) Description of contract.
(iv) Type of contract.
(v) Amount of contract as it may be changed from time to time.
(vi) Amount of advance payments authorized.
(vii) Amount of advance payments made.
(viii) Advance payments recovered.
(ix) Advance payments outstanding.
(x) Appropriation symbol.
(xi) Project number.

A special statement should be included in the report as to any contract with respect to which the completion of the contract and liquidation of the advance payments appear to be doubtful together with a statement as to the steps being taken to protect the advance payments. A report should include data previously furnished and not merely cover the period from the last report. However the report need not include contracts upon which complete liquidation of the advance payments have been made and so reported in a previous report.

(3) Interim reports. If at any time between the rendering of quarterly reports it appears doubtful that a contractor to whom advance payments have been made will complete the contract, a report should be rendered to the Advance Payment and Loan Branch, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, immediately. The reports should include a statement of the facts in the case and of the steps being taken to protect the advance payments.

(o) Advance payment for communication services and facilities in accordance with established tariffs of foreign communications companies. In accordance with the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001, contracts covering the procurement of commercial communications services or facilities in foreign countries may authorize advance payment of charges therefor when such advance payment is provided for in established tariffs or is in accordance with rules, practices, or regulations applicable to the furnishing of similar services and facilities to the general public. It is hereby determined that the insertion of such advance payment provisions will facilitate the prosecution of the war. In connection with such advance payments, it will not be necessary to make any of the reports provided for in paragraph (n).

SUBPART H—MANDATORY AND OPTIONAL CONTRACT PROVISIONS

§ 803.322 Officials not to benefit clause. Every contract, regardless of subject matter or amount, will contain the following clause without deviation:

Officials not to benefit. No member of or delegate to Congress or resident commissioner shall be admitted to any share or part of this contract or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, but this provision shall not be construed to extend to this contract if made with a corporation for its general benefit.

§ 803.323 Covenant against contingent fees. (1) Every contract, regardless of subject material or amount (except contracts of sale, see § 807.726) will contain the following clause without deviation:

Covenant against contingent fees. The Contractor warrants that he has not employed any person to solicit or secure this contract upon any agreement for a commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fee. Breach of this warranty shall give the Government the right to annul the contract, or, in its discretion, to deduct from the contract price or consideration the amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage, or contingent fees. This warranty shall not apply to commissions payable by contractors upon contracts or sales secured or made through bona fide established commercial or selling agencies maintained by the Contractor for the purpose of securing business.

(2) As to contracts of sale, see the specified provision set out in § 807.726.

(3) Also see § 811.1181.

§ 803.324 Termination article for use in lump sum supply contracts. (1) There is set forth below the new termination article prescribed by the Office of War Mobilization for use in lump sum supply contracts. This article will be referred to hereafter in this paragraph as the new article.

(2) The new article may be inserted in any lump sum supply contract.

(3) Every lump sum supply contract executed on and after 20 February 1944, except:

(i) Contracts to be completed in six months or less for an amount of less than $500,000 and

(ii) Contracts for an amount of less than $50,000, regardless of the date of completion, will contain the new article without deviation.

(4) As provided in § 815.107 (a), the chief of any technical service, without approval of higher authority, may amend any existing lump sum supply contract to insert therein the new article. Such amendments will take place wherever possible prior to giving formal notice of termination. Inasmuch as it is in the interest of both the contractors and the Government that termination be effected under a uniform article, a vigorous policy will be pursued of promptly inserting by amendment the new article in existing contracts (other than those within the exceptions of subdivisions (i) and (ii) of subparagraph (3) above) not now containing it. This policy will be applied with special emphasis in the case of contracts for large amounts and contracts calling for deliveries over long periods of time.

(5) Prior to the adoption of the new article by the Office of War Mobilization there was in use by the War Department a standard termination article for lump sum supply contracts which was contained in this section. The instructions contained in Part 815 are based upon the former article. To the extent that such instructions are inconsistent with the new article they are to be deemed inapplicable to contracts containing it. The sections of Part 815 containing such instructions will shortly be amended to conform to the new article.

(6) Simultaneously with the issuance of the new article the Office of War Mobilization published a "Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs Upon Termination of Government Fixed Price Supply Contracts." It will be noted that this statement is incorporated by reference by subparagraph (h) of the new article. The statement is set forth in full in § 815.480. For convenience the new article has been printed in § 815.901, as well as below in this section.

Article ____. Termination at the option of the Government. (a) The performance of work under this contract may be terminated by the Government in accordance with this Article in whole, or from time to time in part, whenever the contracting officer shall determine any such termination is for the best interests of the Government. Termination of work hereunder shall be effected by delivery to the contractor of a Notice of Termination specifying the extent to which performance of work under the contract shall be terminated, and the date upon which such termination shall become effective. If termination of work under this contract is simultaneous with, a part of, or in connection with, a general termination (1) of all or substantially all of a group or class of contracts made by the War Department for the same product or for closely related products, or (2) of war contracts at, about the time of, or following, the cessation of the present hostilities, or any major part thereof, such termination shall only be made in accordance with the provisions of this Article, unless the contracting officer finds that the contractor is then in gross or wilful default under this contract.

(b) After receipt of a Notice of Termination and except as otherwise directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall (1) terminate work under the contract on the date and to the extent specified in the Notice of Terminations; (2) place no further orders or subcontracts for materials, services or facilities except as may be necessary for completion of such portions of the work under the contract as may not be terminated; (3) terminate all orders and subcontracts to the extent that they relate to the performance of any work terminated by the Notice of Termination; (4) assign to the Government, in the manner and to the extent directed by the contracting officer, all of the right, title and interest of the contractor under the orders or subcontracts so terminated; (5) settle all claims arising out of such termination of orders and subcontracts with the approval or ratifications of the contracting officer to the extent that he may require, which approval or ratification shall be final for all the purposes of this Article; (6) transfer title and deliver to the Government in the manner, to the extent and at the times directed by the contracting officer (i) the fabricated or unfabricated parts, work in process, completed work, supplies and other material produced as a part of, or acquired in respect of the performance of, the work terminated in the Notice of Termination, and (ii) the plans, drawings, information and other property which, if the contract had been completed, would be required to be furnished to the Government; (7) use his best efforts to sell in the manner, to the extent, at the time, and at the price or prices directed or authorized by the contracting officer, any property of the types referred to in subdivision (6) of this paragraph Provided, however, That the contractor (i) shall not be required to extend credit to any purchaser and (ii) may retain any such property at a price or prices approved by the contracting officer; (8) complete performance of such part of the work as shall not have been terminated by the Notice of Termination; and (9) take such action as may be necessary or as the contracting officer may direct for protection and preservation of the property, which is in the possession of the contractor and in which the Government has or may acquire an interest.

(c) The contractor and the contracting officer may agree upon the whole or any part of the amount or amounts to be paid to the contractor by reason of the total or partial termination of work pursuant to this Article, which amount or amounts may include a reasonable allowance for profit, and the Government shall pay the agreed amount or amounts. Nothing in paragraph (d) of this Article prescribing the amount to be paid to the contractor in the event of failure of the contractor and the contracting officer to agree upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this Article shall be deemed to limit, restrict or otherwise determine or affect the amount or amounts which may be agreed upon to be paid to the contractor pursuant to this paragraph (c).

(d) In the event of the failure of the contractor and contracting officer to agree as provided in paragraph (c) upon the whole amount to be paid to the contractor by reason of the termination of work pursuant to this Article, the Government, but without duplication of any amounts agreed upon in accordance with paragraph (c), shall pay to the contractor the following amounts.

(1) For completed articles delivered to and accepted by the Government (or sold or retained as provided in paragraph (b) (7) above) and not theretofore paid for, forthwith a sum equivalent to the aggregate price for such articles computed in accordance with the price or prices specified in the contract;

(2) In respect of the contract work terminated as permitted by this Article, the total (without duplication of any items) of (i) the cost of such work exclusive of any cost attributable to articles paid or to be paid for under paragraph (d) (1) hereof; (ii) the cost of settling and paying claims arising out of the termination of work under subcontracts or orders as provided in paragraph (b) (5) above, exclusive of the amounts paid or payable on account of supplies or materials delivered or services furnished by the subcontractor prior to the effective date of the notice of termination of work under this contract which amounts shall be included in the cost on account of which payment is made under subdivision (i) above; and (iii) a sum equal to ----------% (Note 1), of the part of the amount determined under subdivision (i) which represents the cost of articles or materials not processed by the contractor, plus a sum equal to ----------% (Note 2), of the remainder of such amount, but the aggregate of such sums shall not exceed 6% of the whole of the amount determined under subdivision (i), which for the purpose of this subdivision (iii) shall exclude any charges for interest on borrowings;

NOTES 1 and 2: The chief of each technical service may provide for determining the percentages to be inserted at Note 1 (which in no event will exceed 2%) and at Note 2 (which may be greater or less than or equal to 6%). The general use of 2% and 8% respectively, as arbitrary figures is recommended in the interest of expediting the execution of contracts. Where the use of arbitrary figures is not desired for any reason, the methods to be used in arriving at the percentage to be inserted at Note 2 shall be the same as those now used in price analysis. When the intended rate of profit on the finished article covered by the contract is lower than 8%, the insertion of a lower figure at Note 2 will of course be desirable.

(3) The reasonable cost of the preservation and protection of property incurred pursuant to paragraph (b) (9) hereof; and any other reasonable cost incidental to termination of work under this contract, including expense incidental to the determination of the amount due to the contractor as the result of the termination of work under this contract.

The total sum to be paid to the contractor under subdivisions (1) and (2) of this paragraph (d) shall not exceed the total contract price reduced by the amount of payments otherwise made and by the Contract price of work not terminated. Except for normal spoilage and to the extent that the Government shall have otherwise expressly assumed the risk of loss, there shall be excluded from the amounts payable to the contractor as provided in paragraph (d) (1) and paragraph (d) (2) (i), all amounts allocable to or payable in respect of property, which is destroyed, lost, stolen or damaged so as to become undeliverable prior to the transfer of title to the Government or to a buyer pursuant to paragraph (b) (7) or prior to the 60th day after delivery to the Government of an inventory covering such property, whichever shall first occur.

(e) The obligation of the Government to make any payments under this article: (1) shall be subject to deductions in respect of (i) all unliquidated partial or progress payments, payments on account theretofore made to the contractor and unliquidated advance payments, (ii) any claim which the Government may have against the contractor in connection with this contract, and (iii) the price agreed upon or the proceeds of sale of any materials, supplies or other things retained by the contractor or sold, and not otherwise recovered by or credited to the Government, and (2) in the discretion of the contracting officer shall be subject to deduction in respect of the amount of any claim of any subcontractor or supplier whose subcontract or order shall have been terminated as provided in paragraph (b) (3) except to the extent that such claim covers (i) property or materials delivered to the contractor or (ii) services furnished to the contractor in connection with the production of completed articles under this contract.

(f) In the event that, prior to the determination of the final amount to be paid to the contractor as in this article provided, the contractor shall file with the contracting officer a request in writing that an equitable adjustment should be made in the price or prices specified in the contract for the work not terminated by the Notice of Termination, the appropriate fair and reasonable adjustment shall be made in such price or prices.

(g) The Government shall make partial payments and payments on account, from time to time, of the amounts to which the contractor shall be entitled under this Article, whether determined by agreement or otherwise, whenever in the opinion of the contracting officer the aggregate of such payments shall be within the amount to which the contractor will be entitled hereunder.

(h) For the purposes of paragraphs (d) (2) and (d) (3) hereof, the amounts of the payments to be made by the Government to the contractor shall be determined in accordance with the Statement of Principles for Determination of Costs upon Termination of Government Fixed Price Supply Contracts approved by the Joint Contract Termination Board, December 31, 1943. The contractor for a period of three years after final settlement under the contract shall make available to the Government at all reasonable times at the office of the contractor all of its books, records, documents, and other evidence bearing on the costs and expenses of the contractor under the contract and in respect of the termination of work thereunder.

(a) Every lump-sum construction contract regardless of subject matter, except: (1) Contracts to be completed in six months or less for an amount of less than $500,000 and (2) Contracts for an amount of less than $50,000 regardless of the date of completion, will contain the following clause without deviation:

Article ____. Termination for convenience of the Government. (a) The Government may terminate this contract in whole or in part at any time by a notice in writing from the Contracting Officer to the Contractor, specifying the date upon which such termination shall become effective and the extent to which the performance of such contract shall be terminated. Termination shall be effective upon the date and to the extent specified in said notice.

(b) Upon receipt of the notice of termination the Contractor shall except insofar as the notice directs otherwise with respect to this contract, or, in the event of partial termination, with respect to the part thereof covered by the notice:

(1) Discontinue all work and the placing of all orders for materials and facilities otherwise required for the performance thereof;

(2) Cancel all existing orders and subcontracts to the extent such orders and subcontracts are chargeable to the performance thereof;

(3) Transfer to the Government, in accordance with the directions of the Contracting Officer, all materials, supplies, work in process, facilities, equipment, machinery or tools acquired by the Contractor in connection with the performance thereof, and all plans, drawings, working drawings, sketches, specifications and information for use in connection therewith. If and as the Contracting Officer so directs or authorizes, the Contractor shall sell at a price approved by the Contracting Officer, or retain at a price mutually agreeable, any such materials, supplies, equipment, machinery, tools, or other things, Provided, however, That the Contractor may retain any such equipment, machinery and tools as of right if he so elects in writing, stating that he will forego reimbursement therefor. The proceeds of any such sale, or the agreed price, shall be paid or credited to the Government in such manner as the contracting officer may direct so as to reduce the amount payable by the Government under this Article.

(4) Take such action as may be necessary to secure to the Government the benefits of any rights remaining in the Contractor under orders or subcontracts chargeable thereto to the extent that such orders or subcontracts are so chargeable;

(5) Take such action as the Contracting Officer may prescribe for the protection and preservation of all property in the possession or control of the Contractor, title to which is transferable to the Government under the provisions of this article.

Should the notice of termination cover only a portion of this contract, the Contractor will proceed to completion of such portions as are not terminated.

(c) Upon compliance by the Contractor with the above provisions of this Article and subject to deductions or credit for payments previously made, and without duplication of any such payments, the Government shall pay to the Contractor such sum as the Contracting Officer and the Contractor may agree by Supplemental Agreement is reasonably necessary to compensate the Contractor for his costs, expenditures, liabilities, commitments and work with respect to this contract, other than the expenditures and costs referred to in paragraph (e) of this Article. The Contracting Officer shall include in such sum such allowance for profit with respect to the contract as is reasonable under all the circumstances.

(d) If the Contracting Officer and the Contractor, within 90 days from the effective date of the notice of termination referred to in paragraph (a), or within such extended period as may be agreed upon between them, cannot agree upon the sum payable under the provisions of paragraph (c), the Government shall instead compensate the Contractor in the following manner, subject to deductions or credit for payments previously made, and without duplication thereof, and upon compliance with the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Article:

(1) By reimbursing the Contractor for all actual expenditures and costs certified by the Contracting Officer as having been made or incurred with respect to this contract, including expenditures and costs made or incurred in connection with any portions of the contract which may have been completed prior to termination, as well as expenditures and costs made or incurred after termination in completing those portions of the contract which the Contractor may have been required by the notice of termination to complete.

(2) By reimbursing or providing for the payment or reimbursement of, the Contractor for all expenditures made or costs incurred with the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer in settling or discharging any outstanding contractual obligations or commitments incurred or entered into by the Contractor with respect to this contract; and

(3) By paying the Contractor, as a profit on this contract, insofar as a profit is realized hereunder, an amount to be computed by the Contracting Officer in the following manner:

(A) Estimate the profit which would have been realized on this contract if the contract had been completed and labor and materials costs prevailing at the date of terminations had remained in effect.

(B) Estimate, from a consideration of all relevant factors, the percentage of completion of the contract including any work performed after termination. In estimating the percentage of completion, the Contracting Officer shall estimate the percentage of the total work required by the contract which the work actually accomplished represents.

(C) Multiply the profit determined under (A) by the percentage determined under (B). The product is the amount to be paid the Contractor as profit.

(e) The Government shall pay to the Contractor such sum as the Contracting Officer and the Contractor may agree upon for expenditures made and costs incurred with the approval of the Contracting Officer (a) after the date of termination for the protection of Government property, and (b) for such other expenditures and costs as may be necessary in connection with the settlement of this contract, and in the absence of such agreement as to the amount of such expenditures and costs shall reimburse the Contractor for the same.

(f) The obligation of the Government to make any of the payments required by this Article shall be subject to any unsettled claim for labor or material and to any claim which the Government may have against the Contractor under or in connection with this contract, and payments under this Article shall be subject to reasonable deductions by the Contracting Officer on account of defects in materials or workmanship.

(g) The sum of all amounts payable under this Article, plus the sum of all amounts previously paid under this contract, shall not exceed the total contract price, adjusted in the event that this contract contains an article providing for price adjustment, on the basis of the estimate of the Contracting Officer, to the extent which would have been required by such article if this contract had been completed and labor and materials costs prevailing at the date of termination had remained in effect.

(h) Should the above provisions of this Article not result in payment to the Contractor of at least $100, then that amount shall be paid to the Contractor in lieu of any and all payments hereinbefore provided for in this Article.

(i) The Government shall promptly make partial payments to the Contractor

(1) on account of the amounts due under paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of this Article to the extent that, in the judgment of the Contracting Officer, such payments are clearly within the amounts due under such paragraphs, and

(2) of such amounts as the Contracting Officer may direct, an account of proposed settlements of outstanding obligations or commitments, to be made by the Contractor pursuant to paragraph (d) (2) of this Article, if such settlements shall have been approved by the Contracting Officer and subject to such provisions for escrow or direct payment to the persons entitled to receive such settlement payments as the Contracting Officer may require.

(j) Any disputes arising out of termination under this Article shall be decided in accordance with the procedure prescribed in Article • • • of this contract.

(k) Upon the making of the payments called for by this Article, all obligations of the Government to make further payments or to carry out other undertakings hereunder shall cease forthwith and forever, except that all rights and obligations of the respective parties under the Articles, if any, of this contract applicable to patent infringements and reproduction rights shall remain in full force and effect.

(l) The Government shall terminate this contract only in accordance with this Article, except as otherwise provided by law or by Article • • • (Delays-Damage). Notwithstanding Article • • • (Delays-Damages) and any defaults of the Contractor, the Government shall terminate this contract only in accordance with this Article if such termination is simultaneous with or part of or in connection with a general termination of war contracts at, about the time of, or following the cessation of the present hostilities or the end of the present war, unless the Contracting Officer finds that the defaults of the Contractor (1) have been gross or wilful and (2) have caused substantial damage to the Government.

The foregoing clause may be inserted in any contract as to which its inclusion is not mandatory. (See also §§ 815.107, 815.310 and 802.234a.) In connection with the Termination Article set forth in this paragraph, see Subpart I of Part 803.

§ 803.325 Anti-discrimination clause. (a) Every contract, regardless of subject matter or amount, will contain (except as may be otherwise specifically permitted in Interpretations of Executive Order No. 9346, hereinafter referred to) the following clause without deviation:

Anti-discrimination. (a) The Contractor, in performing the work required by this contract, shall not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, creed, color, or national origin.

(b) The Contractor agrees that the provision of paragraph (a) above will also be inserted in all of its subcontracts. For the purpose of this article, a subcontract is defined as any contract entered into by the Contractor with any individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, or trust, or other business enterprise or other legal entity, for a specific part of the work to be performed in connection with the supplies or services furnished under this contract: Provided, however, That a contract for the furnishing of standard or commercial articles or raw material shall not be considered as a subcontract.

(b) The contract clause set forth in paragraph (a) above is required under the provision of Executive Order No. 9346 issued under date of 27 May 1943. Such Executive Order is set forth in paragraph 994. Interpretations of Executive Order No. 9346 are found in paragraphs designated 994–A, followed by a numeral.

(c) The contract clause set forth in paragraph (a) above is required, under the provisions of Executive Order No. 9346, to be included "in all contracts hereafter negotiated or renegotiated • • •". The inclusion of the word "renegotiated" has been interpreted as imposing the requirements set forth in paragraphs (d) and (e) below.

(d) Whenever the terms of a contract or contracts are to be modified by the execution of a supplemental agreement, and the contract or contracts to be modified do not contain a clause identical in wording with that set forth in paragraph (a) above, such supplemental agreement will provide that the contract or contracts are modified to include such a clause.

(e) Normally the provisions of paragraph (d) above will not be applicable to renegotiation agreements executed pursuant to the Renegotiation Act referred to in Part 812 of this chapter. If, however, the renegotiation agreement expressly purports to modify the terms of specified existing contracts with respect to future deliveries, the provisions of paragraph (d) will be applicable. Likewise, if the renegotiation agreement is to be followed by a supplemental agreement or agreements, modifying, with respect to future deliveries, the terms of existing contracts, such supplemental agreement or agreements will provide for the inclusion, in the contracts modified thereby, of the clause set forth in paragraph (a).

(f) When a prime contract is amended in accordance with paragraphs (c) or (d) above, it is not necessary that the existing subcontracts be correspondingly modified. However, if the subcontracts are subsequently amended for any other reason the anti-discrimination clause contained therein should be amended to conform to the wording of paragraph (a) of the clause set forth in paragraph (a) of this section. To make this clear, there may be inserted in the supplemental agreement which amends the prime contract a statement substantially as follows:

The amendment made by this section • • • shall be effective as of the date of approval of this supplemental agreement and shall not be deemed to require amendment of the antidiscrimination provisions contained in any subcontract theretofore entered into unless such subcontract is subsequently modified in some other respect.

§ 803.326 Disputes concerning questions of fact. (1) Every contract, regardless of subject matter, for an amount of $20,000 of more will, and every contract for an amount of less than $20,000 may (at the option of the contractor), contain the following article without deviation:

Disputes. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this contract, all disputes concerning questions of fact which may arise under this contract, and which are not disposed of by mutual agreement, shall be decided by the Contracting Officer, who shall reduce his decision to writing and mail a copy thereof to the Contractor at his address shown herein. Within 30 days from said mailing the Contractor may appeal in writing to the Secretary of War, whose written decision or that of his designated representative or representatives thereon shall be final and conclusive upon the parties hereto. The Secretary of War may, in his discretion, designate an individual, or individuals, other than the Contracting Officer, or a board as his authorized representative to determine appeals under this Article. The Contractor shall be afforded an opportunity to be heard and offer evidence in support of his appeal. The president of the board, from time to time, may divide the board into divisions of one or more members and assign members thereto. A majority of the members of the board or of a division thereof shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of the business of the board or of a division, respectively, and the decision of a majority of the members of the Board or of a division shall be deemed to be the decision of the Board or of a division, as the case may be. If a majority of the members of a division are unable to agree on a decision or if within 30 days after a decision by a division, the board or the president thereof directs that the decision of the division be reviewed by the board, the decision will be so reviewed, otherwise the decision of a majority of the members of a division shall become the decision of the board. If a majority of the members of the board is unable to agree upon a decision, the president will promptly submit the appeal to the Under Secretary of War for his decision upon the record. A vacancy in the board or in any division thereof shall not impair the powers, nor affect the duties of the board or division nor of the remaining members of the board or division, respectively. Any member of the board, or any examiner designated by the president of the board for that purpose, may hold hearings, examine witnesses, receive evidence and report the evidence to the board or to the appropriate division, if the case is pending before a division. Pending decision of a dispute hereunder the Contractor shall diligently proceed with the performance of this contract. Any sum or sums allowed to the Contractor under the provisions of this Article shall be paid by the United States as part of the cost of the articles or work herein contracted for and shall be deemed to be within the contemplation of this contract.

(2) Where a contract has no definite termination date, or where a termination date is expressed but the contract is subject to renewal (e. g., through failure of the Government to take action to terminate or through the Government's exercise of a right to renew), it may be difficult to determine whether the contract is for an amount of $20,000 within the meaning of subparagraph (1) above. The following rule of thumb is prescribed to resolve the difficulty in such cases: It will be assumed for the purpose of making the determination that the contract will run for a period of three years from its starting date, and the aggregate charge will be estimated on this basis. If the aggregate charge, so estimated, is $20,000 or more, the Disputes article will be included in the contract; if less than $20,000, the article may be included at the option of the contractor.

(a) In all contracts which contain a definition of "his duly authorized representative" in relation to the head of the department, as "any person authorized to act for him other than the contracting officer," the words "or board" will be inserted between the word "person" and the word "authorized".

§ 803.327 Domestic articles clause. Whenever the restrictions of the Buy American Act are applicable to any items deliverable under a contract (see §§ 805.502 to 802.504) the contract will contain the following clause. In such cases, this clause will be inserted without deviation except that there may be added such language as is necessary to indicate to which items the clause applies.

Domestic articles. Unless the Secretary of War shall determine it to be inconsistent with the public interest, or the cost to be unreasonable, only such unmanufactured articles, materials, and supplies as have been mined or produced in the United States, and only such manufactured articles, materials, and supplies as have been manufactured in the United States substantially all from articles, materials, or supplies mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States shall be delivered pursuant to this contract, except as noted in the specifications and/or other papers hereto attached. The provisions of this article shall not apply with respect to articles, materials, or supplies for use outside the United States, or if articles, materials, or supplies of the class or kind to be used, or the articles, materials, or supplies from which they are manufactured are not mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States in sufficient and reasonably available commercial quantities and of a satisfactory quality.

§ 803.328 Notice of shipments clause. All contracts involving shipments of the types enumerated below, except contracts for the furnishing of supplies in connection with which a Government inspector or other Government official at the plant or warehouse of the contractor is charged with the duty of issuing notices of shipment, will contain a clause substantially as follows:

Notice of shipments. At the time of delivery of any of the following types of shipments to a carrier for rail, motor or water commercial transport, the contractor shall give notice to the consignee establishment including date, route, size and brief general description of the supplies being shipped: (a) shipments of one carload or more consigned to ports of embarkation, depots, arsenals and arsenal plants; (b) shipments of ammunition or gasoline of one carload or more, and shipments of ten carloads or more regardless of the character of the supplies, consigned to any War Department installation or unit of the Army. In the case of shipment to port of embarkation, the notice shall be by prepaid telegraph or teletype; if such shipment is "classified," all classified information shall be omitted and such general terminology substituted therefor as is permissible under security regulations. In respect to the other types of shipments, prepaid telegraph or teletype notice shall be used, except that (i) the contracting officer may permit mail or airmail notice (which may consist of bills of lading, or shipping tickets, or copies of War Department shipping documents) to be substituted if such notice will normaly arrive 24 hours prior to arrival of shipment; (ii) if the shipment is "classified," registered mail or registered airmail notice addressed personally to the commanding officer of the consignee establishment and transmitted in double envelopes, or such other method of notice as the contracting officer may specify, shall be used exclusively. A shipment is "classified" within the meaning of this Article if the contracting officer so indicates, or if it is made under a contract marked secret, confidential, or restricted.

§ 803.329 Variation in quantities. In those cases where it is desired to accept over or under deliveries due to manufacturing processes, etc., contracts may contain a clause substantially as follows:

Variation in quantities. Unless otherwise specified, any variation in the quantities herein called for, not exceeding 10 per cent, will be accepted as a compliance with the contract, when caused by conditions of loading, shipping, packing, or allowances in manufacturing processes, and payments shall be adjusted accordingly.

§ 803.329a "Changes" article for supply contracts. In any case where it is desired to include in a supply contract a provision giving the contracting officer in addition to the powers set forth in § 813.1301 (Art. 2) a power by change order (a) to increase or decrease within stated percentage limits the quantity of articles called for by the contract or (b) to accelerate or reduce the rate of delivery of the articles in the quantity called for by the contract, the following article relating to changes may be used instead of the article set forth in § 813.1301 (Art. 2).

Article ____. Changes. The Contracting Officer may at any time, by a written order, and without notice to the sureties make changes of any one or more of the following types:—(a) changes in the directions as to shipment and packing of any supplies; (b) increases or decreases in the quantity of supplies to be furnished hereunder, the total increase or decrease not, however, to exceed ____% of the quantity of supplies deliverable hereunder; (c) changes in the drawings or specifications, where the supplies to be furnished are to be specially manufactured in accordance with drawings and specifications; (d) extensions of the delivery schedules hereunder reducing the rate of deliveries of the supplies called for by this contract; or (e) accelerations of the delivery schedules hereunder by an increase or increases in the rate of deliveries hereunder. Unless consented to in writing by the Contractor, no change orders hereunder of the type mentioned in clause (d) of the preceding sentence shall cause decreases in the deliveries hereunder, and no change orders of the type mentioned in clause (e) of such sentence shall cause increases in the deliveries called for hereunder, amounting respectively in the aggregate in any one month to more than ____% of the quantity of supplies, the delivery of which is called for in such month by the delivery schedule originally contained in this contract. If such changes cause an increase or decrease in the amount of work under this contract or in the cost of performance of this contract or in the time required for its performance an equitable adjustment shall be made which adjustment may include in any instance an adjustment (i) in the purchase price, including (but not limited to) any adjustment in unit price fair in the light of any change in volume caused by such order, and (ii) in the delivery time or schedule, or (iii) in either the price or delivery schedule and the contract shall be modified in writing accordingly. Any claim for adjustment under this article must be asserted within 30 days from the date the change is ordered: Provided, however, That the Contracting Officer, if he determines that the facts justify such action, may receive, consider and adjust any such claims asserted at any time prior to the date of final settlement of the contract. If the parties fail to agree upon the adjustment to be made the dispute shall be determined as provided in Article ____ (Disputes) hereof. But nothing provided in this Article shall excuse the Contractor from proceeding with the contract as changed.

When the article set forth in § 813.1301 (Art. 2) is used, the fourth sentence of the article set out above beginning with the words "Any claim for adjustment • • •" may be used, at the discretion of the Contracting Officer, in lieu of the fourth sentence (beginning with the same words) of the article set forth in § 813.1301 (Art. 2). The provisions of clauses (d) and (e) of the first sentence of the foregoing article, or either of such clauses, may be omitted in the discretion of the Contracting Officer and, in the event of any such omission, the second sentence of the article will either be omitted or appropriately modified.

§ 803.330 Partial payments in amount not to exceed 75 per cent of cost to contractor. In those cases where it is contemplated that partial payments in an amount not to exceed 75 per cent of the cost to the contractor of the property will be made, the contract will contain a clause substantially as follows:

Partial payments. Partial payments, which are hereby defined as payments prior to delivery, on work in progress for the Government under this contract, may be made upon the following terms and conditions.

(a) The Contracting Officer may, from time to time, authorize partial payment to the Contractor upon property acquired or produced by it for the performance of this contract: Provided, That such partial payments shall not exceed 75 per cent of the cost to the Contractor of the property upon which payment is made, which cost shall be determined from evidence submitted by the Contractor and which must be such as is satisfactory to the Contracting Officer: Pro- vided further, That in no event shall the total of unliquidated partial payments (see (c) below) and of unliquidated advance payments, if any, made under this contract, exceed 80 per cent of the total contract price of supplies still to be delivered.

(b) The title to all property upon which any partial payment is made prior to the completion of this contract shall vest in the Government in its then condition forthwith upon the making of any such partial payment or payments: Provided, That nothing herein shall deprive the Contractor of any further partial or final payments due or to become due hereunder; nor relieve the Contractor or the Government of any of their respective rights or obligations under this contract.

(c) In making payment for the supplies furnished hereunder, there shall be deducted from the contract price therefor a proportionate amount of the partial payments theretofore made to the Contractor, under the authority herein contained.

(d) It is recognized that property (including, without limitation, completed supplies, spare parts, drawings, information, partially completed supplies, work in process, materials, fabricated parts and other things called for herein) title to which is or may hereafter become vested in the Government pursuant to this Article will from time to time be used by or be put in the care, custody or possession of the Contractor in connection with the performance of this contract. At the direction or with the approval of the Contracting Officer (whether such direction or approval is given prior to or after the giving of a notice of the termination of this contract for the convenience of the Government), the Contractor shall make reasonable effort to transfer or dispose otherwise of such Government-owned property to such parties and upon such terms and conditions as the Contracting Officer may approve or ratify, or with like approval of the Contracting Officer, the Contractor may retain such property or any of it at a price mutually agreeable. The proceeds of any such transfer or disposition or the agreed price shall be retained by the Contractor and shall be applied in reduction of any payments to be made by the Government to the Contractor under this contract, or shall otherwise be paid or credited to the Government in such manner as the Contracting Officer may direct. No such direction to transfer or dispose of such Government-owned property, given prior to the giving of a notice of termination, shall be binding upon the Contractor unless he consents thereto.

§ 803.331 Partial payments in amount not to exceed 90 percent of direct labor and material cost to contractor. In those cases where it is contemplated that partial payments in an amount not to exceed 90 per cent of the direct labor and material cost to the contractor will be made, the contract will contain a clause substantially as follows:

Partial payments. Partial payments, which are hereby defined as payments prior to delivery, on work in progress for the Government under this contract, may be made upon the following terms and conditions.

(a) The Contracting Officer may, from time to time, authorize partial payments to the Contractor upon property acquired or produced by it for the performance of this contract: Provided, That such partial payments shall not exceed 90 per cent of the direct labor and direct material costs to the Contractor of the property upon which payment is made, which costs shall be determined from evidence submitted by the Contractor and which must be such as is satisfactory to the Contracting Officer; Provided, further, That in no event shall the total of unliquidated partial payments (see (c) below) and of unliquidated advance payments, if any, made under this contract, exceed 80 per cent of the contract price of supplies still to be delivered.

(b) The title to all property upon which any partial payment is made prior to the completion of this contract shall vest in the Government in its then condition forthwith upon the making of any such partial payment or payments: Provided, That nothing herein shall deprive the Contractor of any further partial or final payments due or to become due hereunder; nor relieve the Contractor or the Government of any of their respective rights or obligations under this contract.

(c) In making payment for the supplies furnished hereunder, there shall be deducted from the contract price therefor a proportionate amount of the partial payments theretofore made to the Contractor, under the authority herein contained.

(d) It is recognized that property (including, without limitation, completed supplies, spare parts, drawings, information, partially completed supplies, work in process, materials, fabricated parts and other things called for herein) title to which is or may hereafter become vested in the Government pursuant to this Article will from time to time be used by or be put in the care, custody or possession of the Contractor in connection with the performance of this contract. At the direction or with the approval of the Contracting Officer (whether such direction or approval is given prior to or after the giving of a notice of the termination of this contract for the convenience of the Government), the Contractor shall make reasonable effort to transfer or dispose otherwise of such Government-owned property to such parties and upon such terms and conditions as the Contracting Officer may approve or ratify, or with like approval of the Contracting Officer, the Contractor may retain such property or any of it at a price mutually agreeable. The proceeds of any such transfer or disposition or the agreed price shall be retained by the Contractor and shall be applied in reduction of any payments to be made by the Government to the Contractor under this contract, or shall otherwise be paid or credited to the Government in such manner as the Contracting Officer may direct. No such direction to transfer or dispose of such Government-owned property, given prior to the giving of a notice of termination, shall be binding upon the Contractor unless he consents thereto.

§ 803.331a Amendment of contracts containing partial payments article to include substance of paragraph (d) of § 803.330 or 803.331. Any contract which contains a partial payments article similar to that set forth in either § 803.330 or 803.331 but not containing the substance of subparagraph (d) of such article may be amended to include the substance of such subparagraph (d) in such partial payments article. The addition of such paragraph is considered to be of advantage to the Government as simplifying and expediting the transfer and disposition of property acquired for or used in the performance of a contract and it has been determined that the making of such amendments will facilitate the prosecution of the war. Authority is granted to the chief of each technical service to make or to authorize the making of such amendments pursuant to the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001.

§ 803.332 Government owned facilities. The following article is prescribed for inclusion in fixed or unit price contracts under which the contractor is to acquire or manufacture facilities for the account of the Government or the Government is to furnish facilities to the contractor, for use in connection with the contractor's work under the contract:

Government-owned facilities. (A) In connection with its work under this contract, the contractor shall, within the shortest practicable time, acquire or manufacture for the Government's account the facilities listed in Schedule "A" attached hereto, the estimated costs of which are therein stated. (With the prior written approval of the contracting officer as to their character and estimated costs, the contractor may substitute facilities similar to those listed in Schedule "A", in which event said Schedule will be modified accordingly.[1] Such facilities shall be installed by the contractor in its plant or plants, or, if approved in writing by the contracting officer, in the plants of subcontractors. The contractor shall insert provisions in all subcontracts under which such facilities are furnished to the subcontractors whereby there will be made applicable to the Government and the subcontractors substantially the same rights and obligations in respect to such facilities as are made applicable to the Government and the contractor under this Article.

(B) Upon inspection and acceptance of the facilities by the contracting officer, and upon the contractor's furnishing satisfactory evidence that it has made payment or incurred the costs as the case may be, the Government shall reimburse the contractor for the actual costs of Schedule "A" facilities approved by the contracting officer. The term "actual costs," as used in this Article, means the following:

(1) For facilities procured by the contractor from sources other than its own manufacture:

(a) The net invoice price to it of the facilities;

(b) The costs of transportation: Provided, That no costs of transportation shall be separately reimbursed when the invoice price reimbursed under (1) (a) hereof includes the costs of transportation;

(2) For facilities manufactured by the contractor:

(a) The net invoice price to it of all direct materials required in manufacture;

(b) The costs of transportation: Provided, That no costs of transportation shall be separately reimbursed when the invoice price reimbursed under (2) (a) hereof includes the costs of transportation;

(c) The costs to it of all direct labor required in manufacture;

(d) An amount equal to ——[2] per cent of item (2) (c) hereof as an allowance for all overhead and administrative expenses. The contractor represents, based on experience, that this amount does not include any element of profit, and represents no more than actual costs allocable to manufacture.

[1] In appropriate cases the following language may be used in lieu of the sentence in the text enclosed in parentheses:

With the prior written approval of the contracting officer as to their character and estimated costs, the contractor may substitute facilities similar to those listed in Schedule "A", or the contractor may add additional facilities thereto, in which event said Schedule will be modified accordingly: Provided, however, That the actual costs reimbursed to the contractor pursuant to paragraph (B) below, for facilities listed in Schedule "A" or such similar facilities as the contractor may substitute therefor and such additional facilities as the contractor may add thereto, shall not exceed the sum of $----------

[2] Insert a number or the word "no".

The contractor shall install all Schedule "A" facilities at no expense to the Government in addition to the contract price.[3]

(C) In the event the contracting officer shall determine, at any time prior to installation of any item of Schedule "A" facilities, that such item is not reasonably necessary for the performance of this contract, or any other contract for the performance of which the use of that item has been authorized pursuant to paragraph (E) (2), within the time allowed for such performance, he may by written order exercise one of the following options with respect to that item:

(1) If the contractor has made no binding commitment and incurred no expense therefor of a kind reimbursable hereunder as an actual cost: The contracting officer may eliminate the item from Schedule "A" and the Government shall be relieved of any liability therefor.

(2) If the contractor has made a binding commitment or incurred expense therefor of a kind reimbursable hereunder as an actual cost: The contracting officer may direct the contractor to stop all further work and the making of all further commitments thereon and eliminate the item from Schedule "A". In that event the contractor and the contracting officer will attempt to agree on an amount which will reasonably compensate the contractor for the actual cost incurred by him with regard to such eliminated item. If no such agreement is reached within thirty (30) days after the date of elimination (or within such longer period as may at any time be mutually agreed upon), the contractor will be paid an amount, if any, which together with all sums previously paid by the Government on account of the item, shall be sufficient to reimburse the contractor for expenses paid and the settlement of any obligation incurred by the contractor thereon. In lieu of reimbursing the contractor for the settlement of obligations, the Government, in the discretion of the contracting officer, may assume such obligations or any of them. In no event shall the aggregate of reimbursement on account of the item (and of all payments previously made) together with the amount of any obligations assumed, exceed the actual costs, as herein defined, expended or incurred thereon up to the time of such elimination. The contracting officer may permit the contractor to sell or retain at prices or on terms agreed to by the Government any materials, supplies, or work in process, and the proceeds of such sale, or such agreed prices, shall be paid or credited to the Government in such manner as the contracting officer may direct. Upon payment to the contractor pursuant to this subparagraph (2), title to all materials, supplies, work in process and other things for which payment is made (except such property as may be sold or retained as above provided) will vest in the Government (if title thereto has not already vested in the Government). The Government will also become entitled to any rights under any commitment which it may assume, or for the settlement of which it shall have reimbursed the contractor.

(3) The contracting officer may direct the diversion of the item, when it shall have been acquired or its manufacture shall have been completed, to the Government or to any person designated by the contracting officer. In that event the Government shall reimburse the contractor for the actual costs of the item in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (B) hereof, with appropriate adjustment in the amount of reimbursable transportation costs. Upon diversion, the item will be eliminated from Schedule "A".

The determination of the contracting officer that an item of Schedule "A" facilities is not reasonably necessary for the performance of this contract, or any other contract for the performance of which the use of that item has been authorized pursuant to paragraph (E) (2), within the time authorized for such performance, is subject to written appeal by the contractor within ten (10) days to ---------- or his duly authorized representative, whose decision thereon shall be final and conclusive upon the parties hereto. Pending this decision, the contracting officer shall not exercise any of the above options.

(D) Except with the prior written approval of the contracting officer for each such purchase, the contractor will not purhase any Schedule "A" facilities in which it had any property interest at any time after the commencement of negotiations for this contract.

(E) (1) Title to each item of Schedule "A" facilities shall vest in the Government immediately upon inspection and acceptance thereof by the contracting officer, or at such earlier time as the contracting officer may designate in writing. Such facilities shall be deemed personal property although they may be affixed to realty.

(2) The Government hereby grants to the contractor the right to use Schedule "A" facilities, without the payment of rental therefor, in connection with its work under this contract, and, subject to the written approval of the contracting officer and upon such terms as he may prescribe, in connection with any other work for which the Government and the contractor may heretofore have contracted, or may hereafter contract. (Where the Government, pursuant to this paragraph (E) (2), has granted to the contractor the right to use Schedule "A" facilities in connection with its work on any contract other than the contract of which this Article is a part, the contractor shall at any time, upon the request of the contracting officer, enter into suitable amendments of this Article or suitable separate agreements of lease of the facilities evidencing the terms upon which the facilities are then held.)

(F) (1) The contractor shall not be liable for loss or destruction of or damage to Schedule "A" facilities title to which has vested in the Government (a) caused by any peril while the facilities are in transit off the contractor's premises, or (b) caused by any of the following perils while the facilities are on the contractor's or subcontractor's or other premises or by removal therefrom because of any of the following perils:

Fire; lightning; windstorm, cyclone, tornado; hail; explosion; riot, riot attending a strike, civil commotion; vandalism and malicious mischief; aircraft or objects falling therefrom; vehicles running on land or tracks, excluding vehicles owned or operated by the contractor or any agent or employee of the contractor; smoke; sprinkler leakage; earthquake or volcanic eruption; flood, meaning thereby rising of rivers or streams; enemy attack or any action taken by the military, naval or air forces of the United States in resisting enemy attack.

The perils as set forth in (a) and (b) above are hereinafter called "excepted perils."

(2) The contractor represents that it is not maintaining and agrees that it will not hereafter maintain insurance (including self-insurance funds or reserves) covering loss or destruction of or damage to Schedule "A" facilities caused by any excepted peril, and represents that it is not including and agrees that it will not hereafter include in any price to the Government any charge or reserve for such insurance.

(3) Upon the happening of loss or destruction of or damage to Schedule "A" facilities caused by an excepted peril, the contractor shall communicate with the contracting officer and with the Loss and Salvage Organization now or hereafter designated by the contracting officer and, with the assistance of that organization employed by the contractor to perform services in accordance with instructions or regulations of the Government (unless the contracting officer directs that no such organization be employed), shall take all reasonable steps to protect the facilities from further damage, separate the damaged and undamaged facilities, put all the facilities in the best possible order, and furnish to the contracting officer a statement of: (a) the lost, destroyed and damaged facilities, (b) the time and origin of the loss, destruction or damage, (c) all known interests in commingled property of which the facilities are a part, and (d) the insurance, if any, covering any part of or interest in such commingled property. If and as directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall make repairs and renovations of the damaged facilities.[4] The contractor shall be reimbursed the expenditures made by it in performing its obligations under this subparagraph (3) (including charges made to the contractor by the Loss and Salvage Organization, except any of such charges the payment of which the Government has, at its option, assumed direct), as approved by the contracting officer and set forth in a Supplemental Agreement.

(4) With the approval of the contracting officer after loss or destruction of or damage to Schedule "A" facilities, and subject to such conditions and limitations as may be imposed by the contracting officer, the contractor may, in order to minimize the loss to the Government or in order to permit resumption of business or the like, sell for the account of the Government any item of facilities which has been damaged beyond practicable repair, or which is so commingled or combined with property of others, including the contractor, that separation is impracticable.

(5) Except to the extent of any loss or destruction of or damage to Schedule "A" facilities for which the contractor is relieved of liability under the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (F), and except for reasonable wear and tear or depreciation, the facilities (other than facilities permitted to be sold) shall be returned by the contractor to the Government, or delivered by the contractor to any designee of the Government (at the time elsewhere in this Article provided) in as good condition as when received by the contractor in connection with this contract. In aid of its obligation so to return the facilities, the contractor shall, at its own expense, maintain a program for the proper use, care and maintenance of the [3] If costs of installation are to be reimbursed to the contractor, delete this sentence and substitute the following:

"(3) For the installation of facilities acquired or manufactured hereunder, when effected by the servants, agents or employees of the contractor:

"(a) The net invoice price to it of all direct materials required for installation;

"(b) The costs of transportation: Provided, That no costs of transportation shall be separately reimbursed when the invoice price reimbursed under (3) (a) hereof includes the costs of transportation;

"(c) The costs to it of all direct labor required for installation;

"(d) An amount equal to —— [insert a number or the word "no"] per cent of item (3) (c) hereof as an allowance for overhead and administrative expenses. The contractor represents, based on experience, that this amount does not include any element of profit, and represents no more than actual costs allocable to installation.

"(4) For the installation of facilities acquired or manufactured hereunder, when effected by persons other than the servants, agents or employees of the contractor:

"(a) The net invoice price to it of the installation."

[4] Italicized language may be omitted in appropriate cases.

facilities, as well as a property control and accounting system consistent with good business practice, and make repairs and replacements.

(6) In the event the contractor is indemnified, reimbursed or compensated for any loss or destruction of or damage to Schedule "A" facilities caused by an excepted peril, it shall equitably reimburse the Government. The contractor shall do nothing to prejudice the Government's rights to recover against third parties for any such loss, destruction or damage and, upon the request of the contracting officer, shall at the Government's expense, furnish to the Government all reasonable assistance and cooperation (including the prosecution of suit and the execution of instruments of assignment in favor of the Government) in obtaining recovery.

(7) Whenever any item of Schedule "A" facilities has become unserviceable (whether under circumstances which do or which do not render the contractor liable hereunder), the contractor shall notify the contracting officer, and it may then be required by the contracting officer to dismantle and prepare the item for shipment at no expense to the Government in addition to the contract price, whereupon the item shall be removed promptly by the Government at the Government's expense.

(G) Each item of Schedule "A" facilities shall be suitably marked with an identifying mark or symbol, indicating that such item is the property of the Government. Upon completion of the installation of such facilities, the contractor shall submit to the contracting officer a detailed inventory list including a description of the identifying mark or symbol on each item.

(H) The Government shall not be responsible for damages to property of the contractor or for personal injuries to the contractor's officers, agents, servants or employees, or other persons on the premises as invitees or licensees of the contractor, arising from or incident to the use of Schedule "A" facilities, and the contractor shall save the Government harmless from any and all such claims; provided, that nothing in this paragraph shall be deemed to affect any liability of the Government to its own employees.

(I) The Government shall at all times have access to the premises wherein any Schedule "A" facilities are located.

(J) Except as otherwise in this Article specifically provided, the contractor shall not remove or otherwise part with the possession of any Schedule "A" facilities. The contractor shall not pledge or assign, or transfer or purport to transfer title to any of such facilities in any manner to any third person, either directly or indirectly, nor do or suffer anything to be done whereby any of such facilities shall or may be seized, taken in execution, attached, destroyed or injured. Any violation of the provisions of this paragraph or of paragraph (F) hereof shall entitle the Government forthwith to enter upon the premises wherein such facilities are found and remove the same.

(K) In the event the contracting officer shall determine, at any time after installation of any item of Schedule "A" facilities, that the item is not reasonably necessary for the performance of this contract or any other contract for the performance of which the use of such facilities has been authorized, he may serve on the contractor a written notice of his intention to remove such item. This determination is subject to written appeal by the contractor within ten (10) days to ---------- or his duly (Chief of the Technical Service) authorized representative, whose decision shall be final and conclusive upon the parties hereto. Pending this decision, the facilities shall remain in the contractor's plant available for use. At any time within one year after completion or termination in which or in part of such contracts, the contracting officer may serve on the contractor a written notice of his intention to remove all the Schedule "A" facilities or any portion thereof. Within the shortest practicable time after service of a notice under this paragraph (K), and in no event later than fifteen days thereafter (unless a longer time is allowed by the contracting officer), the contractor, at no expense to the Government in addition to the contract price, will have dismantled and prepared for shipment the items affected. Upon notification from the contractor that the items are ready for shipment, the Government shall remove them at the Government's expense.

(L) If, upon the completion or termination of this contract or any other contract entered into between the Government and the contractor for the performance of which the use of Schedule "A" facilities has been authorized, no notice pursuant to paragraph (K) of intention to remove an item has been received, the contractor shall, at no expense to the Government in addition to the contract price, place the item in stand-by condition, and thereafter maintain it in such condition in its own plant for a period of ninety (90) days from the date of such completion or termination (unless a notice pursuant to paragraph (K) is received in the meantime). In lieu of placing the item in stand-by condition and maintaining it in its own plant, the contractor may store the same elsewhere at its own expense provided that the item can be quickly and readily reinstalled in the production line and production resumed within a reasonable time if necessary in the interest of the Government.

(M) Unless a notice pursuant to paragraph (K) is sooner received, the contractor shall, for a period of nine (9) months after completion of the stand-by period, store the items affected as follows:

(1) In the plant where the items are then located, or in the contractor's other plants in the same locality, if space is available thereat and storage will not materially impair the use of the plant or plants for the contractor's Government or commercial work; or

(2) If space is not available at such plant or plants or storage thereat will materially impair their use by the contractor, then at any other place or places in the vicinity selected by the contractor which are considered satisfactory by the contracting officer. However, the contractor's obligation to store under this subparagraph (2) shall cease if such other place or places cannot be obtained by the contractor, unless the Government shall itself find and designate a place or places of storage.

At the time the items are placed in storage, whether in the contractor's plant or elsewhere, the parties shall attempt to negotiate a Supplemental Agreement to this contract providing for payment to the contractor of a sum or sums agreed upon as representing the reasonable expenses of placing and maintaining the items in storage. In the absence of such agreement, the contractor shall be entitled to receive payment, under this contract, of such reasonable expenses. The contractor's obligation in respect to storage shall be contingent upon the availability of appropriated funds for payment of such reasonable expenses, and if appropriated funds are not available, the contractor shall be under no such obligation. The items affected shall have been dismantled and prepared for shipment, at no expense to the Government in addition to the contract price, within fifteen days after the expiration of the storage period, or, if no storage obligation arises, then within fifteen days after the expiration of the stand-by period (unless a longer time is allowed by the contracting officer). Upon notification from the contractor that the items are ready for shipment, the Government shall remove them at the Government's expense.

(N) The ninety (90) day stand-by period, and the nine (9) month storage period, may be eliminated, shortened or lengthened by agreement of the parties on mutually agreeable terms.

(O) [4] The Government reserves the right to furnish to the contractor f. o. b. the contractor's plant any or all the items of Schedule "A" facilities upon written notice by the contracting officer to the contractor at any time prior to the installation of such items. In such event the contracting officer shall exercise the option described in paragraph (C) (1) or (C) (2) with respect to the item, eliminate it from Schedule "A", and place it on the list of Schedule "B" facilities hereinafter provided for.

(P) [5] The Government shall furnish to the contractor f. o. b. the contractor's plant, the Government-owned facilities listed in Schedule "B" attached hereto, not later than the dates shown thereon. Subject to the right of the contractor to inspect and reject Schedule "B" facilities for good and sufficient reason prior to shipment, the contractor shall receive the same in their then condition, without warranty express or implied on the part of the Government as to serviceability or fitness for use. The contractor shall bear the costs of installation of such facilities.[6] Schedule "B" facilities shall be held by the contractor and considered and treated in the same manner as Schedule "A" facilities under and pursuant to [7] paragraphs (E) (2) and (F) to (N) inclusive of this article.

(Q) [8] The contractor has in its possession, installed and ready for use under this contract, the facilities listed in Schedule "C", title to which is in the Government. Such facilities shall be held by the contractor and considered and treated in the same manner as Schedule "A" facilities under and pursuant to paragraphs (E) (2) and (F) to (N) inclusive of this article. Any previous agreement to the contrary is hereby modified accordingly.

NOTE 1: See §§ 803.365 (a-1), 804.451 (a), 804.498 and 807.723, and Part 810.

NOTE 2: Where it is determined that a rental should be charged (see § 810.1002) paragraph (E) (2) of the article should be appropriately modified.

NOTE 3: Attention is invited to the fact that Government bills of lading (or commercial bills of lading to be converted into Government bills of lading at destination) may be availed of to secure the benefits of land grant freight rates where title to the facilities or parts thereof is in the Government at point of origin (see paragraphs (E) (1) and (B)).

NOTE 4: In cases where facilities are hereafter to be acquired or manufactured by, or furnished by the Government to, a contractor, a clause may be included granting an option to the contractor to purchase the facilities, provided the chief of the technical service finds that such action will be in the interest of the Government. (The power to make this finding is not subject to delegation by the chief of the technical service, unless the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, specifically authorizes a delegation.) In such cases, unless otherwise authorized by the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, the option will contain the following features:

[4] Delete if inapplicable.

[5] If such costs are to reimbursed to the contractor, make appropriate changes (see paragraphs (B) (3) (a) (c) (d) and (B) (4) (a) above).

[6] Insert "subparagraphs (1) and (3 of paragraph (C) and" if contractor is to be reimbursed the costs of installation of Schedule "B" facilities.

(i) The option will come into effect only upon the date of expiration of the standby-plus-storage period, and will cover all, but not part, of, the facilities as to which a standby obligation arose and as to which no notice under paragraph (K) of intention to remove has been served upon the contractor during the standby-plus-storage standby period.

(ii) The option period will extend for not more than fifteen days after the date specified in Note 4 (i).

(iii) The option price will be the full cost of the facilities to the Government (including transportation and installation charges) less specified rates of depreciation, plus storage charges incurred under paragraph (M).

NOTE 5: Amendments may be made of existing contracts, substituting the article above set forth (or pertinent portions thereof) for provisions regarding Government-owned facilities now appearing in such contracts, subject to the following:

(i) Uniformity of treatment is considered essential. Accordingly, authority to make these amendments will not be exercised until the technical service concerned apprises all its contractors holding Government-owned facilities of the promulgation of the article above set forth and specifically informs them that they may negotiate with the Government for amendment of their contracts.

(ii) Government negotiators must recognize that contractors will typically derive substantial benefits from these amendments. For example, under the article above set forth the standby period is ninety days and storage is at Government expense, while under the article previously authorized the standby period was one year, and storage expenses were not chargeable to the Government. In general, the article above set forth facilitates the conversion of plants. Accordingly, amendments of existing contracts will be permitted only where the Government receives material and adequate consideration, measured by any difference in value to the contractor between the superseded article and the article inserted by amendment.

(iii) Except with the approval of the chief of the technical service concerned, no amendment will be permitted of an existing Government-owned facilities article which includes a purchase option, unless, as part of the amendment, the purchase option is modified to include the features mentioned in Note 4 (i), (ii) and (iii) above. (The power to give such approval is not subject to delegation by the chief of the technical service, unless the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, specifically authorizes a delegation.) The approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will be obtained before any existing Government-owned facilities article which does not include a purchase option, is amended to grant such option.

(iv) The technical services will maintain close supervision of all amendments under this Note 5 and will require adequate records to be prepared and preserved of the negotiations leading to the amendments.

NOTE 6: In the event that the facilities are located in an area outside the United States, where the services of the Loss and Salvage Organizations and not available, the following clause will be used in lieu of paragraph (F) (3) above:

"Upon the happening of loss or destruction of or damage to Schedule "A" facilities caused by an excepted peril, the contractor shall communicate with the contracting officer, shall take all reasonable steps to protect the facilities from further damage, separate the damaged and undamaged facilities, put all the facilities in the best possible order, and furnish to the contracting officer a statement of: (a) the lost, destroyed and damaged facilities, (b) the time and origin of the loss, destruction or damage, (c) all known interests in commingled property of which the facilities are a part, and (d) the insurance, if any, covering any part of or interest in such commingled property. If and as directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall make repairs and renovations of the damaged facilities. [Italicized words may be omitted in appropriate cases.] The contractor shall be reimbursed the expenditures made by it in performing its obligations under this subparagraph (3) as approved by the contracting officer and set forth in a Supplemental Agreement."

§ 803.334 Records of Government-owned property. All contracts, in connection with which property or supplies of any kind owned by the United States are furnished to a contractor for use on the contract or as guides, samples, etc., will contain the following clause without deviation:

Record of Government-owned property. The Property Officer, ----------, is designated as the officer to maintain the necessary property records in connection with this contract, as contemplated by AR 35-6520.

§ 803.335 Patent risks—(a) Applicable statutes. The act of June 25, 1910, as amended (35 U.S.C. 68, 94) provides that whenever an invention covered by a patent of the United States is without license used or manufactured by the United States, or by any person, firm or corporation for and with the authorization and consent of the United States, the patent owner's remedy shall (except in certain cases) be by suit against the United States in the Court of Claims for recovery of his reasonable and entire compensation for such use or manufacture. The provision of paragraphs (b) to (h), inclusive, relate to the contract articles which, as between the Government and the contractor, allocate the ultimate risks created by the above statute and provide for matters cognate thereto.

(b) Policy in regard to patent risks. The policy of the War Department in regard to the allocation of ultimate risk of patent infringement liability is summarized as follows:

(1) Whether the Government will accept all patent infringement risks, or require the contractor to indemnify the Government against all or some part of those risks, depends in every case on the nature of the particular item to be supplied. Where a contract calls for the supply of several items the risk may be allocated in one manner as to some items and in a different manner as to other items.

(2) Some items are in all respects made to the contractor's own specifications, or are standard commercial items of a type regularly dealt in as such by the contractor, and are not made to Government-furnished specifications in any material respect. In the procurement of such items the War Department will normally require the contractor to indemnify the Government against all patent infringement risks involved therein. For this purpose the contract will normally contain the contract article set forth in paragraph (d) below. It may, in addition, contain the contract article set forth in paragraph (f).

(3) Other items are, from the standpoint of structure or composition, in part made as described in subparagraph (2) above and in some other part made to meet Government-furnished specifications. In the procurement of such items the War Department will normally require the contractor to indemnify the Government against all patent infringement risks involved therein except those which necessarily result from the contractor's compliance with specifications or provisions forming a part of the contract or with specific written instructions given by the contracting officer for the purpose of directing the manner of performance under the contract. For this purpose the contract will normally contain the contract article set forth in paragraph (e) below and, in addition, the contract article set forth in paragraph (f).

(4) Other items are in all respects made to meet Government-furnished specifications, or are in every substantial respect different from any item which has ever regularly been dealt in as a standard commercial item by the particular contractor, and are not made to the contractor's own specifications in any material respect. In the procurement of such items the War Department will normally not require the contractor to indemnify the Government against any part of the patent infringement risks involved therein. For this purpose the contract will normally contain the contract article set forth in paragraph (f), and normally will not contain either of the contract articles set forth in paragraphs (d) and (e).

(5) In every contract where there is reason to believe that the manufacture, use or disposal of any of the items to be supplied will create risk of patent infringement (and without regard to whether the contract contains either of the indemnity clauses of paragraphs (d) or (e), or no indemnity clause), or may involve the payment of royalties, the contract will normally contain the contract article set forth in paragraph (f) which specifies the conditions under which the Government's authorization and consent is to be given, and provides for assistance in discovering patent liabilities and for securing to the Government the benefit of royalty reductions.

(6) Provision whereby the contractor agrees to indemnify the Government against all or any of the patent infringement risks involved may be included in or omitted from any particular contract or specified class of contracts where, within the discretion of the chief of the technical service concerned (see paragraph (c) below), such action is necessary or appropriate to facilitate procurement.

(7) Where the giving of bond in support of the contractor's indemnity obligation is deemed necessary, the contract will normally contain the contract article set forth in paragraph (g) below.

(c) Discretion of the chiefs of technical services. In executing the policy stated in paragraph (b), the chief of each technical service shall have the following authority:

(1) He may issue such instructions for the guidance of his service as may be appropriate to effectuate the policy stated above.

(2) He may, in particular contracts or specified classes of contracts, authorize deviations from the policy, or the omission or alteration of any of the contract articles set forth in paragraphs (d) to (g), inclusive, whenever in his judgment such action is necessary or appropriate to facilitate procurement.

(3) He may redelegate the powers granted to him under this section to the chief legal officer and to the chief patent officer in the headquarters of his service, except that the Commanding General, Army Air Forces may redelegate such power to any officer within the headquarters of the Army Air Forces and within the headquarters of any of the major commands of the Army Air Forces.

(d) Indemnity against patent risks (broad form). Where it is proper to require the contractor to indemnify the Government against all patent infringement risks, the appropriate contract article is as follows:

ARTICLE TWO. Patent indemnity. The Contractor agrees to indemnify the Government, its officers, agents, servants and employees, against liability including costs and expenses for infringement upon any Letters Patent of the United States (except Letters Patent issued upon an application which is now or may hereafter be ordered to be kept secret under the provisions of the Act of October 6, 1917, as amended, 35 U.S.C. 42) occurring in the performance of this contract or in the use or disposal by or for the Government of any article or thing whose delivery the Government accepts under this contract.

(e) Indemnity against patent risks (narrow form). Where it is proper to require the contractor to indemnify the Government against all patent infringement risks except those which necessarily result from the contractor's compliance with specifications or provisions forming a part of the contract, or specific written instructions given by the contracting officer for the purpose of directing the manner of performance thereof, the appropriate contract article is as follows:

ARTICLE ----- Patent indemnity. (a) The Contractor agrees to indemnify the Government, its officers, agents, servants and employees, against liability including costs and expenses for infringement upon any Letters Patent of the United States (except Letters Patent issued upon an application which is now or may hereafter be ordered to be kept secret under the provisions of the Act of October 6, 1917, as amended, 35 U. S. C. 42) occurring in the performance of this contract or in the use or disposal by or for the Government of any article or thing whose delivery the Government accepts under this contract, excepting however infringement necessarily resulting from the Contractor's compliance with specifications or provisions now or hereafter forming a part of this contract or with specific written instructions given by the Contracting Officer for the purpose of directing the manner in which the Contractor shall perform this contract.

(b) The Contractor shall diligently and promptly report to the Contracting Officer in reasonable written detail (i) each claim of patent infringement asserted with respect to, and (ii) the identity and apparent pertinence of each adversely-held domestic patent having a bearing or apparent bearing upon, the subject-matter or performance of this contract which has heretofore or shall hereafter prior to final settlement come to the attention of the Contractor's legal representatives or executive agents.

(c) In case the rates or amounts of any royalties, which are directly or indirectly chargeable to the Government under this contract, are adjusted pursuant to the provisions of the Royalty Adjustment Act 1942 (Public No. 768, 77th Cong.; 35 U.S.C. 89) or in any other manner, the prices herein shall be reduced to the extent that the Contractor receives the benefit of such adjustment of royalties, or fails to take the benefit thereof after the Government has given the Contractor notice in writing not to make the payment involved, and the Contractor shall pay or credit, as the Contracting Officer may direct, the amount of such price reduction. Nothing contained in this contract shall be deemed to constitute an approval by the Government of the rates or amounts of any royalties chargeable to the Government hereunder, or to prejudice or impair the right of the Government or any department or agency thereof to adjust the rate or amount of such royalties.

Attention is directed to the fact that clause (b) of the foregoing article is a duplicate of clause (b) of the contract article set forth in paragraph (e) above. If the contract articles set forth in this paragraph and in paragraph (e) are both used in the same contract the duplicating provision of (f) should be eliminated.

(g) Indemnity bond. Where the giving of bond in support of the contractor's indemnity obligation is deemed necessary, the appropriate contract article is as follows:

ARTICLE ----- Indemnity bond. The Contractor shall give a bond in an amount satisfactory to the United States, the terms of which shall fully protect the Government against loss should the Contractor default in any patent indemnity obligation herein set forth.

(h) Counter-indemnity. No provision whereby the Government expressly agrees to indemnify the contractor against liability for patent infringement shall be included in any contract except with the express written approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces; but the foregoing does not apply to the use of contract articles, such as that set forth in paragraph (f), specifying the conditions under which the Government's authorization and consent is to be given.

§ 803.336 Disclosure of information. All secret, confidential or restricted contracts will contain the following clause without deviation:

Disclosure of information. (a) It is understood that disclosure of information relating to the work contracted for hereunder to any person not entitled to receive it, or failure to safeguard all secret, confidential and restricted matter that may come to the Contractor or any person under his control in connection with the work under this contract, may subject the Contractor, his agents, employees, and subcontractors to criminal liability under the laws of the United States. See Title 1 of an Act approved June 15, 1917 (40 Stat. 217; 50 U.S.C. 31–42) as amended by an Act approved March 28, 1940 (54 Stat. 79); and the provisions of an Act approved Jan. 12, 1938 (52 Stat. 3; 50 U.S.C. 45–45d, as supplemented by Executive Order No. 8381, dated March 22, 1940, 5 F.R. 1147.

(b) The Contractor shall cause a like provision to be inserted in all subcontracts under this contract.

§ 803.337 Employment of aliens. All secret, confidential or restricted contracts will contain the following clause without deviation:

Employment of aliens. The Contractor will not permit any alien employed or to be employed by it or by any sub-bidder or subcontractor to have access to the drawings, specifications and accompanying enclosures relating to the performance of this contract, or to the models or material referred to therein, or to engineering principles, composition, subassemblies, or assemblies which are vital to the functioning or use of the article or articles forming the subject matter of this contract, without the written consent beforehand of the Secretary of War.

With respect to any secret, confidential or restricted contract, now in effect and not completely performed, which contains a provision with respect to the employment of aliens, in a different form from that herein prescribed, the chiefs of technical services concerned will take steps, where they deem it necessary to do so, to amend such provision by substituting therefor the clause herein prescribed.

(a) Employment of aliens in connection with contracts for aircraft, aircraft parts or aeronautical accessories. All secret, confidential or restricted contracts which are also subject to the act approved July 2, 1926, as amended March 3, 1927, section 10 (j)–(p); 10 U.S.C. 310 (j)–(p), relating to the employment of aliens in connection with contracts for furnishing or constructing aircraft, aircraft parts or aeronautical accessories for the United States may also contain such reference to that act or its provisions as the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, deems appropriate.

§ 803.338 Plant protection clause. In those cases where the contracting officer deems it necessary to retain some control as to the plant protective devices in a particular plant, the contract will contain a clause substantially similar to one of those set forth below. Such a clause will not normally be necessary in construction contracts.

Plant protection. The Contractor shall maintain in and about his plant adequate plant protective devices and shall employ such watchmen, guards and other personnel as the Contracting Officer may deem necessary to prevent espionage, sabotage, and other malicious destruction or damage.

Plant protection. The Contractor shall maintain in and about his plant adequate plant protective devices and shall employ such watchmen, guards and other personnel as the Contracting Officer may deem necessary to prevent espionage, sabotage, and other malicious destruction or damage. If the Contracting Officer from time to time shall require the installation of plant protective devices or the employment of watchmen, guards or other personnel, or both, in addition to those deemed necessary by him on the date the Contractor shall commence performance of this contract, the cost of any such devices installed or the pay of any such personnel employed, or both, at the written request and upon the written authorization of the Contracting Officer, shall be reimbursed to the Contractor upon submission of vouchers approved by the Contracting Officer, provided that no reimbursement of the cost of any such installation or pay of any such personnel, or both, shall be made in excess of the cost thereof, as estimated in advance and approved in writing by the Contracting Officer.[1]

Plant protection. (a) The Contractor and each Subcontractor, at his own expense, at all times during the term of this contract, or any subcontract hereunder, shall continue all such precautions for the guarding and protection of his plant, property and work in process, as immediately prior to the date of this contract have been taken by the Contractor or Subcontractor for the protection of the plant, and shall make available such information with respect thereto as the Contracting Officer may request.

(b) The Contractor agrees to furnish the authorized Security and Safety personnel of the War Department with a survey of the existing internal security system at the Contractor's plant. The Contractor agrees, at his own expense, to make the changes set forth in Appendix . . . hereto annexed and made a part hereof to cause his existing internal security system to comply with the regulations of ----------
including the recommendations made by the appropriate War Department Internal Security personnel

(c) At any time during the term of this contract, the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative may require the Contractor or Subcontractor to install and maintain in and about the plant additional protective devices, equipment and personnel. The Contractor and each Subcontractor shall submit promptly to the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative, for prior approval as to estimated cost, detailed inventories, including the estimated cost of each item of protective devices or equipment so required to be installed and of installing the same and a detailed estimate of the cost of maintaining such additional protective devices or equipment and personnel.

(d) The Contractor or Subcontractor shall be reimbursed upon the submission of a voucher approved by the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, for the cost of maintaining such additional personnel as may have been required under paragraph (c) hereof, and the Contractor shall be reimbursed also for all payments made by it to Subcontractors pursuant to paragraph (h) hereof. The Contractor or Subcontractor shall be reimbursed, upon the submission of a voucher approved by the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative, the invoice price of the additional plant protective devices or equipment so required pursuant to Paragraph (c) hereof. In addition the Contractor or Subcontractor shall be reimbursed the reasonable cost of installing such additional plant protective devices or equipment. Such reasonable cost shall include only transportation to the Contractor's or Subcontractor's plant, direct labor, and direct material necessary for the installation of the additional plant protective devices or equipment. The Government shall not be under obligation to make reimbursement of total cost of such additional plant protective devices or equipment and of installing the same in excess of the estimate approved in advance by the Contracting Officer unless payment of such excess shall be approved or ratified by the Contracting Officer as reasonable. If the Contracting Officer and the Contractor or Subcontractor, as the case may be, are able to agree upon the amount of the cost of such additional devices or equipment, such sum shall be the amount to be reimbursed hereunder.

(e) Title to all plant protective devices and equipment added under Paragraph (c) of this Article shall be in the Government. The Contractor or Subcontractor, during the term of this contract or any extension thereof or during the term of the Subcontract or any extension thereof, at his own expense, shall maintain and keep in good condition and repair all such protective devices and equipment. If such protective devices and equipment are to be installed on premises leased by the Contractor, the Contractor shall take appropriate steps to preserve the Government's right to remove such property pursuant to Paragraph (g) of this Article.

or his duly authorized representative, and authorized plant protection personnel of the War Department, at all times during the performance of this Contract or any extension thereof, or during the term of the Subcontract or any extension thereof, and until after expiration of the right of removal set forth below, shall have access to the Contractor's plant, or the plant of the Subcontractor, in order to inspect, inventory, or remove any of said plant protective devices or equipment required pursuant to Paragraph (c) hereof, and to inspect the premises with respect to compliance with all regulations and requirements concerning plant protection, including any recommendations made by the appropriate War Department Internal Security personnel.

(g) After the completion or termination of this contract and prior to final settlement thereof, the Contractor, or the Subcontractor, as the case may be, shall have the option, exercisable in writing, to purchase at the then value as fixed by the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, any special plant protective devices or equipment theretofore installed in his plant pursuant to Paragraph (c). Not later than the date of final settlement, the Contractor or Subcontractor shall notify the Contracting Officer in writing to remove any such devices or equipment as to which the option to purchase is not to be exercised, and the Government shall have the right, at any time within 180 days after the receipt of such notice, to remove at its own expense any such plant protective devices or equipment.

(h) The Contractor agrees to insert in each of his subcontracts the following provision:

"The Subcontractor agrees to be bound by the provisions of Article -------- of the prime contract with the Government insofar as they are applicable to this contract. The Prime Contractor will reimburse the Subcontractor for the cost of such special devices, equipment and personnel as have been or hereafter may be added by the Subcontractor, pursuant to Paragraph (c) of Article --------, for which reimbursement has not been made by the Government direct to the Subcontractor according to the terms set forth in Paragraph (d) of Article --------"

(i) For the purpose of this Article, a subcontract is defined as any contract or agreement entered into between the Contractor and any other party, for the performance of all or any part of the work called for under this Contract.

(j) The Contractor, upon the request of the Contracting Officer, shall dismiss any officer or employees whose continued employment is deemed by the Contracting Officer to endanger the safety of the plant. In the event any such officer or employee is reinstated upon request of the Contracting Officer, the Contractor shall be reimbursed the costs incident to such rehiring, including back wages approved by the Contracting Officer.

(k) If guard personnel are members of the Civilian Auxiliary to the Military Police or successor organization, the Contractor shall be reimbursed for such additional cost approved by the Contracting Officer as may be incurred because of compliance with regulations and orders issued by a military commanding officer in charge of the Contractor's plant guards.

§ 803.339 Price adjustment for increase of freight rates. In appropriate cases, contracts will contain a clause substantially as follows:

Price adjustment for increase in freight rates. If after the date of the bid, or in the case of a contract not entered into pursuant to a bid after the date of the award, the Interstate Commerce Commission shall authorize an increase in freight rates upon the materials set out below, which are used in the production of the supplies covered by this contract, and if the contractor is required to pay increased freight rates on such materials (either by payment to the carrier or because the increased freight charges are added to the price paid by the contractor for the materials) in order to perform the contract, the prices named herein will be increased accordingly, and the amount due the contractor as a result of such increase will be charged to the Government and entered on vouchers (or invoices) as a separate item: Provided, That the contractor shall not be entitled to receive payment for any such increase unless he submits such evidence as may be required by the contracting officer with respect to the increased freight charges borne by the contractor: And provided further, That the contractor shall not be entitled to receive payment for any such increase to the extent that such payment may be inconsistent with any applicable maximum price regulations issued by the Office of Price Administration or other lawful authority.

[1] If desired an additional proviso may be added, reading substantially as follows:
Provided further that no reimbursement of the cost of any such installation or pay of any such personnel is being made to the contractor by other means.

§ 803.340 Clauses for rental of gas cylinders. Every contract for the rental of gas cylinders will contain a clause substantially similar to one of the following:

Rental of gas cylinders (individual basis). Cylinders shall remain the property of the contractor and will be loaned, without charge, to the Government for a period of 30 days after the date of shipment of cylinders from the contractor's plant. Beginning with the first day after the expiration of the 30-day free loan period to and including the day the cylinders are released to the transportation company for return to the contractor, there will be charged and the United States agrees to pay the contractor a rental at the rate of $_____ per cylinder per day for the use of cylinders not returned to the contractor.

Rental of gas cylinders (quantity basis). Cylinders shall remain the property of the contractor and will be loaned, without charge, to the Government for a period of 30 days after the date of shipment of cylinders from the contractor's plant. Beginning with the first day after the expiration of the 30-day free loan period to and including the day the cylinders are released to the transportation company for return to the contractor, there will be charged and the United States agrees to pay the contractor a rental at the rate of $_____ per cylinder per day, computed on a quantity basis, as indicated below, for the use of cylinders not returned to the contractor. This rental charge will be computed separately for oxygen and acetylene cylinders and for each point of delivery named in the contract. A credit of 60 cylinder days will accrue for each cylinder shipped. A debit of one cylinder day will accrue for each cylinder for each day held beginning with the day after date of shipment from contractor's plant to and including the day the cylinder is released to the transportation company for return to the contractor. At the end of the contract period, in the event the total number of debits exceeds the total number of credits, rental will be charged for the difference. If the total number of credits equals or exceeds the total number of debits, no charge will be made for the use of the cylinders.

All cylinders not returned to the contractor on or before the expiration of a 90-day rental period or lost or damaged beyond repair while in the possession of the United States Government shall be paid for by the United States to the contractor at a replacement value of $_____ for each oxygen cylinder of 100 to 110 cubic feet capacity, $_____ for each oxygen cylinder of 200 to 200 cubic feet capacity, $_____ for each acetylene cylinder of 100 to 150 cubic feet capacity, and $_____ for each acetylene cylinder of 250 to 300 cubic feet capacity.

Cylinders retained or lost and so paid for shall be considered the property of the United States. But if and when located they may, at the option of the Government, be returned to the contractor, and, in such event, credit shall be allowed to the Government at the replacement value paid, less rental at the rate of $_____ per day beginning at the expiration of the 30-day loan period as aforesaid to the date upon which cylinders are turned over to carrier for return to contractors plant.

§ 803.341 Price adjustment based on production experience. The following articles provide for (1) redetermination of price by formula paragraph (a), (2) price revision by negotiation paragraph (b), (3) conversion of fixed-fee contract to fixed price basis paragraph (c), (4) incentive provisions in fixed-fee contracts paragraph (d). They may be used in accordance with the instructions in Subpart B of Part 812.

(a) Article _____. Redetermination of price by formula.

(a) Agreement to redetermine price. The Government and the Contractor recognize that the costs of performing this contract cannot be accurately estimated at the time of its execution, and that the price fixed in Article ____ may therefore be too high. They therefore agree that the contract price fixed in Article ____ shall be redetermined in accordance with this Article on the basis of the actual experience of the Contractor in performing part of the contract. They agree that the cost of producing the first ____% of the items called for hereunder (hereinafter called the "preliminary run") will not necessarily be typical for the remainder of the contract. The cost of producing the next ____% (hereinafter called the "test run") shall therefore be used as the general basis for the redetermination of price.

(b) Estimate of costs. The Contractor represents that the contract price fixed in Article ____ is based on a total estimated cost of $_____, itemized as follows: [1]

A. Factory Cost.
1. Direct materials.
2. Direct productive labor.
3. Direct engineering labor.
4. Miscellaneous direct factory charges.
5. Indirect factory expenses [2] (State basis of allocation).

Total Factory Cost

B. Other manufacturing cost.
C. Miscellaneous direct expenses.
D. Indirect engineering expenses.
E. Expenses of distribution, servicing and administration.
F. Guarantee expenses.

(c) Cost statements.

(1) Within ____ days after the completion of the production of the "test run" the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer the following data—

(i) Separate statements showing the costs of producing the "preliminary run" and the "test run" itemized in the same way as the estimated cost stated in section (b) above:

(ii) Estimates of the cost of producing the items to be delivered during the remainder of the contract based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and upon all other relevant factors; and

(iii) Proposed revised prices under the contract.

(2) The Contractor will maintain books, records and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract during the "preliminary run" and "test run". For this purpose the Contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the Contracting Officer finds it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. The statements showing costs experienced by the Contractor under this contract shall be based upon such books, records and accounts and shall be certified as correct by two officers of the Contractor or by an independent public accountant. The Contractor shall submit his books, records and accounts to such examination and audit as the Contracting Officer may request.

(d) Method of redetermination. (1) Upon the filing of the data required by section (c) hereof, the Contracting Officer and the Contractor shall determine the costs of producing the "preliminary run" and the "test run" and the cost of producing the remainder of the items called for by the contract as indicated by the cost of production of the "test run" and the cost estimate submitted by the Contractor under section (c). Any disagreement as to the experienced costs or estimated costs shall be subject to Article ____ (Disputes).

(2) If the cost of producing the "preliminary run" and the "test run" plus the cost of production of the remainder of the items called for by the contract as determined under subsection (1) above, is less than the total estimated cost stated in section (b), the total price to be paid pursuant to Article ____ shall be reduced by the amount of the difference. The redetermined price shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement.

(e) Payment. Pending the redetermination of the contract price hereunder the Government shall pay for all items delivered hereunder at the price fixed in Article ____. Upon the redetermination of the price hereunder the Contractor shall apply as a credit against payment for subsequent deliveries or shall repay to the Government, as the Contracting Officer may direct, an amount equal to the difference between the price paid on all items theretofore delivered and the redetermined price for such items; and the Government shall pay for all items thereafter delivered the redetermined price minus any such credit. If, before the price is redetermined hereunder, any amount paid under this contract has been included in any renegotiation agreement made under Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, no refund or credit shall be required hereunder with respect to that amount.

(f) Renegotiation. Any redetermination of the contract price made under this Article is without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or the contract article inserted herein pursuant to that Act.

(b) Article _____. Revision of entire price by negotiation.

(a) Agreement to revise price. The Government and the Contractor recognize that the costs of performing this contract cannot be accurately estimated at the time of its execution and that the contract price fixed in Article ____ may therefore be either too high or too low. They therefore agree that the contract price shall be revised upward or downward in accordance with this article on the basis of actual experience of the Contractor in producing __% of the items under this contract (hereinafter called the "trial run"). They recognize that the costs of performing that part of the contract will not be typical for the remainder of the contract, but will provide sufficient information and experience to permit revision of the price.

(b) Estimate of costs. The Contractor represents that the contract price fixed in Article ____ is based on a total estimated cost of $_____, itemized as follows: [1]

A. Factory Cost.
1. Direct materials.
2. Direct productive labor.
3. Direct engineering labor.
4. Miscellaneous direct factory charges.
5. Indirect factory expenses.[2] (State basis of allocation.)

Total Factory Cost

B. Other manufacturing cost.
C. Miscellaneous direct expenses.
D. Indirect engineering expenses.
E. Expenses of distribution, servicing and administration.
F. Guarantee expenses.

(c) Cost statements.

(1) Within _____ days after the completion of the trial run, the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer the following data: [1]

(i) Separate statements showing costs of production for the trial run, itemized in the same way as the estimated cost stated in section (b) above.

(ii) Estimates of the cost of producing the items to be delivered during the remainder of the contract based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and upon all other relevant factors.

(iii) Proposed revised prices under the contract.

(2) The Contractor will maintain books, records and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract. For this purpose the Contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the Contracting Officer finds it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. The statements showing costs experienced by the Contractor under this contract shall be based upon such books, records and accounts and shall be certified as correct by two officers of the Contractor or by an independent public accountant. The Contractor shall submit his books, records and accounts to such examination and audit as the Contracting Officer may request.

(d) Negotiation for revision. (1) Upon the filing of the data required by section (c) hereof, the Contractor and Contracting Officer shall negotiate in good faith to agree upon revised prices under this contract. The revised price may be different for different periods of the contract and may be in excess of or less than the price stated in Article ____ hereof. The agreement reached shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract stating the revised price under the contract.

(2) If the Contracting Officer and Contractor fail to agree on revised prices under the contract within thirty days after the date for filing of the data by the Contractor under section (c) hereof, or such further period as may be fixed by agreement, the Contractor, if not in default, or the Government, may terminate the contract hereunder by written notice delivered within ten days after the expiration of said thirty day period or extension. Upon such termination by either party, the rights and obligations of the parties shall be governed by the provisions of Article ____ hereof ("Termination for the Convenience of the Government"), except that the Contractor shall be allowed no profit for any uncompleted portion of the contract. If revised prices are not agreed upon and the contract is not terminated, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the price fixed in Article ____ for the remainder of the contract.

(e) Payments. Until the contract price is revised hereunder, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the price set forth in Article ___ for all articles delivered. If the contract price is revised upward hereunder, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the difference between the prices paid on all items theretofore delivered and the revised price for such items. If the contract price is revised downward hereunder an amount equal to the difference between the price paid on all items theretofore delivered and the revised price for such items, shall be applied as a credit against payments for subsequent deliveries or shall be applied in such other manner or repaid to the Government, as the Contracting Officer may direct. For all items delivered after any price revision hereunder, the Government shall pay the contractor the revised price, minus any such credit. If, before the price is redetermined hereunder, any amount paid under this contract has been included in any renegotiation agreement made under Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, no refund or credit shall be required hereunder with respect to that amount.

(f) Renegotiation. Any revision of the contract price made under this Article is without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or the contract article inserted herein pursuant to that Act.

(c) Article _____. Conversion to fixed price contract.

(a) The Government and the Contractor agree to convert this contract from a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis to a fixed price basis in accordance with this article.

(b) Within (15) days after the production of ____% of the items covered by this contract, the Contractor will submit to the Contracting Officer the following data: [1]

(1) Statements showing the cost of producing all items theretofore completed for delivery for which cost figures are available, and such other statements as the Contracting Officer may require.

(2) Estimates of the cost of producing the remainder of the contract based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and upon all other relevant factors.

(3) Proposed prices for the items theretofore delivered and to be delivered during the remainder of the contract.

(c) Upon the filing of the data required by section (b) hereof, the Contractor and Contracting Officer will negotiate in good faith to agree upon a price or prices for this contract on a fixed price basis. In negotiating such prices consideration may be given to all pertinent factors which have affected the Contractor's costs during the preceding period and which are likely to affect such costs during the remainder of the contract and to all pertinent factors bearing upon the profit margin which is reasonable for the Contractor to earn under the contract. The agreement to convert may make the fixed price basis applicable to the entire contract, including performance before as well as after the effective date of the conversion; and it may provide for the treatment of any advance payments and reimbursements theretofore made to the Contractor as payments under the revised contract, for appropriate credit for deliveries theretofore made by him, and for releasing to the Contractor any interest or title of the Government in any materials and property acquired for the performance of the contract. The terms of the agreement shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement.

(d) Any conversion made or contract price fixed under this Article is without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or the contract article inserted herein pursuant to that Act.

(d) Article _____. Adjustment of fixed fee.

(a) Agreement to adjust. The Government and the Contractor agree that the fee fixed in Article ____ hereof shall be adjusted in accordance with this Article. In this Article the first ____% of the items to be produced hereunder is called the "preliminary run"; the next ____% thereof is called the "test run" and all items to be produced hereunder after the test run are called the "remainder of the contract".

(b) Basis of adjustment. (1) Within 3 days after the production of the test run the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer the following data:

(i) Separate itemized statements showing the costs of production of the preliminary run and the test run.

(ii) Estimates of the costs of producing the remainder of the contract, based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and all other relevant factors.

(2) Upon the filing of the foregoing data, the Contracting Officer and Contractor shall agree upon an estimate for the cost of producing the remainder of the contract (herein called the "target estimate") on the basis of the costs of production of the test run and the estimated costs submitted by the Contractor.

(c) Adjustment.

(1) Upon the completion of the contract the Contractor shall submit itemized statements of the cost of producing the remainder of the contract. The Contracting Officer, after making such adjustments as he deems necessary therefor, shall determine the amount by which the Contractor had reduced the costs of producing the remainder of the contract below the target estimate by efficiency in buying, production or management or has increased such costs above the target estimate by its inefficiency in these respects. Using the amount of the reduction or increase of costs so determined, he shall compute the percentage of the target estimate which such reduction or increase represents.

(2) The Contracting Officer shall then adjust the fee on the basis of the percentage of such increase or reduction in costs in the following manner.

(i) For each 1% of such reduction in costs up to 10% the fee shall be increased by 1% of the dollar amount of the fee or for each 1% of such increase in costs up to 10% the fee shall be decreased by 1% of the dollar amount of the fee.

[1] This breakdown may be altered to suit particular circumstances. Any reserves for contingencies should be stated separately and clearly identified.

[2] State separately the estimated amount of each of the following items included:
(a) Normal depreciation.
(b) Special amortization.

[1] Where it will be unduly difficult for the Contractor to submit the data in the form specified in paragraphs (i) and (ii), the following form may be substituted for these paragraphs, if the Contracting Officer is satisfied that it will provide reliable and sufficient data for the purposes of the article:

"(i) Revised estimates of the cost of performing the entire contract, based upon the cost experience of the Contractor during the trial run and upon all other relevant factors, itemized in the same way as the estimated cost stated in section (b) above, and showing separately any reserves for contingencies included in the estimate."

Paragraph (iii) will then be renumbered (ii).

[1] Where it will be unduly difficult for the Contractor to submit the data in the form specified in paragraphs (1) and (2), the following form may be substituted for these paragraphs, if the Contracting Officer is satisfied that it will provide reliable and sufficient data for the purposes of the article:

"(1) Revised estimates of the cost of performing the entire contract, based upon the cost experience of the Contractor during the trial run and upon all other relevant factors, itemized in the same way as the estimated cost stated in section (b) above, and showing separately any reserves for contingencies included in the estimate."

Paragraph (3) will then be renumbered (2).

(ii) For each 1% of such reduction in costs beyond 10% the fee shall be increased by 2% of the dollar amount of the fee or for each 1% of increase in costs beyond 10% the fee shall be reduced by 2% of the dollar amount of the fee.

In no event shall the fee as adjusted be increased to more than 7% of the original estimated costs or be reduced to less than 1% of the original estimated cost.

(d) Books and records. The Contractor will maintain books, records and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract. For this purpose the Contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the Contracting Officer finds that it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. The statements showing costs experienced by the Contractor under this contract shall be based upon such books, records and accounts and shall be certified as correct by two officers of the Contractor or by an independent public accountant. The Contractor shall submit his books, records and accounts to such examination and audit as the Contracting Officer may request.

(e) Disputes. Any disagreement with respect to the amount of the "target estimate" under section (b) (2), or the amount of the reduction or increase in costs under section (c) (1), or the computation of the adjustment of the fee under section (c) (2) shall be subject to Article — (Disputes).

§ 803.342 Articles governing statutory renegotiation. The following articles dealing with statutory renegotiation will be used in accordance with Part 812 of this chapter (§ 812.1202 et seq., § 812.1207 et seq.).

(a) [Form I] Renegotiation pursuant to the Renegotiation Act: Form for general use.

Article ____. Renegotiation. (a) This contract shall be deemed to contain all the provisions required by subsection (b) of the Renegotiation Act as amended by Section 701 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Public Law No. 235, 78th Congress, enacted February 25, 1944).

(b) In compliance with said subsection (b) of the Renegotiation Act, the Contractor shall insert in the subcontracts specified in said subsection (b) either the provisions of this Article or the provisions required by said subsection (b).

(b) [Form II] Same: Form for contracts exempt under discretionary exemption.

Article ____. Renegotiation. (a) The Contractor agrees to insert in the subcontracts specified in subsection (b) of the Renegotiation Act as amended by Section 701 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Public Law No. 235, 78th Congress, enacted February 25, 1944), either the provisions required by said subsection (b) or the following:

"Article ____. Renegotiation. (a) This contract shall be deemed to contain all the provisions required by subsection (b) of the Renegotiation Act as amended by Section 701 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Public Law No. 235, 78th Congress, enacted February 25, 1944).

"(b) In compliance with said subsection (b) of the Renegotiation Act, the Contractor shall insert in the subcontracts specified in said subsection (b) either the provisions of this Article or the provisions required by said subsection (b)."

(b) The Contractor agrees that there may be retained by the United States from amounts otherwise due the Contractor or that the Contractor will repay to the United States, as the Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative may direct, any amounts which under subsection (b) of the Renegotiation Act he is directed to withhold from a subcontractor and which are actually unpaid at the time the Contractor receives such direction.

(c) [Form III] Same: Form for supplemental agreements.

Article ____. Renegotiation. (a) This contract shall be deemed to contain all the provisions required by subsection (b) of the Renegotiation Act as amended by Section 701 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (Public Law No. 235, 78th Congress, enacted February 25, 1944).

(b) In compliance with subsection (b) of the Renegotiation Act, the Contractor shall insert in the subcontracts specified in said subsection (b) and made by the Contractor after the date of this instrument either provisions similar to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Article or the provisions prescribed by said subsection (b) of the Renegotiation Act.

(c) This Article applies only to the supplemental agreement by which it was added and to any supplemental agreement or change orders hereafter executed except that the Contractor may discharge any obligation under the basic contract to insert renegotiation provisions in subcontracts, by inserting therein either the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this Article or the provisions prescribed by subsection (b) of the Renegotiation Act.

§ 803.342a Price revision by mutual agreement. There may be included in any contract (1) which is for an amount of $100,000 or less and (2) which is also developmental or experimental in character a clause substantially as follows:

ARTICLE ____. Price revision by mutual agreement.

(a) Upon the written demand of the Contracting Officer, made at any time until sixty (60) days after the completion or termination of this contract, the Contractor will renegotiate the contract price to reduce it to an amount representing fair and reasonable compensation for the performance of the Contract. In such negotiations the efficiency of the Contractor in production, buying and management will be given due weight.

(b) The Contractor will furnish to the Contracting Officer such statements of actual costs of production and such other financial statements, at such times and in such form and detail, as the Contracting Officer may prescribe, and will permit such audits and inspections of its books and records as the Contracting Officer may request.

(c) The Government shall retain from amounts otherwise due the Contractor, or the Contractor shall repay to the Government if paid to him, any amount of the contract price found as a result of such renegotiation to represent an excessive price and not eliminated through reductions in contract price or otherwise, as the Contracting Officer may direct.

(d) The provisions of this article shall not be construed as precluding any renegotiation which may be required under Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended.

(e) As used in this article the term "this contract" means this contract as originally written or as modified from time to time.

§ 803.343 Rate of Wages clause. All contracts subject to the Davis-Bacon Act will contain the following clause without deviation:

Rate of wages. (In accordance with the act of August 30, 1935, 49 Stat. 1011, as amended by the act of June 15, 1940, 54 Stat. 399 (U. S. Code, title 40, secs. 276a and 276a–1), this article shall apply if the contract is in excess of $2,000 in amount and is for the construction, alteration, and/or repair, including painting and decorating, of a public building or public work within the geographical limits of the States of the Union, the Territory of Alaska, the Territory of Hawaii, or the District of Columbia.)

(a) The contractor or his subcontractor shall pay all mechanics and laborers employed directly upon the site of the work, unconditionally and not less often than once a week, and without subsequent deduction or rebate on any account, the full amounts accrued at time of payment, computed at wage rates not less or more than those stated in the specifications (subject to Executive Order Number 9250 and the General Orders and Regulations issued thereunder) regardless of any contractual relationship which may be alleged to exist between the contractor or subcontractor and such laborers and mechanics; and the scale of wages to be paid shall be posted by the contractor in a prominent and easily accessible place at the site of the work. The contracting officer shall have the right to withhold from the contractor so much of accrued payments as may be considered necessary by the contracting officer to pay to laborers and mechanics employed by the contractor or any subcontractor on the work the difference between the rates of wages required by the contract to be paid laborers and mechanics on the work and the rates of wages received by such laborers and mechanics and not refunded to the contractor, subcontractors, or their agents.

(b) In the event it is found by the contracting officer that any laborer or mechanic employed by the contractor or any subcontractor directly on the site of the work covered by the contract has been or is being paid a rate of wages less than the rate of wages required by the contract to be paid as aforesaid, the Government may, by written notice to the contractor, terminate his right to proceed with the work or such part of the work as to which there has been a failure to pay said required wages and prosecute the work to completion by contract or otherwise, and the contractor and his sureties shall be liable to the Government for any excess costs occasioned the Government thereby.

(c) The regulations of the Secretary of Labor, referred to in article ____ (non-rebate of wages) hereof, allow certain "permissible deductions" from the wages required by this article to be paid.

The article to which cross reference is made in paragraph (c) of the above clause is that contained in § 803.344.

(a) There will be contained in each contract subject to the Davis-Bacon Act (or in the specifications accompanying the contract) a clause substantially as follows:

The minimum wages to be paid laborers and mechanics on this project, as determined by the Secretary of Labor to be prevailing for the corresponding classes of laborers and mechanics employed on projects of a character similar to the contract work in the pertinent locality, are as follows:

Classification of laborers and mechanics	Minimum rates of wages per hour

Any class of laborers and mechanics not listed in the preceding paragraph, which will be employed on this contract, shall be classified or reclassified conformably to the foregoing schedule by mutual agreement between the contractor and class of labor concerned, subject to the prior approval of the contracting officer. In the event the interested parties cannot agree on the proper classification or reclassification of a particular class of laborers and mechanics to be used, the question, accompanied by the recommendation of the contracting officer, shall be referred to the Secretary of Labor for final determination. The wages specified in this schedule shall be the maximum wages to be paid, subject, however, to Executive Order No. 9250 and the General Orders and Regulations issued thereunder.

§ 803.344 Nonrebate of wages clause. All contracts subject to the Copeland "Kick-back" Act will contain the following clause without deviation:

Nonrebate of wages. The contractor shall comply with the regulations of the Secretary of Labor pursuant to the Act of June 13, 1934, 48 Stat. 948 (U.S. Code, title 40, secs. 276b and 276c), and any amendments or modifications thereof, shall cause appropriate provisions to be inserted in subcontracts to insure compliance therewith by all subcontractors subject thereto, and shall be responsible for the submission of affidavits required of subcontractors thereunder, except as the Secretary of Labor may specifically provide for reasonable limitations, variations, tolerances, and exemptions from the requirements thereof.

§ 803.345 Convict labor. All contracts, except those to which the prohibition against use or employment of convict labor is clearly inapplicable, and except those containing the clause set forth in either §§ 803.353 or 803.353 (d) will contain the following clause without deviation:

Convict labor. The contractor shall not employ any person undergoing sentence of imprisonment at hard labor. This provision shall not be construed to prevent the contractor or any subcontractor hereunder from obtaining any of the supplies, or any component parts or ingredients thereof, to be furnished under this contract or any of the materials or supplies to be used in connection with the performance of this contract, directly or indirectly, from any Federal, State or territorial prison or prison industry: Provided, That such articles, materials or supplies are not produced pursuant to any contract or other arrangement under which prison labor is hired by or employed or used by any private person, firm or corporation.

Any contract related to the prosecution of the war which contains a convict labor provision in a different form from that herein prescribed will be amended by the contracting officer to substitute the form herein prescribed for such other form if the contractor so desires.

For discussion of the above clause as well as of the convict labor provision of the Walsh-Healey clause, see §§ 809.901 to 809.903, inclusive.

§ 803.346 Eight-hour law. All contracts subject to the provisions of the Eight-Hour Law of 1912 will contain the following clause without deviation:

Eight-hour law. No laborer or mechanic doing any part of the work contemplated by this contract, in the employ of the contractor or any subcontractor contracting for any part of said work contemplated, shall be required or permitted to work more than 8 hours in any one calendar day upon such work at the site thereof, except upon the condition that compensation is paid to such laborer or mechanic in accordance with the provisions of this article. The wages of every laborer and mechanic employed by the contractor or any subcontractor engaged in the performance of this contract shall be computed on a basic day rate of 8 hours per day and work in excess of 8 hours per day is permitted only upon the condition that every such laborer and mechanic shall be compensated for all hours worked in excess of 8 hours per day at not less than one and one-half times the basic rate of pay. For each violation of the requirements of this article a penalty of $5 shall be imposed upon the contractor for each laborer or mechanic for every calendar day in which such employee is required or permitted to labor more than 8 hours upon said work without receiving compensation computed in accordance with this article; and all penalties thus imposed shall be withheld for the use and benefit of the Government: Provided, That this stipulation shall be subject in all respects to the exceptions and provisions of U. S. Code, title 40, sections 321, 324, 325, and 326, relating to hours of labor, as modified by the provisions of Section 303 of Public Act No. 781, 76th Congress, approved September 9, 1940, relating to compensation for overtime.

§ 803.347 Advance payments with interest. A clause substantially as follows will be included in fixed-price contracts when it is contemplated that advance payments with interest will be made thereon:

Advance payments. (a) At any time and from time to time, after the approval of this contract, at the request of the Contractor and subject to the approval of the ____ or his duly authorized
(Chief of supply service) representative, or of the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments, as to the present need therefor, the Government shall advance to the Contractor sums not to exceed ____ (Insert amount of advance payment)
____ or ____ per centum (____%) of the contract price, as it may be amended, whichever shall be the smaller. On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half per cent per annum to be computed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f).

(b) As a condition precedent to the making of any advance payment or payments as hereinbefore provided, the Contractor shall furnish the Government with such adequate security as the Under Secretary of War or the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments shall prescribe; Provided: That, if other security is not prescribed, the terms of this contract shall be considered adequate security for such advance payments; Provided further: That, if at any time the Under Secretary of War deems the security furnished by the Contractor inadequate, the Contractor shall furnish such additional security as shall be satisfactory to the Under Secretary of War.

(c) Until all advance payments hereunder are liquidated, all funds received as advance payments under this contract together with ____ per cent (____%) of all other cash
(Insert per cent to be deposited which shall be not less than 85%)
payments under this contract, shall be deposited in a special bank account or accounts at a member bank or banks of the Federal Reserve System, or any "insured" bank within the meaning of the Act creating the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Act of August 23, 1935; 49 Stat. 684), as amended (12 U. S. C. 264), separate from the Contractor's general or other funds. Such special bank account or accounts shall be so designated as to indicate clearly to the bank their special character and purpose, and the balances in such account or accounts shall be used by the Contractor exclusively as a revolving fund for carrying out the purposes of this contract (including reimbursement to the Contractor for any reasonable amounts expended by him for such purposes), and any amendments thereto, and not for the other business of the Contractor; Provided: That for the purpose of determining proper disposition of funds hereunder such of the Contractor's costs as may not be directly allocable to this contract, as it may be amended, may be charged against funds deposited in the special account in that proportion which the amount of work being done under this contract, as it may be amended, approximately bears to the total amount of work being performed by the Contractor, out of which such costs also arise, but within the period to which such costs relate. When required by the ____ (Chief of
____ or his duly authorized representative, or any other person to whom authority to make advance payments has been delegated, withdrawals from such special account or accounts shall be made subject to the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative. Any balances from time to time in such special account or accounts shall secure the repayment of the advances in connection with which the special account or accounts are opened, and the Government shall have a lien upon such balances to secure the repayment of such advances which lien shall be superior to any lien of the bank or any other person upon such account or accounts by virtue of assignment to it of such contract or otherwise; Provided: That the bank shall be under no liability to any party hereto for the withdrawal of any funds from said special account upon checks, properly endorsed and signed by the Contractor, except that after the receipt by the bank of written directions from the ____ (Chief of technical service)
or his duly authorized representative, the bank shall act thereon and be under no liability to any party hereto for any action taken in accordance with the said written directions. Any instructions or written directions received by the bank through the Contracting Officer upon War Department stationery and purporting to be signed by, or by the direction of, the ____ (Chief of technical service)
or his duly authorized representative shall, insofar as the rights, duties, and liabilities of the bank are concerned, be conclusively deemed to have been properly issued and filed with the bank by the ____ (Chief of technical service)
or his duly authorized representative.

(d) If, upon the completion of the contract, or upon its termination for other than the fault of the Contractor, the advance payments made to the Contractor have not been fully liquidated in the manner herein provided, the unliquidated balance of such advance payments shall be deducted from any payments otherwise due the Contractor, and if the sum or sums due the Contractor be insufficient to cover such balance, the deficiency shall be paid by the Contractor in cash forthwith after demand and final audit by the Government of all accounts hereunder: Provided, however, That in the event of such termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor, such deduction shall not be made prior to final audit unless and only to the extent that, the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative shall determine that such action is reasonably required in order to secure the eventual repayment in full to the Government of such unliquidated advance payments. In the event of cancellation or termination of this contract because of the fault of the Contractor, the Contractor agrees to return to the Government, upon demand, without set-off of any sums alleged to be due the Contractor, the unliquidated balance of any advance payment. Furthermore, if, in the opinion of the _____ (Chief of technical _____ or his duly authorized representative, service) the unobligated balance of the advance payments made by the Government under paragraph (a) hereof exceeds the amount necessary for the current needs of the Contractor, as determined by the _____ (Chief of technical service)

or his duly authorized representative the amount of such excess shall, upon demand made by the _____ or his duly authorized representative be promptly returned to the Government and will be credited against the balance due the Government on advances previously made. If the demand made in any event set forth in this subparagraph is not met upon receipt of such demand by the Contractor, the amount demanded will bear interest at the rate of six percent (6%) rather than two and one-half percent (2½%) per annum from the date of the receipt of the demand until payment is made. Provided, however, That such additional interest over and above the regular two and one-half percent is hereby waived as to any sum paid by the Contractor within 15 days after the amount becomes due hereunder.
(Chief of technical service)

(e) Except as otherwise provided herein, liquidation of the principal of any advance payment or advance payments made to the Contractor hereunder shall be made by deductions of _____ per cent (____% from any and all payments made by the Government under the terms of the contract or by means of direct repayment by the Contractor from his own free funds or from the special account or accounts: Provided, That if at any time, as a result of amendments to the contract or otherwise, the unliquidated balance of the principal of advance payments made exceeds _____ per cent (____%) of the balance of the total contract price then unpaid, the amount of such excess which has not then been expended or obligated shall upon demand of the _____, or his duly authorized representative be promptly returned to the Government by withdrawal from the special account or accounts or otherwise, and that portion of the excess which has been expended or obligated may, at the option of the Contractor, be so returned and if not so returned, shall, together with any unexpended or unobligated portion of the excess not otherwise returned to the Government, be deducted from any and all payments to be made by the Government under the contract: Provided further, That, if and when the contractor has, by means of deductions or otherwise, reimbursed the Government in full for payments made, any money remaining in the special bank account or accounts shall be free and clear of any lien hereunder and the bank or banks concerned shall have authority to pay same to the contractor and shall thereupon be relieved of any further obligation to the Government on account thereof.

(f) On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half per cent per annum. Such interest shall be computed at the end of each calendar month on the average daily balance of the principal of the unliquidated advance payments outstanding. In determining such balance, charges on account of the advance payments to the Contractor hereunder shall be made as of the dates of the checks therefor; credits arising from deductions from payments to the Contractor under this contract shall be made, upon the issue of the check for such payment, as of the dates of shipment as indicated on the Contractor's invoice and/or Government Receiving Report; and credits arising from cash repayments to the Government by the Contractor shall be made as of the dates the checks therefor are received by the disbursing officer. As soon as such monthly computations shall have been made, the interest so determined shall be deducted from the payments otherwise due to contractor under this contract: Provided, however, That in no event shall deductions on account of interest exceed five per cent (5%) of the gross payment due the contractor prior to any deduction under this paragraph or paragraph (e) or any other provisions of this contract. In the event the accrued interest exceeds such five per cent, the excess of such interest shall be carried forward and deducted from subsequent payments. The interest shall not be compounded, and shall, subject to the provisions of paragraph (d) hereof, cease to accrue upon the termination of the contract for other than the fault of the contractor, or upon the date found by the Contracting Officer to be the date upon which the contractor completed his performance under the contract.

(g) The contractor shall, at all times, afford to the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative, proper facilities for the inspection and audit of the contractor's accounts, and the contractor hereby agrees that the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, shall have the right, so far as the contractor's rights are concerned, during business hours, to inspect and make copies of any entries in the books and records of the bank relating to the said special account.

(h) Subject to the approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative the contractor may make payments to subcontractors and materialmen in advance out of the special account, for labor or services, or to pay for material in advance of delivery at the site of the work or at an approved storage site. Such subadvances shall not exceed _____ per cent of the subcontract price and the subcontractor or materialmen to whom such advances are made shall furnish adequate security therefor. Unless other security is furnished, covenants in subcontracts, expressly made for the benefit of the Government, providing for a subspecial account with Government lien thereon and for a Government lien on property, tangible or intangible, purchased from the special account, and imposing upon the subcontractor substantially the same duties and giving the Government substantially the same rights as are provided herein between the Government and the contractor, have been prescribed by the Under Secretary of War as minimum adequate security for such subadvances.

(i) If no surety bond is furnished as part of the security under subparagraph (b) hereof, then, upon receipt of items or materials paid for from such special account or accounts, such items or materials shall be segregated and the Government shall have a lien on such items or materials until the advance payment or payments have been fully liquidated, or until the item or items and/or materials concerned have become the property of the Government as the result of partial payments, or otherwise; Provided: That if segregation in any instance be impracticable and the items or materials concerned are consequently intermingled with other property of the Contractor, then and in that event the lien above provided for in favor of the Government shall extend to the intermingled mass to the amount represented by the value of the items or materials involved; and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such lien shall continue as follows: (a) in case the contract covers construction, until such items or materials are incorporated into the building, and thereafter on the building in the construction of which the items or materials are incorporated; (b) in the case of items or materials comprising facilities, on such facilities both before and after their installation in the plant; and (c) in the case of articles contracted for, until the items or materials so paid for are fabricated into such articles, and thereafter on the articles until accepted by the Government [; and the Government shall hereby likewise have an effective assignment of a security interest in all intangible property purchased, or otherwise acquired, with funds from said special account].[1] If at any time during the progress of the work under this contract it becomes necessary to deliver any item or items and/or materials upon which the Government has a lien as aforesaid to a third person, the contractor shall notify such third person of the lien herein provided and shall obtain from such third person a receipt, in duplicate, acknowledging, among other things, the existence of such lien. A copy of each receipt shall be delivered by the contractor to the contracting officer.

(j) Any assignment of moneys due or to become due under this contract shall be subordinate to the rights or claims of the Government arising under this contract or any amendment thereto by virtue of any advance payments authorized herein or otherwise; Provided, that, if at any time any claim arising under this contract is assigned or purportedly assigned in any manner inconsistent with the said rights of the Government, the _____ or his duly authorized representative shall have the right to suspend further advance payments without notice.

§ 803.348 Advance payments without interest. A clause substantially as follows will be included in fixed price contracts when it is contemplated that advance payments without interest will be made thereon:

Advance payments. (a) At any time and from time to time, after the approval of this contract, at the request of the Contractor and subject to the approval of the _____ or his duly authorized
(Chief of technical service)
representative, or of the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments, as to the present need therefor, the Government shall advance to the Contractor, without payment of interest therefor by the Contractor, sums not to exceed _____ or _____ per (Insert amount of advance payment)
centum (____%) of the contract price, as it may be amended, whichever shall be the smaller.

(b) As a condition precedent to the making of any advance payment or payments as hereinbefore provided, the Contractor shall furnish the Government with such adequate security as the Under Secretary of War or the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments shall prescribe; Provided: That, if other security is not prescribed, the terms of this contract shall be considered adequate security for such advance payments; Provided further: That if at any time the Under Secretary of War deems the security furnished by the Contractor inadequate, the Contractor shall furnish such additional security as shall be satisfactory to the Under Secretary of War.

(c) Until all advance payments hereunder are liquidated, all funds received as advance payments under this contract together with _____ per cent (____%) of all other cash payments under this contract, shall be deposited in a special bank account or accounts at a member bank or banks of the Federal Reserve System, or any "insured" bank within the meaning of the Act creating the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Act of August 23, 1935; 49 Stat. 684), as amended (12 U.S.C. 264), separate from the Contractor's general or other funds. Such special bank account or accounts shall be so designated as to indicate clearly to the bank their special character and purpose, and the balances in such account or accounts shall be used by the Contractor exclusively as a revolving fund for carrying out the purposes of this contract (including reimbursement to the Contractor for any reasonable amounts expended by him for such purposes), and any amendments thereto, and not for the other business of the Contractor; Provided: that for the purpose of determining proper disposition of funds hereunder such of the Contractor's costs as may not be directly allocable to this contract, as it may be amended, may be charged against funds deposited in the special account in that proportion which the amount of work being done under this contract, as it may be amended, approximately bears to the total amount of work being performed by the Contractor, out of which such costs also arise, but within the period to which such costs relate. When required by the _____ or his duly authorized representative, or any other person to whom authority to make advance payments has been delegated, withdrawals from such special account or accounts shall be made subject to the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative. Any balances from time to time in such special account or accounts shall secure the repayment of the advances in connection with which the special account or accounts are opened, and the Government shall have a lien upon such balances to secure the repayment of such advances which lien shall be superior to any lien of the bank or any other person upon such account or accounts by virtue of assignment to it of such contract or otherwise; Provided: That the bank shall be under no liability to any party hereto for the withdrawal of any funds from said special account upon checks, properly endorsed and signed by the Contractor, except that after the receipt by the bank of written directions from the _____ (Chief of _____ or his duly authorized repre-technical service)
(Insert per cent to be deposited which shall be not less than 85%)
(Chief of technical service)
sentative, the bank shall act thereon and be under no liability to any party hereto for any action taken in accordance with the said written directions. Any instructions or written directions received by the bank through the Contracting Officer upon War Department stationery and purporting to be signed by, or by the direction of, the _____ (Chief of _____ or his duly authorized represen-technical service)
tative shall, in so far as the rights, duties, and liabilities of the bank are concerned, be conclusively deemed to have been properly issued and filed with the bank by the _____ or his duly authorized representative.
(Chief of technical service)

(d) If, upon the completion of the contract, or upon its termination for other than the fault of the Contractor, the advance payments made to the Contractor have not been fully liquidated in the manner herein provided, the unliquidated balance of such advance payments shall be deducted from any payments otherwise due the Contractor, and if the sum or sums due the Contractor be insufficient to cover such balance, the deficiency shall be paid by the Contractor in cash forthwith after demand and final audit by the Government of all accounts hereunder: Provided, however, That in the event of such termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor, such deduction shall not be made prior to final audit unless, and only to the extent that, the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative shall determine that such action is reasonably required in order to secure the eventual repayment in full to the Government of such unliquidated advance payments. In the event of cancellation or termination of this contract because of the fault of the Contractor, the Contractor agrees to return to the Government, upon demand, without set-off of any sums alleged to be due the Contractor, the unliquidated balance of any advance payment. Furthermore, if, in the opinion of the _____or his duly author-
(Chief of technical service)
ized representative, the unobligated balance of the advance payments made by the Government under Paragraph (a) hereof exceeds the amount necessary for the current needs of the Contractor, as determined by the _____or his duly authorized
(Chief of technical service)
representative the amount of such excess shall, upon demand made by the _____ _____or his duly authorized representative be promptly returned to the Government and will be credited against the balance due the Government on advances previously made. If the demand made in any event set forth in this subparagraph is not met upon receipt of such demand by the Contractor, the amount demanded will bear interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum from the date of the receipt of the demand until payment is made: Provided, however, That such payment of interest is hereby waived as to any sum paid by the Contractor within 15 days after the amount becomes due hereunder.
(Chief of technical service)

(e) Except as otherwise provided herein, liquidation of any advance payment or advance payments made to the Contractor hereunder shall be made by deductions of _____ per cent (____%) from any and all payments made by the Government under the terms of the contract or by means of direct repayment by the Contractor from his own free funds or from the special account or accounts: Provided: That if at any time, as a result of amendments to the contract or otherwise, the unliquidated balance of the principal of advance payments made exceeds _____ per cent (____%) of the balance of the total contract price then unpaid, the amount of such excess which has not then been expended or obligated shall upon demand of the _____, or his duly authorized representative be promptly returned to the Government by withdrawal from the special account or accounts or otherwise, and that portion of the excess which has been expended or obligated may, at the option of the Contractor, be so returned and if not so returned, shall, together with any unexpended or unobligated portion of the excess not otherwise returned to the Government, be deducted from any and all payments to be made by the Government under the contract; Provided further, that, if and when the Contractor has, by means of deductions or otherwise, reimbursed the Government in full for payments made, any money remaining in the special bank account or accounts shall be free and clear of any lien hereunder and the bank or banks concerned shall have authority to pay same to the Contractor and shall thereupon be relieved of any further obligation to the Government on account thereof.

(f) The Contractor shall, at all times, afford to the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative, proper facilities for the inspection and audit of the Contractor's accounts, and the Contractor hereby agrees that the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative shall have the right, so far as the Contractor's rights are concerned, during business hours, to inspect and make copies of any entries in the books and records of the bank relating to the said special account.

(g) Subject to the approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative the Contractor may make payments to subcontractors and materialmen in advance out of the special account, for labor or services, or to pay for material in advance of delivery at the site of the work or at an approved storage site. Such subadvances shall not exceed _____ per cent of the subcontract price and the subcontractor or materialmen to whom such advances are made shall furnish adequate security therefor. Unless other security is furnished, covenants in subcontracts, expressly made for the benefit of the Government, providing for a subspecial account with Government lien thereon and for a Government lien on property, tangible or intangible, purchased from the special account, and imposing upon the subcontractor substantially the same duties and giving the Government substantially the same rights as are provided herein between the Government and the Contractor, have been prescribed by the Under Secretary of War as minimum adequate security for such subadvances.

(h) If no surety bond is furnished as part of the security under subparagraph (b) hereof, then, upon receipt of items or materials paid for from such special account or accounts, such items or materials shall be segregated and the Government shall have a lien on such items or materials until the advance payment or payments have been fully liquidated, or until the item or items and/or materials concerned have become the property of the Government as the result of partial payments, or otherwise: Provided, That if segregation in any instance be impracticable and the items or materials concerned are consequently intermingled with other property of the Contractor, then and in that event the lien above provided for in favor of the Government shall extend to the intermingled mass to the amount represented by the value of the items or materials involved; and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, such lien shall continue as follows: (a) in case the contract covers construction, until such items or materials are incorporated into the building, and thereafter on the building in the construction of which the items or materials are incorporated; (b) in the case of items or materials comprising facilities, on such facilities both before and after their installation in the plant; and (c) in the case of articles contracted for, until the items or materials so paid for are fabricated into such articles, and thereafter on the articles until accepted by the Government [; and the Government shall hereby likewise have an effective assignment of a security interest in all intangible property purchased, or otherwise acquired, with funds from said special account].[1] If at any time during the progress of the work under this contract it becomes necessary to deliver any item or items and/or materials upon which the Government has a lien as aforesaid to a third person, the Contractor

[1] The bracket provision may be inserted in the case of experimental contracts or other cases where deemed especially appropriate.

[1] The bracket provision may be inserted in the case of experimental contracts or other cases where deemed especially appropriate.

shall notify such third person of the lien herein provided and shall obtain from such third person a receipt, in duplicate, acknowledging, inter alia, the existence of such lien. A copy of each receipt shall be delivered by the Contractor to the Contracting Officer.

(i) Any assignment of moneys due or to become due under this contract shall be subordinate to the rights or claims of the Government arising under this contract or any amendment thereto by virtue of any advance payments authorized herein or otherwise: Provided, That, if at any time any claim arising under this contract is assigned or purportedly assigned in any manner inconsistent with the said rights of the Government, the ---------- or his duly authorized representative shall have the right to suspend further advance payments without notice.

§ 803.348a Advance payments; cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts; with interest. A clause substantially as follows will be included in cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts when it is contemplated that advance payments with interest will be made thereon:

Advance payments. (a) At any time and from time to time after the execution of this contract, the Government at the request of the Contractor and subject to the approval of the ---------- or his duly authorized representative, or the person to whom authority to make advance payments has been delegated, as to the present need therefor, shall advance to the Contractor sums not to exceed ---------- per centum (------ %) of the estimated cost of this contract (exclusive of the Contractor's fixed fee), as it may be amended from time to time. On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½ %) per annum to be computed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (f) hereof.

(b) As a condition precedent to the making of any advance payment or payments as hereinbefore provided, the Contractor shall furnish the Government with such adequate security as the Under Secretary of War or the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments shall prescribe: Provided, That, if other security is not prescribed, the terms of this contract shall be considered adequate security for such advance payments; and Provided further, That if at any time the Under Secretary of War deems the security furnished by the Contractor inadequate, the Contractor shall furnish such additional security as shall be satisfactory to the Under Secretary of War.

(c) Until all advance payments hereunder are liquidated, all funds received as advance payments under this contract together with all funds received as reimbursements for the cost of the work under Article ------ of this contract, exclusive of the Contractor's fixed fee, shall be deposited in a special bank account, or accounts at a member bank or banks of the Federal Reserve System or any "insured" bank within the meaning of the Act creating the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Act of August 23, 1935; 49 Stat. 684, as amended; 12 U.S.C. 264) separate from the Contractor's general or other funds. Such special bank account or accounts shall be so designated as to indicate clearly to the bank their special character and purpose, and the balance in such account or accounts shall be used by the Contractor exclusively as a revolving fund for carrying out the purposes of this contract and any amendments thereto, and not for other business of the Contractor. Any balances from time to time in such special account or accounts shall at all times secure the repayment of the advances in connection with which the special account or accounts are opened, and the Government shall have a lien upon such balances to secure the repayment of such advances, which lien shall be superior to any lien of the bank or any other person upon such account or accounts by virtue of assignment to it of such contract or otherwise; Provided: That the bank shall be under no liability to any party hereto for the withdrawal of any funds from said special account upon checks properly endorsed and signed by the Contractor, except that after the receipt by the bank of written directions from the ---------- or his duly authorized representative, the bank shall act thereon and be under no liability to any party hereto for any action taken in accordance with the said written directions. Any instructions or written directions received by the bank through the Contracting Officer upon War Department stationery and purporting to be signed by, or by the direction of, the ---------- or his duly authorized
(Chief of technical service)
(Chief of technical service)
representative, shall, insofar as the rights, duties, and liabilities of the bank are concerned, be conclusively deemed to have been properly issued and filed with the bank by the ---------- or his duly authorized representative.
(Chief of technical service)

(d) It is agreed that the aggregate of the advance payments outstanding under this contract, together with funds received as reimbursement for the cost of the work by the Contractor under Article ------ of this contract, shall, at no time, exceed the total estimated cost of the work under this contract as it may be revised from time to time, and any such excess shall be immediately repaid by the Contractor to the Government or if any reimbursement is due from the Government to the Contractor, shall be deducted therefrom: Provided, however, That if the total cost of the work under this contract shall be in excess of the amount so paid to the Contractor, including said advance payments, the Government upon presentation of satisfactory evidence shall currently and promptly reimburse the Contractor to the extent of such excess cost (subject to any delay in the availability of appropriated funds).

(e) If, upon completion of this contract, or upon the termination thereof for other than the fault of the Contractor, the advance payments made to the Contractor in respect of this contract have not been fully liquidated in the manner herein provided, the unliquidated balance of such advance payments shall be deducted from any payments otherwise due the Contractor in respect of this contract; and if the sum or sums due the Contractor be insufficient to cover such balance, the deficiency shall be paid by the Contractor in cash forthwith after demand and final audit by the Government of all accounts hereunder in respect of this contract: Provided, however, That in the event of such termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor, such deduction shall not be made prior to final audit unless, and only to the extent that, the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative shall determine that such action is reasonably required in order to secure the eventual repayment in full to the Government of such unliquidated advance payments. In the event of cancellation or termination of this contract because of the fault of the Contractor, the Contractor, notwithstanding any ultimate rights to be reimbursed, agrees to return to the Government, upon demand, without set-off of any sums alleged to be due the Contractor, the unliquidated balance of any advance payment. Furthermore, if, in the opinion of the ---------- or
(Chief of technical service)
his duly authorized representative, the unobligated balance of the advance payments made by the Government under paragraph (a) hereof exceeds the amount necessary for the current needs of the Contractor, as determined by the ---------- or his
(Chief of technical service)
duly authorized representative, the amount of such excess shall, upon demand by the ---------- or his duly authorized
representative, be promptly returned to the Government and will be credited against the balance due the Government on advances previously made. If the demand made in any event set forth in this paragraph is not met upon receipt of such demand by the Contractor, the amount demanded will bear interest at the rate of six percent (6%) rather than two and one-half percent (2½ %) per annum from the date of the receipt of the demand until payment is made: Provided, however, That such additional interest over and above the regular two and one-half percent is hereby waived as to any sums paid by the Contractor within 15 days after the amount becomes due hereunder. If and when the Contractor has, by means of deductions or otherwise, reimbursed the Government in full for payments made, any money remaining in the special bank account or accounts shall be free and clear of any lien hereunder, and the bank or banks concerned shall have authority to pay same to the Contractor and shall thereupon be relieved of any further obligation to the Government on account thereof.

(f) On the unliquidated balance of the advance payments outstanding, the Contractor agrees to pay interest at the rate of two and one-half percent (2½ %) per annum. Such interest shall be computed at the end of each calendar month on the average daily balance of the principal of the unliquidated advance payments outstanding. In determining such balance, charges on account of the advance payments to the Contractor hereunder shall be made as of the dates of the checks therefor; credits resulting from disbursements made by the Contractor which are applied against advance payments shall be made upon the approval of the vouchers therefor by the disbursing officer, as of the dates respectively upon which the Contractor presents to the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative full and accurate data for the preparation of each such voucher which date shall, as to each such voucher, be certified by the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative on the face thereof; and credits arising from cash repayments to the Government by the Contractor shall be made as of the dates the checks therefor are received by the disbursing officer. As soon as such monthly computations shall have been made, the interest charge so determined shall be deducted from any payments on account of the fixed fee which may be made to the Contractor from time to time under this contract. In the event the accrued interest exceeds any such payment, the excess of such interest shall be carried forward and deducted from subsequent payments on account of the fixed fee. The interest shall not be compounded, and shall, subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) hereof, cease to accrue upon the termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor, or upon the date found by the Contracting Officer to be the date upon which the Contractor completed his performance under the contract.

(g) The Contractor shall, at all times, afford to the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, proper facilities for the inspection and audit of the Contractor's accounts, and the Contractor hereby agree that the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, shall have the right so far as the Contractor's rights are concerned, during business hours, to inspect and make copies of any entries in the books and records of the bank or banks relating to the said special account or accounts.

(h) Subject to the approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative the Contractor may make payments to subcontractors and materialmen in advance out of the special account, for labor or services, or to pay for materials in advance of delivery at the site of the work or at an approved storage site. Such subadvances shall not exceed ------ percent (------%) of the subcontract price or estimated cost, as the case may be, and the subcontractor or materialmen to whom such advances are made shall furnish adequate security therefor. Unless other security is furnished, covenants in subcontracts, expressly made for the benefit of the Government, providing for a subspecial account with Government lien thereon and for a Government lien on or title to property, tangible or intangible, purchased from the special account, and imposing upon the subcontractor substantially the same duties and giving the Government substantially the same rights as are provided herein between the Government and the Contractor, have been prescribed by the Under Secretary of War as minimum adequate security for such subadvances.

(i) Any assignment of moneys due or to become due under this contract shall be subordinate to the rights or claims of the Government arising under this contract or any amendment thereto by virtue of any advance payments authorized herein or otherwise; Provided, That, if at any time any claim arising under this contract is assigned or purportedly assigned in any manner inconsistent with the said rights of the Government, the---------- or his duly authorized representative shall have the right to suspend further advance payments without notice.

§ 803.348b Advance payments; cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts; without interest. A clause substantially as follows will be included in cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts when it is contemplated that advance payments without interest will be made thereon:

Advance payments. (a) At any time and from time to time after the execution of this contract, the Government at the request of the Contractor and subject to the approval of the ---------- or his duly authorized representative, or the person to whom authority to make advance payments has been delegated, as to the present need therefor shall advance to the Contractor, without payment of interest thereon by the Contractor, sums not to exceed ---------- per cent (----%) of the estimated cost of this contract (exclusive of the Contractor's fixed fee), as it may be amended from time to time.

(b) As a condition precedent to the making of any advance payment or payments as hereinbefore provided, the Contractor shall furnish the Government with such adequate security as the Under Secretary of War or the person to whom authority has been delegated to make advance payments shall prescribed: Provided: That, if other security is not prescribed, the terms of this contract shall be considered adequate security for such advance payments: And provided further, That if at any time the Under Secretary of War deems the security furnished by the Contractor inadequate, the Contractor shall furnish such additional security as shall be satisfactory to the Under Secretary of War.

(c) Until all advance payments hereunder are liquidated, all funds received as advance payments under this contract together with all funds received as reimbursements for the cost of the work under this contract, exclusive of the Contractor's fixed fee, shall be deposited in a special bank account or accounts at a member bank or banks of the Federal Reserve System or any "insured" bank within the meaning of the Act creating the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (Act of August 23, 1935; 49 Stat. 684) as amended (12 U.S.C. 264) separate from the Contractor's general or other funds. Such special bank account or accounts shall be so designated as to indicate clearly to the bank their special character and purpose, and the balance in such account or accounts shall be used by the Contractor exclusively as a revolving fund for carrying out the purposes of this contract and any amendments thereto and not for other business of the Contractor. Any balances from time to time in such special account or accounts shall at all times secure the repayment of the advances in connection with which the special account or accounts are opened, and the Government shall have a lien upon such balances to secure the repayment of such advances, which lien shall be superior to any lien of the bank or any other person upon such account or accounts by virtue of assignment to it of this contract or otherwise; Provided: That the bank shall be under no liability to any party hereto for the withdrawal of any funds from said special account upon checks, properly endorsed and signed by the Contractor, except that after the receipt by the bank of written directions from the ---------- or his duly authorized representative, the bank shall act thereon and be under no liability to any party hereto for any action taken in accordance with the said written directions. Any instructions or written directions received by the bank through the Contracting Officer upon War Department stationery and purporting to be signed by, or by the direction of, the ---------- or his duly authorized
(Chief of technical service)
(Chief of technical service)
representative, shall, in so far as the rights, duties, and liabilities of the bank are concerned, be conclusively deemed to have been properly issued and filed with the bank by the ---------- or his duly authorized representative.
(Chief of technical service)

(d) It is agreed that the aggregate of the advance payments outstanding under this contract together with funds received as reimbursement for the cost of the work by the Contractor under Article ------ of this contract shall, at no time, exceed the total estimated cost of the work under this contract as it may be revised from time to time and any such excess shall be immediately repaid by the Contractor to the Government or if any reimbursement is due from the Government to the Contractor, shall be deducted therefrom; Provided, however, That if the total cost of the work under this contract shall be in excess of the amount so paid to the Contractor, including said advance payments, the Government upon presentation of satisfactory evidence shall currently and promptly reimburse the Contractor to the extent of such excess cost (subject to any delay in the availability of appropriated funds).

(e) If, upon completion of this contract, or upon the termination thereof for other than the fault of the Contractor, the advance payments made to the Contractor in respect of this contract have not been fully liquidated in the manner herein provided, the unliquidated balance of such advance payments shall be deducted from any payments otherwise due the Contractor in respect of this contract; and if the sum or sums due the Contractor be insufficient to cover such balance, the deficiency shall be paid by the Contractor in cash forthwith after demand and final audit by the Government of all accounts hereunder in respect of this contract; Provided, however, That in the event of such termination of the contract for other than the fault of the Contractor, such deduction shall not be made prior to final audit unless, and only to the extent that, the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative shall determine that such action is reasonably required in order to secure the eventual repayment in full to the Government of such unliquidated advance payments. In the event of cancellation or termination of this contract because of the fault of the Contractor, the Contractor, notwithstanding any ultimate rights to be reimbursed, agrees to return to the Government, upon demand, without set-off of any sums alleged to be due the Contractor, the unliquidated balance of any advance payment. Furthermore, if, in the opinion of the ---------- or
(Chief of technical service)
his duly authorized representative, the unobligated balance of the advance payments made by the Government under paragraph (a) hereof exceeds the amount necessary for the current needs of the Contractor, as determined by the ---------- or his
(Chief of technical service)
duly authorized representative, the amount of such excess shall, upon demand by the ---------- or his duly authorized
(Chief of technical service)
representative, be promptly returned to the Government and will be credited against the balance due the Government on advances previously made. If the demand made in any event set forth in this paragraph is not met upon receipt of such demand by the Contractor, the amount demanded will bear interest at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum from the date of the receipt of the demand until payment is made; Provided, however, That such payment of interest is hereby waived as to any sum paid by the Contractor within 15 days after the amount becomes due hereunder. If and when the Contractor has, by means of deductions or otherwise, reimbursed the Government in full for payments made, any money remaining in the special bank account or accounts shall be free and clear of any lien hereunder and the bank or banks concerned shall have authority to pay same to the Contractor and shall thereupon be relieved of any further obligation to the Government on account thereof.

(f) The Contractor shall, at all times, afford to the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative, proper facilities for the inspection and audit of the Contractor's accounts, and the Contractor hereby agrees that the Contracting Officer, or his duly authorized representative shall have the right so far as the Contractor's rights are concerned, during business hours, to inspect and make copies of any entries in the books and records of the bank or banks relating to the said special account or accounts.

(g) Subject to the approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative the Contratcor may make payments to subcontractors and materialmen in advance out of the special account, for labor or services, or to pay for materials in advance of delivery at the site of the work or at an approved storage site. Such subadvances shall not exceed ------ percent (%) of the subcontract price or estimated cost, as the case may be, and the subcontractor or materialmen to whom such advances are made shall furnish adequate security therefor. Unless other security is furnished, covenants in subcontracts, expressly made for the benefit of the Government, providing for a subspecial account with Government lien thereon and for a Government lien on or title to property, tangible or intangible, purchased from the special account, and imposing upon the subcontractor substantially the same duties and giving the Government substantially the same rights as are provided herein between the Government and the Contractor, have been prescribed by the Under Secretary of War as minimum adequate security for such subadvances.

(h) Any assignment of moneys due or to become due under this contract shall be subordinate to the rights or claims of the Government arising under this contract or any amendment thereto by virtue of any advance payments authorized herein or otherwise, Provided That, if at any time any claim arising under this contract is assigned or purportedly assigned in any manner inconsistent with the said rights of the Government, the _____ or his duly authorized representative shall have the right to suspend further advance payments without notice.

§ 803.349 Advance payments; additional provision. The following sentences may be inserted immediately following the second sentence of clause (c) of the Advance Payments Articles set forth in §§ 803.347 and 803.348 when (a) a contractor has more than one contract with the supply service concerned and segregation of materials and separate accounting between the contracts are difficult or impracticable and (b) the contracts to be included within the pooling arrangement run concurrently or substantially overlap each other in time of performance:

When so authorized in writing by the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative, funds received as advance payments under this contract and any other contract or contracts now in existence or hereafter entered into between the _____ (Chief of technical service)
_____ and the Contractor, together with any or all payments under this contract and such other contracts which are required to be deposited in a special account, may be considered to be a single revolving fund which may be used by the Contractor for the purposes of any or all of said contracts without regard to the origin of such funds. In such event, any provision of this contract inconsistent with the foregoing provision shall be automatically modified accordingly.

Under like circumstances a similar insertion may be made after the second sentences of Article 3 of War Department Contract Forms Numbers 20 and 23. (See §§ 813.1320 and 813.1323).

§ 803.349a Advance payments; optional amendment to clause in § 803.348a. (a) The following sentence may be inserted immediately following the third sentence of paragraph (f) of the advance payments article set forth in § 803.348a, either before or after termination, when it is desired to make partial payments to subcontractors in accordance with § 815.654 (a) (2):

When the work under this contract is terminated in whole or in part and partial payments are made to subcontractors against their termination claims out of the revolving fund set up under paragraph (c) hereof, the average daily balance of the principal of the unliquidated advance payments will be reduced for the purpose of the computation of interest by the amount of such partial payments from the time such payments are made until the contractor is reimbursed for termination settlements with such subcontractors.

(b) If the article in § 803.348a is amended as provided for in (a) above, the following new clause also should be inserted in the article:

Subject to the approval of the Contracting Officer or his duly authorized representative the Contractor may, in the event of the termination of this contract in whole or in part, make partial payments to subcontractors and suppliers out of the special account against their termination claims without regard to the provisions of paragraph (h) hereof.

(c) Under like circumstances similar insertions may be made in War Department Contract Form Number 21. (See § 813.1321.)

§ 803.350 Termination clause. The following clause will be incorporated in all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee construction contracts without deviation:

Termination for convenience of the Government. 1. The Government may terminate this contract at any time by a notice in writing from the Contracting Officer to the Contractor. Such termination shall be effective in the manner and upon the date specified in said notice and shall be without prejudice to any claims which the Government may have against the Contractor. Upon receipt of such notice, the Contractor shall, unless the notice directs otherwise, immediately discontinue all work and the placing of all orders for materials, facilities, and supplies in connection with performance of this contract and shall proceed to cancel promptly all existing orders and terminate all subcontracts insofar as such orders and/or subcontracts are chargeable to this contract.

2. If this contract is terminated for the fault of the Contractor, the Contracting Officer may enter upon the premises and take possession for the purpose of completing the work contemplated by this contract, of any or all materials, tools, machinery, equipment, and appliances which may be owned by or in the possession of the Contractor and all options, privileges, and rights, and may complete or employ any other person or persons to complete said work. Following such termination, rental shall be paid to the Contractor for such construction plant or parts thereof as he may own, and which the Government may retain at rates prescribed in Article ——.

3. Upon the termination of this contract, full and complete settlement of all claims of the Contractor arising out of this contract shall be made as follows:

a. The Government shall assume and become liable for all obligations, commitments, and claims that the Contractor may have theretofore in good faith undertaken or incurred in connection with said work, the cost of which would be reimbursable in accordance with the provisions of this contract; and the Contrator shall, as a condition of receiving the payments mentioned in this article, execute and deliver all such papers and take all such steps as the Contracting Officer may require for the purpose of fully vesting in the Government, the rights and benefits of the Contractor under such obligations or commitments.

b. The Government shall reimburse the Contractor for all expenditures made in accordance with Article ——— and not previously reimbursed.

c. The Government shall reimburse the Contractor for such further expenditures after the date of termination for the protection of Government property and for accounting services in connection with the settlement of this contract as are required or approved by the Contracting Officer.

d. The Government shall pay to the Contractor any unpaid balance for the rental of the Contractor's equipment in accordance with Article ——— to date of termination.

e. If the contract is terminated for the convenience of the Government, the Contractor will be paid that proportion of the prescribed fee which the work actually completed bears to the entire work under this contract less fee payments previously made. If the contract is terminated due to fault of the Contractor, no additional payments on account of the fee will be made.

f. The obligation of the Government to make any of the payments required by this Article, or by Article ——— of this contract, shall be subject to any unsettled claims in connection with this contract which the Government may have against the Contractor.

4. Prior to final settlement the Contractor shall furnish a release as required in Article ——— hereof.

§ 803.351 Price adjustment articles. The price adjustment articles set forth in this section may be used when it is desired to provide for Price Adjustment under certain circumstances. Such articles will be used in accordance with the instructions contained in §§ 812.1232 and 812.1233.

(a) Article ——. Price adjustment for costs of natural and synthetic rubber.

(a) The Contractor represents that the prices under this contract have been fixed on the assumption that natural and synthetic rubber to be used by it and its subcontractors in the performance of this contract will be obtained at the following prices specified in the agreement between Rubber Reserve Company and the War Department:

Type of rubber:	Estimated pound quantities	Price per pound (cents)
Natural rubber	———	22½
GRS synthetic (Buna S)	———	18½
GRI synthetic (Butyl)	———	15½
GRM synthetic (Neoprene, type GN)	———	27½

(b) If that agreement between Rubber Reserve Company and the War Department is hereafter revised or terminated, and the prices payable by War Department contractors and subcontractors for natural or such synthetic rubber are increased above or reduced below the prices per pound specified in (a) above, the parties hereto will equitably adjust the contract price hereunder to reflect any increase or decrease in the costs of the Contractor in performing this contract to the extent caused by such change in the price of natural or such synthetic rubber. If the parties fail to agree upon the adjustment to be made the dispute shall be determined in accordance with the "Disputes" article hereof. Any adjustment hereunder shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract.

(b) Article ——. Price adjustment for freight costs on allocations.

(a) The Contractor represents that the contract price is based on procuring any steel needed for the performance of this contract from the plant of the _____ Company located at _____ at a net cost to the Contractor of $_____ per ton for freight.

(b) If as a result of priority or allocation orders by any Government agency the Contractor is unable to procure all or any part of the steel needed for the performance of this contract from that source and is required to obtain all or part of such steel from some other point of origin, the parties will make an equitable adjustment in the contract price for any increase or decrease in freight costs to the Contractor resulting from such change in source, in accordance with section (c).

(c) The Contractor will notify the Contracting Officer within 30 days after it is first required to obtain steel from some other source, or within such further period as the Contracting Officer may allow before the date of final settlement of the contract. The Contractor will keep accurate records, based on his regular system of inventory accounting, of all such material so purchased for the performance of this contract and of the freight paid thereon. After the Contractor has obtained all of such material needed hereunder, he shall promptly submit to the Contracting Officer a statement showing the quantities of such material purchased hereunder and actual freight paid thereon. The Contracting Officer may agree with the Contractor for such adjustment, if any, in the contract price as he deems justified. If the parties fail to agree upon the adjustment to be made, the dispute will be determined in accordance with Article ——— (Disputes). The adjustment shall be evidenced by supplemental agreement to this contract.

(c) Article ——. Price adjustments for changes in delivery schedules.

(a) If the Government reduces the rate of deliveries hereunder by partial termination for the convenience of the Government, or if, without fault or negligence on the part of the Contractor, the Government or any of its agencies or instrumentalities, by any preference, priority or allocation order, or by any other act, at any time prevents the Contractor from delivering any of the items under this contract in accordance with the delivery schedules then in effect, and such reduction or delay so changes or interrupts the Contractor's schedules of production as substantially to affect the cost of any of the items procured hereunder, the Government will make an equitable adjustment in the contract price and time for performance hereunder.

(b) The Contractor shall assert any claim for adjustment under this Article within thirty (30) days after the date any such reduction is ordered or any such delay first occurs or within such further period as the Contracting Officer may allow before the date of final settlement of the contract. The Contracting Officer may agree with the Contractor upon such adjustment, if any, in the contract price or time of performance hereunder or both, as he deems justified. If the parties fail to agree as to the cause of the delay or upon the adjustment to be made the dispute shall be determined in accordance with Article ——— (Disputes). The adjustment shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract.

(d) Article for use in contracts for the purchase of lumber; coal; or basic steel products from steel mills (Schedule 1 of CMP Regulation 1, as amended from time to time).

Article ——. Escalation in relation to OPA ceiling prices. The contractor represents and warrants that the prices shown herein are not in excess of the maximum prices established by the Office of Price Administration, or other authorized government agency, and in effect upon the date hereof for the supplies to be furnished hereunder. In the event such maximum price applicable to any item is increased or decreased the price payable for any subsequent delivery of such item made in accordance with the provisions of the contract, shall be increased, or decreased, by the same number of cents, or fraction thereof, per unit, that such maximum price may be increased, or decreased, up to and including the date of delivery.

NOTE: Where the foregoing article is used, the following clause may be added:

Price adjustment in relation to other factors. In the event that the establishment and maintenance by the Office of Price Administration or other Government agency of maximum prices for the type of [lumber] [coal] [steel] covered by this contract is terminated during the contract period, and if during the remainder of such period changes should occur in working hours, wage scales, or other conditions of employment, which changes are a part of the general revision of such conditions [within the producing district where the coal is mined], the parties hereto, upon the request in writing of one to the other within 30 days after the effective date upon which any such change occurs, may redetermine by negotiation the unit price affected: Provided, That pending such negotiation the contractor shall continue deliveries hereunder. Any price redetermination as herein provided shall be applicable to all deliveries after the effective date upon which the change occurs permitting redetermination as herein provided.

(e) [Deleted]

(f) Article for use only in long term contracts (six months or more) for the purchase of gasoline and fuel oil (other than aviation gasoline).

Article ——. Escalation in relation to OPA ceiling prices.—The contractor represents and warrants that the prices shown herein are not in excess of the maximum prices established by the Office of Price Administration, or other authorized government agency, and in effect upon the date hereof for the supplies to be furnished hereunder. In the event such maximum price applicable to any item is increased or decreased the price payable for any subsequent delivery of such item, made in accordance with the provisions of the contract, shall be increased by the same number of cents or fractions thereof, per unit, that such maximum price may be increased up to and including the date of delivery unless such price is redetermined as hereinafter provided. In the event such maximum price is decreased, the price payable for any deliveries made subsequent to the reduction shall not be changed (except that if such maximum price shall be below the contract price, the contract price shall be reduced to the maximum price) unless such price is redetermined as hereinafter provided. Within sixty days after the date of any change in such maximum price, the contractor, if required by the contracting officer so to do, shall furnish the contracting officer with such pertinent data, as he may reasonably require showing the extent to which the factors causing such change are applicable to the supplies to be furnished. Any accounting data shall be that resulting from customary accounting practice in the industry. Upon the basis of such information the parties, by negotiation, shall redetermine the price applicable to such items, which redetermined price shall be effective from the date of the change in such maximum price until another change occurs in said maximum price. In the event of the failure of the parties to agree upon a redetermined price the contracting officer may terminate at the end of said sixty-day period (and within fifteen days thereafter) the right of the contractor to proceed with further deliveries of such item without liability upon either party except liability incurred with respect to deliveries made or orders placed prior to the date of termination. Failure on the part of the contracting officer to terminate the contract under the provisions of this paragraph shall not affect the right of the government to terminate under any other provisions of this contract.

§ 803.352 Delays-damages clause. Every lump-sum supply contract, regardless of subject matter except contracts for an amount of less than $5,000, will contain a clause substantially as follows:

Delays-Damages. (a) If the Contractor refuses or fails to make deliveries of the supplies within the time specified in Article ——, or any extension thereof, the Government, subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) below, may, by a notice in writing from the Contracting Officer to the Contractor of its intention to terminate under this Article, terminate the right of the Contractor to proceed with delivery of the supplies or such parts thereof as to which there has been delay. In such event, the Government may (1) require the Contractor to deliver to the Government such completed supplies, partially completed supplies and materials, parts, plans, drawings, information, and contract rights of the Contractor, (hereinafter called manufacturing material), as the Contractor has produced or acquired for the performance of such portion of this contract as to which the right to proceed with delivery is terminated, and accomplish or secure the completion or manufacture of supplies therewith; and, in addition thereto or in lieu thereof (2) purchase in the open market or secure by contract or otherwise, the manufacture and delivery of supplies similar to those called for by this contract in an amount which together with the supplies, if any, completed under (1) above shall not exceed the amount of supplies the right to proceed with delivery of which is terminated. If delivery is made pursuant to clause (1) of the preceding sentence the Government shall pay to the Contractor, less any previous payments, the following: (a) For each unit of the completed supplies accepted by the Government the unit contract price, and (b) for all partially completed supplies and manufacturing material delivered, the unit contract price for each unit of supplies completed or manufactured therewith, less the cost to the Government of completion or manufacture, but if that cost exceeds the unit contract price, the Contractor and his sureties shall be liable for such excess. If the cost to the Government of supplies procured in accordance with clause (2) above exceeds the corresponding unit price or prices under this contract, the Contractor and his sureties shall be liable for such excess.

(b) The Government shall not have a right of termination under this Article if (i) the delay of the Contractor in making deliveries is an excusable delay, as hereinafter defined, and (ii) the Contractor notifies the Contracting Officer in writing of such delay and the cause thereof, within ten days from the beginning thereof or within such further period as the Contracting Officer shall, with the approval of the Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative, prior to the date of final settlement of the contract, grant for the giving of such notice. Upon receipt of such notification from the Contractor, the Contracting Officer shall ascertain the cause of the delay, and his findings of fact thereon shall be final and conclusive on the parties hereto, subject to appeal within thirty days by the Contractor to the Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative, whose decision on such appeal as to the cause of delay shall be final and conclusive on the parties hereto. The term "excusable delay" as used in this paragraph means any delay in making deliveries which results without fault or negligence on the part of the Contractor and which is due to unforeseeable causes beyond his control including, without being limited to, acts of God or of the public enemy, any preference, priority or allocation order issued by the Government or any other act of the Government, fires, floods, epidemics, quarantine restrictions, strikes, freight embargoes, and unusually severe weather; and, unless the Contracting Officer shall determine that the materials or supplies to be furnished under a subcontract are procurable in the open market, any delay of a Subcontractor which results without fault or negligence on the part of the Contractor, and which is due to unforeseeable causes beyond the control of the Contractor, including without being limited to the types of causes above enumerated.

(a) If desired, paragraph (b) of the clause set forth above may be modified in either of the following manners:

(1) The portion of said paragraph (b) commencing with the word "and" in the fifth line and ending with the word "Contractor" in the fifteenth line of that paragraph, may be eliminated. In such event, the "(1)" in the third line of that paragraph will be eliminated, the comma after the word "defined" in the fifth line will be changed to a period, and the word "the" in the fifteenth line will be changed to "The".

(2) There may be substituted for the first sentence of said paragraph (b), the following sentence:

The Government shall not have a right of termination under this Article if (i) the delay of the Contractor in making deliveries is an excusable delay, as hereinafter defined, and (ii) the Contractor notifies the Contracting Officer in writing of such delay and the cause thereof, prior to the date of final settlement of the contract.

(b) If desired, the word "unforeseeable", contained in the clause set forth above, may be omitted. If the word is omitted, and bids are being solicited informally or otherwise, and there exists some foreseeable and probable cause of delay which would be beyond the control of the contractor, care should be exercised in evaluating the various bids submitted. It is possible under those circumstances for contractor "A" to submit a bid which requires performance within a time schedule which could not possibly be adhered to if such cause of delay materialized. Under the delays-damages clause, as modified in accordance with this paragraph, the failure to perform within the time schedule might well be construed as an excusable delay. Contractor "B", although capable of performing with as great despatch as "A" may allow for the probable cause of delay, and submit a bid calling for deliveries at a date later than that offered by "A". In evaluating the two bids, the fact that "A" has not made allowance for the probable cause of delay should be taken into account.

(c) For the purpose of the first sentence of paragraph (b) of the Delays-Damages clause set forth above, and for the purpose of any like provision contained in any contract clause which has been inserted in a contract in lieu of said Delays-Damages clause, the chief of the technical service or such person as he may designate shall be deemed to be the "duly authorized representative of the Secretary of War". If desired, the term "chief of technical service or his duly authorized representative" may be substituted for the term "Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative".

§ 803.352a Provision for liquidated damages. Except with the permission of the chief of the technical service concerned (which may be granted with respect to contracts individually or by class), or in accordance with general instructions given by him, no contract shall provide for liquidated damages in the event of default. Where a contract provides for liquidated damages and a default takes place, action will be taken, subject to the provisions of §§ 803.308e, 803.379 and 803.380, promptly on behalf of the Government to enforce any remedies available under the contract. So far as possible, such action will be taken in such manner as will prevent the inequitable accumulation of liquidated damages.

§ 803.353 Walsh-Healey Act; representations and stipulations. All supply contracts subject to the Walsh-Healey Act (Act of June 30, 1936; Public Law No. 846, 74th Congress; 49 Stat 2036; 41 U.S.C. 35–45) (see § 809.916 and sections following), except as provided in paragraph (d), will contain the following clause without deviation:

Representations and stipulations pursuant to the Walsh-Healey Act:

(a) The contractor is the manufacturer of or a regular dealer in the materials, supplies, articles, or equipment to be manufactured, or used in the performance of the contract.

(b) All persons employed by the contractor in the manufacture or furnishing of the materials, supplies, articles, or equipment used in the performance of the contract will be paid, without subsequent deduction or rebate on any account, not less than the minimum wages as determined by the Secretary of Labor to be the prevailing minimum wages for persons employed on similar work or in the particular or similar industries or groups of industries currently operating in the locality in which the materials, supplies, articles, or equipment are to be manufactured or furnished under the contract: Provided, however, That this stipulation with respect to minimum wages shall apply only to purchases or contracts relating to such industries as have been the subject matter of a determination by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) No person employed by the contractor in the manufacture or furnishing of the materials, supplies, articles, or equipment used in the performance of the contract shall be permitted to work in excess of 8 hours in any 1 day or in excess of 40 hours in any 1 week unless such person is paid such applicable overtime rate as has been set by the Secretary of Labor: Provided, however, That the provisions of this stipulation shall not apply to any employer who shall have entered into an agreement with his employees pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs 1 or 2 of subsection (b) of section 7 of an act entitled "The Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938": Provided further, That in the case of such an employer, during the life of the agreement referred to, the applicable overtime rate set by the Secretary of Labor shall be paid for hours in excess of 12 in any 1 day or in excess of 56 in any 1 week and if such overtime is not paid, the employer shall be required to compensate his employees during that week at the applicable overtime rate set by the Secretary of Labor for hours in excess of 8 in any 1 day or in excess of 40 in any 1 week.

(d) No male person under 16 years of age and no female person under 18 years of age and no convict labor will be employed by the contractor in the manufacture or production or furnishing of any of the materials, supplies, articles, or equipment included in the contract.

(e) No part of the contract will be performed nor will any of the materials, supplies, articles, or equipment to be manufactured or furnished under said contract be manufactured or fabricated in any plants, factories, buildings, or surroundings or under working conditions which are unsanitary or hazardous or dangerous to the health and safety of employees engaged in the performance of the contract. Compliance with the safety, sanitary, and factory inspection laws of the State in which the work or part thereof is to be performed shall be prima facie evidence of compliance with this subsection.

(f) Any breach or violation of any of the foregoing representations and stipulations shall render the party responsible therefor liable to the United States of America for liquidated damages, in addition to damages for any other breach of the contract, in the sum of $10 per day for each male person under 16 years of age or each female person under 18 years of age, or each convict laborer knowingly employed in the performance of the contract, and a sum equal to the amount of any deductions, rebates, refunds or underpayment of wages due to any employee engaged in the performance of the contract; and, in addition, the agency of the United States entering into the contract shall have the right to cancel same and to make open-market purchases or enter into other contracts for the completion of the original contract, charging any additional cost to the original contractor. Any sums of money due to the United States of America by reason of any violation of any of the representations and stipulations of the contract as set forth herein may be withheld from any amounts due on the contract or may be recovered in a suit brought in the name of the United States of America by the Attorney General thereof. All sums withheld or recovered as deductions, rebates, refunds, or underpayments of wages shall be held in a special deposit account and shall be paid, on order of the Secretary of Labor, directly to the employees who have been paid less than minimum rates of pay as set forth in such contracts and on whose account such sums were withheld or recovered: Provided, That no claims by employees for such payments shall be entertained unless made within 1 year from the date of actual notice to the contractor of the withholding or recovery of such sums by the United States of America.

(g) The contractor shall post a copy of the stipulations in a prominent and readily accessible place at the site of the contract work and shall keep such employment records as are required in the Regulations under the act available for inspection by authorized representatives of the Secretary of Labor.

(h) The foregoing stipulation shall be deemed inoperative if this contract is for a definite amount not in excess of $10,000.

(a) Changes in regulations under Walsh-Healey Act. From time to time there are issued by the Secretary of Labor changes in regulations under the Walsh-Healey Act which have the effect of modifying the standard representations and stipulations which are required to be inserted in supply contracts subject to that act (see, for example, § 809.917 (b) (5)). Accordingly, if desired, there may be added to the representations and stipulations set forth above an additional paragraph as follows:

(i) The foregoing representations and stipulations shall be subject to all applicable regulations, determinations and exemptions of the Secretary of Labor now or hereafter in effect.

(b) Convict labor. For discussion of the provision with respect to convict labor contained in paragraph (d) of the representations and stipulations set forth above, see § 809.903 (b).

(c) Minimum wage determinations under the Walsh-Healey Act. (1) It is not necessary that contracts subject to the Walsh-Healey Act contain a statement as to the minimum wage determination which is applicable.

(2) Provisions of subparagraph (1) above do not however, affect the requirement that the applicable minimum wage determination, if any, be set forth in the individual purchase action report (see § 802.293).

(d) Incorporation by reference of Walsh-Healey Act stipulations. By Circular Letter No. 12–42, dated January 4, 1943, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions of the Department of Labor permitted the incorporation of the Walsh-Healey Act representations and stipulations by reference. Accordingly, notwithstanding the provisions of this section, such representations and stipulations may be incorporated by reference. The following language is suggested.

The representations and stipulations required by Section 1 of the Act of June 30, 1936 (Walsh-Healey Act, Public No. 846, 74th Congress) to be included in all contracts therein specified are hereby incorporated and made a part of this contract with the same force and effect as if fully set forth in the contract.

If desired, the following sentence may be added:

Such representations and stipulations shall be subject to all applicable regulations, determinations, and exemptions of the Secretary of Labor now or hereafter in effect.

(Compare paragraph (a).)

§ 803.354 Notice to Government of labor disputes. The following clause will be contained without deviation in all contracts except (1) those to which it is clearly inapplicable (2) those which are written on a standard form of contract, such as War Department Contract Form No. 17 (§ 813.1317), which does not contain the clause:

Notice to the Government of labor disputes. Whenever an actual or potential labor dispute is delaying or threatens to delay the timely performance of this contract, the Contractor will immediately give notice thereof to the[1]_____ Such notice shall include all relevant information with respect to such dispute.

§ 803.355 Assignment of rights; unclassified contracts. In accordance with the Assignment of Claims Act of 1940 every contract which provides for payments aggregating $1,000 or more, with the exception of secret, confidential and restricted contracts, will contain the following clause without deviation:

Assignment of rights hereunder. (a) Claims for monies due or to become due the Contractor from the Government under this contract may be assigned to a bank, trust company or other financing institution, including any Federal lending agency. Any such assignment shall cover all amounts payable under this contract and not already paid, and shall not be made to more than one party, except that any such assignment may be made to one party as agent or trustee for two or more parties participating in such financing.

(b) In the event of any such assignment the assignee shall file four signed copies of a written notice of the assignment, together with one copy of the instrument of assignment, with each of the following:

(i) General Accounting Office;

(ii) the Contracting Officer;

(iii) the surety or sureties upon the bond or bonds, if any, in connection with this contract;

(iv) the officer designated in this contract to make payments thereunder.

(c) Any claim under this contract which has been assigned pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this Article may be further assigned and reassigned to a bank, trust company or other financing institution, including any Federal lending agency. In the event of such further assignment or reassignment the assignee shall file one signed copy of a written notice of the further assignment or reassignment together with a true copy of the instrument of further assignment or reassignment with the contractor; and shall file four signed copies of such written notice and one copy of such instrument with each of the parties designated in the preceding paragraph.

(d) No assignee shall divulge any information concerning the contract except to those persons concerned with the transaction.

(e) Payment to an assignee of any claim under this contract shall not be subject to reduction or set-off for any indebtedness of the assignor to the United States arising independently of this contract.

(f) Indication of the assignment of claim and of any further assignment thereof and the name of the assignee will be made on all vouchers or invoices certified by the contractor.

§ 803.356 Assignment of rights; secret, confidential and restricted contracts. Unless the omission of such provision is authorized by the chief of the technical service concerned, secret, confidential and restricted contracts will contain the following clause without deviation:

Assignment of Rights Hereunder. No claim under this contract shall be assigned. In the event that the omission of the foregoing provision is authorized as aforesaid, the contract will contain without deviation the clause set forth in § 803.355 and there shall be added thereto the following paragraphs without deviation:

(g) In no event shall copies of any plans, specifications, or other similar documents marked "Secret", "Confidential" or "Restricted" and annexed or attached to this contract be furnished to any assignee of any claim arising under this contract or to any other person not entitled to receive the same.

(h) The contractor agrees that he will obtain from the assignee an agreement signed by such assignee similar to that required by paragraph 51, AR 380–5. In such agreement the assignee shall also agree that, in case of further assignment, it will obtain a similar agreement from such assignee.

§ 803.357 Tax articles in fixed price (lump sum) contracts. Forms of tax articles are set forth below in paragraphs (a) and (b). Whichever form is applicable must be used in all contracts executed on or after 1 June 1944 and may be used (in preference to the forms of articles formerly contained in such paragraphs) in contracts executed before that date.

(a) Long form tax article. Except as otherwise stated in paragraphs (b) and (c) all fixed price (lump sum) contracts will include a tax article substantially in the form set forth in this paragraph. Attention is directed to the necessity of including in each contract suitable provisions (see § 805.358) to specify any taxes to be excluded from or included in the contract price otherwise than as provided in such tax article. If desired, the words "of the award of this contract" or "of the bid upon the basis of which this contract was placed" may be substituted for the italicized words "of this contract" in the following article, provided that such substitution is made uniformly throughout the article and that the date of the award or the date of the bid, as the case may be, is specified in the contract.

Article ____. Taxes. (a) Unless otherwise indicated in this contract, (A) the prices herein do not include any state or local sales, use or other tax from which the Contractor or this transaction of the procurement of these supplies or work is exempt, and (B) the prices herein include all applicable Federal taxes and other applicable state and local taxes in effect at the date of this contract. Upon request of the Contractor the Government will issue tax exemption certificates or furnish other similar proof of exemption with respect to all taxes excluded from the price.

(b) If after the date of this contract the Federal Government or any state or local government shall impose, remove or change (including any change by the removal by statute of an exemption available to the Contractor for the purposes of this contract) any duty, sales, use or excise tax or any other tax or charge directly applicable to the supplies or work covered hereby or the materials used in the manufacture thereof or directly upon the importation, production, processing, manufacture, construction, sale or use of such supplies, work or materials, which tax or charge must be borne by the Contractor because of a specific contractual obligation or by operation of law, or, in case of a decrease or elimination of any such tax, where the Contractor is relieved to that extent, and if in case of an increase in such an existing tax or the imposition of such a new tax the Contractor has paid such tax or charge to the Federal Government or to a state or local government, or any other person, then the prices named herein will be increased or decreased accordingly and any amount due to the Contractor as a result of such change will be charged to the Government and entered on vouchers (or invoices) as a separate item: Provided, however, That the Government reserves the right to issue to the Contractor in lieu of such payment a tax exemption certificate or certificates acceptable to the Federal Government or state or local government, as the case may be. The amount of any adjustment pursuant to this paragraph (b) may be determined by a written agreement between the parties hereto. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as requiring the Government to reimburse the Contractor for any Federal, state, or local income taxes, income surtaxes or excess profits taxes, transportation taxes, or taxes on property.

(c) In the case of any state or local tax or charge which the Contractor contends is chargeable to the Government because of the provisions of this Article, or any other provision of this contract, the Contractor agrees to refrain from paying any such tax or charge upon the direction of the Contracting Officer (in which event the Government will save the Contractor harmless from penalties and interest incurred through compliance with the direction of the Contracting Officer not to pay such tax); to take such steps as may be directed by the Government to cause such tax or charge to be paid under protest; to preserve and, if so directed by the Contracting Officer, to cause to be assigned to the Government any and all rights to the abatement or refund of such tax or charge; if so requested, to permit the Government to prosecute any claim, litigation or proceeding for the refund of such tax in the name of the Contractor, and to furnish to the Government all reasonable assistance and cooperation requested by the Government in any litigation or proceeding for the recovery of such tax or charge.

(d) Where any duties or taxes have been included in the contract price (including the price as adjusted under paragraph (b) of this Article) and a refund or drawback is obtained by the Contractor by reason of the export or re-export of supplies covered hereby, or of materials used in the performance of this contract, the amount of such refund or drawback will be paid over to the Government, or credited against amounts due from the Government under this contract: Provided, however, That the Contractor shall not be required to apply for such refund or drawback unless so requested by the Contracting Officer.

If desired the following sentence, or substantially similar language, may be added at the end of paragraph (b) of the foregoing tax article:

For the purposes of any additional procurement of supplies or work called for by any agreement supplemental hereto, the words "date of this contract" shall be deemed to refer to the date of such supplemental agreement.

(b) Short form tax article. (1) The short form tax article set forth below may be used, in lieu of the form set forth in paragraph (a), (i), where the estimated time for performance does not exceed sixty days, (ii) where the contract is executed on a standard form of contract (as that term is defined in § 803.304 (a)) which contains the short form tax article, and (iii) where the contract instrument is a purchase order. The long form tax article (paragraph (a)) may be inserted in lieu of the short form tax article in any standard form of contract which contains the short form tax article.

Article ____. Taxes. Unless otherwise indicated in this contract, (A) the prices herein do not include any state or local sales, use or other tax from which the Contractor or this transaction of the procurement of these supplies is exempt, and (B) the prices herein include all applicable Federal taxes and other applicable state and local taxes in effect at the date of this contract. Upon request of the Contractor the Government will issue tax exemption certificates or furnish other similar proof of exemption with respect to the taxes excluded from the price. Where any duties or taxes have been included in the contract price and a refund or drawback is obtained by the Contractor by reason of the export or re-export of supplies covered hereby, or of materials used in the performance of this contract, the amount of such refund or drawback will be paid over to the Government, or credited against amounts due from the Government under this contract: Provided, however, That the Contractor shall not be required to apply for such refund or drawback unless so requested by the Contracting Officer.

(2) Attention is again directed to the necessity of including in each contract (see § 803.358) suitable provisions to specify any taxes to be excluded from, or included in, the contract price other than as provided in such tax article.

(c) [Deleted.]

(d) State and local taxes. State and local sales or use taxes generally do not apply to sales directly to the United States or to the use of property by the United States (see § 808.831). Special provisions may be included in any contract with respect to any state or local excise tax as to which there is doubt whether an exemption exists applicable to the transaction covered by the contract. Any such special provisions should clearly specify whether such tax is to be included in or excluded from the price and whether the Government must pay or reimburse the contractor for the tax if no exemption is applicable. Contracting officers, so far as is practicable, should take precautions to see that contractors do not include in their bid, or price any amount for (1) any state or local sales or use taxes which do not apply to sales to the Federal Government or to the use of property by the Federal Government, or (2) any other state or local taxes, exemption from which is available in the case of transactions to which the Federal Government is a party.

(e) Omission of standard tax articles. The chief of any technical service may authorize the omission of the tax articles set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section from any contract where they are plainly inapplicable or inappropriate. In any class or classes of contracts for services where a major part of the cost of performance consists of payroll expense, e. g., stevedoring contracts, the chief of any technical service may authorize the inclusion of a provision for price adjustment in the event of changes in payroll taxes with respect to such services. The form of any such provision in general should be similar to the provision found in paragraph (b) of the tax article set out in paragraph (a) of this section but should not be made applicable to taxes other than those paid with respect to the wages of the employees of the particular contractor.

(f) Customs duties. Customs duties are Federal taxes and under the contract clauses set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, will, unless otherwise indicated in the contract, be deemed to be included in the contract price. As to the right to "drawback," see § 805.506.

§ 803.358 Specification of taxes included or excluded; information to bidders. (a) The standard tax articles state that the contract prices include Federal taxes. However, as stated in Part 808 of this chapter, certain exemptions from Federal excise taxes are available to the United States. In the event any contract for the procurement of an item for which an exemption is available to the United States is executed containing one of the standard tax articles, and any Federal tax is to be excluded from the contract price, it will be necessary in such contract to show expressly and accurately the Federal tax so excluded.

(b) Likewise, where any particular state or local tax is included in or excluded from the contract price otherwise than as is stated in the standard provision of the tax article used in the contract, such contract must contain appropriate provisions indicating expressly and accurately the nature of any such particular tax.

(c) Invitations to bid, requests for proposals, specifications, instructions to bidders, and proposals should indicate expressly the types of taxes to be included in or excluded from the contract price and whether tax exemption certificates will be given or required. The tax provisions of each contract must be in conformity with any invitation to bid, specifications and proposals issued or made in connection therewith.

(d) Information with respect to Federal, state or local taxes may be found in Part 808 of this chapter.

§ 803.360 Periodic adjustment of price and exemption from renegotiation. The following articles for periodic adjustment of price will be used in accordance with Part 812, Subpart D, of this chapter.

(a) Form I: Article _____ Periodic adjustment of price.

(a) Price periods. The Government and the Contractor agree to adjust the contract price under this contract periodically in accordance with this article and agree that the performance under this contract will be divided into successive periods for that purpose. The first period will extend from _____ to _____; and the second and each succeeding period will extend for ____ months from the end of the preceding period.

(b) Estimates and prices for first period. (1) The Contractor and the Government have agreed upon the following estimate of costs for the items to be delivered during the first period hereunder.[1]

[1] This breakdown may be altered to suit particular circumstances. Any reserves for contingencies should be stated separately and clearly identified.

A. Factory cost.
1. Direct materials.
2. Direct productive labor.
3. Direct engineering labor.
4. Miscellaneous direct factory charges.
5. Indirect factory expenses[2] (state basis of allocation).
6. Total factory cost.
B. Other manufacturing cost.
C. Miscellaneous direct expenses.
D. Indirect engineering expenses.
E. Expenses of distribution, servicing, and administration.
F. Guarantee expenses.

(2) The Contractor and the Government have agreed upon the price fixed in Article— hereof for the first period. The Contracting Officer hereby finds that the provisions of this contract are adequate to prevent excessive profits hereunder during the first period without any renegotiation pursuant to section 403, the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended. The Contractor and the Government therefore agree that the prices fixed in Article ____ hereof shall be paid for items delivered hereunder during the first period and that such prices for that period shall not be subject to renegotiation under said statute as amended or Article ____ hereof.

(c) Periodic statements. Fifteen days before the end of each period hereunder, except the last, or at such other time or times as the Contracting Officer may fix, the Contractor will submit to the Contracting Officer the following data—

(1) Statements showing the actual cost of producing all items completed for delivery during such period, for which cost figures are available, and such other statements as the Contracting Officer may require.

(2) Estimates of the cost of items to be delivered during the next succeeding period, based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and upon all other relevant factors.

(3) Proposed prices for items to be delivered during the next succeeding period.

(d) Periodic price adjustment—exemptions. (1) Upon the filing of the data required by section (c) hereof, the Contractor and the Contracting Officer will negotiate in good faith to agree upon adjusted cost estimates and prices for items to be delivered during the next succeeding period under this contract.

(2) Prices so negotiated and agreed upon may be in excess of or less than the prices stated in Article ___ hereof. In negotiating such prices consideration will be given to all pertinent factors which have affected the Contractor's costs for items delivered hereunder during any preceding period, or which are likely to affect such costs for items to be delivered hereunder during the next succeeding period, and to all pertinent factors bearing upon the profit margin which is reasonable for the Contractor to earn during the succeeding period. Whenever the Contractor, by skillful management, careful buying, or efficiency in production, has reduced costs experienced during the next preceding period below the estimated amount thereof, and the Government will benefit therefrom by reduced prices from the succeeding period, the contemplated margin of profit for the succeeding period may be increased in recognition of these facts.

(3) After each negotiation, the agreement reached will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract stating the cost estimates and adjusted prices for the succeeding period. In the discretion of the Contracting Officer, the supplemental agreement may contain a finding that the provisions of this contract and said supplemental agreement are adequate to prevent excessive profits during the applicable succeeding period, and an agreement that the prices fixed for such period will not be subject to renegotiation under section 403, the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or under Article ___ hereof.

(4) A disagreement between the Contracting Officer and the Contractor as to an adjusted price for any period will not be subject to Article ___ (Disputes), and during that period the Contractor shall be paid the price fixed for the preceding period.

(e) Payments. During the first period the Government shall pay to the Contractor the price set forth in Article ____ for all items delivered. During each succeeding period the Government will pay to the Contractor the prices negotiated hereunder for items delivered in that period. If the price for any succeeding period hereunder is still under negotiation and not agreed upon at the beginning of that period, then until an adjusted price for that period is agreed upon, the Contractor will be paid the price fixed for the last preceding period; but after the Contractor and Contracting Officer have agreed by supplemental agreement upon the adjusted prices, an amount equal to the difference between the prices paid on the items delivered in that period and such adjusted prices will be added to or deducted from payments for subsequent deliveries under this contract or will be paid by or returned to the Government, as the Contracting Officer may direct.

(f) Accounts and records—statements. The Contractor will maintain books, records, and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract. For this purpose the Contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the Contracting Officer finds that it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. All statements showing costs experienced by the Contractor under this contract will be based upon such books, records, and accounts, and will be certified as correct by two officers of the Contractor or by an independent auditor, approved by the Contracting Officer. The Contractor will submit its books, records, and accounts to such examination and audit as the Contracting Officer may request. The Contractor represents that the estimates of future costs contained in paragraph (b), and hereafter submitted pursuant to paragraph (c) (2) reflect the best judgment of the Contractor as to probable costs on the basis of previous cost experience and all other relevant factors, and contain no provisions for reserves or allowances not revealed therein.

(g) Termination. For the purposes of paragraph (d) of Article ____ hereof, (Termination at the Option of the Government), the following provisions shall govern:

(1) The prices payable for completed articles under paragraph (d) (1) of that Article shall be (i) the prices agreed upon for the price period in which the completed articles were delivered or ready for delivery, if adjusted prices have been agreed upon for that period, or (ii) such estimated prices as the Contracting Officer deems reasonable under all the circumsances, if adjusted prices have not been agreed upon for that period.

(2) The "total contract price" shall be computed on the basis of the prices actually paid or payable for completed articles and, for the remaining articles covered by the contract, shall be based on (i) the prices agreed upon for the price period in which the notice of termination takes effect, if adjusted prices have been agreed upon for that period, or (ii) such estimated prices as the Contracting Officer deems reasonable under all the circumstances, if adjusted prices have not been agreed upon for that period. The "contract price of work not terminated" shall also be computed on the basis of (i) and (ii) above.[3]

(b) [Form II] Article _____. Periodic adjustment of price.

(a) Price periods. The Government and the Contractor recognize that the costs of performing this contract cannot be accurately estimated at the time of its execution and that the price fixed in Article____ may therefore be either too high or too low in the light of actual experience under the contract. The Contractor and the Government agree that for the purpose of adjusting the contract price in accordance with this Article the performance under this contract will be divided into ____ successive periods. The first period will extend from _____ to _____; and the second and each succeeding period will extend for _____ months from the end of the preceding period.

(b) Estimate of costs. The Contractor represents that the contract price fixed in Article __ is based on a total estimated cost of $_____ itemized as follows:[1]

A. Factory cost.
1. Direct materials.
2. Direct productive labor.
3. Direct engineering labor.
4. Miscellaneous direct factory charges.
5. Indirect factory expenses[2] (state basis of allocation).
6. Total factory cost.
B. Other manufacturing cost.
C. Miscellaneous direct expenses.
D. Indirect engineering expenses.
E. Expenses of distribution, servicing, and administration.
F. Guarantee expenses.

(c) Periodic statements. Fifteen days before the end of each period hereunder, except the last, or at such other time or times as the Contracting Officer may fix, the Contractor will submit to the Contracting Officer the following data—

(1) Statements showing the actual cost of producing all items completed for delivery during such period, for which cost figures are available, and such other statements as the Contracting Officer may require.

(2) Estimates of the cost of items to be delivered during the next succeeding period, based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and upon all other relevant factors.

(3) Proposed prices for items to be delivered during the next succeeding period, and, at the end of the first period, proposed adjusted prices for items delivered during the first period.

(d) Periodic price adjustment. (1) Upon the filing of the data required by section (c) hereof, the Contractor and the Contracting Officer will negotiate in good faith to agree upon adjusted cost estimates and prices for items to be delivered during the next succeeding period under this contract. In addition, upon the first such negotiation, they will negotiate to agree upon adjusted prices for the items delivered during the first period.

(2) Prices so negotiated and agreed upon may be in excess of or less than the prices stated in Article ____ hereof. In negotiating such prices, consideration will be given to all pertinent factors which have affected the

[1] Paragraph (g) is to be included in the article whenever the contract contains the uniform termination article (§ 803.324).

[2] This breakdown may be altered to suit particular circumstances. Any reserves for contingencies should be separately stated and clearly identified.

[3] State separately the estimated amount of each of the following items included:
(a) normal depreciation;
(b) special amortization.

[2] State separately the estimated amount of each of the following included:
(a) normal depreciation;
(b) special amortization.

Contractor's costs for items delivered hereunder during any preceding period, or which are likely to affect such costs for items to be delivered hereunder during the next succeeding period, and to all pertinent factors bearing upon the profit margin which is reasonable for the Contractor to earn during the period involved. Whenever the Contractor, by skillful management, careful buying or efficiency in production, has reduced costs experienced during the next preceding period below the estimated amount thereof, and the Government will benefit therefrom by reduced prices for the succeeding period, the contemplated margin of profit for the succeeding period may be increased in recognition of these facts.

(3) After each negotiation, the agreement reached will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract stating the cost estimates and adjusted prices for the succeeding period and, after the first such negotiation, also stating the adjusted prices for the preceding first period. At the discretion of the Contracting Officer, the supplemental agreement may contain a finding that the provisions of this contract and said supplemental agreement are adequate to prevent excessive profits for the first period or during the applicable succeeding period, and an agreement that the prices fixed for such period will not be subject to renegotiation under section 403, Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or under Article ____ hereof.

(4) A disagreement between the Contracting Officer and the Contractor as to an adjusted price for any period will not be subject to Article ____ (Disputes), and during that period the Contractor will be paid the price fixed for the preceding period.

(e) Payments. (1) During the first period the Government will pay to the Contractor the price set forth in Article ____ for all items delivered. During each succeeding period the Government will pay to the Contractor the prices negotiated hereunder for items delivered in that period. If the price for any succeeding period hereunder is still under negotiation and not agreed upon at the beginning of that period, then until an adjusted price for that period is agreed upon, the Contractor will be paid the fixed price established for the last preceding period.

(2) After the Contractor and Contracting Officer have agreed by supplemental agreement upon the adjusted prices for the first period, or for any other period in which payment of the prices fixed for the preceeding period has been continued pending agreement upon the adjusted prices, an amount equal to the difference between the prices paid on the items delivered in that period and such adjusted prices will be added to or deducted from payments for subsequent deliveries under this contract or will be paid by or returned to the Government, as the Contracting Officer may direct.

(f) Accounts and records; statements. The Contractor will maintain books, records, and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract. For this purpose the Contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the Contracting Officer finds that it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. All statements showing costs experienced by the Contractor under this contract will be based upon such books, records, and accounts, and will be certified as correct by two officers of the Contractor or by an independent auditor, approved by the Contracting Officer. The Contractor will submit his books and accounts to such examination and audit as the Contracting Officer may request. The Contractor represents that the estimates of future costs contained in paragraph (b), and hereafter submitted pursuant to paragraph (c) (2) reflect the best judgment of the Contractor as to probable costs on the basis of previous cost experience and all other relevant factors, and contain no provisions for reserves or allowances not revealed therein.

(g) Termination. For the purposes of paragraph (d) of Article ------ hereof, (Termination at the Option of the Government), the following provisions shall govern:

(1) The prices payable for completed articles under paragraph (d) (1) of that Article shall be (i) the prices agreed upon for the price period in which the completed articles were delivered or ready for delivery, if adjusted prices have been agreed upon for that period, or (ii) such estimated prices as the Contracting Officer deems reasonable under all the circumstances, if adjusted prices have not been agreed upon for that period.

(2) The "total contract price" shall be computed on the basis of the prices actually paid or payable for completed articles and, for the remaining articles covered by the contract, shall be based on (i) the prices agreed upon for the price period in which the notice of termination takes effect, if adjusted prices have been agreed upon for that period, or (ii) such estimated prices as the Contracting Officer deems reasonable under all the circumstances, if adjusted prices have not been agreed upon for that period. The "contract price of work not terminated" shall also be computed on the basis of (i) and (ii) above.[1]

§ 803.360a Price adjustment article based on optional periodic adjustment of price; where contractor has had previous experience in production of item. The following article is for use only in contracts where the contractor has had previous experience in producing the same or substantially the same item. Where the contractor has had no such experience, this article will include the changes set forth in paragraph (a) (1), (2), (3) and (4) of this section and may include the changes set out in paragraphs (a) (5) and (6) of this section. Deviations in the form of the article set out in this section will be made only with the written approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, or his authorized representative. The principles set forth in § 812.1235a, are applicable to the use of this article.

Article ____. (a) The Contractor and the Government have agreed upon the prices fixed in Article ____ hereof, for the items to be delivered hereunder which prices shall remain in effect unless and until changed in accordance with this article or some other provision of this contract.

(b) Either the Government or the Contractor may, at any time specified in this article, deliver to the other a written demand that the parties negotiate to adjust the prices under this contract. The right herein given to demand such negotiation may be exercised by either party at any time and from time to time: Provided, however, That no such demand shall be made before (insert date). [Optional—and thereafter neither party shall make a demand having an effective date within 90 days of the effective date of any prior demand, provided, however, that this limitation shall not be applicable in the event that during any 90-day period a duly authorized Government agency shall authorize or order a change in wages or employment conditions in the plants of the contractor used in the performance of this contract].

(c) Every demand under this article shall specify the date (which shall not be earlier than the delivery of the demand) after which the adjusted prices shall be effective as to deliveries made thereafter. Such date is herein referred to as "the effective date of the demand." Any demand under this article, if made by the contractor, shall state briefly the ground or grounds therefor and shall be accompanied by revised cost estimates itemized, so far as is practicable, as in the cost estimates stated in the War Department Procurement Form or in the original negotiation and showing clearly the changes from the cost estimates presented prior to the execution of the contract (or at the time of any earlier demand) and the reasons therefor together with any relevant data of the type usually furnished in the case of the negotiation of a new contract giving weight to the additional information developed in the performance under the contract and the experienced costs thereunder. If the demand is made by the Government, such information shall be furnished by the contractor within twenty days of the delivery of the demand.

(d) Negotiations for price adjustments under this article shall be conducted on the same basis, employing the same types of data, as in the case of the negotiation of a price under a new contract. [Optional—In fixing a revised price recognition shall be given to the Contractor in the form of an increased estimated profit allowance for special efficiency or skill in reducing costs and the estimated amount of profit allowance may be reduced where the contractor's performance has been inefficient.]

(e) After each negotiation, any agreement reached will be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract stating the prices to be effective with respect to deliveries after the effective date of the demand, (or such other later date as the parties may fix by agreement), which prices may be the same as or higher or lower than the prices orginally fixed by this contract or fixed at the time of any earlier demand.

(f) If within thirty (30) days after the effective date of the demand (or such further period as may be fixed by agreement) the Contracting Officer and Contractor fail to agree as to adjusted prices, the Contractor, if it has substantially complied with the requirements of this article as to the furnishing of data, may give written notice to the Contracting Officer requiring the Government to pay the prices set forth in such notice on all deliveries made on or after a date specified in such notice which shall not be earlier than thirty days after its delivery. Unless prior to thirty days after the date of delivery of such notice to the Contracting Officer there shall be served upon the Contractor an Order pursuant to Section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1943 (which may contain any terms or conditions permitted by said Section) fixing the price to be paid for articles and services to be delivered under this contract from and after the date of the Order for the balance of the contract or until a date specified in such order, the Government shall pay the prices set forth in the Contractor's notice for deliveries on or after the date specified in the notice. However, if the Contracting Officer and the Contractor fail to agree as aforesaid and if Section 801 shall not be in force, the Contracting Officer prior to or within thirty (30) days after receipt of such a notice from the Contractor, may deliver to the Contractor a written election by which the Government agrees to pay the Contractor fair and just compensation for all deliveries made after delivery of such written election. Such written election shall specify the amount which the Contracting Officer deems to be fair and just compensation for such deliveries. If no such Order or written election is served upon or delivered to the Contractor, such prices set forth in the Contractor's notice shall be incorporated in an appropriate supplemental agreement. The Contractor's delivery of a notice pursuant to this paragraph (f) shall constitute (1) a refusal, within the meaning of Section 801, to agree to prices for the articles and services to be furnished under this contract less than the prices specified in the Contractor's notice [Optional alternative—which the Secretary of War considers fair and reasonable] (2) a waiver and release of any right (under said Section 801 or otherwise) of the Contractor to further negotiation with any representative of the War Department as to fair and reasonable prices and (3) a consent by the Contractor that an Order may be made pursuant to Section 801 without other or further notice to the Contractor than the service of such order. In the event of the service of such an order, the contract shall continue in effect except as modified by said Order and the Contractor shall have any and all rights granted to it under paragraph (c) of said Section 801 to sue the United States and to recover under said Section, (or if a written election is served upon the Contractor as above provided, the contract shall continue in effect as modified by such written election and the Contractor (A) shall be paid currently the amount specified by the Contracting Officer in such written election for all deliveries affected thereby and (B) may recover from the United States, by suit brought within six months after the delivery of such written election or after the completion of deliveries under this contract whichever shall last occur, any amount by which fair and just compensation for such deliveries exceeds the amount so specified).

(g) Until a new price shall become effective in accordance with this article, the prices in force at the effective date of the demand shall be paid upon all deliveries, subject to appropriate later adjustment in accordance with the terms of any supplemental agreement made under subparagraph (e) or (f).

(h) Any provision of this article and any action thereunder shall be without prejudice to (1) the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor under the Renegotiation Act; (2) to any Order fixing the price of articles to be furnished or services to be rendered hereunder made under Section 801 of the Revenue Act of 1943; and (3) to any right of the Government to terminate this contract under any provision of this contract.

(i) For any of the purposes of paragraph (d) of Article ____ (Termination at the Option of the Government), of this contract (including, without limitation, the computation of "the total contract price" and "the contract price of work not terminated"), the contract price of completed articles shall be deemed to be,

(1) for all items delivered prior to the effective date of the last demand under this article, the contract price (giving effect to any adjustments under this article) applicable to each such item;

(2) for all items delivered on or after the effective date of such last demand,

(A) the contract price as adjusted in accordance with this article, if such adjustment shall have been agreed upon; and

(B) if such adjustment shall not have been agreed upon, then such estimated prices as the Contractor and the Contracting Officer may agree upon as reasonable under all the circumstances and in the absence of such agreement such reasonable prices as may be determined in accordance with Article ___ (Disputes).

(a) Price adjustment article based on optional periodical adjustment of price; where contractor has had no adequate prior experience in production of item. The changes set forth in this paragraph will be made in the article found in this section, in those cases where it is desired to include that article in a contract with a contractor who has had no adequate experience in the type of production called for by the contract. The principles discussed in § 812.1235a (a), (b) and (c), inclusive, will be applicable to the use of the article in these instances subject to the additional provisions set forth in § 812.1235a (d). The above mentioned changes in the article set out in this section are:

(1) Add to paragraph (a) of the article set out above:

The Government and the Contractor recognize that the cost of performing this contract cannot be accurately estimated at the time of its execution and that the contract price fixed may therefore be either too high or too low. They, therefore, agree that the contract price may be revised upward or downward in accordance with this article and to the extent and in the manner hereby permitted upon demand of either party.

(2) Substitute for the first two sentences of paragraph (c) of the article set out above:

(c) Every demand under this article shall specify the date (which, except as provided in the next sentence of this paragraph (c) shall not be earlier than the delivery of the demand) after which the adjusted prices shall be effective, as to deliveries made thereafter, which date is herein referred to as "the effective date of the demand." In the case of the first demand made pursuant to this article by either party, if made prior to the delivery of thirty per cent of the (here specify principal items to be furnished under the contract) to be furnished under the contract, either party (either in the demand or by delivering a written notice to the other within 10 days of the delivery of the demand) may require that the effective date of the demand shall be a date prior to the delivery of any items under this contract (unless the parties shall agree in writing to a later date).

(3) Change the first clause of the first sentence of paragraph (f) of the article set out above:

(f) If within forty (40) days after the effective date of the demand or of the delivery thereof whichever date is later (or such further period as may be fixed by agreement) the Contracting Officer and the Contractor fail to agree as to adjusted prices • • •

(4) Add at the end of paragraph (i) of the article set out above, the following:

In making a settlement under said paragraph (d) of Article ____ (Termination at the Option of the Government), if (i) any completed articles shall have been delivered to and accepted by the Government, and (ii) payment therefor shall not be included in the settlement made under said paragraph (d) because of having theretofore been made, payments theretofore made for such completed articles shall be appropriately adjusted so that the Contractor will be paid in the aggregate therefore the adjusted prices applicable as stated in this paragraph.

(5) The chief of a technical service may, but is not required to, change paragraph (g) of the article set out above by substituting a comma for the period at the end of the paragraph (g) and adding the following:

, or any adjustment as provided in this paragraph (g). If in the case of a first demand by either party, (1) the demand requests a revision of the price of items delivered prior to a date sixty days after the delivery of such demand and (2) the parties are unable to agree upon the adjustment to be made with respect to such items the price of such items delivered prior to a date sixty days after the delivery of the demand shall be an amount determined to be fair and just compensation therefor in accordance with Article ____ (Disputes).

(6) In addition to the change in paragraph (i) of the article set forth above, directed by subparagraph (4) above, the chief of any technical service may, but is not required to, add at the end of paragraph (i), as so changed, the following additional provision:

In the event that notice of a total termination of this contract is given prior to a first demand under paragraph (b) of this article, a demand may be made hereunder by either party for any price adjustment permitted by this article as part of the termination settlement, notwithstanding any of the provisions of paragraph (b) of this article.

§ 803.360b Retroactive changes in wages, salaries or other terms or conditions of employment. The following article may be used in any contract which contains any of the contract articles set out in §§ 803.341 (a) and (b), 803.360 (a) and (b), and 803.360a: Provided, That the contracting officer is satisfied that the contractor has excluded from his price all or substantially all contingency allowances for wage increases and adjustments in conditions of employment.

ARTICLE ____. In the event that the Contractor is ordered by a duly authorized agency of the Government, or is authorized by such agency, to make retroactive changes in the wages, salaries or other terms and conditions of employment, which shall affect the cost of the deliveries hereunder, the Contractor and the Contracting Officer will negotiate to agree upon adjusted prices for the items to be delivered hereunder, the cost of which will be so affected. In such negotiations the Contractor and the Contracting Officer in good faith will estimate the effect of such retroactive wage or employment adjustments on the cost of such items and the prices payable for the items so delivered will be adjusted to reflect, to an extent which is deemed reasonable under all the circumstances, such estimated effect on cost so agreed upon subject to the terms and conditions set forth below:

(1) The following shall be conditions precedent to any adjustment under this article:

(A) The Contractor shall give written notice to the Contracting Officer of any reference to the War Labor Board or any other Government Agency of any request on behalf of its employees for any wage adjustment or adjustment in conditions of employment which may affect materially the costs of performing this contract. Such notice shall be given within 20 days after such reference is made (or at the time of the execution of this contract, if such reference has been made prior to the execution of the contract and has not been acted upon finally).

(B) The Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer, not later than thirty days (or within such further period as may be agreed upon) after the date of the order for or authorization of any such retroactive wage or employment adjustment and in any event prior to final payment under the contract, the following:

(i) A written demand that the parties negotiate to adjust the contract prices on the items delivered during a stated period.

That period shall, in no event, commence at a date earlier than the first day specified in the order or authorization for the retroactive wage or employment adjustment.

(ii) Estimates of the probable effects of such retroactive wage or employment adjustment on the costs of the Contractor in producing the items delivered during the period stated in the demand giving due effect to estimates of inventories of completed articles and work in process on hand at the beginning of such period, and to the fact that the full effect of the wage or employment adjustment will not normally be reflected immediately in the cost of items delivered under the contract. Such estimates shall be accompanied by estimates of the effect of the retroactive wage or employment adjustment on the direct and indirect labor costs of the articles included in the deliveries during such period.

(iii) Proposed prices for each item covered by the contract which were delivered during the stated period.

(iv) A true copy of the order or authorization for such retroactive wage increases.

(2) It is recognized that it will not be practicable to make precise computations of the effect of any such retroactive wage or employment adjustment on the Contractor's costs and therefore it is the intention of the parties that negotiation and determination of any adjustment in price under this article shall be on the basis of such estimates of the effect of the retroactive adjustment as the Contracting Officer (or the Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative in taking action under Article ---- (Disputes) of this contract) may deem to be appropriate.

(3) The Contractor agrees that it will not request and shall not be entitled to receive an adjustment under this article except to the extent that such retroactive wage or employment adjustment operates to reduce the profit which it is estimated will be realized by the Contractor from such performance below a reasonable profit under all the circumstances. [Optional—In determining what constitutes a reasonable profit, the Contractor shall be rewarded for efficient and economical performance of the contract by a special allowance for profit.] In no event shall any such adjustment exceed the amount of the estimated effect of such retroactive wage or employment adjustment on the Contractor's costs hereunder during the stated period specified in the written demand mentioned in subparagraph (1) (B) (i) above.

(4) Any agreement reached under this Article will be incorporated in a supplemental agreement to this contract which shall be subject to the written approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces [in AAF contracts, substitute: "the Under Secretary of War or his duly authorized representative"] and which shall state (a) the revised prices to be effective with respect to deliveries during a specified period to be set forth in such agreement and (b) the method of adjusting the payments therefor.

(5) Any disagreement as to any adjustment of the price to be made pursuant to this article will be disposed of as a question of fact in accordance with Article ---- (Disputes.)

§ 803.361 Short term pricing. The following article for revision, after part performance, of the contract price for the remainder of the contract may be used in accordance with Part 812, Subpart C.

(a) Article ----. Revision of future prices by negotiation.

(a) Agreement to revise price. The Government and the Contractor agree that after the delivery of --% of the articles hereunder (herein called the "initial period") the contract price fixed in Article ---- shall be revised upward or downward for deliveries after the initial period (called herein the "remainder of the contract") in accordance with this Article.

(b) Cost statements. (1) Within -- days before the completion of the initial period, the Contractor shall submit to the Contracting Officer the following data:

(i) Itemized statements showing costs of production during the preceding part of the initial period.

(ii) Estimates of the cost of producing the items to be delivered during the remainder of the contract based upon the previous cost experience of the Contractor and upon all other relevant factors.

(iii) Proposed revised prices for the remainder of the contract.

(2) The Contractor will maintain books, records and accounts so as to reflect accurately and segregate clearly the costs of performing this contract. For this purpose the Contractor may follow the cost accounting system regularly used by it, if the Contracting Officer finds it is adequate and in accordance with sound accounting practice. The statements showing costs experienced by the Contractor under this contract shall be based upon such books, records and accounts and shall be certified as correct by two officers of the Contractor or by an independent public accountant. The Contractor shall submit his books, records and accounts to such examination and audit as the Contracting Officer may request.

(c) Negotiation for revision. (1) Upon the filing of the data required by section (b) hereof, the Contractor and Contracting Officer shall negotiate in good faith to agree upon revised prices for the remainder of this contract. The revised price may be different for different periods of the contract and may be in excess of or less than the price stated in Article -- hereof. The agreement reached shall be evidenced by a supplemental agreement to this contract stating the revised price for the remainder of the contract.

(2) If the Contracting Officer and Contractor fail to agree on revised prices for the remainder of the contract within thirty (30) days after the date for filing of the data by the Contractor under section (b) hereof, or such further period as may be fixed by agreement, the Contractor, if not in default, or the Government may terminate the contract hereunder by written notice delivered within ten days after the expiration of said thirty day period or extension. Upon such termination by either party, the rights and obligations of the parties shall be governed by the provisions of Article -- hereof ("Termination for the Convenience of the Government"), except that the Contractor shall be allowed no profit for any uncompleted portion of the contract. If revised prices are not agreed upon and the contract is not so terminated, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the price fixed in Article -- for the remainder of the contract.

(d) Payments. Until the contract price is revised hereunder, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the price set forth in Article --- for all articles delivered after the initial period. If the contract price for the remainder of the contract is revised upward hereunder, the Government shall pay to the Contractor the difference between the price paid on all items delivered after the initial period and the revised price for such items. If the contract price for the remainder of the contract is revised downward hereunder an amount equal to the difference between the price paid on all items delivered after the initial period and the revised price for such items, shall be applied as a credit against payments for subsequent deliveries or shall be applied in such other manner or repaid to the Government as the Contracting Officer may direct. For all items delivered after any price revision hereunder, the Government shall pay the Contractor the revised price, minus any such credit.

(f) Renegotiation. Any revision of the contract price made under this Article is without prejudice to the determination of any excessive profits of the Contractor upon subsequent renegotiation under Section 403 of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942, as amended, or the contract article inserted herein pursuant to that Act.

§ 803.362 Accident prevention. Every lump sum construction contract, regardless of subject matter or amount, except contracts for the construction and/or repair of vessels and other floating equipment, will contain a clause substantially as follows:

Accident prevention. In order to protect the life and health of employees in the performance of this contract, the contractor will comply with all pertinent provisions of the "Safety Requirements for Excavation—Building—Construction" approved by the Chief of Engineers, December 16, 1941, as revised 15 March 1943, (a copy of which is on file in the office of the contracting officer) and as may be amended, and will take or cause to be taken such additional measures as the contracting officer may determine to be reasonably necessary for this purpose. The contractor will maintain an accurate record of and will report to the contracting officer in the matter and on the forms prescribed by the contracting officer, all cases of death, occupational disease and traumatic injury arising out of or in the course of employment on work under this contract. The contracting officer will notify the contractor of any non-compliance with the foregoing provisions and the action to be taken. The contractor shall, after receipt of such notice, immediately correct the conditions to which attention has been directed. Such notice, when served on the contractor or his representatives at the site of the work, shall be deemed sufficient for the purpose aforesaid. If the contractor fails or refuses to comply promptly, the contracting officer may issue an order stopping all of any part of the work. When satisfactory corrective action is taken, a start order will be issued. No part of the time lost due to any such stop order shall be made the subject of claim for extension of time or for excess costs or damages by the contractor.

Every fixed-fee construction contract, regardless of subject matter or amount, will contain a clause substantially similar to the foregoing except that the last sentence will be omitted.

§ 803.363 Disposition of Government-owned property by Contractors. (a) An article substantially as follows may be inserted in Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee Contracts when authorized by the provisions of § 807.727:

It is recognized that property (including without limitation machine tool and processing equipment, manufacturing aids, raw, manufactured, scrap and waste materials), title to which is or may hereafter become vested in the Government, will be used by or will be in the care, custody or possession of the Contractor in connection with the performance of this contract. With the approval in writing of the Contracting Officer (whether such approval is given prior to or after the giving of a notice of the termination of this contract for the convenience of the Government), the Contractor may transfer or otherwise dispose of such Government-owned property to such parties and upon such terms and conditions as the Contracting Officer may approve or ratify, or, with like approval by the Contracting Officer, the Contractor may itself acquire title to such property or any of it at a price mutually agreeable. The proceeds of any such transfer or disposition of the agreed price of any property, title to which is so acquired by the Contractor, shall be applied in reduction of any payments to be made by the Government to the Contractor under this contract, or shall otherwise be paid in such manner as the Contracting Officer may direct.

(b) If desired, the article authorized in paragraph (a) may be designated as subparagraph (a) and there may be added thereto provisions substantially as follows:

(b) The Contractor is authorized to insert in any subcontract made by the Contractor on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis under this contract substantially the following provision:

ARTICLE ----. Sale of Government Property—It is recognized that property (including without limitation machine tools and processing equipment, manufacturing aids, raw, manufactured, scrap and waste materials) title to which is or may hereafter become vested in the Government, will be used by or will be in the care, custody or possession of ---------- (Subcontractor) in connection with the performance of this subcontract. With the approval in writing of the Contracting Officer for the plant of ---------- (Subcontractor) (whether such approval is given prior to or after the giving of a notice of the termination of this subcontract), ---------- (Subcontractor) may transfer or otherwise dispose of such Government-owned property to such parties and upon such terms and conditions as such Contracting Officer may approve or ratify, or, with like approval by, and at a price agreeable to, such Contracting Officer, ---------- (Subcontractor) may itself acquire title to such property or any of it. The proceeds of any such transfer or disposal or the agreed price of any property, title to which is so acquired by ---------- (Subcontractor) shall, at the direction of such Contracting Officer, be applied by ---------- (Subcontractor) in reduction of any payments to be made by ---------- (Prime Contractor) under this subcontract, or shall be paid to the Treasurer of the United States, or to ---------- (Prime Contractor) for the account of the United States, in such manner as such Contracting Officer may direct.

(c) Upon approval of any transfer or other disposition of Government-owned property as provided in paragraph (b) above, which transfer or disposition is made to a transferee other than the Contractor, the Contractor shall be and hereby is released and discharged from liability for such property, if any, except that the Contractor shall be obligated to account to the Government for the proceeds of any such transfer or disposal of such property paid or credited to the Contractor pursuant to the direction of the Contracting Officer for the plant of any such subcontractor.

(c) Any existing cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract may be amended to include an article substantially similar to that authorized by paragraph (a) above or that authorized by paragraphs (a) and (b) above.

(d) If a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract contains an article authorized by paragraph (a) above and it is desired, without amending such contract, to confer upon subcontractors authority to dispose of Government-owned property, the subcontracts may be amended to insert therein the article contemplated by clause (b) contained in paragraph (b) above.

§ 803.364 Marking of shipping containers. Every supply contract relating to supplies destined for overseas shipment will contain a clause substantially as follows (see § 811.1101):

Marking of shipping containers. The Contractor will follow any directions set forth in the contract specifications concerning the marking of containers in which the supplies are to be shipped. If the contract specifications contain no such directions, the Contractor will follow such instructions on the matter as he may from time to time receive from the Contracting Officer.

§ 803.365 Contract clauses in connection with bonds and insurance. (a) In compliance with the policy expressed in § 804.434, the following article is prescribed for inclusion in cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract (see Note 2 below).

Liability for Government-owned property. (a) Except as otherwise specifically provided, the contractor shall not be liable for loss or destruction of or damage to property of the Government in the possession or control of the contractor in connection with this contract (hereinafter called "Government property") unless such loss, destruction or damage results from wilful misconduct or failure to exercise good faith on the part of the contractor's corporate officers or other representatives having supervision or direction of the operation of the whole of the contactor's business or of the whole of any plant operated by the contractor in the performance of this contract.

(b) The contractor represents that it is not maintaining and agrees that it will not hereafter maintain insurance (including self-insurance funds or reserves) covering loss or destruction of or damage to Government property, and represents that it is not including and agrees that it will not hereafter include in any price to the Government any charge or reserve for such insurance.

(c) Upon the happening of loss or destruction of or damage to Government property caused by:

Fire; lightning; windstorm, cyclone, tornado, hail; explosion; riot, riot attending a strike, civil commotion; vandalism and malicious mischief; aircraft or objects falling therefrom; vehicles running on land or tracks, excluding vehicles owned or operated by the contractor or any agent or employee of the contractor; smoke; sprinkler leakage; earthquake, or volcanic eruption; flood, meaning thereby rising of rivers or streams; enemy attack or any action taken by the military, naval or air forces of the United States in resisting enemy attack, the contractor shall communicate with the contracting officer and with the Loss and Salvage Organization now or hereafter designated by the contracting officer and, with the assistance of that organization employed by the contractor to perform services in accordance with instructions or regulations of the Government (unless the contracting officer directs that no such organization be employed), shall take all reasonable steps to protect the Government property from further damage, separate the damaged and undamaged Government property, put all the Government property in the best possible order, and furnish to the contracting officer a statement of: (1) the lost, destroyed and damaged Government property, (2) the time and origin of the loss, destruction or damage, (3) all known interests in commingled property of which the Government property is a part, and (4) the insurance, if any, covering any part of or interest in such commingled property. If and as directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall make repairs and renovations of the damaged Government property.[1] The contractor shall be reimbursed the expenditures made by it and approved by the contracting officer in performing its obligations under this paragraph (c) (including charges made to the contractor by the Loss and Salvage Organization, except any of such charges, the payment of which the Government has, at its option, assumed direct).

(d) In the event the contractor is indemnified, reimbursed or compensated for any loss or destruction of or damage to Government property, it shall equitably reimburse the Government. The contractor shall do nothing to prejudice the Government's rights to recover against third parties for any such loss, destruction or damage and, upon the request of the contracting officer, shall, at the Government's expense, furnish to the Government all reasonable assistance and cooperation (including the prosecution of suit and the execution of instruments of assignment in favor of the Government) in obtaining recovery.

(e) The Government shall at all times have access to the premises wherein any Government property is located.

(f) The contractor shall insert in all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts under this contract provisions which will make applicable to the Government and the subcontractors substantially the same rights and obligations in respect to the Government property as are made applicable to the Government and the contractor under this Article.

NOTE 1: Where facilities, such as machinery, are furnished by the Government or acquired for Government account under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts, appropriate additional provisions, dealing with such subjects as standby, storage and removal, may be included.

NOTE 2: (a) The Article set forth above will be included in all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts executed on or after 15 March 1944.

(b) Whenever the terms of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract are to be modified by the execution, on or after 1st March 1944, of a supplemental agreement, and the contract to be modified does not contain an Article identical in wording with that set forth above, the supplemental agreement will provide that the contract is modified to include the Article.

(c) In order that the services of the Loss and Salvage Organizations may be made available, widely and promptly, it is desired, in addition, that existing contracts be amended whenever practicable to incorporate the Article even when occasion does not arise to write a supplemental agreement for other reasons.

NOTE 3: See §§ 804.431 (a) and 804.498 in regard to Loss and Salvage Organizations.

NOTE 4: In the event that the Government property is located in an area outside of the United States, where the services of the Loss and Salvage Organizations are not available, the following clause will be used in lieu of paragraph (c) above:

Upon the happening of loss or destruction of or damage to Government property, the contractor shall communicate with the contracting officer, shall take all reasonable steps to protect the Government property from further damage, separate the damaged and undamaged Government property, put all the Government property in the best possible order, and furnish to the contracting officer a statement of: (1) the lost, destroyed and damaged Government property, (2) the time and origin of the loss, destruction or damage, (3) all known interests in commingled property of which the Government property is a part, and (4) the insurance, if any, covering any part of or interest in such commingled property. If and as directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall make repairs and renovations of the damaged Government property.[1] The contractor shall be reimbursed the expenditures made by it and approved by the contracting officer in performing its obligations under this paragraph (c).

(a–1) Except in the special cases discussed in § 804.451, the following article is prescribed for inclusion in fixed or unit price contracts under which Government-owned property is furnished to the contractor. (See Note 1 below). When deemed desirable by a technical service, because of the amount of Government property involved or for other reasons in the best interests of the United States, the substance of the following Article may also be approved for inclusion in fixed or unit price subcontracts under either cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or fixed or unit price prime contracts. This article is not intended to cover Government-owned facilities furnished under fixed or unit price contracts or subcontracts, as to which see § 803.332.

Liability for Government-owned property. (a) Except as otherwise specifically provided, the contractor shall not be liable for loss or destruction of or damage to property of the Government in the possession or control of the contractor in connection with this contract (hereinafter called "Government property") (1) caused by any peril while the property is in transit off the contractor's premises, or (2) caused by any of the following perils while the property is on the contractor's or subcontractor's or other premises or by removal therefrom because of any of the following perils:

Fire; lightning; windstorm, cyclone, tornado, hail; explosion; riot, riot attending a strike, civil commotion; vandalism and malicious mischief; aircraft or objects falling therefrom; vehicles running on land or tracks, excluding vehicles owned or operated by the contractor or any agent or employee of the contractor; smoke; sprinkler leakage; earthquake or volcanic eruption; flood, meaning thereby rising of rivers or streams; enemy attack or any action taken by the military, naval or air forces of the United States in resisting enemy attack.

The perils as set forth in (1) and (2) above are hereinafter called "excepted perils".

(b) The contractor represents that it is not maintaining and agrees that it will not hereafter maintain insurance (including self-insurance funds or reserves) covering loss or destruction of or damage to Government property caused by any excepted peril, and represents that it is not including and agrees that it will not hereafter include in any price to the Government any charge or reserve for such insurance.

(c) Upon the happening of loss or destruction of or damage to Government property caused by an excepted peril, the contractor shall communicate with the contracting officer and with the Loss and Salvage Organization now or hereafter designated by the contracting officer and, with the assistance of that organization employed by the contractor to perform services in accordance with instructions or regulations of the Government (unless the contracting officer directs that no such organization be employed), shall take all reasonable steps to protect the Government property from further damage, separate the damaged and undamaged Government property in the best possible order, and furnish to the contracting officer a statement of: (1) the lost, destroyed and damaged Government property, (2) the time and origin of the loss, destruction or damage, (3) all known interests in commingled property of which the Government property is a part, and (4) the insurance, if any, covering any part of or interest in such commingled property. If and as directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall make repairs and renovations of the damaged Government property.[1] The contractor shall be reimbursed the expenditures made by it in performing its obligations under this paragraph (c) (including charges made to the contractor by the Loss and Salvage Organization, except any of such charges the payment of which the Government has, at its option, assumed direct), as approved by the contracting officer and set forth in a Supplemental Agreement.

(d) With the approval of the contracting officer after loss or destruction of or damage to Government property, and subject to such conditions and limitations as may be imposed by the contracting officer, the contractor may, in order to minimize the loss to the Government or in order to permit resumption of business or the like, sell for the account of the Government any item of Government property which has been damaged beyond practicable repair, or which is so commingled or combined with property of others, including the contractor, that separation is impracticable.

(e) Except to the extent of any loss or destruction of or damage to Government property for which the contractor is relieved of liability under the foregoing provisions of this Article, and except for reasonable wear and tear or depreciation, or the utilization of the Government property in accordance with the provisions of this contract, the Government property (other than property permitted to be sold) shall be returned to the Government in as good condition as when received by the contractor in connection with this contract. In aid of its obligation so to return the Government property, the contractor shall maintain a property control, accounting and maintenance system consistent with good business practice.

(f) In the event the contractor is indemnified, reimbursed or compensated for any loss or destruction of or damage to Government property, caused by an excepted peril, it shall equitably reimburse the Government. The contractor shall do nothing to prejudice the Government's rights to recover against third parties for any such loss, destruction or damage and, upon the request of the contracting officer, shall at the Government's expense, furnish to the Government all reasonable assistance and cooperation (including the prosecution of suit and the execution of instruments of assignment in favor of the Government) in obtaining recovery.

(g) The Government shall at all times have access to the premises wherein any Government property is located.

NOTE 1. (a) The Article set forth above will be included in all fixed or unit price contracts under which Government-owned property is furnished to the contractor, executed on or after 15 March 1944.

(b) Whenever the terms of such a fixed or unit price contract are to be modified by the execution, on or after 15 March 1944, of a supplemental agreement, and the contract to be modified does not contain an Article identical in wording with that set forth above, the supplemental agreement will provide that the contract is modified to include the Article.

(c) In order that the services of the Loss and Salvage Organizations may be made available, widely and promptly, it is desired, in addition, that such existing contracts be amended whenever practicable to incorporate the Article even when occasion does not arise to write a supplemental agreement for other reasons.

NOTE 2: See §§ 804.451 (a) and 804.498 in regard to Loss and Salvage Organizations.

NOTE 3: In the event that the Government property is located in an area outside of the United States, where the services of the Loss and Salvage Organizations are not available, the following clause will be used in lieu of paragraph (c) above:

Upon the happening of loss or destruction of or damage to Government property caused by an excepted peril, the contractor shall communicate with the contracting officer, shall take all reasonable steps to protect the Government property from further damage, separate the damaged and undamaged Government property, put all the Government property in the best possible order, and furnish to the contracting officer a statement of: (1) the lost, destroyed and damaged Government property, (2) the time and origin of the loss, destruction or damage, (3) all known interests in commingled property of which the Government property is a part, and (4) the insurance, if any, covering any part of or interest in such commingled property. If and as directed by the contracting officer, the contractor shall make repairs and renovations of the damaged Government property.[1] The Contractor shall be reimbursed the expenditures made by it in performing its obligations under this paragraph (c) as approved by the contracting officer and set forth in a Supplemental Agreement.

(b) Every cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract will contain the following clause without deviation:

Allowable items of cost shall include the contractor's actual expenses incurred under his contract for:

a. Such bonds and insurance policies as have been approved or required by the Contracting Officer.

b. Losses or expenses not compensated by insurance or otherwise (including settlements made with the written consent of the Contracting Officer) actually sustained by the Contractor in connection with the work and found and certified by the Contracting Officer to be just and reasonable, unless reimbursement therefor is expressly prohibited; provided that such reimbursement shall not include any amount for which the Contractor would have been indemnified or compensated by insurance except for failure of the Contractor to procure or maintain bonds or insurance in accordance with the requirements of the Contracting Officer.

c. The cost of reconstructing and replacing any of the work or property destroyed or damaged and not covered by insurance, but expenditures under this item must have the written authorization of the Contracting Officer in advance.

d. The cost, including incidental expenses and premiums (if any), of providing such death, injury, internment, and other benefits to the Contractor's employees engaged in performing services under this contract as the Contracting Officer may approve or require.

(c) Every cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract will contain the following clause without deviation:

Insurance. a. The Contractor shall procure and thereafter maintain such bonds and insurance in such forms and in such amounts and for such periods of time as the Contracting Officer may require in writing and shall be reimbursed for the cost thereof;

b. In every instance where this contract requires the United States to pay the premium on a bond or insurance policy, the bond or insurance policy shall contain an endorsement or other recital excluding by appropriate language any claim on the part of the insurer or obligor to be subrogated, on payment of a loss or otherwise, to any claim against the United States;

c. The Contractor shall give the Contracting Officer or his representative immediate notice in writing of any suit or action filed against the Contractor arising out of the performance of this contract and of any claim against the Contractor the cost and expense of which are reimbursable under the provisions of Article ____ hereof, and the risk of which is then uninsured or in which the amount claimed exceeds the amount of insurance coverage. The Contractor shall furnish immediately to the Contracting Officer copies of all pertinent papers received by the Contractor. Insofar as the following shall not conflict with any policy or contract of insurance, and upon request of the Contracting Officer, the Contractor shall do any and all things to effect an assignment and subrogation in favor of the Government of all Contractor's rights and claims except against the Government, arising from or growing out of such asserted claims, and, if required by the Contracting Officer, shall authorize representatives of the Government to settle and/or defend any such claim and to represent or take charge of any such litigation affecting the Contractor.

(d) Every cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract, the terms of which do not require the incorporation by reference in cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts, of all of the terms and conditions of the prime contract in regard to insurance and liability, will contain the following clause without deviation:

Additional provisions. (1) The Contractor will include in each cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontract made under this contract a provision as follows:

(a) The title to all work under this subcontract, completed or in the course of manufacture or assembly in the Subcontractor's plant, shall be in the Government. Upon delivery thereof to the Subcontractor at any point within the continental limits of the United States or any place approved by the Contractor, title to all purchased materials, parts, assemblies, subassemblies, tools, machinery, equipment and supplies, for which the Subcontractor shall be entitled to be reimbursed hereunder, shall vest in the Government.

(b) The Subcontractor shall not be reimbursed for the cost of any insurance on any property of the Government.

(c) As used herein the term "Government" shall be deemed to mean the United States of America.

(2) The Contractor will, if so requested by the Contracting Officer, include in any particular cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontract, a provision as follows:

The Subcontractor shall procure and thereafter maintain the following insurance: ---------- (here shall be inserted the types, amounts and limits of insurance, as specified in writing by the Contracting Officer). The cost of such insurance and losses or expenses (including settlements made with the written consent of the Contracting Officer who executed the principal contract or his duly authorized successor or representative) not compensated by insurance or otherwise and found and certified by the Contractor and said Contracting Officer or his duly authorized successor or representative to be just and reasonable, actually sustained by the Subcontractor in the defense and/or discharge of such claims of others on account of death or bodily injury of persons or loss or destruction of or damage to property as may arise out of or in connection with the performance of the work under this subcontract shall be allowable items of cost hereunder; Provided, That such reimbursement shall not include any amount for which the Subcontractor would have been indemnified or compensated except for the failure of the Subcontractor to procure or maintain insurance in accordance with the requirements of this subcontract. The Subcontractor shall give the Contractor immediate notice in writing of any suit or action filed against the Subcontractor, arising out of the performance of this subcontract and of any claims against the Subcontractor, the cost and expense of which is reimbursable under the provisions of this subcontract pertinent to allowable items of cost, and the risk of which is then uninsured or in which the amount claimed exceeds the amount of insurance coverage. The Subcontractor shall furnish immediately to the Contractor copies of all pertinent papers received by the Subcontractor. Insofar as the following shall not conflict with any policy or contract of insurance, and upon request of the Contractor, the Subcontractor shall do any and all things to effect an assignment and subrogation in favor of the Contractor or its nominee of all Subcontractor's rights and claims, except rights and claims of the Subcontractor against the Contractor or such nominee, arising from or growing out of such asserted claim, and, if required by the Contractor, shall authorize representatives of the Contractor or of its nominee to settle and/or defend any such claim and to represent the Subcontractor in or take charge of any such litigation. Every policy for the insurance referred to in this paragraph shall contain an indorsement or other recital excluding by appropriate language any claim on the part of the insurer or obligor to be subrogated on payment of a loss or otherwise to any claim against the Contractor or the Government.

(3) Whenever a provision as set forth in paragraph (2) of this article is inserted in any subcontract, then the contractor will forthwith transmit to the Contracting Officer all notices and copies of papers received by it from the subcontractor, will make the Government its nominee for all assignments and subrogations received by it from the subcontractor thereunder and, if required by the Contracting Officer, will do everything in its power to have representatives of the Government authorized to settle and/or defend the claims therein referred to and to represent the subcontractor in or to take charge of the litigation therein referred to.

(e) In accordance with the instructions contained in paragraphs (f) to (i), inclusive, there will be inserted without deviation in Architect-Engineer-Construction-Management Service Contracts and all contracts (except supply contracts), executed under or in connection with such contracts, the appropriate clause or clauses set forth in said paragraphs.

(f) In the Architect-Engineer-Construction-Management-Service-contract the following clause:

The A-E-M hereby agrees that he will procure and maintain bonds and insurance in such forms and in such amounts and for such periods of time as the Contracting Officer may require or approve. Insurance shall cover all work required by this contract, regardless of whether it is performed by the A-E-M's own forces, subcontractors, or under direct contracts with the Government, as is contemplated in Article ---------- (Article containing ---------- of this contract. General Statement of Work and Services)

(g) In cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontracts, executed under Architect-Engineer-Construction-Management Service Contracts, there wil be inserted without deviation the following clause:

All necessary insurance protection required under the terms of this contract will be provided by the policies maintained by the Architect-Engineer-Manager Contractor.

(h) In lump-sum subcontracts, executed under Architect-Engineer-Construction-Management Service Contracts, there will be inserted without deviation the following clause:

(1) The Architect-Engineer-Manager Contractor will, at no cost to the Subcontractor, maintain policies providing the following insurance protection for the Subcontractor, which insurance shall apply only to operations of the Subcontractor under this subcontract and employees of the Subcontractor engaged therein and shall not apply to any other operations or employees of the Subcontractor:

(a) Workmen's compensation. (i) In jurisdictions where there are Workmen's Compensation Laws, either mandatory or elective, statutory coverage; and in jurisdictions where the Workmen's Compensation Law does not cover all occupational diseases, occupational disease coverage by endorsement for limits of $50,000 per person in any one case and, subject to that limit for each person, an aggregate limit of $100,000 for each year of the policy period;

(ii) In those states where there is a "per accident" limitation of coverage under paragraph 1 (b) of the policy, an endorsement will be added to provide $100,000 limit for each accident;

(iii) In those states where there is a "per person" limitation of coverage under paragraph 1 (b) of the policy, an endorsement will be added to provide $50,000 limit for each person;

(iv) In jurisdictions where there are no Workmen's Compensation Laws, Employers' Liability Insurance, including occupational disease coverage, for limits of $50,000 per person in any claim and, subject to that limit for each person, $100,000 for two or more persons in any one accident and $100,000 aggregate limit for each year of the policy period for occupational disease claims.

(b) General liability. Insurance with limits of $50/100,000 for bodily injury liability on the comprehensive policy form; the policy will be endorsed to include coverage for aircraft and watercraft operations by elimination of any such exclusions therein.

(c) Automobile public liability and property damage. Insurance with limits of $50/100,000 for bodily injury liability and $5,000 for property damage liability on the comprehensive policy form covering all owned, non-owned and hired automobiles which will be used in connection with the work to be done under the contract, and which are not for use exclusively on the premises at which the work under such contract is performed.

(2) The Subcontractor may purchase at his own expense such additional or other insurance protection as he may deem necessary. The Contracting Officer or his authorized representative may restrict access to the site of the work to such personnel of any insurance carrier providing additional or other insurance coverage referred to in this paragraph for the proper servicing of such insurance as he may deem necessary.

[1] Italicized language may be omitted in appropriate cases.

(i) In prime lump sum or unit price contracts, collateral to Architect-Engineer-Construction-Management Service Contracts, there will be inserted without deviation the following clause:

(1) The Architect-Engineer-Manager Contractor will, at no cost to the Contractor, maintain policies providing the following insurance protection for the Contractor and his Subcontractors (excluding supply subcontractors) which insurance shall apply only to operations of the Contractor and such Subcontractors under this contract and employees of the Contractor and such Subcontractors engaged therein and shall not apply to any other operations or employees of the Contractor and such Subcontractors:

(a) Workmen's compensation. (i) In jurisdictions where there are Workmen's Compensation Laws, either mandatory or elective, statutory coverage; and in jurisdictions where the Workmen's Compensation Law does not cover all occupational diseases, occupational disease coverage by endorsement for limits of $50,000 per person in any one case, and subject to that limit for each person, an aggregate limit of $100,000 for each year of the policy period;

(ii) In those states where there is a "per accident" limitation of coverage under paragraph 1(b) of the policy, an endorsement will be added to provide $100,000 limit for each accident;

(iii) In those states where there is a "per person" limitation of coverage under paragraph 1 (b) of the policy, an endorsement will be added to provide $50,000 limit for each person;

(iv) In jurisdictions where there are no Workmen's Compensation Laws, Employers' Liability Insurance including occupational disease coverage, for limits of $50,000 per person in any claim and, subject to that limit for each person, $100,000 for two or more persons in any one accident and $100,000 aggregate limit for each year of the policy period for occupational disease claims.

(b) General liability. Insurance with limits of $50/100,000 for bodily injury liability on the comprehensive policy form; the policy will be endorsed to include coverage for aircraft and watercraft operations by elimination of any such exclusions therein.

(c) Automobile liability and property damage. Insurance with limits of $50/100,000 for bodily injury liability and $5,000 for property damage liability on the comprehensive policy form covering all owned, non-owned and hired automobiles which will be used, in connection with the work to be done under the contract, and which are not for use exclusively on the premises at which the work under such contract is performed.

(2) The contractor or his subcontractors may purchase at their own expense such additional or other insurance protection as they may deem necessary. The Contracting Officer or his authorized representative may restrict access to the site of the work to such personnel of any insurance carrier providing additional or other insurance coverage referred to in this paragraph for the proper servicing of such insurance, as he may deem necessary.

§ 803.366 Offers of prompt payment of cash discounts. All invitations for bids, formal or informal, directed to more than one prospective contractor, will contain a clause substantially as follows:

Offers of prompt payment or cash discounts will not be considered in the award of contracts or purchase orders, but if such an offer is made, the Government reserves the right to take advantage of the same according to its terms in making payment.

§ 803.367 Subcontracting clause, fixed price supply contract. All fixed price supply contracts, except those in which, in the opinion of the contracting officer, subcontracting (as defined in (d) below) is impracticable, will contain the following clause without deviation:

Subcontracting. (a) It is mutually understood and agreed that the policy of the Government, as declared by Congress in Public Law 603—77th Congress (the Smaller War Plants Act) is to bring about the greatest utilization of small war plants facilities which is consistent with efficient production of war materials.

(b) The Contractor agrees to accomplish the maximum amount of subcontracting to smaller war plants that the Contractor finds to be consistent with the efficient performance of all its other obligations undertaken by this contract.

(c) The Government agrees that in any renegotiation proceedings involving this contract, proper consideration will be given to the efficiency and ingenuity exhibited by the prime contractor in subcontracting to and in utilizing the facilities of, smaller war plants; to the amount of such subcontracting so accomplished; and to the amount of technical, engineering and other assistance rendered by the Contractor to such subcontractors.

(d) For the purposes of this article the term "subcontracts" includes only contracts for the production or of work upon an item, component, or asembly manufactured according to Government specifications or specifications of a prime contractor and does not include (1) any purchase of a standard commercial or catalog item, or (2) any purchase of a basic raw material, or (3) any purchase of supplies or services for the general operation of the contractor's plant, or (4) any purchase from a parent subsidiary or affiliate of the contractor.

§ 803.368 Subcontracting cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts. All cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts, except those in which, in the opinion of the Contracting Officer, subcontracting is impracticable, will contain the following clause without deviation:

Subcontracting. It is mutually understood and agreed that the policy of the Government, as declared by Congress in Public Law 603—77th Congress (the Smaller War Plants Act) is to bring about the greatest utilization of small plants which is consistent with efficient production of war materials. It is also recognized that business concerns operating small plants are frequently unable to produce certain articles at as low a per unit cost as business concerns operating large plants. Accordingly, the Contractor, with the written approval of the Contracting Officer, may, in cases where the manufacturing costs are found to be greater, pay to firms operating small plants higher pricer than to firms operating large plants, to the extent determined to be reasonable in the light of the difference in their costs of manufacturing the article to be sub-contracted.

SUBPART I—TERMINATION OF FIXED-PRICE (LUMP SUM) CONTRACTS UPON DEFAULT OF CONTRACTOR

§ 803.379 Steps to be taken in event of default. The rigid enforcement of contract provisions (a) imposing liquidated damages on contractors for failure to perform within specified periods, or (b) authorizing termination of contracts for default, has been found in many instances to impede the prosecution of the war. The exercise by the several chiefs of technical services of discretion to take such action as may seem to them fair and equitable under all the circumstances will expedite the procurement of necessary war materiél and facilitate the prosecution of the war. For the foregoing reasons authority is delegated to and confirmed in the chief of each technical service to authorize contracting officers under his command, subject to such limitations as the chief of the technical service may establish, to take any of the following courses in the event of default of the contractor:

(1) Permit the contractor to proceed and to charge the contractor with the actual damages resulting from the default. If the contract provides for liquidated damages, such damages and not actual damages must be charged.

(2) Enter into a supplemental agreement with the contractor's surety providing for the completion of performance of the contract and for payment therefor. Such supplemental agreement should clearly state that all rights against the contractor are reserved so far as the surety does not undertake to cure the effect of the defaults by the contractor.

(3) Terminate the contract:

(i) Under any provision of the contract permitting termination in the event of default, in which case the provisions of § 803.380 shall be applicable. In exercising the authority to terminate for default due regard should be given to the preservation of rights against any surety on any performance bond.

(ii) Under any contract article providing for termination for the convenience of the Government, when the defaults of the contractor have not been gross or willful, and have not caused substantial injury to the Government, if the contracting officer shall find that the use of that termination article will facilitate the prosecution of the war and be equitable under all the circumstances.

(4) Extend by supplemental agreement the time fixed in the contract for performance in the manner provided in § 803.308e, and within the time prescribed by § 803.308f, if the default consists of failure to perform within the time specified by the contract. In general, it is not the policy of the Government to terminate contracts for default under the stringent provisions of a delays-damages article, in a manner to bring about a forfeiture or a severe loss on the part of the contractor, merely because, at a time when the Government desires to terminate its contract for reasons not based upon the defaults of the contractor, the contractor happens to be in technical default under the contract. Attention is directed as to the provisions of § 803.308g.

§ 803.380 Steps to be taken in event of termination because of default. If termination is effected pursuant to a contract provision substantially similar to that set forth in §§ 803.352 or 813.1302 (Art. 9) of these procurement regulations (or any similar authorized contract provision used in lieu of either of these provisions), the chief of a technical service may, but is not required to, pursue the remedies provided for in such contract provision or available by law. In the event the contract remedies are elected, the procedure set forth in § 803.380a will be followed. In lieu of making use of the contract remedies he may within the time prescribed by § 803.308f, if he finds that to do so will facilitate the prosecution of the war, make a supplemental agreement with the contractor and relieve the contractor of liability which would result from the enforcement of such remedies. Such an agreement may be entered into only with the prior approval of the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces (obtained in the manner provided in § 803.308a except where the chief of a technical service shall find any one of the following facts:

(a) That the Government no longer has need for the supplies, services, or construction called for by the contract;

(b) That the supplies or services, undelivered because of the contractor's default, can be obtained from some source other than the contractor on a basis as favorable as that set forth in the contract or that the construction provided for in the contract can be accomplished on terms substantially as favorable to the Government as though performed under the original contract;

(c) That for reasons of policy the technical service wishes to buy supplies of the type covered by the contract on terms more expensive or less favorable to the Government than those set forth in the terminated contract. (For example, the technical service may desire to buy from particular producers or in particular geographical areas in order to distribute war work more widely despite any extra expense involved. The excess expense in such a case should not equitably be charged to the contractor);

(d) That any excess cost charged to the contractor would be nominal;

(e) That the contractor currently employs less than 100 employees or was recommended as a prime contractor by the Smaller War Plants Division, War Production Board, has other war contracts existing or prospective, and that enforcement of the remedies provided in the contract would materially impair his ability to perform such contracts.

In any case where, pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, a supplemental agreement relieving the contractor of liability is authorized, the chief of the technical service may, instead of entering into such a supplemental agreement, enter into a supplemental agreement (1) cancelling the contract by mutual consent without cost to the Government and (2) granting a mutual release of all claims arising out of the contract.

§ 803.380a Procedure to be followed when remedies under delays-damages contract article are pursued. If a contractor defaults and it is determined to pursue the remedies provided by a contract provision substantially similar to that set forth in §§ 803.352 or 813.1302 (i) of these Procurement Regulations (or any similar authorized contract provision used in lieu of either of these provisions), the following procedure will, in general, be followed:

(1) The contractor will be notified in writing that his right to proceed has been terminated.

(2) A copy of the termination notice will be furnished to the disbursing officer who will be advised to withhold further payments to the contractor pending additional instructions.

(3) Supplies or materials similar to those called for by the contract will then be procured elsewhere at as reasonable a price as practicable considering the quantity and quality required by the Government and the time in which the supplies or materials are required. In the case of a construction contract, the work will be completed according to the plans and specifications either by such other responsible contractor who offers the lowest price or by Government plant and hired labor. In either construction or supply contracts the excess cost to the Government will be charged to the contractor and the proper disbursing officer will be notified to withhold payments to cover the excess costs, pending payment thereof by the contractor.

(4) The contracting officer, immediately upon making the contract for the purchase of the materials or supplies, or for the completion of the construction contract, will request immediate remittance of the excess cost from the defaulting contractor.

(5) If the contracting officer collects the entire amount of the excess cost, he will furnish a report with reference thereto to the proper disbursing officer, transmitting the amount collected for disposition by the disbursing officer in accordance with paragraph 5*g*, AR 35–6040.

(6) If the contracting officer is unable to make collection of the entire amount of excess cost, he will furnish a complete report of the facts and circumstances to the proper disbursing officer.

If the contractor was given financial assistance by the Government (see Subpart G of this part) appropriate steps will be taken to protect the interest of the Government.

(a) Reports of default. (1) The reports to which reference is made in subparagraphs (5) and (6) above will be made on the form set forth in paragraph (g), or such other form as may be prescribed by the chief of the technical service; or, if the contract in question is a Treasury Procurement Supply Contract, such report will be made on Form 59 Treasury Department, Procurement Division, Branch of Supply (Report on Delinquent Contractor).

(2) The number of copies of the report to be made is as follows:

(i) It will be submitted to the disbursing officer in quadruplicate, except that when the contracting officer makes the collection in accordance with subparagraphs (4) and (5) above, the report will be submitted in duplicate.

(ii) If the purchase was made against a defaulting contractor of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, three additional copies will be made and submitted to the disbursing officer.

(3) The form which is suggested for use under contracts generally is self-explanatory. However, attention should be given to the following:

(i) Under "Remarks," include a statement as to the reason why the purchase was made against the defaulting contractor, substantiated by copies of correspondence and other pertinent papers, if any. If the space under "Remarks" is not sufficient, the back of the form may be used.

(ii) The contracting office will sign the form in the space provided therefor under the heading "Remarks".

(4) In preparing reports covering TPS contracts on Form 59, in addition to the above (i) and (ii), attention should be given to the following:

(i) Above the line noted "Item No." enter the applicable contract number and, if stated in the contract, the period governed by the contract. For example, if the item is purchased on the General Schedule of Supplies, the TPS contract number and period covered thereby would be given as TPS–8920–11/2/33 to 8/31/36.

(b) Collection of the excess cost. (1) The disbursing officer, upon receipt of the report to which reference is made in subparagraph (6) above, will effect collection of the excess cost from the defaulting contractor by deducting the amount thereof from any funds payable to the defaulting contractor.

(2) If the disbursing officer effects collection of the entire amount of excess cost due the Government in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, he will indicate that action on the appropriate form and sign the form under the heading "Remarks" or on the back of the form, and dispose of the report as follows:

(i) The original will be attached to the voucher or other form covering the collection.

(ii) The duplicate copy will be filed in the office of the disbursing officer.

(iii) The triplicate and quadruplicate copies, if any, will be transmitted to the contracting officer, marked for his information only.

(d) The three additional copies to which reference is made in subparagraph (2) (ii) of paragraph (a) above will be transmitted to the Branch of Supply, Procurement Division, Treasury Department, in cases where collection has been made by either the disbursing officer or the contracting officer.

(3) If the disbursing officer finds it impracticable to collect the entire amount of excess cost due the Government, he will indicate his action and recommendation on the appropriate form and sign the form under "Remarks" or on the back of the form, and dispose of the report as follows:

(i) If the default was made on a War Department Contract:

(a) The original and quadruplicate copy will be transmitted to the Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, the original to be forwarded to the General Accounting Office and the quadruplicate copy to be retained by the Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(b) The duplicate copy will be filed in the office of the disbursing officer.

(c) The triplicate copy will be transmitted to the contracting officer with a notation to the effect that the excess cost could not be collected and that the matter has been reported to the Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for reference to the General Accounting Office.

(ii) If the default was made on a contract of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department:

(a) The original, quadruplicate and the three additional copies to which reference is made in subparagraph (2) (ii) of paragraph (a) above, will be transmitted directly to the Branch of Supply, Procurement Division, Treasury Department.

(b) The duplicate copy will be filed in the office of the disbursing officer.

(c) The triplicate copy will be transmitted to the contracting officer with a notation to the effect that the excess cost could not be collected and that the matter has been reported to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department.

(c) In the event that collection of the excess cost is effected by means of contractor's check, money order, cash, or any means other than set-off against another account due the contractor, Standard Form No. 1044 (Schedule of Collections), properly completed, will be submitted in accordance with AR 35–780 with the required number of copies to be submitted with Form 59. In the cases to which reference is made in subparagraph (2) (ii) of (a) above, when collection is effected, three additional copies of Standard Form No. 1044 will be made for transmission with the additional copies of the report.

(d) If purchase is made against a defaulting contractor under a War Department contract and no excess cost is involved, a report on the appropriate form will be made and disposition of the report will be made as indicated in paragraph (b) (3) above. If a TPS contract is involved a report will be made on Form 59 and submitted by the contracting officer directly to the Branch of Supply, Procurement Division, Treasury Department, in triplicate.

(e) A purchase or purchases against the account of a defaulting contractor must not exceed the quantity originally ordered, with consideration given, of course, to the variation clause, if any, in the contract, and must be secured on the same unit basis, such as each dozen, pound. However, this does not preclude the Government from entering into one contract with the completing contractor which includes additional needed supplies provided that the excess costs to be charged against the account of the defaulting contractor are determined as provided in the preceding sentence of this paragraph.

(f) The foregoing instructions do not apply to defaulting contracts under Navy Supply or Post Office Department Contracts. On such defaults, no action should be taken until after the matter has been submitted by the contracting officer by letter to the department concerned through the chief of the technical service. In an emergency, telegraphic submission will be in order.

SUBPART L—MISCELLANEOUS

§ 803.390 Assignments—(a) Basic statutes. There are two statutes creating restrictions on assignments of contracts with and claims against the United States. In 1940 both of these statutes were amended by the addition thereto of a paragraph making the restrictions inapplicable in certain situations. (See § 803.390 (b).)

Prior to the amendment in 1940, Revised Statutes 3737 provided as follows:

No contract or order, or any interest therein, shall be transferred by the party to whom such contract or order is given to any other party, and any such transfer shall cause the annulment of the contract or order transferred, so far as the United States are concerned. All rights of action, however, for any breach of such contract by the contracting parties are reserved to the United States. (41 U.S.C. 15.)

Prior to said amendment in 1940, Revised Statutes 3477 provided as follows:

All transfers and assignments made of any claim upon the United States, or of any part or share thereof, or interest therein, whether absolute or conditional, and whatever may be the consideration thereof, and all powers of attorney, orders, or other authorities for receiving payment of any such claim, or of any part or share thereof, shall be absolutely null and void, unless they are freely made and executed in the presence of at least two attesting witnesses, after the allowance of such a claim, the ascertainment of the amount due, and the issuing of a warrant for the payment thereof. Such transfers, assignments, and powers of attorney, must recite the warrant for payment, and must be acknowledged by the person making them, before an officer having authority to take acknowledgments of deeds, and shall be certified by the officer; and it must appear by the certificate that the officer, at the time of the acknowledgment, read and fully explained the transfer, assignment, or warrant of attorney to the person acknowledging the same. The provisions of this section shall not apply to payments for rent of post-office quarters made by postmasters to duly authorized agents of the lessors. • • • (31 U.S.C. 203.)

(b) Assignment of Claims Act of 1940. In 1940 by the enactment of the Assignment of Claims Act (Public No. 811—76th Congress), aproved 9 October 1940, the restrictions created by sections 3477 and 3737 of Revised Statutes referred to in paragraph (a) above were, subject to certain conditions therein specified, made inapplicable to any case in which monies due or to become due under a contract providing for payments aggregating $1,000 or more, are assigned to a bank, trust company, or other financing institution including any Federal lending agency. The conditions specified in the act are, in general, those set forth in paragraphs (a), (b) and (e) of the standard article contained in § 803.355.

(c) Assignments by operation of law. It has been held that the provisions of sections 3477 and 3737 of the Revised Statutes, do not apply where a contract or claim is transferred by order of a court in receivership or bankruptcy proceedings, such an assignment, being by operation of law. (See 3 Comp. Gen. 623; 5 id. 592.)

(d) Transfer of entire business. It has been held that where an individual or corporation having a contract with or claim against the Government sells an entire business to another individual or corporation, the transferee will be recognized by the United States as the lawful successor in interest of the contractor or claimant notwithstanding the provisions of sections 3477 and 3737 of the Revised Statutes, referred to above. (9 Comp. Gen. 72, 74.)

(e) Corporate mergers. It has likewise been held that the provisions of section 3477 of the Revised Statutes are inapplicable to the transfer of a claim against the United States resulting from the merger of one corporation into another. (Seaboard Airline Railway v. U. S., 256 U. S. 655.)

(f) Recognition of assignments prohibited by Revised Statutes. Assignments or transfers of contracts and claims prohibited by sections 3477 and 3737 of the Revised Statutes are merely voidable and may be validated by the Government. Authority to validate such assignments or transfers is vested in the chiefs of the technical services.

(g) In connection with the assignment of claims, contracting officers will, upon request of the contractor, furnish proposed assignees information regarding the status of the contract at the time of the assignment. In so doing, the contracting officer will advise the assignee that the information is so furnished only for confidential use in connection with the assignment.

§ 803.391 Charges for telegraph, cable, and radio messages in cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. Pursuant to the provisions of Public Law, 4, 78th Congress, approved 6 March 1943, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and subcontractors are no longer entitled to send telegraph, cable or radio messages at government rates.

§ 803.392 Handling defaults and threatened defaults by suppliers and subcontractors under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts. The following procedures are established to assure to the Government the maximum amount of protection and salvage in cases where suppliers or subcontractors of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contractors fail or refuse to perform their obligations under purchase orders or subcontracts, or threaten to do so:

(a) In general, it is the responsibility of the prime contractor to administer and police his purchase orders and subcontracts; and nothing herein contained shall be construed to remove, lessen or impair such responsibility. In case of a threatened breach of contract by a supplier or subcontractor, it is the duty of the prime contractor to use all lawful means employed by businessmen in the trade to obtain performance. This will normally include the sending of a reminder to the supplier or subcontractor that compliance with contract terms is expected and that the supplier or subcontractor will be held to strict accountability for breach; personal interviews where feasible; and similar steps. It is also the duty of the prime contractor to take steps reasonably necessary to assure that he will not lose contract rights through waiver or estoppel.

(b) Where default is threatened by a supplier or subcontractor because of bona fide misunderstandings or differences between him and the prime contractor which appear to be capable of fair settlement, the prime contractor will attempt, through negotiation, to obtain such settlement. But no settlement involving any change in the terms of a purchase order or subcontract previously approved by the Contracting Officer shall be made without the written approval of the Contracting Officer.

(c) The prime contractor will notify the Contracting Officer promptly of any situation which may require the issuance of a purchase order or subcontract to another supplier or subcontractor for supplies or services covered by a purchase order or subcontract as to which default is in prospect or has occurred. Such additional purchase order or subcontract may be issued when the successful and speedy completion of the prime contractor's work is imperilled by default of a supplier or subcontractor. The prime contractor will maintain full and accurate records of cost under such additional purchase order or subcontract for the purpose, among others, or establishing a claim for damages against the defaulting supplier or subcontractor. He will also prepare and keep careful notes of all other information pertinent to the case which may be of assistance in the event of a lawsuit.

(d) Where a supplier or subcontractor has defaulted, and a claim arises in favor of the prime contractor, the latter will attempt to negotiate and settle the claim on reasonable terms whenever it appears that a fair settlement may be preferable to litigation. The prime contractor will keep the Contracting Officer informed of the progress of such settlement negotiations. The Contracting Officer shall have authority to approve a settlement and no settlement agreement will be made without his written approval.

(e) When, in the opinion of the prime contractor, further efforts at settlement will be ineffectual, he will so notify the Contracting Officer. If the Contracting Officer concurs in this opinion, he will direct the prime contractor to assemble all the papers pertinent to the claim, and to make or obtain any affidavits or other records of the transaction, and to prepare any necessary report on the claim. The Contracting Officer will forward this record (in triplicate), together with his own report and recommendation (in triplicate), to the Litigation Division, Office of The Judge Advocate General, through the chief of the technical service concerned.

(f) The Judge Advocate General may from time to time in the further handling of the claim request cooperation and assistance from the prime contractor, the Contracting Officer, and the chief of the technical service concerned, and will in some cases require the Contracting Officer to obtain assignment, from the prime contractor to the United States, of the defaulted purchase order or subcontract. No such assignment will be obtained without the approval of The Judge Advocate General.

(g) If the matter is to be forwarded to the General Accounting Office by The Judge Advocate General it will be forwarded through the Office of The Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

§ 803.393 Disclosure of information in connection with completing Selective Service affidavit—(a) It appears that some industrial firms have been setting forth detailed information on their war production activities, including dollar value of contracts, in completing the Affidavit — Occupational Classification (Industrial) D.S.S. Form 42A, Selective Service System.

(b) The information elicited on the reverse side of this form, pertaining to activities, production, contemplated conversion and numbers of employees, should be stated in general terms only. Detailed confidential data will not be included.

(c) All companies holding War Department contracts will be informed by the chiefs of the technical services that they must avoid any inclusion of confidential war production and related data in completing above mentioned forms.

§ 803.394 Contracts for electric power—(a) Presidential directives. (1) Under date of September 26, 1942, the following letter was received by the Secretary of War from the President:

September 26, 1942.

My dear Mr. Secretary:

It is of the utmost importance that the costs of the war program be held to a minimum consistent with the fullest and most rapid progress. In arranging for the electric power supply for war plants or establishments, the cheapest sources of power consistent with war requirements should be used.

Public and private power supplying agencies should be advised as far in advance as possible of the prospective location and requirements of plants or establishments on or near their systems in order that they may assist in solving the power supply problem involved at the lowest possible cost. In many instances it should be possible to lessen power costs if provision is made for power to be supplied to the consuming agencies directly from the power generating agency. If the lines of the lowest cost power supplying agency do not connect immediately with the war plants, there is no reason why connecting lines of other companies or agencies should not be utilized for a reasonable transmission charge. I am asking the Federal Power Commission to cooperate by using its emergency powers when necessary to make available transmission and other appropriate services for the effectuation of this policy.

I do not think that companies not themselves having sufficient power to supply war plants should be purchasing power from neighboring public power agencies for resale to these plants at a substantial profit. In such cases business like procedure would suggest that the power be purchased directly from the power supplying agencies and reasonable transmission charges be paid to the transmitting companies.

Adoption of my suggestion will not discriminate in favor of public or private power, but will accord with sound business practice.

Sincerely yours,

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT

Hon. HENRY L. STIMSON,
Secretary of War.

(2) Under date of October 22, 1942, the following letter was received by the Chairman, Federal Power Commission from the President:

October 22, 1942.

My dear Mr. Olds:

I would like the Federal Power Commission, after consultation with the procurement agencies and the War Production Board, to establish the procedure, outlined in the attached memorandum, to effectuate the policies set forth in my letter of September 26, 1942, addressed to the War Department, Navy Department, Maritime Commission, Defense Plant Corporation, Federal Housing Agency and the War Production Board.

Sincerely yours,

FRANKLIN D ROOSEVELT

Hon. LELAND OLDS, Chairman, Federal Power Commission.

The following memorandum was attached to the 22 October 1942 letter from the President to Mr. Leland Olds, Chairman, Federal Power Commission.

Outline of Procedure for Purchase of Power for War Plants and Establishments:

(1) Each agency directly or indirectly responsible for power procurement to designate a Power Procurement Officer to handle all contracts and arrangements for electric power as hereinafter provided.

(2) Each agency to direct its representatives to report promptly to the Power Procurement Officer each proposed procurement of power, in excess of a reasonable minimum, which involves Government approval or any Government obligation. Such reports to include all essential facts in accordance with forms approved by the Federal Power Commission.

(3) Power Procurement Officers to refer such reports promptly to the Federal Power Commission, together with proposed contracts, for determination whether cheaper power supply is available and, if so, how it can be delivered. Federal Power Commission to issue necessary orders after consultation with War Production Board as to priorities and allocations.

(4) Federal Power Commission to determine whether proposed rates and conditions are reasonable and, if unreasonable, to fix proper terms and otherwise cooperate with Power Procurement Officers in effectuating arrangements necessary for securing power on best possible terms.

(5) Review and renegotiation of existing contracts to be in accordance with above procedure.

(b) War Department Power Procurement Officer. Pursuant to the directives from the President, set forth in paragraph (a), Colonel R. C. Kuldell, Office, Chief of Engineers, has been designated by the Secretary of War as the War Department Power Procurement Officer with the following responsibilities for contracts of 1000 kilowatts or over for electric service to all installations where the War Department has an interest in the cost of electric service:

(1) Review of all existing contracts and initiation of such modifications or changes as are considered to be required to comply with the principles expressed in the President's directives.

(2) Review of proposed contracts and of proposed supplements to existing contracts, if such supplements extend the time, alter the contract price, or make any other substantial change in the contract terms, to assure that such contracts and supplements are consistent with the principles expressed in the President's directives.

(c) Representatives of War Department Power Procurement Officer. The Repairs and Utilities Divisions of the Service Command Engineer Offices are designated as representatives of the War Department Power Procurement Officer. These representatives will carry out, under his direction, such field activities as may be necessary in connection with contracts and supplements to contracts for electrical service to all establishments within the geographical boundaries of the Service Commands, where the War Department has an interest in the cost of electric service. Commanding Officers at all such establishments will cooperate with these representatives by making available such information as is required for their review of existing and proposed contracts and supplements.

(d) Liaison with War Department Power Procurement Officer. The Commanding General, Army Air Forces, and the chiefs of the technical services are directed to designate an officer or civilian representative to maintain liaison with the War Department Power Procurement Officer on matters pertaining to contracts for electric service. The latter should be notified of such appointment and of the address and telephone number of the person designated.

(e) Required provision in contracts and supplements. All contracts and supplements of the character referred to in paragraph (b), will contain a statement that the contract or supplement is subject to the approval of the War Department Power Procurement Officer and will not be binding until so approved. Such contracts and supplements will then be forwarded through the Repairs and Utilities Division of the Service Command Engineer Office to the War Department Power Procurement Officer, Office of the Chief of Engineers, for such approval.

§ 803.395 Contracts within section 9, Military Appropriation Act, 1944. (a) Section 9, Military Appropriation Act, 1944 (Public Law 108, 78th Congress) provides:

Whenever, during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1944, the Secretary of War should deem it to be advantageous to the national defense, and if in his opinion the existing facilities of the War Department are inadequate, he is hereby authorized to employ, by contract or otherwise, without reference to section 3709, Revised Statutes, civil service or classification laws, or section 5 of the Act of April 6, 1914 (38 Stat. 335), and at such rates of compensation (not to exceed $25 per day for individuals) as he may determine, the services of architects, engineers, or firms or corporations thereof, and other technical and professional personnel as may be necessary.

(b) Except as may be provided in other applicable statutes, the statute above-quoted affects (1) each War Department contract for architectural, engineering, technical or professional services (i) made with any individual; or (ii) made with a firm or corporation which is engaged primarily in the business of furnishing such services, and (2) each War Department contract for the employment of the services of accountants or other experts to assist in inaugurating new or changing old methods of transacting business of the Department. Except as above stated, it does not apply to any contracts with firms or corporations for services related to the development, invention, design, procurement, production, repair, or maintenance of war supplies, matériel or facilities or for research or services concerning any such supplies, matériel or facilities, or to any other type of War Department contract.

(c) Notwithstanding anything contained in Subpart B of this part, each contract of the type described in the first sentence of paragraph (b) above, regardless of amount, and each supplemental agreement or change order making a material change in such a contract, will contain a provision stating that it is subject to the approval of the Secretary of War or Under Secretary of War and will not be binding until so approved; and such contract, supplemental agreement or change order will be forwarded by the chief of the technical service involved for approval by the Secretary of War or Under Secretary of War through the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. The chief of the technical service, in recommending approval, will refer specifically to the statute above quoted and will furnish a full statement of facts supporting the findings and determination required by the statute to be made by the Secretary of War (Under Secretary of War).

(d) Each such contract, supplemental agreement and change order will cite as authority the statute above quoted, the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001.

(e) Where such contract is with an individual, it will expressly limit the compensation payable to him to not more than twenty-five dollars per day, plus additional compensation for overtime pursuant to the provisions of the War Overtime Pay Act of 1943 (Public Law 49, 78th Cong., approved 7 May 1943).

SUBPART A—GENERAL

§ 804.401 Rescission of regulations. Army Regulations 5–140, May 22, 1940, as amended; Army Regulations 5–220, August 7, 1940, as amended; and all other directives and instructions relating to bonds and insurance issued prior to February 1, 1943, are hereby rescinded.

§ 804.402 Compliance with this part. Unless otherwise specifically provided, compliance with any provision of this part or of any amendment thereto which requires a change in procedure or in any contract provision shall not be mandatory until thirty days after the issuance of such regulation or amendment.

§ 804.403 Exceptions to requirements of this part. Where any provisions of this part, establishes requirements the application of which is impractical in a given special case or in a particular situation, the matter should be submitted to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces with a full statement of the facts and circumstances. That Branch has authority to make exceptions to requirements set forth in this part.

§ 804.404 Security of insurance and bond information. The attention of all concerned is directed to the security problem involved in insurance transactions. The following is the full text of paragraph IV of War Department Circular No. 398, 1942:

IV—Security of insurance information. 1. Effective procurement and distribution of war supplies and materials, and the efficient operation of supply and repair facilities, private and public, are essential to speedy victory and the conservation of lives and property. Every contract operation of the War Department involving a private person or organization places upon that person or organization some degree of financial responsibility for loss or damage to persons or property. A prudent business man or organization promptly seeks to pass this liability to a second party, an insurer, for a known price in order to stabilize costs.

2. Insurance underwriters customarily require detailed knowledge of the risks underwritten. In many cases insurance sources require and obtain a continuous knowledge of the operations either by reason of the insurance service facilities at the project site or through reports required by the insurance contract. These reports are used for the purpose of computing premium charges. Usually, when no service facilities are installed at the project, the policy contract makes provision for the right of examination and audit by the insurer's personnel.

3. It is essential that all concerned fully appreciate the potential value of insurance as a source of detailed and current information. Our enemies are adept at utilizing this source for intelligence purposes and over a period of time have, by devious and ingenious commercial transactions, infiltrated the world insurance structure.

4. Appropriate action is expected in the near future to reduce drastically the flow of insurance information out of the United States. This action will not eliminate the danger to security of vital information unless greater care is exercised in its dissemination and safekeeping within the United States.

5. All concerned will bring this matter to the immediate attention of private persons or organizations engaged in war projects. Management will see to it that insurers are permitted only such information as is proved to be essential to their operations, and that such information as is permitted will be kept in a safe manner. Each insurer will be required to designate its representative or representatives to whom such information will be given, and will be required to undertake that such information as is obtained will not be furnished to any other insurer or organization without the prior approval of the contractor and the Army representative in charge. In the absence of an Army representative, contractors will be advised to communicate direct with the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply. All concerned desiring assistance or guidance will also communicate with the Insurance Branch.

6. It is realized that insurance is a necessary adjunct to industry, and that insurers require some information in order to operate intelligently. However, indications are that great care has been exercised with respect to dissemination of information concerning vital operations, but little or no attention has been paid to the insurance source. More emphasis will be placed upon security when selecting an insurer in connection with important operations, and security will never be sacrificed for price.

The foregoing is equally applicable to bonds, and strict compliance therewith by all concerned is in the National interest.

SUBPART B—BONDS

§ 804.405 Types of bonds. There are set forth in this section brief descriptions of the more common types of bonds, riders, and endorsements used in connection with War Department Contracts. In certain of those paragraphs there are contained cross references to the forms of bonds, riders, and endorsements which are contained in Subpart E of this part.

(a) Bid bond. A bid bond is a bond accompanying a bid in which the obligor obligates himself in an amount stated (the penal sum), which obligation, it is stated, is to be void if:

(1) The bid is not withdrawn after the opening within the period specified in the bid, or, if no shorter period is specified, within sixty days; and

(2) A written contract, with such bond or bonds as may be required, is executed within ten days after the prescribed forms are presented for signature. (For form see § 804.496 (a).)

(b) Annual bid bond. An annual bid bond is a single bond securing all bids submitted to a designated agency during the fiscal year. Such a bond is executed in lieu of executing separate bid bonds for each bid. (For form see § 804.496 (b).)

(c) Performance bond. A performance bond is a bond which is executed in connection with a contract and which secures the performance and fulfillment of all the undertakings, covenants, terms, conditions and agreements contained in the contract. (For form see § 804.496 (c).)

(d) Annual performance bond. An annual performance bond is a single bond securing the performance and fulfillment of all the undertakings, covenants, terms, conditions and agreements of all contracts executed with a designated agency during a fiscal year. Such a bond is executed in lieu of executing separate performance bonds for each contract. (For form see § 804.496 (d).)

(e) Payment bond. A payment bond is a bond which is executed in connection with a contract and which secures the payment of all persons supplying labor and material in the prosecution of the work provided for in the contract. (For form see § 804.496 (e).)

(f) Advance payment bond. An advance payment bond is a bond which secures the performance and the fulfillment of a contractual provision for the making of advance payments of the type described in § 803.321, et seq. (For form see § 804.496 (f).)

(g) Patent infringement bond. A patent infringement bond is a bond which secures the performance and fulfillment of the undertakings contained in a patent clause of the type set forth in § 803.335. (For form see § 804.496 (g).)

(h) Fidelity bond (blanket). A fidelity bond is a bond under which the obligor agrees to indemnify an employer up to an amount stated in the bond for losses caused by dishonesty on the part of all employees except those expressly excluded by written endorsement on the bond. (For form see § 804.496 (i).)

(i) Forgery bond or policy (depositor's form). A forgery bond or policy is a bond or policy under which the obligor agrees to reimburse a purchaser and others named in the bond or policy (the insureds) to an amount stated in the bond or policy:

(1) For losses caused by the forging or altering of a check, draft, or similar instrument issued by or purported to have been issued by any of the insureds named in the bond or policy.

(2) For losses resulting from the fact that a check or draft has been obtained from the insureds through the device of impersonation (For form see § 804.496 (j)).

(j) Retroactive reinstatement rider. This rider contains a provision which is available for blanket fidelity and forgery bonds whereby after a loss has been sustained the penalty of the bond is restored to its original amount with respect to prior losses. There is contained in the bond itself a provision which automatically restores the penalty of the bond to the original amount with respect to future losses.

(k) Waiver of restoration premium rider. This rider contains a provision which is available for blanket fidelity and forgery bonds which has the effect of eliminating the premium charge for restoring the penalty of the bond after a loss has been sustained.

(l) Endorsement excluding subrogation to claims against the United States. This endorsement contains a provision which excludes any claim on the part of the surety company to be subrogated on payment of a loss or otherwise to any claim against the United States. It is required to be placed on any fidelity or forgery bond, the premium for which is either paid by the Government directly or is a reimbursable item under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract.

(m) Cancellation or change notice rider. This rider contains a provision by which a surety agrees to notify certain named interested parties in the event that the bond is cancelled or changed in any other manner.

(n) License or permit bond. This is a bond which secures to a municipality or other public authority the payment of fines or the amount of any losses sustained as a result of action taken, or omitted to be taken, in violation of the terms of a license or permit. The indemnity sometimes runs to third persons in addition to the municipality.

§ 804.406 Contract bond requirements on lump sum construction and supply contracts—(a) Bid bonds. Bid bonds will not be required in connection with lump sum construction and supply contracts except when the contract was placed as a result of formal advertising and the invitation to bidders specified that the contracts were to be supported by performance and/or payment bonds. On such bonds as are required the penal sum will be in an amount deemed adequate for the protection of the United States. The maximum rates of premiums on such bonds are as follows:

(1) On construction contracts not exceeding $2,500, a premium of twenty cents per $100 of bid price, the minimum premium being $1.00;

(2) On construction contracts in an amount in excess of $2,500, a flat fee of $5.00 per bond;

(3) On supply contracts not in excess of $1,250 in amount, a premium of twenty cents per $100 of bid price, the minimum premium being $1.00;

(4) On supply contracts in excess of $1,250 in amount, a flat fee of $2.50 per bond.

The charge for a bid bond is applied as a credit against the premium for the performance bond if the contractor is the successful bidder.

(b) Performance bonds. The extent to which performance bonds will be required in connection with lump sum construction and supply contracts will be determined by the chief of the supply service concerned. However, the requirement of performance bonds will be the exception rather than the rule. On such bonds as are required the penal sum will be the lowest which, in the exercise of sound judgment, is deemed adequate for the protection of the United States. The maximum rates of premiums on such bonds are as follows:

(1) On lump sum construction contracts for both performance and payment bonds on the same contract with stipulated completion time not exceeding twelve months:

(i) For Class "A" construction (including dredging):

(a) $5.00 per thousand of the contract price up to $2,500,000 and $3.75 per thousand of the portion of the contract price in excess of $2,500,000; or

(b) Where the total penal sum of the performance and payment bonds is less than 10% of the contract price, $40.00 per thousand of the aggregate penal sum of both the performance and payment bonds; and

(c) A minimum premium in any case of $7.50 per bond.

(ii) For Class "B" construction (including highways and bridges):

(a) $6.65 per thousand of the contract price up to $2,500,000 and $5.00 per thousand of the portion of the contract price in excess of $2,500,000; or

(b) Where the total penal sum of the performance and payment bonds is less than 15% of the contract price, $45.00 per thousand of the aggregate penal sum of both the performance and payment bonds; and

(c) A minimum premium in any case of $10 per bond.

(2) On lump sum supply contracts (for performance bonds only) a premium of $1.00 per thousand of the contract price, the premium in no event to exceed $3.00 per thousand of the penal sum of the bond and in no event to be less than $5.00.

(c) Payment bonds—(1) Lump sum construction contracts. Payment bonds will be required in connection with all lump sum construction contracts where performance bonds are required. As a general rule payment bonds will also be required in connection with all other construction contracts which exceed $2,000 in amount. However, as to contracts where performance bonds are not required, the requirement of a payment bond may in the discretion of the chief of the supply service concerned be waived when the credit of the contractor makes the requirement unnecessary. The penal sum of payment bonds executed in connection with lump sum construction contracts will be as follows:

(i) When the contract price is $1,000,000 or less, 50 percent of the contract price;

(ii) When the contract price is in excess of $1,000,000 but less than $5,000,000, 40 percent of the contract price;

(iii) When the contract price is $5,000,000 or more, $2,500,000.

The maximum rates of premium for payment bonds executed in connection with lump sum construction contracts will be $4.50 per thousand of contract price up to $2,500,000 and $3.35 per thousand of the portion of the contract price in excess of $2,500,000; the premium in no case to exceed 3.3 percent of the penal sum of the bond. The minimum premium will be $10.00 per bond.

(2) Lump sum supply contracts. Payment bonds will not be required in connection with lump sum supply contracts except where, in the opinion of the chief of the supply service concerned, the requirement of such a bond would facilitate the prosecution of the war. The penal sum of the bond will be the lowest sum which in the exercise of sound judgment is deemed reasonably adequate for the protection of the United States as the representative of the suppliers of labor and materials. The maximum rates of premium on payment bonds executed in connection with lump sum supply contracts are as follows:

(i) On lump sum supply contracts of $1,000,000 or less where the penalty of the bond does not exceed 50% of the contract price: $2.25 per thousand on 50 percent of the contract price;

(ii) On lump sum supply contracts of $1,000,000 or less where the penalty of the bond exceeds 50 percent of the contract price: $2.25 per thousand of the penal sum of the bond;

(iii) On lump sum supply contracts in excess of $1,000,000 but not in excess of $6,250,000 where the penalty of the bond does not exceed 40 percent of the contract price: $2.25 per thousand on 40 percent of the contract price;

(iv) On lump sum supply contracts in excess of $1,000,000 but not in excess of $6,250,000 where the penalty of the bond exceeds 40 percent of the contract price: $2.25 per $1,000 of the penal sum of the bond;

(v) On lump sum supply contracts in excess of $6,250,000: $2.25 per thousand of the penal sum of the bond and in no event less than $5,625.

If both performance and payment bonds are required in connection with a supply contract, the rates set forth in paragraphs (b) (2) and (c) (2) represent the maximum rates of premium for each separate bond.

(d) Advance payment bonds. The extent to which advance payment bonds will be required in connection with lump sum construction and supply contracts is discretionary with the chief of the supply service concerned, but such bonds will be required only in the most exceptional circumstances. The penal sum of the bond will be the lowest sum which in the exercise of sound judgment is deemed reasonably adequate for the protection of the United States. The maximum rates of premium are as follows:

(1) On the first $2,500,000 advanced—$6.00 per thousand;

(2) On any sum advanced in excess of $2,500,000 and up to $5,000,000—$5.75 per thousand;

(3) On any sum advanced in excess of $5,000,000 and up to $7,500,000—$5.50 per thousand;

(4) On any sum advanced in excess of $7,500,000—$5.00 per thousand.

The above rates are computed on all moneys advanced, and are for bonds guaranteeing performance of contractual provisions covering advance payments only; they are not for guaranteeing the performance of any other contracts.

(e) Patent infringement bonds. (1) A patent infringement bond will not be required with respect to any contract in connection with which a performance bond has been executed.

(2) Even if a performance bond has not been executed the requirement of a patent infringement bond will be the exception rather than the rule. Where, however, a lump sum supply contract or construction contract contains a patent clause of the type set forth in § 803.335 and the financial responsibility of the contractor is unknown or doubtful, a patent infringement bond may, in the discretion of the chief of the supply service concerned, be required.

(3) On such bonds as are required, the penal sum will be the lowest which, in the exercise of sound judgment, is deemed adequate for the protection of the interests of the United States. The maximum rate of premium is $10 per thousand per annum on the penal sum of the bond. The maximum premium for the term of the bond is five annual premiums of $10 per thousand each. If the term premium is paid in advance, a discount of 20 percent is applicable.

(f) Annual bid bonds. The annual bid bond is not in general use for lump sum construction and supply contracts.

(g) Annual performance bonds. The annual performance bond is not in general use for lump sum construction and supply contracts.

§ 804.407 Contract bond requirements for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. (a) Bid, performance, payment, advance payment, patent infringement, annual bid and annual performance bonds will not be required for cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts, construction contracts, or contracts for the operation of Government-owned plants.

(b) Fidelity bonds. Fidelity bonds will be approved in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts, construction contracts or contracts for the operation of Government-owned plants only in those cases where in the opinion of the chief of the supply service concerned it is desirable to obtain the investigating and claims facilities of a surety company and such bonds are considered to be reasonably necessary for the protection of the contractor or the Government. A Primary Commercial Blanket form of bond with a rider providing for retroactive reinstatement for prior losses in the penal sum of $10,000 will be considered sufficient. The following additional clauses will be required:

(1) A rider excluding any claim on the part of the surety company to be subrogated on the payment of loss or otherwise, to any claim against the United States;

(2) A rider providing for pro rata refund of premium in the event of cancellation by the insured;

(3) A rider providing for a notice to the chief of the supply service concerned in the event of any change in or cancellation of the bond;

(4) A rider providing for investigation of all claims;

(5) A rider providing for investigation of all Class "A" employees.

There are a variety of discounts which may be applied to blanket fidelity insurance under certain circumstances. A 30% class discount may be applicable to the class A employee premium charge, depending on the nature of the assured's contracts on hand when the bond is written or renewed. A 10% general discount may be applicable to the combined class A and class B employee premium charge for a Primary Commercial Blanket Bond, depending on the number of employees involved and the amount of the bond. An experience discount ranging as high as 25% may be applicable to the final premium, depending on the size of the premium and the amount of claims or losses incurred. Therefore, when blanket fidelity insurance is purchased, carriers should be cautioned to apply all appropriate discounts.

When, pursuant to § 804.409 (c) hereof, a duplicate of the fidelity bond or policy is forwarded to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, it will be accompanied by (i) a statement showing what percentage of the name assured's total volume of contracts for all departments and agencies of the Government is cost-plus-a-fixed-fee, (ii) a classification of the employees showing the number placed in A, B, and C classes, and (iii) if available a complete computation of the premium charge or proposed premium charge. Upon receipt of this data the Contract Insurance Branch will advise the service concerned if the premium has not been correctly computed.

(c) Forgery bonds. This type of bond will be approved in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee supply contracts, construction contracts or contracts for the operation of Government-owned plants only in those cases where, in the opinion of the chief of the technical service concerned, the operation of the contract requires the employment of a large number of new employees who may be inexperienced in the proper method of handling accounting matters and where the contractor concerned transacts the greater part of his business by checks. If, in such a case, it is determined that a forgery bond or policy is desirable to obtain the investigating and claims facilities of a surety company and is considered reasonably necessary for the protection of the Government or the contractor, a forgery bond or policy with a retroactive reinstatement rider may be approved in the penal sum of $10,000. This sum is considered sufficient. The clauses referred to in paragraph (b) (1) to (b) (4) will be required.

(d) License and permit bonds. These types of bonds will be approved only in those cases where in the opinion of the chief of the technical service concerned such bonds provide a necessary protection to the Government or to the contractor against liability to third parties or where failure to provide such bonds would constitute a violation of an applicable ordinance or statute of a municipality or other public authority.

(e) Endorsement excluding subrogation to claims against the United States. In every case where a contract requires the United States to pay the premium, either directly or by way of reimbursement, on a bond, the bond will contain an endorsement or other recital excluding by appropriate language any claim on the part of the surety to be subrogated, on payment of a loss or otherwise, to any claim against the United States.

§ 804.408 General policy as to rates. The rates referred to in § 804.406:

(1) Are maximum rates. Where a surety charges less than the rates shown in said section, care should be observed that the savings resulting therefrom are reflected in the contract price.

(2) Apply to both prime contracts with the War Department and subcontracts thereunder.

(3) Apply to all bonds which were executed on or after August 28, 1942 in connection with contracts of the types referred to in § 804.406.

(4) Apply to the increased amount of any contract, the amount of which is increased on or after August 28, 1942.

(5) Are based on a stipulated completion time not exceeding twelve months on Class "A" and Class "B" construction contracts.

(a) Bond premium computation on terminated contracts.—(1) Premium on the bonds described in § 804.406 (b) and (c) (except in certain instances mentioned in such paragraphs where the rate is applied to the penalty of the bond or bonds) is determined by multiplying the appropriate rate of premium by the final contract price, that is, the total remuneration received by the contractor after final settlement. The rule followed by the surety industry generally is as follows:

> The "contract price" on which premium is computed means the whole sum of money or other reimbursement which has passed from the owner to the contractor when final settlement between the two has been made, excluding any bonus for "time". If this sum is different from the original estimate, premium must be adjusted accordingly, either by a refund of part of the original premium by the surety if the original estimate was larger than the actual contract price, or by payment of additional premium by the contractor if the original estimate was smaller than the actual contract price. (Towner Rating Bureau bond manual—page 47.)

Accordingly, when a contract is terminated short of original estimate, the decrease in contract price requires that an adjustment in bond premium be taken into account when final settlement is made. Such adjustment (or return premium) on a contract decrease is ascertained by subtracting from the original premium the amount of premium developed in multiplying the appropriate rate by the terminated contract price. By "appropriate" rate is meant the rate that would have been used for a contract in the amount of the terminated contract price at the time the original contract was awarded. Care should be observed in connection with construction contracts in excess of $2,500,000 in amount for the reason that prior to 28 August 1942 such contracts were accorded special rates of a graduated nature, depending on the size of the contract and the performance time involved. Subsequent to 28 August 1942 special rates have been promulgated for construction contracts where performance time required more than twelve months. In any case where doubt exists or special circumstances are believed involved, full details together with the recommendation of the chief of the technical service will be forwarded to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Service Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for review and advices.

(2) Premium on bonds required in support of War Department contracts other than those described in § 804.406 (b) and (c) is determined by various methods, depending on the nature of the bond or contract involved. As a general rule, adjustment of bond premium is in order where a contract is terminated short of completion. Especially is this true where the bond premium is included in the contract price as an item of cost. In any case where doubt exists or special circumstances are believed involved, full details together with the recommendation of the chief of the technical service will be forwarded to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for review and advices.

(3) Premium on fidelity and forgery bonds furnished in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts is paid for a certain period of time, which is generally one year. There is attached to each such bond a rider providing for pro rata refund of premium on a calendar day basis when the bond is canceled upon contract termination.

§ 804.409 Filing and examination of bonds and consents of surety. (a) All bonds of the types described in § 804.405, will be executed in duplicate.

(b) (1) The original of all surety bonds required by the various elements of the War Department (except as hereinafter provided in subparagraph (3)) will be forwarded to The Judge Advocate General. The latter will examine them as to legal sufficiency and as to form and execution. In the case of corporate sureties he will examine them to ascertain whether the corporate officials who purported to execute the bonds on behalf of the corporate sureties had authority to do so; and in the case of individual sureties he will examine them to ascertain whether the affidavit of justification and the certificate of sufficiency of the surety or sureties are in accordance with regulations. The Judge Advocate General will then forward the bond to the proper office for filing. To assist in this, it is important that the forwarding office indicate clearly on the front page of the bond the Army Audit Branch of the General Accounting Office to which the bond should be sent (see § 803.317b (a) and (b)). The duplicate will be retained and filed in the office to which it pertains or which authorized its acceptance.

(2) Consents of surety will be handled in the same manner as bonds, except that for more expeditious handling they may be forwarded in blank to the Office of The Judge Advocate General which will have them executed in Washington under the Expediter Plan and then approve them.

(3) The following bonds will not be forwarded to The Judge Advocate General:

(i) Bid bonds (except annual bid bonds). The original and duplicate numbers will be retained in the office to which they pertain or which authorized their acceptance.

(ii) Blanket fidelity and forgery bonds. Refer to paragraph (c) for filing of duplicates.

(iii) All bonds required by Army Regulations to be filed elsewhere than at the War Department. The orginal and duplicate will be retained in the office to which they pertain or which authorized their acceptance.

(c) The duplicate of all fidelity and forgery bonds will be forwarded to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for examination and filing.

§ 804.410 Bonds executed by receivers, trustees, administrators, guardians, or executors as principal obligors. (a) Receivers, trustees, administrators, guardians or executors are officers of the court which appointed them. Their powers are limited to those specified in the court order appointing them. Accordingly, when a bond is executed by such an officer of a court, a duly authenticated copy of the court order showing his authority to execute the bond should be obtained.

(b) All bonds executed by such a court officer should commence substantially as follows:

> I (we) John Doe (and _____) as executor (s) (administrator (s)) of the estate of _____, deceased (trustee (s) of _____) (receiver (s) _____).

(c) The execution should be prepared and signed by such court officer in the blank space provided for the signature of the individual obligors and should be in substantially the following form:

> John Doe (and_____) as executor(s) (administrator(s) of the estate of _____deceased (trustee(s) of_____) (receiver of _____).

(d) In the case of a bond executed by the receiver of a corporation, the corporate seal should not be affix inasmuch as the bond is not the bond of the corporation itself, but a bond executed by the receiver on behalf of the estate of which he is receiver.

(e) Bonds executed by a receiver or trustee which may extend beyond the term of his appointment, and all bonds executed by administrators or executors will not in general be acceptable, unless the court has entered a specific decree authorizing the type of bond in question, or unless in the general decree appointing the officer the court has specifically granted authority to execute the type of bond in question. In either event a duly authenticated copy of the court order should be attached to the copy of the copy of the bond.

§ 804.411 Bonds executed by limited partnerships as principal obligors. If the principal obligor is a limited partnership the individual names and residences of the general and limited partners will appear in the body of the bond with a recital that they are general and limited partners respectively. The limited partnership shall be named, the location of its business specified, and the bond shall be executed in the name of the limited partnership by all of the general partners with a recital that they are general partners and by such general partners as individuals.

§ 804.412 Reports. The chief of each technical service will submit to the Chief of the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, a data sheet in connection with each contract in support of which a bond is required. The form of this data sheet is set forth in § 804.496 (l).

SUBPART C—SURETIES ON BONDS

§ 804.415 Definition of consent of surety. A consent of surety is an instrument by which the surety or sureties on a bond or bonds supporting a contract:

(a) Consent to a supplemental agreement which modifies or amends the contract, or

(b) Consent to a change order making an authorized modification.

§ 804.416 Requirement. The circumstances under which consents of sureties are required are set forth in § 803.314.

§ 804.417 Forms. The form of consent to be used in cases where an advance payment provision was added by supplemental agreement subsequent to the original execution of the contract is set forth in subparagraph (2) of § 804.496 (h).

The forms of consent to be used in all other cases is set forth in subparagraph (1) § 804.496 (h).

(a) Filing and examination of consents of surety. See § 804.409 (b).

§ 804.418 Procedure for accomplishing execution of consent or correction of bonds and consents. There are two procedures for obtaining the execution of consents. Either may be used but it is suggested that the so-called "expediter plan" expedites the handling of these matters particularly where a number of co-sureties are involved. On occasion, use of the so-called "standard plan" has resulted in considerable delay in obtaining consents or correction of bonds. Accordingly, the expediter plan is recommended. The following is a description of the two procedures:

(1) Expediter plan. There has been established in Washington at the Office of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives, Washington Building, an arrangement whereby either Mr. Howard M. Starling or Mr. Charles M. Walker, on his sole unwitnessed signature, will execute consents of surety and make corrections in bonds and consents in compliance with requests originating either in Washington or in the field offices. These representatives of the surety industry have been so empowered by all of the surety companies on the Treasury Department List and authenticated evidence of their authority as above described has been filed with Office of The Judge Advocate General and with the Section of Surety Bonds, Treasury Department. Whenever a supply service desires to avail itself of the expediter plan, it should transmit an unexecuted consent or the incorrect bond or consent in the manner described in subparagraph (2) of § 804.410 (b) to the Office of The Judge Advocate General. That office will get in touch with Mr. Starling or Mr. Walker who will handle all the details for the surety companies concerned and will execute or correct the instrument. The Office of The Judge Advocate General will then handle the document in the manner set forth in § 803.314 (d).

(2) Standard plan.—If the expediter plan is not used, the request for a consent or for a correction of a bond or consent should be made directly to the surety company concerned or its representative.

§ 804.419 Corporate sureties.—(a) Corporate surety acceptability requirements. In order to be acceptable to the War Department, the corporate surety must have obtained from the Secretary of the Treasury authority to do business under the Act of August 13, 1894 (28 Stat. 279), as amended by the Act of March 23, 1910 (36 Stat. 241); 6 U. S. C. 8; M. L. 1939, sec. 534. A list of the corporations approved by the Secretary of the Treasury is published semi-annually by the Treasury Department as Form No. 356 (Section of Surety Bonds). This list indicates the maximum penal sum in which any corporate surety may underwrite any one obligation. Any corporation whose name is on this list is acceptable within the limits of such approval. The chiefs of the supply services are responsible for distributing copies of the list. It may be procured through The Judge Advocate General to whom a requisition for the requirements of each supply service should be sent semi-annually on or before March 15 and September 15.

(b) Qualifications of agents and corporate sureties. Corporate sureties should forward to The Judge Advocate General, Washington, D. C. for filing: powers of attorney or certified copies of resolutions of their Boards of Directors or Trustees authorizing their officers or agents to execute bonds, and certificates evidencing the revocation of authority previously granted to execute bonds.

(c) Corporate co-sureties. More than one corporate surety may be accepted as surety upon any recognizance, stipulation, bond, or undertaking in connection with either supply or construction contracts, provided that in no case will the liability of any such co-surety exceed the maximum penal sum in which the corporate surety is qualified to underwrite any one obligation. On bonds covering supply contracts where the amount of the bond is greater than the underwriting limitation of the corporate surety, the latter may reinsure with a corporation on the acceptable list of corporate sureties and having the required underwriting capacity. Reinsurance agreements are not acceptable in connection with construction contracts. As indicated by the forms of bonds (see paragraphs (c) (5), (e) (4), and (f) (5) of § 804.496), it is not necessary that corporate co-sureties obligate themselves for the full amount of the bond. Each corporate surety may, by setting forth the limit of its liability in the bond as a definite and specified sum, limit such liability. In all cases the liability shall be limited to the maximum penal sum in which the corporate surety is qualified to underwrite any one obligation. As further indicated by the aforementioned forms, the sureties must, however, bind themselves "jointly and severally" for the purpose of allowing a joint action or actions against any or all of them.

§ 804.420 Individual sureties.—(a) Acceptability. Individual sureties are acceptable for all types of bonds other than fidelity and forgery bonds, provided that they meet the requirements specified in paragraph (c) and in paragraph (e) of this section.

(b) Number. If individual sureties are used there shall be at least two responsible individuals on each bond.

(c) Citizenship. (1) Except as prescribed in subparagraph (2) individual sureties will be citizens of the United States.

(2) Sureties on bonds executed in foreign countries, the Canal Zone, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska or any other possession of the United States, to secure the performance of contracts entered into those places need not be citizens of the United States. However unless they are citizens of the United States they must be domiciled in the country, territory or possession where the contract is to be performed.

(d) Extent of liability. The liability of each individual surety shall extend to the entire penal amount of the bond, except that when more than two sureties are furnished, the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, may authorize special provision with respect to the extent of liability.

(e) Justification. Individual sureties will each justify in an amount not less than the penal amount of the bond.

(f) Stockholders as sureties. In connection with any bond of which a corporation is the principal obligor, a stockholder of that corporation is acceptable as a surety on the bond: Provided, That his net worth exclusive of his stock holdings in the corporation is equal to the amount for which he justified: And provided further, That such fact is expressly stated in his affidavit of justification.

§ 804.421 Partnerships as sureties. A partnership or other unincorporated association, as such, will not be accepted as a surety. The individual members of the partnership or association may, of course, if they meet the requirements of paragraphs (c) and (e) of § 804.420 qualify as sureties. Individual members of a partnership or association will not, however, be acceptable as sureties on bonds under which the partnership or association, or any co-partner or member thereof, is the principal obligor.

§ 804.422 Substitution or replacement of a surety. In case of financial embarrassment, failure or other disqualifying cause on the part of a surety under a bond the chief of the supply service concerned will require the substitution of a new surety satisfactory to him.

§ 804.423 Options in lieu of sureties on bonds. Under the conditions set forth in paragraphs (a) and (b), United States bonds or notes, certified checks, money orders or currency may be deposited in lieu of furnishing sureties on bonds.

(a) United States bonds or notes. (1) Under the provisions of the act of February 24, 1919, as amended, any person required to furnish a bond executed by him as principal obligor has the option, in lieu of furnishing sureties on his bonds, of depositing United States Liberty bonds or other bonds or notes of the United States except as provided in subparagraph (2) (iii) below at a sum equal at their par value to the penal amount of the bond (Act of February 24, 1919, ch. 18, sec. 1320, as amended; 6 U.S.C. 15; M.L. 1939, sec. 540).

(2) Procedure: The procedure for carrying out the authority conferred by the above mentioned act, is contained in Treasury Department Circular No. 154, issued under date of February 6, 1935. In general, the procedure is as follows:

(i) The contracting officer is the "bond approving officer" who will turn over the securities deposited with him to the local disbursing officer for safekeeping. The disbursing officer will receipt for the securities in duplicate on Form D, Treasury Department Circular No. 154.

(ii) Instead of retaining the securities turned over to him, the disbursing officer may deposit them with the Treasury of the United States, a Federal Reserve Bank, a branch of the Federal Reserve Bank, having the requisite facilities, or other depository duly designated for that purpose by the Secretary of the Treasury. The procedure is set forth in more detail in Treasury Department Circular No. 154.

(iii) United States Savings bonds may only be pledged in lieu of furnishing sureties, when the bond approving officer is the Secretary of the Treasury. The acceptance by a War Department contracting officer of United States savings bonds is thus precluded.

(iv) Treasury Certificates of Indebtedness are not acceptable in lieu of furnishing sureties.

(b) Certified checks, money orders or currency. Any person required to furnish a bond executed by him as principal obligor has the option in lieu of furnishing sureties on his bond, of depositing a certified check, a Post Office money order or currency provided that the penal sum of the bond is not in excess of $50,000. The following procedure will be followed:

(1) Certified checks or Post Office money orders will be drawn to the order of the Treasurer of the United States.

(2) Certified checks, Post Office money orders and currency accepted by the contracting officer in lieu of sureties on a bond will be promptly turned over to the local disbursing officer and deposited by him in a special deposit account. A certificate as to this action will be executed by the disbursing officer and attached to the original bond.

(3) The amount of the security deposited will be refunded to the contractor when the obligation of the bond has by its terms ceased.

SUBPART D—INSURANCE

General

§ 804.431 General policy. Insurance coverages will be authorized or required only in those instances where public policy or interest makes it desirable to use the organization, facilities or other services of the insurance industry, or where a commingling of property and operations or circumstances of ownership make the carrying of insurance reasonably necessary for the protection of the several interests concerned.

§ 804.432 Exclusion of subrogation. In every instance where a contract requires the United States to pay the premium either directly or by way of reimbursement on an insurance policy, the policy will contain an endorsement or other recital excluding by appropriate language any claim on the part of the insurer to be subrogated, on payment of a loss or otherwise, to any claim against the United States. For contract language see § 803.365 (c).

Insurance in Connection With Cost-Plus-a-Fixed-Fee Contracts

§ 804.434 Insurance on Government-owned property. (1) No insurance covering loss or destruction of or damage to property, legal title to which is in the United States and which is to be used in connection with a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract, will be required or authorized without the prior approval of the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. To implement this policy of self-insurance on government-owned property, there shall be included in the contract, the clause set forth in § 803.365 (a). The policy of self-insurance rests to a large degree upon savings to the Government obtained by eliminating the cost of insurance which otherwise would be added to the contract price.

(2) Where it is considered advisable to impose specific standards of care such as an obligation to keep the facilities in good operating condition and repair and to make all necessary repairs and replacements, a clause to this effect may be included in the contract.

(a) Procedure to be followed in the event of loss or destruction of or damage to property of the Government in the possession or control of contractors (or subcontractors). (1) In the event of loss or destruction of or damage to property of the Government in the possession or control of contractors (or subcontractors), it is of the utmost importance that immediate action be taken so that the property will be conserved and production will suffer the least interruption. Contractors are generally not in a position to handle losses with maximum efficiency and War Department personnel may not be available or equipped to give all the required attention to such a problem.

(2) Accordingly, upon the happening of loss or destruction of or damage to Government property, the prescribed contract article § 803.365 (a) requires the contractor (or subcontractor) to give notice to and employ the services of a loss and salvage organization designated by the contracting officer (unless the contracting officer directs that no such organization be employed).

(3) The loss and salvage organizations referred to are the Fire Companies Adjustment Bureau, Inc., The Western Inspection and Adjustment Company, or the Underwriters Adjustment Company (hereinafter or elsewhere designated as loss and salvage organization). A list of the offices of these organizations with telephone numbers, is set forth in § 804.498. Their services will be rendered to contractors (or subcontractors) under a schedule of rates filed with the War Department and intended to cover costs without allowance for profit.

(4) Each office has been instructed to respond immediately to requests of contractors in connection with loss or destruction of or damage to Government property while at fixed locations or in course of transit, and thereafter investigate the damage or loss, prevent the accrual of further damage or deterioration, eliminate hazards to life or other property, clear debris, locate and remove property to appropriate places of storage or erect suitable shelter therefor and otherwise conserve and protect all possible salvage. In the event of catastrophic loss, the loss and salvage organizations may procure the services of others and temporarily augment their own staffs so that the loss may be handled with the utmost dispatch and efficiency. The organization so employed will report as may be appropriate to the contracting officer or to the contractor, and generally will operate under the regulations and the specific instructions of the contracting officer.

(5) The prevention of further and progressive loss to damaged property, its repair or disposal, are steps which are related and which are, in commercial practice, generally combined into one series of operations performed or directed by one organization. Where, under the prescribed contract article (§ 803.365 (a)), the contractor (or subcontractor) has undertaken, if and as directed by the contracting officer, to make repairs and renovations, it may be to the advantage of the Government to request the contractor to employ the loss and salvage organization to assist in repair and renovation. Similarly, under the contract clause set forth in § 803.363, assistance may be sought from the loss and salvage organization in respect to disposal of damaged Government property.

(6) In the event that the Government property is located in an area outside of the United States, where none of the above organizations has resident representatives reasonably accessible, there will be included in the contract the clause set forth in Note 4, § 803.365 (a) and in the event of loss, the contracting officer will supervise and enforce the discharge of the contractor's obligations.

§ 804.435 Waiver of Defense Plant Corporation insurance requirements. (a) Where cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts are being performed in facilities owned by the Defense Plant Corporation and leased to a contractor, the contractor is required by the terms of the lease to procure and maintain at his own expense fire and supplementary coverage on special forms. The Defense Plant Corporation is named as the insured on such policies. Inasmuch as the cost of such insurance is ultimately borne by the Government as a reimbursable item of cost, arrangements have been made with the Defense Plant Corporation pursuant to which that corporation has agreed to waive its insurance requirements in specific cases where it is requested to do so by the War Department. In such cases the War Department agrees that neither the failure to carry insurance nor any ensuing damage to or destruction of the facility will relieve the War Department of its existing obligation to the Defense Plant Corporation under take-out letters.

(b) In all cases where a definite saving in cost to the Government can be effected by eliminating Insurance requirements of the Defense Plant Corporation, the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will be advised promptly of the following: (1) name of contractor; (2) number of contract; (3) type of contract; (4) location of facility involved; (5) the plancor or lease number; (6) the estimated saving, if the same can be estimated; and (7) the recommendation of the chief of the technical service. The Defense Plant Corporation will then be requested by the Contract Insurance Branch, in appropriate cases, to waive its insurance requirements.

§ 804.436 Casualty insurance. Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors, including, but not limited to, constructors, architect-engineers, architect-engineer managers, operators, and suppliers will be required to procure and maintain the insurance specified in paragraphs (a) to (c) which, where practicable, will cover the operation of the prime contractor, cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractor, and such other contractors or subcontractors for which provision is made in § 804.460.

(a) Workmen's compensation insurance: This coverage will be required as follows:

(1) In jurisdictions where there are workmen's compensation laws, either mandatory or elective:

(i) Statutory coverage, plus

(ii) In jurisdictions where the workmen's compensation law does not cover all occupational diseases, occupational disease coverage by endorsement for limits of $50,000 per person in any one case; and, subject to that limit for each person, for an aggregate limit of $100,000 for each year of the policy period;

(iii) In those jurisdictions where there is a "per accident" limitation of coverage under paragraph 1 (b) of the policy, an endorsement providing a $100,000 limit for each accident; and

(iv) In those jurisdictions where there is a "per person" limitation of coverage under paragraph 1 (b) of the policy, an endorsement providing a $50,000 limit for each person;

NOTE: In certain states the occupational disease aggregate limit is determined by the occupational disease premium. If such basic aggregate limit is less than $100,000 the lowest multiple thereof necessary to increase the aggregate limit to $100,000 will be used.

(2) In jurisdictions where there are no workmen's compensation laws, or where workmen's compensation insurance is carried in a State Fund, which Fund does not afford complete coverage as herein required, employers' liability insurance, including occupational diseases coverage for limits of $50,000 per person in any one claim and, subject to that limit for each person, $100,000 for two or more persons in any one accident and an aggregate limit of $100,000 for each year of the policy period for occupational disease claims.

(b) General liability insurance. This insurance will be required with limits of $50/100,000 for bodily injury liability on the comprehensive policy form. The policy will be endorsed to include coverage of aircraft and water craft operations by elimination of any exclusions of such coverage contained in the policy.

(c) Automobile public liability and property damage insurance. This insurance will be required with limits of $50/100,000 for bodily injury liability and $5,000 for property damage liability on the comprehensive policy form covering all owned, non-owned, and hired automobiles which will be used in connection with the work to be done under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract and which are not used exclusively on the premises at which the work under such contract is performed.

(d) Self-insurance. Self-insurance by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors, in lieu of the requirements outlined in paragraphs (a) to (o), will not be approved except in unusual circumstances and then only after approval is obtained from the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. Where the contractor requests and the chief of the technical service deems it desirable, that workmen's compensation insurance be provided by self-insurance, there will be submitted to the Insurance Branch the following:

(1) A duly authenticated copy of the authority to self-insure from the state or political subdivision having jurisdiction, if such authority is required by law;

(2) A detailed statement of the method or plan of self-insurance to be used and of the safety, claim and medical facilities which will be provided, including the cost thereof.

(e) Insurance requirements for lump-sum subcontractors. (1) Lump-sum subcontractors will provide the contractor and the contracting officer with a certificate of insurance evidencing the fact that workmen's compensation, public liability and automobile liability and property damage insurance are carried with an acceptable insurance carrier covering operations in connection with the project, and that termination or alteration of the coverages enumerated on the certificate of insurance will not be made without ten days' prior notice of such termination or alteration to the chief of the technical service concerned. Limits of insurance should be at least equal to those required of the prime contractor. Where authenticated evidence of authority to self-insure workmen's compensation and ability to respond in damages can be shown to the satisfaction of the chiefs of the technical services, the above requirements may be waived.

(2) For the purposes of subparagraph (1) the term "subcontractor" is defined as any individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate, trust or other business enterprise or legal entity which has undertaken, pursuant to a purchase order or by agreement with the prime contractor, to perform on the prime contractor's premises all or any part of the work or to make or furnish on such premises any article (other than raw materials or standard or commercial articles) required for the performance of the prime contract. By the term "prime contractor's premises" is meant the premises, under the control of the prime contractor, at which the work under the prime contract is to be performed.

§ 804.437 Miscellaneous insurance. The chiefs of the supply services may consider that other forms of insurance are necessary in special instances. The circumstances under which these forms of insurance may be authorized are described in paragraphs (a) to (j). In general, the authorization of any of these forms of insurance will be the exception rather than the rule.

(a) Payroll robbery, hold-up, and safe burglary insurance. This form of insurance will be approved only in those cases where substantial sums of money are in the care, custody, and control of the contractor in isolated areas where normal protection, which would be available in a stabilized situation, is lacking, or where a commingling of property and operations or circumstances of ownership make the carrying of insurance reasonably necessary for the protection of the several interests concerned.

(b) General liability insurance for damage to property of others. This form of insurance will be approved only in those cases where the operations conducted are of such a nature that an accident might reasonably involve extensive destruction of properly belonging to others, and it is considered desirable to obtain the experienced claims and investigating services of a reliable insurance carrier. When such insurance is authorized there will be provided a limit of $50,000 per accident and an aggregate limit of $100,000 for each year of the policy period. It is anticipated that this form of coverage will be necessary only for contractors engaged in the manufacture or handling of high explosives and in certain cases of aircraft operations.

(c) Products liability insurance. This form of insurance may be authorized in instances where a contractor under authority of its contract operates a commissary or other similar facility for dispensing food. Such insurance, when authorized, will be by endorsement to the general liability policy and will provide a limit of $50,000 per person in any one accident; and, subject to that limit for each person, $100,000 for injuries sustained by two or more persons in any one accident; and, subject to the foregoing limits, an aggregate limit of $100,000 for all accidents during each year of the policy period.

(d) Contractual liability insurance. This form of insurance is provided in the Comprehensive general liability policy

§ 804.438 Group insurance. Group insurance plans and such other forms of insurance as are provided voluntarily to employees in order to indemnify them in quire cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and their subcontractors to whom this plan is applicable to:

(d) Contractual liability insurance. This form of insurance is provided in the Comprehensive general liability policy where a contractor or subcontractor has assumed liability under:

(1) A lease of premises,
(2) An easement agreement,
(3) An agreement required by municipal ordinance,
(4) A sidetrack agreement, or
(5) An elevator or escalator maintenance agreement.

Where a contractor or subcontractor is authorized to assume and has assumed liability under an agreement other than one of those referred to in the preceding sentence and the chief of the technical service deems that insurance for the assumed liability is necessary, a copy of such agreement, together with full details and the recommendation of the chief of the technical service, will be forwarded to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces for appropriate action.

(e) Boiler and machinery insurance. (1) This form of insurance will not be authorized. It may be desirable to arrange for boiler inspection service.

(2) Boiler inspection service: When a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor is performing his contract in a plant containing a number of boilers or other pressure vessels, it is generally desirable that such boilers or other pressure vessels receive periodic inspections. This is in the interest of continuous and safe operation. Accordingly, the chief of the technical service may authorize the use of the boiler inspection service contract by such a contractor (for form see § 804.497 (aa)). When practicable the boiler inspection service of the insurance company carrying the workmen's compensation insurance of the contractor will be used provided that such carrier has a fully qualified and experienced boiler inspection department. Otherwise, some other qualified insurance carrier will be selected.

(f) Ocean or inland marine insurance. These forms of insurance will not be required or authorized except in those cases where the procurement of certain types of such insurance is desirable or necessary for the protection of the contractor or the Government. In such cases the chief of the technical service concerned will submit the following data to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces:

(1) Name of contractor.
(2) Number of contract.
(3) Type of contract.
(4) Full information and details of the facilities or property, including description, its use and the voyage or location.
(5) The type of insurance protection requested, the rates for same, and the reasons why deemed necessary.

(g) Marine war-risk insurance. See § 804.461 and following.

(h) Fidelity bonds. See § 804.407 (b).

(i) Forgery bonds. See § 804.407 (c).

(j) License and permit bonds. See § 804.407 (d).

§ 804.438 Group insurance. Group insurance plans and such other forms of insurance as are provided voluntarily to employees in order to indemnify them in the event of disabilities, dismemberments, hospitalizations or surgical treatments and to provide payments in the event of old age or death will be governed by the provisions set forth in paragraphs (a) to (f) of this section.

(a) All programs providing insurance of the character referred to in above in this section will be subject to the written authorization of the contracting officer.

(b) In determining proper standards for the type of group insurance benefits to be offered, unless there is substantial reason for providing otherwise, such plans will be consistent with the general employee relations policies existent throughout the contractor's organization or in conformity with approved agreements made as a result of collective bargaining with employees' representatives.

(c) If in the opinion of the chief of the technical service concerned the existing plan of group insurance is, in the light of paragraph (b), undesirable for the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor, there shall be forwarded a full description of the plan desired by the contractor, together with the recommendation of the chief of the technical service to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for appropriate decision.

(d) If a particular cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor, because his organization is of recent origin or for any other reason, has not previously provided a plan of group insurance and now desires to take out such insurance the following information will be forwarded to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces: (1) A statement as to whether such insurance is common to the industry and to the community; (2) the purposes for which the group insurance plan is needed at the particular plant; (3) any other pertinent information; and (4) the recommendation of the chief of the technical service concerned.

(e) Different considerations are involved for group annuities, and for other insurance not purchased under a group insurance policy. When it is desirable in the opinion of the chief of the technical service concerned to provide such insurance, a request for prior approval will be forwarded to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, together with the following information: (1) A complete outline of the hazards involved; (2) the number of personnel involved; (3) the nature and probable duration of the coverage; (4) any other pertinent information; and (5) the recommendation of the chief of the supply service concerned.

(f) War Department Group Insurance Rating Plan: The War Department Group Insurance Rating Plan, which is set forth in § 804.440, is to be applied as provided in said paragraphs on and after March 1, 1943, in accordance with § 804.439.

§ 804.439 Procedure. The chief of each supply service concerned will require cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and their subcontractors to whom this plan is applicable to:

(1) Immediately request their insuring companies to attach to the policies involved a War Department Group Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement. Copies of all such requests will be obtained, and forwarded to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(2) Request the insuring companies to furnish immediately to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, all details pertinent to underwriting properly the policies involved.

(a) Effective date of plan. A careful review of the group insurance program which is involved in each case will be made by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, and, upon completion of such review, the supply service concerned will be advised of the date on which the War Department Group Insurance Rating Plan is to be effective in each particular case.

(b) Application for plan to be made immediately. There will be certain cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and subcontractors involved in this program, particularly those whose cost-plus-a-fixed-fee operations are commingled with lump sum or private operations, for whom it will be necessary to have the group insurance program carefully correlated with existing conditions; and there may be certain legal steps involved which will have to be fully explored. It is desired, therefore, that each contractor and subcontractor involved be required to make application immediately to the insuring companies for the War Department Group Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement, irrespective of the renewal dates of their policies.

(c) Applicability of plan. It is contemplated at this time that the War Department Group Insurance Rating Plan will be applied only in connection with policies covering cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors' employees when the work is either 100 percent cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or when the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee operations are physically separated from other operations of the contractor, either private or lump sum. There may be cases, however, where, pursuant to a review of the commingled operations, it will be possible to apply the rating plan.

(d) Review by Insurance Branch. Prior to the final acceptance of renewals or new purchases of group insurance, all such renewal or new purchase programs, together with the pertinent data, will be referred to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for approval.

§ 804.440 Description of plan—(a) General requirements. On and after March 1, 1943, renewal of existing group insurance policies or the purchase of new group insurance policies, so far as cost is concerned, for prime cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors thereof, will be authorized only if the factors which the insuring company uses for that portion of such policies covering the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract are not greater than the maximum factors set forth in paragraphs (d) to (g), except that:

(1) The provisions of this section shall apply only to such policies under which more than 500 employees, operating under the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract, have been insured either on the effective date, if such policy is issued on or subsequent to March 1, 1943, or on any renewal date on or subsequent to that date irrespective of when the policy was issued. irrespective of when the policy was issued.

(2) If the contractor desires to renew existing group insurance policies or to purchase new group insurance policies with or from an insuring company which uses factors greater than herein set forth, the United States shall not make, nor be liable for, reimbursement in an amount greater than would result from calculation in accordance with the provision of this section, but no authorization shall be granted in any case if the pool reserve (subparagraph (2) of paragraph (g)) is not established and maintained exactly as specified herein.

NOTE: If the contractor does not desire to renew existing group insurance policies with an insuring company which refuses to issue a War Department Group Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement, the contractor's cost for the terminating year will be reimbursed in accordance with his contract.

(b) Experience refund. When the amount resulting from use of all factors is less than the earned premium according to the premium rates in force for the period for which calculation is made, the excess shall be returned by the insuring company to the contractor within two months of the date of calculation, except as otherwise provided in the succeeding paragraphs.

(c) Premium limitations. Furthermore, anything contained herein to the contrary notwithstanding, the maximum charge by the insuring company to the contractor for such insurance in any period shall be determined by applying the premium rates in the policy in effect for such period.

(d) Factor No. I; total losses. Total losses shall be the amount of drafts issued during the period of calculation subject to the following modifications:

(1) An appropriate adjustment may be included for the amount of drafts issued during the succeeding period of two months on claims occurring during the period covered by the calculation (if corresponding adjustment is made at the beginning of the period) or, an insuring company which administers its business regularly on such basis may determine as its total losses for any policy period for the purposes of this section the drafts issued on claims occurring in such period or within the succeeding two months, plus an estimate of the drafts issued on unclosed claims occurring within such period.

(2) For death claims and for total and permanent disability claims approved for payment by the insuring company but for which either no payment or only partial payment has been made, an appropriate adjustment of losses may be included so as to include the face amount of claims approved for payment, with a deduction for the commuted value of any remaining installments on disability recoveries when the face amount of the claim approved for payment has previously been included in the losses charged under this plan.

(3) For waiver of premium total and permanent disability claims, losses may be appropriately adjusted to include, in lieu of actual payments at death, an amount of $850 for each $1,000 of such claims approved, and such amount shall be increased upon death by $150 and reduced upon recovery by $850 for each such $1,000 of insurance. Two years after the completion or termination of all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts effective with each insuring company under this rating plan, or after the termination of the last insurance policy effective with each insuring company under this plan, whichever occurs sooner or at such earlier date as may be considered appropriate by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, the reserves remaining on account of all such approved claims shall be subject to revaluation by an Arbitration Committee as provided in paragraph (k).

(e) Factor No. II—(1) Expense and risk charges. The maximum allowable charge for taxes, conversions, and claim administration shall be 3.75 percent of the premium at the rate effective for the period of calculation, subject to the following modifications:

(i) Taxes. If the estimated amount incurred by the insuring company on all its policies operating under this plan for taxes on premium, surplus, or income exceeds 2 percent of the premium, such estimated amount of taxes may be charged, subject to the approval by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, of the items to be included and the method of calculation. With such approval, the insuring company may estimate as of January 1 of each calendar year what its average tax rate will be for the policy years ending in the coming calendar year and charge that rate on all the policy years ending in that calendar year. If the actual taxes incurred on renewals in that calendar year, computed on either an average or individual contract basis, whichever basis is used by the insuring company for charging such items on its business, generally differ from the amount produced by the estimated factor the difference shall be charged or credited by the insuring company in its calculation of the estimated average tax rate for renewal in the following calendar year. Any difference remaining after the completion or termination of the last cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract effective with each insuring company under this rating plan, or after the termination of the last insurance policy effective with each insuring company under this plan, whichever occurs sooner, shall be credited or charged, as the case may be, before the final disposition of the pool reserve as set forth in paragraph (g) (2).

(ii) Conversions. An insuring company may elect to have the percentage of 3.75 percent reduced to 2.25 percent for life insurance and include in lieu of the difference the actual cost charged by the insuring company to its group department, for actual conversions under all policies operating under this plan, if such charge per $1,000 of insurance converted is no larger than such insuring company charges its group department during the period for all such conversions. However, an insuring company which so elects will be considered to have experienced a conversion rate in excess of normal, if during the period that each policy comes under this rating plan the ratio of the amount of insurance converted for such policy to the total of the amount of insurance terminated for such policy is greater than the corresponding ratio for the remainder of such insuring company's corresponding business for this period, and under such circumstances charges for insurance converted will be subject to the approval of the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. (Such elections will be made in writing to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, and will apply to all such insuring company's business under this rating plan.)

(iii) Claim expense. If the actual amount incurred by the insuring company for claim expense on all its policies operating under this plan exceeds the amount otherwise determined by this paragraph, the actual amount of such claim expense may be charged only if the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, approves the calculation. With such approval, the insuring company may estimate as of January 1 of each calendar year what its average claim expense rate will be for renewals in the coming calendar year and charge that rate on all renewals in that calendar year. If the actual claim expense incurred on renewals in that calendar year, computed on either an average or individual contract basis, whichever basis is used by the insuring company for charging such items on its business, generally differs from the amount produced by the estimated factor the difference shall be charged or credited by the insuring company in its calculation of the estimated average claim expense rate for renewals in the following calendar year. Any difference remaining after the completion or termination of the last cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract effective with each insuring company under this rating plan, or after the termination of the last insurance policy effective with each insuring company under such plan, whichever occurs sooner, shall be credited or charged, as the case may be, before the final disposition of the pool reserve as set forth in paragraph (g) (2).

(iv) Plans self-administered. Where claims drafts are issued by the contractor or the contractor's agent the amount of the maximum allowable charge for all coverages other than life insurance shall be reduced by 1.25 percent of the premium.

(2) Other expenses and risk charges. The maximum allowable charge for ex-the group insurance was in force on § 804.407 (d).

each supply service concerned will re-insuring company uses for that portion penses not included in subparagraph (1) above, or in paragraph (f), and for the insuring company's risk charges, shall be determined by Table I as follows:

TABLE I

Percentage of earned premium developed by applying standard rates with extras for industry, sex, race, or any other cause

Annual premium:	1st Year	Renewal
$10,000 or less	16	11
$25,000	12	7
$50,000	11	6.5
$100,000	10	5.5
$250,000	9	4.5
$500,000	7	3.5
$1,000,000	6	3
Over $1,000,000	5	2.5

(i) The annual premium in Table I shall be taken as the premium for each form of coverage under each insurance policy, except dependent coverage shall not be considered as a separate coverage.

(ii) If the annual premium lies between any two of the figures in the annual premium column, the percentage shall be interpolated to the nearest tenth of one percent.

(iii) The figures shown in the column headed "1st year" shall not be used on premiums other than those earned in the first 12 months that an insurance policy was effective on a company, plant, or unit.

(iv) For policies which are not operated on the so-called "self-accounting plan," all percentages in the above table may be increased by 1 percent of the premium.

(f) Factor No. III; Commissions. The maximum allowance for commission charges by the insuring company in connection with payments to soliciting agents or brokers will be:

(1) Coverage in effect prior to March 1, 1943. For insurance plans effective before March 1, 1943, not more in amount nor longer in duration than would be provided upon the basis of commission agreements applicable to such plans and consummated prior to March 1, 1943, Provided:

(i) That such agreements are pursuant to customary practice of the respective insuring companies.

(ii) That so-called "1st year" commissions shall not be paid on premiums other than those earned in the first 12 months that the insurance was effective on a company, plant, or unit, and that such "1st year commission treatment" was decided and entered in the home office records prior to March 1, 1943.

(iii) That renewal commissions shall not be paid for longer than nine years subsequent to the expiration of the first year commissions.

(2) New coverage. For insurance plans effective on or after March 1, 1943, not more than the percentages in the following table as applied to earned premiums without extras for industry, race, sex, or any other cause:

TABLE II

Total combined earned premium as calculated in accordance with this paragraph:	Maximum soliciting agent's or broker's commission (percent)
1st $10,000	7½
Next $40,000	4
Next $50,000	2
Next $400,000	1
Over $500,000	½

In determining the percentage from the above table, an insurance plan will be considered as including all coverages issued on and after the effective date of this rating plan covering the same group of employees working in operations to which a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract applies. If the insurance plan so defined is handled by more than one insuring company, the maximum allowance for commission charges for all coverages combined will be the same as that which would be allowed if the insurance plan were being handled by one insuring company. The maximum percentage allowance to be used by each insuring company concerned on that portion of the insurance plan which it is handling will be the percentage based on the combined premium for all the coverages included in the plan, regardless of what insuring company handles each coverage. Commissions on "extensions", "increases in coverages", and similar actions will be paid in accordance with the scale in Table II, but premiums on which first year or renewal commissions have been paid previously shall be counted in determining the proper place in the above premium column to commence the commission computation.

(3) Commission savings. Any savings which an insuring company may effect by reason of paying less commission on these insurance policies than are charged to these policies shall be credited to the contractors insured in accordance with this plan in the manner determined by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division.

(4) Additional commissions. Any charges above and beyond the agreements herein specified shall not be allowable as an item of reimbursable expense unless and until approved by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division.

(g) Factor No. IV. (1) Policy reserves:

(i) Open claims. As a maximum allowance for a reserve for claims incurred but for which no payment has been made, or for a reserve for additional payments on claims on which partial payment has been made (in addition to any amounts already charged as losses under paragraph (d)), the insuring company may retain the percentage of premiums in Table III (see subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph (1) below), calculated by using minimum rates with extras for industry, race, sex, or other cause.

(ii) Final disposition. Two years after the completion or termination of all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts effective with each insuring company under this rating plan, or after the termination of the last insurance policy effective with each insuring company under this plan, whichever occurs sooner, or at such earlier date as may be considered appropriate by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, the difference between the total amount charged under this rating plan by each insuring company for such reserves over the sum of (a) the amounts actually paid as the result of claims under this rating plan for which such reserves were held, and (b) the amounts required for subsequent payments (such latter amounts to be calculated by the insuring company and submitted for the approval of the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division), shall be returned to the contractors or their successors or nominees (policies on which the insuring company has paid out an amount equal to or greater than the amount charged for policy reserves shall be excluded in making this calculation) according to the ratio that the difference between the amount of policy reserves charged on each such policy and the amount of policy reserves paid or required for subsequent payments on each such policy bears to the total of such differences, or shall be deducted by the insuring company from any settlement otherwise available from the pool reserve set forth in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, as the case may be, but such charge shall be made to the pool reserve only if satisfactory proof is furnished the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, that the policy reserves, in the aggregate, set up by the insuring company at the time this rating plan became effective, were sufficient to pay all losses on claims occurring prior to the date this plan became effective with respect to such policies.

TABLE III

Forms of Insurance	Percentages of earned premium as defined in paragraph (a) above
Life insurance:
(a) With permanent total disability benefit	30
(b) With premium waiver provision	15
(c) With extended death benefit	10
Indemnity for accidents or sickness	10
Indemnity for hospital confinement	[1] 10
Indemnity for surgical operations	[1] 10
Accidental death and dismemberment insurance	10

[1] For policies including maternity or obstetrical benefits for dependents of employees, an additional reserve of 25 percent of the premium for the dependent coverage (including the premium for the maternity coverage) may be held.

(iii) Subject to the limitations of this plan, the policy reserves maintained shall be in strict accordance with the general practice of the insuring company.

(2) Pool reserve—(i) Final disposition. Each insuring company shall create and maintain a pool reserve which shall be available for the payment of losses (as outlined in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph (2)) under that portion of all of its policies to which a War Department Group Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement applies. Two years after the completion or termination of all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts effective with each insuring company under this rating plan, or after the termination of the last insurance policy effective with each partial payment has been made, an appropriate adjustment of losses may be in paragraph (g) (2).

The maximum allowable charge for ex-insuring company under this plan, whichever occurs sooner, or at such earlier date as may be considered appropriate by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, any portion of this reserve which has not been used for any of the purposes authorized by this rating plan shall be returned to the contractors or their successors or nominees. Such return shall be allocated to the various policies in proportion to the difference between each policy's contribution to the total pool reserve and the amounts withdrawn from such reserve to pay claims under such policy, but policies on which the insuring company has paid out an amount equal to or greater than the amount charged for the pool reserve shall be excluded in making this calculation.

(ii) Use. If the total losses under any contractor's policy for any policy year plus one-half the maximum increase in the policy reserve permitted for the period by reason of increase in premium, or minus the decrease in policy reserve by reason of decrease in premium, to the extent that the result is not less than the premium, as the case may be, shall exceed 100 percent of the earned premium for such year calculated on the basis of minimum rates with any extras for industry, race, sex, or other cause, the insuring company shall be entitled to reimbursement for all such amounts in excess of such premium and this amount shall be added to the contribution required of this policy to the pool reserve.

(iii) Establishment and maintenance. To establish and maintain this pool reserve, the insuring company shall, in calculating any experience refund for any year, be entitled to deduct the amount, if any, by which the larger of (a) 20 percent of the premium for the year for which such experience refund is applicable, such premium to be calculated on the basis set forth in the preceding paragraph, or (b) the extra premium for industry accumulated from the renewal date prior to March 1, 1943, to the date of calculation, exceeds any amount actually remaining in the pool reserve from previous contributions to such reserve by this contract. The amount of such deduction for any year shall in no event exceed the amount, if any, remaining after completing the operations set out in subparagraphs (1) to (8), inclusive, of paragraph (h).

(h) The insuring company shall maintain an experience rating account for the insurance under each policy to which this rating applies. As of each renewal date and within 60 days, this account shall be adjusted in the order indicated:

(1) Credit the actual premium.

(2) Charge losses as described in paragraph (d).

(3) Charge one-half the maximum increase in the policy reserve permitted for the period by reason of increase in premium in accordance with subdivision (iii) of subparagraph (1) of paragraph (g).

(4) Credit the decrease in policy reserve by reason of decrease in premiums to the extent that (2) exceeds (1).

(5) Credit from the pool reserve:

(i) In the event of an increase in policy reserve (2) plus (3) minus (1).

(ii) In the event of a decrease in policy reserve (2) minus (4) minus (1).

(6) Charge expenses not greater than the maximum allowable under paragraphs (e) and (f).

(7) Charge deficit carried over (if any) from previous period. (In first calculation under this plan (7) shall be taken as zero. For subsequent calculations, it shall be taken as (11)).

(8) Charge an amount, if available, which if added to (3) shall not be greater than sufficient to attain one-half the maximum policy reserve for the period as set forth in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (g).

(9) Charge an amount, if available, not greater than sufficient to establish and maintain the appropriate maximum amount in the pool reserve as of the end of the period in accordance with subparagraph (2) of paragraph (g).

(10) Charge an amount, if available, not greater than sufficient to attain the maximum policy reserve for the period as set forth in subparagraph (1) of paragraph (g).

(11) Deduct total charges from total credits. If result is positive, treat as experience refund; if result is negative, treat as deficit.

It is recommended that each insuring company maintain in connection with each policy an experience rating account, a policy reserve account, and a pool reserve account, showing the maximum allowable reserves under each account, the actual reserves set up, and all debit and credit transactions affecting these accounts.

(i) Distribution of experience refund. When an experience refund or reserve refund is made by the insuring company, the contractor shall proceed in the following manner unless approval for a different procedure is given by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division:

(1) Any such refund shall be credited to the contractor's charge to the War Department, except that the contractor may, with the consent of the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, continue any practice he may have had prior to March 1, 1943, as to the application of all or any part of such refund. In any event, if the refund exceeds the contractor's contribution to the cost of the plan, the excess shall be applied for the sole benefit of the employees.

(2) In the event that unforeseen circumstances prevent such division of any refund, any or all of such monies so affected shall be payable to the United States.

(j) Minimum contribution by employees. If any contractor has a group insurance policy under which the employees' contributions are at a rate lower than specified in this paragraph, the United States shall not make or be liable for reimbursement in an amount greater than the maximum reimbursement that could result under such plan of group insurance if the employees' contributions were at the rates herein set forth. If the group insurance was in force on March 1, 1943, the minimum rate of contributions for the purpose of this paragraph shall be the scale of contributions applicable at that time, and if the group insurance was not in force on March 1, 1943, the minimum contributions shall be the equivalent of 60¢ per month per $1,000 of group life insurance and 60¢ per month per $10 of weekly indemnity for accidents and sickness, unless a lower scale of contributions is approved by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division.

(k) Establishment of arbitration committee. For revaluation of the reserves described in subparagraph (3) of paragraph (d), and for decision relative to other reserves not returned within the time limits specified, an arbitration committee shall be selected consisting of three members, one selected by the insuring company, one by the contractor and the third by these two members, and the majority decision of this committee shall be final if approved by the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division.

(l) Forwarding of data. As soon as the insuring company has furnished to the contractor the renewal data required herein, it shall be forwarded to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, for examination.

(m) Limitation of reimbursement. There shall be no reimbursement, or liability for reimbursement, in excess of that developed by applying generally recognized extras for sex, industry, or race (except extra higher rates in effect prior to March 1, 1943), unless such reimbursement has had approval of the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, prior to the effective date of any rates greater than above specified.

(n) Termination of contract by the Government. In the event the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract is terminated by the Government, all liabilities and assets of the contractor existing by reason of the operation of any group insurance policies during the period a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract was in force, shall become liabilities and assets of the Government.

(o) Endorsement of policies. All policies shall bear suitable identifying endorsement, in a form acceptable to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, as evidence that the War Department Group Insurance Rating Plan is applicable.

(p) Effective date. The effective date of this rating plan, as to any policy or portion thereof to which it is applicable, shall be determined by the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, but shall not be earlier than March 1, 1943.

(q) If in the opinion of the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, there are circumstances which would make the application of this plan inappropriate, it shall not become operative, anything contained herein to the contrary notwithstanding.

(r) Nothing contained herein shall be construed as regulating the charges which an insurance company can make under any policy or policies.

§ 804.441 Benefits in event of capture or detention of employees. Standards for the amount of benefits and the methods of providing payment to employees in the event of their capture or detention are set forth in Public Law 784, 77th Congress. This law sets forth the policy of Congress and provides that upon claims being filed as specified therein, payment or reimbursement will be negotiated through the United States Employees Compensation Commission. Where, in the opinion of the chief of the technical service concerned, it is necessary that the amount of benefits be increased over that prescribed in the statute above referred to, prior approval of the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces will be obtained. The following information will be forwarded to that Branch: (1) Reasons why such increase is necessary; (2) statement as to whether qualified employees can be obtained without providing increased benefits; (3) number of employees involved; (4) location of operations; (5) any special hazards; (6) any other pertinent information; (7) the recommendation of the chief of the technical service concerned.

§ 804.442 Insurance in connection with cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts outside of the continental United States. The foregoing §§ 804.434 to 804.441, inclusive, may not be applicable to cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts for work to be performed outside the continental United States. Such contracts involve questions of the applicable laws and local conditions which will be encountered in the country where the work is to be performed, as well as questions of the medical and hospital facilities for the treatment and care of employees of the contractor. Insurance companies generally are not equipped or licensed to underwrite insurance in foreign countries. In order to establish the required coordination in connection with such contracts, the chief of the technical service concerned will advise the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, of all such contemplated work as far in advance as possible. Arrangements will then be made to have a representative of that Branch present, if practicable, during the negotiations with respect to the contract provisions pertaining to insurance liability, medical and hospital matters. The Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will be responsible for the establishment and proper functioning of insurance facilities on such projects, and direct communication is authorized for this purpose.

Insurance in Connection With Lump Sum Contracts

§ 804.450 General. No insurance requirements, other than statutory requirements, will be imposed on the contractor unless in the opinion of the chief of the technical service concerned the imposition of certain insurance requirements will serve to safeguard the contractor's ability to perform the contract. If performance and payment bonds support the contract, the requirement of any insurance should be unnecessary.

§ 804.451 Insurance on Government-owned property. The same general policy exists with respect to Government-owned property in the possession, care, custody or control of the lump sum contractor as exists with respect to property in the possession, care, custody or control of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors (see § 804.434). To implement this policy of self-insurance on Government-owned property, there shall be inserted in the contract the article set forth in § 803.365 (a–1), or in the case of facilities the article set forth in § 803.332. The policy to a large degree rests upon the savings to the Government obtained by elimination of insurance which savings are reflected in the contract price. Where, by reason of special circumstances, such savings are not practicable, are trivial in amount, are difficult of ascertainment or there is a commingling of values and interests, the chief of the technical service may in his discretion permit insurance. (This will ordinarily be done in the case of service contracts of the type of laundry and shoe repair contracts, and contracts with motor carriers for the transportation of Government-owned property.) In such cases there will be omitted from the contract the article set forth in §§ 803.365 (a–1) or 803.332.

(a) Procedure to be followed in the event of loss or destruction of or damage to property of the Government in the possession or control of contractors (or subcontractors). (1) Except when insurance is permitted, upon the happening of loss or destruction of or damage to property in the possession or control of contractors (or subcontractors) caused by an "excepted peril" (see §§ 803.365 (a–1) and 803.332) the procedure to be followed is the same as that described in § 804.434 (a).

(2) In connection with the disposal of damaged Government property, attention is invited to paragraph (d) of the article set forth in § 803.365 (a–1) and paragraph (F) (4) of article set forth in § 803.332, which are comparable with § 803.363.

§ 804.452 Waiver of Defense Plant Corporation insurance requirements. Inasmuch as the insurance costs are included in the contract price, the provisions of § 804.435 are also applicable to lump sum contracts.

§ 804.453 Lump sum contracts excluding cost of insurance. In certain cases contracts are awarded on a basis of a contract price exclusive of the cost of the forms of insurance specified in § 804.436 (a), (b) and (c). Such contracts contain a provision pursuant to which the Government agrees to reimburse the contractor on an actual cost basis for the cost of such insurance. In such cases, the provisions of §§ 804.434 to 804.442, inclusive, of this subpart, are applicable to such insurance. The contractor may purchase at his own expense such additional or other insurance protection as he may deem necessary.

Architect-Engineer-Management Contracts

§ 804.460 Architect - engineer - management contracts. (a) In the interest of security and in order to obtain the most suitable and efficient arrangements with respect to insurance, hospital, and medical loss paying and safety engineering facilities, the chief of the technical service concerned will require the contractor under an architect-engineer-management contract to provide through one insurance company specified insurance for all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and subcontractors, lump sum contractors and lump sum subcontractors other than contractors and subcontractors under supply contracts and subcontracts. Such insurance will afford the contractors and subcontractors the coverage referred to in § 804.436 (a) to (c) (for contract provisions see § 803.365 (e) to (h)).

(b) The contractors or their subcontractors may purchase at their own expense such additional or other insurance protection as they deem necessary. When insurance carriers furnishing such additional protection request access to the site of the work for personnel engaged in servicing such insurance, the chief of the supply service concerned may deny such access, or restrict it to such of those personnel as it is, in his judgment, necessary to admit for the proper servicing of the insurance.

War Risk Insurance in Connection With Vessels or Other Floating Equipment

§ 804.461 Master policy. A master policy issued by the War Shipping Administration to the War Department permits the War Department to insure with the War Shipping Administration war risks or liabilities which it has assumed or for which it is obligated in connection with certain persons, vessels or other floating equipment. Declarations under this policy will be made through the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces except that any supply service or representative thereof specifically authorized by The Commanding General, Army Service Forces, may make such declarations directly to the War Shipping Administration and will furnish copies thereof to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(a) The master policy covers risks or liabilities that are assumed by or that may be imposed on the War Department:

(1) As owner, operator or owner and operator of vessels or other floating equipment;

(2) Under charters or other forms of contracts for the use by the War Department of privately owned vessels or other floating equipment;

(3) Under any form of agreement for the operation of such vessels or equipment;

(4) Under any form of agreement for the carriage by water of any person or property on a commercial basis; and

(5) Under any contract for the construction of vessels or other floating equipment for the War Department.

(b) The persons, vessels, property, or interests that may be insured under the master policy are those set forth in section 222 of Public Law 523, 77th Congress, namely:

(1) Vessels:

(i) American vessels (including vessels under construction);

(ii) Vessels registered under the law of the Philippine Islands;

(iii) Foreign-flag vessels owned by citizens of the United States (as said term "citizen" is used in Public Law, 173, 77th Congress, approved July 14, 1941) or owned or controlled by or made available as described in paragraph (a) (3) of this section but engaged in the waterborne foreign commerce of the United States or other transportation by water or other vessel services deemed by the Maritime Commission to be in the interest of the war effort or the domestic economy of the United States, while so engaged.

(2) Cargoes shipped or to be shipped on any vessels specified in subparagraph (1) above, including shipments by express or registered mail.

(3) The disbursements (including advances to masters and general average disbursements) and freight and passage moneys of such vessels.

(4) The personal effects of the masters, officers and crews of such vessels, and of other persons transported on such vessels

(i) Personal effects of licensed officers and other persons may be covered for $500; and of unlicensed crew members for $300;

(5) Master, officers and crews of such vessels and other persons employed or transported thereon against the loss of life, personal injury or detention by an enemy of the United States following capture. ((i) Crew life: Personnel of vessels and other persons may be covered for $5,000 against loss of life and for scheduled benefits against injury. (ii) Wages and bonuses: Liability for wages and bonuses of personnel of vessels may be covered against loss resulting from internment or destruction or abandonment of vessels resulting from capture, seizure, etc.)

(6) Protection and indemnity: Statutory or contractual obligation or other liabilities of such vessels or of the owner or charterer of such vessels of the nature customarily covered by insurance. (If protection and indemnity is required, report should reflect value of the vessel or approximately $150 per gross ton subject to a minimum of $50,000 per vessel.)

(c) The master policy does not cover:

(1) Total or constructive total loss, or partial loss (particular average) of any vessels, equipment, or property owned by the War Department;

(2) Claims for damage or service of any nature asserted by any other Government Department or Agency, or barrel by decision of the Comptroller General;

(3) Liabilities of any nature toward personnel of the military forces of the United States and other United Nations;

(4) Any losses or liabilities existing or imminent at the time any vessel, property or other interest is reported to the War Shipping Administrtion for coverage under this policy;

(5) Losses or liabilities of any nature excluded by the provisions of War Shipping Administration policies.

(d) Declarations. The chief of the supply service concerned, except as provided in this section, will report to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division Headquarters, Army Service Forces risks coming within the provisions of the Master policy. For required form of report see § 804.497 (c).

Purchase of Insurance by Cost-Plus-a-Fixed-Fee Contractors

§ 804.470 Acceptability of insurance carrier. (a) The contractor will designate its own insurance carrier on all projects except where insurance is placed on a competitive bid basis as hereafter provided in paragraph (b). The insurance carrier selected must meet the following minimum standards of acceptability:

(1) At least 80% of the outstanding stock of the insurance carrier must be owned by citizens of either the United States or one or more of the other United Nations; and the carrier must be wholly controlled and operated by such citizens and free from any direct or indirect Axis or Pro-Axis connections or influence.

(2) The carrier must have an unobligated minimum surplus of $350,000.

(3) In the case of a contract of casualty insurance, other than Workmen's Compensation insurance, the financial condition of the insurance carrier must be such that the policy wil not expose it in a single accident or occurrence to a loss (i) in the case of a fixed-premium carrier of more than 10% of its total capital stock and surplus, or (ii) in the case of a dividend paying carrier of more than 10% of its net assets.

(4) In the case of workmen's compensation insurance, the insurance carrier shall have (i) in the case of fixed-premium carrier, a total capital and surplus of at least a million dollars, or (ii) in the case of a dividend paying carrier, at least a million dollars of net assets.

(b) The contractor will, in those cases where it selects its own insurance carrier as well as in those cases in which the insurance is purchased on a competitive bid basis, submit the following information through the chief of the supply service to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces:

(1) The name of the insurance carrier;

(2) The jurisdiction in which the insurance carrier is organized;

(3) Whether the insurance carrier is qualified to write the required insurance in the jurisdiction in which the project is located;

(4) A statement executed by an authorized official of the insurance carrier that the insurance carrier meets the standards of acceptability set forth in paragraph (a);

(5) The engineering, claims and medical facilities, if required, which will be provided at the project by the insurer;

(6) The latest financial statement of the insurance carrier;

(7) A separate letter which may be forwarded directly by the insurance carrier to the chief of the supply service concerned, setting forth the actual amount of each risk retained by the primary carrier and its reinsurance arrangements, including the names of all reinsurers and the amount of risk accepted by each. Such letter will embody a statement that the reinsurance arrangements will not be modified or cancelled until thirty days advance notice shall have been given to the Contract Insurance Branch. Where a reinsurer is a foreign company or a foreign controlled company, the letter outlining the reinsurance arrangements will include a statement that the primary carrier will not divulge the name, nature or location of the risk and that if such disclosure is required to obtain payment of a reinsured loss, prior approval will be obtained from the Contract Insurance Branch before any information is given to the foreign reinsurer or foreign controlled reinsurer.

Upon submission of the foregoing information, duly certified by an authorized official of the insurance carrier the chief of the technical service concerned may pass upon the acceptability of the insurance carrier or refer the matter to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for determination.

§ 804.471 Methods of purchase of casualty insurance. Casualty insurance required or authorized under any paragraph of this part will be purchased in the manner specified in paragraphs (a) to (d) of this section.

(a) Where the premiums involved are estimated to amount to $300 or less the contractor will select the insurance carrier and procure the necessary insurance.

(b) Where the premiums involved are estimated to exceed $300, but not to exceed $5,000, the contractor will be required to purchase the insurance on a competitive bid basis. In order to secure a fair market price, at least four bids will be required, two of which will be from reliable fixed-premium carriers and two from reliable dividend paying carriers. If one bid is received from a fixed-premium paying association or syndicate and another from a dividend paying association or syndicate, such bids will be sufficient to comply with these requirements. The terms "associations" or "syndicates" refer to groups of insurance carriers which have joined together for participation in the risk involved on a predetermined basis which contemplates that they will be jointly and severally liable under the insurance policy. The chief of the technical service concerned will assure himself that all insurance purchased on a competitive bid basis is placed with the carrier or carriers offering the lowest net cost commensurate with sound protection and service before approving the policy or policies.

(c) (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (2), where the premiums involved are estimated to exceed $5,000 the contractor will select its own insurance carrier and require the issuance of policies under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan described in §§ 804.473 to 804.489 below. An exception will be made to this requirement when the statutes of the jurisdiction involved expressly prohibits the use of this plan and permission cannot be obtained without modification of the statutes of the jurisdiction concerned.

(2) Where the operations of the contractor under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract are commingled with its other operation, or where operations are being performed by the contractor under more than one cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract with one or several of the technical services, the use of the War Department Insurance Rating Plan may not be appropriate. In such cases the chief of any technical service concerned will forward to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, his recommendations, and that Branch, after coordinating with any other technical services concerned, will advise as to the proper insurance requirements.

(d) Insurance coverages which cannot be written under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan will be purchased on the competitive bid basis or as set forth in § 804.436 (d).

War Department Insurance Rating Plan

§ 804.473 Plan in general. The War Department Insurance Rating Plan is a comprehensive retrospective rating formula for the determination of premium specially adapted to fit the needs of the War Department. The Plan was approved for use by the War Department on May 3, 1941, and is available for use in connection with the required casualty insurance coverage as outlined in § 804.436 (a) to (c). It may be extended to include the coverages outlined in § 804.437 (b) to (d). The plan will be used where the cost of insurance provided by the contractor is reimbursable under the contract. The clauses which are required to be attached to policies written in connection with the plan are enumerated in § 804.475.

§ 804.474 Duration of coverage. The insurance will be continuous and concurrent until completion of the project or operation except that if the project or operation is of indefinite duration, the insurance to be written under the plan shall be for an initial period of twenty-four (24) months. In such event, if the project or operation continues for a longer period than twenty-four months, the policies of insurance will be renewed at the expiration of the first twenty-four months by attachment of endorsement in accordance with forms set forth in § 804.499, to workmen's compensation, comprehensive general liability and comprehensive automobile policies, respectively.

§ 804.475 Endorsements to be attached to policy. The insurance carrier selected will be required to attach the following endorsement forms to the policies issued by it:

(a) War Department Insurance Rating Plan endorsement (see § 804.497 (d)).

(b) General endorsement for general liability policy (see § 804.497 (e)).

(c) General endorsement for automobile liability policy (see § 804.497 (f)).

(d) General endorsement for workmen's compensation and employers' liability policy (see § 804.497 (g)).

§ 804.476 Rules and rates under War Department Insurance Rating Plan. A Joint Committee representing the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives and the American Mutual Alliance established rules and rates set forth in §§ 804.477 to 804.482 (a) for use in connection with policies written under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan. These rules and rates were approved by the War Department on May 13, 1941.

§ 804.477 Rules and rates with respect to workmen's compensation. The rules and rates adopted as set forth in § 804.476 prescribe that the Manual Rules and Rates set forth in the following subparagraphs shall be used, in connection with the War Department Insurance Rating Plan, as the basis for determining the standard premium for workmen's compensation insurance with respect to projects located in the jurisdictions therein referred to:

(a) District of Columbia, Territories of Alaska and Hawaii and all states in which private insurance carriers may write insurance under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan, except the states enumerated in subparagraphs (2) to (14): Manual Rules and Rates published by the National Council on Compensation Insurance.

(b) Arizona: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Industrial Commission of Arizona.

(c) California: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the California Inspection Rating Bureau.

(d) Delaware: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Delaware Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau.

(e) Louisiana: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Louisiana Casualty and Surety Rating Commission.

(f) Massachusetts: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Massachusetts Rating and Inspection Bureau.

(g) Minnesota: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Minnesota Compensation Rating Bureau.

(h) New Jersey: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau of New Jersey.

(i) New York: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Compensation Insurance Rating Board.

(j) North Carolina: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau of North Carolina.

(k) Pennsylvania: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Pennsylvania Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau.

(l) Texas: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Board of Insurance Commissioners of Texas.

(m) Virginia: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Workmen's Compensation Rating Bureau of Virginia.

(n) Wisconsin: Manual Rules and Rates promulgated by the Wisconsin Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau.

§ 804.478 Employers' liability insurance (Mississippi). It is prescribed that the Manual Rules and Rates of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters shall be used as a basis for determining the standard premium for employers' liability insurance.

§ 804.479 Employers' liability and voluntary compensation insurance (Oregon and Washington). It is prescribed that the Manual Rules and Rates of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters shall be used as the basis for determining the standard premium for employers' liability and voluntary compensation insurance.

§ 804.480 In adopting the manual rules and rates of the existing rating organizations the Joint Committee specifically provided that experience rating should not be employed. Instead, in recognition of the differences in hazard, it adopted the following rule:

For the purpose of determining the amount of the "fixed charge" under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan, the standard premium for workmen's compensation and employers' liability insurance shall be discounted 10% before applying the appropriate percentage as prescribed in Table I of the Plan.

No discount which may be provided for in the manual rules and rates published by the National Council on Compensation Insurance or in any of the manual rules and rates referred to in §§ 804.477 to 804.480 to reflect any reduction in expense shall be applicable in determining the standard premium.

§ 804.481 Automobile bodily injury and property damage liability insurance. (a) For insurance on projects located in the District of Columbia, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii and all states except Louisiana, Massachusetts, North Carolina and Texas, it is prescribed that the Manual Rules and Rates of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters shall be used as a basis for determining the standard premium for automobile bodily injury and property damage liability insurance subject to the following modifications:

(1) All commercial automobiles shall be rated as medium class 5 regardless of the class and load capacity to which such commercial car would ordinarily be assigned except in Massachusetts where light class 4 will be applicable.

(2) All automobiles classified as private passenger automobiles under the Manual Rules and Rates shall be classified as "Class C".

(3) In lieu of the rates appearing in the Manual Rules and Rates for non-ownership bodily injury and property damage liability, standard limits rates applicable to this coverage shall be as follows, such rates to apply to the total payroll on the project:

(i) $0.06 per $1,000 for payroll for bodily injury liability effective for new and renewal policies written on or after 1 March, 1943, in all states except:

Kansas effective 30 April, 1943.

Indiana and North Carolina effective 5 May, 1943.

Washington effective 8 May, 1943.

Virginia effective 30 May, 1943.

(ii) $0.05 per $1,000 of payroll for property damage liability.

(4) All automobiles owned by the Federal government and furnished for the contractors' use on a project, and all automobiles hired or purchased under rental purchase contracts shall be classified and rated in the same manner as automobiles owned by the contractor. Hired automobiles other than those hired under a rental purchase contract shall be rated in accordance with the Rules and Rates prescribed in the Manual.

(5) Neither the Experience Rating Plan nor the Automobile Fleet Plan Discount nor any other individual risk rating plan shall be used but in lieu thereof, and in recognition of the reduced hazards on these risks the manual rates including the rates set forth above shall be subject to a uniform discount of 50%.

(b) For insurance on projects located in Louisiana, Massachusetts, North Carolina and Texas, it is prescribed that the rules and rates of the organizations set forth below shall be used as a basis for determining the standard premium for automobile bodily injury and property damage liability insurance subject to the modification set forth in subparagraphs (1) to (5) above:

(1) Louisiana: The Louisiana Casualty & Surety Rating Commission.

(2) Massachusetts: Massachusetts Automobile Rating and Accident Prevention Bureau.

(3) North Carolina: North Carolina Automobile Rate and Administrative Office.

(4) Texas: The Board of Insurance Commissioners.

(c) For insurance on projects located in the states of Illinois, New Hampshire, New York, Oklahoma, Virginia and Washington, the Manual Rules and Rates of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters referred to in paragraph (a) above, shall be used in the form in which they are filed with and approved by the state supervising authority having jurisdiction.

(d) In the event that coverage is required for any automobiles for which passengers are carried for a consideration, such automobiles are to be rated in accordance with the Manual Rules and Rates applicable to public automobiles, subject to the 50 percent discount applicable to other classes of automobiles.

§ 804.482 Comprehensive bodily injury liability insurance. For insurance on projects located in the District of Columbia, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii and all states except Louisiana and New York it is prescribed that the Manual Rules and Rates of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters shall be used as a basis for determining the standard premium for comprehensive bodily injury liability insurance. For insurance on projects located in the state of New York the basis for determining the standard premium shall be the Manual Rules and Rates of the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters as approved by the New York State Insurance Department; and for insurance on projects located in Louisiana, the basis for determining the standard premium shall be the Manual Rules and Rates of the Louisiana Casualty and Surety Rating Commission. Neither the Experience Rating Plan nor any other individual risk rating plan shall be used, but instead in consideration of the reduced hazards on these risks all manual rates shall be subject to a uniform discount of 50 per cent.

(a) Those classifications in the Manual for which no rates appear will be submitted by the insurance carrier to the appropriate rating authority if any, for the establishment of a rate. The rate so established will be submitted to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. Any liability rate so established will be subject to the 50% discount applicable to other liability insurance classifications.

§ 804.483 Insurance advisor. (1) In connection with the War Department Insurance Rating Plan, each contractor performing a contract in one of the several States of the United States or the District of Columbia, will select a competent and responsible Insurance Advisor. This Advisor may be a licensed insurance agent or broker or other person of comparable competence and trustworthiness. He shall not, while so employed be employed or paid any remuneration whatsoever by any insurance carrier for services rendered or benefit conferred directly or indirectly in connection with the insurance on the project to which the Insurance Service Agreement relates (see § 804.497 (m)). The advisor selected will be requested to submit a detailed statement of the knowledge and experience which qualifies him to act as Insurance Advisor.

(2) On projects located in States having a resident agents law which requires an advisor to be a licensed agent or broker such law will be complied with.

(a) Paragraph 1 of the Insurance Service Agreement, when used in connection with projects located in Massachusetts must be amended by inserting the words "being a duly licensed advisor, agent, or broker as defined in section 163, 166, and 177b of the General Laws, Chapter 175," between the words "hereinafter called the Advisor" and the words "agreement(s), in consideration of a fee".

(b) If the contractor desires that his regular insurance agent or broker act as Advisor but the project is so far removed that the agent or broker (not qualified as set forth above) is unable to give complete service, the agent or broker may arrange with another person or firm sufficiently near the project to render a portion of the Advisor's services. The individual or firm will qualify as an Advisor as set forth above and both parties will execute jointly the Insurance Service Agreement.

(c) No Insurance Advisor will be appointed in connection with projects located outside the several States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

§ 804.484 Assignment to Government of premiums due under policies written under War Department Insurance Rating Plan upon termination or completion of cost-plus-a-fixed fee contracts. (a) The following form will be used for the purpose of assigning to the Government the interest of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor in return premiums, premium refunds, etc., on insurance policies written under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan upon termination or completion of the contract, when the Government has assumed the payment of the contractor's obligations for premiums under such policies (see § 804.490 (c)):

ASSIGNMENT TO GOVERNMENT

The Government having assumed and become liable for the obligation of the contractor for premiums under Policies Nos. _____, and _____ issued by the _____ Insurance Company, the Contractor does hereby assign, transfer and set over to the Government as of the date hereof, all of its right, title and interest in and to all return premiums, premium refunds, dividends and any other moneys due or to become due the Contractor in connection with such policies.

In witness whereof, the Contractor has executed this assignment this _____ day of _____, 194_____

[CORPORATE SEAL]

CONTRACTOR,

By _____

Attest:

Secretary

Accepted:

United States of America,

By _____

Contracting Officer

(b) Appropriate detailed instructions will be given by the chiefs of technical services to contracting officers and others concerned so that the form is executed and forwarded by registered mail, return receipt requested, to the home office of the insurance company involved. The letter accompanying the form will specify that all checks to cover return premiums, etc., are to be made payable to the Treasurer of the United States.

(c) In addition to whatever copies are required for the purposes of a technical service, one copy of the executed form will be forwarded to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

Special Instructions for the Preparation of Policies

§ 804.485 Workmen's compensation policies. Policies to evidence workmen's compensation insurance taken out in accordance with this part, will be written to provide the coverage required by this part and in accordance with the following regulations:

(a) The War Department Insurance Rating Plan is not available for use in connection with workmen's compensation insurance in the states of Nevada, North Dakota, Ohio and Washington, but the plan will be used in those states for comprehensive general liability and automobile liability and property damage if the premiums involved are estimated to exceed $5,000.

(b) In the state of Oregon the contractor will formally reject the workmen's compensation act and will then purchase insurance as prescribed in §§ 804.470 to 804.471 (d). The policy will provide on a voluntary basis the benefits of the workmen's compensation act and employer's liability insurance.

(c) In the state of West Virginia the contractor will qualify with the appropriate state authority as a self-insurer and will then purchase insurance as prescribed in §§ 804.470 to 804.471 (d). The policy will provide the benefits of the workmen's compensation act and employers' liability insurance.

(d) In the following states occupational diseases coverage in limits of $50/100,000 will be obtained by having this coverage endorsed on the compensation policy:

Alabama	New Jersey
Arizona	New Mexico
Colorado	Oklahoma
Delaware	Oregon
Florida	Pennsylvania
Georgia	Rhode Island
Iowa	South Carolina
Kansas	South Dakota
Kentucky	Tennessee
Louisiana	Utah
Maine	Vermont
Minnesota	Virginia
Montana	West Virginia
Nebraska	Wyoming
New Hampshire

(e) Occupational disease coverage will be obtained in the states enumerated below, as follows:

(1) Illinois: by having the employer elect in writing to accept the terms of the Occupational Diseases Act;

(2) Indiana: by having the employer elect in writing to accept the terms of the Occupational Diseases Act;

(3) Missouri: by having the employer elect in writing to bring himself within the Workmen's Compensation Act with respect to occupational diseases; and the Workmen's Compensation policy will be endorsed to indicate the carrier's acceptance of the employer's election.

(f) In the state of Missouri the contractor will have the Missouri endorsement (see § 804.497 (h)) attached to the compensation policy. This endorsement will be cleared in each individual case by the chief of the technical service concerned or his authorized representative with the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of Missouri.

(g) Special endorsements will be attached to policies in the following states:

Delaware (See § 804.497 (i)).
Massachusetts (See § 804.497 (j)).
Pennsylvania (See § 804.497 (k)).
Texas (See § 804.497 (l)).

§ 804.486 Average rates for construction projects insured under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan. Because of the multiplicity of classifications which must be used in connection with construction projects, average rates will, in all instances where practicable, be used and the following procedure will apply:

(a) The rate will be established by the board or bureau having jurisdiction.

(b) Calculation of such rate will be on the basis of the Manual Rules, Classifications and Rates administered by the board or bureau having jurisdiction.

(c) Data for establishing such rate will be secured by the carrying company from the technical service concerned and will be subject to acceptance and verification by the board or bureau having jurisdiction.

(d) Pending the submission of complete data upon which to establish such average rate the board or bureau will establish a tentative average rate based upon such information concerning the operations as may be made available.

(e) The average rate computed in accordance with (b) and (c) above will be established and promulgated to the carrier as promptly as possible, and such rate will apply only if the carrier and the War Department agree to its use.

(f) Such rate will be effective as of the inception date of the policy and may not be changed except as follows:

(1) It will be subject to revision on the anniversary date of the policy.

(2) Whenever features or operations contemplated under the project are materially changed.

(3) Whenever work which was included in the establishment of the average rate is sublet to lump-sum subcontractors whose operations are not under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan.

(4) The amended rate as established under (1) and (2) above will be effective as of the inception date of the policy.

(5) In the event that the state rates are changed as a result of a change in the law, the average rate will be modified as of the effective date of the revised state rates.

Upon promulgation by the board or bureau having jurisdiction, all average rates will be submitted to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for approval. Complete supporting data and the recommendation of the chief of the technical service concerned will also be submitted.

§ 804.487 Fire insurance—(a) Release form. A non-interest release form will be used in all applicable cases where the contracting officer is required to execute an instrument in connection with fire insurance purchased pursuant to a provision contained in a War Department contract. For form see § 804.497 (a).

(b) Endorsement form. (1) Where a contract requires that the contractor shall provide and maintain fire insurance in a sum at least equal to the value of the property belonging to the United States which is in his possession, the form of endorsement set forth in § 804.497 (b) will be used. This endorsement is designed for the purpose of clearly defining the interest of the government and of providing the manner in which losses shall be settled. Its use will not eliminate the necessity of reviewing each insurance policy submitted in order to determine that the amount of insurance conforms to requirements and that the exclusions which appear in the policy do not deprive the United States of any of its rights.

(2) If any outstanding endorsement does not contain a provision with respect to cancellation substantially similar to that contained in paragraph 2 of the endorsement set forth in § 804.497 (b), such endorsement should be amended as promptly as practicable to conform to said paragraph 2.

§ 804.488 Rules and regulations of the State of Massachusetts pertaining to use of War Department Insurance Rating Plan in that state. The Emergency Construction and Expansion Comprehensive Insurance Rating Plan on Cost-Plus-a-Fixed-Fee Contracts, dated May 3, 1941, commonly known as the War Department Insurance Rating Plan, as amended by Endorsement Forms 2A, 10A, and 30A, of May 26, 1942, is hereby permitted for use in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the authority of Executive Order No. 18, subject to the following rules, regulations, and modifications:

(a) This plan shall be available only when requested by the United States Government, through the War Department, the Navy Department, the Maritime Commission, or the Defense Plant Corporation, or in cooperation therewith in connection with the operations of any assured undertaking a contract of which written notice has been given to the Commissioner of Insurance of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts by the procurement officer of the United States agency in charge of the project or his representative to be on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis and on other projects in connection with the prosecution of the war wherein the cost of the insurance is a direct item of expense to the United States Government by reason of a contract reimbursement agreement.

(b) Requests for permission to use the plan shall be made by the insurance carrier to the Commissioner of Insurance of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and shall be accompanied by the written request for the use of the plan by the procurement officer of the United States agency in charge of the project or his authorized representative and also a statement from the assured giving the name and address of the licensed insurance adviser, agent, or broker.

(c) The plan shall not be used where the estimated standard premium for the insurance is less than $5,000. In cases where the standard premium on war projects is less than $5,000, each carrier shall observe the rates and rules for Workmen's Compensation Insurance which have been approved by the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance. Rules, rates, and classification of risks and premium charges, promulgated by the Commissioner of Insurance for Massachusetts Compulsory Motor Vehicle Insurance Policies and Bonds and Guest Occupant charges, shall be used in connection with risks involving standard premium of less than $5,000.

(d) The advisor provided for in the plan shall be a person who meets the requirements of Gen. Laws, Chapter 175, section 163, 166 or 177B, and who holds a license under one or more of said sections. No insurance carrier shall recognize an advisor unless such advisor is licensed as described above. Enclosed amendment must be attached to service agreement. (See § 804.497 (j) (5)).

(e) Policies in force on May 26, 1942, may be cancelled and rewritten under this plan with the approval of the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance, provided that no policy written under this plan may have an effective date prior to May 26, 1942.

(f) Permission to use the plan in Massachusetts may be discontinued by the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance by giving ten days' written notice to the War Department or other governmental agency authorized to use this plan and to the Massachusetts Rating and Inspection Bureau as a representative of the insurance companies.

(g) Endorsement Forms 2A, 10A, and 30A, copies of which are attached hereto, shall be attached to each policy contract issued under this plan. (See § 804.497 (e), (f) and (g)).

(h) Losses incurred under the plan are to be determined by the insurance carrier and approved by the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance and the Under Secretary of War or corresponding head of other governmental agency authorized to use this plan.

(i) Reserves on outstanding cases are to be determined by the insurance carrier and approved by the Massachusetts Insurance Department and the Under Secretary of War, or corresponding head of other governmental agency authorized to use this plan.

(j) The insurance carrier shall furnish to the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance and to the War Department a quarterly itemized statement of incurred losses.

(k) Payroll audits shall be made as soon as possible following the termination of the audit period as shown in the policy and a copy furnished to the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance. There shall be attached to each policy to which the War Department Insurance Rating Plan applies, War Project Endorsement form "D" shown below.

§ 804.489 Rules and regulations pertaining to use of War Department Insurance Rating Plan in State of Texas. (a) When policies written under the plan are submitted to the Casualty Insurance Commissioner for his approval they will be accompanied by a copy of the insurance service agreement signed by the insurance advisor and the contractor or architect-engineer. No policy will be approved unless accompanied by such agreement and such copy will be retained permanently by the Insurance Department.

(b) Workmen's Compensation insurance policies written under this plan may eliminate the wording "and elsewhere in Texas". Where such wording is eliminated the policy will not be approved until the Casualty Insurance Commissioner is submitted satisfactory evidence that the contractor and each subcontractor or the architect-engineer named in such policy will be insured by a separate Workmen's Compensation insurance policy written according to normal manual requirements for all the assured's contracting activities through Texas during the entire period of coverage under the Emergency Insurance Rating Plan. Concurrent policies carried by reason of this requirement may be combined for determination of premiums.

(c) Any Workmen's Compensation insurance policy concurrent with one extending coverage under the provisions of the War Department Emergency Rating Plan will provide by endorsement for a ten-day written notice by the insurance carrier or by the assured (whichever cancels the policy) to the Casualty Insurance Commissioner before such policy may be terminated by cancelation.

Settlement of Claims

§ 804.490 Settlement under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan. (a) The Rating Plan provides that within sixty days after the expiration of the policy (or within sixty days of the termination of the project) the carrier shall compute the aggregate earned standard premium and a preliminary settlement of the premium shall then be made (for form of preliminary settlement, see § 804.497 (o) through (u)). It is desired that this preliminary settlement be made prior to the termination of the contract.

(b) Insurance carriers will be required to submit to the contractor seven properly executed copies of the forms of preliminary settlement, together with any refund which may be called for by the settlement form. The contractor will be instructed to retain one copy and to submit the remaining six copies, together with the refund, to the contracting officer. The contracting officer will make the following distribution:

(1) One copy, together with the refund, to the disbursing officer.

(2) One copy to the General Accounting Office.

(3) Two copies to the chief of the technical service concerned.

(4) Two copies to be retained by the contracting officer. The chief of the technical service will forward one copy to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(c) Generally the contract in question will have been terminated by the time final settlement (see § 804.497 (o) to (u)) is in order (eight months after completion of the project). Therefore in terminating such contracts, the chief of the technical service concerned will issue appropriate instructions to the effect that any remaining credits due in connection with the insurance or any outstanding obligations of the contractor with respect to the insurance will be assumed by the United States Government.

(d) The insurance carriers will be notified to submit simultaneously (1) to the technical service concerned the number of properly completed copies of final settlement forms required by it and (2) directly to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces one properly completed copy of such settlement form. The technical service concerned will promptly submit to the Contract Insurance Branch any information which it believes to be pertinent to the negotiations for settlement with the insurance carrier. The Contract Insurance Branch will take appropriate action to examine the final settlements, reach agreements with the carriers concerning the adjustment of losses and premiums, and secure Comprehensive Insurance Rating Plan Releases. If no changes are made in the settlement statement as submitted by a carrier, the Contract Insurance Branch will notify the technical service concerned of approval. In the event revised settlement statement is required, the Contract Insurance Branch will secure the necessary properly executed forms from the carrier and forward them to the technical service with the Contract Insurance Branch's approval of the settlement. When advised of approval by the Contract Insurance Branch, the technical service will take appropriate steps to close the account on the basis of the approved statement. The procedure prescribed in this paragraph will be followed on and after 29 April 1944.

(e) All appropriate action will be taken by the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, with respect to the valuation and adjustment of losses and claims.

§ 804.491 Claims, losses and claims service under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan—(a) Claims service by insurance carriers. The carrier is required to provide sufficient claims facilities to afford prompt and adequate claims service to the contractor. Any complaints concerning the claims service which is rendered by a carrier in connection with a particular project will be referred for necessary action to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(b) Claims settlements by insurance carriers. (1) It is the duty of the insurance carrier to make all decisions with respect to the investigation, settlement and litigation of claims against contractors covered by its policies of insurance "to the extent of its coverage, said policies having been issued under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan."

(2) Medical benefits in excess of statutory limits: Medical benefits in excess of the statutory limits on compensation claims may be provided by the insurance carrier if in its best judgment, such extension of benefits will probably reduce disability and the ultimate cost of indemnity payments provided the carrier has received the prior written approval of the Contracting Officer or his representative; or receives the approval of the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Office of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(c) Insurance medical facilities, first aid and hospital (contract medical). (1) An agreement has been effected with insurance carriers concerning the standard form endorsement and the maximum percentages to be used in the distribution of Project Site Medical (Contract Medical) cost between the contractor and the Insurance Carrier.

(2) The agreement provides for Project Site Medical Endorsement as follows:

It is agreed that "losses incurred" as defined in paragraph 1-b of the Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement, shall include —% of the amount paid as salaries to "medical personnel" employed at the project site: Provided, however, That such amount is subject to a maximum of —% of the Standard Premium for Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability coverages.

"Medical personnel" as used in this endorsement shall include: doctors, internes, nurses, technicians, and, if employed on a full-time basis to perform services normally rendered by a nurse, orderlies, and nurses' aides.

(3) The percentage of amount paid as salaries "to medical personnel" (first blank in above endorsement) is to be fixed by negotiation subject to the following maxima:

(i) Construction projects—66⅔% of such salaries.

(ii) Manufacturing projects—50% of such salaries.

(iii) Explosives risks—33⅓% of such salaries.

(4) The maximum percentages of Standard Premium for Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability coverages (second blank in above endorsement) are:

(i) Construction projects—7½% of standard premium.

(ii) Manufacturing projects—10% of standard premium.

(iii) Explosives risks—5% of standard premium.

(5) The endorsement set forth in subparagraph (2) above is to be used when the project is entirely a construction project, a manufacturing project or an explosive risk. If the project changes from a "construction project" to either a "manufacturing project" or an "explosive risk" two endorsements will be necessary. The first, effective as of the effective date of the policies, will be the same as the endorsement described in subparagraph (2) above, except that the phrase "applicable to construction operations" will be added at the end of the first paragraph of the endorsement. The second, effective as of the date of change of character of the risk, will be the same as the endorsement described in subparagraph (2) above, except that the percentage of salaries will be that applicable to the new operations, and the phrase "applicable to _____ (insert 'manufacturing' or 'explosives') Operations" will be added at the end of the first paragraph of the endorsement.

(6) If the project is at the same time in part a "construction project" and in part either a "manufacturing project" or an "explosive risk" or any combination of the above, the endorsement to be used effective as of the date and during the period the project includes more than one operation will be the same as the endorsement described in subparagraph (2) above except that:

(i) The percentage inserted in the first bracket will be determined on a pro rata basis determined by taking into account the existing and probable future situation as regards payroll expenditure with respect to each type of operation.

(ii) The phrase "the sum of ____% of the Standard Premium for Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability coverages applicable to _____ (construction or _____ operations and ____% of the Standard Premium for Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability coverages applicable to _____ (manufacturing or explosives) _____ operations" replaces the phrase "____% of the Standard Premium for Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability coverages". When mixed operations no longer exist the endorsement will be revised in accordance with the procedure hereinbefore outlined.

(7) All policies effective 15 July 1943 and thereafter will have endorsements affixed thereto in accordance with this paragraph (c). Immediate arrangements will be made by the technical service concerns to have the carriers execute and attach such endorsements to each Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability policy written under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan in effect prior to 15 July 1943. Copies of such endorsements will be forwarded to the Contract Insurance Branch, Special Financial Services Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, as soon as possible in order that final settlements now pending on a number of these contracts may be disposed of. The endorsements will be retroactive to the effective date of the policies.

(8) The percentage of Project Site Medical mentioned herein and the percentage of Standard Premium are maxima and subject to these maxima, the distribution of Medical salaries between the carrier and the contractor is subject to negotiation. If on any project arrangements were hitherto in effect whereby any carrier assumed a smaller percentage of the Project Site Medical than the maxima provided herein, the endorsements should not provide any greater percentage of such medical cost to be included by the carrier than the percentage heretofore agreed upon.

(9) In arriving at agreed percentages of medical salaries, consideration should be given to a proper allocation based upon industrial accident exposure.

(d) Claims not covered by insurance policy; duty of insurance carrier. The insurance carrier will notify the contractor promptly of any claim reported to it which, in its opinion, is not covered by the terms of the insurance policy. All such matters will be referred immediately for determination to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(e) Relationship of the claims representatives of the carriers to technical services. The insurance carrier through its investigation of accidents and the handling of settlements frequently obtains and compiles data which will be helpful to the representatives of the technical service on the project. The relationship between these parties should be one of mutual assistance and cooperation. The claims representative of the insurance carrier is required to cooperate with the technical service representative when requested to do so and to supply him with such data as will be of assistance to the latter in carrying out his duties. The supply service concerned will not request the claims representative of the insurance carrier to fill out forms, copy reports, or prepare other clerical data not necessary in the performance of his duties in connection with the handling of claims.

(f) Loss reports—(1) Quarterly loss reports. The insurance carrier is required to submit a quarterly loss report (for form see § 804.497 (w) and (x)) every three months during the term of the policy. The insurance carrier is required to furnish the contractor with five copies of the quarterly loss report. The contractor should retain two copies and send three copies to the contracting officer or his representative. The contracting officer will retain one copy unless the chief of the supply service concerned requires him to send it to a higher echelon within the supply service, and will forward two copies to the chief of the supply service concerned. The chief of the supply service will retain one copy and forward the other to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. In order that maximum use may be made of these reports, they will be forwarded promptly through channels as set forth above.

(2) Preliminary settlement. The insurance carrier will use the approved form of preliminary settlement (See § 804.497 (o) to (u)). Distribution of these forms when completed will be made as set forth in § 804.490 (a). The chief of the supply service concerned will obtain the approval or disapproval of these statements by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, before any final action is taken thereon. Refunds of premium may be accepted without reference to the approval or disapproval by the Insurance Branch. The chief of the supply service concerned will be notified of the action taken by the Insurance Branch.

(3) Final settlement. The same form shall be used for final settlement as is used for preliminary settlement statements (see § 804.497 (o) to (u)). If the final settlement statement is approved by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, after its examination of the claims files, the chief of the supply service concerned will be so notified. If settlement is deferred, the chief of the supply service concerned will be notified. In the event of a deferment of settlement, the carrier will submit an additional final settlement statement at the end of the deferred period as provided by the War Department Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement. Such additional final settlement statement will be acted upon by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces in the same manner as an original final settlement statement.

(4) No other reports by insurance carriers concerning insured losses will be required unless requested by the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(g) Arbitration of losses. If final settlement with a carrier is not feasible, by reason of dispute over losses claimed by such carrier, the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces will arrange for arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the War Department Insurance Rating Plan, and will notify the chief of the supply service concerned of the pendency of such arbitration. Upon final settlement of such losses, the chief of the supply service concerned will be notified.

(h) Claims under Missouri Voluntary Workmen's Compensation Endorsement. An agreement and release will be taken at the time settlement is made by the insurance carrier with an employee and a receipt and release will be taken at the time final payment is made. These are necessary and are required by the Insurance Commissioner of Missouri (for forms see § 804.497 (y) and (z)). The insurance carrier will be responsible for the execution of the forms.

Miscellaneous

§ 804.492 War risk indemnity contracts. With the passage of Public Law 784, 77th Congress, the execution of War risk indemnity contracts has become unnecessary. The authority heretofore granted in respect to the execution of such agreements is withdrawn.

§ 804.493 Reports. Copies of all policies, bonds, certificates of insurance, reports of insurance companies, and insurance advisors' boiler inspection contracts and all other data pertaining thereto will be forwarded promptly to the Insurance Branch, Fiscal Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

SUBPART E—BONDS AND INSURANCE FORMS

§ 804.496 Bond forms—(a) Bid bond. Standard Form No. 24 (Standard Government Form of Bid Bond (construction or supply)) is the approved bid bond form. In the preparation of the form, contracting officers are authorized, when it is deemed by them to be in the best interests of the Government, to insert in the blank space on page one, following the words "in the penal sum of" and before the word "dollars," the following clause:

an amount equal to ____ per cent of the accompanying bid of said principal, but in no event shall said penalty exceed the sum of_____

There should be inserted in the first blank space of the above clause the percentage deemed appropriate by the contracting officer, having regard to existing instructions of the chief of the supply service concerned, and in the second blank space the amount of the maximum penalty in dollars. Standard Form No. 24 reads as follows:

STANDARD GOVERNMENT FORM OF BID BOND (NO. 24)

(Construction or Supply)

Know all men by these presents, That we, as Principal, and _____ as Surety, are held and firmly bound unto the United States of America, hereinafter called the Government, in the penal sum of _____ dollars lawful money of the United States, for the payment of which sum well and truly to be made, we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators, and successors, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.

The condition of this obligation is such, that whereas the principal has submitted the accompanying bid, dated _____, 19____, for _____.

Now, therefore, if the principal shall not withdraw said bid within the period specified therein after the opening of the same, or, if no period be specified, within sixty (60) days after said opening, and shall within the period specified therefor, or, if no period be specified, within ten (10) days after the prescribed forms are presented to him for signature, enter into a written contract with the Government, in accordance with the bid as accepted, and give bond with good and sufficient surety or sureties, as may be required, for the faithful performance and proper fulfillment of such contract, or in the event of the withdrawal of said bid within the period specified, or the failure to enter into such contract and give such bond within the time specified, if the principal shall pay the Government the difference between the amount specified in said bid and the amount for which the Government may procure the required work and/or supplies, if the latter amount be in excess of the former, then the above obligation shall be void and of no effect, otherwise to remain in full force and virtue.

In witness whereas, the above-bounden parties have executed this instrument under their several seals this ____ day of _____, 19____, the name and corporate seal of each corporate party being hereto affixed and these presents duly signed by its undersigned representative, pursuant to authority of its governing body.

(b) Annual bid bond. United States Standard Form No 34 (Revised) is the approved form of Annual Bid Bond. It reads as follows:

ANNUAL BID BOND (NO. 34)

(Supplies)

Know all men by these presents, that we _____, as Principal, and _____ as Surety, are held and firmly bound unto the United States of America, hereinafter called the Government, in such penal sum or sums, lawful money of the United States, as shall be sufficient to indemnify the Government in case of the default of the said principal as hereinafter set forth, for the payment of which sum or sums well and truly to be made, we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators, and successors, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.

The condition of this obligation is such, that whereas the principal contemplates submitting bids from time to time during the fiscal year ending June 30, 19____, to the _____ for furnishing materials and supplies to the Government, and desires that all such bids submitted for opening during said fiscal year be covered by a single bond instead of by a separate Bid Bond for each bid;

Now, therefore, if the principal shall not withdraw any such bid within the period specified therein after the opening of the same, or, if no period be specified, within sixty (60) days after said opening, and shall within the period specified therefor, or, if no period be specified, within ten (10) days after the prescribed forms are presented to him for signature, enter into a written contract with the Government, in accordance with the bid as accepted, and give bond with good and sufficient surety or sureties, as may be required, for the faithful performance and proper fulfillment of such contract, or in the event of the withdrawal of any bid within the period specified, or the failure to enter into such contract and give such bond within the time specified, if the principal shall pay the Government the difference between the amount specified in said bid and the amount for which the Government may procure the required materials and supplies, if the latter amount be in excess of the former, then the above obligation shall be void and of no effect, otherwise to remain in full force and virtue.

In witness whereof, the above-bounden parties have executed this instrument under their several seals this _____ day of _____ 19____, the name and corporate seal of each corporate party being hereto affixed and these presents duly signed by its undersigned representative, pursuant to authority of its governing body.

(c) Performance bond. (1) Standard Form No. 25, Revised is the approved form of performance bond for use when the bond is to be executed by individual sureties, or by one corporate surety. The form is set forth in subparagraph (4) below.

(2) Standard Form No. 25–B is the approved form of performance bond for use when the bond is to be executed by two or more corporate sureties. For cases involving more than six sureties, continuation sheets to sheets one and three of the form are provided. These bear the form designations, Standard Form No. 25–B1 and 25–B3. Standard Form No. 25–B is set forth in subparagraph (5) below.

(3) When the aforementioned Standard Forms of performance bonds are used, there may be inserted therein the following additional clause.

Provided, however, that the foregoing obligation of the surety shall not be applicable to the liability of the principal for the return of excessive profits under the provisions of the Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act, 1942.

(4) Performance Bond (No. 25).

PERFORMANCE BOND (NO. 25)

(Construction or Supply)

Know all men by these presents, that we, _____ as Principal, and _____ as Surety, are held and firmly bound unto the United States of America, hereinafter called the Government, in the penal sum of _____ dollars for the payment of which sum well and truly to be made, we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators, and successors, jointly and severally, firmly by these presents.

The condition of this obligation is such, that whereas the principal entered into a certain contract, hereto attached, with the Government, dated _____, 19____, for _____.

Now, therefore, if the principal shall well and truly perform and fulfill all the undertakings, covenants, terms, conditions, and agreements of said contract during the original term of said contract and any extensions thereof that may be granted by the Government, with or without notice to the surety, and during the life of any guaranty required under the contract, and shall also well and truly perform and fulfill all the undertakings, covenants, terms, conditions and agreements of any and all duly authorized modifications of said contract that may hereafter be made, notice of which modifications to the surety being hereby waived, then, this obligation to be void; otherwise to remain in full force and virtue.

In witness whereof, the above-bounden parties have executed this instrument under their several seals this _____ day of _____, 19____, the name and corporate seal of each corporate party being hereto affixed and these presents duly signed by its undersigned representative, pursuant to authority of its governing body.

1. This policy covers all property owned wholly or in part by the United States or in which the United States has any interest, legal or equitable, by way of lien, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise, while said property is on the premises of the assured as described in the policy to which this endorsement is attached. Loss if any under this policy shall be payable to the contractor and to the Treasurer of the United States as their respective interests may appear, provided, however, that the United States is entitled to indemnity, in preference and priority, on all property insured hereunder and in which it has an interest.

2. This policy, with respect to the interests of the United States, shall not be altered, cancelled, or further endorsed, transferred or assigned, unless written notice to that effect shall be given, at least twenty days in advance, to the United States of America, through _____ except that, upon written request of the United States to the contractor, this policy may be cancelled at any time by the contractor upon mailing copy of such request to the company, and the company shall refund the excess of the paid premium above the pro rata premium for the expired time.
(Insert name or names and addresses of Contracting Officer of the technical service involved);

3. Since this policy is hereby endorsed primarily to afford protection to the United States, and since the United States is not in a position to determine whether the assured under this policy is under-insured, any co-insurance clause of this policy as far as the interest of the United States is concerned is hereby declared to be inoperative and of no effect.

4. Inasmuch as the United States is not in control of the insured property, this policy, with respect to the interest of the United States, shall not be impaired or affected by the failure of the assured to comply with any condition or warranty contained therein.

(e) War Department Insurance Rating Plan endorsement.

Amending Policy Numbered_____

1. It is agreed that the premiums for the policies numbered: _____
_____
issued by the Company affording insurance in connection with the War Department Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Contract No. _____, (Name of Contractor) to _____
_____
and all subcontractors performing operations on a Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee basis in connection with a project at_____
shall be a fixed charge plus modified losses plus all actual allocated claim expense, all multiplied by the tax multiplier, subject to a maximum premium equal to the amount obtained by the application of the tax multiplier to 90% of the standard premium.

a. The premium computed in accordance with the provisions of the policies, other than this endorsement, shall be known as the "standard premium" and shall be computed in accordance with manual rules and rates which have been approved by the Under Secretary of War.

b. "Losses incurred" as used in this endorsement shall mean the sum of all losses (indemnity and medical) actually paid plus reserves for unpaid losses as determined by the Company and approved by the insured and the Under Secretary of War.

c. "Modified losses" as used in this endorsement shall mean the losses incurred converted by the application of the factor 1.12.

d. "Allocated claim expense" as used in this endorsement shall mean actual payments and reserves for legal expenses, excluding the cost of investigation and adjustment of claims by salaried employees and fee adjusters, but including attorney's fees, court costs, interest, expense for expert testimony, examination, X-ray, autopsy or medical expenses of any kind not incurred for the benefit of the injured or any other expenses incurred under the policy other than payment of indemnity or medical treatment, provided that only those items of expense which can be directly allocated to a specific claim involving litigation or possible litigation when necessary to determine the Company's liability shall be included.

e. "Fixed charge" as used in this endorsement shall mean the amount provided for fixed expenses and for losses in excess of the maximum. The fixed charge shall be determined by applying the appropriate percentage as set forth in Table I, to the sum of 90% of the standard premium for Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability and 100% of the standard premium for Automobile Bodily Injury Liability and Property Damage Liability coverages and all other bodily injury liability and property damage liability coverages combined.

f. TABLE I—TABLE OF FIXED CHARGES

(1) Standard Premium:[2]	(2) Fixed charge[2]
$5,000 or less	37.
$10,000	29.
$25,000	24.
$50,000	18.4
$100,000	12.5
$150,000	11.5
$200,000	10.5
$250,000	9.7
$300,000	9.
$350,000	7.5
$400,000 to $700,000	6.5
$700,000 and over	6.3

[2] Standard Premium to be used in determining applicable fixed Charge percentage (90% of Standard Premium for Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability and 100% of Standard Premium for all bodily injury liability and property damage liability coverages).

[2] Fixed charge (expressed as a percentage of standard premium stated in column 1).

If the standard premium lies between any two of the figures in the standard premium column, the Fixed Charge shall be interpolated.

g. "Tax Multiplier" as used in this endorsement shall mean the factor as set forth in Table II, to be applied to the fixed charge, to the modified losses and to the allocated claim expense in order to increase those amounts sufficiently to provide for those taxes which are levied as a percentage of premium and for assessments for industrial commissions, rating boards and bureaus.

h. TABLE II—TABLE OF TAX MULTIPLIERS

[1] Kansas Compensation Act provides for levying varying fees per claim which are paid into a fund for the support of the Industrial Commission. All such fees must be added to the modified losses before applying the tax multiplier.

[2] Maryland Compensation Act provides for levying assessment per $100 of payroll for expenses of Industrial Commission. An amount equal to 3.4 cents per $100 of payroll must be added to the fixed charges before applying the tax multiplier.

[3] New York Compensation Act provides for levying an assessment on indemnity losses for expenses of the Department of Labor. An amount equal to 4.5% of the indemnity losses incurred must be added to the modified losses before applying the tax multiplier.

2. If Table II fails to provide the proper tax multiplier, the multiplier will be obtained by using the following formula:

$$\text{Tax Multiplier} = \frac{1}{1.0 - (\text{the tax loading plus } 0.8\%)}$$

In any case where the tax multiplier is obtained by use of the formula and not the table, it will not be used in the premium computation until approved by the insured and the Under Secretary of War.

3. The deposit premium shall be 15% of the estimated annual standard premium.

4. The Company shall be paid 50% of the earned standard premium on policies written on a payroll basis determined monthly by audit of the expended payrolls and 50% of the earned standard premium on all other policies determined monthly on the basis of the actual monthly exposures.

5. The Company shall furnish to the insured and to the War Department a quarterly itemized statement of incurred losses.

6. Within sixty days after termination of the policies, the Company shall compute the aggregate amount of modified losses plus all allocated claim expense times the tax multiplier, the aggregate fixed charge times the tax multiplier and the aggregate earned standard premium, and a preliminary settlement of premium shall be made.

7. Within eight months after termination of the policies, based upon a determination of loss reserves made not earlier than six months after such termination, the final settlement of premium computed in accordance with the provisions of this endorsement shall be made. If the losses so determined are not approved by the insured and the Under Secretary of War and agreement cannot be reached as to any modification thereof, the final settlement shall be deferred for a further period of six months or such further period up to twenty-four months as may be necessary to produce an approved determination of such loss reserves. In the event an approved determination of loss reserves cannot be reached by this method, the matter shall be referred for arbitration to a committee of three, one member of which shall be selected by the insured, one by the Company, and the third by those two members, and the decision of this committee shall be final upon approval by the Under Secretary of War.

8. If the policies are canceled, the earned standard premium shall be determined on a pro rata basis, but if such cancelation is effected by the insured—except for cancelation on termination of the project—the maximum premium shall be 90% of the standard premium for the original policy period, obtained by extending the earned standard premium on a pro rata basis, all increased by the provision for taxes.

ATTACHMENT

The Company may use its usual attachment clause.

NOTE: The method set forth below is to be followed in stating the Name of Employer in Item 1 of the Declarations:

Name of Employer: _____, C.P.F.F. contractor with U.S.A., and others, as described in endorsement _____
(Insert "attached" or number)

(d–1) Mandatory endorsement amending War Department Insurance Policy Plan regarding approval of losses. It is agreed that the War Department Insurance Rating Plan endorsement is hereby amended as follows:

(1) The words "the insured and" are deleted from Division b. of paragraph 1, from paragraph 2 and from the second sentence of paragraph 7.

(2) The words "Under Secretary of War" are substituted for the word "insured" in the third sentence of paragraph 7.

Accepted By _____ (Name of Insured)

(e) General endorsement for general liability policy.

Amending Policy Numbered_____
It is agreed that:

1. Name of insured. The name and address of the Insured are: _____

(Name and address of Contractor)
prime cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor under Government Contract No. _____ with the United States of America and_____

(Names and addresses of subcontractors)
cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors and all other cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors under such contract.

The prime contractor agrees to notify the Company as soon as practicable of the names of all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors under such contract not named herein. Failure so to notify the Company shall not invalidate the insurance.

Any notice relating to this insurance mailed or delivered by the Company to the prime contractor and to the subcontractors named in the policy shall be deemed notice to all subcontractors not named in the policy.

2. Operations covered. Such insurance as is afforded by the policy applies to all operations in connection with the contract designated in paragraph 1 of this endorsement and all subcontracts thereunder and does not apply to any other operations of the insured.

3. Waiver of subrogation against the United States. The Company waives any right of subrogation against the United States of America which might arise by reason of any payment under the policy.

4. Rate adjustment. The rules and rates upon which the standard premium for the policy is based are subject to change at the end of each year of the policy to accord with rules and rates then in use by the Company, subject to the approval of the Under Secretary of War.

5. Cancelation. The cancelation condition of the policy is amended as follows:

a. The reference therein to a specified number of days is changed to thirty days.

b. This policy may be canceled by the named insured by mailing written notice to the Company stating when not less than thirty days thereafter such cancelation shall be effective.

c. Cancelation by the Company shall not be effective unless a copy of the notice of cancelation is mailed to_____ (Insert name or names and addresses of Contracting Officers of the technical service involved) on the same day that notice of cancelation is mailed or delivered to the named insured.

d. In the event of cancelation by the named insured the Company will as soon as practicable mail notice thereof to the officer or officers named in the preceding paragraph.

6. Aggregate limits. As respects insurance afforded under the policy for which an aggregate limit of liability is set forth therein such limit of liability shall apply to each year of the policy period.

7. Interpretation of cross liability. As respects claims against any insured under this policy other insureds or the employees of other insureds shall be deemed to be members of the public.

8. Exclusion of products liability. The policy does not apply.

a. To the handling or use of, the existence of any condition in or a warranty of goods or products manufactured, sold, handled or distributed by the named insured, other than equipment rented to or located for use of others but not sold, if the accident occurs after the insured has relinquished possession thereof to others and away from premises owned, rented or controlled by the insured or on premises for which the classification is stated in the declarations as subject to this exclusion;

b. To operations, other than pick-up and delivery and the existence of tools, uninstalled equipment and abandoned or unused materials, if the accident occurs after such operations have been completed or abandoned at the place of occurrence thereof and away from premises owned, rented or controlled by the insured.

9. Malpractice. It is agreed that malpractice, error or mistake in rendering of medical, surgical, nursing or hospital services or treatment or the omission thereof shall be deemed an accident, and that all malpractice, error or mistake in the rendering or omission of such services or treatment to any one person shall be deemed one accident.

10. Definition of "cost". When used as a premium basis the word "cost" shall mean the total cost of all operations performed for the named insured during the policy period by independent contractors not on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis, including materials used or delivered for use, except maintenance or ordinary alterations and repairs on premises owned or rented by the named insured; any other provision of the policy relating to the meaning of the word "cost" when used as a premium basis is eliminated.

11. Premium adjustment. The premium for this policy is to be computed in accordance with the provisions of the War Department Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement forming a part of Policy No._____

Amending Policy Numbered_____
It is agreed that:

1. Name of Insured. The name and address of the Insured are: _____

(Name and address of Contractor)
prime cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor under Government Contract No. _____ with the United States of America and _____

(Names and addresses of subcontractors)
cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors and all other cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors under such contract.

The prime contractor agrees to notify the Company as soon as practicable of the names of all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors under such contract not named herein. Failure so to notify the Company shall not invalidate the insurance.

Any notice relating to this insurance mailed or delivered by the Company to the prime contractor and to the subcontractors named in the policy shall be deemed notice to all subcontractors not named in the policy.

2. Automobiles covered. Such insurance as is afforded by the policy applies with respect to all automobiles owned or hired by the named insured if maintained for use principally in connection with the contract designated in paragraph 1 of this endorsement or any subcontract thereunder and applies with respect to all other automobiles only while used in connection with such contracts. Such insurance does not apply, however, to automobiles used exclusively on the premises and the ways immediately adjoining at which the work under such contracts is performed.

Automobiles owned by the named insured shall for the purposes of this insurance include automobiles owned in full or in part by the named insured or purchased or hired under bailment lease or owned by the United States of America and furnished to the named insured for his use.

Any exclusion with respect to use of an owned or hired automobile as a taxicab, public bus, public or livery conveyance or in the business of trucking for others, or beyond the limitations of restricted use endorsement is waived.

Any provision of the policy relating to fleet discounts is eliminated.

The premium for non-ownership coverage shall be determined by the application of the rates per $1,000 of remuneration for bodily injury liability and for property damage liability stated in the Declarations. The term "remuneration" as used herein shall include the remuneration earned by all employees of the named insured while engaged in operations in connection with such contracts. Any other provision of the Policy relating to premium for such coverage is eliminated.

3. Waiver of subrogation against the United States. The Company waives any right of subrogation against the United States of America which might arise by reason of any payment under the policy.

4. Rate adjustment. The rules and rates upon which the standard premium for the policy is based are subject to change at the end of each year of the policy to accord with rules and rates then in use by the Company, subject to the approval of the Under Secretary of War.

5. Cancelation. The cancelation condition of the policy is amended as follows:

a. The reference therein to a specified number of days is changed to thirty days.

b. This policy may be canceled by the named insured by mailing written notice to the Company stating when not less than thirty days thereafter such cancelation shall be effective.

c. Cancelation by the Company shall not be effective unless a copy of the notice of cancelation is mailed to _____ (Insert name or names and addresses of Contracting Officers of the Supply Service involved) on the same day that notice of cancelation is mailed or delivered to the named insured.

d. In the event of cancelation by the named insured the company will as soon as practicable mail notice thereof to the officer or officers named in the preceding paragraph.

6. Interpretation of cross liability. As respects claims against any insured under this policy other insureds or the employees of other insureds shall be deemed to be members of the public.

7. Premium adjustment. The premium for this policy is to be computed in accordance with the provisions of the War Department Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement forming a part of Policy No._____

prime cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor under Government Contract No. _____ with the United States of America and _____ cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors and all other cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors under such contract.

(Names and addresses of subcontractors)

The prime contractor agrees to notify the Company as soon as practicable of the names of all cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors under such contract not named herein. Failure so to notify the Company shall not invalidate the insurance.

Any notice relating to this insurance mailed or delivered by the Company to the prime contractor and to the subcontractors named in the policy shall be deemed notice to all subcontractors not named in the policy.

2. Operations covered. Such insurance as is afforded by the policy applies to all operations in connection with the contract designated in paragraph 1 of this endorsement and all subcontracts thereunder and does not apply to any other operations of the Employer.

3. Waiver of subrogation against the United States. The Company waives any right of subrogation against the United States of America which might arise by reason of any payment under the policy.

4. Rate adjustment. The rules and rates upon which the standard premium for the policy is based are subject to change at the end of each year of the policy to accord with rules and rates then in use by the Company, subject to the approval of the Under Secretary of War. This provision applies in addition to any other provision in the policy with respect to changes in rules and rates.

5. Cancelation. The cancelation condition of the policy is amended as follows:

(h) Special endorsement for Missouri compensation policies written under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan.

It is agreed that:

1. The provisions of this endorsement are applicable solely with respect to persons in the employ of this Employer who are engaged in the business operations covered by the policy and whose average annual earnings exceed $3,600.

2. In the event of personal injury or death of any such person arising out of and in the course of his employment, the company will pay, subject to the provisions of paragraphs 3, 4 and 5 hereof, on behalf of this Employer, the same compensation and the same medical, surgical, hospital and other statutory benefits to or for such injured person or to any person claiming by, through, or under him in the event of death resulting from such injury, as would be payable under the Workmen's Compensation Law of Missouri if the injury or death had been that of an employee of this Employer whose average annual earnings were $3,600.

3. In consideration of these payments and as a condition precedent thereto the injured person or any persons claiming by, through or under him shall execute a full release of all claims for damages against this Employer in the manner required by the Company and shall in addition execute an assignment to the Company of any right of action available to any of them against any person, firm, corporation or estate other than this Employer which is or may be liable for such injury or death. If death of the injured shall result after a period of disability, death being due to such injuries and any one claiming by, through or under the injured shall accept any payment provided for in this endorsement which accrues after such death, with notice or knowledge of said release and assignment, the acceptance of such payment shall operate to estop the person so accepting from asserting that such release or assignment is not binding upon him.

4. If the Company proceeds upon such assignment and recovers and collects an amount from the party at fault in excess of the amount of the payments made hereunder, the Company shall first take the necessary expenses of the procedure and shall pay any remaining balance of such excess so obtained to the person or persons executing the assignment. The Company shall have power and discretion to proceed against the party at fault or to settle with said party upon such terms as may seem desirable to the Company, either without litigation or during the pendency thereof.

5. If the injured person or any person claiming by, through or under him shall refuse to accept the payments offered under the provisions of the preceding paragraphs, then the Company may withdraw the foregoing proposal without notice, under which circumstances the Company will be no longer bound by the undertakings expressed in the preceding paragraphs. If any claim, suit or demand is made or prosecuted against this Employer or any other person or organization for damages for such injuries or death, such claim, suit or demand shall be considered as a refusal to accept such payments and the obligations of the Company as expressed in Paragraph One (b) of the Policy as well as all parts of the Policy having reference thereto, subject however, to such limitations or modifications as may be endorsed thereon, shall be available to this Employer and shall be and remain the obligations of the Company as fully and completely as if this endorsement had not been written.

THE _____ INSURANCE COMPANY.

(i) Special endorsement for Delaware compensation policies written under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan.

The insurance shall be continuous until completion of the project or operation, except that if the project or operation is of indefinite duration and continues for a longer period than twenty-four months, at the expiration of the first twenty-four months the Rating Plan shall be applied and the policy shall be renewed and the Rating Plan again applied at the end of each twenty-four months' period, as though it were a new project or operation.

It is agreed that except for cancelation under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement this policy shall remain in effect for a period of twelve months and shall be renewed from year to year to the completion of the contract described in this policy.

It is also agreed that the Workmen's Compensation Rules and Rates which have been approved by the Industrial Accident Board of the State of Delaware and the Under Secretary of War shall be applicable to this policy and that the rates expressed in this policy shall be subject to change in accordance with the Rate Manuals promulgated by the Delaware Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau and approved by the Industrial Accident Board of the State of Delaware and the Under Secretary of War.

It is agreed that Workmen's Compensation losses will be valued by the Delaware Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau in accordance with the instructions of the Industrial Accident Board of the State of Delaware as approved by the Under Secretary of War.

It is further agreed that the named insured will undertake, and the insurance carrier hereby assumes, all of the liability under the Delaware Compensation Law because of injury or death resulting therefrom to employees of subcontractors who perform any part of the work described in this policy under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts. To this end the named insured agrees to notify all subcontractors that he has assumed this liability and has provided the insurance thereof.

Revised Draft. Nov. 5, 1941. Incl. #2.

(j) Special endorsements for Massachusetts compensation policies written under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan—(1) War Project Endorsement Form (D).

The insurance company shall audit the payroll for the purpose of computing premiums under this policy as soon as possible after its final expiration and, in any event, within eight months. Payroll audits shall not be waived.

(2) War Department Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement Form (2A). Amending revised Form 2 (see paragraph (d)).

Clause 1 (a) is hereby amended to read as follows:

The premium computed in accordance with the provisions of the policies, other than this endorsement, shall be known as the "standard premium" and shall be computed in accordance with manual rules and rates which have been approved by the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance and the Under Secretary of War.

Clause 1 (b) is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Losses incurred" as used in this endorsement shall mean the sum of all losses (indemnity and medical) actually paid plus reserves for unpaid losses as determined by the Company and approved by the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance and the Under Secretary of War.

Clause 2 is hereby amended to read as follows:

In any case where the tax multiplier is obtained by use of the formula and not the table, it will not be used in the premium computation until approved by insurance company and the Under Secretary of War.

Clause 5 is hereby amended to read as follows:

The Company shall furnish to the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance and to the War Department a quarterly itemized statement of incurred losses.

Clause 7 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Within eight months after termination of the policies, based upon a determination of loss reserves made not earlier than six months after such termination, the final settlement of premium computed in accordance with the provisions of this endorsement shall be made. If the losses so determined are not approved by the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance and the Under Secretary of War and agreement cannot be reached as to any modification thereof, the final settlement shall be deferred for a further period of six months or such further period up to twenty-four months as may be necessary to produce an approved determination of such loss reserves. In the event such an approved determination of loss reserves cannot be reached by this method, the matter shall be referred for arbitration to a Committee of three, one member to be selected by the insured, one by the carrier and a third by those two members and the decision of this committee shall be final upon approval by the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance and the Under Secretary of War.

(3) General Endorsement for Workmen's Compensation and Employers' Liability Policy. Amending Workmen's Compensation Endorsement 10 (see paragraph (g)).

The second sentence of paragraph 2, clause 1, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Failure so to notify the Company shall not invalidate the insurance but the insurance company shall be entitled to all premiums due on account of the operations of such subcontractor.

Clause 4, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

The rules and rates upon which the standard premium for the policy is based are subject to change at the end of each year of the policy to accord with rules and rates which the Massachusetts Commissioner of Insurance permits the Company to use, subject to the approval of the Under Secretary of War. This provision applies in addition to any other provision in the policy with respect to changes in rules and rates.

(4) General Endorsement for Automobile Liability Policy. Amending Automobile Liability Endorsement 30 (see paragraph (f)).

The second sentence of paragraph 2 of clause 1 is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Failure so to notify the Company shall not invalidate insurance but the insurance company shall be entitled to all premiums due on account of the operations of such subcontractor.

(5) War Department Amended Insurance Service Agreement (see paragraph (l)).

Paragraph 1 of the War Department Insurance Service Agreement is hereby amended by striking out said paragraph 1 and inserting in its place the following new paragraph.

I (We) ----------, [1] Insurance Advisor licensed under Gen. Laws, Chap. 175, Sec. 177B, [1] Insurance Agent licensed under Gen. Laws, Chap. 175, Sec. 163, [1] Insurance Broker licensed under Gen. Laws, Chap. 175, Sec. 166, hereinafter called the Party of the First Part, agree, in consideration of a sum of money to be determined as hereinafter set forth, to render complete insurance advisory service to ----------, hereinafter called the Party of the Second Part, on all insurance upon which a fixed charge is based, during the construction or operation of ----------, located at ---------- from the effective date of this Agreement continuously until final settlement of all premiums has been made.

(k) Special endorsement for Pennsylvania compensation policies written under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan.

XXIV.—SPECIAL ENDORSEMENT FOR PENNSYLVANIA COMPENSATION POLICIES WRITTEN UNDER THE WAR DEPARTMENT INSURANCE RATING PLAN

The insurance shall be continuous until completion of the project or operation, except that if the project or operation is of indefinite duration and continues for a longer period than twenty-four months, at the expiration of the first twenty-four months the Rating Plan shall be applied and the policy shall be renewed and the Rating Plan again applied at the end of each twenty-four months' period, as though it were a new project or operation.

It is agreed that except for cancelation under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement this policy shall remain in effect for a period of twelve months and shall be renewed from year to year to the completion of the contract described in this policy.

It is also agreed that the Workmen's Compensation Rules and Rates which have been approved by the Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner and the Under Secretary of War shall be applicable to this policy and that the rates expressed in this policy shall be subject to change in accordance with the rate Manuals promulgated by the Pennsylvania Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau and approved by the Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner and the Under Secretary of War.

It is agreed that Workmen's Compensation losses will be valued by the Pennsylvania Compensation Rating and Inspection Bureau in accordance with the instructions of the Pennsylvania Insurance Commissioner as approved by the Under Secretary of War.

It is further agreed that the named insured will assume liability in connection with Section 302 (b) of the Compensation Act and the Occupational Disease Act, for employees of subcontractors performing any part of the construction described in this endorsement under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts, and to this end the named insured agrees to notify all subcontractors that he has assumed the position of "statutory employer" for the employees of all such subcontractors.

This endorsement forms a part of Compensation Policy No. ----------

(l) Texas National Defense Projects—(1) Control Endorsement.

Amending: Policy No----------
and all endorsements thereto.

Whereas, the Board of Insurance Commissioners of Texas is vested with the sole and exclusive power and authority to make, fix, prescribe, establish, and promulgate insurance rates and classifications of hazards governing premiums for Workmen's Compensation and Motor Vehicle Insurance as authorized by the laws of the State of Texas, now therefore:

[1] Strike out this line if inapplicable.

It is agreed that the standard premium as used in this policy or any endorsement attached to it or relating thereto shall mean a premium calculated according to the Manual rules and rates of the Board of Insurance Commissioners of Texas and the special rules and rates promulgated in connection with the War Department Emergency Insurance Rating Plan adopted by the said Board of Insurance Commissioners for use in Texas.

All premium computations provided for in this policy or in any endorsement attached to it or relating thereto shall be promptly submitted by the insurer to the Texas Casualty Insurance Commissioner and shall take effect only upon their promulgation by such Commissioner.

This endorsement, together with the policy to which it is attached and all other endorsements attached or pertaining thereto, is in the form prescribed by the Texas Board of Insurance Commissioners in accordance with statutory direction. Any contract or agreement written under the provisions of the hereinabove mentioned Rating Plan which conflicts in any wise whatsoever with the provisions of this endorsement or with the provisions of Texas law shall be void and of no effect to the extent of such conflict, except as these requirements may conflict with statutes of the United States relating to functions of the United States of America under the Constitution.

(2) Attachment. A company may use its usual attachment clause.

(3) War Department Insurance Service Agreement for use in the State of Texas.

I (We), ----------, hereinafter called First Party, agree, in consideration of a sum of money to be determined as hereinafter set forth, to render complete insurance advisory service to ----------, hereinafter called Second Party, on all insurance upon which a fixed charge is based, during the construction or operation—or both—(as the case may be) of----------, located at----------, from the effective date of this Agreement continuously until final settlement of all premiums has been made.

The complete insurance advisory service to be rendered by the First Party shall include a review of all policies of insurance; verification of all statements of premiums, losses and loss reserves submitted to the Second Party by the carrier; verification of all payroll classifications assigned to the policies, a determination that payrolls are assigned to proper classifications; and the rendering of detailed reports of findings to the Second Party, monthly.

The Second Party agrees to pay to the First Party, in consideration of the services to be rendered, a fixed charge, as hereinafter provided, which shall be determined by applying the fixed charge (expressed as a percentage of standard premiums), found in the following table to 50% of the standard premium for all policies issued to the Second Party on the War Department comprehensive rating plan.

FIXED CHARGE TABLE

A 50% of the standard premium as hereinabove defined	B Fixed charge expressed as a percentage of standard premiums stated in column A
1st $10,000	7½
Next $40,000	4
Next $50,000	2
Next $400,000	1
Over $500,000	½

The First Party shall submit monthly to the Second Party a detailed statement of the aggregate earned standard premium and the aggregate earned fixed charge less all monthly payments of earned fixed charge to date; except that if this Agreement supersedes a previous agreement which has been terminated, the First Party shall submit to the Second Party, monthly, a detailed statement of the aggregate earned standard premium less that portion earned prior to the date of this Agreement and the aggregate earned fixed charge which shall be determined by applying to the amount of standard premium earned since the effective date of this Agreement, the earned fixed charge percent applicable to the total earned standard premium, less all payments of earned fixed charge made under this Agreement. Upon approval, the Second Party shall pay to the First Party the unpaid portion of the earned fixed charge. A final detailed statement shall be submitted the First Party upon receipt of final audit statements from the carrier and final settlement shall then be made upon approval of such audit by the War Department and the Second Party.

This agreement may be terminated by either of the parties, upon notice in writing to the other party and to the Texas Casualty Insurance Commissioner, and the termination shall be effective immediately upon notice being sent to said Commissioner. The fixed charge shall be determined in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, as of the effective date of termination, and final settlement shall then be made.

This agreement shall be effective and binding on the undersigned from and after ----------

2. The Advisor agrees that he will:

a. Upon request, assist the Contractor in the selection of an insurance carrier;

b. Procure insurance binders and policies and examine to determine that they are correctly written and that the required coverages are provided;

c. Upon request, assist the Contractor in establishing proper procedure and records for determining payroll classifications and for other units of exposure upon which insurance premiums are based;

d. Examine all insurance audit statements and premium invoices;

e. Visit the project or location of operations at least once each month to determine that insurance matters are being properly handled;

f. Render any other assistance of an insurance nature which the Contractor may require; and,

g. Submit to the Contractor monthly a detailed report of findings and of services performed.

3. The Contractor agrees to pay the Advisor a fee for his services, the amount of which shall be determined by applying the applicable percentages set forth in Column B below to 50% of the standard premium accruing during the period of this agreement on policies issued to the Contractor under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan. "Standard Premium" as used herein shall mean the premium for such policies computed on the basis of the manual rules and rates approved by the War Department for use in connection with the policies issued to the Contractor under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan.

The fee earned under this agreement shall be computed by applying the basis of computation as set forth in this agreement to the aggregate standard premium earned during the term of all agreements, and deducting from the total fee thus computed, the portion thereof, applicable to the aggregate standard premium earned during the term of all previous agreements. Upon approval by the Contractor of each such monthly statement, the Advisor shall be paid the earned fee. A final statement shall be submitted by the Advisor upon receipt of final audit statements from the insurance carrier and final settlement of the Advisor's fee shall be made as soon as practicable thereafter.

5. The Advisor agrees that he will neither accept employment by nor any remuneration directly or indirectly from the insurance carrier for services rendered in connection with the insurance written under the War Department Insurance Rating Plan covering operations under the contract referred to in paragraph 1 hereof.

6. This agreement may be terminated by either of the parties hereto upon notice in writing mailed to the other party stating when, not less than ten days thereafter, such termination shall be effective. Delivery of such notice shall be equivalent to mailing.

(y) Missouri agreement and release.

Agreement made the _____ day of _____ 194____, by and between _____ hereinafter referred to as the injured person, residing at _____ in _____ State of _____ and _____ Insurance Company of _____, hereinafter referred to as insurer.

Whereas, the average annual earnings of said injured person computed under the workmen's compensation law of the State of Missouri exceed $3,600 so that such law would not be applicable, and

Whereas, the injured person alleges he suffered personal injuries by accident on the _____ day of _____ 194____ at or about _____ in _____ State of _____ while in the employ of _____ State of _____ hereinafter referred to as employer, and

Whereas, the employer has provided for payment of voluntary workmen's compensation benefits, herein enumerated, by contract with the insurer; It Is Agreed:

1. That the insurer will pay to the injured person the sum of $_____ weekly, starting as of the _____ day of _____, 194____, payable bi-weekly and continuing until such time as the insurer shall have paid to the injured person an amount equal to that sum which the injured person would receive had his average annual earnings been $3,600 and had he a valid and enforceable claim for workmen's compensation benefits under the workmen's compensation law of the State of Missouri on account of the aforesaid occurrence.

2. That the insurer will provide the injured person with such medical, surgical and hospital attention as the nature of his injuries resulting from the aforesaid occurrence may require to the extent that the injured person would receive had he a valid and enforceable claim for workmen's compensation benefits under the workmen's compensation law of the State of Missouri.

3. That any difference or controversy arising between the parties with respect to this agreement shall be settled by arbitration. In such event, the injured person shall appoint one arbitrator, and the insurer shall appoint another. The arbitrators thus appointed shall agree upon and appoint a third. All parties hereby agree to be bound by the decision of any two of said arbitrators and hereby waive all rights to take any legal measures except to enforce the arbitrators' award. If the difference or controversy is essentially a medical question the arbitrators so selected shall be duly licensed physicians.

4. That in consideration of the undertakings of the insurer and the payments to be made and benefits to be provided as hereinbefore set forth, the injured person for himself, his heirs, assigns and legal representatives does hereby forever release, discharge, and acquit the aforesaid employer and the insurer, their successors and assigns, heirs and legal representatives of and from any and all causes of action, rights, remedies, claims, suits or judgments the injured person or his heirs, assigns or legal representatives now have or hereafter may have by reason of the aforesaid occurrence.

In witness whereof the parties have hereunto set their hands and seals on the date above mentioned.

(aa) Boiler inspection contract. The following is the approved form of boiler inspection contract:

The _____ of _____ (hereinafter called the Company) hereby agrees with _____, a contractor with the United States, (hereinafter called the Contractor) to inspect boilers and pressure vessels owned, or operated, or under the control of the Contractor and contained in a plant owned, or operated, or controlled by said Contractor in its capacity as contractor with the United States, as aforesaid, under Contract No. _____ with the United States.

The location of such plant and the location of the Company's Inspection Headquarters designated for the particular plant at which said pressure vessels and boilers are to be inspected are as follows:

Name and location of plant	Company's inspection headquarters
Name	Person
Location	Office
Mailing Address	Mailing Address
Telephone Number	Telephone Number

This agreement is subject to the following stipulations and conditions:

1. Such inspections shall be made by duly qualified inspectors regularly employed by the Company, employing methods at least equal to the requirements of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers' Code.

2. The Contractor at its own expense shall make necessary preparations and arrangements for the making of such inspections. The Contractor shall send a written request therefor, at least ten days in advance, to the Company's Inspection Headquarters designated herein for the plant containing the object to be inspected, specifying the kind of inspection desired in each instance, and specifying the time when said inspection is to be made and describing the object to be inspected.

3. Following each inspection the Company will mail a copy of a report of such inspection to the Contractor and _____ copies thereof to the Contracting Officer of the United States at the address of the plant at which the inspection was made, which report shall set forth the conditions found as a result of the inspections.

4. Fees for such inspection service shall be as follows: The Company shall bill the Contractor on the first day of the month following the month in which the report of such inspection was rendered and such fees shall be payable on the tenth day of the month following the month in which the bill was submitted.

(a) $10.00 for each internal inspection of a water tube boiler having a rated heating surface of over 10,000 sq. ft.;

(b) $5.00 for each internal inspection of a water tube boiler having a rated hearing surface of not more than 10,000 sq. ft.;

(c) $3.00 for each internal inspection of any other boiler or pressure vessel;

(d) $2.00 for each external inspection of any boiler or pressure vessel;

(e) $1.00 in District No. 1; $2.00 in District No. 2; $3.00 in District No. 3 for each visit made by the Company's Inspector to a plant at the Contractor's request whether or not an inspection is made, which "visit" fees shall be in addition to the fees specified in Sections (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this paragraph. A list of the states comprising each such district is annexed hereto.

(f) The "visit' shall mean a call at any one plant, by any one Inspector, in any one day; if one Inspector calls at one plant more than once in any one day, such calls will be considered as only one "visit".

(g) A "day" shall mean each period of twenty-four hours commencing at the time the inspector arrives at the plant.

(h) "External Inspection" shall mean an examination of a boiler or pressure vessel in operation and under pressure.

(i) "Internal Inspection" shall mean a complete internal and external examination of a boiler or pressure vessel when not in operation or under pressure.

[1] The matter in brackets is optional.

5. The Company shall not be liable directly or indirectly for any loss or injury to property or persons resulting from any accident to, or defect in, any object; nor shall the Company be liable directly or indirectly for loss or damage of any kind arising from an inspection or a report thereof, or from the omission of an inspection or of a report whether or not such inspection or report or omission was at the request of the Contractor.

6. Either party hereto may terminate this agreement by mailing written notice thereof to the other party at the address set out herein, and, at the same time, a copy to the contracting officer at the address of the plant at which the inspection was made, at least thirty days before the effective date of such termination.

In witness whereof, The parties hereto have executed this agreement at _____ on the _____ day of _____ 194____.

§ 804.499 Extension of policy period endorsement for workmen's compensation and employers' liability policy.

Amending Policy Numbered ------

It is agreed that:

1. Item 2 of the Declarations is amended to read:

Policy Period: From -------- to -------- 19..., 12:01 A. M., standard time, at the address stated in Item 1, but if the operations in connection with the project insured have not been completed by the date stated above as the end of the policy period such date is amended, as of such time, to be a date two years beyond said date and successive similar amendments are likewise made, severally effective as of the last previous date fixed for the end of the policy period, until a date is so fixed for the end of the policy period which is beyond the time the said operations have been completed.

2. Paragraph 6 of the ---------- Insurance Rating Plan Endorsement is deleted and the following substituted therefor:

Within 60 days after the date two years from the effective date of the policies the company shall compute the aggregate amount of modified losses plus all allocated claim expenses times the tax multiplier and the aggregate fixed charge times the tax multiplier and the aggregate earned standard premium (all based upon the insurance in effect for the two-year period), and a preliminary settlement of premium shall be made.

Subsequent cumulative settlements of premium shall be made within 60 days after the anniversary, as of each annual anniversary of the date two years from the effective date of the policies (each based upon modified losses, allocated claim expenses, tax multipliers, the aggregate fixed charge and the aggregate earned standard premium for the entire period of insurance up to the last anniversary), so long as the policies remain in effect.

Within 60 days after termination of the policies the company shall compute the aggregate amount of modified losses plus all allocated claim expenses times the tax multiplier, the aggregate fixed charge times the tax multiplier and the aggregate earned standard premium (all based upon the entire period of insurance), and a cumulative preliminary settlement of premium shall be made.

(a) Extension of policy period endorsement for general liability policy and automobile liability policy.

Amending Policy Numbered ------

It is agreed that Item 2 of the Declarations is amended to read:

Policy Period: From --------- to -------

19__ 12:01 A. Sec.

805.501 Rescission of regulations.
805.502 Buy American Act.
805.503 Applicable only to food and clothing.
805.504 Procedure for complying with the Acts.
805.505 Clearance through customs.
805.506 Drawback.
805.507 Marking of shipments.
805.509 Purchases from Canadian suppliers.
805.510 War production policy for Canada and the United States.

§ 805.501 Rescission of regulations. Army Regulations 5–340, August 10, 1936, as amended, and all other prior directives and instructions relating to the Buy American Act and foreign purchases are hereby rescinded.

§ 805.502 Buy American Act. Quoted.

SEC. 1. That when used in this title—

(a) The term "United States", when used in a geographical sense, includes the United States and any place subject to the jurisdiction thereof;

(b) The terms "public use", "public building", and "public work" shall mean use by, public building of, and public work of, the United States, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, the Philippine Islands, American Samoa, the Canal Zone, and the Virgin Islands.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, and unless the head of the department or independent establishment concerned shall determine it to be inconsistent with the public interest, or the cost to be unreasonable, only such unmanufactured articles, materials, and supplies as have been mined or produced in the United States, and only such manufactured articles, materials, and supplies as have been manufactured in the United States substantially all from articles, materials, or supplies mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States, shall be acquired for public use. This section shall not apply with respect to articles, materials, or supplies for use outside the United States, or if articles, materials, or supplies of the class or kind to be used or the articles, materials, or supplies from which they are manufactured are not mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States in sufficient and reasonably available commercial quantities and of a satisfactory quality.

SEC. 3. (a) Every contract for the contruction, alteration, or repair of any public building or public work in the United States growing out of an appropriation heretofore made or hereafter to be made shall contain a provision that in the performance of the work the contractor, subcontractors, material men, or suppliers, shall use only such unmanufactured articles, materials, and supplies as have been mined or produced in the United States, and only such manufactured articles, materials, and supplies as have been manufactured in the United States substantially all from articles, materials, or supplies mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States except as provided in section 2: Provided, however, That if the head of the department or independent establishment making the contract shall find that in respect to some particular articles, materials, or supplies it is impracticable to make such requirement or that it would unreasonably increase the cost, an exception shall be noted in the specifications as to that particular article, material, or supply, and a public record made of the findings which justified the exception.

(b) If the head of a department, bureau, agency, or independent establishment which has made any contract containing the provision required by subsection (a) finds that in the performance of such contract there has been a failure to comply with such provisions, he shall make public his findings, including therein the name of the contractor obligated under such contract, and no other contract for the construction, alteration, or repair of any public building or public work in the United States or elsewhere shall be awarded to such contractor, subcontractors, material men, or suppliers with which such contractor is associated or affiliated, within a period of three years after such finding is made public. * * * Title III, Act March 3, 1933 (47 Stat. 1520; 41 U. S. C. 10a, b, and c; M. L., 1939, sec. 742).

(a) Restriction created by Appropriation Act. (1) The Military Appropriation Act, 1944 approved 1 July 1943 (Public Law 108—78th Congress) contains a proviso that no part of any appropriation contained in that Act "shall be available for the procurement of any article of food or clothing not grown or produced in the United States or its possessions, except to the extent that the Secretary of War shall determine that articles of food or clothing grown or produced in the United States or its possessions cannot be procured of satisfactory quality and in sufficient quantities and at reasonable prices as and when needed, and except procurements by vessels in foreign waters and by establishments located outside the continental United States, except the Territories of Hawaii and Alaska, for the personnel attached thereto."

(2) The restriction created by the provision quoted in subparagraph (1) will, for convenience, be referred to hereafter as the appropriation restriction.

§ 805.503 Applicable only to food and clothing. The Secretary of War has authority, subject to certain limitations, to make exemptions from both the Buy American Act and the appropriation restriction. Under date of 13 March 1942, the Under Secretary of War exempted from the provisions of the Buy American Act everything except certain articles of food and clothing. The appropriation restriction is applicable only to food and clothing. Hence, preference for domestic over foreign items, may be completely disregarded with respect to items other than food and clothing.

(a) Exempt items of food and clothing. In addition to exempting from the Buy American Act, all items other than food and clothing, the Under Secretary of War has exempted from both the Buy American Act and the appropriation restriction certain types of food and clothing. These are set forth in the succeeding paragraphs.

(b) Canadian purchases. All items of food or clothing which have been mined, produced or manufactured, as the case may be, in the Dominion of Canada have been exempted.

(c) Items of food and clothing exempt without regard to country of origin. The following items of food and clothing have been exempted without regard to country of origin.

Bananas.	Molasses.
Brazil nuts.	Orange and lemon peel.
Canned corned beef.	Spices.
Chocolate.	Sugar.
Citron.	Tapioca.
Cocoa.	Tea.
Coffee.	Vanilla.
Fish oils.
Green olives.

(d) Items of food exempt when purchased from specified countries. The following items of food have been exempted when purchased from the countries specified.

Canned fish—Mexico.
Fish Fillet—Bahama Islands.
Fresh fish—Mexico and Iceland.
Frozen fish—Iceland.
Fresh fruits—Cuba, Mexico and Puerto Rico.
Fresh vegetables—Cuba, Mexico and Puerto Rico.
Guava Puree—Cuba.

(e) Exemption of certain types of clothing. It has been determined by the Under Secretary of War that clothing shall not be subject to the restrictions of the Buy American Act or the appropriation restriction merely because it has been manufactured from one of the following materials produced abroad.

Asbestos.	Mohair.
Cork.	Rayon.
Cotton linters	Rubber.
Cotton, long staple.	Silk.
Flax.	Sisal.
Flaxseed.	Tanning materials.
Hemp.	Hides (and skins).
Jute, unmanufactured.	Hog bristles.
Kapok.	Jute burlaps.
Leather.	Wool.
Manila fiber.

(f) Contract clause. The contract clause set forth in § 803.327, will be inserted in all contracts for food or clothing except contracts for the items of food or clothing enumerated in paragraphs (b) to (e) of this section.

§ 805.504 Procedure for complying with the acts. In making purchases of articles of food or clothing which are still subject to the restrictions of the "Buy American" Act, or any cognate act, the chief of the technical service concerned should make every effort to satisfy his requirements for such articles out of domestic production. In any case where the chief of the technical service finds it essential to purchase articles of food or clothing of foreign production, a recommendation should be submitted to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

§ 805.505 Clearance through customs. The procedure for clearing through customs materials imported by the War Department is set forth in detail in Circular No. 407, War Department, 1942. That circular also describes the circumstances under which such materials may be admitted free of duty. All personnel concerned with procurement of materials abroad should familiarize themselves with the contents of the circular.

(a) In connection with Circular No. 407, attention is invited to the following points:

(1) Except as indicated in subparagraph (2) below, materials imported by the War Department will be consigned to the War Department or to an official of the War Department acting in his official capacity (where necessary or convenient, in care of a commercial plant or firm). In such cases the bill of lading or carrier's certificate will show the War Department or an official of the War Department as consignee.

(2) War Department Lend-Lease materials imported through an inland border point and destined to a United States port for waterborne export will be consigned as follows:

To War Shipping Administrator, as principal, for account of ---------- (Authorized agency of Lend-Lease government)
Send arrival notices to ---------- (Name and address of appropriate War Shipping Administration forwarding corporation at port of export) and
United States Army Port Agency

(Address and port of export)

The carrier's certificate will show the War Department as owner or consignee of the materials.

(3) Materials consigned as indicated in subparagraph (1) or (2) above will not be held at ports of entry for the filing of entry papers, but in all cases entries will be prepared as soon after release as possible and filed at the ports of entry. Materials so consigned will in no instance be forwarded in bond.

(4) All entries of materials imported by the War Department will be made in the name of the War Department.

(5) In the event materials held in customs bonded warehouse at a point within the United States are purchased by the War Department, the warehouse withdrawal will be properly endorsed to show the War Department as authorized to make withdrawal, and the withdrawal from warehouse will be made in the name of the War Department.

§ 805.506 Drawback—(a) Provisions of Tariff Act. Under the provisions of the Tariff Act of 1930 (see Chapter 4, Title 19, U. S. Code) it is provided that under certain circumstances the amount of customs duties paid on merchandise imported shall be refunded as a "drawback". The most usual circumstance under which this right arises is when there are exported out of the United States articles which were manufactured or produced in the United States with the use of merchandise imported from abroad. It is provided that the full amount of the duties paid on the merchandise so used, less 1% of such duties, shall be refunded as a "drawback".

(b) Customs regulations. The problem frequently arises as to who is entitled to claim the drawback. Assume, for example, that an importer manufactures with the imported merchandise an end product which he sells to an exporter. Under the act referred to in paragraph (a), someone is entitled to a refund of the import duties. The rule for determining whether the manufacturer or the exporter is entitled to this refund is stated in Article 1070 of the Customs Regulations. This regulation provides that a manufacturer of articles with respect to which there is a right to a drawback is not entitled to the drawback unless, on the sale or consignment of the articles, he has reserved to himself the right to claim the drawback and produces evidence that such reservation was made with the knowledge and consent of the exporter.

(c) Purchase price to include custom duties. Whenever the Government purchases articles, with respect to which there might arise a claim to a drawback, the price paid shall include the customs duties, and accordingly the manufacturer will have no claim to a drawback.

§ 805.507 Marking of shipments. (a) All materials procured abroad will be marked as prescribed in memorandum issued under date of 1 June 1943, by the Office of The Adjutant General, file 400.161 (5–19–43 OB–S–SPMOT–M), except that materials imported through an inland border point and destined for an interior point within the United States will be marked as prescribed in paragraph (b) below.

(b) In all cases of materials imported through an inland border point and destined for an interior point within the United States, each container included in a less than carload lot (LCL), less than truck load lot (LTL), express, parcel post, or other shipment where markings are required will be marked to indicate that the U. S. War Department or an official of the U. S. War Department acting in an official capacity is the consignee.

§ 805.509 Purchases from Canadian suppliers—(a) No contracts to be made directly. The technical services shall not directly enter into contracts with contractors domiciled in the Dominion of Canada for the delivery of supplies to be produced in Canada. All such contracts will be entered into with War Supplies Limited through its Washington representatives, or, under the circumstances set forth in paragraph (i), with North West Purchasing Limited. Such corporation will then arrange with the Canadian Department of Munitions and Supply for the purchase by that Department from Canadian contractors of the supplies covered by the contracts between the War Department and War Supplies Limited or North West Purchasing Limited, as the case may be.

(b) War Supplies Limited. War Supplies Limited is a corporation wholly owned and controlled by the Government of Canada and created under the laws of the Dominion of Canada with its principal office in the city of Ottawa, Province of Ontario. A Washington office is maintained at 1205 Fifteenth Street, N. W., (Marshall Building), telephone Executive 2020, Extensions 120, 121, 196 and 556. The representatives of the Corporation in Washington are Mr. F. G. Rounthwaite, President, and Acting General Manager and Mr. D. C. Cullen, Treasurer and Assistant Secretary.

(c) Purpose of organization of War Supplies Limited. At the time that War Supplies Limited was organized it was recognized that if the various agencies of this government were to purchase directly from Canadian manufacturers competition for supplies produced in Canada would arise between this government and the Canadian government. The result would, in all probability, be that both governments would be obliged to pay more for the supplies so obtained than would otherwise be necessary. Such competition likewise would give rise to complications with respect to the precedence of the two governments with regard to the production of Canadian plants. It was also recognized that unless orders for the account of the United States government were placed through some agency of the Canadian government, the control over costs and profits which the Canadian Government exercises would not be effective with regard to orders so placed by this government. Accordingly War Supplies Limited was organized to centralize purchases by this government from Canadian manufacturers.

(d) Procedure for negotiating contract. If practicable, arrangements should be made through War Supplies Limited to have a representative of the subcontractor, who, it is contemplated, will actually produce the item desired, present in Washington to participate in the negotiation of the contract. In this way the prime contract and the contract with the producer can be prepared simultaneously.

(e) Administration of contract. On matters pertaining to contracts with War Supplies Limited, contact should be had with said corporation and not with the Canadian subcontractor. The only exception to this would be in those cases where the technical service is represented at the plant through inspectors or other officers, in such instances communication with the subcontractor through the resident representative is in order on inspection and technical matters. Payment checks should be issued to War Supplies Limited and addressed to that corporation at its Washington office.

(f) Contract form. The contract form set forth in § 813.1313 should be used for executing supply contracts with War Supplies Limited, subject to such additions and deletions as may be necessary in any particular case. It will be noted that no provision relative to progress or advance payment is made in the form. This matter will be considered individually in each case. In accordance with § 805.505 no duty will be paid and accordingly no duty should be included in the purchase price. If it is necessary in a particular case, there may be added to the contract form a statement to the effect that the United States Government will pay any duties necessarily imposed for the entrance of articles into the United States.

(g) Guarantee by Canadian Government. The Canadian Government, through its Secretary of State for External Affairs, has guaranteed to the United States Government all commitments, obligations and covenants which War Supplies Limited may give to any department or agency of the United States Government in connection with any contracts or orders which may be given to said corporation by any department or agency of the United States Government. The Canadian Government has likewise waived notice of any change or modification which may be made from time to time in these commitments, obligations or covenants.

(h) Excess profits on contracts with War Supplies Limited. In a letter dated September 10, 1942, addressed to the Under Secretaries of War and Navy and to the Chairman of the Martime Commission, War Supplies Limited, stipulated in part as follows:

> All contracts with the War Department will be treated collectively and not individually, and if the aggregate profits realized by private corporations under such contracts are in excess of ten percent of cost, the amount of the excess will be refunded.
> The Canadian Government will not make any profit on the aggregate of the transactions. However, it is understood that any losses to the Canadian Government on individual contracts may be recovered out of profits realized on other contracts.

The standard renegotiation clause will not be included in contracts with War Supplies Limited.

(i) North West Purchasing Limited. (1) In connection with various War Department projects in the Canadian Northwest, including the Alcan Highway and associated projects, there has been organized a Canadian Crown Company known as North West Purchasing Limited. This company has been incorporated by the Department of Munitions and Supply, Ottawa, Canada.

(2) Contracts for the purchase of materials, machinery, machine tools and equipment necessary in connection with the construction and maintenance of the above-mentioned projects will not ordinarily be entered into directly with contractors domiciled in the Dominion of Canada, but will be entered into with Northwest Purchasing Limited. However, direct contracts may be made with contractors domiciled in the Dominion of Canada in accordance with such regulations as may be issued by the Commanding General of the Northwest Service Command.

(3) In a leter dated 12 April 1943 from the Department of Munitions and Supply to the President of War Supplies Limited, which was forwarded to the War Department, it was stated in part:

> It is not the intention of this Department to enter into an agreement with the Government of the United States regarding profit limitations, etc., as North West Purchasing Limited has already undertaken to purchase stores required by the Northwest Service Command at prices no higher than those charged the Department of Munitions and Supply, and all purchase allocation orders placed by North West Purchasing Limited are confirmed by the Northwest Service Command.

(4) The standard renegotiation clause will not be included in contracts with North West Purchasing Limited.

§ 805.510 War production policy for Canada and the United States. Having regard to the fact that Canada and the United States are engaged in a war with common enemies, the President of the United States and the Canadian War Cabinet have, upon the recommendation of the Joint War Production Committee of Canada and the United States, approved a declaration of policy calling for a combined, all-out war production effort and the removal of any barriers standing in the way of such a combined effort. Such declaration of policy follows:

> Victory will require the maximum war production in both countries in the shortest possible time; speed and volume of war output, rather than monetary cost, are the primary objectives.
> An all-out war production effort in both countries requires the maximum use of the labor, raw materials and facilities in each country.
>
> Achievement of maximum volume and speed of war output requires that the production and resources of both countries should be effectively integrated, and directed towards a common program of requirements for the total war effort.
>
> Each country should produce those articles in an integrated program of requirements which will result in maximum joint output of war goods in the minimum time.
>
> Scarce raw materials and goods which one country requires from the other in order to carry out the joint program of war production should be so allocated between the two countries that such materials and goods will make the maximum contribution toward the output of the most necessary articles in the shortest period of time.
> Legislative and administrative barriers, including tariffs, import duties, customs and other regulations or restrictions of any character which prohibit, prevent, delay or otherwise impede the free flow of necessary munitions and war supplies between the two countries should be suspended or otherwise eliminated for the duration of the war.
> The two Governments should take all measures necessary for the fullest implementation of the foregoing principles.

(a) The President of the United States has directed the affected departments and agencies of the Government to abide by the letter and spirit of the foregoing policy so far as lies within their power. It is directed that the chief of each technical service whole-heartedly cooperate in an effort to make such policy effective in action. Manufacturing facilities available in the United States and in Canada should be placed upon an equal basis so far as awards of production orders are concerned, having in mind that time is of the essence and that, other things being equal, production of essential war materials at the earliest practicable date is the immediate aim of the Army Service Forces.

(b) Under the provisions of the Act of March 3, 1933 (see § 805.502), it has been determined by the Under Secretary of War to be inconsistent with the public interest to limit procurement of essential defense articles to those manufactured, mined or produced within the United States.

SUBPART A—GENERAL

§ 806.601 Rescission of regulations. Army Regulations 5–300, December 10, 1936, as amended; Army Regulations 5–320, October 10, 1936, as amended; and all other prior directives and instructions relating to interbranch and interdepartmental procurement inconsistent herewith are hereby rescinded.

§ 806.602 Definitions—(a) Procurement. The term "procurement" as used in this part refers to the procedure necessary to obtain a given item or class of items and includes the execution of the following functions:

(1) Specification (Abbr. Spec.). This function involves the responsibility for the preparation or supply of specifications in accordance with the provisions of AR 850–25 to be used in the procurement of the item or items.

(2) Determination of requirements (Abbr. Reqs.). This function involves the determination by a technical service of its own requirements as well as the requirements of the using arms for which the technical service is responsible under existing Army Regulations. When only one service is indicated as having responsibility for determination of requirements for an item it shall be understood that said service is responsible for consolidating the requirements of all arms and services.

(3) Provision of funds (Abbr. Funds). This function involves the preparation of estimates, defense of estimates, and custody of funds.

(4) Purchase (Abbr. Pur.). This function consists of buying a given item or class of items or manufacturing such items in government owned establishments under the jurisdiction of a technical service, and includes final acceptance.

(5) Inspection (Abbr. Insp.). This function consists of making the inspections necessary for final acceptance of any item from the contractor.

(b) Interbranch and interdepartmental procurement. The term "interbranch procurement" refers to the procurement of items by one technical service for another technical service. The term "interdepartmental procurement" refers to the purchase of items by one department or agency of the government from another department or agency thereof.

SUBPART B—INTERBRANCH PROCUREMENT

§ 806.603 Authority of Procurement Assignment Board. The Procurement Assignment Board, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, is authorized to assign responsibility for all functions of procurement enumerated in § 806.602 (a) in regard to any item or class of items subject to the following limitation: Prior to the assignment by the Procurement Assignment Board of the "specification" function the Board will obtain the concurrence of the Production Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, and prior to the assignment of the "provision of funds" function the Board will obtain the concurrence of the Budget Officer for the War Department. The Director of the Production Division and the Budget Officer will each designate a representative to participate in meetings of the Procurement Assignment Board. With respect to a given item or class of items all functions may be assigned to one technical service or apportioned among different technical services. Unless and until action is taken by the Procurement Assignment Board the responsibility for the performance of the functions enumerated in § 806.602 (a) in respect to an item or class of items will remain with the technical service or technical services exercising such responsibility.

(a) Army Air Forces. When action by the Board is to be taken in regard to an item in which the Army Air Forces have a substantial interest, it will be understood that the Army Air Forces will be given an opportunity to be heard on the matter, and that if the Army Air Forces disagree with any action proposed to be taken by the Procurement Assignment Board, an effort will be made by the Board to reconcile the disagreement by a conference with a representative designated by the Commanding General, Army Air Forces; and that in the event a satisfactory agreement cannot be reached in this manner, the Board and the representative of the Army Air Forces will jointly prepare a brief setting forth their respective views on the matter, which brief will be submitted to the Under Secretary of War, who will make the final decision.

(b) Purchase of an item by other than the service assigned such responsibility. (1) Purchase of item shall be made by the services assigned responsibility for purchase of such item except under the circumstances indicated in subparagrap (2), (3) and (4) below.

(2) When an item is required within a brief period of time and, in the judgment of the service requiring the item, cannot be provided in such time by the service having responsibility for purchasing such item, the item may be purchased by the requiring service.

(3) Purchase may be made by a service other than the service to which responsibility for purchase of an item has been assigned, if the latter service has granted authority. This may be done by the issuance of general instructions or by consent granted with respect to a specific transaction.

(4) When items are purchased on behalf of a lump sum contractor on the understanding that an appropriate reduction will be made in the contract price, or when an item is purchased for a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor which would normally be obtained by the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor itself, purchase may be effected by a service other than the service having responsibility for purchasing the item.

(5) In the event that any purchase made pursuant to subparagraph (2) above involves an expenditure in excess of $5,000, a prompt report of the transaction will be made to the chief of the technical service having responsibility for the purchase of the item and a copy of such report will be sent to the Procurement Assignment Board, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(c) Clearance of instructions with Board. All instructions by Army Service Forces, Staff Divisions thereof, or Army Air Forces to be issued in War Department or Army Service Forces publications concerning:

(1) Transfer of any of the functions of procurement from one technical service to another or to or from the Army Air Forces, or

(2) Assumption of any of the functions of procurement by a technical service or the Army Air Forces; shall be submitted for concurrence and clearance to the Procurement Assignment Board, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, before publication.

(d) Assignment by classes. Insofar as practicable, the Procurement Assignment Board, in assigning responsibility for procurement of all items and groups of items will classify items according to the Federal Standard Stock Catalog classes for storage and issue. The determinations of the Board will be published in § 806.605 and following.

(e) Transfer of responsibility for purchase. When action by the Board centralizes the responsibility for the purchase of a given item or class of items in a technical service:

(1) Any other technical service having such an item or class of items on order will promptly compile and transmit to the service assigned such responsibility a list of all outstanding orders for such items. These lists will indicate the following:

(i) Number and adequate description of items including specifications and applicable funds;

(ii) Name and address of supplier;

(iii) Unit price;

(iv) Delivery dates;

(v) Status of deliveries, to be supplemented monthly;

(vi) Contract or purchase order symbol; and

(vii) Partial payments or advance payments already made.

(2) Unless both services agree that such transfer is undesirable, all existing contracts shall be transferred to the service to which responsibility for purchase has been assigned, effective upon a date mutually agreed upon by the participating services, but not later than 60 days after notification to the services by the Board of its action.

(3) Signed instruments and other contractual documents shall be delivered to the service to which responsibility for purchase has been assigned not later than the effective date determined in subparagraph (2) above.

(4) The transfer shall be effected by the execution by the original contracting service of a supplemental agreement changing the allotment number and making any other necessary changes, or by such other means as may be determined by the service to which responsibility for purchase has been assigned.

(f) Procedure. (1) All technical services requiring an item for which determination of requirements and provisions of funds therefor have been assigned to another service, will assist the responsible technical service by furnishing to it statements of their requirements at such times as may be called for by the responsible technical service.

(2) The technical service or services having responsibility for determination of requirements will forward requisitions for requirements and allotment of applicable funds to the technical service having responsibility for purchase at such times and for such periods as may be specified by the latter.

(3) Emergency requirements will be forwarded by the most expeditious method available through the service responsible for the determination of requirements to the service responsible for purchase and will be confirmed by a formal requisition.

(4) Each requisition will contain a certificate of availability of funds and citation of the applicable allotment number.

(g) Procurement within the United States for armed forces abroad. It is to be noted that the action of the Procurement Assignment Board governs procurement within the United States for armed services abroad (see § 804.108 (g)). When an item is to be purchased for the armed forces abroad it should be purchased by the technical service to which responsibility for purchasing the item has been assigned by the Procurement Assignment Board.

(h) Spare parts. The assignments of responsibility for procurement of items or classes of items by the Procurement Assignment Board will be deemed to define in identical manner the responsibility for procurement of spare parts for all such items or classes of items, unless otherwise specifically indicated herein.

§ 806.604 Report of actions of the Procurement Assignment Board. (1) There is contained in Appendix I to this part [1] a condensed record of the assignments made by the Board since the beginning of the calendar year 1942. Actions taken by the Board will be reported in weekly memoranda published by the Office of The Adjutant General. From time to time, these memoranda will be consolidated in the Appendix. Reference is made to the first page of the Appendix for a more complete statement as to what is covered therein.

(2) Certain actions of the Board are set forth in the paragraphs immediately following. The Appendix, however, contains cross references to these paragraphs.

[2] Except responsibility for specification for Oil, Fuel Diesel No. 2 or equal, (FSSC Class 7) which is the responsibility of the Ordnance Department.
The assignment of responsibility for Determination of Requirements and Provision of Funds applies both to the Zone of the Interior and to the Theatres of Operation.

§ 806.605a Indefinite quantity contracts executed by various technical services. In the succeeding sections there is set forth information with respect to certain indefinite quantity contracts executed by various technical services under which all of the technical services are obliged to purchase their requirements.

§ 806.605b Contracts for recapping and retreading tires, and repairing tires and tubes—(a) General. (1) The Ordnance Department has executed a number of contracts for recapping and retreading tires and repairing tires and tubes. Detailed information with respect to these contracts is contained in a pamphlet entitled "Instructions relating to indefinite quantity contracts for recapping and retreading tires and repairing tires and tubes". Copies of this pamphlet may be obtained by interested services from the Administrative Branch, Supply Section, Office of Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C. The same information also appears in paragraph 6,030 of Ordnance Procurement Instructions.

(2) The contracts referred to in subparagraph (1) are not applicable to the recapping and retreading of tires and the repairing of tires and tubes by the Army Air Forces, when such tires and tubes are to be used on aircraft and special purpose vehicles.

(b) Procedure for placing orders. The same type of delivery order as is used for placing orders under the General Schedule of Supplies (see § 806.614) will be used for placing orders under the Ordnance contracts, except that there will be added a certificate reading as follows:

None of the supplies or services covered by this instrument are to be used in violation of legal restrictions quoted in Circular No. 175, War Department, 1943.

(c) A blanket tax exemption certificate is issued covering Federal excise taxes on all purchases made under the contracts referred to in paragraph (a). Accordingly no tax exemption certificates will be issued in connection with specific purchases made under such contracts. It is not necessary that the purchase order contain a reference to the number of the blanket tax exemption certificate. It is sufficient that it contain a reference to the contract number.

(d) The pamphlet referred to in paragraph (a) contains a price list and other details and special provisions applicable to particular contracts. In any case where the price for repairing, recapping or retreading tires of a particular size is not listed, the price may be fixed by the contracting officer at a price not lower than the price quoted for the same service on the next smaller size tire quoted in such price list and contracting officer's decision shall be final and binding. The prices quoted do not include Federal taxes for which exemption is granted, nor any tax imposed by a State, County or municipality upon the transaction of purchasing materials or services in question.

(e) In the event that the contractor is unable to provide or arrange for facilities to perform any services ordered under the contract within ten days from the receipt of such order, the contracting officer is released to that extent from any obligation to procure such services under the contract. He may then procure them from any available source.

§ 806.605c Standard Master Ship Repair Contract. (a) A form of contract for the repair and alteration of vessels has been approved as a standard form of contract and assigned the number "TC Form No. 103" (see § 803.304 (a) (3). TC Form No. 103 is the War Department version of a master contract for the repair and alteration of vessels devised jointly by the War Department, the Navy Department and the War Shipping Administration.

(b) When executed with a particular contractor, TC Form No. 103 establishes the basis upon which that contractor will perform such repair and alteration work on vessels within the jurisdiction of the War Department as may be assigned to the contractor by means of job orders issued pursuant to the contract. All such work will be assigned to the contractor by means of job orders under the contract, unless the Chief of Transportation or his authorized representative grants prior approval to the use of a different method of contracting.

(c) Colonel Harold S. Wright, T. C., Commanding Officer, Army War Ship Repair Contract Agency, 25 Broad Street, New York 4, N. Y. (see Memorandum No. S55–15–43, 7 June 1943, creating this Agency), has been appointed contracting officer for the execution and administration of contracts written on TC Form 103, and authority has been delegated to the Chief of Transportation to appoint a successor and additional contracting officers for the same purpose. Contracts on TC Form No. 103 will be executed only by contracting officers appointed pursuant to this paragraph.

(d) Contracting officers appointed pursuant to paragraph (c) above have authority to designate officers and civilian officials of the War Department as their representatives and to empower such representatives to take all action under particular contracts or groups of contracts on TC Form No. 103 which could lawfully be taken thereunder by the contracting officers themselves, including the power to issue and administer job orders.

(e) Colonel Wright has designated the following as his representatives, with power to issue and administer job orders, subject to various conditions and limitations:

(1) The officer certified for the purpose by or under the direction of the Commanding General of each Service Command, the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, and the Chief of Engineers, for each installation under their respective commands.

(2) The officer certified for the purpose by the commanding officer of each port of embarkation and by each Zone and District Transportation Officer.

Certification of a contracting officer's representative may be made by name or official title. Certification is effective upon acknowledgment of receipt by Colonel Wright.

(f) From time to time the Chief of Transportation will cause to be published information concerning the contracts on TC Form No. 103 which have been executed for the War Department, including the contract numbers, names and addresses of contractors, location of shipyards, contract periods, "billing rates," etc. The publications will also name the contracting officer's representatives who have been authorized to issue job orders under the contracts, and set forth instructions applicable to the issuance and administration of job orders.

(g) A Joint Board, consisting of one representative each for the Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy and the War Shipping Administrator, has been constituted to perform certain functions in connection with the master contracts for repair and alteration of vessels executed by the three agencies. The Joint Board endeavors to obtain uniformity of interpretation and administration of these contracts. It also makes recommendations regarding the quarterly revision of "billing rates" in order that the same rate may be in force under the contracts with a particular contractor executed by the three agencies.

§ 806.605d Indefinite quantity contracts executed by the Office of the Quartermaster General. The tabulation set forth below contains certain information with respect to all indefinite quantity contracts executed by the Office of the Quartermaster General, which are applicable to purchases made by activities outside the jurisdiction of the Quartermaster General. More complete information as to these contracts is contained in the bulletins referred to in the tabulation. Some of these bulletins are Office of the Quartermaster General Contract Bulletins, referred to in the tabulation as Contract Bulletins. The last contract bulletin published was No. 2, dated 11 January 1944. Instructions and information theretofore published in contract bulletins have been published since 11 January 1944 in War Department supply bulletins, referred to in the tabulation as supply bulletins. If contract bulletins are not available at an Adjutant General Depot, they may be obtained by communicating with the General Administrative Services Division, Office of the Quartermaster General, Washington 25, D. C.

SUBPART C—INTERDEPARTMENTAL PURCHASES

§ 806.606 Purchases under contracts of Procurement Division, Treasury Department—(a) Basic law. The act of March 3, 1933 provided in part as follows:

• • • Accordingly, the President shall investigate the present organization of all executive and administrative agencies of the Government and shall determine what changes therein are necessary to accomplish the following purposes: • • • To group, coordinate, and consolidate executive and administrative agencies of the Government, as nearly as may be, according to major purposes; • • • To eliminate overlapping and duplication of effort; • • • (47 Stat. 1517; 5 U. S. C. 124).

Pursuant to the above act there was issued under date of June 10, 1933, Executive Order Number 6166 which provides in part as follows:

• The function of determination of policies and methods of procurement • • • of property, facilities, structures, improvements, machinery, equipment, stores, and supplies exercised by any agency is transferred to a Procurement Division in the Treasury Department, at the head of which shall be a Director of Procurement. • • • In respect of any kind of procurement • • • for any agency the Procurement Division may, with the approval of the President, (a) undertake the performance of such procurement • • • itself, or (b) permit such agency to perform such procurement • • • or (c) entrust such performance to some other agency, or (d) avail itself in part of any of these recourses, according as it may deem desirable in the interest of economy and efficiency. When the Procurement Division has prescribed the manner of procurement • • • of any thing, no agency shall thereafter procure • • • such thing in any manner other than so prescribed. The execution of work now performed by the Corps of Engineers of the Army shall remain with said corps, subject to the responsibilities herein vested in the Procurement Division. • • •

Under date of April 12, 1935 there was issued by the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, with the approval of the President, a regulation which provides in part as follows:

• • • Those supplies of which the procurement • • • is to be controlled (by the Procurement Division) • • • will be listed and communicated to the executive departments as may be necessary, and thereafter no individual procurement • • • of these articles shall take place except in emergencies. • • •

(b) Requirement. Purchases will be made from contracts of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department (General Schedule of Supplies), when so directed by the chief of the technical service concerned or when required by the terms of the contracts unless the item can not be furnished under such contracts within the time that the item is required by the technical service concerned.

(c) Emergency purchases. In any case where, pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b), purchase of an item listed in the General Schedule of Supplies is not made under a General Schedule of Supplies contract because the item could not be furnished under such a contract within the time that the item was required, the voucher submitted to the disbursing officer for payment shall contain a finding that:

(1) The purchase was justified because the item could not be furnished under the General Schedule of Supplies Contract within the time in which the item was required; and

(2) The purchase outside the General Schedule of Supplies Contract was necessary to facilitate the prosecution of the war and was authorized under the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001.

Such finding shall be final and conclusive. The authority to make such a finding is vested in the chiefs of the technical services and may be delegated to any officer or civilian official under their jurisdiction, including the contracting officer. It is to be emphasized that this authority is only to be used when necessary, and that it should not be construed to authorize disregard of the requirements of the General Schedule of Supplies. In all cases, the finding should consist of more than a mere conclusion. It should set forth the specific reasons why the time element made the purchase necessary.

(d) Procedure. (1) Chiefs of technical services (and commanding generals of service commands) are responsible for advising contracting officers under their jurisdiction as to the terms and conditions of all mandatory General Schedule of Supplies contracts. The commanding generals of the service commands should assume this responsibility as promptly as is practicable. In the past, the schedules have been distributed to the posts, camps and stations under the jurisdiction of the various service commands by the chiefs of certain of the technical services. This practice should not be discontinued until such time as the commanding generals of the service commands have had an opportunity to set up procedures to enable them to assume the responsibility.

(2) The schedules may be obtained from the Editorial Section, Procurement Division, Treasury Department. That Section will not, however, honor requests from posts, camps or stations or other installations, but only from the offices of the chiefs of technical services or the headquarters of the commanding generals of the service commands. Accordingly, all requests should be forwarded through channels to the appropriate headquarters.

(e) Ratification of purchases not made under contracts of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department. When it appears to his satisfaction that an item listed in the General Schedule of Supplies was not purchased under a contract of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department because the contracting officer overlooked the necessity of purchasing under such a contract the chief of the technical service concerned may ratify such purchase. This will be done, however, only where it appears that the oversight represents an isolated

A statement should be presented to the chief of the technical service setting forth all of the facts including the contract price paid as compared to that payable under the Treasury Department contract and all facts which tend to excuse the failure to purchase under the Treasury Department contract.

(f) [Deleted.] See § 806.614.

NOTE (1): Some of the schedules listed above are mandatory only upon some of the activities of the War Department. In case of doubt as to whether it is mandatory that a particular item be procured under a schedule, the schedule itself should be consulted and provisions of the schedule should be regarded as controlling.

NOTE (2): Attention is called to the provisions of § 811.1187. Items, the purchase of which is restricted by that paragraph, shall not be purchased except in accordance with the provisions of that paragraph even though they may be listed on the General Schedule of Supplies.

(h) "Schedule of Stock Items." This publication of the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department lists the items which are carried in stock in the warehouse of that Division in Washington, D. C., primarily to supply the needs in that city. Field agencies of the War Department will not place orders on the Procurement Division for items which are stocked in the warehouse in Washington, D. C., for shipment outside the District of Columbia. This publication should not be distributed to War Department field agencies outside of Washington, D. C.

§ 806.606a Blind-made products—(a) Basic law.

* * * All brooms and mops and other suitable commodities hereafter procured in accordance with applicable Federal specifications by or for any Federal department or agency shall be procured from such nonprofit making agencies for the blind in all cases where such articles are available within the period specified at the price determined by the committee to be the fair market price for the article or articles so procured; * * * Act June 25, 1938 (52 Stat. 1196; 41 U. S. C. 46; M. L., 1939, sec. 1951).

(b) Schedule of blind-made products. Schedule of Blind-Made Products, effective January 1, 1943, or later date, prepared under the direction of Committee on Purchases of Blind-Made Products, and issued by the Procurement Division, Treasury Department. This schedule is obtained in the same manner as other schedules of the General Schedule of Supplies (see § 806.606 (d)). The basic law does not apply in cases where brooms and mops are procured for use outside continental United States.

(c) General clearance. The following general clearance dated June 3, 1942, which covers purchases until further notice is quoted for information and guidance.

Effective as of this date and continuing until rescinded, blanket clearance is hereby granted to purchase from commercial sources any item listed in the Schedule of Blind-made Products where military necessity may require the delivery of the articles needed within a period of two weeks.

Very truly yours,

ROBT. LEFEVRE,
Secretary,
Committee on Purchases of Blind-made Products.

(d) Attaching clearance to voucher. It is to be noted that it is not necessary to attach a copy of this general clearance to the contract or voucher. It is sufficient in pertinent cases to make reference on either the contract or the voucher to General Clearance dated June 3, 1942.

§ 806.607 Purchases under contracts of Navy Department—(a) Requirement. Purchases will be made from contracts of the Navy Department when so directed by the chief of the technical service concerned or when required by the terms of the contracts.

(b) Procedure. Chiefs of technical services are responsible for advising contracting officers as to the terms and conditions of all such contracts and as to whether purchases therefrom are mandatory.

§ 806.608 Purchases from Federal Prison Industries, Inc., Department of Justice—(a) Basic Law. The Act of May 27, 1930 provides in part as follows:

The several Federal departments and independent establishments and all other Government institutions of the United States shall purchase at not to exceed current market prices, such products of the industries herein authorized to be carried on as meet their requirements and as may be available * * * (46 Stat. 392; 18 U. S. C. 744g; M. L., 1939, Sec. 1936).

Under date of December 11, 1934, there was issued Executive Order Number 6917 which provides in part as follows:

It is hereby ordered that a corporation of the District of Columbia be and is hereby created, said corporation to be named as Federal Prison Industries, Inc. * * * The principal office of said corporation shall be in the City of Washington, District of Columbia, * * * The heads of the several executive departments, independent establishments and Government owned and Government controlled corporations shall cooperate with the corporation in carrying out its duties and shall purchase, at not to exceed current market prices, the products or services of said industries, to the extent required or permitted by law.

(b) Requirement. It is required that all items manufactured by and all services rendered by, Federal Prison Industries, Inc. be purchased from that agency except where a general or special clearance for the purchase of the items from commercial sources has been granted.

(c) General clearance. The following general clearance, dated 18 May 1944, which covers purchases for the period 1 July to 31 December 1944, indicates not only the items as to which such clearance has been granted but also those items which are available, and, which, accordingly, must be purchased from Federal Prison Industries, Inc.:

THE UNDER SECRETARY OF WAR,
Washington, D. C.

Clearance
C-24706

1. Clearance is granted to purchase from other sources articles manufactured or services rendered by Federal Prison Industries, Inc., not listed above.

2. Clearance is granted to purchase from other sources articles manufactured or services rendered by Federal Prison Industries, Inc., including the items listed above, in the following cases:

(a) By contractors or contracting officers under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee construction or supply contracts;

(b) By contracting officers under fixed-price (lump sum) construction or supply contracts, wherein the Government is required to furnish certain Government materials;

(c) When immediate delivery or performance is required by the public exigency;

(d) When suitable second hand or used articles can be procured;

(e) When required in small quantities and for delivery within ten days.

3. This clearance is to cover purchases made by the War Department only, and is effective for the period July 1 to December 31, 1944, inclusive.

4. Copy of this clearance should be attached to your contract or voucher when transmitted to the General Accounting Office, or reference made thereon to this clearance number.

Very truly yours,

FEDERAL PRISON INDUSTRIES, INC.
By (Signed) A. H. CONNER,
Associate Commissioner.

(d) Attaching clearances to vouchers. It is to be noted that it is no longer necessary to attach a copy of the clearance to the contract or voucher. It is sufficient to make reference on either the contract or the voucher to Clearance No. C-24706.

(e) Procedure. Chiefs of technical services are responsible for advising contracting officers as to the detailed procedure for placing orders with Federal Prison Industries, Inc. In general, purchase orders should be forwarded in duplicate to Federal Prison Industries, Inc., Department of Justice, Washington, D. C. Requests for special clearances should also be directed to the above agency which, in an emergency, will grant telegraphic clearance.

§ 806.608a Purchases from State prisons and other correctional institutions. Purchases of items manufactured or produced by State prisons may be made directly from such institutions (Op. Att. Gen. 37739, May 6, 1942, and Let. Pres. May 10, 1942. See also Executive O. 9196 dated July 9, 1942, and § 809.902 and following of these regulations). Likewise, purchases of services rendered by State prisons may be made directly from such institutions. No purchase, however, from a State prison or other correctional institution will be made of a mandatory item or service appearing in the schedules of the Federal Prisons Industries, Inc. (See § 806.608) without a prior clearance (general or special) from that agency. For purchases by Government contractors and subcontractors from Federal, State and territorial prisons or prison industries, see § 803.345.

§ 806.609 Purchases under contracts of Post Office Department. (a) Requirement. Envelopes required by the military service (other than by the departmental service, War Department, Washington, D. C.) will be procured under the contracts entered into by the Post Office Department unless it is impracticable to do so.

(b) Envelopes authorized for supply to the military service. (1) The following envelopes only are authorized for supply to the military service (excluding the departmental service, War Department, Washington, D. C.) on requisitions, the item numbers corresponding to those in "Award of Contracts for Envelopes", Post Office Department:

Item No.	Description
17.	4⅛ by 9½ inches, Kraft, open side.
36.	5 by 11½ inches, Kraft, open side.
49.	6½ by 9½ inches, Kraft, open side.
68.	8½ by 11½ inches, Kraft, open side or open end.
93.	10 by 15 inches, Kraft, open side or open end, 5-inch flap.
111.	2½ by 4¼ inches, Kraft, open end.
122.	3¾ by 5⅞ inches, Kraft, open end.
123.	3⅞ by 7½ inches, Kraft, tag, strong eyelet at bottom, open end.
189.	3⅞ by 8⅞ inches, White, open side.
192.	4⅛ x 9½ inches, White, open side.
203.	3⅞ by 8⅞ inches, White, open side, with Opaquing Design inside.
204.	4⅛ by 9½ inches, White, open side, with Opaquing Design inside.
405.	3⅝ by 8¾ inches, Kraft, open side, window.
435.	4⅛ by 9½ inches, White, open side, window.
504.	4⅛ by 9½ inches, White, Air Mail, red and blue border.
514.	4⅛ by 9½ inches, White, Air Mail, red and blue border, lightweight with opaquing design inside.
[1]	4⅜ by 8⅛ inches, Kraft, open side, window (for War Bonds).

(2) Orders for envelopes should be placed with the contractors specified in the pamphlet "Awards of Contracts for Envelopes". Such orders may be sent to the contractor directly and need not be sent through the office of the chief of the technical service concerned.

[1] There has been no Item No. assigned to this envelope.

(c) The foregoing does not affect in any way the present methods of procuring jackets, open end, thumb notched, as required by the various technical services, the same being procured on approved requisitions as are other supplies.

§ 806.610 Purchases from Government Printing Office. (a) All blank envelopes, blank paper, ink, glues and other supplies manufactured or carried in stock by the Government Printing Office, and which are required for use within the District of Columbia, will be purchased from that office.

(b) All printing and blankbook work other than that referred to in paragraph (c), shall be obtained from the Government Printing Office unless a clearance is obtained from the Public Printer to have the work done elsewhere.

(c) (1) Under the regulations of the Joint Committee on Printing relative to Periodicals and Field Printing, printing, binding and blankbook work which it is impracticable to have done at the Government Printing Office and which is necessary for the exclusive use of any field service outside of the District of Columbia may be procured elsewhere than at the Government Printing Office in the District of Columbia without the necessity of obtaining a clearance from the Public Printer. Such work shall be done either:

(i) By local Army-owned reproduction facilities;

(ii) At United States Army Field Printing Plants authorized by the Joint Committee on Printing;

(iii) By commercial firms, or

(iv) By field plants, Justice Department, described under paragraph (i) of this section.

A list of authorized War Department Field printing plants is contained in the aforementioned regulations. These regulations are distributed by The Adjutant General, Field Printing Branch, Publication Division, and should be requested through the chief of the technical service (or commanding general of the service command).

(2) Said regulations further provide that: No field printing, even though authorized by the committee, shall be done at any field plant, * * * having machinery or equipment (including motors) which has been or may be purchased, exchanged, or transferred since May 1, 1920, without specific approval by the Joint Committee on Printing of such purchase, exchange, or transfer: Provided, That this regulation shall not be construed as applying to minor replacements of type or material or parts necessary in making repairs to machinery and equipment.

(d) The cost of the jobs produced either in Army-owned reproduction facilities or in authorized U. S. Army Field Printing Plants should be absorbed in the operating cost of such installations to be charged against the specific funds made available for their operation.

(e) The cost of work procured from commercial sources should be charged against the specific funds available therefor to the respective technical service expenditure of which has been authorized by The Adjutant General. Obligations for field contract printing procured from commercial concerns may be incurred to the extent that publication

§ 806.611 Purchases from other agencies of the Government. Property may be acquired from other agencies of the agency may be in a position to supply, or to render or to obtain by contract, which are vested in the War Department, authorized by The Adjutant General. Obligations for field contract printing procured from commercial concerns may be incurred, to the extent that authority has been delegated and funds made available, in accordance with the provisions of the Fiscal Code. All allotments must carry the appropriate purpose number and decimal suffix prescribed in finance circulars. AR 35–1040 prescribes the form of certificate which is required to be placed on purchase orders and vouchers involving payments for printing, binding, and blank-book work procured commercially in the field. Information relative to reports required by the Joint Committee on Printing together with forms required, will be furnished by The Adjutant General to the chiefs of technical services.

(f) The Adjutant General is charged with the responsibility of coordinating all Army field printing. Questions concerning policies and propriety of field contract printing will be referred to The Adjutant General.

(g) As specified in section II, Circular No. 8, War Department, 1939, Decision A–99850 of the Comptroller General of the United States dated December 22, 1938, is construed as subjecting to the Regulations of the Joint Committee on Printing (1) stenographer's books or other articles in book form which require printing, binding or ruling operations for their manufacture, and (2) any item which requires any printing and binding operation after the receipt of the order by the vendor to fit it for the particular needs of the Government service.

(h) The chiefs of technical services only are authorized to communicate directly with the Government Printing Office through their properly appointed representatives.

(i) Federal Prison Industries, Inc., has available facilities for performing printing work for the War Department. It is to be noted that these facilities are not listed in the letter set forth in § 806.608 (c) and so the use of the printing services is not mandatory. However, wherever practicable, it is desirable that use be made of these facilities. The facilities are available at three prisons and may be made use of by sending a purchase order directed to one of the following:

Warden of Federal Reformatory, El Reno, Oklahoma.

Superintendent of Industries, Leavenworth Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Business Manager of Industries, Atlanta Penitentiary, Atlanta, Ga.

Where the form of purchase order contains the standard convict labor clause, that clause should, of course, be deleted (§ 809.903 (a) (1)).

(j) Bureau of the Budget Regulation No. 4 (revised) January 18, 1944, (as reprinted in Circular 69, War Department, 10 February 1944) for the purpose of conserving critical materials, establishes standards of grade, colors, copy and size for letterheads, manifold (tissue) sheets, memorandum forms, and envelopes, and sets forth numerous suggestions to promote conservation, which will be observed by all agencies to the fullest practicable extent.

§ 806.611 Purchases from other agencies of the Government. Property may be acquired from other agencies of the Government either in the manner set forth in § 806.612 or in the manner set forth in paragraphs (a) to (i), inclusive, of § 806.613. Section 806.612 explains the circumstances under which the two procedures can be followed.

§ 806.612 Purchase of property pursuant to Public Law 670. The act of July 20, 1942 (Public Law 670–77th Congress; 31 U.S.C. 686) amended section 7 (a) of the act of May 21, 1920 (41 Stat. 613), as amended by section 601 of the act of June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 417) to read as follows:

Any executive department or independent establishment of the Government, or any bureau or office thereof, if funds are available therefor and if it is determined by the head of such executive department, establishment, bureau, or office to be in the interest of the Government so to do, may place orders with any other such department, establishment, bureau, or office for materials, supplies, equipment, work, or services, of any kind that such requisitioned Federal agency may be in a position to supply or equipped to render, and shall pay promptly by check to such Federal agency as may be requisitioned, upon its written request, either in advance or upon the furnishing or performance thereof, all or part of the estimated or actual cost thereof as determined by such department, establishment, bureau, or office as may be requisitioned; but proper adjustments on the basis of the actual cost of the materials, supplies, or equipment furnished, or work or services performed, paid for in advance, shall be made as may be agreed upon by the departments, establishments, bureaus, or offices concerned: Provided, That the War Department, Navy Department, Treasury Department, Civil Aeronautics Administration, and the Maritime Commission may place orders, as provided herein, for materials, supplies, equipment, work, or services, of any kind that any requisitioned Federal agency may be in a position to supply, or to render or to obtain by contract: Provided further, That if such work or services can be as conveniently or more cheaply performed by private agencies such work shall be let by competitive bids to such private agencies. Bills rendered, or requests for advance payments made pursuant to any such order, shall not be subject to audit or certification in advance of payment.

The chiefs of the technical services are authorized, pursuant to the foregoing statute, to purchase property from other Federal agencies on payment of the estimated or actual cost thereof, but proper adjustments on the basis of the actual cost of the material, supplies, or equipment furnished, paid for in advance, shall be made as may be agreed upon mutually. This may not be done, however, if the property has been reported to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department as surplus by the holding agency or if the property has been declared surplus to the needs of the holding agency by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to subparagraph (c) of Executive Order No. 9235.

(a) Powers of War Food Administration and Reconstruction Finance Corporation under Public Law 670. The functions, powers, and duties, with respect to placing orders for materials, supplies, equipment, work, or services of any kind that any requisitioned Federal agency may be in a position to supply, or to render or to obtain by contract, which are vested in the War Department, Navy Department, Treasury Department, Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Maritime Commission under Public Law 670 (above) may also be exercised (1) by the War Food Administration, and by any constituent agency or corporation thereof, designated by the War Food Administrator (Executive Order 9418; 9 F.R. 1073, 1 Feb. 1944) and (2) by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and by any constituent, subsidiary or controlled agency or corporation thereof designated by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. (Executive Order 9440; 9 F.R. 4999, 12 May 1944.)

§ 806.613 Purchases of property of other agencies through the Procurement Division, Treasury Department—(a) Executive Order No. 9235. Under date of August 31, 1942 there was issued Executive Order No. 9235 providing for the effective utilization of supplies and equipment by government agencies (See 7 F.R. 6987). This order provides in part as follows:

The Director of the Bureau of the Budget, acting through such assistants as he may designate, shall:

(a) Survey supplies and equipment in possession of Government agencies and the utilization thereof. For this purpose he may require the Government agencies to submit reports and estimates in such form and at such times as he may find necessary: Provided, That in making such surveys he shall utilize, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, the services and facilities of the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department;

* * * * *

(c) Require, when, in his opinion, such action is necessary or expedient, the transfer from one Government agency to another, for permanent or temporary use, of such supplies and equipment as he may determine to be surplus to the needs of one agency and essential to the needs of another agency;

* * * * *

(e) Issue such regulations and directives as may be necessary to effectuate this order.

(b) Regulation No. 1 of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget. Under date of November 16, 1942, the Director issued Regulation No. 1 under Executive Order No. 9235. It reads in part as follows:

(c) * * * all equipment or supplies determined to be surplus by the head of an agency * * * having control thereof or by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget shall be declared surplus by submission of Procurement Division Form No. 812, "Declaration of Property" to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, which will thereupon assume temporary custody thereof. Procedures covering appraisal, rehabilitation, storage, request for transfer, transfer and payment for equipment or supplies transferred under this paragraph will be issued in the form of instructions by the Procurement Division.

2. The Director of the Bureau of the Budget may cause excess equipment and supplies to be declared surplus to the activity having custody thereof without regard to the method by which custody was obtained. Surplus equipment or supplies found in any administrative unit and held by that unit on loan from some other unit will be considered as surplus to the needs of both the unit in possession and the unit accountable therefor.

3. Compliance by the Procurement Division with a request for the transfer of surplus equipment or supplies will be dependent upon the availability to the requesting unit of an appropriation or allocation for the procurement of the equipment or supplies desired, and such other criteria as may be deemed necessary by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget.

(c) Regulation No. 2 of the Director of the Bureau of the Budget. Under date of November 16, 1942, the Director issued Regulation No. 2 under Executive Order No. 9235. It reads in part as follows:

1. All equipment and supplies recovered by the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, as surplus to the requirements of any activity shall be transferred to agencies * * * requesting same, in accordance with instructions issued by the Procurement Division, at market or appraisal value at the time of transfer and, except, as provided in paragraph 3 hereof, payment therefor shall be covered into the Treasury as Miscellaneous Receipts.

2. Where the value of equipment and supplies transferred is less than the amount set forth in the justification of the applicable budget schedule, savings shall be set up as a reserve and reported on line 15 (c) of Budget-Treasury Form 2 and described as "savings through purchase of surplus equipment and supplies."

* * * * *

4. The Procurement Division will publish once each month, or more frequently if stock on hand or volume of requests justify, a schedule of items on hand in surplus stores. These schedules will be circulated to all agencies within distribution areas to be served by the surplus stores. No agency shall enter the commercial market for the purpose of procuring any items of equipment or supply contained in the then current surplus schedule without advance clearance from the Procurement Division: Provided, That when immediate delivery is required by the public exigency, the articles required may be procured by open market purchase or contract, in accordance with existing law, at the places and in the manner in which such articles are usually bought and sold between individuals.

5. Requests for items listed in such surplus equipment and supply schedules will, as a general rule, be honored as received. However, in cases where, before shipment is made, more than one agency requests identical items, priority shall be determined in accordance with criteria as provided for in Regulation 1, Paragraph 3.

6 Equipment and supplies recovered by the Procurement Division, which are of such a character or in such condition as to be unusable or to preclude rehabilitation, shall be disposed of under regulations prescribed by the Procurement Division.

(d) Procedure for acquiring property which is surplus to the needs of another agency. The procedure for the transfer of surplus property has been set forth in Circular Letter No. 675 (November 18, 1942) of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, as amended by Circular Letter No. 675, Supplement No. 1, issued under date of January 15, 1943.

(e) Regional property offices of Procurement Division. Pursuant to Circular Letter No. 675, Supplement No. 1, the operations of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, which had previously been centralized in Washington, D. C. were decentralized. The following regional offices were established:

Region I

Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, Park Square Building, Boston, Massachusetts.

Region II

Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, 76 Ninth Avenue, New York, New York.

Region III

District of Columbia, Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina, Virginia. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, 7th & D Streets, S. W., Washington, D. C.

Region IV

Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, West Virginia. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, 235 West 12th Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Region V

Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, No. Dakota, So. Dakota, Wisconsin. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, 222 West North Bank Drive, Chicago, Illinois.

Region VI

Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, So. Carolina, Tennessee. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, 10 Forsyth Street Building, Atlanta, Georgia.

Region VII

Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Texas. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, 609 Neil P. Anderson Building, Fort Worth, Texas.

Region VIII

Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, 6th Fl., Porter Building, Kansas City, Missouri.

Region IX

Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, 1630 Wazee Street, Denver, Colorado.

Region X

Arizona, California, Nevada. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, 335 Fell Street, San Francisco, California.

Region XI

Idaho, Oregon, Montana, Washington. Regional Procurement Officer, U. S. Treasury Department, Alaska Building, Seattle, Washington.

(f) Catalog of available property. Once each month, and more frequently if necessary, the Procurement Division through its regional offices, will issue catalogs showing the location, description, and transfer price of property reported to it as surplus within specified areas. It is the responsibility of the chief of each technical service to see that all stations under his command, which would be interested in obtaining equipment surplus to the needs of other agencies, is supplied with the current catalog relating to the region where the station is located. Such catalogs will, if requested, be mailed directly to any station making a request of the appropriate regional office of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department.

(g) Surplus property not as yet reported. When information is obtained as to the existence of property surplus to the needs of another Government agency, a technical service should, if it desires such property, communicate with the holding agency and establish definitely that the property is available. If the property has not yet been reported by the holding agency to the regional office of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, in the region where the property is located, and has not been declared surplus to the needs of the holding agency by the Director of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to subparagraph (c) of Executive Order No. 9235 (see paragraph (a)), the property may be purchased directly from the holding agency pursuant to Public Law No. 670—77th Congress (see § 806.612)). If, however, the holding agency desires to effect the transfer through the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, it should be requested to declare the property as surplus on the forms prescribed by the Procurement Division, Treasury Department. The declaration should be forwarded to the appropriate regional office with a statement that the property is wanted by the station concerned. The property should then be requested by the technical service in accordance with paragraph (h).

(h) Direct communication with Procurement Division authorized. The chiefs of the technical services are authorized to communicate directly with the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, with reference to any property which has been reported to that Division by other agencies of the Government; and are authorized to make requests for any such property directly to the appropriate regional office of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department. The request will be made on Purchase Authority Form (issued by the Procurement Division, Treasury Department) or on such other document or form as is customarily used for ordinary purchases. Whatever form is used should carry the capitalized heading "Request for transfer of property." The request should contain the following information:

(1) Complete and specific reference as to date of Catalog of Available Property in which property appeared. If property has not yet been listed in a catalog there should be substituted the present location of the property, the transferring agency's declaration number, and a complete description of the property.

(2) Shipping instructions or information that the property will be picked up.

(3) The symbol and title of the appropriation, appropriations, or fund from which the costs of acquisition and any transportation charges incident to delivery to the technical service will be paid.

The chiefs of the technical services will decentralize to their field agencies the authority to communicate with the regional offices of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, to the greatest extent consistent with efficiency and the proper safeguarding of the public interest.

(i) Redistribution and Salvage Branch. Although direct communication by the technical services with the Procurement Division, Treasury Department is authorized, the Redistribution and Salvage Branch, Production Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, is available for consultation when the technical services desire assistance in their negotiations with the Procurement Division, Treasury Department. That Branch should be promptly advised whenever it comes to the attention of a technical service that property desired by such service has been requested by an agency of the Government other than the War Department.

(j) Disposition of surplus property to other Government agencies. It is to be noted that the foregoing paragraphs relate only to the acquistion of property from another Government agency and not to the disposition of surplus property to another Government agency. As to the latter, see § 807.714 (b) et seq.

§ 806.614 Form of order to be used in making interdepartmental and interbranch purchases. (a) There is contained in § 813.1317e, a suggested form of delivery order. This form has been prepared for use in placing orders:

(1) Against already existing contracts executed by another department of the government (see §§ 806.606, 806.606a, 806.607 and 806.609);

(2) Against indefinite quantity contracts executed by other technical services (see § 806.605a and following); and

(3) With other agencies of the government which render particular services or supply certain supplies (see §§ 806.608, 806.608a, 806.610 and 806.611).

(b) The suggested form contained in § 813.1317e is particularly designed for placing orders of the types described in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above. If it is used for placing orders of the types described in subparagraph (3), there will of course be no basic purchase agreement; and so it will be necessary to modify the form appropriately.

(c) It is to be noted that the suggested form of delivery order set forth in § 815.1317e does not contain any "General Provisions" such as those contained in § 813.1317b. Such provisions are unnecessary in connection with interbranch and interdepartmental purchases.

Orders placed under General Schedule of Supplies contracts are frequently referred to as "Purchase Orders." Inasmuch as a binding contract already exists between the Government and the TPS contractor, it is evident that the order serves a different function than that served by an ordinary purchase order. Accordingly, the term "delivery order" has been used throughout these Procurement Regulations as being a term more descriptive of orders placed under already existing contracts.

SUBPART A—GENERAL

§ 807.100 Rescissions of instruction. The regulations in this part and the regulations, manuals and other instructions to which it makes reference, include all outstanding instructions of the War Department on the subject of the disposition of personal property, title to which is in the Government, or to which the Government has the contractual right to acquire title. All other instructions are hereby rescinded. Instructions of the technical services are not affected hereby, but will be promptly conformed to this part.

§ 807.101 Subjects not covered. This part does not rescind or otherwise affect TM 38–220 or other publications concerning Stock Control for military property. It does not relate to the disposition of real property, which is governed by War Department Circular No. 8, 1944, and section II ASF Circular No. 28, 1944. It does not relate to the repair or reclamation of personal property, which is governed by War Department Circular No. 7, 1944. It does not relate to the disposition of the proceeds of sales of property, as to which see AR 35–780 and AR 35–6660. It does not relate to the redistribution or disposition of any property located outside of the continental limits of the United States. The policies and procedures governing the disposition of property which has been turned over to a salvage officer or salvage organization, are covered by AR 700–25 and TM 38–505.

§ 807.102 Definitions. The following terms, when used in this regulation, have the meanings indicated:

"Military property" consists of all supplies and equipment held for issue or issued, to or for troops, military posts within the United States, and theaters of operation; and includes tactical supplies and equipment, subsistence items and property required by tables of allowances, tables of basic allowances, and tables of equipment.

"Non-military property" is all property other than military property.

"Serviceable property" is property other than scrap or waste which is suitable for use in its existing condition.

"Non-repairable property" is unserviceable property which cannot in the best interests of the Government be mended or restored to serviceability, and scrap and waste; and includes, but is not limited to, any obsolete non-military items, and industrial materials, industrial equipment, components, and assemblies (whether partially or completely fabricated, processed or assembled and whether new, used or deteriorated), which have no reasonable use except as scrap.

"Excess property" in the case of military property, is any property in excess of the maximum stock level authorized for a particular organization, supply point or technical service; and, in the case of non-military property, is any property in excess of the immediate and definitely foreseeable needs of a particular industrial installation or other function, activity, project or industrial operation in connection with which the property was acquired.

"Surplus property" is property declared by competent authority to be, or deemed to be, in accordance with the provisions of this Regulation, in excess of the immediate or definitely foreseeable needs of the entire War Department.

"Termination inventory" means all personal property (including a proper part of any common materials) properly allocable to a terminated war contract or subcontract of any tier, property excess to the requirements of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor, and any property in the possession of a fixed-price contractor or subcontractor which the War Department is obligated to take over as the result of a design modification or change order, except any machinery or equipment subject to a separate contract or contract article specifically governing the use or disposition thereof. "Termination inventory" includes contractor-owned property in the hands of a fixed-price contractor or subcontractor, Government owned property in the hands of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor or subcontractor and Government owned property furnished to any contractor.

"Negotiation" means any method of reaching an agreement on the terms of sale, except the formal sealed bid procedure contemplated by section 3709, R. S. with respect to purchases. (There is no statutory requirement for the formal sealed bid procedure in the case of sales of government property. See Opinions of The Judge Advocate General, dated March 19, 1941, SPJGC 1941, and March 30, 1943, SPJGC 1943, 3449).

§ 807.103 Statement of War Department policy. The demands of the war production program require that the material resources of the nation be used with the utmost efficiency. This can only be accomplished if the accumulation of excess property is avoided and if idle property is put to productive use at the earliest possible moment. Accordingly, it is the policy of the War Department to prevent the acquisition or retention of excess property by the War Department. It is likewise the policy of the War Department to effect the prompt return of temporarily idle non-military property to productive use. In furtherance of the policy of effecting prompt clearance of the plants of contractors whose contracts have been terminated (see § 815.851) every effort will be made to effect prompt disposition of termination inventories. In this connection, attention is called to the letter of the Under Secretary of War set forth in § 815.350(b) and to the statement of the Surplus War Property Administrator set forth in § 807.205. The guiding policy of the War Department is to employ all the material resources at its command in the manner which will most effectively facilitate the prosecution of the war. To this end property will be freely redistributed under the authority granted in Subpart C of this part. In any event, excess property will be redistributed as promptly as possible. Accordingly, the chiefs of technical services will comply with existing provisions for the review of military property. All affected thereby will strictly observe the requirements of section II, Army Service Forces Circular No. 67, 1944. In addition, chiefs of technical services will maintain constant and active review of all non-military property on hand or in the process of manufacture, to determine the essentiality of such property for the prosecution of approved functions, activities, projects or industrial operations.

§ 807.104 Designation of redistribution and salvage officer. The chief of each technical service will designate a redistribution and salvage officer in his office who will have responsibility for coordinating the activities of the technical service as to salvage activities; as to the determination of what items of non-military property are excess within the technical service; as to the determination of what items of military property should be processed for declaration by competent authority as surplus; and as to the acquisition and use by the technical service of military and non-military items available from other technical services. The Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will be promptly notified of the appointment, or change in the appointment of such officer.

§ 807.105 Establishment of disposal boards. (a) The chiefs of the technical services will establish in their field installations, disposal boards for reviewing and taking appropriate action with respect to proposed transactions required to be reviewed by this Regulation.

(b) Disposal boards will consist of not less than three members. The members thereof may perform other functions, provided the prompt review of property disposal matters is not hindered and the personnel are qualified by training and experience to afford adequate review with respect to such matters.

(c) Records of the proceedings of disposal boards will be maintained by the offices or installations in which they are established. Cases submitted for review will be accompanied by information pertinent to the transaction, particularly as to the following: number of offers or bids solicited and reviewed, and the amounts thereof; condition of the property; status of the buyer with respect to the use to be made of the property, and any other information necessary to show that the market has been adequately tested and that the sale should be made at the price and in the quantities stated.

§ 807.106 Disposal board at chief of service level. Disposal boards may be established in the offices of the chiefs of technical services to review and take appropriate action with respect to property transactions as to which review at that level is authorized by this part (see §§ 807.208 (b) and 807.409).

§ 807.107 Extraordinary cases. Proposed sales or scrapping determinations involving unusual problems or difficulties may be presented for the consideration and advice of the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

§ 807.108 Reports—(a) Monthly report of redistribution and disposal of excess and surplus serviceable property. (1) Commanding generals of each numbered service command and the Military District of Washington will submit to the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, a consolidated monthly report on redistribution and disposal of excess and surplus serviceable property.

(2) Each procurement office reporting to the chief of a technical service will submit to the chief of the technical service a monthly report of redistribution and disposal of excess and surplus serviceable property. Chiefs of technical services will issue instructions as to the omission of certain sections of the form not applicable to their procurement offices.

(3) The chief of each technical service will submit to the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, a consolidated monthly report on redistribution and disposal of excess and surplus serviceable property, together with reports for each procurement office reporting to him.

(b) Report form. Reports will be submitted on W.D., A.G.O. Form No. 256. For the first report, local reproduction in the field is authorized. Information will be submitted in substantially the form indicated by W.D., A.G.O. Form No. 256 (see § 807.910). A limited quantity of the form is now available at the Pentagon Adjutant General Depot for use of chiefs of technical services in consolidating reports. For subsequent reports, supplies of this form will be available at all adjutant general depots. Control Approval Symbol RCS–5 has been assigned to this report. This form will be used by all echelons required to submit the report.

(c) Date for submitting report. Report will submitted monthly and will be filed with the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, on or before the 12th day of the month following that for which the report is made. The first report will be filed on or before 12 July 1944 covering the month of June 1944.

contracts for the sale of property made under the authority of Subpart C of this part, all contracts for an amount in excess of $1,000 and all contracts for an amount in excess of $500 which are not to be performed within sixty days shall be evidenced by a written contract prepared in substantially the form set forth in § 813.1326, or in such other form as vitations for the purpose of advising their clients. In any event, copies of written invitations to bid and information as to awards will be kept available at the point of sale for inspection by representatives of periodicals or other interested parties during normal business hours for any proper purpose.

§ 807.116 Sales to War Department accordance with the provisions of §§ 807.206, 807.207, and 807.208.

§ 807.203 Redistribution assistance at chief of service level. Although chiefs of technical services will assist the local agencies under their jurisdiction in the redistribution of termination inventories, it is intended that the local agencies be given the greatest possible freedom of chased parts and supplies (Schedule C–1, § 815.939 (a)) submitted by the contractor, or (2) a transcript of all items (i. e., any quantity of like products, materials, etc.—usually indicated by a single entry in the termination inventory list) for which the cost or estimated cost is $1,000 or more. In either case, the listing transmitted to the War Production Board should contain the following infor-

Such termination inventories are becoming available for sale in considerable quantities at the present time. The opportunity to dispose of much of this property is certainly more favorable now than it will be later, and the public interest will be served if it can be sold now and directly from the plant of the contractor where it is located.

I understand that these termination inventories are not now being sold as rapidly

(c) Date for submitting report. Report will submitted monthly and will be filed with the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, on or before the 12th day of the month following that for which the report is made. The first report will be filed on or before 12 July 1944 covering the month of June 1944.

(d) Preparation of the report. Record costs may be used without inclusion of amounts for storage, transportation, handling, or other overhead costs. In the absence of record costs, estimates may be made on the basis of known costs of similar items or other available information. All dollar amounts should be reported to the nearest full dollar with cents omitted. Specific instructions as to preparation of the report together with a sample of the report form are included in § 807.910.

§ 807.109 Direct correspondence authorized. Direct correspondence is authorized among all levels of the technical services and representatives of other government agencies in respect of redistribution of available property under this part.

§ 807.110 Methods of sale. All sales of property under this Regulation, including sales made by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors pursuant to § 807.306, will be made by negotiation in a manner to assure such competition (by taking written bids, making oral inquiry, or otherwise) as is practicable in the circumstances, and consistent with economy, efficiency and the expeditious completion of the proposed sale. The negotiating officer will make every effort to effect the sale in such manner and for such further uses as will most effectively facilitate the prosecution of the war. Sales at ceiling or established market prices and sales under § 807.301, need not be delayed for the purpose of soliciting competitive bids.

§ 807.111 Compliance with OPA and WPB regulations. All sales or other transfers (except transfers within the Government) of property made under the authority of this Regulation or otherwise shall conform to applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board and the Office of Price Administration. Officers responsible for disposal of War Department property may rely upon a representation by the buyer to the effect that the purchase is being made in compliance with all War Production Board regulations affecting the buyer, unless they have knowledge or reason to believe that such representation is false. Such a representation should be incorporated in each written contract of sale. War Department representatives are not responsible, however, for compliance with such regulations in the case of sales by a contractor.

§ 807.112 Federal excise taxes on property sold. Where property which is subject to Federal excise tax is sold, provisions governing the collection of such taxes found in Subpart F of Part 608 will be observed.

§ 807.113 Contract formalities including numbering and distribution. (a) All contracts for the sale of property made under the authority of Subpart C of this part, all contracts for an amount in excess of $1,000 and all contracts for an amount in excess of $500 which are not to be performed within sixty days shall be evidenced by a written contract prepared in substantially the form set forth in § 813.1326, or in such other form as may be approved by the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, or, in the case of sales by salvage officers, in the form authorized or required by applicable regulations. All other sales shall be evidenced on accounting forms now or hereafter prescribed by the chiefs of technical services concerned, subject to the approval of the Fiscal Director, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(b) The provisions of §§ 803.309 and 803.318b (e) and relating to the numbering of contracts are applicable to contracts for the sale of property except that in connection with such contracts a separate series of numbers will be used in which the letter "s" will be added immediately after the letters representing the technical service concerned.

(c) Contracts for the sale of property will be distributed in the same manner as other contracts (see Subpart D of Part 803) except that (1) when a sale of War Department property is made under a contract or agreement the officer or agent of the War Department by whom funds are received as a result thereof will, in turning the funds over to a disbursing officer, accompany such remittance with a copy of the contract or agreement covering the terms of the sale; and (2) the original signed number of each unnumbered contract of sale will be forwarded to the General Accounting Office instead of being sent to the disbursing officer, as in the case of unnumbered contracts of purchase.

(d) A copy of each contract of sale of military property, the original cost of which exceeded $2,000 will be distributed to the Chairmen of the Military Affairs Committees of the House and Senate within twenty-four hours after a contract has been made.

§ 807.114 Coordination with Property Officer. All transfers or sales of property under authority herein contained must be coordinated with the Property Officer involved for compliance with applicable property accountability regulations.

§ 807.115 Information as to sales of War Department property. It is the policy of the War Department to have the facts on all public sales of War Department property kept available at the point of sale for public inspection during normal business hours for any proper purpose. The facts on sales to war contractors will likewise be kept available for inspection by the interested parties; but it is not intended that there should be general publicity as to such sales.

(a) Furnishing information to periodicals. When sales are made on written invitations to bid, copies of invitations and information as to awards may be transmitted to periodicals for publicity purposes, or to persons who request invitations for the purpose of advising their clients. In any event, copies of written invitations to bid and information as to awards will be kept available at the point of sale for inspection by representatives of periodicals or other interested parties during normal business hours for any proper purpose.

§ 807.116 Sales to War Department personnel. Except as authorized by Subpart C of this part, or by AR 30–2290, AR 700–25, TM–38–505, or other War Department publication, no sales of Government-owned property will be made to any official or employee of the War Department nor any officer, enlisted man, or civilian employee of the Army.

SUBPART B—DISPOSITION OF TERMINATION INVENTORIES

§ 807.200 Scope of subpart. This subpart provides authority and procedures for the disposition of termination inventories.

§ 807.201 Circularization not required. The policy of the War Department is stated in § 807.103. The objectives of that policy can best be obtained by vigorous action of the contracting officer and his local aids in redistribution of termination inventories, prior to reporting such property to a Disposal Agency as surplus, with the fullest cooperation of the district organization and any industry organization involved (such as the Ordnance Industry Integrating Committees), and the assistance of the Redistribution Offices of the War Production Board. The greatest freedom of action is therefore accorded these local agencies of the War Department and circularization of termination inventories is not required.

§ 807.202 Disposition by contracting agency. The following methods of disposition will be employed to effect the redistribution of termination inventories prior to reporting the property as surplus in accordance with § 807.209.

(a) Any property which is used or damaged beyond economical repair or is of such a nature that it has no reasonable use except as scrap will be classified as nonrepairable and disposed of in accordance with the provisions of Subpart D of this part. The Under Secretary of War has pointed out that "in many instances work in process must and should be sold as scrap for scrap prices." (See § 815.350 (b)).

(b) Any serviceable Government-owned property may be used to meet authorized requirements for military supply or industrial purposes and any contractor-owned property may be acquired for such purposes in accordance with the provisions of the contract.

(c) The contractor may be permitted to retain any property at a price agreed upon in accordance with the provisions of §§ 807.206, 807.207, and 807.208.

(d) Any Government-owned property may be transferred to the Navy Department, the Civil Aeronautics Administration, or other governmental agency in accordance with the provisions of Subpart C of this part.

(e) The sale of any property to any purchaser may be made or approved in accordance with the provisions of §§ 807.206, 807.207, and 807.208.

§ 807.203 Redistribution assistance at chief of service level. Although chiefs of technical services will assist the local agencies under their jurisdiction in the redistribution of termination inventories, it is intended that the local agencies be given the greatest possible freedom of disposition in accordance with § 807.202. Accordingly, local agencies responsible for property disposition will refer significant items included in termination inventories to the chiefs of their respective technical services promptly upon receipt of property lists from the contractor. Such reference will not, however, be permitted to delay local disposition, nor will it limit local disposition authority, except as may be specifically directed by the chief of the technical service concerned. Chiefs of technical services will give prompt consideration to the utilization of such items for military supply or industrial purposes within their own service, and may informally bring selected items to the attention of other technical services which might be expected to have an interest therein.

§ 807.204 Redistribution assistance by War Production Board. In order that the availability of industrial property may be broadly published to manufacturers and other prospective users, significant items included in termination inventories submitted to War Department representatives (other than items for which special disposition arrangements have been made) will be listed with the Regional Offices of the War Production Board. The War Production Board will maintain in its Regional Offices an inventory file of items so reported and will advertise items of general use in the "Redistributor", a weekly bulletin published by its Regional Offices, which is distributed to a large list of manufacturers and dealers. The War Production Board will refer inquiries of prospective purchasers to the contractor or to a War Department representative, as requested. Listing of termination inventories with War Production Board imposes no additional restrictions upon the movement of the property that are not applicable to property not so listed and the reference of prospective buyers by War Production Board imposes no obligations to sell the property to such persons or to accord them any favored treatment whatever.

(a) Procedure for listing. The local authority responsible for disposition of termination inventory will transmit, or cause the contractor to transmit, to the Regional Office of the War Production Board for the region in which the property is located (see § 807.903 for the addresses of these offices and the territories within their jurisdiction) a listing of the significant items of raw materials, purchased parts and supplies included in termination inventory lists (Schedule C–1) as soon as practicable after the submission of such lists by the contractor. The listing so transmitted may be either in the form of (1) a copy of the complete list of raw materials, purchased parts and supplies (Schedule C–1, § 815.939 (a)) submitted by the contractor, or (2) a transcript of all items (i. e., any quantity of like products, materials, etc.—usually indicated by a single entry in the termination inventory list) for which the cost or estimated cost is $1,000 or more. In either case, the listing transmitted to the War Production Board should contain the following information:

General information:
- Name of contractor.
- Location of property.
- Name and address of person with whom negotiations for purchase can be conducted.

Specific information for each item:
- Adequate description in commercial terms.
- Quantity available.
- Cost per unit (as indicated by contractor).
- Condition, if other than new and excellent.

This information will generally be contained in the termination lists submitted by the contractor. Each listing transmitted to the War Department Board should be dated and assigned an identifying number by the transmitting contractor or establishment.

Although not required, significant items of jigs, tools, dies and fixtures (Schedule C–3, § 815.939 (c)) that have general use, may be listed with War Production Board under the procedure stated above. Items of work-in-process (Schedule C–2, § 815.939 (b)) will not be so listed.

(b) Advice of disposal. For each item that it regards as significant, War Production Board will prepare an inventory slip (WPB Form 2206) and return a copy to the contractor or War Department representative who transmitted the listing. When items for which an inventory slip has been returned by the War Production Board are disposed of or otherwise withdrawn from availability, the inventory slip will be promptly sent to the Regional Office of the War Production Board with appropriate notation in accordance with the instructions printed thereon. If a part only of the item has been disposed of, that fact will be noted on the inventory slip and the War Production Board will return a new inventory slip for the remainder. When the items remaining undisposed of are reported to a Disposal Agency as surplus (see § 807.702) the remaining inventory slips will be returned to the Regional Office of the War Production Board under cover of a memorandum stating the name and address of the Regional Office of the Disposal Agency to which reported, and the date and serial number of the report.

§ 807.205 Pricing policies. The following statement of general policy applicable to the sale of termination inventories has been issued by the Surplus War Property Administrator:

> There is one matter of great urgency • • • with respect to which an immediate declaration of policy is believed to be required. This concerns the disposal by or under the authority of a contracting agency of the government, of property becoming available as the result of the termination of a war contract by that agency.

Such termination inventories are becoming available for sale in considerable quantities at the present time. The opportunity to dispose of much of this property is certainly more favorable now than it will be later, and the public interest will be served if it can be sold now and directly from the plant of the contractor where it is located.

I understand that these termination inventories are not now being sold as rapidly or in as large quantities as is desirable, and that this stems in large part from a feeling on the part of contracting and termination officers in the field that they lack a definable policy for making such sales and that they may be criticized for the exercise of boldness and initiative in turning over the property, which results in unwillingness to authorize sales except at prices so high as to be often unobtainable.

Being satisfied that the Government and the public should give the fullest measure of support and encouragement to the disposal of termination inventories at this time, so that they will not both occupy valuable storage space and complicate the future surplus problem at a time when the supply will be greater and the demand smaller, I have issued a statement of policy which I enclose. It is designed to give the strongest impetus to prompt sales of termination inventories to or by contractors consistent with intelligent protection of the public interest. It presupposes a reasonable effort to ascertain and obtain going market values, but makes it clear that where the circumstances preclude this, as they very often will, contracting officers are not subject to criticism for selling, subject to the reasonable requirements set forth in the policy statement, at the best prices reasonably obtainable, even though this may sometimes require going far below cost or nominal market.

The regulations pertaining to sales of termination inventories other than scrap prescribed by the Surplus War Property Administrator are set forth in § 807.206. The pricing and review regulations set forth in §§ 807.206, 807.207 and 807.208 apply to the approval of retention of property by the contractor, as well as to sales.

§ 807.206 Specific price regulations—(a) Sale of termination inventories where total amount of termination claim is less than $10,000. Sales of any property included in termination inventories, in any case where the entire amount involved in the termination claim before disposal credits is less than $10,000, will be made or approved at the best price obtainable in the judgment of the officer approving the sale, or, in the case of subcontracts as to which the power of approving the termination settlement has been delegated to a contractor of a higher tier, in the judgment of such contractor.

(b) Sales of nominal quantities. Sales of any items or groups of items may be made or approved at the best price obtainable when the estimated cost of all substantially similar items available for sale at any one location at any one time does not exceed $1,000.

(c) Other sales of termination inventories—(1) Crude or simple raw materials. Sales of crude or simple raw materials (such as raw cotton, pig iron, electrolytic copper or sulphur) which are freely traded in, and for which there is a recognizable market price, will not be made or approved at less than the going market price, as nearly as it can be determined by reasonable effort within a reasonable time, taking in account packing, handling, and transportation costs. A list of such materials is being prepared by the Surplus War Property Administration and will be published in this part when available.

(2) Other property. Sales of property other than crude or simple raw materials, may be made or approved to any buyer at the best price obtainable in excess of 75 per cent of (i) cost, estimated if not known or (ii) the price which the buyer would have to pay for an equivalent quantity from a normal source of supply, whichever is lower.

(3) Sales of property, other than crude or simple raw materials, which cannot be disposed of within a reasonable time on the terms stated in subparagraph (2) above, may be made or approved at the best price obtainable to any buyer who will use or consume the property in the United States for manufacturing, construction, maintenance or repair purposes, and who will agree that if he does not use or consume it, he will not resell it at a profit. Written contracts of sale made under the authority of this subparagraph will contain such an agreement.

§ 807.207 General pricing regulations. To the extent authorized by the foregoing regulations of the Surplus War Property Administrator, termination inventories will be disposed of at fair and reasonable prices within the ceiling prices established by the Office of Price Administration and consistent with the expeditious disposal of property. In determining whether a price is fair and reasonable, the officer making or approving the sale should consider all pertinent factors, including such of the following as he deems relevant in the particular case:

(1) Physical condition of the property.
(2) Obsolescence.
(3) Freight necessary to be absorbed by purchaser to permit resale or use of the property, over amount which would be paid in normal commercial purchase.
(4) Value of the property for a converted use.
(5) Distributing commissions, handling charges, or profit allowances necessary to effect disposition through dealers or distributors.
(6) In case of sales to original suppliers, allowances to cover profit and cost of handling and resale.
(7) Cost of storage and amount of depreciation or deterioration if property is not sold.
(8) Market prices and price trends.
(9) Volume of similar property offered at the time.
(10) Effect of purchases from the Government upon prices which buyer must pay to other suppliers for the balance of his requirements.
(11) Value of post-sale services or guarantees offered by commercial suppliers and not obtainable from the Government.
(12) Inventory hazards and carrying charges of the purchaser.

In determining whether to make or approve a sale, consideration will be given to the present value, resale value, and probable demand for the property in all the circumstances, rather than to cost. Officers making or approving sales must be realistic about values and should recognize that disposal prices will, in many instances, bear little if any relationship to cost to the Government.

Officers making and approving sales and Disposal Boards will be supported by higher authority in the exercise of their honest judgment.

§ 807.208 Review and approval of sales. Sales made or approved under this section will be subject to prior review and approval by a disposal board established in accordance with § 807.105, in all cases where:

(1) The cost (estimated if not known) of the property to be disposed of in the sale exceeds $100,000 and it is proposed to sell such property below such cost or estimated cost, less freight and handling charges.

(2) The cost (estimated if not known) of the property to be disposed of in the sale exceeds $10,000 and it is proposed to sell at more than 25% below such cost, or estimated cost, less freight and handling charges.

For the purposes of determining whether or not a sale shall be submitted for the review and approval of a disposal board, sales of a single item and simultaneously negotiated sales of different items to a single buyer or of the same item to several buyers shall be considered as a single sale.

(a) Sales and transfers which need not be reviewed. The review and approval required by § 807.208 applies only to sales of serviceable property. The following transfers and sales may be made or approved without review:

(1) Sales made at specific prices established by, or with the approval of, the Surplus War Property Administrator;

(2) Sales to a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor for the account of the Government;

(3) Sales of termination inventories to a Government agency;

(4) Transfers between War Department components or to the Navy Department, the Civil Aeronautics Administration or other Government agency, whether or not the transfer of funds is required.

(5) Transfers of surplus property to a Disposal Agency for purposes of disposal;

(6) Sales of nonrepairable property or salvage under applicable War Department Regulations.

(b) Review at chief of service level. Chiefs of technical services may require or permit review by Diposal Boards established in their offices pursuant to § 807.106 where the cost (estimated, if not known) of the property to be disposed of exceeds $500,000 and it is proposed to sell at more than 25% below such cost.

(c) Disposition of surplus. Any termination inventory transferred to the Government or for which the Government assumes storage responsibility pursuant to Subpart F–1 of Part 15, which has not been disposed of under § 807.202 at the time of such transfer or assumption of storage responsibility will be deemed surplus, and, with the exception of stockpile materials, will be promptly disposed of in accordance with Subpart G of this part.

§ 807.210 Action to be taken on stockpile materials.—(a) Report of stockpile materials. When any of the materials listed in § 807.909 (herein referred to as "stockpile materials") are included in termination inventories in quantities equal to or in excess of the "minimum quantities" therein indicated and are not disposed of prior to transfer to the Government or assumption of storage responsibility by the Government, they will be reported to the chief of technical service having jurisdiction over the property, and held for disposition instructions. Such request for instructions will be made in triplicate by the field installation concerned on W.D., A.G.O. Form 257. A sample of this form, together with instructions for preparation, is set forth in § 807.909 (a). Copies of the form may be requisitioned from Adjutant General's Depots.

(b) Action by chief of service. Upon receipt of W.D., A.G.O. Form 257 covering any lot of stockpile materials, the chief of technical service concerned will take the following action:

(1) Execute First Indorsement thereto and forward two copies to the Director, Production Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, who has been designated by the Under Secretary of War as the administrator of War Department stockpile materials, for disposition instructions.

(2) If the Director, Production Division, issues instructions to hold the material for stockpile, the chief of technical service concerned will:

(i) Arrange for permanent storage of the material;

(ii) Issue appropriate instructions to the field installation concerned to accomplish permanent storage;

(iii) Advise the Director, Production Division, of the location and manner of storage;

(iv) Dispose of the material only upon specific authorization of the Director, Production Division.

(3) If the Director, Production Division, issues instructions not to hold the material for stockpile, the chief of technical service concerned will issue instructions to the field installation of origin to dispose of the material in accordance with Subpart G.

(c) Action to be expedited. It is imperative that action under paragraphs (b) and (c) be expedited in all echelons in order that double handling of stockpile materials may be avoided.

SUBPART C—DISPOSITION OF PROPERTY FOR PURPOSES DIRECTLY RELATED TO THE PROSECUTION OF THE WAR

§ 807.300 Scope of subpart. This subpart relates to the disposition of property for the purpose of enabling it to be used directly in the prosecution of the war. Such disposition may be made of both military and non-military property, without regard to its serviceability or state of supply. The authority herein granted may be exercised without first obtaining from the Chief of Staff a certificate under the Act of June 28, 1940, Title I, section 14–a (54 Stat. 681, 10 U. S. C. 1262a). The authority to dispose of property under this subpart is subject to the provisions of Subpart G which limit the disposition of property after reporting to a disposal agency as surplus.

§ 807.301 Sale to war contractors. The chiefs of the technical services are authorized, when it is determined by them that such action will facilitate the prosecution of the war, to make contracts by negotiation for the sale of, and to sell to manufacturers and suppliers having war contracts, including employees and suppliers of war contractors, and to employees of the Government engaged in war production, any machine tool equipment, processing equipment, uniforms, safety clothing and equipment, plant protective clothing and other special articles necessary to persons employed in or otherwise connected with war industries or establishments, manufacturing aids, raw materials, manufactured materials or other materials or facilities presently owned or hereafter acquired by the Government. Such sales shall, however, be made only for the purpose of facilitating the performance of such war contracts or war production. All such contracts will recite that they are entered into pursuant to the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001.

(a) Pricing policies. Any sale made under § 807.301 shall be made in compliance with the provisions of §§ 807.206 and 807.207.

(b) Review of sale. Any sale made under this section shall be made in compliance with the provisions of § 807.208.

§ 807.302 Sales to Red Cross and U. S. O. The chiefs of the technical services are authorized to make contracts by negotiation and to sell to the Red Cross and the United Service Organization any military, subsistence, or other supplies or property which the chief of the technical service finds is needed by such institution in connection with its activities with the Army, provided that no such sale of military property will be made without the prior approval of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces (Stock Control Division), or in the case of the Army Air Forces property, the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, or his delegate or delegates. All such contracts will recite that they are entered into pursuant to the First War Powers Act and Executive Order No. 9001.

§ 807.303 Other sales. Sales for purposes directly related to the prosecution of the war, other than those authorized by §§ 807.301 and 807.302, may be made by the chiefs of the technical services provided that the approval of the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, is first obtained.

§ 807.304 Leases. Under the First War Powers Act, 1941, and Executive Order No. 9001, and section 1 of the act of July 2, 1940 (Public No. 703, 76th Congress) as continued in effect by section 13 of the act of June 5, 1942 (Public No. 580, 77th Congress), the chiefs of the technical services are authorized, when it is determined by them that such action will facilitate the prosecution of the war:

(a) To include in supply contracts the Government-Owned Facilities article prescribed in § 803.332, subject to the regulations set forth as notes to § 803.332 and to other applicable sections of these procurement regulations (see Part 810 for approvals of higher authority which must be obtained in certain cases);

(b) To enter into separate lease agreements (i. e., agreements not made part of supply contracts), as authorized by Part 810.

§ 807.305 Leases under other statutes. Authority for the execution of lease agreements may be found in certain statutes other than those mentioned in § 807.304. See AR 850–30 for the terms of those statutes.

§ 807.306 Disposition by contractors. The chiefs of the technical services are authorized, when it is determined by them that insertion of such provision will facilitate the prosecution of the war or is necessary to carry out the purposes specified in section 1 of the act of July 2, 1940 (Public Law 703, 76th Congress, 54 Stat. 712), to insert in cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts and subcontracts heretofore or hereafter executed, the clause set forth in § 803.363, and any property may be disposed of by contractors pursuant to such clause.

§ 807.307 Transfer to other Federal agencies. Any property not declared or deemed surplus, may upon the requisition of another Federal agency made pursuant to section 7 (a) of the act of May 21, 1920 (41 Stat. 613) as amended by section 601 of the act of June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 417) and by the act of June 20, 1942 (Public Law 670, 77th Congress, 56 Stat. 661, 31 U. S. C. 686), be transferred to such agency in accordance with said section: Provided, That military property will be transferred only with the approval or pursuant to regulations of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces (Stock Control Division), or, in the case of the Army Air Forces, the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, or his delegate or delegates.

§ 807.308 Transfer to other War Department components. Any property may, by direction of the chief of the technical service having control thereof, be transferred to another War Department component which has need of such property and makes request therefor: Provided, That military property will be transferred only with the approval or pursuant to regulations of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces (Stock Control Division), or, in the case of military property of the Army Air Forces, the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, or his delegate or delegates. Regulations prescribed by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, governing the transfer of military property of Army Service Forces between War Department components are set forth in ASF AG Letter SPX 300.8 (13 November 1943) OB-P-SPDDP-MB-A, 18 November 1943, Subject: Policy Governing Transfer of Military Property between Technical Services.

§ 807.309 Transfers to and from Navy. Upon request from the Navy, any property may be transferred to the Navy with the approval of the chief of the technical service concerned and any property requested by the chief of the technical service concerned may be accepted from the Navy. Such transfers of property to the Navy will be made only with the approval or pursuant to regulations of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces (Stock Control Division), as to military property of Army Service Forces, and the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, or his delegate or delegates, as to military property of the Army Air Forces.

§ 807.310 Transfers to Civil Aeronautics Administration. Any property may, by direction of the chief of the technical service having control thereof, be loaned or transferred to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics upon written request from him stating that the property will be used in carrying out the purposes of the Civilian Pilot Training Act of 1939 as amended (49 U. S. C. sec. 756). Such transfers will be made only with the approval or pursuant to regulations of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces (Stock Control Division), as to military property of Army Service Forces, and the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, or his delegate or delegates, as to military property of the Army Air Forces:

§ 807.311 Transfers with reimbursement. Transfers of property under § 807.307 will be effected with reimbursement pursuant to the statutes therein cited. Transfers of property permitted under §§ 807.308 and 807.309 will be effected with reimbursement of, or transfer or allotment of funds to, the transferor by the transferee,

(a) Where property is transferred to any War Department agency for use in connection with civil functions administered by the War Department, or,

(b) In any case where the property is procured by the transferor for the transferee:

(1) By assignment of sole purchase responsibility;

(2) Under procurement pooling arrangements;

(3) Under any arrangement for procurement by the transferor expressly upon the prior requisition of the transferee.

§ 807.312 Transfers without reimbursement. Transfers of property permitted under §§ 807.308 and 807.309 under circumstances other than those specified under § 807.311, and transfers of property permitted under § 807.310, will be effected without any reimbursement of, or transfer or allotment of funds to, the transferor by the transferee, for either the cost of the property or of packing, handling, or transportation.

§ 807.313 Procedure for transfers without reimbursement. Officers authorized to transfer or direct the transfer of property without reimbursement under § 807.312 will prepare written orders, listing in detail the property to be transferred, copies of which will be furnished to the Accountable Property Officer and the receiving officers. Such orders will contain a request that the authority directing the transfer be advised of any discrepancies between the order and the property shipped or received. A copy of such orders will be used as a valid debit or credit voucher to property accounts. It will not be necessary to list for fiscal or property accounting purposes dollar values of property transferred without reimbursement.

§ 807.314 Gifts and loans of drawings and other property. (a) The chiefs of the technical services are authorized, without further approval, to give or lend drawings, manufacturing and other information and samples of supplies and equipment to be manufactured or furnished, to contractors and private firms which are or may likely be manufacturers or furnishers of supplies and equipment for the use of the War Department under approved production plans.

(b) Whenever they determine that such action will facilitate the prosecution of the war, the chiefs of technical services are authorized to give or lend, by appropriate written agreement reciting such determination, to organizations engaged in experimental research, testing, or developing, such items and any other material, supplies or equipments for use in connection therewith, provided that if in the case of a gift the estimated value of the property in question exceeds $1,000, or, in the case of a loan, $50,000, the approval of the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, will first be obtained.

(c) The Commanding General, Army Air Forces, whenever he determines that such action will facilitate the prosecution of the war, may authorize the transfer, loan, bailment or lease, by appropriate written agreement reciting such determination, of aircraft, aircraft engines, or aircraft equipment or matériel, without limitation as to the value thereof, to Army Air Forces contractors for the purpose of experimental research, testing or development, training of contractor's personnel, or urgent transportation requirements of such contractors in connection with the performance of their war contracts.

§ 807.315 Exchange of property. The chiefs of technical services are authorized to make any exchanges of property which are authorized by the following statutes: 39 Stat. 635, 10 U.S.C. 1271; 40 Stat. 43, 849, 10 U.S.C. 1272; 38 Stat. 1064, 10 U.S.C. 1273; 38 Stat. 1161, 41 U.S.C. 26; 50 Stat. 64, 5 U.S.C. 118d; 53 Stat. 739, 10 U.S.C. 1271(a); 44 Stat. 680, 10 U.S.C. 1209, 1210, act of July 2, 1940, Public 703, 76th Congress, as extended by the act of June 5, 1942, Public 580, 77th Congress; section 203 of the act approved June 26, 1943, Public Law No. 90, 78th Congress. Any other exchanges will be submitted for the approval of the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

SUBPART D—DISPOSITION OF NON-REPAIRABLE PROPERTY

§ 807.400 Scope of subpart. This subpart provides the authority and procedures for disposing of nonrepairable property. It is of special importance in connection with the disposition of termination inventories as it covers the disposal of property classified as scrap. The memorandum of the Under Secretary of War set forth in § 815.350 (b) and the provisions of § 815.855 state the policy of the War Department with respect to the scrapping of termination inventory.

§ 807.401 Non-military property other than current production scrap. (a) Government-owned non-military property other than current production scrap may be classified as non-repairable by the submission of a list of the property involved to an authorized officer and the execution thereon by such officer of the following certificate:

It is my opinion that the property listed hereon is (include (1) or (2), whichever is appropriate)

(1) used or damaged beyond economic repair

(2) obsolete or so specialized in design or otherwise of such a nature that it has no reasonable use except as scrap and is therefore properly classified as non-repairable non-military property in accordance with the provisions of Procurement Regulation No. 7, and that its condition is not due to fault or neglect.

Where the property is new but nevertheless properly classified as non-repairable, as will be the case with many obsolete items and items of work in process, the phrase following the last comma may be omitted.

The certifying officer will inspect the property or require the submission of such statement of fact and report of inspection as he deems necessary as a basis for the execution of the certificate.

(b) A copy of such list with the certificate will be furnished to the accountable property officer, and will operate as a credit voucher discharging accountability.

(c) Property so certified, except property in the possession of a contractor which is to be disposed of under § 807.403, will be turned over to a salvage officer with a copy of the list and certificate.

(d) Non-repairable property in the possession of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor may be either (1) sold to or by the contractor in accordance with the provisions of § 807.403 below, or (2) turned over to a salvage officer for disposal. In either case the certificate prescribed in paragraph (a) above will not be required. In such cases, the credit voucher to the property account will consist of a copy of the list of property turned over to a salvage officer or approved by the contracting officer for sale by the contractor, supported by the contracting officer's written advice to the accountable property officer as prescribed in paragraph 1004 (a) of the War Department Industrial Property Accounting Manual, or, if there is no question as to the responsibility of the contractor for the condition of the property, supported by written order of the contracting officer directing transfer to the salvage officer or approving the sale by the contractor.

(e) Non-repairable Government-owned property in the possession of fixed price contractors may be disposed of in the same manner as non-repairable property in the possession of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors under paragraph (d), in all cases where application of the War Department Industrial Property Accounting Manual to property in the possession of fixed-price contractors has been authorized.

§ 807.402 Current production scrap. Current production scrap, which is industrial scrap resulting from the fabricating or processing of raw materials (such as chips, cuttings, borings, and short ends of ferrous and non-ferrous metals, clippings and cuttings from wool and cotton fabric, residues from chemicals and plastics, rubber and treated fabric offal, glass, paper and lumber offal, damaged and unsuitable packing materials and containers), other than that disposed of by a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor under contract provisions, will be turned over to a salvage officer, without the certification required under § 807.401.

§ 807.403 Sale of non-repairable property by or to contractors. Any non-military property in the possession of a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor, which has been classified as non-repairable pursuant to § 807.401 above, and any contractor-owned property included in termination inventory as to which a determination to scrap has been made, may be sold by the contracting officer to the contractor, or retained or sold by the contractor with the approval of the contracting officer.

§ 807.404 Military property, and non-military property not certified under § 807.401. Military property, and non-military property which cannot be certified under § 807.401, may be classified as non-repairable and turned over to a salvage officer in accordance with the provisions of AR 35–6640, and War Department Circular No. 7, 1944.

§ 807.405 Designation of salvage officer. Chiefs of technical services may designate the salvage officer to receive and dispose of non-repairable non-military property.

§ 807.406 Disposition by salvage officers. All property turned over to a salvage officer in accordance with this subpart will be disposed of in accordance with AR 700–25, TM 38–505, and any other applicable regulations.

§ 807.407 Special procedure. Non-repairable property included in termination inventory may be disposed of by contracting officers under regulation prescribed by the chief of the technical service concerned, in lieu of being turned over to a salvage officer, provided the approval of the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, is first obtained.

§ 807.408 Review and approval of scrapping. Government-owned non-military property (other than that worn out through fair wear and tear) will not be certified as non-repairable property under § 807.401, nor will a determination to scrap contractor-owned property included in termination inventory be made, without the prior review and approval of a local disposal board if the cost (estimated if not known) of the property covered by the certificate or determination exceeds $50,000. Property will not be subdivided for the purpose of avoiding this limitation.

§ 807.409 Review at chief of service level. Disposal Boards established in the office of a chief of a technical service pursuant to § 807.106 may review certification of Government-owned non-repairable property under § 807.401, or determination to scrap contractor-owned property included in termination inventory, where the cost of the property involved (estimated if not known) exceeds $500,000.

§ 807.410 Pricing policies on sales of non-repairable property included in termination inventory. The following pricing policies prescribed by the Surplus War Property Administrator will apply to (1) the retention or sale by the contractor of non-repairable property included in termination inventory, and (2) the sale by contracting officers of such property when approval for such procedure has been obtained under § 807.407.

(a) Where total amount in settlement is less than $10,000. Sales of any non-repairable property included in termination inventories, in any case where the entire amount involved in the contract settlement before disposal credits is less than $10,000, will be made or approved at the best price obtainable in the judgment of the officer approving the sale, or in the case of subcontracts as to which the power of approving the termination settlement has been delegated to a contractor of a higher tier, in the judgment of such contractor.

(b) Large termination inventories. Sales of non-repairable property included in termination inventories where the entire amount involved in the contract settlement before disposal credits is $10,000 or more will be made in accordance with the following policies:

(1) The officer making or approving the sale or his representative shall determine, as nearly as may be possible by reasonable effort within a reasonable time, the going price of the type of scrap in question by reference to published trade indicators or inquiry among Government agencies, dealers, or other informed sources, taking into account transportation cost and sundry other charges.

(2) If it is possible to realize this price without competitive bidding the contracting officer may approve the sale.

(3) If it is not possible to obtain this price the contracting officer will arrange for sale of the property after competitive bids, reserving the right to reject all bids if in his judgment an adequate price is not offered.

(4) All sales of scrap, whatever method of sale is adopted, shall be subject to the following warranty:

The purchaser represents and warrants to the United States that the property covered by this agreement was offered as scrap, purchased by him as scrap, and that he will sell or ship or use it as scrap either in its existing condition or after further preparation and only in conformity with all applicable regulations and orders of the Office of Price Administration and the War Production Board.

In the case of contractor sales, the phrase "to the United States" should be omitted.

SUBPART E—DISPOSITION OF SERVICEABLE MILITARY PROPERTY

§ 807.500 Scope of subpart. This subpart provides authority and procedures in addition to those in Subparts C and D for the disposition of military property. In this connection, attention is called to the policy of the War Department requiring prompt disposition of excess property as stated in § 807.103.

§ 807.501 Declaration of surplus. The chiefs of the technical services are authorized to declare serviceable military property surplus with the approval of, or subject to regulations prescribed by, the Commanding General, Army Service Forces (Requirements Division), or the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, or his delegate or delegates, as to property of the Army Air Forces, and to dispose of such property in the manner provided in this subpart notwithstanding the provisions of section 14a, Chapter 440, of Title 1 of the act of June 28, 1940 (54 Stat. 681, 10 U.S.C. 1262a). The regulations prescribed by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces, governing the declaration of military property as surplus are set forth in ASF Circulars Nos. 67 (section I) and 101 (section II), 1944.

§ 807.502 Mutilation and disposition of certain military property that is unsuitable for civilian use. Because of their peculiarly military characteristics, certain items such as lethal weapons, ammunition, certain aeronautical equipment, classified articles (see AR 380–5), and distinctive articles of the uniform, cannot be released for civilian use when they are declared surplus, but must be mutilated and scrapped, disarmed, stripped of their military characteristics, altered and declassified, or otherwise made suitable for nonmilitary use before they are disposed of. When such items are declared surplus, the authority declaring them surplus will give specific directions for the mutilation, alteration, disarming, stripping, cannibalization or other action to be accomplished before disposal; and will give further specific directions as follows:

(a) If, in his judgment, the items, or the residue thereof, will have no reasonable use except as scrap after such mutilation, etc., he will direct that the items, or the residue thereof, be turned over to the local salvage officer for disposal as scrap in accordance with applicable salvage regulations. (See AR 35–6520, par. 5b (5), for accounting procedure.)

(b) If, in his judgment, the items or any part thereof will have value for civilian use after such mutilation, etc., he will direct that they be disposed of as surplus after the accomplishment of such mutilation, etc.

§ 807.503 Disposition of surplus. Military property declared surplus and not directed to be disposed of as scrap will be disposed of in accordance with Subpart G. (See AR 35–6520, par. 5b (4) for accounting procedure.)

SUBPART F—DISPOSITION OF SERVICEABLE NON-MILITARY PROPERTY OTHER THAN TERMINATION INVENTORY

§ 807.600 Scope of subpart. This subpart provides authority and procedures for disposing of non-military property other than termination inventories, in addition to those set forth in Subparts C and D. In this connection attention is called to the policy of the War Department set forth in § 807.103 requiring constant and active review of non-military property on hand and in the process of manufacture and prompt disposition of excess property.

§ 807.601 Circularization. When it has been determined that items of non-military property are not required for an immediately or definitely forseeable need at the point of use, action will be immediately taken to redistribute such items within the technical service concerned or to return the property to a direct war use in accordance with Subpart C. When such items cannot be so redistributed promptly to fill known requirements or requirements that can be ascertained by informal inquiry (which should be localized and expedited to the greatest extent practicable), the circularization procedures established in this subpart will be promptly instituted and vigorously pursued. It is intended that circularization will be effected contemporaneously within the technical service of origin and among other technical services, to the fullest extent practicable. The chiefs of the technical services will designate the offices within their respective services which will originate circularization lists and the intervals of time at which circularization lists will be originated. In no event will any item of production or utility equipment (see § 807.601 (a) (1)) be withheld from circularization for a period in excess of 60 days after it becomes idle, unless (1) it is comprised in a complete industrial installation that has been reported as excess under War Department Circular No. 8, 1944, (see § 807.601 (e)) or that has been authorized to be held as standby, or (2) it has been placed on a schedule of items authorized to be held as War Reserve, or (3) the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, has been advised that the equipment is being withheld from circularization for a stated future use, or for other stated reasons.

(a) Circularization lists. Circularization lists will be divided into Part 1, Part 2, Part 3, Part 4, and Part X. Property listed under the respective subdivisions will be referred to as "part 1 property", "part 2 property", and so forth.

(1) Part 1 will include all items of production equipment and utility equipment.

(i) Production equipment includes the following:

Machine tools.
Metal working machinery.
Cleaning and spraying equipment.
Compressors and vacuum pumps.
Industrial pumps.
Industrial conveying machinery.
Engines and turbines, general purpose.
Heat exchangers.
Optical machinery.
Industrial cranes and hoists.
Thermal driers and dehydraters.

Fans, blowers and exhausters, industrial types.
Pressure and vacuum filters.
Pressure vessels (other than boilers).
Electric motors, integral horsepower, and electric motor controls.
Power conversion equipment.
Foundry equipment.
Heat treating equipment.
Welding and cutting equipment, industrial types.
Crushing, pulverizing, screening and mixing equipment and machinery, industrial types.
Special industry machinery (specialized machinery for food products, pulp and paper, printing trades, rubber working, petroleum, ceramics, glass, shoemaking, textile, tanning, pharmaceutical, chemical and other special industries).

(ii) Utility equipment includes major items of equipment used in the generating, processing, transmission or distribution of electricity, gas and water, and in the disposal of sewage.

(2) Part 2 will include all construction equipment of a standard type not so restricted in design as to render it unsuitable for non-military use of a recurring nature. Such construction equipment includes, but is not limited to, drilling and boring equipment, earth and rock, including core drills, rock drills, churn drills, earth bores and horizontal augers; power cranes and shovels, drag lines, buckets, stiff-leg derricks, and dredges; scrapers, maintainers, and graders; tractors, track-laying and wheel types; tractor-mounted construction equipment including angledozers, bulldozers, and power control units; winches and hoists, contractors elevating, road brooms, concrete buggies and carts, bins, centerline marking equipment, road discs, ditchers, aggregate dryers, joint and crack filling machinery, road forms, form tamping machines, mud jacks, portable snow loaders, tamping rollers, scarifiers, concrete towers, contractors' crawler wagons, and similar equipment; construction material mixers, spreaders, pavers, surfacers, finishers, tampers, vibrators, and related construction machinery; construction material processing equipment, including asphalt plants and portable crushers.

(3) Part 3 will include all items not included in Parts 1, 2 or 4, which, in the judgment of the technical service concerned, have a reasonably foreseeable use for industrial or military purposes or for civilian supply and which cannot practicably and expeditiously be redistributed without wide circularization.

(4) Part 4 will include controlled materials in the forms and shapes and in the minimum quantities set forth in § 807.901. Part 4 will be subdivided into

Part 4A, consisting of steel;
Part 4B, consisting of copper and copper base alloy; and Part 4C, consisting of aluminum.

Circularization lists of Part 4 property will be prepared substantially in the form set forth in § 807.901 (a), (b) and (c).

(5) Part X will include all items not included in Parts 1, 2, 3, and 4.

(b) Description and coding. (1) Circularization lists will be on 8 x 10½ paper and will contain the following information:

(i) Name of issuing office together with the station identification number and appropriate letter symbol of the technical service concerned.

(ii) Serial number of list. Each issuing office will serially number each list circularized beginning with the number 1.

(iii) Date of circularization, which will be the date of transmittal required under § 807.601 (c).

(iv) Serial number of items or lots. Items or lots will be serially numbered under each part of each list.

(v) Description of items or lots. Descriptions will comprise such information as would be required by the controlling technical service if it were procuring the property, including, when pertinent, name of manufacturer, manufacturer's catalog number if available, identification numbers, location, age, condition, quantity and cost per unit if available.

(vi) Specific instructions by which an interested agency may be guided in negotiating sale or transfer of property reported. Names, mail and telephone addresses of officers authorized to carry on negotiations, may be either included in each list circularized or published in bulletin form by the technical service concerned to all recipients of the lists.

(2) For the purpose of convenient abbreviation in communications regarding property circularized, items may be identified by code, which will include in sequence, the station identification number and the letter symbol of the issuing office, serial number of list, part of list, serial number of item. For example a particular heat exchanger listed as the second item of Part 1 of the third list circularized by an office of Ordnance Department, having station identification number "12345" would be identified as "12345–Ord–3–1–2."

(c) Transmittal of lists. Circularization will be accomplished by transmitting copies of Circularization Lists as follows:

(1) Parts 1 and 3 to the offices listed in § 807.902.

(2) Part 2 to the Redistribution and Salvage Officer, Office of the Chief of Engineers (3 copies) and to Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces (3 copies).

(3) Part 4 to Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces (3 copies), and to the Regional Office of War Production Board for the region in which the property is located. The addresses of such Regional Offices and the territories within their jurisdiction are set forth in § 807.903.

(4) Part X to Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, to procurement offices of other technical services at such levels and within such geographical areas as the technical service concerned deems desirable, and to the Regional Office of War Production Board for the region in which the property is located.

(5) Transmittal of Circularization Lists to War Production Board is required for the sole purpose of advertising the availability of excess property to military agencies, war contractors and others to whom disposition is permitted under Subpart C of this part. Such transmittal does not impose any restrictions upon the movement of the property included therein that are not otherwise imposed by applicable regulations of War Production Board, nor does it impose any obligation to sell or transfer to any prospective purchaser or transferee referred by the War Production Board to the War Department representative responsible for disposal or to accord them any favored treatment whatever.

(d) Certain items as to which circularization may be limited or eliminated. The following types of non-military property (in addition to termination inventories) may be omitted from general circularization lists:

(1) Items that are peculiar to a technical service and which, in the judgment of the chief of the technical service concerned, have no value to other technical services or their contractors. Such items, when determined, by means of limited circularization or otherwise, to be excess to the technical service concerned, will be deemed surplus without further action and disposed of in accordance with Subpart G.

(2) Single items or groups of items, where the cost, estimated if not known, of all substantially similar items in excess at any one time and at any one place does not exceed $100. Such items will be deemed surplus without further action and disposed of in accordance with § 807.701.

(e) Certain equipment not to be circularized without prior approval. Part 1 property comprised in a complete industrial installation reported as excess under War Department Circular No. 8, 1944, will not be circularized under this subpart unless such circularization has been approved or directed by the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(f) Certain equipment that may be turned over to another technical service for redistribution. Production equipment may be turned over to Ordnance Department, and utility equipment and construction equipment may be turned over to the Corps of Engineers, when such equipment is determined, by means of limited circularization or otherwise, to be excess to the technical service concerned. The Chief of Ordnance and the Chief of Engineers, respectively, will accept physical delivery, accountability and responsibility for utilization, storage as necessary, redistribution and disposal of equipment so turned over. If general circularization under § 807.601 has been initiated by the technical service of origin prior to turning over the property, the action required by this subpart will be completed by the Chief of Ordnance or the Chief of Engineers, as the case may be. If general circularization under § 807.601 has not been initiated by the technical service of origin prior to turning over the property, the action required by this subpart will be promptly initiated by the Chief of Ordnance as to items turned over to Ordnance Department for which requirements cannot be promptly ascertained, and by the Chief of Engineers as to items turned over to the Corps of Engineers for which requirements cannot be promptly ascertained. The procedure for turning over such equipment to Ordnance Department is set forth in section VIII, ASF Circular No. 4, 1944, and to the Corps of Engineers in section III, ASF Circular No. 28, 1944.

(g) Circularization period. The period of 60 days after transmittal of Circularization Lists is established as the circularization period for Part 1 property, and the period of 30 days after the transmittal of Circularization Lists is established as the circularization period for Parts 2, 3 and 4, and X property.

§ 807.602 Disposition during circularization period. Before the termination of the circularization period, the technical service concerned will determine what property included in Circularization Lists should be retained for present or definitely forseeable needs within such service for military or industrial purposes, or for authorized stockpile or War Reserve, and will withdraw such property from availability. Property which is not so withdrawn may be disposed of during the circularization period in accordance with the provisions of Subpart C of this part. The Chief of Engineers is specifically charged with acquiring items of Part 2 property not withdrawn under the first sentence of this paragraph which are suitable for troop use or tactical operations.

§ 807.603 Disposition after circularization period. Upon the termination of the circularization period, non-military property which has not been withdrawn or disposed of under § 807.602 will be deemed surplus, without further action, and, with the exception of stockpile materials, will be promptly disposed of in accordance with Subpart G.

(a) Action to be taken on stockpile materials. Stockpile materials in excess of the minimum quantities indicated in § 807.909 at any one location will be reported by the chief of technical service concerned to the Director, Production Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for disposition instructions. W.D., A.G.O. Form 257 will be used for this purpose. After reporting, the chief of technical service concerned will take action in accordance with the provision of § 807.210 (b).

§ 807.604 Deviation from regulations in exceptional cases. When adherence to the regulations prescribed in this subpart would impede the expeditious return of unneeded industrial property to use in the war effort, the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, is authorized to permit deviation therefrom with respect to the disposition of classes or particular items of industrial property. Applications under this section will include the following:

(a) A description of the class of items, or in the case of particular items, a reference to the list in which the items have been listed, or a description of the items in accordance with § 807.601(b)(1)(v) if they have not been listed.

(b) A statement of the circumstances indicating the desirability of deviation from the procedures established in this subpart.

§ 807.605 Non-military property peculiar to Army Air Forces. This subpart does not apply to non-military property peculiar to aircraft production to the extent that any of the provisions hereof may be inconsistent with procedures established for the redistribution of such property by or under the direction of the Aircraft Resources Control Office of the Aircraft Production Board or the Surplus War Property Administration.

SUBPART G—DISPOSAL OF SURPLUS PROPERTY

§ 807.700 General. Under its Regulation No. 1, effective 15 May 1944, the Surplus War Property Administration has assigned responsibility for disposal of surplus property among disposal agencies as indicated in § 807.904 and has established procedures for reporting surplus property to these disposal agencies. When property has been determined to be surplus under the procedures established under Subparts B, E and F of this part, action will be promptly taken to dispose of nominal quantities of property in accordance with § 807.701 and to report the remaining surplus property to the appropriate disposal agencies in accordance with § 807.702.

§ 807.701 Disposal of nominal quantities. Single items or groups of items of surplus property, where the cost, estimated if not known, of all substantially similar items in surplus at any one time and at any one place does not exceed $100, will be turned over to the local salvage officer (or to the contracting officer, where there is no local salvage officer) for sale. Sales of such property by the local salvage officer will be made in accordance with regulations applicable to the sale of salvage, except that all documents relating to such sales will be clearly marked to indicate sale of surplus property. Sales of such property by the contracting officer will be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the chief of the technical service concerned.

§ 807.702 Reporting to disposing agency. Surplus property other than that required to be disposed of under § 807.701 will be promptly reported to disposal agencies as follows:

(a) Ships, small watercraft and related property. Surplus ships of commercial design or susceptible to commercial use will be reported to the United States Maritime Commission, Attention: Captain R. J. Moran, Director, Division of Small Vessel Procurement, Washington 25, D. C. Before reporting, detailed instructions as to descriptive matter and other information to be supplied will be obtained from that office. Small watercraft and other property assigned to the Maritime Commission as set forth in § 807.904 will be reported to the United States Martime Commission, Attention: Mr. E. W. Gorman, Assistant to the Director of the Procurement Division, Washington 25, D. C.

(b) Aircraft and related property. Surplus aircraft and gliders, aircraft engines, propellers, and spare parts, special components, and subassemblies of aircraft and gliders, will be reported to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Attention: Surplus Property Director, Washington 25, D. C.

(c) Food and related property. Surplus food and related property assigned to War Food Administration as set forth in § 807.904 will be reported to the Regional Office of the War Food Administration for the region in which the property is located. The addresses of the Regional Offices of the War Food Administration and the territories within their jurisdiction are set forth in § 807.906.

(d) Military property other than aircraft, food and ships. Military property other than aircraft, food and commercial ships will be reported to Reconstruction Finance Corporation or Procurement Division, Treasury Department, in accordance with the assignments set forth in § 807.904. By far the greater part of such property will consist of items of the type assigned to Procurement Division, Treasury Department for disposal. Where it is considered impracticable to segregate items of military property assigned to Reconstruction Finance Corporation, they may be included in reports to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department.

Reports will be made to the Regional Office of the appropriate Disposal Agency for the region in which the property is located. The addresses of the Regional Offices of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and Procurement Division, Treasury Department, respectively, and the territories within their jurisdiction, are set forth in §§ 807.907 and 807.908.

Surplus military property under the jurisdiction of technical services of Army Service Forces (see ASF Circular No. 67, section I, 1944) which is in stock at depots and at installations below depot level will be reported by the depot. Installations below depot level will furnish the appropriate depot with information necessary for the reporting of surplus property in stock below depot level. Surplus military property under the jurisdiction of commanding generals of Army Service Forces service commands (see ASF Circular No. 101, section II, 1944) will be reported by the service commander.

(e) Non-military property other than termination inventories—(1) Part 1 property; production and utility equipment. Surplus Part 1 property will be reported to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Attention: George F. Buskie, 811 Vermont Avenue, N.W., Washington 25, D. C. As an interim procedure, reports of surplus Part 1 property will be submitted through Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. Three copies will be transmitted to Readjustment Division, two of which will be forwarded to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and one retained for information purposes.

(2) Part 2 property; construction equipment. Surplus Part 2 property will be reported to the Regional Office of the Procurement Division, Treasury Department, for the region in which the property is located.

(3) Part 4 property; controlled materials. Surplus Part 4 property will be reported to the Regional Office of Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the region in which the property is located.

(4) Part 3 and X property. Surplus Part 3 and X property other than aircraft, food and commercial ships, will be reported to Reconstruction Finance Corporation or Procurement Division, Treasury Department in accordance with the assignments set forth in § 807.904. Reports will be transmitted to the Regional Office of the appropriate Disposal Agency for the region in which the property is located. The assignments of those items likely to be included in Parts 3 and X are as follows:

Procurement Division, Treasury Department:
- Paper and paper products.
- Cotton, wool and linen basic textiles, and fabricated textile products.
- Basic metal products as follows:
  - Barbed and twisted wire.
  - Woven wire and chain link fencing and fence posts.
  - Insect screening.
  - Wire springs.
  - Wire hoops.
  - Chain and attachments.
  - Nails, tacks and staples.
  - Bolts, nuts, screws, rivets, washers, turnbuckles, eyelets and grommets.
  - Strapping.
  - Builders basic hardware and casket, furniture, and trunk and luggage hardware.
- Glass, pottery and ceramic basic materials and products.
- Rubber fabricated materials and products.
- Containers, closures and packing materials.
- Industrial trucks, tractors, trailers, stackers and accessories.
- Agricultural machinery and implements.
- Motor vehicles, engines, parts, components, assemblies and accessories.
- Plumbing and heating materials and equipment.
- Commercial and household electric appliances, lamps and dry cell and storage batteries.
- Commercial and domestic air-conditioning and refrigerating equipment.
- Hand tools and mechanics measuring tools.
- Office machines, typewriters, cash registers, calculating and computing scales.
- Furniture and fixtures.
- Professional and scientific instruments and apparatus.
- Apparel and footwear.

Reconstruction Finance Corporation:
- Leather, and boot and shoe cut stock and findings.
- Lumber, veneer, plywood and millwork.

Reconstruction Finance Corporation—Con.
- Petroleum and petroleum products.
- Chemicals.
- Paints, varnishes, lacquers, japans, thinners, pigments, driers, fillers and related products.
- Ferro and nonferrous additive alloys.
- Nonferrous metals (except aluminum, copper and copper-base alloy).
- Fabricated structural iron and steel and architectural metal work.
- Power boilers.
- Storage tanks.
- Insulated wire and cable.
- Basic non-metallic structural products.
- Abrasives.
- Asbestos basic products.
- Graphite and carbon basic products.
- Refractories.
- Mechanical power-transmission equipment and bearings.
- Electric motors, fractional horsepower.
- Electrical building supplies.
- Communication equipment.
- Railroad transportation equipment.
- Indicating, recording and controlling instruments.

(f) Termination inventory. Surplus termination inventory will be reported to the Regional Office of Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the region in which the property is located.

§ 807.703 Report forms. All reports of surplus property to disposal agencies will be made on Forms SWPA–1 and SWPA–1 (A). Copies of these forms, together with instructions for preparation, are set forth in § 807.905. These forms will be available in Adjutant General's Depots after 1 July 1944. Optional use of Treasury Department Form 812 is permitted on reports to Procurement Division, Treasury Department, until Forms SWPA–1 and SWPA–1 (A) are available.

§ 807.704 Transmittal of reports. Reports of surplus property will be transmitted to Procurement Division, Treasury Department, in triplicate and to other disposal agencies in duplicate, with information copy to the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

§ 807.705 Action after reporting. After the property has been reported to a disposal agency, the field installation concerned will hold the property subject to disposition instructions from the disposal agency.

§ 807.706 Withdrawal for further use. Property which has been reported to a disposal agency may be withdrawn for further use by the technical service of origin or for transfer to another component of the War Department, with the consent of the disposal agency to which the property was reported. Immediately upon the withdrawal of property under this paragraph, a withdrawal report will be transmitted to the disposal agency to which the property was originally reported as surplus. Withdrawal reports will be prepared and transmitted in the same manner as surplus reports, except that the word "withdrawal" will be entered conspicuously at the top right hand margin of the report form.

§ 807.707 Disposal by disposal agency. The disposal agencies will dispose of all property reported as surplus that is not withdrawn under § 807.706 (except as provided in § 807.710)). Disposal may be effected directly from War Department storage or after removal to storage facilities of the disposal agencies. All echelons will extend the fullest cooperation to the disposal agencies in this connection. Liaison will be promptly established between field establishments handling surplus property and the field agencies of the disposal agencies. Provisions will be made for furnishing additional information to disposal agencies and exhibiting the property to the fullest extent practicable upon request of a disposal agency.

§ 807.708 Shipment after disposal. When property has been disposed of by a disposal agency, or when the disposal agency takes custody of the property prior to disposal, the disposal agency will issue appropriate shipping instructions to the office designated in the surplus report as the "shipping office." The War Department is not required to, and should not, repair, recondition or reprocess surplus property, nor assume the expense of transportation, although the use of War Department transportation facilities in moving surplus property into storage facilities of a disposal agency is authorized when the convenience of the War Department will be served thereby and when the use of such transportation facilities will not interfere with the normal military functions of the installation concerned. Although the disposal agency, or the consignee to whom delivery is directed, will ordinarily bear the expenses of preparation for shipment, the field installation concerned may prepare the property for shipment without reimbursement, if it so desires. When requested by the disposal agency, copies of bills of lading or other shipping documents and advice as to date of shipment will be furnished the disposal agency.

§ 807.709 Fiscal procedures. The War Department will not be reimbursed for surplus property delivered to or upon the direction of a disposal agency. A copy of the shipping document, together with a copy of the shipping instructions received from the disposal agency will constitute a valid credit voucher to property accounts.

§ 807.710 Clearance for sale by War Department. When special circumstances, such as danger of deterioration or sanitary or other hazard, or urgent requirement for storage space for military supplies, make immediate sale by the War Department desirable, application may be made to the appropriate disposal agency for clearance of the property for direct sale by the War Department. Such applications will only be made through or with the approval of the Director, Readjustment Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

(a) Sale after clearance. Property which a disposal agency has cleared for sale may be sold by negotiated sale. The chief of the technical service obtaining clearance may direct that the property be sold by a particular officer or that it be sold in a particular manner. In the absence of such directions, sales will be made by the local salvage officer in accordance with regulations applicable to the sale of salvage, except that all documents relating to such sales will be clearly marked to indicate sale of surplus property.

APPENDIX

§ 807.901 Items to be included in lists of Part 4 property.

PART 4A—CARBON AND ALLOY STEEL

Forms and Shapes	Minimum quantity per item of a single size and grade
Carbon steel:
Bars, cold finished	2,000 pounds.
Bars, hot rolled
Ingots, billets, blooms, slabs, tube rounds, skelp and sheet and tin bar.
Pipe (new only)
Plates
Sheets and strip
Structural shapes and piling
Tin plate, terne plate, and tin mill black plate.
Wire rods, wire .0475 inch diameter and up, and other wire products.
Tubing, 1¼ inch diameter and up (new only).
Tubing under 1¼ inch diameter (new only).	1,000 feet.
Wire under .0475 inch diameter.	500 pounds.
All tool steel	100 pounds.
Alloy steel:
Bars, cold finished	2,000 pounds.
Bars, hot rolled
Ingots, billets, blooms, slabs, tube rounds, sheet bar.
Pipe (new only)
Plates and structural shapes
Sheets and strip
Wire rods, wire .0475 inch diameter and up, and other wire products.	2,000 pounds.
Tubing 1½ inch diameter and up.
Tubing under 1½ inch diameter.	1,000 feet.
Wire under .0475 inch diameter.	500 pounds.
All stainless steel
All tool steel	100 pounds.

PART 4B—COPPER AND COPPER BASE ALLOY

Brass Mill Copper Base Alloy Products:
Sheet and strip	500 pounds.
Rods, bars and wire (including extruded shapes, not including slugs).
Tubing and Pipe
Brass Mill Copper Products:
Plate, sheets and strip
Rods, bars and extruded shapes (excluding wire bars and ingots bars).
Tube and pipe
Wire Mill Copper Products:
Wire and cable (including insulated wire and cable).
Foundary Copper and Copper Base Alloy Products:
Castings

PART 4C—ALUMINUM

Rod, bar, wire and cable	300 pounds.
Forgings, pressings and impact extrusions.
Castings
Shapes, rolled or extruded
Sheet, strip, plate and foil Tubing
Ingot and powder
Rivets

NOTE: Smaller quantities than those above listed, but not less than the following, may be included in Part 4, if desired by the Technical Service concerned:

Carbon Steel:
Structural and plates	500 pounds.
Bar, sheet and strip, pipe and tube, and wire.	100 pounds.
Tool steel	25 pounds.
Alloy Steel:
Tool steel	25 pounds.
All other	100 pounds.
Copper and Copper Base Alloy	100 pounds.
Aluminum	100 pounds.

§ 807.904 Assignment of property to disposal agencies. Assignment of property to disposal agencies is set forth in this section as published in Exhibit I to Regulation No. 1 of the Surplus War Property Administration under the following prefatory notes:

The assignments herein contained are based on the classifications contained in the Standard Commodity Classification (Government Printing Office, May 1943 and February 1944). That Classification contains a number of so-called major groups, which are designated by two digits only (such as 01—Live Animals; 65—Drugs and Medicines). These major groups in turn are broken down into classes of property represented by the two digits of the major group plus additional digits (such as 65 48—Marine liver oil, etc.). All of the major groups now being assigned are listed in this Exhibit, but only such of the lesser groups are listed as are necessary to carve out of a major group assigned to one agency types of property included therein which are assigned to another. For a complete breakdown of each major group, reference must be made to the Standard Commodity Classification itself.

It should further be noted that for reporting purposes, while reference to this Exhibit is necessary to ascertain the proper disposal agency, one report may include all property in a major group (two digits) at one location which is assigned to a single disposal agency.

(Instructions Appearing on Reverse of Form SWPA–1)

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARATION OF REPORT OF SURPLUS PROPERTY, FORMS SWPA–1 AND SWPA-1(a)

The property listed on any one report will be confined to property at a single location, to be reported to one disposal agency, and classified in a single major group (two digits) of Standard Commodity Classification (Government Printing Office, May 1943 and February 1944).

If used to report withdrawals, the word "Withdrawal" will be entered conspicuously at top and right-hand margin of each Form.

From—Include department, bureau, or similar subdivision. Also, if different from reporting office, state agent or office and address to which shipping instructions should be sent.

Location—Include title or other identification of property custodian.

Standard Commodity Classification Code No.—Enter the code number (two digits) for the major group of Standard Commodity Classification covered by the report.

Line No.—Enter consecutive numbers (starting with "1" on each page) for each property item listed.

Description—Describe each item in commercial terms in sufficient detail for transfer or sale purposes, including customary trade specifications and descriptions used in purchasing. Descriptions of much length should be written straight across columns (b) to (h) inclusive; entries in all columns shall be clearly identifiable with the related line number (property item). See separate instructions.

Leave a blank line space across all columns between successive line numbers or property items.

Standard Commodity Classification, Column (c)—Detailed classification code will be entered by reporting agency when it determines that such procedure is most practicable. In all other cases, the detailed code will be entered by the disposal agency.

Condition—Indicate condition of property as prescribed by separate instructions.

Unit—Indicate unit of measure for container, package, or other customary sales unit, such as, each, doz., ft., bbl., etc. Distinguish between long, short, and metric tons. Standard, clearly understandable abbreviations may be used.

Unit cost—Estimate cost when actual cost is not known. Estimated unit costs will be indicated by the prefix (E). In case of machine tools, other metal working machinery, and production equipment, enter unit costs f. o. b. manufacturer or vendor.

REPORT OF SURPLUS PROPERTY

(Continuation Sheet)

Line number (A)	Description (B)	St'd commodity class (C)	Condition (D)	Unit (E)	Number of units (F)	Unit cost (G)	Total cost (H)

(c) Instructions covering preparation of report of surplus property. Instructions covering preparation of report of surplus property as published in Exhibit III to Regulation No. 1 of the Surplus War Property Administration are set forth below with certain bracketed matter supplied:

FORMS TO BE USED IN REPORTING PERSONAL PROPERTY

1. The "Report of Surplus Property" (Forms SWPA–1 and SWPA–1 (A)) will be used as follows for reporting surplus personal property to the designated disposal agencies:

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

2. As the actual schedule of personal property items reported "Surplus" by reporting agency.

3. As the "cover-transmittal" sheet (block headings of Form SWPA–1 should be filled in as prescribed below) for supporting schedules prepared by means of mechanical accounting when the mechanical accounting form has been approved by the Surplus War Property Administrator. In such cases, the columnar arrangement and design of the mechanical type of forms shall correspond generally with Form SWPA–1.

4. As the "cover-transmittal" sheet (block headings of Form SWPA–1 should be filled in so far as possible) for reporting personal property surplus as the result of terminated contracts on "contract termination inventory sheets" when such sheets meet all of the following requirements:

(a) Contain all descriptive and other data required by this regulation in columns "a" through "h" of Form SWPA–1;

(b) Have been previously approved as to form for use as supporting schedules by the Surplus War Property Administrator [The Surplus War Property Administrator has approved War Department Termination Inventory Schedules C–1, C–2 and C–3 (W. D. A. G. O. Forms Nos. 247, 248 and 249) for use as supporting schedules. Accordingly, surplus termination inventory may be reported on these forms under cover of a Form SWPA–1, on which the block headings have been filled in];

(c) Duplicate copies are submitted to the disposal agency;

(d) The total number of lines for property items reported as surplus on the "contract termination inventory sheets" (after lining out or otherwise deleting from such sheets any items disposed of by reason of contract settlements or otherwise) are stated on the covering Form SWPA–1.

5. The property listed on any one report shall be confined to property at a single location, to be reported to one disposal agency, and classified in a single major group (two digits) of Standard Commodity Classification (Government Printing Office, May 1943 and February 1944) [The Surplus War Property Administrator has authorized the War Department—

(a) To report all surplus termination inventory to Reconstruction Finance Corporation;

(b) To include in a single report all surplus property comprised in a single termination inventory at a single location. Separate reports need not be submitted for each major group of the Standard Commodity Classification;

(c) To include in a single report all surplus property at a single location to be reported to United States Maritime Commission and War Food Administration, respectively. Separate reports need not be submitted for each major group of the Standard Commodity Classification.

In case of surplus property other than termination inventory to be reported to Reconstruction Finance Corporation or Procurement Division, Treasury Department, separate reports will be submitted for each major group where the property falls into more than one major group of the Standard Commodity Classification].

6. The "Report of Surplus Property" (and any supporting schedules) will be submitted in duplicate to the appropriate office of the designated disposal agency, for the region in which the property is located or other designated office listed in Exhibit II. [See §§ 807.906 to 807.908 for addresses of Regional Offices of Disposal Agencies. As an interim procedure, reports to Treasury Procurement Division will be submitted in triplicate, until further notice.]

7. When Form SWPA–1 is used as the actual schedule of property (as in 2 above), "continuation sheets" Form SWPA–1 (A) will be used for all pages except the first page.

8. Withdrawals: An owning agency will report the withdrawal of property which it has previously reported as surplus by forwarding duplicate copies of complete (all blocks and columns filled in as when previously reported) Forms SWPA–1 and SWPA–1 (A) for such property withdrawn, the word "Withdrawal" will be entered conspicuously at the top and right-hand margin of such forms.

BLOCK AND COLUMN INSTRUCTIONS

To—State the name and address (including street, city, zone and state) of the office of the disposal agency to which the property is being reported.

Disposal Agency Number—For use by disposal agency only.

From—State the name and address (including street number, city, zone and state) of the office at which the report was prepared. Always show department, bureau, office or other similar sub-division involved. Also, if different, state agent or office and address to which shipping instructions should be sent.

Location—State the address (including street number, city, zone and state) at which the property is located and the title or other identification of the property custodian.

Authorized Reporting Official—The signature of the reporting officer approving the report of surplus property shall appear in this space on the original form and his typewritten name on all copies of the form.

Title—Enter the title of the "authorized reporting official" described above.

Reporting Agency Number—Enter the report number assigned by the reporting agency to identify each report. [War Department reports will be numbered as follows: station identification number of field installation having jurisdiction of the property, followed by letter symbol of technical service, followed by serial number of report.]

Standard Commodity Classification Code No.—Enter the code number (two digits) for the major group of Standard Commodity Classification covered by the report.

Page No. of—To identify each page and state local number of pages in each report.

Report Date—Enter date report is forwarded to disposal agency.

Total Cost This Report—The sum of all amounts in column "h" (total cost) of all pages of the report (and supporting schedules) will be determined and entered in this block.

(a) Line No.—Enter consecutive numbers (starting with "1" on each page) for each property item listed.

(b) Description—Describe each item in commercial terms, in sufficient detail for transfer or sale purposes, including customary trade specifications and descriptions ordinarily used in purchasing. When possible, include manufacturer's or vendor's catalog and catalog stock number.

State reporting agency's stock number in all cases where recorded in stock accounting records.

To the extent applicable, state color and brand. Also describe exactly the type of any containers or packages and the quantities in each.

In case of machine tools, other metal-working machinery and production equipment, give date of initial use, if possible, or approximate length of time of use; also show characteristics as follows:

(1) Type of machine, serial number and year built; (2) Maker's designation, work size capacity; (3) State if machine is complete with standard equipment as furnished by the manufacturer, and describe any extra attachments, special features, or mechanisms; (4) Power and type of drive (if electric, give particulars of motor, starter, including horsepower, voltage and all other current characteristics.)

All descriptions of much length should be written straight across columns (b) to (h) inclusive, making sure that the entries in all columns are clearly identifiable with the particular line number (property item). Leave a blank line space between line numbers (for use of disposal agency).

(c) Standard Commodity Classification—The detailed classification code numbers for each item according to the Standard Commodity Classification (Gov't. Printing Office, May 1943 and February 1944) will be entered by the reporting agency when it determines that such procedure is most practicable. In all other cases, the detailed code numbers will be entered by the disposal agency.

(d) Condition—Indicate condition of property by the following letter-number code.

Code	Means:
N	New
E	Used-reconditioned
O	Used-usable without repairs
R	Used-repairs required
X	Items of no further value for use as originally intended, but of possible value other than as scrap.
1	Excellent
2	Good
3	Fair
4	Poor

Except in case of code X, a letter-number combination must always be used to describe condition: For example: N1 (that is, new and in excellent condition); R3 (that is, used, minor repairs required).

(e) Unit—Indicate unit of measure for the container, package or other applicable customary sales unit, such as each, pounds, tons, dozen, gross, thousand, ream, bushel, feet, etc. Distinguish between long, short and metric tons. Standard, clearly understandable abbreviations may be used.

(f) No. of Unit—Specify the quantities of each item reported surplus in terms of the "Unit" used in "e" above.

(g) Unit Cost—Estimated cost when actual cost is not known. Estimated unit costs shall be indicated by the prefix (E). In case of machine tools, other metal-working machinery and production equipment, enter unit cost F.O.B. manufacturer or vendor to owning agency.

(h) Total Cost—Compute total cost, i. e., "No. of Units" multiplied by "Unit Cost" equals "Total Cost."

ACKNOWLEDGMENT OF RECEIPT

The receipt of each "Report of Surplus" by the disposal agency will be acknowledged to the reporting office, e.g., by a post card notice stating the reporting agency's number, date of report, and the disposal agency's number.

Aluminum ingot	50,000 pounds	Primary or secondary refined metal (99 percent minimum Al).
Antimony	25 short tons	Refined metal, needle antimony, antimony sulfide, antimony ores and concentrates.
Asbestos:
Rhodesian chrysolite	5 short tons	Commercial grades C & G/1, C & G/2 unfabricated.
South African amosite	5 short tons	Commercial grades B–1, B–3, D–3, 3DM–1 unfabricated.
Bauxite	25 long tons	Commercial grade A.
Beryl	5 short tons	Bery) ore (minimum 8 percent BeO), beryllium oxide, beryllium metal.
Bismuth	5 pounds	Bismuth metal, pharmaceutical compounds.
Cadmium	5 pounds	Metal in sticks, ingots, slabs, ball anodes or other refined forms.
Calcite, optical	100 pounds	Clear, flawless crystals, Minimum 1½" diameter.
Chromite:
Chemical grade	25 long tons	Commercial ore or concentrates. Dry chromium chemicals.
Metallurgical grade	25 long tons	Ore (42 percent minimum Cr_2O_3, 2.8 minimum Cr/Fe ratio), ferrochromium, chromium metal.
Refractory grade	25 long tons	All commercial grades.
Chalk, English	10 short tons	Any.
Clay, English China	10 short tons	All commercial grades.
Cobalt	2,000 pounds cobalt content	Refined metal, oxide, ores, concentrates, crudes.
Columbite	500 pounds columbite content.	Ore (45 percent minimum Cb_2O_5 Ferrocolumbium).
Copper	25 short tons	All primary copper refinery forms. Ingot and other heavy mill forms. Also cartridge (70–30) brass ingot, mill forms.
Cordage fibers: Manila and sisal	400 pounds or 1 bale	Fiber or new cordage.
Corundum	10,000 pounds	Ore or grain.
Cryolite, natural	25 long tons	Natural ore.
Diamonds, industrial	No minimum	Stones (unset), powder, dust.
Diamond dies	No minimum	Finished dies.
Emery	25 short tons	Ore or grain. Turkish or Greek origin only.
Emetine	100 ounces	Medical Department Supply Catalog, Item Nos. 11720, A 320900, A 320830, A 321000, A 321010. Emetine in bulk.
Ergot	250 pounds	Material in bulk quantities.
Fluorspar: Acid or metallurgical	25 short tons	Commercial grades.
Graphite: Amorphous lump, 97 percent minimum.	5 short tons	Any amorphous lump (97 percent minimum C).
Crystalline fines	25 short tons	Madagascar; or domestic grades A, 1A, and 1B, smaller than 60 mesh.
Flake	5 short tons	Madagascar flake, 60 mesh or larger.
Hyoscine	25 ounces	Hyoscine hydrobromide in bulk or standard packages.
Indium	100 Troy ounces	Metal in refinery forms. Plating salts.
Iodine	2,000 pounds	Crude iodine.
Jewel bearings: Instrument rings, sapphire vees, watch rings, and other instrument and watch jewels.	No minimum	Set or unset.
Kapok	100 pounds	Raw fiber.
Kyanite, Indian	25 short tons	Ore.
Lead	25 short tons	Antimonial, common or corroding grade metal in all refinery forms. Ores and concentrates.
Magnesium ingot	50,000 pounds	Primary or secondary refined metal.
Manganese:
Battery grade	25 long tons	Commercial battery ore, lump or pulverized battery mixes not acceptable.
Metallurgical grade	25 long tons	Ore (45 percent minimum Mn).
Mercury	10 flasks	Metallic or contained in chemicals.
Mica:
Muscovite block and film, good stained and better.	No minimum	Commercial grade, larger than 1 square inch.
Muscovite block, stained and lower.	No minimum	Do.
Muscovite splittings	No minimum	Commercial grades, unbonded.
Phlogopite (amber) splittings	No minimum	Do.
Phlogopite (amber) block	No minimum	Commercial grade, larger than 1 square inch.
Molybdenum	10,000 pounds molybdenum content.	Molybdenum concentrates, oxide, calcium molybdate, ferromolybdenum, ammonium molybdate, molybdenum powder.
Monazite	5 short tons	Ore.
Nickel (including Monel)	10,000 pounds nickel content.	Refined metal in any form.
Pepper	1,000 pounds	Commercial grades, ground or unground.
Platinum group metals:
Iridium	No minimum	Refined iridium or alloys with other platinum group metals. Crudes or semi-refined forms.
Osmium	No minimum	Refined osmium or alloys with other platinum group metals. Crudes or semi-finished forms.
Palladium	No minimum	Refined palladium or alloys with other platinum group metals. Crudes or semi-refined forms.
Platinum	No minimum	Refined platinum or alloys with other platinum group metals. Crudes or semi-refined forms.
Rhodium	No minimum	Refined rhodium or alloys with other platinum group metals. Crudes or semi-refined forms.
Ruthenium	No minimum	Refined ruthenium or alloys with other platinum group metals. Crudes or semi-finished forms.
Quartz crystals: Radio grade	No minimum	Oscillator plates and blanks (active) NBS grades 1, 2, and 3 crude quartz crystals.
Quebracho	5 long tons	Extract in bulk.
Quinidine sulfate	25 ounces	Medical Department Supply Catalog, Item No. 13870, material in bulk.
Quinine	100 ounces	Medical Department Supply Catalog, Item Nos. 13900, 13910, 13900–17, 13900–03, 13900–05, A–717000, A–71650o, A–716600. Quinine sulfate or hydrochloride in bulk.

Material	Minimum quantity	Specific types and grades
Rubber: Crude rubber and natural rubber, latex.	5 long tons	Any.
Rutile	5 short tons	Ore or concentrates.
Sapphire (natural and synthetic)	No minimum	Any suitable for jewel bearings.
Selenium	1,000 pounds	Commercial forms or compounds.
Shellac	10,000 pounds	Bulk shellac of all grades (dry flake).
Strontium, celestite	25 short tons	Ores.
Talc:
Steatite, block or lava	10 short tons	Quality suitable for electronic tube spacers, minimum 3-pound pieces.
Steatite, ground	5 short tons	Any.
Tantalite	100 pounds tantalite content.	Tantalite ore, potassium tantalum fluoride, tantalum oxide, tantalum metal powder.

INSTRUCTIONS

A separate request will be filed for each lot of material. A lot is defined as any quantity to which the same analysis or other measure of quality applies. Report all material at a given location if the total of all lots at that location equals or exceeds the minimum shown in § 807.909.

In completing items 4 thru 16, any available Government records, or contractor's or supplier's records made available to the Government, will be referred to in order that the information will be as complete and specific as possible. A proper determination of suitability for stockpiling will depend upon having specific information. No actual analysis or other tests, other than visual inspection, need be carried out in order to complete the information.

The following instructions refer to the corresponding items in the request form and indorsements thereto:

4 and 5—Use terminology as in § 807.909, col. 1. Leave 5 blank if not applicable.

6—State quantity of lot in commercial unit and show unit. State whether quantity applies to the gross weight or to the contained weight of the material named in 4.

7—Show an actual analysis of record, or a guaranteed analysis, if available, and state which. If none available, so state.

8—Where 4 is generic term, show here the commercial name of the actual subject material. i. e. where 4 is "vanadium", 8 might be "fused black vanadium oxide" or "ferrovanadium".

10—Quote the source of authority for the analysis shown in 7.

11—Where 7 is not available, show a recognized specification under which the material was purchased.

17—Inclose any inspection records or other documents which would add to the information shown in 4 thru 16.

22—The chief of service will serial number, upon receipt, all lots of a given material and sub-group handled thru his office, regardless of the originating field installation. This will be used for reference in any necessary separate communications.

33—State whether stored in the open (and if so, whether on the ground or on a pavement), in an open shed or in an enclosed building. State also, where applicable, any precautions taken to prevent loss or damage by the elements.

34—Responsible War Department Office or Officer.

35—Repeat item 15 unless material has been packed or repacked or unless condition of packages has changed.

Three copies of each request will be sent by the requesting field installation to the responsible Chief of Service. After completing 1st indorsement, Chief of Service will forward two copies to the Director, Production Division, Headquarters Army Service Forces.

Remarks:

W. D. A. G. O., Form No. 256

(a) Instructions as to monthly report of redistribution and disposal of excess and surplus serviceable property. There are set forth in the succeeding subparagraphs instructions with respect to the information to be contained on the various lines of the report form. Subparagraph (I–1) contains instructions with respect to section I, line 1. Subparagraph (H–2) contains instructions with respect to section II, line 2, etc.

(I–1) Enter the cost of excess and surplus serviceable property of all types on hand at the beginning of the month available for redistribution and disposal. This figure will be identical with that reported on line 13 of the report for the preceding month.

(I–2) Enter the cost of additional excess and surplus property made available for redistribution or disposal during the month, subdivided as to: (a) Military property; (b) Contract termination property; (c) Other nonmilitary property. Such subdivisions will be made in accordance with the following definitions:

(a) Military property to be reported by technical services of the Army Service Forces will include (1) items in excess of the established U. S. redistribution and disposal level (see sec. II, ASF Cir. 67, 1944 as amended by sec. VIII, ASF Cir. 132, and sec. VIII, ASF Cir. 169, 1944); (2) all other items processed as surplus and excess even though not over the established U. S. redistribution and disposal level, including those authorized by section I, ASF Circular No. 67, 1944, as amended by section VII, ASF Circular No. 132, 1944; (3) nonstandard commercial property declared surplus by depot commanders and not yet disposed of (sec. II, ASF Cir. 101, 1944). Military property to be reported by service commands includes all excess property available for redistribution by the service command, and all surplus property which has been declared surplus by the commanding general of the service command (sec. II, ASF Cir. 101).

(b) Contract termination property will include Government-owned property made available for redistribution or disposal due to contract termination, including (1) Government free issue and Government furnished equipment on fixed price contracts; (2) property made available under terminated CPFF contracts; and (3) that portion of contractor-owned property to which title has been taken by the Government (see line V-28).

(c) Other nonmilitary property will consist of that which becomes excess or surplus for other reasons and from other sources.

(I–3) Enter the cost of property withdrawn from available excess and surplus serviceable property during the month for the following reasons: (a) Redistributed within the reporting agency; (b) transfers to war reserve and stockpile; (c) transfers to salvage. Such subdivisions will be made in accordance with the following definitions:

(a) Property redistributed within the reporting technical service or service command during the month.

(b) Military property transferred to war reserve during the month in accordance with section VIII, ASF Circular No. 132, 1944, the cost of nonmilitary property transferred to war reserve in accordance with procedures prescribed by the Commanding General, Army Service Forces (Production Division).

(c) The cost of property (previously included as serviceable property) transferred to salvage officers for disposal.

(I–4) Enter any adjustment made necessary by errors in previously reported figures which are required to correct the amount shown as available for disposal on line 5. Explain such adjustments on the back of the report or on an attached sheet.

(I–5) Enter the balance before disposal—that is, line 1 plus line 2 minus line 3, plus or minus any adjustments shown on line 4. This represents the estimated cost of property available for disposal outside of the reporting agency.

(II–6) Enter the cost of property transferred during the month to other services as a result of circularization of items of military property (sec. I, ASF Cir. 67), and the cost of contract termination inventory and other nonmilitary property transferred to other services (§ 807.308).

(II–7) Enter the cost of property transferred during the month to the Navy Department.

(II–8) Enter the cost of property transferred during the month to or upon order of a disposal agency. This will include only the cost of property actually transferred, and will not include the cost of property reported to disposal agencies but awaiting disposal. Cost of transfers will be segregated by agency.

(II–9) Enter the cost of serviceable property sold or retained by CPFF contractors during the month.

(II–10) Enter the cost of all excess or surplus serviceable property sold by the reporting service.

(II–11) Enter cost of all excess or surplus serviceable property disposed of by any means other than those covered by the preceding lines. Explain nature of such transactions on the back of the report or on an attached sheet. Property transferred to other government agencies should be listed by agency both as to cost and realization, if any.

(II–12) Enter costs of excess or surplus property disposed of during the month (line 6 through 11).

(II–13) Enter the balance available for disposal at the end of the month (line 5 minus line 12).

(III–14) Enter the receipts from sales or retentions of serviceable property by CPFF contractors, the costs of which appear on line 9.

(III–15) Enter the receipts from sales of property by the War Department, the costs of which appear on line 10.

(IV–16 to 21) Enter the costs of surplus property reported to the named disposal agency during the month, and the cost of property on hand at the end of the month which has been reported to the disposal agency but not moved. The latter figure will include the cost of property reported in previous months as well as that reported during the current month.

(IV–22) Enter total of lines 16 through 21.

(IV–23) Enter the cost of property declared surplus during the month. This will include military property declared surplus either with the approval of the Commanding General, Army Service Forces (Requirements Division), or by authority granted to the chiefs of technical services (see sec. VII, ASF Cir. 132, 1944); military property declared surplus by depot commanders as authorized by section II, ASF Circular No. 101; other military property declared surplus by the commanding generals of service commands and contract termination property deemed surplus in accordance with § 807.209.

(V–24) Enter the cost of contractor-owned termination property reported on inventory listings (submitted in conection with contract terminations) which have not been disposed of at the first of the month.

(V–25) Enter the cost of contractor-owned property reported on inventory listings in connection with contract terminations during the month.

(V–26) Enter the cost of contract termination property sold or retained by the contractor during the month as other than scrap and the realization through disposal credits resulting from such transactions.

(V–27) Enter the cost of contract termination property sold or retained by the contractor as scrap and the realization through disposal credits resulting from such transactions.

(V–28) Enter the cost of contractor-owned property resulting from contract termination, title to which was taken by the Government during the month.

(V–29) Enter balance of contractor-owned property yet to be disposed of (line 24, plus line 25, minus line 26, minus line 27, minus line 28).

This part does not purport to include all material necessary to a decision as to the scope of any of the Federal excise taxes referred to herein. In cases of doubt, the Treasury Regulations should be consulted. If additional assistance is required, it may be obtained from the Tax Division, Office of The Judge Advocate General, Washington, D. C., if not available within the technical service concerned.

§ 808.802 Manufacturers' excise taxes. (Chapter 29, IRC; Regulations 44 and 46; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., Parts 314 and 316). Rates: Various. See following paragraphs.

The manufacturers' excise taxes are set forth below in § 808.802. The tax in each case, unless otherwise specified, is imposed upon articles sold by the manufacturer, producer or importer, and is equivalent to the indicated per cent of the price for which the article is sold. The rates specified are those effective since 1 November 1942, except in the case of the tax on electric light bulbs and tubes (§ 808.802 (i)), the rate of which was changed effective 1 April 1944.

(a) Tires and inner tubes. (Sec. 3400, IRC; Regulation 46, Subpart D; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.30–316.32).

(1) Tires wholly or in part of rubber (exclusive of metal rims or rim bases): 5 cents a pound on total weight.

(2) Inner tubes (for tires) wholly or in part of rubber: 9 cents a pound on total weight.

The term "rubber" includes synthetic and substitute rubber.

(b) Automobiles, buses, trucks, trailers, motorcycles. (Sec. 3403, IRC; Regulations 46, Subpart F; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.50–316.57).

(1) Automobile truck chassis, automobile truck bodies, automobile bus chassis, automobile bus bodies, truck and bus trailer and semitrailer chassis, truck and bus trailer and semitrailer bodies, tractors of the kind chiefly used for highway transportation in combination with a trailer or semitrailer (including in each of the above cases parts or accessories therefor sold on or in connection therewith or with the sale thereof)—5%. A sale of an automobile truck, bus, or truck or bus trailer or semitrailer, shall be considered to be a sale of the chassis and of the body.

(2) Other automobile chassis and bodies, chassis and bodies for trailers or semitrailers suitable for use in connection with passenger automobiles, and motorcycles (including in each case parts or accessories therefor sold on or in connection therewith or with the sale thereof), except tractors—7%. A sale of an automobile, trailer, or semitrailer shall be considered to be a sale of the chassis and of the body.

(3) Parts or accessories (other than tires and inner tubes and other than radios) for any of the articles enumerated in subparagraphs (1) or (2)—5%. Spark plugs, storage batteries, leaf springs, coils, timers, and tire chains, which are suitable for use on or in connection with, or as component parts of, any of the articles enumerated in subparagraphs (1) and (2) shall be considered parts or accessories for such articles, whether or not primarily adapted for such use.

(4) The following items are not subject to this tax:

(i) Motor-driven machines designed and adapted for use in pulling or drawing vehicles around the premises of factories and railway stations, and small trucks for handling baggage and trunks at railway stations, as distinguished from automotive vehicles, including tractors, used on highways and roads. (Sec. 316.50, Regulations 46; 26 CFR, Cum, Supp., 316.50).

(ii) Parts and accessories (which term does not include tires, inner tubes and automobile radios) sold to a manufacturer of articles enumerated in subparagraphs (1) and (2) above, provided an appropriate certificate of the purchaser is given to the seller, stating that the purchaser is a manufacturer of such articles. (Sec. 3403 (c), IRC; Sec. 316.57, Regulations 46; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.57).

(5) Where a manufacturer sells tax-paid tires, inner tubes and automobile radios on or in connection with or with the sale of automobile trucks, other automobiles, taxable tractors, or motorcycles, he may take appropriate credit against the tax due on his sale. (Sec. 3403 (e), IRC; Sec. 316.54, Regulations 46; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.54).

(c) Radio receiving sets, phonographs, phonograph records and musical instruments. (Sec. 3404, IRC; Regulations 46, Subpart G; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp.; 316.60–316.64). Rate: 10%.

(1) Radio receiving sets, automobile radio receiving sets, combination radio and phonograph set, and phonographs.

(2) Chassis, cabinets, tubes, reproducing units, power packs, antennae of the "built in" type, and phonograph mechanisms, which are suitable for use on or in connection with, or as component parts of, any of the articles enumerated in subparagraph (1), whether or not primarily adapted for such use.

(3) Phonograph records.

(4) Musical instruments.

including in each case, except in the case of musical instruments, parts or accessories therefor sold on or in connection with the sale thereof.

(d) Refrigerators, refrigerating apparatus and air conditioners. (Sec. 3405, IRC; Regulations 46, Subpart H; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.70–316.73). Rate: 10%.

(1) Refrigerators. Household type refrigerators (for single or multiple cabinet installations) having, or being primarily designed for use with, a mechanical refrigerating unit operated by electricity, gas, kerosene, or gasoline.

(2) Refrigerating apparatus. Cabinets, compressors, condensors, evaporators, expansion units, absorbers, and controls for, or suitable for use as parts of or with, household type refrigerators of the kind described in subparagraph (1) except when sold as component parts of complete refrigerators or refrigerating or cooling apparatus.

(3) Air-conditioners. Self-contained air-conditioning units including in each case parts or accessories therefor sold on or in connection with the sale thereof.

(e) Sporting goods. (Sec. 3406 (a) (1), IRC; Regulations 46, Subpart J; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.90–316.91). Rate: 10%.

(i) Electric light bulbs and tubes. (Sec. 3406 (a) (10), IRC; Regulations 46, Subpart S; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.180–316.181). Rate: 20%. Electric light bulbs and tubes, not including articles taxable under any other Manufacturers' excise tax.

(j) Firearms, shells, cartridges. (Sec. 3407, IRC; Regulations 46, Subpart I; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.80–316.82). Rate: 11%. Firearms (except pistols and revolvers, as to which see § 808.803), shells and cartridges.

(k) Matches. (Sec. 3409, IRC; Regulations 44, Subpart F; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.50–314.52).

(1) Fancy wooden matches and wooden matches having a stained, dyed, or colored stick or stem, packed in boxes or in bulk—5½ cents per 1,000 matches.

(2) All matches other than those enumerated above—2 cents per 1,000 matches.

(l) Electrical energy for domestic or commercial consumption. (Sec. 3411, IRC; Regulations 46, Subpart T; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.190–316.194). Rate: 3⅛%.

(1) Tax is imposed upon electrical energy sold for domestic or commercial consumption and not for resale.

(2) The term "electrical energy sold for domestic or commercial consumption" does not include (i) electrical energy sold for industrial consumption, e. g., for use in manufacturing, mining, refining, shipbuilding, building construction, irrigation, etc., or (ii) that sold for other uses which likewise cannot be classed as domestic or commercial, such as electrical energy used by electric and gas companies, waterworks, telegraph, telephone and radio communication companies, railroads, etc. (Sec. 316.190, Regulations 46; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.190).

(3) The tax does not apply to sales of electrical energy for resale, except where the electrical energy is sold to an owner or lessee of a building for resale to the tenants therein.

(4) The tax does not apply to publicly owned electric or power plants, or to electric or power plants or systems owned and operated by cooperative or nonprofit corporations engaged in rural electrification.

(m) Gasoline. (Sec. 3412, IRC; Regulations 44, Subpart D; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.30–314.35).

Rate: 1½ cents a gallon.

(1) Tax is imposed on gasoline sold by the producer or importer thereof, or by any producer of gasoline. The term "gasoline" means (i) all products commonly or commercially known or sold as gasoline (including casinghead and natural gasoline), benzol, benzene, or naphtha, regardless of their classifications or uses; and (ii) any other liquid of a kind prepared, advertised, offered for sale or sold for use as, or used as, a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes, except that it does not include any of the foregoing (other than products commonly or commercially known or sold as gasoline) sold for use otherwise than as a fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes, and otherwise than in the manufacture or production of such fuel and does not include products commonly or commercially known or sold as kerosene, gas oil, or fuel oil. Further definitions, referring to the thermometer readings, octane ratings and other specifications are found in sec. 314.30, Regulations 44; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.30.

(2) Gasoline may be sold tax free by a producer of gasoline to other producers of gasoline, provided the producers are properly registered and bonded and an appropriate certificate in this connection is furnished the seller. (Sec. 314.32, Regulations 44; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.32).

(3) Tax does not attach to products (other than those referred to in §808.802 (m) (a) (1)) sold direct for use otherwise than as fuel for the propulsion of motor vehicles, motor boats, or airplanes and otherwise than in the manufacture or production of such fuel, provided an appropriate certificate in this connection is furnished the seller. (Sec. 314.33, Regulations 44; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.33). Exemption from tax discussed in this subparagraph (3) will not be claimed, contract prices will not exclude taxes on the basis of such an exemption and proof of such an exemption will not be furnished contractors.

(n) Lubricating oils. (Sec. 3413, IRC; Regulations 44, Subpart E; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.40–314.44). Rate: 6 cents a gallon.

(1) Tax is imposed upon lubricating oils sold by the manufacturer or producer. The term "lubricating oil" includes all oils, regardless of their origin, which are sold as lubricating oil and all oils which are suitable for use as a lubricant, but does not include products of the type commonly known as grease. (Sec.314.40, Regulation 44; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp. 314.40).

(2) Lubricating oils may be sold tax free by the manufacturer or producer thereof direct to another such manufacturer or producer for resale, provided the manufacturers are properly registered and bonded and an appropriate certificate in this connection is furnished the seller. (Sec. 314.42 Regulations 44; 26 CFR Cum. Supp. 314.42).

(3) No tax attaches where lubricating oils are sold direct for nonlubricating uses by the purchaser provided an appropriate certificate in this connection is furnished the seller. (Sec. 314.43 Regulations 44; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.43). Exemption from tax discussed in this paragraph (3) will not be claimed, contract prices will not exclude taxes on the basis of such an exemption and proof of such an exemption will not be furnished contractors.

(o) Basis and application of manufacturers excise taxes. (1) In general, the manufacturers' excise taxes are based on the sales price. In such cases, any charges for coverings, containers, etc., are included in the sales price for purposes of computing the tax. If the amount of the sales price is adjusted upon return to the seller of coverings or containers, the tax should also be adjusted. (Sec. 316.10, Regulations 46; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.10). The tax imposed, however, is not part of the taxable price of the article. (26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.11). Charges for transportation, delivery, insurance, installation, and similar charges are also excluded in computing the tax. (Sec. 316.12, Regulations 46; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp. 316.12).

(2) The lease of an article is considered a sale thereof. In the case of leases or installment sales, the tax is paid proportionately upon each payment. (Sec. 316.9, Regulations 46; sec. 314.4, Regulations 44; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 316.9, 314.4).

(3) The tax in general attaches when title passes from the manufacturer. (Sec. 316.5, Regulations 46; sec. 314.4, Regulations 44; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp. 316.5, 314.4). If subsequent reduction is made in the sales price, credit or refund may be obtained by the manufacturer. (Sec. 316.13, Regulations 46; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp. 316.13). Claim by a manufacturer for credit or refund must show, among other things, that the tax has not been collected from the purchaser or has been repaid to him or that his written consent to the allowance of the credit or refund has been obtained. (Sec. 316.204, Regulations 46; § 314.64, Regulations 44; (26 CFR, Cum. Supp. 316.204, 314.64)).

(4) No Manufacturers' excise tax is imposed under section 3406, Internal Revenue Code (§ 808.802 (e) to (i), inclusive), with respect to any article subject to the retailers' excise tax on sale of jewelry, etc., referred to in § 808.804 (a). (Sec. 3406, IRC).

§ 808.803 Pistols and revolvers. (Chapter 25, Subchapter A, IRC; Regulations 47; 26 CFR, and Cum. Supp., Part 302). Rate: 11%. Tax is imposed upon pistols and revolvers sold or leased by the manufacturer, producer or importer. (Sec. 2700, IRC).

§ 808.804 Retailers' excise taxes. (Chapter 19, IRC; Regulations 51; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., Part 320). Rate: 20% of price for which article is sold, except where otherwise specified. (Rate is effective 1 April 1944.) Tax is imposed upon the articles specified below in § 808.804 (a) to (d), inclusive, sold at retail. Such articles when sold to the Government for use or consumption are considered to be sold at retail.

(a) Jewelry, etc. (Sec. 2400, IRC; Regulations 51, Subpart D; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.30–320.38).

(1) All articles commonly or commercially known as jewelry, whether real or imitation; pearls, precious and semi-precious stones, and imitations thereof; articles made of, or ornamented, mounted or fitted with, precious metals or imitations thereof; watches and clocks and cases and movements therefor; gold, goldplated, silver, or sterling flatware or hollow ware, and silver-plated hollow ware; opera glasses; lorgnettes; marine glasses; field glasses; and binoculars. The rate of tax is 10% (and not 20%) of the sales price of watches selling at retail for not more than $65 and alarm clocks selling at retail for not more than $5.

(2) The tax does not apply to any article used for religious purposes, to surgical instruments, to watches designed especially for use by the blind, to frames or mountings for spectacles or eyeglasses, to a fountain pen or smokers' pipe if the only parts of the pen or the pipe which consist of precious metals are essential parts not used for ornamental purposes, or to buttons, insignia, cap devices, chin straps, and other devices prescribed for use in connection with the uniforms of the armed forces of the United States.

(3) "Opera glasses; lorgnettes; marine glasses; field glasses; and binoculars" include only those which are portable instruments. Articles known as marine glasses, field glasses and similar optical instruments which by reason of size or weight are ordinarily mounted upon tripods or other bases, are not subject to tax. (Sec. 320.36, Regulations 51; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.36).

(b) Furs. (Sec. 2401, IRC; Regulations 51, Subpart E; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.40–320.41).

(1) Articles made of fur on the hide or pelt and articles of which such fur is the component material of chief value.

(2) Where a person, who is engaged in the business of dressing or dyeing fur skins or of manufacturing, selling, or repairing fur articles, produces an article of the kind described from fur on the hide or pelt furnished, directly or indirectly, by a customer and the article is for the use of, and not for resale by, such customer, the transaction shall be deemed to be a sale at retail and the person producing the article shall be deemed to be the person selling such article at retail. The tax on such a transaction shall be computed and paid by such person upon the fair retail market value of the finished article. The Revenue Act of 1943 added, effective 1 April 1944, the provisions referred to in this subparagraph (2).

(c) Toilet preparations. (Sec. 2402, IRC; Regulations 51, Subpart F; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.50–320.52). Perfumes, essences, extracts, toilet waters, cosmetics, petroleum jellies, hair oils, pomades, hair dressings, hair restoratives, hair dyes, aromatic cachous, toilet powders, and any similar substance, article, or preparation, by whatsoever name known or distinguished; any of the above which are used or applied or intended to be used or applied for toilet purposes.

(d) Luggage. (Sec. 1651, IRC).

(1) Trunks, valises, traveling bags, suitcases, satchels, overnight bags, hat boxes for use by travelers, beach bags, bathing suit bags, brief cases, made of leather or imitation leather, and salesmen's sample and display cases.

(2) Purses, handbags, pocketbooks, wallets, billfolds, and card, pass, and key cases.

(3) Toilet cases and other cases, bags, and kits (without regard to size, shape, construction, or material from which made) for use in carrying toilet articles or articles of wearing apparel.

including in each case fittings or accessories therefor sold on or in connection with the sale thereof.

This tax first became effective 1 April 1944. For the period during which it remains in effect, the manufacturers' excise tax imposed upon luggage by section 3406 (a) (2), Internal Revenue Code, is suspended.

(e) Sales in army commissaries and exchanges. Under an agreement between the War Department and the Bureau of Internal Revenue, the latter will not attempt to collect retailers' excise taxes on sales of jewelry, furs, toilet preparations and luggage to members of the armed forces and their families and to civilian employees permanently employed on military posts, when such sales are made in army commissaries and exchanges. The War Department in turn agreed that sales of such articles in army commissaries and exchanges would not be made to casual laborers or temporary employees on military posts.

(f) Basis and application of retailers' excise taxes. (1) The retailers' excise taxes are based on the sales price. Any charges for coverings, containers, etc. shall be included in the sales price for purposes of computing the tax. If the amount of the sales price is adjusted upon return to the seller of coverings or containers, the tax should also be adjusted. (Sec. 320.6, Regulations 51; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.6). The tax imposed, however, is not part of the taxable price of the article. (Sec. 320.7, Regulations 51; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.7). Charges for transportation, delivery, insurance, installation, and similar charges are also excluded in computing the tax. (Sec. 320.8, Regulations 51; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.8)

(2) The lease of an article is considered a sale thereof. In the case of leases or instalment sales, the tax is paid proportionately upon each payment. (Sec. 320.10, Regulations 51; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.10)

(3) The tax in general attaches when title passes to the purchaser. (Sec. 320.4, Regulations 51; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.4). If subsequent reduction is made in the sales price, a credit or refund may be obtained by the seller. (Sec. 320.9, Regulations 51; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.9). Claim by a seller for credit or refund must show, among other things, that the tax has not been collected from the purchaser or has been repaid to him or that his written consent to the credit or refund has been obtained. (Sec. 320.66, Regulations 51; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 320.66).

(4) In the case of any article classifiable under more than one retailer's excise tax, only one tax on such article shall be imposed. Where the rates of such tax differ, the article shall be subject to tax at the highest rate. (Section 1653, IRC.)

§ 808.805 Tax on transportation of persons. (Chapter 30, Subchapter C, IRC; Regulations 42, Subpart F; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 130.50–130.64).

Rate: 15% of the amount paid. Tax is imposed upon the amount paid within the United States for the transportation of persons by rail, motor vehicle, water, or air, within or without the United States, and for seating or sleeping accommodations in connection with such transportation. (Sec. 3469, IRC).

(a) Basis and application of tax on transportation of persons. (1) The taxability of a payment for transportation is determined strictly by the place of payment, i. e., whether within or without the United States. The place where the transportation service is furnished has no bearing on the tax. (Sec. 130.51, Regulations 42; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 130.51).

(2) Where a payment covers other charges than for transportation of a person, such other charges may be excluded in computing the tax, provided they are separable and are shown in the exact amounts thereof in the records pertaining to the transportation charge. (Secs. 130.52 and 130.54, Regulations 42; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 130.52 and 130.54).

(3) The tax does not apply to an amount paid for transportation of freight that includes also the transportation of caretakers or messengers for which no specific charge as such is made. (Sec. 130.54 (d), Regulations 42; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp. 130.54 (d)).

(4) The tax does not apply to transportation or facilities furnished under special tariffs providing for fares of not more than 1¼ cents per mile applicable to round trip tickets sold to personnel of the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard traveling in uniform of the United States, or to members of the military or naval forces of any of the other United Nations traveling in uniform of such nation, at their own expense when on official leave, furlough, or pass, including authorized cadets and midshipmen (Sec. 3469 (f) (2) IRC).

(5) The tax does not apply to charges not exceeding 35 cents, certain commutation tickets, nor to transportation by motor vehicles with seating capacity of less than 10 and not operated on an established line. (Sec. 3469 (a) and (b), IRC; secs. 130.58–130.60, Regulations 42; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 130.58–130.60).

§ 808.806 Tax on transportation of property. (Chapter 30, Subchapter E, section 3475, IRC; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., Part 143). Rate: 3% of the amount paid, except that in the case of coal, the rate is 4 cents per short ton.

(a) Tax is imposed upon the amount paid within the United States for the transportation of property by rail, motor vehicle, water, or air from one point in the United States to another. The tax applies only to amounts paid to a person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire, including amounts paid to a freight forwarder, express company, or similar person, but does not include amounts paid by a freight forwarder, express company, or similar person for transportation with respect to which a tax on the transportation of property has previously been paid. In the case of property transported from a point without the United States to a point within the United States, the tax shall apply to the amount paid within the United States for that part of the transportation which takes place within the United States. The tax on the transportation of coal does not apply to the transportation of coal with respect to which there has been a previous taxable transportation.

(b) Effective 1 December 1943, amounts paid by or to the War Shipping Administration for the transportation of property by water from one point in the United States to another, except between points on the Great Lakes, are exempt from tax until approximately six months after the termination of hostilities.

(c) Effective 1 December 1943, the tax does not apply to amounts paid for the transportation of property to or from the American National Red Cross.

(d) Effective 1 December 1943, amounts paid for transportation of property to or from the government of a state, territory, or political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia are exempt from tax.

(e) The tax does not apply to amounts paid to the Post Office Department for the transportation of property.

(f) As to shipments on United States Government bills of lading, see § 808.810.

(a) Basis and application of tax on transportation of property—(1) Transportation. The term "transportation" means the movement of property by a person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire, including interstate, intrastate, and intracity or other local movements, as well as towing, ferrying, switching, etc. In general, it includes accessorial service furnished in connection with a transportation movement, such as loading, unloading, blocking and staking, elevation, transfer in transit, ventilation, refrigeration, icing, storage, demurrage, lighterage, trimming of cargo in vessels, wharfage, handling, feeding and watering livestock, and similar services and facilities. (Sec. 143.1 (d), Regulations 113; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 143.1 (d)).

(2) Coal. The term "coal" includes anthracite, bituminous, semi-bituminous, sub-bituminous, and lignite coal, coal dust, and coke and briquettes made from coal (Sec. 143.1 (f), Regulations 113; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 143.1 (f)).

(3) Baggage. An amount paid, in connection with the transportation of persons, for the transportation of baggage, including incidental charges on account of excess weight, excess value, storage, transfer, special delivery, etc., or an amount so paid for a special baggage or express car or other conveyance is subject to the tax on the transportation of property if separable from the payment for the transportation of persons and separately shown on the records of the carrier. Otherwise the tax on the transportation of persons (see § 808.805 (a)) applies. (Sec. 143.1 (c), Regulations 113; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 143.14 (c)).

(4) Previous taxable transportation of coal. An amount paid for the transportation of coal is not taxable if there has been a previous taxable transportation of such coal. An amount paid for the transportation of coke or briquettes made from coal is not subject to tax provided there has been a previous taxable transportation of the coal or coal dust from which such coke or briquettes were manufactured. When a person delivers to a carrier a quantity of coal for a transportation movement, and the transportation tax has previously been paid with respect to the coal so delivered, a statement to that effect shall be endorsed on the bill of lading or other shipping papers. This endorsement shall constitute authority to the carrier not to collect tax with respect to the transportation charges due on such shipment. (Sec. 143.13 (b), Regulations 113; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 143.13 (b)).

§ 808.807 Tax on transportation of oil by pipe line. (Chapter 30, Subchapter A, IRC; Regulations 42, Subpart D). Rate: 4½% of amount paid. Tax is imposed upon all transportation of crude petroleum and liquid products thereof by pipe line. In the event no charge is made for such transportation, or if the payment is made under a transaction which is not an arm's length one and such payment is less than the fair charge, the tax is imposed upon the fair charge for the transportation (Sec. 3460, IRC).

§ 808.808 Telegraph, telephone, radio and cable facilities. (Chapter 30, Subchapter B, sec. 3465, IRC; Regulations 42, Subpart E; 26 CFR. Cum. Supp., 130.30–130.46.) Rate: See following paragraphs. Rates shown therein are those effective 1 April 1944.

(a) Telephone and radio telephone messages. Tax is imposed at the rate of 25% of the amount paid within the United States for each telephone or radio telephone message or conversation for which the toll charge is more than 24 cents.

(b) Telegraph, cable, and radio dispatches and messages. Tax is imposed on the amount paid within the United States for each telegraph, cable or radio dispatch or message. In the case of each such domestic dispatch or message the rate of tax is 25%. In the case of each such international dispatch or message the rate of tax is 10%.

(c) Leased wire, teletypewriter, or talking circuit special services. Tax is imposed at the rate of 25% of the amount paid for leased wire, teletypewriter, or talking circuit special service, but not including an amount paid for service used exclusively in rendering a service taxable under the tax described in paragraph (d).

(d) Wire and equipment service. Tax is imposed at the rate of 8% of the amount paid for any wire and equipment service (including stock quotation and information services, burglar alarm or fire alarm service, and all other similar services but not including service described in paragraph (c)).

(e) Local telephone service. Tax is imposed at the rate of 15% of the amount paid by subscribers for local telephone service and for any other telephone service in respect of which a tax is not payable under the taxes described in paragraphs (a) to (d). Amounts paid for the installation of instruments, wires, poles, switchboards, apparatus, and equipment shall not be considered amounts paid for service.

SUBPART C—EXEMPTIONS FROM FEDERAL EXCISE TAXES

§ 808.810 Exemption from specific Federal excise taxes as to articles sold and services furnished for the use of the United States. Exemption is available from the following specific Federal excise taxes, to the extent indicated below, in connection with articles sold and services furnished for the use of the United States. Such exemption is available with respect to contracts entered into either prior or subsequent to 1 June 1944.

(a) Manufacturers' excise tax on radio receiving sets, phonographs, phonograph records and musical instruments. See § 808.802 (c).[1]

(b) Manufacturers' excise tax on firearms, shells, cartridges. See § 808.802 (j).[1]

(c) Manufacturers' excise tax on tires and inner tubes (see § 808.802 (a)), when such tires and tubes are sold to any person for use as component parts in the manufacture of an article which is to be sold direct to the War Department at a price not including the tax on the tires and tubes.[2]

(d) Tax on pistols and revolvers. See § 808.803.[1]

(e) Tax on telephone, telegraph, cable, radio, or leased wire services or facilities (see § 808.808), to the extent such services or facilities are furnished directly to the United States and for which payment is made directly by the United States. No exemption is available with respect to such services or facilities furnished to a contractor or other person operating under a contract to perform work on behalf of, or to furnish articles or materials to, the United States Government or any agency thereof.[2]

[1] Exemption with respect to these items was retained in the Internal Revenue Code as to sales made prior to the first day of the first month which begins six months or more after the date of termination of hostilities in the present war. (Sec. 307 (b) (2), Revenue Act of 1943.)

[2] This exemption was authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury on 31 May 1944 (9 F. R. 5998, 2 June 1944) pursuant to authority vested in him by section 307 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1943 (see § 808.817). Such authorization of exemption expires at the close of the last day of the sixth full calendar month following the date of the termination of hostilities in the present war.

(f) Tax on transportation of persons (see § 808.805) with respect to payments for transportation furnished to the United States upon a United States Government transportation request.[3]

(g) Tax on transportation of property (see § 808.806), with respect to payments for transportation to or from the Government of the United States shipped on a United States Government bill of lading.[3]

(a) Policy as to claiming exemption from specific Federal excise taxes listed above in this section. Exclusion from contract prices of the tax on pistols and revolvers and the manufacturers' excise taxes referred to above is governed by the policy set forth in the Appendix to this part, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph. Fixed price (lump sum) contractors, subcontractors, suppliers and materialmen may be authorized to purchase tires and inner tubes on a tax exclusive basis, when permitted pursuant to Treasury Decision 5114, as a variation to the policy set forth in such Appendix. Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contractors or subcontractors should not be permitted to purchase tires and inner tubes on a tax exclusive basis; care should be taken to determine that any fixed fee is computed without reflecting in any way any tax on tires or inner tubes.

Exemptions referred to above from transportation taxes are automatically secured by the use of United States Government transportation requests or bills of lading, as the case may be. Exemptions referred to above from communications taxes are automatically secured without the use of exemption certificates.

§ 808.811 Exemption based upon exportation. Exemption is available (1) from the manufacturers' excise taxes (§ 808.802 et seq.) and the retailers' excise taxes (§ 808.804 et seq.) with respect to sales for export and (2) from the tax on the transportation of property (§ 808.806) with respect to property in course of exportation. (Secs. 2406, 2705, 3449, IRC; secs. 314.25–314.27, Regulations 44; secs. 316.25–316.27, Regulations 46; secs. 320.21–320.22, Regulations 51; secs. 143.30–143.35, Regulations 113; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.25–314.27, 316.25–316.27, 320.21–320.22, 143.30–143.35.) This exemption will not be claimed. Contract prices therefore, will not exclude Federal excise taxes from which exemption is available only by reason of export and proof of exportation will not be furnished to contractors.

§ 808.812 Exemption from manufacturers' excise taxes of sale of certain supplies and equipment for vessels of war including aircraft. Exemption from manufacturers' excise taxes (§ 808.802, et seq.) is available with respect to the sale of an article for use as fuel supplies, ships' stores, sea stores, or legitimate equipment on vessels of war of the United States or of any foreign nation, vessels employed in the fisheries or in the whaling business or actually engaged in foreign trade or trade between the Atlantic and Pacific ports of the United States or between the United States and any of its possessions. The term "vessels of war" of the United States or of any foreign nation includes aircraft owned by the United States or by any foreign nation and constituting a part of the armed forces thereof. The terms "fuel supplies," "ships' stores," "legitimate equipment" include all articles, materials, supplies, and equipment necessary for the navigation, propulsion, and upkeep of vessels. (Sec. 3451, IRC; sec. 314.28, Regulations 44; sec. 316.28, Regulations 46; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.28, 316.28).

(a) Policy as to claiming exemption described above in this section. Serious administrative burdens would be imposed if the exemption described above were to be claimed with respect to articles of a character useable either (1) as supplies or legitimate equipment for vessels of war including aircraft or (2) otherwise. This exemption will not be claimed, contract prices will not exclude Federal excise taxes on the basis of this exemption and proof of this exemption will not be furnished to contractors, except that such action may be taken in connection with purchases of the following items:

(i) Aviation gasoline.

(ii) Lubricating oil suitable only for aircraft engines.

(iii) Aircraft air conditioning units.

(iv) Aircraft tires and inner tubes.

(v) Aerial photographic cameras including gun cameras, lenses, apparatus, equipment, and films therefor.

(vi) Spark plugs suitable only for aircraft engines.

§ 808.813 Manufacturers' excise taxes; sales for further manufacture. Exemption is available from manufacturers' excise taxes (§ 808.802 et seq.), and may be claimed by manufacturers, in the case of sale of any taxable article (other than tires, inner tubes or automobile radios) sold for use by the vendee as material in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of, a taxable article or for resale by the vendee for such use by his vendee if such article is in due course so resold. (Also see §808.802(b) (4) (ii).) An appropriate certificate of the vendee must be given to the vendor in order to obtain this exemption. (Sec. 3442, IRC; secs. 314.20–314.23, Regulations 44; secs. 316.20–316.23, Regulations 46; 26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.20–314.23, 316.20–316.23). This exemption is available to a purchasing manufacturer without the necessity for any action by the War Department. The standard tax articles do not provide for the inclusion in the contract price of taxes from which such an exemption is available and such taxes should not be a component of the contract price.

§ 808.814 Sales under contracts entered into prior to 1 June 1944 and agreements and change orders supplemental thereto. Exemption from the manufacturers' excise taxes (§ 808.802 et seq.) and the retailers' excise taxes (§ 808.804 et seq.) remain available as to sales for the use of the United States pursuant to a contract entered into prior to 1 June 1944 or to any agreement or change order (executed prior or subsequent to 1 June 1944) supplemental to such contract and bearing the same Government contract number. (Sec. 307(b)(1), Revenue Act of 1943.) No such exemption remains available as to excise taxes on transportation and communication referred to in §§ 808.805 to 808.808, inclusive.

[3] Exemption of these items was authorized by the Secretary of the Treasury on 29 April 1944 (9 F. R. 4615, 2 May 1944) pursuant to authority vested in him by section 307 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1943 (see § 808.817). Such authorization of exemption expires at the close of the last day of the sixth full calendar month following the date of the termination of hostilities in the present war.

(a) Policy as to claiming exemptions applying to sales under contracts entered into prior to 1 June 1944 and agreements and change orders supplemental thereto. (1) The provisions of contracts entered into prior to 1 June 1944 determine whether and to what extent the contract price includes or excludes Federal excise taxes and consequently whether exemptions are to be claimed.

(2) If the price under a contract entered into prior to 1 June 1944 includes an applicable Federal excise tax, agreements or change orders supplemental to such contract and executed on or after 1 June 1944 will also include such tax in the price and such tax will be paid by the contractor. This shall not prevent, however, the claiming of any available exemptions pursuant to the provisions of this part.

(3) If the price under a contract entered into prior to 1 June 1944 excludes an applicable Federal excise tax, agreements or change orders supplemental thereto and executed on or after 1 June 1944 may also exclude such tax. Exemption will continue to be available from any tax so excluded. Heretofore existing policies, which are contained in the Appendix to this part, determine the extent to which exemption from any such tax may be extended to purchases by contractors.

(4) Where new contracts normally would be executed, supplemental agreements or change orders will not be used merely to avoid the payment of Federal excise taxes.

§ 808.815 Miscellaneous exemptions. In addition to the exemptions discussed in this subpart, certain miscellaneous exemptions, applying to private as well as Government procurement, are available from Federal excise taxes. Some of these miscellaneous exemptions are mentioned in Subpart B of this part; in some cases such Subpart B provides that those exemptions will not be claimed. Any exemption, as to which no policy is otherwise provided in this part, need not be claimed, in which event contract prices will not exclude taxes on the basis of such an exemption and proof of such an exemption will not be furnished to contractors.

§ 808.816 Effective date of removal of other Governmental exemptions. Prior to the Revenue Act of 1943, additional exemptions, not set forth in this subpart, were available in connection with procurement for the use of the United States. The removal by the Revenue Act of 1943 of such additional exemptions is effective as follows:

(a) Manufacturers' and retailers' excise taxes—sales made on and after 1 June 1944.

(b) Tax on transportation of persons—amounts paid on or after 1 June 1944.

(c) Tax on transportation of property—amounts paid on or after 1 June 1944.

(d) Tax on telephone, telegraph, radio and cable facilities:

(1) Messages and dispatches (§ 808.808 (a) and (b))—originating on or after 1 June 1944.

(2) Service (§ 808.808 (c) to (e))—amounts paid pursuant to bills rendered on or after 1 June 1944 for service for which no previous bill was rendered.

§ 808.817 Power of Secretary of the Treasury to authorize exemption. The Secretary of the Treasury may authorize exemption from the taxes imposed by Chapters 19 (retailers' excise taxes, § 808.804 et seq.), 29 (manufacturers' excise taxes, § 808.802 et seq.), or 30 (taxes on transportation and communication, §§ 808.805 to 808.808) of the Internal Revenue Code as to any particular articles or services, or class of articles or services, to be purchased for the exclusive use of the United States, if he determines that the imposition of such taxes with respect to such articles or services, or class of articles or services, will cause substantial burden or expense which can be avoided by granting tax exemption and that the full benefit of such exemption, if granted, will accrue to the United States. The authority of the Secretary of the Treasury in this regard, however, is not applicable to any contract entered into on or after the first day of the first month which begins six months or more after the date of the termination of hostilities in the present war. (Sec. 307 (c) of the Revenue Act of 1943).

(a) Procedure to request exercise of authority by Secretary of the Treasury. In cases where it is deemed necessary for the Secretary of the Treasury to authorize exemptions with respect to any particular articles or services, or class of articles or services, requests for the exercise of that authority will be forwarded through channels to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. Such requests should specify in detail the reasons why the request exemption is needed.

(b) Circumstances under which requests are proper. The purpose of the removal by the Revenue Act of 1943 of various exemptions applying to the United States from Federal excise tax was to eliminate the numerous administrative procedures (and resulting need for personnel) required on the part of private contractors, procurement agencies and the Bureau of Internal Revenue in order to establish such exemptions, which if not available would not cause any net loss to the United States. It was recognized, however, that in some cases it might be determined that such removal of exemptions would impose greater net costs or administrative burdens than did the retention thereof or would cause other results adversely affecting the United States, in some serious and substantial manner. The established policy of the War Department is to request the Secretary of the Treasury to authorize exemptions only in cases of this character.

In no event will requests be made to the Secretary of the Treasury to authorize exemptions from tax if the only reason therefor is a desire to reduce the contract price or prices by the amount of the tax which, if paid, would go eventually into the Treasury. Such requests will be presented to the Secretary of the Treasury only where it is clearly established (1) that the denial of exemption with respect to purchases of particular articles or services, or classes of articles or services, for the exclusive use of the United States imposes serious administrative problems or presents substantial danger of net loss to the United States, and (2) that the full benefit of any exemption, if granted, will accrue to the United States.

§ 808.818 Federal excise taxes not covered by this part. This part applies only to Federal excise taxes imposed by the following chapters of the Internal Revenue Code: Chapter 19 (retailers' excise taxes—see § 808.804, et seq.), Chapter 25 (pistols and revolvers—see § 808.803), Chapter 29 (manufacturers' excise taxes—see § 808.802, et seq.) and Chapter 30 (transportation and communication—see §§ 808.805 to 808.808). When any technical service has responsibility for the procurement or purchase of any articles subject to a Federal excise tax under any other chapter of the Internal Revenue Code, such technical service may prescribe such rules, governing the securing of exemption from such tax, as it may deem proper.

SUBPART D—TAX EXEMPTION CERTIFICATE FORMS AND PROCEDURE

§ 808.820 Applicability of this subpart. The forms and procedures set forth in this subpart are applicable after 1 June 1944, so far as exemptions from Federal excise taxes are concerned, only with respect to the exemptions specified in §§ 808.810, 808.812 and 808.814. The policies governing the claiming of these exemptions are set forth in §§ 808.810 (a), 808.812 (a) and 808.814 (a).

§ 808.821 Standard tax exemption forms. The following standard tax exemption forms have been prescribed:

The above form will be issued by the appropriate officer where required by the contract to supply proof of exemption with respect to the Federal excise taxes from which an exemption is available under Section 3451, Internal Revenue Code, such as for fuel supplies, ship stores and equipment for vessels of war, including aircraft of the armed forces. See § 808.812 (a) as to the policy with respect to claiming this exemption.

(a) Form 1094, where used. U. S. Government Tax Exemption certificate Form No. 1094 will be issued by the appropriate officer where required by the contract to supply proof of exemption with respect to those taxes which have been excluded from the contract price, as follows:

(1) All Federal excise taxes from which exemption is available on the basis of purchase for the use of the United States. See §§ 808.812 and 808.824 in connection with exemption under section 3451, Internal Revenue Code.

(2) All state and local taxes, except when a different form is required by the state or local tax authority. (See § 808.830).

§ 808.823 Supply and reports of standard forms. (a) The standard forms referred to in § 808.821 are distributed in accordance with the provisions of AR 310–200.

(b) Reports, accounting for such standard forms, will be submitted by issuing officers as directed by The Adjutant General.

§ 808.824 Who may execute tax exemption certificates. (a) Tax exemption certificates will be executed only by those officers and Federal employees who have been supplied with a Standard Form No. 1094–C (U. S. Government tax exemption identification card).

(b) The identification card of authorized officers and employees of technical services responsible for purchasing at a post, camp, or station will be signed by the commanding officer. Identification cards supplied to other officers and Federal employees will be signed by the officer who furnishes such officer or employee with tax exemption certificates.

§ 808.825 Aircraft and vessels of war supplies and equipment tax exemption certificate. The following form is prescribed by Regulations 44 (Sec. 314.28) and Regulations 46 (Sec. 316.28) (26 CFR, Cum. Supp., 314.28 and 316.28):

§ 808.826 Tax exemption certificates for issuance by contractors. T. D. 5114, 27 January 1942 (7 F.R. 579, 29 January 1942) authorizes exemption from the Federal excise taxes imposed by Chapters 25 and 29 of the Internal Revenue Code (taxes on pistols and revolvers and Manufacturers' excise taxes—see §§ 808.802 and 808.803) on sales to contractors with the United States of purchase, construction and subsidiary articles. The policy with respect to this exemption is set forth in the Appendix to this part. The exemption is not available unless the contractor or subcontractor has been authorized by the contracting officer on W. D. Tax Form No. 1 (see paragraph (a)) attached to a standard Government Tax Exemption Certificate Form 1094. The forms prescribed by § 470.3 (b) of T. D. 5114 for use by contractors and subcontractors are set forth in paragraphs (b) and (c).

§ 808.827 Preparation and execution of exemption certificates. (a) In the preparation of tax exemption certificates the typewriter will be used when practicable, otherwise ink or indelible pencil will be used. The use of ordinary lead pencil is prohibited. All blank spaces must be properly filled in or lined out, and no such exemption certificate will be delivered to a contractor unless fully and properly executed, except that the Bureau of Internal Revenue has advised that it is not necessary to state the amount of Federal tax upon the exemption certificate (Ltr. to the Chief Signal Officer from D. S. Bliss, Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue, 19 June 1942). The amount of tax should be stated, however, if readily available. In a case where Federal excise taxes have been excluded from the contract price of articles or supplies purchased, but the exact amount of the tax cannot be determined at that time, a blanket tax exemption certificate may be issued to cover all sales under the contract. The certificate should cover all articles purchased under such contract, including delivery orders placed thereunder by other officers. As to blanket tax exemption certificates covering purchases under contracts of the General Schedule of Supplies, see § 808.829.

(b) A separate certificate for each kind of tax (Federal, State or local) involved will be prepared. In the issuance of these certificates care must be exercised to fill in the blank spaces provided for showing on each certificate the separate amounts of the taxes involved (if known) so that the certificates may be used only for the purpose intended.

(c) Where the supplies or work covered by the contract are not taxable as such and the certificate is to be used for the purpose of obtaining exemption on the articles to be incorporated in the supplies or work covered by the contract, the amount of tax to be shown on the certificate should be stated as "None". No tax should be shown on the certificate except the tax imposed directly upon the supplies or work covered by the contract.

(d) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of § 808.828, the following statement will be written or stamped upon the face of each certificate pertaining to Federal taxes (except where a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract is involved): "W. D. Tax Form No. 1 attached". Tax Exemption Certificate Form No. 1094 may be modified insofar as necessary with respect to contracts for construction, alterations, improvements and repairs. The person issuing a tax exemption certificate will, in addition to his signature and title, insert on the lines provided therefor, his identification card number. (See § 808.824.)

§ 808.828 When and how exemption certificates are issued to contractors. At any time after the execution of the contract, a tax exemption certificate (Form 1094) and W. D. Tax Form No. 1, when appropriate, will be executed and delivered to the contractor, upon request, covering Federal excise taxes in the following cases:

(a) Where supplies are taxable under Chapter 25 or 29, and are purchased by the Government at a price which is exclusive of such tax. In such a case, the description of the supplies furnished tax free will be inserted on the tax exemption certificate. If such supplies purchased by the Government have had (or will have) incorporated therein tires, inner tubes, or automobile radios and the price paid by the Government is exclusive of the tax thereon, these items will be listed in the space headed "List of Articles" on W. D. Tax Form No. 1, which will be attached to the tax exemption certificate. This will enable the contractor, pursuant to T. D. 5114, to issue tax exemption certificates to the suppliers of such tires, inner tubes and automobile radios. It should be noted that under section 3442, Internal Revenue Code, no tax is imposed with respect to the sale of any article (except tires, inner tubes, and automobile radios) for use by the contractor in the manufacture or production of, or as a component part of an article itself taxable under Chapter 29. Accordingly, the contractor may obtain exemption from the burden of the tax on any articles exempted from tax by section 3442 in the manner provided in the Treasury Regulations (Regulation 46, especially section 316.20, 26 C. F. R., Cum. Supp., 316.20). Therefore, if no tires, inner tubes, or automobile radios are to be included in such supplies to be purchased from the contractor, there is no occasion for annexing W. D. Form No. 1 to the tax exemption certificate.

(b) Where the supplies purchased under the contract are not taxable under Chapter 29 but have had (or will have) incorporated therein one or more articles which are taxable under such Chapter, and the price paid by the Government is exclusive of the tax on one or more of such articles. In such a case, the amount of tax shown on the tax exemption certificate should be stated as "None" and the articles incorporated (or to be incorporated) into the supplies purchased by the Government which are sold exclusive of the tax thereon should be listed upon W. D. Tax Form No. 1 attached to the certificate. Upon receipt of the tax exemption certificate, the contractor and/or his subcontractors (including suppliers) are then authorized to issue tax exemption certificates in the form prescribed in § 808.826 (b) and (c), as to the articles listed on W. D. Tax Form No. 1 attached to the Form No. 1094.

(c) Where the contract covers construction, alterations, improvements or repairs, and the physical project to be constructed, altered, improved or repaired will have incorporated therein one or more articles which are taxable under Chapter 29 and the price paid by the Government for the construction, alterations, improvements or repairs, is exclusive of the tax on one or more of such articles to be incorporated into the physical project. In such a case, the amount of tax shown on the tax exemption certificate should be stated as "None", and the articles to be incorporated into the physical project to be constructed, altered, improved or repaired on which no such tax is included in the contract price should be listed upon W. D. Tax Form No. 1 attached to the certificate. Upon receipt of the tax exemption certificate the contractor and/or his subcontractors (suppliers) are then authorized to issue tax exemption certificates in the form prescribed in § 808.826(b) and (c), as to the articles listed on W. D. Tax Form No. 1 attached to the certificate.

(4) Under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract (except one covering the sale of articles taxable under Chapter 29, where (1) above is applicable) when one or more articles taxable under Chapter 29 are used by the contractor as equipment, material or supplies in performing the contract, and such articles are purchased at a price which is exclusive of the tax thereon and payment for same is made by the United States, directly or by reimbursement of the contractor. In such a case, the amount of tax shown on Form 1094 should be stated as "None" and there should be attached to or written on Form 1094 the following statement: "The contractor is authorized to issue tax exemption certificates in the form prescribed by § 470.3(b) of Treasury Decision 5114, approved January 27, 1942 (7 F. R. 579, January 29, 1942) as to all articles sold on a Federal tax exclusive basis and for which payment is made by the United States, directly or by reimbursement of the contractor, and which are used by the contractor as equipment, material or supplies in performing the contract to which this (the attached) certificate pertains."

§ 808.829 Blanket tax exemption certificates; contracts under General Schedule of Supplies. (a) Nothing contained in these regulations will be construed as authorizing the issuance of blanket tax exemption certificates by chiefs of technical services or contracting officers covering purchases under contracts of the General Schedule of Supplies. Upon application of the contractor, the Procurement and Accounting Division, Office of the Secretary of War, will issue blanket tax exemption certificates as may be necessary to cover all purchases made by War Department agencies in Washington, D. C., and in the field under term contracts of the General Schedule of Supplies, Procurement Division, Treasury Department.

(b) Contractors are required to indicate the number of the applicable blanket tax exemption certificate on their invoices.

(c) The purchase order need not contain the number of the applicable tax exemption certificate. It is sufficient that it contain a reference to the General Schedule of Supplies contract number.

§ 808.830 State and local taxes. (a) Tax exemption certificates are also used for establishing exemptions from state and local taxes. In such cases, certificates should be prepared in accordance with the requirements of the particular state or local tax authority concerned. In most cases, Form 1094 (§ 808.822) will be the appropriate form of tax exemption certificate. Except as provided in paragraph (b), no tax exemption certificate should be issued with respect to a state or local tax unless the contract shows that the price paid by the Government is exclusive of the tax to which the certificate pertains or unless the contractor consents to the deduction of such tax from the contract price and the acceptance of the tax exemption certificate in lieu thereof.

(b) When impossible for any reason to effect purchases, excluding the amount of any state or local tax which is deemed to be legally inapplicable to Government purchases, a tax exemption certificate on Form 1094 will be executed and delivered to the disbursing officer to whose accounts the vouchers in the transaction pertain, together with a written statement to the effect that the vendor refused such certificate. Tax exemption certificates executed and delivered as prescribed in this paragraph are for the use of the Finance Department in securing a refund of the amount of the taxes involved. The serial number of the tax exemption certificate will be shown on the payment voucher.

(c) When Form No. 1094 (or other appropriate certificate) executed under the conditions stated above, is received in the administrative office (Finance Department), the bureau or office number of the payment voucher will be noted on the certificate and the administrative office (Finance Department) will bill the State or local taxing agency for refund of the taxes paid. The amount(s) collected will be transmitted to the disbursing officer for credit to the appropriation(s) from which the vouchers were paid, or to miscellaneous receipts account, "4326—Refund, State and Local Taxes," if the appropriation cannot be readily identified. In the event the administrative office (Finance Department) fails to secure refund of the amount of taxes paid, it will transmit promptly to the General Accounting Office the exemption certificates, if available, together with all correspondence with the taxing agency relating thereto, and information as to the disbursing officer's voucher number on which payment for the merchandise was made, for use by the General Accounting Office in effecting collection thereof as required by section 236, Revised Statutes, as amended by the Budget and Accounting Act, 1921.

SUBPART E—STATE AND LOCAL TAXES

§ 808.831 Applicable tax directives. While the various state and local tax laws are not uniform in their application, as a general rule Government purchases are exempt from such taxes. Neither are such laws uniform in their application to purchases by Government contractors. Information will be published from time to time as to the procedure to be followed with regard to state and local taxes. Information already published is contained in a series of memoranda for the chiefs of the technical services and others as follows:

(a) Information as to the situation in other states or advice with respect to particular problems in the states listed above should be obtained from the Office of The Judge Advocate General by inquiry addressed to the attention of the Chief, Tax Division.

(b) The instructions contained in the memoranda listed above are modified by the provisions of § 808.832 so far as they relate to the form of certificates required on invoices of subcontractors and suppliers under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts.

§ 808.832 Certificate of non-inclusion of State or local taxes in amounts billed to cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors or subcontractors. Where purchases of materials or services by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors are exempt from state or local taxes, the vendor's invoices, except as provided in § 808.833, should contain the following statement:

State or local sales, use and similar taxes are not included in the amounts billed.

Where purchases by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors are not exempt from state or local taxes the above statement may be omitted from vendor's invoices, but such taxes must be separately itemized.

§ 808.833 Tax provisions of purchase orders issued by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and subcontractors. Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors may include in their purchase orders covering supplies or materials the following statement:

Any state or local sales, use, or similar tax, included in the amounts billed MUST be separately stated and itemized. It is understood, and the acceptance of this order shall constitute an agreement, that unless such taxes are separately stated and itemized, no such taxes are included in the amounts billed.

If this statement is included in the purchase order and if no state or local taxes are included in the amount billed to the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor or cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractor, the supplier of the supplies or materials need not include upon his invoice the statement quoted in § 808.832 that certain state or local taxes are not included in the amounts billed. However, even where the purchase order contains the statement quoted above in this paragraph, the invoice of the supplier under the purchase order must separately state and itemize all state or local sales, use or similar taxes which are in fact included in the price billed.

SUBPART F—COLLECTION AND PAYMENT OF FEDERAL EXCISE TAXES BY THE GOVERNMENT

§ 808.840 General. Except as provided in § 808.842, the amount of the Federal excise tax will be collected from the purchaser when articles, subject to tax under Chapter 25 (tax on pistols and revolvers—see § 808.803) or Chapter 29 (Manufacturers' excise taxes — see § 808.802, et seq.) of the Internal Revenue Code, purchased free of tax are sold to individuals or used for other than the use of the United States. Funds so collected will be deposited with the local disbursing officer together with information of the name of the contractor from whom the articles were purchased and the number of the contract under which purchase was made. In cases where the name and amount of the contract involved are not known to the sales officer, he will ascertain this information from the shipping or contracting officer or from the chief of the technical service, if necessary.

§ 808.841 Remittances to contractor. Funds received by a disbursing officer as payment for taxes imposed by Chapter 25 or 29 of the Internal Revenue Code will be placed in a special deposit account and remitted to the contractor monthly, or at the time the officer closes his accounts when he ceases to disburse, in order that return may be made therefor to the appropriate Collector of Internal Revenue. A copy of the report of such remittance will be forwarded to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. However, if it is impossible for the disbursing officer to determine the contractor from whom the articles subject to tax under Chapter 25 or 29 were purchased, he may remit the amount of the tax to the Collector of Internal Revenue for the district in which the disbursing officer is located with a statement that the name of the contractor is unknown.

§ 808.842 Transfers to which §§ 808.840 and 808.841 do not apply. In connection with the following types of transfers of Government-owned property purchased by the Government free of tax, it is not necessary that the amount of the Federal tax be collected from the purchaser and accordingly the provisions of §§ 808.840 and 808.841 are inapplicable:

(a) All sales of used property,

(b) Transfers to a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractor of Government-owned property for use in connection with the performance of the contract (whether the transfer is made directly by the Government or on behalf of the Government pursuant to a contract provision similar to that contained in § 808.363),

(c) Sales to a lump sum contractor of Government-owned property for use in connection with the performance of the contract,

(d) Transfers to other agencies of the Government, including transfers for disposition to the Procurement Division, Treasury Department.

§ 808.843 Adjustment of sales price. As indicated in § 808.842 (c), it is not necessary that on a sale of property to a lump sum contractor, the amount of the Federal tax, as such, be collected from the contractor. It is not appropriate, however, that the contractor derive the benefit arising from the fact that the Government originally acquired the property tax fee. Accordingly, in fixing the sales price to be paid to the Government by the lump sum contractor, one of the elements going into the price must be the amount of the Federal excise tax which would ordinarily be payable upon a sale of the property.

SUBPART G—ADJUSTMENTS OF CONTRACTS BECAUSE OF CHANGED FEDERAL EXCISE TAXES

§ 808.850 Excise tax rates increased by Revenue Act of 1943. The following excise tax rates, among others, were increased (effective 1 April 1944) by the Revenue Act of 1943.

Description of tax	Old rate	Rate under 1943 act
	Per cent	Per cent
Retailers' excise taxes:
Jewelry, etc. (except as to certain watches and alarm clocks)	10	20
Furs	10	20
Toilet preparations	10	20
Luggage (formerly manufacturers' excise tax)	10	20
Manufacturers' excise taxes:
Electric light bulbs and tubes	5	20
Tax on communication:
Telephone (over 5¢ cents)	20	25
Domestic telegraph, cable or radio dispatches	15	25
Leased wires, etc	15	25
Wire and equipment service	5	8
Local telephone service	10	15
Tax on transportation of persons	10	15

§ 808.851 Excise taxes repealed by Revenue Act of 1943. Section 310 of the Revenue Act of 1943 repealed as of 1 April 1944 the retailers' excise tax imposed by section 2400, Internal Revenue Code, with respect to "silver-plated flatware." Section 311 of the Revenue Act of 1943 revised section 3406 (a) (3), Internal Revenue Code, so as to exempt household type electric vacuum cleaners from manufacturers' excise taxes.

§ 808.852 Excise taxes repealed by Revenue Act of 1942. Section 611 of the Revenue Act of 1942 repealed as of 1 November 1942 excise taxes imposed by Internal Revenue Code, section 3406 (a), subsections (5), (7), (8), and (9) relating respectively to electric signs, rubber articles, washing machines and optical equipment. Sections 614 and 615 of the Revenue Act of 1942 have revised sections 3405 and 3406 (a) (6) of the Internal Revenue Code so as to exempt from excise taxation certain commercial refrigerating apparatus and cash registers of the type used in registering over-the-counter retail sales.

§ 808.853 Contract provisions requiring adjustment by reason of changed Federal excise taxes. The standard tax article prescribed in § 803.357 (a) (as well as the provision formerly prescribed therein) for lump sum supply contracts requires certain adjustments in contract prices by reason of changes after the date of the contract or the date of the award, as the case may be, in excise taxes directly applicable to the supplies or work covered by the contract or the materials used in the manufacture thereof, all as more fully set out in paragraph (b) of such standard tax article.

§ 808.854 Adjustments required under standard tax article by reason of increase in rates and repeal of excise taxes. The increases in rates of excise taxes and the repeal of excise taxes mentioned in §§ 808.850 to 808.852 require adjustment under paragraph (b) of the standard tax article prescribed in § 803.357 (a) or substantially similar provisions, if:

(a) Such taxes are directly applicable to the supplies or work covered by the contract or to the materials used in work or manufacture under the contract (all as more fully set forth in paragraph (b) of such standard tax article);

(b) The date of such contract or of the award, as the case may be, was prior to the date of the applicable increase or repeal; and

(c) Such taxes were included in the contract price. In the case of increase of rates, however, no adjustment will be made in excess of the amount of additional taxes or charges which the contractor is required to pay by reason of such increase. As a general rule, no adjustment will be required in connection with increase in rates of tax imposed with respect to communication and transportation.

§ 808.855 Authority of chiefs of technical services with respect to adjustments. To facilitate the prosecution of the war by reducing to a minimum the serious administrative burden of making adjustments referred to in § 808.854 and the time of contractors and government officers consumed in determining the amount thereof, the chiefs of the technical services are authorized pursuant to the First War Powers Act, 1941 and Executive Order No. 9001 to negotiate and effter into supplemental agreements with contractors with respect to the amount of any such adjustments after such verification and check thereof as the chiefs of the technical services severally shall prescribe. To expedite the negotiation of such adjustments the amount thereof may be determined by estimate, spot check, audit, or in any other manner deemed reasonable or appropriate by the chief of the technical service concerned. No adjustment decreasing the contract price shall be required in respect of any contract or class of contracts as to which the chief of the technical service concerned shall determine that the amount of adjustment possibly to be obtained will not be substantial or will not warrant the interference with the orderly conduct of the procurement program or the expenditure of the time and effort involved in making or determining the amount of adjustment.

§ 808.856 Situations in which adjustment not required by reason of repeal or increase. No adjustment of the contract price will be required by reason of the repeal or increase of rates of excise taxes if the contract provides that the contract price does not include such taxes or if the contract does not contain a provision substantially similar to paragraph (b) of the standard tax article prescribed in § 803.357 (a).

§ 808.857 Adjustments by reason of removal of exemptions by Revenue Act of 1943. Effective 1 June 1944, certain exemptions available in connection with procurement by the United States were terminated (see § 808.815). Such exemptions, insofar as they relate to manufacturers' excise taxes (§ 808.802 et seq.) and retailers' excise taxes (§803.804 et seq.), remain in force as to contracts entered into prior to that date (see § 808.814) and no adjustments in contract prices are necessary by reason of termination of such exemptions. Such exemptions, however, insofar as they relate to transportation and communications taxes remain in effect only to the extent provided in § 808.810. If under a particular contract provision, adjustment is required by reason of the removal of exemptions relating to transportation and communication taxes, the provisions of § 808.855 shall apply to such adjustment.

§ 808.858 Tax on transportation of property imposed by Revenue Act of 1942. No increase will be made in the price payable under a contract executed prior to 1 December 1942 and containing a tax article substantially in the form of the standard tax article prescribed in § 808.357 (a), by reason of the imposition of the tax on transportation of property under section 3475 of the Internal Revenue Code (Revenue Act of 1942, sec. 620) on freight charges which the contractor is bound to pay in accordance with the contract. (See Dec. Comp. Gen. B–30754, dated January 2, 1943; 22 Comp. Gen. 583).

APPENDIX — POLICY AS TO CLAIMING EXEMPTION FROM FEDERAL EXCISE TAXES AVAILABLE ON THE BASIS OF PURCHASE OF ARTICLES FOR THE USE OF THE UNITED STATES [1]

§ 808.890 General; scope of Appendix. This Appendix sets forth the policies which were in effect prior to 1 June 1944 as to claiming exemption from Federal excise taxes. These policies were based upon the availability of exemption on the ground of purchase for the use of the United States and therefore remain in effect on and after 1 June 1944 only in those instances where exemption with respect to sales for the use of the United States are continued beyond that date. (See § 808.814 with respect to exemption under contracts entered into prior to 1 June 1944 and § 808.810 with respect to exemption from specific taxes remaining available).

Discussion in this Appendix of statutory exemption provisions and Treasury Regulations relates to the situation existing prior to 1 June 1944 and is applicable with respect to exemptions based on sales for the use of the United States continued beyond that date.

The policy as to claiming exemptions which are available on any basis other than purchase for the use of the United States is set forth in Subpart C of this part (e. g. see § 808.811, concerning exemptions based on exportation and § 808.812, concerning exemption based on supplies and equipment for vessels of war including aircraft).

§ 808.891 Definition of terms. (a) The following terms are used in this Appendix as they are defined in Treasury Decision 5114, 27 January 1942 (7 F. R. 579, 29 January 1942):

"Prime Contract" means a contract made by the United States. "Purchase article" means any article purchased as such by the United States under a prime contract. "Construction article" means any article for use as equipment, material or supplies by a prime contractor in performing a prime contract, provided, however, that payment for the article is made by the United States. "Subsidiary article" means any article, which by itself or after being combined by any persons with other articles, is incorporated in a purchase article or construction article.

(b) The following terms are defined for the purposes of this Appendix as follows:

"Subcontract" means any purchase or agreement to perform all or any part of the work, or to make or furnish any article, required for the performance of another contract or subcontract. "Article" includes any material, part, assembly, machinery, equipment or other personal property.

§ 808.892 Statutory exemptions. Chapters 19 (Retailers' excise taxes; see § 808.804 et seq.), 25 (pistols, revolvers and certain other firearms; see § 808.803), and 29 (Manufacturers' excise taxes; see § 808.802 et seq.) of the Internal Revenue Code impose certain excise taxes from which exemption is available if the taxable articles are sold for the use of the United States.

§ 808.893 Exemption under Treasury Decision 5114. In accordance with Treasury Decision 5114 dated 27 January 1942, articles are exempt from taxes imposed by Chapter 25 or 29, where such articles are used or incorporated by the purchaser as material in the manufacture or production of, or a component part of, an article which is to be furnished to the United States Government, Provided, That (a) the price of the article does not include a tax on the sale or transfer thereof under Chapter 25 or 29 of the Internal Revenue Code, (b) the article is included at such tax-free basis in the price of the article in which it is incorporated and (c) satisfactory evidence of the exemption is furnished by tax exemption certificate (see § 808.828). With respect to prime contracts or purchases made 1 March 1943, and purchases made by subcontractors on or after that date, see policies outlined in § 808.897, et seq.

§ 808.894 When sales deemed for use of United States. An article is deemed to be sold for the use of the United States when it is sold (a) to the United States to be utilized by the United States or to be disposed of by the United States to a foreign Government, or (b) to a Government contractor or subcontractor (including a supplier) when the article is incorporated in an article sold to the United States or in the building or work constructed, altered, improved or repaired pursuant to a contract with the United States, or (c) to a Government contractor under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contract or subcontractor under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontract where the article is used as equipment, materials or supplies by the contractor or subcontractor in performing a Government prime contract or in performing a subcontract under such prime contract and payment for the article is made by the United States, whether directly or by reimbursement of the contractor or subcontractor for the cost thereof. With respect to purchases by cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors of articles to be consumed in the performance of the subcontract (see § 808.895 (c)) tax exemption can be obtained under present rulings of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue only by the issuance of a Form 1094 by an authorized Government officer (see § 808.824). The term "incorporated in" as above refers to any process whereby an article enters into building, work or supplies or a component thereof so as to become a part thereof and is not merely consumed in such production.

§ 808.895 Special considerations affecting tax exemption of lubricating oil and gasoline. (a) Lubricating oil or gasoline, when incorporated in a purchase article so as to become a part thereof, constitutes a subsidiary article within the meaning of Treasury Decision 5114, and tax exemption of such oil and gasoline can be obtained pursuant to that Treasury Decision. Thus lubricating oil incorporated as the fluid in hydraulic apparatus constitutes a subsidiary article, where the hydraulic apparatus is purchased as such by the United States under a prime contract or where the hydraulic apparatus is a component part of some other article purchased as such by the United States under a prime contract. However, except as stated in paragraph (b) below, the term "subsidiary article" does not include lubricating oil consumed in the operation of machinery in manufacturing such hydraulic apparatus.

(b) Lubricating oil or gasoline is also a subsidiary article when sold to a prime contractor for use as equipment, material or supplies in the performance of his prime contract, if payment for the lubricating oil or gasoline is made by the United States, and in other cases where it can be shown that the United States clearly receives the benefit of exemption from the tax. Thus, where the prime contract involves the construction of a plant, or the operation and maintenance of a plant, either on the basis of cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or some other basis under which the tax on the gasoline or lubricating oil is not to be included in the cost chargeable to the United States, the gasoline or lubricating oil sold to the prime contractor for use in the performance of such prime contract constitutes a subsidiary article within the meaning of Treasury Decision 5114 and tax exemption of such oil and gasoline can be obtained pursuant to that decision. In such case, the gasoline or lubricating oil is deemed to be incorporated in the subject matter of the prime contract, namely, the plant construction or the plant operation.

(c) Gasoline, lubricating oil and other similar consumable supplies, used under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts are exempt. However, such consumable supplies, when constituting subsidiary articles, as in paragraph (b) above, are only exempt under Treasury Decision 5114 if purchased by a prime contractor. If such consumable supplies are purchased by a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractor or subsidiary subcontractor, Form 1094 must be used in order to secure the exemption from Federal excise tax.

(d) With respect to prime contracts or purchases made after 1 March 1943, and subcontracts or purchases made by contractors or subcontractors on or after that date, see policies outlined in § 808.897 et seq.

§ 808.896 Exemption rules as to articles subject to tax under Chapters of Internal Revenue Code other than Chapter 25 or 29. Where any technical service has responsibility for the procurement or purchase of any articles subject to tax under Chapters of the Internal Revenue Code other than Chapter 25 or 29, as for instance Chapter 19, such technical service may prescribe such rules governing the securing of tax exemptions thereunder as it may deem proper.

§ 808.897 Memorandum of policy, effective as of 1 March 1943, as to Federal excise tax. The Under Secretary of War, jointly with the Under Secretary of the Navy, has issued the memorandum dated 4 January 1943, quoted below. The purpose of the policies stated therein is to reduce administrative work caused to Government departments and to contractors with respect to Federal excise tax exemptions and to eliminate confusion which has arisen particularly in connection with purchases, on a tax exempt basis in accordance with Treasury Decision 5114, by fixed price (lump sum) contractors and subcontractors, of articles and supplies for incorporation in or use in connection with supplies or work to be furnished or performed under a prime contract with the Government. The policies outlined in the memorandum have no application whatsoever to state and local taxes or exemptions thereunder or to fixed price (lump sum) prime contracts or subcontracts made prior to 1 March 1943 or to subcontracts or purchase orders thereunder. (The memorandum does not change or have any effect upon the exemption expressly provided by section 3442 (1) of the Internal Revenue Code under which contractors manufacturing taxable purchase articles may obtain subsidiary articles tax exempt in the manner provided in that section and applicable regulations—see § 808.813.) The memorandum follows:

POLICY AS TO FEDERAL EXCISE TAX EXEMPTIONS—TO BECOME EFFECTIVE MARCH 1, 1943

The War and Navy Departments adopt the following policies as to the payment of Federal excise taxes and exemptions therefrom, with respect (a) to all contracts executed by the Government after March 1, 1943, and all subcontracts thereunder and (b) to all subcontracts made after March 1, 1943, under cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contracts, regardless of when the prime contracts were executed. Certain terms used in this memorandum are defined in Note 1 below. The purpose of these policies is to reduce administrative work caused to Government Departments and to contractors with respect to Federal excise tax exemptions and to avoid the complications which have arisen in connection with purchases on a tax exempt basis in accordance with Treasury Decision 5114 by fixed price (lump sum) contractors and subcontractors.

1. The Government may make direct purchase of articles subject to Federal excise taxes ("purchase articles") on a price basis which either includes or excludes such taxes. In general, it will be War and Navy Department policy to make such direct purchases on a tax exclusive basis except where administrative convenience makes tax inclusive purchasing preferable.

2. In general, fixed-price (lump sum) contractors, subcontractors, suppliers and materialmen will not be authorized to purchase "construction articles", "subsidiary articles" or articles used or consumed in the performance of the prime contract or subcontract, on a tax-exclusive basis pursuant to Treasury Decision 5114, and no tax exemption certificates will be issued in respect thereof.

3. A prime contractor under a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or cost prime contract, or any cost-plus-a-fixed-fee or cost subcontractor thereunder, may purchase any articles subject to Federal excise taxes ("construction articles", "subsidiary articles," or articles used or consumed in the performance of such prime contract or subcontract) on a price basis which either includes or excludes such taxes, provided that in general purchases on a tax exclusive basis shall be made by a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractor only where there is no fixed-price contractor intervening between such subcontractor and the prime contractor. Tax exemption certificates will be issued where purchases are made on a tax-exclusive basis pursuant to the policy announced in this paragraph. In general, it will be War and Navy Department policy to have such cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors make such purchases on a tax exclusive basis except where administrative convenience makes tax inclusive purchasing preferable. The term "cost contract" includes any contract provision on a cost basis and any contract for special additional facilities or emergency plant facilities of the Government-ownership type or substantially in the form approved by the Advisory Commission to the Council of National Defense and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on October 19, 1940 (5 F. R. 4147, No. 205).

4. Exceptions to the policies prescribed in this memorandum may be authorized by the War or Navy Departments in order to facilitate procurement.

5. Bidders and contractors will be advised of the policies herein set forth as promptly as possible, so that they may make plans, fix prices and prepare cost analyses consistently with such policies.

6. The policies herein contained have no application to state and local taxes. These policies will likewise not necessitate any change in the policies applicable to fixed-price prime contracts and subcontracts executed prior to March 1, 1943, and subcontracts thereunder.

Dated this 4th day of January, 1943.

ROBERT P. PATTERSON
Under Secretary of War
FORRESTAL
Under Secretary of the Navy

[NOTE 1: This note in the statement of policy refers to the definitions set out in § 808.891.]

(a) Changes effected by memorandum of policy. (1) Fixed price (lump sum) prime contracts made on or after 1 March 1943 for the acquisition by the War Department of articles subject to Federal excise taxes ("purchase articles") shall in general be made on a price basis which excludes such Federal excise taxes. The chief of any technical service may authorize any contract or class of prime contracts to be made on a price basis which includes such Federal excise taxes.

(2) Fixed price (lump sum) prime contractors under contracts made on or after 1 March 1943 and subcontractors under them will not in general be authorized to purchase "subsidiary articles" (see paragraph 891) or articles used or consumed in the performance of the prime contract on a tax exclusive basis pursuant to Treasury Decision 5114.

(3) Where the prime contract with the Government is on a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis, regardless of the date of the execution of the prime contract, a fixed price (lump sum) subcontractor thereunder whose subcontract is made on or after 1 March 1943 will not be authorized to purchase "subsidiary articles", or articles used or consumed in the performance of the prime contract or subcontract, on a tax exclusive basis pursuant to Treasury Decision 5114.

(4) Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee prime contractors and cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractors acting under them (where no lump sum contractor intervenes between the prime contractor and the cost-plus-a-fixed-fee subcontractor) will normally purchase articles, which are subject to Federal excise tax, on a tax exclusive basis.

(b) Issue of tax exemption certificates. Except as provided in (c), no tax exemption certificate will be issued by any officer or employee of the War Department or pursuant to Treasury Decision 5114 in a manner inconsistent with the policies provided in §§ 808.897 and 808.897 (a). Nothing in these regulations, however, requires any contractor or subcontractor to forego any Federal excise tax exemption to which he may be entitled otherwise than under Treasury Decision 5114

[1] The matters set forth in this Appendix have limited application. See § 808.890.

(see, for example, sec. 3442, IRC). Where contractors are entitled to any such exemption, contracting officers should take precautions to see that prices under lump sum contracts are fixed after giving due consideration to the effect of such exemption (see § 808.813).

(c) Variations from policy by chief of any technical service. The chief of any technical service may authorize variations (consistent with applicable tax exemption laws and tax regulations) from the policies set forth in § 81.897, et seq., in any case or class of cases where he finds that such action is necessary to facilitate procurement. Any variations so authorized will be reported at once in writing to the Director, Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces. (Variations authorized by § 808.897 (e) need not be so reported.)

(d) Documents to be consistent with policy. The chief of each technical service will make necessary changes in existing bid forms, specifications, and instructions relating to bids and evaluation of contracts to carry out the policies set forth in the memorandum quoted in this section. Great care should be exercised in drawing contracts and purchase orders to make certain that their provisions reflect accurately the intention of the parties with respect to taxes and that they are consistent with the policies above mentioned.

(e) Exception to tax policy with respect to radio apparatus, parts and similar items. In some instances contractors have experienced difficulty in ascertaining whether particular items and parts of certain specialized military and naval equipment fall within the category of articles enumerated in section 3404, Internal Revenue Code (see § 808.802 (c)). Accordingly, as an exception to the tax policy set forth in § 808.897 (see § 808.897 (c)), contracting officers are given authority to make prime contracts by the terms of which the prime contractor will be permitted to make purchases, on a basis exclusive of tax, of articles which are or may be subject to the tax imposed by section 3404 or section 3444 (so far as it relates to articles enumerated in section 3404), Internal Revenue Code, whether such articles (1) constitute subsidiary articles, or (2) are acquired by the prime contractor for transfer by him to the United States as purchase articles. With respect to any such purchases, the prime contractor may be authorized to issue tax exemption certificates in accordance with Treasury Decision 5114 and subject to its limitations.

(f) Taxable articles manufactured by the prime contractor and included in a purchase article as a component part thereof. The tax policy set out in § 808.897 and 808.897 (a) is not intended to prevent the Government from buying purchase articles on a basis exclusive of any taxes on component parts of such purchase articles where such component parts (1) have been manufactured by the prime contractor himself and (2) have been included in the purchase article by such manufacturer himself. Buying such purchase articles from prime contractors on a basis exclusive of any tax imposed with respect to such component parts pursuant to the provisions of Internal Revenue Code, section 3444, is consistent with the above mentioned tax policy.

SUBPART A—CONVICT LABOR LAW

§ 809.901 Basic statutes. The public policy of the United States as to convict labor is expressed in the act of February 23, 1887 (24 Stat. 411; 18 U. S. C. 708, 709). This statute is a penal one and provides for imprisonment or fine upon conviction for its violation. See also 47 Stat. 418; 31 U. S. C. 686b; 45 Stat. 1084; 49 U. S. C. 60; 49 Stat. 494; 49 U. S. C. 61–64; 54 Stat. 1134, as amended 55 Stat. 581; 18 U. S. C. 396a.

§ 890.902 Executive order of the President. Pursuant to the public policy prescribed by the aforementioned act of February 23, 1887, the President on May 18, 1905, issued an Executive Order which provides, in substance, that all contracts which shall hereafter be entered into by officers or agents of the United States involving the employment of labor in the States composing the Union, or the Territories contiguous thereto, shall, unless otherwise provided by law, contain a stipulation forbidding, in the performance of such contracts, the employment of persons undergoing sentences of imprisonment at hard labor which have been imposed by courts of the several States, Territories, or Municipalities having criminal jurisdiction.

Under date of July 9, 1942, the President issued Executive Order 9196 which "in order to remove any doubts which might otherwise exist and to insure the effective utilization of all existing productive facilities, * * * ordered that Executive Order No. 325A of May 18, 1905, be, and the same is hereby, suspended for the period of the war and for six months thereafter to the extent necessary to permit officers and agencies of the Federal Government charged with the purchase or procurement of articles necessary in the conduct of war to procure, directly or indirectly, through any contractor or subcontractor or otherwise, articles of any kind produced in any Federal, State or territorial prison, provided such articles are not produced pursuant to any contract or other arrangement under which prison labor is hired out to, or employed or used by, any private person, firm or corporation."

§ 809.903 Application of basic statutes. (a) The prohibitions contained in the foregoing provisions of this section do not apply to the following purchases:

(1) Purchases of items manufactured, or services rendered, by Federal Prison Industries, Inc. (see § 806.608).

(2) Purchases of items manufactured or produced, or of services rendered, by State prisons or other correctional State institutions (see § 806.608a).

(b) The Assistant Solicitor General has advised the Chairman of the War Production Board that the Federal statutes prohibiting shipment of convict-made goods and subjecting such shipments to the operation of state prohibitory laws (See e. g. 54 Stat. 1134, as amended 55 Stat. 581; 18 U.S.C. 396a; 45 Stat. 1084; 49 U.S.C. 60; 49 Stat. 494; 49 U.S.C. 61–64) do not extend to convict-made goods being procured by a contractor directly or indirectly for the Federal Government, Provided,

(1) That there is no other source of supply readily available to him on the open market;

(2) That purchases of such articles, materials or supplies are limited to the amount necessary to fulfill specific existing contracts with the Government; and

(3) That all such purchases are made at prices substantially equivalent to the current market price of the commodity purchased.

He has also expressed the view that an order of the Secretary of Labor, dated May 26, 1942, has the effect of exempting from the operation of the convict labor provisions of the Walsh-Healey Act (49 Stat. 2036, as amended, 41 U.S.C. 35 and following) "Contracts negotiated during the present war for the purchase of prison-made goods by contractors, subcontractors or brokers when such purchases are limited as above set forth to the purchase of such goods for the purposes of existing Government Contracts." (See opinion of Attorney General, May 6, 1942; letter amplifying this opinion to the Chairman, War Production Board from the Assistant Solicitor General, dated June 20, 1942.)

(c) The provisions of the statute referred to in § 809.901 do not prohibit the employment by contractors or subcontractors of persons serving sentences on parole or probation, nor to convicts who have served their terms.

SUBPART B—EIGHT-HOUR LAW OF 1912

§ 809.904 Basic law. The act requires that, in every contract to which it is applicable, a provision must be inserted that no laborer or mechanic doing any part of the work contemplated by the contract in the employ of a contractor or any subcontractor, shall be required or permitted to work more than 8 hours in any one calendar day upon such work unless such mechanic or laborer is compensated for all hours worked in excess of 8 hours in any one calendar day at not less than 1½ times the basic rate of pay.

Act of June 19, 1912 (37 Stat. 137), as amended by section 5 (b) act of June 28, 1940 (54 Stat. 679) and section 303 act of September 9, 1940 (54 Stat. 884), 40 U. S. C. 324, 325, 325–A; M. L. 1939 and Supp. II, secs. 743, 745.

(a) Form of provision. The form of the provision to be used in contracts to which the act applies is set out in § 803.346.

§ 809.905 Applicability. The basic law applies to all War Department contracts which may require or involve the employment of laborers or mechanics either by the prime contractor or any subcontractor, with the following exceptions:

(a) Exceptions. The law does not apply to supply contracts, such contracts ordinarily being subject to the Walsh-Healey Act where the amount involved is in excess of $10,000.00 (Subpart E of this part).

(b) Exceptions. Where the same class of work is not, as a general rule, being performed by the Government, contracts for any of the following classes of work are not covered by the act.

(1) Contracts for transportation by land or water.

(2) Contracts for the transmission of intelligence.

(3) Contracts for the construction or repair of levees or revetments necessary for protection against floods or overflows on the navigable waters of the United States.

(4) Contracts for supplies or for such materials or articles as may usually be bought in the open market, whether such supplies, materials or articles are made to conform to particular specifications or not (except armor and armor plate).

(c) Exceptions. The law does not apply to contracts between the War Department and any one of the several States of the Union or the political subdivisions thereof. The law, however, is applicable to any subcontract covering any part of the work covered by such prime contract with a State (or political subdivision thereof) where it is sublet to a private contractor.

(d) Dredge workers. The Attorney General has expressed the opinion that the basic law is not applicable to the employment of members of the crew of a dredge or like floating plant (38 Op. A. G. 150 (1934)).

SUBPART C—COPELAND ("ANTI-KICKBACK") ACT

§ 809.906 Basic law. The act provides that whoever shall induce any person employed in work subject to the act to give up any part of the compensation to which he is entitled under his contract of employment by force, intimidation, threat of procuring dismissal from such employment or any other manner whatsoever, shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than 5 years, or both. Act of June 13, 1934, (48 Stat. 948) 40 U. S. C. A. secs. 276 (b) and (c) as amended by Reorganization Plan No. IV, effective June 30, 1940, (54 Stat. 1236) in accordance with sec. 4 of H. J. Res. 551 (Pub. Res. 75) approved June 4, 1940, sec. 4, (54 Stat. 231)—5 U. S. C. 133u.

(a) Form of provision. The form of the provision required by regulation in contracts to which the act applies is set out in § 803.344. (Title 29–A, Department of Labor Regulations 2.6). (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.6).

§ 809.907 Applicability—(a) Character of contracts.—Generally the act applies to contracts and subcontracts regardless of amount for the construction, prosecution, completion or repair of any public building, public work, or building or work financed in whole or in part by loans or grants from the United States.

(b) Cost plus contracts. The act applies to contracts for such work entered into upon a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis or otherwise, with or without advertising for proposals, as well as to contracts entered into upon a lump sum basis.

(c) Exceptions. The act does not apply to supply contracts, such contracts ordinarily being subject to the Walsh-Healey Act where the amount is in excess of $10,000 (see Subpart E of this part); nor does it apply ordinarily to installation or maintenance work done for the account of the Government in connection with and as an incident to supply contracts.

(d) Determination of applicability. Since the primary factor for determining whether or not the act applies is the nature of the work contemplated in the contract and since this same factor is involved in determining whether or not the Davis-Bacon Act applies, reference is here made to § 809.911 to 809.911 (e) under Subpart D which are equally applicable to this subpart.

(e) Exceptions. The form of provision required in § 803.344 is not required in War Department contracts with a State, or a political subdivision thereof, nor are other regulations with regard to the filing of affidavits, payroll summaries and securing authorized payroll deductions applicable to such contracts. However, the provision must be included and the regulations must be followed in subcontracts of any part of the work involved sublet by any state (or political subdivision thereof) to a private contractor.

§ 809.908 Procedure. Pursuant to the provisions of the act, the Secretary of Labor has prescribed certain regulations made effective April 30, 1942 which govern the procedure to be followed in connection with contracts that are subject to the act, and the Davis-Bacon Act (§ 809.910 and following); also with regard to certain types of authorized deductions and the method of securing approval thereof. The substance of the pertinent regulations follows:

(a) Weekly affidavit with respect to payment of wages. Each contractor or subcontractor engaged in work subject to the act is required to furnish each week a sworn affidavit with respect to the wages paid each of its employees (which shall not be deemed to apply to persons in classifications higher than that of laborer and mechanic and those who are the immediate supervisors of such employees) engaged on the work covered by the act during the preceding weekly payroll period. The affidavit shall be executed and sworn to by the contractor or subcontractor who supervises the payment of wages and shall be in the following form:

STATE OF _____;
County of _____, ss:

I, _____ (Name of party signing affidavit), _____ (title) being duly sworn, do depose and say: That I pay or supervise the payment of the persons employed by _____ (contractor or subcontractor) on the _____ (building or work); that the attached payroll sets out accurately and completely the name, occupation, and hourly wage rate of each person so employed for the weekly payroll period from the ____ day of _____, 194__, to the ____ day of _____, 194__; the total number of hours worked by him during such period, the full weekly wages earned by him and any deductions made from such weekly wages, and the actual weekly wages paid to him; that no rebates have been or will be made either directly or indirectly to or on behalf of said _____ (contractor or subcontractor) from the full weekly wages earned as set out on the attached pay roll; and that no deductions, other than the permissible deductions (as defined in the Regulations under the "Kickback" Act (48 Stat. 948) described in the following paragraph of this affidavit, have been made or will be made, either directly or indirectly, from the full weekly wages earned as set out on the attached pay roll.

(Paragraph describing deductions, if any.)

(Signature and title)

Sworn to before me this _____ day of _____, 194__. (Title 29–A Dept. of Labor Regulations, 2.3 (b)). 29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.3 (b)).

(b) Exemptions with respect to weekly affidavits. Upon a written finding by the Secretary of War, the Secretary of Labor may provide reasonable limitations, variations, tolerances and exemptions from the requirements set forth in paragraph (a) above, subject to such conditions as the Secretary of Labor may specify. Request for such finding shall be submitted through the chief of the technical service to the Industrial Personnel Division Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for submission through channels to the Secretary of Labor. (Title 29-A, Dept. of Labor Regulations, 2.3 (c)). (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.3 (c)).

(c) Submission of weekly affidavits and subcontractors summaries. (1) Each weekly affidavit shall be delivered by the contractor or subcontractor within seven days after the regular payment date of the payroll period to the contracting officer or such other officer as may be designated for such purpose by the chief of the technical service.

(2) After such examination and check as may be made, one affidavit and one copy of the payroll of each contractor and subcontractor engaged on Federal construction (except shipbuilding and railroad), covering the weekly payroll periods ending nearest January 15, April 15, July 15, and October 15 shall be submitted quarterly by the contracting officer or other designated officer to the U. S. Department of Labor within 14 days after the close of the specified payroll period.

(3) Affidavits and payrolls for all contracts (except shipbuilding and railroads) located in the States listed below should be mailed to the addresses indicated:

(4) In the case of shipbuilding and railroad contracts, affidavits and payrolls will be submitted for payroll periods ending nearest May 15 and November 15 to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Washington, D. C.

(d) Submission of subcontractor summaries. Each contractor or subcontractor shall within seven days after the making of any subcontract with another person concerning work subject to the Act deliver to the contracting officer or such other officer as may be designated for such purpose by the chief of the technical service, an affidavit setting forth the name and address of his subcontractor and a summary description of the precise work subcontracted. After such examination and check as may be made, such affidavit or a copy thereof shall be transmitted by the contracting officer or other designated officer directly to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C. (Title 29-A Department of Labor Regulations 2.4 (b)) (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.4 (b)).

(e) Authorized payroll deductions. Deductions for the following purposes are permissible:

(1) Where required by Federal, State, or local statutes or ordinances to be made by the employer from the wages earned by the employee;

(2) Bona fide prepayment of wages without discount or interest;

(3) Deductions required by court process provided that the contractor or subcontractor will not be permitted to make such a deduction in favor of the contractor, subcontractor, or any affiliated person or where collusion or collaboration exists. (Title 29-A Department of Labor Regulations 2.5 (a)) (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.5 (a)).

(f) Authorized payroll deductions. Any deduction is also permissible which in fact meets the following standards and with respect to which the contractor or subcontractor shall have made written application by registered mail to the Secretary of Labor, a copy of which application shall be sent to the contracting agency by the contractor or subcontractor setting forth all the pertinent facts, indicating that such deductions will meet the following standards:

(1) That such deduction is not prohibited by other law; and

(2) That such deduction is (i) voluntarily consented to by the employee in writing and in advance of the period in which the work was done, and that consent to the deduction is not a condition either for the obtaining of or for the continuance of employment; or (ii) that such deduction is for the benefit of the employees or their labor organization through which they are represented and is provided for in a bona fide collective bargaining agreement; and

(3) That from such deduction no payment is made to, nor profit or benefit is obtained directly or indirectly by the contractor or subcontractor or any affiliated person, and that no portion of the funds, whether in the form of a commission or otherwise, will be returned to the contractor or subcontractor or to any affiliated person; and

(4) That the convenience and interest of the employees are served thereby, and that such or similar deductions have been customary in this or comparable situations. (Title 29–A Dept. of Labor Regulations 2.5 (b)). (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.5 (b)).

(g) Authorized payroll deductions. After application in good faith, the deduction may be made in accordance with the foregoing standards: Provided, however, That if the Secretary of Labor, on his own motion, or on the application of any person or agency affected by the granting of the application, shall conclude at any time, after written notice to the applicant and an opportunity for him to present his views in support of the deduction, that the deduction has not met the foregoing standards, such deductions shall cease to be "permissible" seven days after the applicant and the Federal agency concerned have been notified of the Secretary's decision. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.5 (c)). (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.5 (c)).

(h) Authorized payroll deductions. Upon application to and prior written permission from the Secretary of Labor, and subject to the standards set forth in paragraph (f), deductions may be made by a contractor or subcontractor or any affiliated person, for membership fees in group benefit or retirement associations; for board and lodging; or for other purposes where the Secretary of Labor concludes the deduction is required by compelling circumstances; provided, however, the contractor, subcontractor, or any affiliated person does not make a profit or benefit directly or indirectly from the deduction. A copy of the Secretary's decision shall be sent to the applicant and the Federal agency concerned. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.5 (d)). (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.5 (d)).

(i) Authorized payroll deductions. In accordance with and subject to the standards set forth in paragraph (f), general permission is hereby granted to make payroll deductions for:

(1) The payment of the purchase price of United States Defense Stamps and Bonds and United States Tax Savings Notes;

(2) The repayment of loans to or the purchase of shares in credit unions organized and operated in accordance with District of Columbia, Federal, or State credit union statutes.

(3) Contributions to a Federal governmental or quasi-governmental agency. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.5 (e)). (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.5 (e)).

(j) Restricted payments prohibited. In any case in which the employee does not have full and actual freedom of disposition of his wage payment, whether made in cash or by check, any restricted payment made to the employee is considered a deduction under the regulations in this part. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.5 (h)). (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.5 (h)).

(k) Lack of knowledge no defense. Nothing herein shall be construed to permit any deduction which the contractor or subcontractor knew, or in the exercise of good faith should have known, did not meet the foregoing standards. In order to insure compliance with this section, the Secretary of Labor may notify the contractor or subcontractor that the deduction will be permitted only if certain conditions with respect thereto are observed. The contractor or subcontractor or any affiliated person shall also comply with such general rules and regulations concerning the deductions as the Secretary of Labor shall make from time to time, notice of which shall have been given to the contractor or subcontractor or any affiliated person making the deduction and to the Federal agency concerned either directly or through publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. (Title 29–A Dept. of Labor Regulations 2.5 (g)). (29 CFR 3.5 (g)).

(l) Request for advisory opinions. The Secretary of Labor will furnish an opinion regarding the coverage of any specific project or with respect to the application of any provisions of the regulations in this part at the request of any Federal or State agency. Request for any such opinion shall be submitted through the chief of the technical service to the Industrial Personnel Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for submission through channels to the Secretary of Labor. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.7). (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.7).

§ 809.909 Alternative procedures for railway carriers. By letters of October 5, 1942 and January 22, 1943 from the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of War, a partial exemption regarding the submission of weekly reports above described in § 809.908 (a) was granted to railway carriers and an alternative method for obtaining permission of the Secretary of Labor to make certain types of deductions was approved. Copies of these letters may be obtained from the office of the Labor Relations Branch, Industrial Personnel Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

SUBPART D—DAVIS-BACON ACT

§ 809.910 Basic law. The act as amended requires as to every contract to which it applies:

(1) That a scale of minimum wages for every class of mechanics or laborers employed shall be set out in the specifications (in cases where specifications are advertised for bids).

(2) That a minimum wage scale must be included in the contract together with a stipulation that the same will be observed whether contracts are let on bids or not.

(3) The inclusion of certain additional provisions referred to hereinafter for the administration and enforcement of the required stipulations.

Act of March 3, 1931 (46 Stat. 1494), as amended by act of August 30, 1935 (49 Stat. 1011), act of June 15, 1940, (54 Stat. 399), and act of March 23, 1941, (55 Stat. 53—40 U, S. C. 276 a, a-1 to a-7), M. L. 1939 and Sup. I, sec. 746.

(a) Form of provisions required. The form of provisions required by regulation in contracts to which the Act applies is set out in § 803.343 and 803.343 (a). (Title 29–A, Department of Labor Regulations 2.6). (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.6).

§ 809.911 Applicability; character of contracts covered. The act as amended applies to all contracts in excess of $2000 to be performed in any of the States of the United States, the Territory of Alaska, the Territory of Hawaii or the District of Columbia, for construction, alteration or repair including painting or decorating of public buildings or public works where the same require or involve the employment of mechanics or laborers. The act applies to contracts entered into upon a cost-plus-a-fixed-fee basis or otherwise with or without advertising for bids, as well as to contracts entered into upon a lump sum basis.

(a) Definition of "building" and "work" by regulation. The Secretary of Labor has, by regulation, defined the words "building" and "work" as including, generally, construction activity as distinguished from manufacturing, furnishing of materials, or servicing and maintenance work.

(b) Definition of "construction", or "repair". The Secretary of Labor has defined the above terms as used in the act and in the Copeland Act covered in Subpart C above as, in substance including all types of work done under a construction contract such as altering, remodeling, painting and decorating, the transporting of materials and supplies to or from the building or work by the employees of the construction contractor or construction subcontractor and the manufacturing or furnishing of materials, articles, supplies, or equipment on the site of the building or work by persons employed at the site by the contractor or subcontractor. (Title 29–A Department of Labor Regulations 2.2 (b)). (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.2 (b)).

(c) Exceptions. The law does not apply to contracts between the War Department and any one of the several States of the Union or the political subdivisions thereof. The law, however, is applicable to any subcontract covering any part of the work covered by such prime contract with a State (or political subdivision thereof) where it is sublet to a private contractor.

(d) Exceptions based on nature of work contemplated by contract. The Act does not apply to:

(1) Contracts for servicing and maintenance work generally (Title 29–A, Department of Labor Regulations, 2.2 (a)), (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.2 (a)).

(2) Contracts for manufacturing and furnishing materials or supplies (See Title 92–A, Department of Labor Regulations, 2.2 (a) (29 CFR, Cum. Supp., 3.2 (a)), and servicing and maintenance work incident thereto.

(3) Contracts covering the furnishing of equipment and operating personnel for work only incidental to public works (see 19 Comp. Gen. 467, Dec. B–6009, Nov. 1, 1939.).

(e) Exceptions, "servicing and maintenance work" defined. The terms "servicing and maintenance work" as used in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of paragraph (d) above, include:

(1) Movement of machinery into or out of or from one part to another part of a building or plant completed or substantially completed.

(2) Installation of machinery, machine tools or other equipment in a plant or building completed or substantially completed.

(3) Plant rearrangement and production facilities adjustment or alterations incident to (1) or (2) above.

NOTE: This definition in connection with subparagraphs (3) and (4) of paragraph (d) does not relate to servicing and maintenance prosecuted by a construction contractor as a part of construction work.

(f) Exceptions based on other grounds. The act does not apply to:

(1) Contracts for construction, alteration or repair, though otherwise meeting the tests of coverage hereinabove set out, where the place of performance of the contract is not known or cannot be reasonably ascertained at the time the contract is negotiated.

(2) Contracts with railroad carriers and airline carriers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce, or subcontracts let to such carriers for the construction, alteration or repair of railways, or other facilities, insofar as such contracts involve railways or other facilities, insofar as such contracts involve wage rates payable to employees of such carriers operating under collective bargaining agreements with such carriers made agreeable to the provisions of the Railway Labor Act, as amended. (Letter March 14, 1942 from the Secretary of Labor to the Secretary of War, and amendment dated April 10, 1936, 49 Stat. 1189, 45 U. S. C. 181 through 188, of the "Railway Labor Act" of 1926).

(g) Determination by chief of technical service. The act contemplates an administrative determination of the application of the law to particular contracts and the War Department is authorized to make such determination. The chief of the technical service involved will determine within his own office whether the foregoing regulations require the inclusion of Davis-Bacon (and Copeland) act provisions in any particular contract. In cases of doubt the question, accompanied by full statement of the facts, shall be referred to the Industrial Personnel Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, for determination.

§ 809.912 Regulations, forms and procedures—(a) Regulations. The regulations of the Secretary of Labor described in § 809.908, where pertinent, are applicable to all contracts subject to the act.

(b) Regulations. Regulation No. 503, issued by the Secretary of Labor September 30, 1935, as amended April 30, 1942, prescribes the procedures to be followed in predetermining prevailing rates of wages. Whenever a request for wage rate predeterminations is made by the contracting officer and referred to the Secretary of Labor in accordance with the procedures hereinafter described, the necessary steps to obtain evidence upon which the Secretary may make the requisite predeterminations are to be taken by the Solicitor of Labor in accordance with the provisions of Regulation No. 503.

(c) Forms. Wage rate predeterminations are to be requested on Forms DB–11, accompanied by Forms DB–15, issued by the Department of Labor (see paragraphs (e) and (f) below). Reports of violations are to be made on standard Form No. 1093 (see paragraph (g) below).

(d) How obtained. Copies of pertinent regulations and forms will be obtained by the chief of the technical service directly from the Department of Labor for distribution to those concerned. The chiefs of the technical services are responsible for the suppying of the necessary regulations and forms to their contracting officers.

(e) Procedures; request for wage rate predeterminations. Prior to entering into negotiations for awarding a contract to which the basic law is applicable, the contracting officer will request the Secretary of Labor, through the chief of the technical service concerned, to predetermine the wage rates to be contained in the contract. This request will be made on Department of Labor Form DB–11, and the instructions on that form will be followed. Since the Department of Labor has stated that the basic law does not apply to the following positions, no predetermination of wages is necessary in their cases:

Assistant engineer on dredges or floating plant in supervisory positions.	Master or Captain.
	Mate.
	Mess boy.
	Messenger.
Assistant foreman, Camp assistant.	Office manager.
	Pilot.
Checker.	Quartermaster or steersman.
Chief mate.	Steward.
Civil engineer.	Storekeeper.
Clerk.	Superintendent.
Cook.	Timekeeper.
Cook's helper.	Waiter.
Foreman.	Watchman.
Junior deck officer.

(f) Procedures; prevailing rate information. Each request submitted as indicated in paragraph (e) above will be accompanied by one or more copies of Department of Labor Form DB–15, executed in accordance with the instructions on that form, which require a separate form for each occupation. In filling out this form, the contracting officer will consult the following and consider the information obtained therefrom in forming the opinion which he is required to state on the form:

(1) The Building Trades Council (or some other local federation or council of the various craft unions).

(2) Independent labor organizations not allied with the local Building Trades Council,

(3) Municipal officials (the commissioner of public works, the city clerk or other officials in charge of municipal construction who have data on the wage rates paid on city projects),

(4) The employers' organizations (such as Master Builders, the Master Painters, or other contractors' associations, the local chamber of commerce, etc.),

(5) Individual contractors and architects in the locality,

(6) The State Labor Department or its equivalent,

(7) The contracting officer and supervising superintendent, and

(8) The local office of the United States Employment Service or affiliated agency.

(g) Procedures; service commands. Requests by commanding generals of service commands to the Department of Labor for the confirmation or establishment of prevailing wage determinations for construction work prosecuted under a contract to which the provisions of the act are applicable, should be channeled through the Division Engineer of the Corps of Engineers, who will forward the request to the Department of Labor through the Chief of Engineers. The Division Engineer has available current Davis-Bacon wage rate schedules to be employed in the award of such contracts and trained personnel familiar both with War Department construction policies and the technical requisites for procuring proper wage determinations.

(h) Reports of violations. Where a contracting officer finds that any laborer or mechanic employed by a contractor or subcontractor on work subject to the act has been or is being paid wages less than the wages required by the contract to be paid, the contracting officer will make a report on standard Form No. 1093 (schedule of deductions from payment to contractors) executed as completely as possible from his records to the disbursing officer. The latter will complete the execution of the form from his records and transmit it to the office indicated on the form. (Circular letter A–34106, February 26, 1936 of the Comptroller General.)

§ 809.913 Policy regarding construction and maintenance work. See Subpart F of Part 802.

SUBPART E—WALSH-HEALEY PUBLIC CONTRACTS LAW

§ 809.916 Basic law. (a) Act of 30 June 1936 (49 Stat. 2036), as amended by the act of 13 May 1942 (56 Stat. 277); 41 U. S. C. 35–45; M. L., 1939, sec. 747. The act of 30 June 1936 is quoted in "Rulings and Interpretations, September 29, 1939, Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act," and the effect of the amendment of 13 May 1942 is explained in the Supplement to that publication (see §§ 809.917 (a) and 809.918 (a) below).

§ 809.917 Applicability. (a) Generally, the law is applicable to all contracts for the purchase of supplies when the amount thereof exceeds $10,000. The publication of the Department of Labor entitled "Rulings and Interpretations, September 29, 1939, Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act," as supplemented by Supplement published 24 January 1944 (Cir. Let. No. 1–44, 4 February 1944, Dept. of Labor), and paragraph (b) below, contain detailed information as to the contracts which are subject to and those which are exempt from the act.

(b) The following changes and additions to the regulations referred to in paragraph (a) above have been published:

(1) Individuals, corporations, or other organizations, not manufacturers or regular dealers as defined by the act, but acting at the instance of Defense Production Associations certified by the War Production Board, are exempt from the representation and stipulation required by section 1 (a) of the act.

(2) All Emergency Plant Facilities Contracts executed on an approved form are exempt from the act.

(3) Ice has been held to be a nonperishable commodity and thus contracts therefor are subject to the act.

(4) Contracts awarded to any railroad or other carrier are excepted from the representations and stipulations required by section 1 of the act.

(5) Contracts awarded for preserved or processed butter during the period from February 3, 1943, to the termination of the present war and three months thereafter are excepted from the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the act. (8 F. R. 1652).

(6) Contracts awarded during the present war for the production of training films are excepted from the representations and stipulations required by section 1 of the act.

(7) Contracts awarded for certain canned and dehydrated fruits and vegetables are excepted from the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the act until 31 December 1944 (7 F. R. 10794; 9 F. R. 405).

(8) Contracts awarded for orange marmalade are excepted from the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the act until 31 December 1944 (8 F.R. 14353; 9 F. R. 405).

(9) Contracts awarded for dehydrated rutabagas are excepted from the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the act until 31 December 1944 (8 F. R. 14353; 9 F. R. 405).

(9a) Contracts awarded for evaporated milk and powdered skim milk are excepted from the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the act until 1 September 1944 (9 F. R. 5996).

(10) Stipulation (c) of Article 1 of the contract stipulations (page 39 of the regulations) has been amended so as to add a colon at the end thereof and the following provisos:

Provided, however, That the provisions of this stipulation shall not apply to any employer who shall have entered into an agreement with his employees pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs 1 or 2 of subsection (b) of section 7 of an act entitled "The Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938"; Provided further, That in the case of such an employer, during the life of the agreement referred to, the applicable overtime rate set by the Secretary of Labor shall be paid for hours in excess of 12 in any 1 day or in excess of 56 in any 1 week and if such overtime is not paid, the employer shall be required to compensate his employees during that week at the applicable overtime rate set by the Secretary of Labor for hours in excess of 8 in any 1 day or in excess of 40 in any 1 week.

(11) Article 103 (Overtime) of the Administrative Regulations (page 42 of the Regulations) has been amended so as to add the following paragraph:

In the case of any employer who shall have entered into an agreement with his employees pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs 1 or 2 of subsection (b) of section 7 of an Act entitled "The Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938," the foregoing requirements shall be the same except that during the life of the agreement overtime compensation shall be payable only for hours worked in excess of 12 in any 1 day or in excess of 56 in any 1 week. If overtime is not paid for hours in excess of 12 in any 1 day or in excess of 56 in any 1 week, the employer shall be required to compensate his employees during that week for overtime for hours in excess of 8 in any 1 day or in excess of 40 in any 1 week. The requirements of section 7 (b) 1 and 2 of the Fair Labor Standards Act are more fully explained in Interpretative Bulletin No. 8 of the Wage and Hour Division.

(12) Articles 601, 602, 1101 and 1201 of the Administrative Regulations (pages 43 to 45 of the Regulations) have been amended as follows:

(a) Art. 601 (Requests for Exceptions and Exemptions). Request for the exception or exemption of a contract or class of contracts from the inclusion or application of one or more of those stipulations required by article

1 must be made by the head of a contracting agency or department and shall be accompanied with a finding by him setting forth reasons why such inclusion or application will seriously impair the conduct of Government business.

Request for the exception or exemption of a stipulation respecting minimum rates of pay and maximum hours of labor contained in an existing contract must be made jointly by the head of the contracting agency and the contractor and shall be accompanied with a joint finding by them setting forth reasons why such exception or exemption is desired.

All requests for exceptions or exemptions shall be transmitted to the Public Contracts Division of the Department of Labor.

(b) Art. 602 (Decisions Concerning Exceptions and Exemptions). Decisions concerning exceptions and exemptions shall be in writing and approved by the Secretary of Labor or officer prescribed by him, originals being filed in the Department of Labor, and certified copies shall be transmitted to the department or agency originating the request, to the Comptroller General, and to the Procurement Division of the Treasury. All such decisions shall be promulgated to all contracting agencies by the Public Contracts Division of the Department of Labor.

(c) Art. 1101 (Minimum Wages).—Until a determination of the prevailing minimum wage for a particular industry or group of industries has been made by the Secretary of Labor prior to the invitation for bids, the stipulation with respect to wages in section 1 (b) of the Act will be inoperative, as provided in article 1 (b) of these Regulations.

Determinations of prevailing minimum wages or changes therein will be published in the Federal Register and sent to contracting officers by the Public Contracts Division of the Department of Labor. Such determinations will be effective upon the dates fixed therein.

(d) Art. 1201 (Reports of Contracts Awarded). Whenever the contracting officer shall award a contract in which the stipulations required under article 1 are operative, he shall furnish the Department of Labor in quadruplicate on a form provided for this purpose the information required by such form.

(13) The following article has been added to the aforementioned rulings and interpretations:

Art. 1102 (Tolerance for Handicapped Workers).

Workers whose earning capacity is impaired by age or physical or mental deficiency or injury may be employed either by commercial establishments or as handicapped clients in sheltered workshops at wages lower than the prevailing minimum wages applicable under section 1 (b) of the Public Contracts Act upon the same terms and conditions as are prescribed for the employment of handicapped persons and of handicapped clients in sheltered workshops under section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, c. 676, 52 Stat. 1060, 29 U. S. C. sec. 201, by the regulations of the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the Department of Labor (Title 29, Chapter V, Code of Federal Regulations, Parts 524 and 525), which are hereby adopted as the regulations governing employment of handicapped persons and of handicapped clients in sheltered workshops under the Public Contracts Act.

Any certificate issued by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, pursuant to such regulations, authorizing the employment of a handicapped worker under the Fair Labor Standards Act shall constitute authorization for the employment of that worker under the Public Contracts Act in accordance with the terms of the certificate.

The Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division is authorized to issue certificates under the Public Contracts Act for the employment of handicapped workers not subject to the Fair Labor Standards Act or subject to different minimum rates of pay under the two Acts, at appropriate rates of compensation and in accordance with the standards and procedures prescribed by the applicable regulations issued under the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions has authorized the Vocational Rehabilitation Officers and the Acting Vocational Rehabilitation Officers of the Veterans' Administration to sign and issue temporary certificates authorizing the employment of veterans handicapped by a service incurred disability (as determined by the Veterans' Administration) under any vocational rehabilitation program administered by the Veterans' Administration, at sub-minimum wage rates pursuant to section 14 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 and § 524.14 of Part 524, as amended, of the regulations issued thereunder, and Article 1102, as amended, of Regulations No. 504 issued under Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act.

(14) By order dated September 2, 1942, the Secretary of Labor excepted from the requirements of section 1 of the Walsh-Healey Act contracts with a foreign Government or its representative for the purchase of materials which have been purchased for export to a foreign country but which have not been exported because of existing conditions due to the war in the foreign country of export and contracts with the custodians of or the holders of title documents to the materials purchased for export but which have not been exported because their exportation has been prohibited or curtailed pursuant to the Act of July 2, 1940 (54 Stat. 714; 50 U.S.C. 701).

§ 809.918 General instructions. (a) The regulations and instructions contained in "Rulings and Interpretations, September 29, 1939, Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act", as supplemented by supplement published 24 January 1944 (see § 809.917 (a)), and amendments thereto, and § 809.917 (b), will be complied with by all contracting officers. Chiefs of technical services are responsible for furnishing this publication and a supply of the forms referred to therein to each of their contracting officers. It is no longer necessary to obtain Form PC–1 from the Department of Labor (see § 802.298 (e)).

(b) The prospective contractors will be informed of applicable minimum wage determinations, if any, in advance of or coincident with negotiating contracts.

(c) Contracting officers are responsible for seeing that contractors to whom are awarded contracts subject to the Walsh-Healey Act are furnished Posters, Form PC–13 (Revised October 1943), simultaneously with the making of the award, or as soon thereafter as possible. All copies of previously issued posters, which bear no revision date or a revision date other than October 1943, must be destroyed and be replaced by that revised issue. These forms may be obtained from the Record Keeping and Control Section, Room 1106, Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C. In this connection, see paragraph (a) second sentence.

(d) Requests for exemptions, modifications, and exceptions authorized by Section 6 of the basic law will be submitted by the chief of the technical service concerned to the Industrial Personnel Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces, through the Purchases Division, Headquarters, Army Service Forces.

Bars—ingots, blooms and billets—iron.
Bars—merchant steel.
Bars—tool steel.
Ferro-manganese and spiegeleisen.
Girder rails and splice bars therefor.
Ingots, blooms, billets and slabs—alloy.
Ingots, blooms, billets and slabs—carbon.
Light rails—60 pounds or less per yard, and splice bars and angle bars therefor.
Standard tee rails of more than 60 pounds per yard, and angle bars and rail joints therefor, or any of such products.
Mechanical tubing.
Pig iron—foundry, high silicon silvery, malleable, open hearth basic, Bessemer, and high silicon Bessemer.
Pig iron—low phosphorus.
Pipe—standard, line pipe, and oil country tubular products.
Plates.
Posts—fence and sign.
Railroad tie plates.
Railroad track spikes.
Sheet bars.

Sheets.
Skelp.
Steel sheet piling.
Strip steel—cold rolled.
Strip steel—hot rolled.
Structural shapes.
Tubes—boiler.
Tube rounds.
Wheels—car, rolled steel.
Wire—drawn.
Wire hoops—twisted or welded.
Wire nails and staples, twisted barbless wire, barbed wire, twisted wire fence stays and wire fencing (except chain-link fencing).
Wire rods.
Wire—spring.
Wire—telephone.

Date effective: This determination was originally effective March 1, 1939, but its operation was subsequently suspended due to court proceedings. Its operation was again resumed effective May 27, 1940.

(2) Extension of minimum wage determination: Metal furniture branch.

Date effective: July 28, 1941.

Wage: That the minimum wage determination for the metal furniture branch of the furniture industry is extended to the manufacture of metal cabinets for printers' type; metal cabinet partitions; metal tool boxes, tool cabinets, and tool chests; metal trunks, box type; metal rotating bins; metal sectional bins; and metal work benches, desks, and tables.

(3) It has been determined that the manufacture of steel fabric springs for metal folding cots, when to be supplied on government contracts subject to the Public Contracts Act, is covered by the Metal Furniture Branch of the Furniture Manufacturing Industry minimum wage determination (Cir. Let. No. 4–44, 25 March 1944, Dept. of Labor).

(b) Public seating branch. The public seating branch of the furniture manufacturing industry is defined to be that industry which fabricates, assembles, and installs (by those who fabricate or assemble) public seating (upholstered or unupholstered), fabricated or assembled of wood, plywood, iron, steel, nonferrous metals or any combinations of these materials and consisting of the following:

(1) Fixed or connected seating for such public places as theaters, auditoriums, lodges, assembly halls, shoe stores, rinks, ball parks, race tracks, stadia, and other similar buildings and structures;

(2) Pewing, chancel, choir stalls, and related furniture and accessories for ecclesiastial purposes, seats and benches for court houses, hospitals, public waiting rooms, and for other similar public purposes;

(3) Pupils' desks, pupils' tables, pupils' chairs, and school furniture for all educational purposes;

(4) Portable chairs with folding seats in both single and multiple units;

(5) Portable folding seating in single units for other than household use.

Provided, that the following are specifically not included: Tablet armchairs and school chairs fabricated and/or assembled exclusively of wood.

Date effective: August 15, 1942.

Wage: 40 cents an hour, or $16.00 for a week of 40 hours arrived at either on a time or piecework basis.

(c) Wood furniture branch. The wood furniture branch of the furniture manufacturing industry is defined to mean the manufacturing, assembling, upholstering, and finishing, from wood, reed, rattan, willow, and fiber, of upholstered and other household, office, lawn, camp, porch, and juvenile and toy furniture, including but without limitation porcelain top breakfast furniture and radio, phonograph and sewing machine cases and cabinets; the manufacturing and assembling from wood, of furniture parts for the above, separately, set up or knocked down including but without limitation parlor furniture frames and chairs in the white. This definition does not include the manufacture of any product covered by the prevailing minimum wage determination for the public seating branch of the furniture manufacturing industry.

The manufacturing of any products covered under this definition is deemed to begin following the delivery of the wood from the kiln or from the air-dried dimension shed.

Date effective: August 15, 1942.

Wage: 40 cents an hour, or $16.00 for a week of 40 hours, arrived at either on a time or piecework basis for the District of Columbia, and all states other than California, Washington, and Oregon; and 50 cents an hour, or $20.00 for a week of 40 hours, arrived at either on a time or piecework basis, for the States of California, Washington, and Oregon.

§ 809.942 Drug and medicine industry. Manufacture or packaging of any one or more of the following products:

a. Drugs or medicinal preparations (other than food) intended for internal or external use in the diagnosis, treatment, or prevention of disease in, or to affect the structure or any function of, the body of man or other animals;

b. Dentifrices, cosmetics, perfume, or other preparations designed or intended for external application to the person for the purpose of cleansing, improving the appearance of, or refreshing the person.

The foregoing shall not be deemed to include the manufacture or packaging of shaving cream, shampoo, essential (volatile) oils, glycerine, and soap, or the milling or packaging without further processing of crude botanical drugs.

§ 809.947 "Specialty accounting" supply manufacturing industry. The commodities covered by this determination are as follows:

(a) Autographic and/or credit registers and/or supplies thereof, such as are used in making handwritten records of various transactions.

(1) Autographic registers may be further described as a machine or device for storing, alining, registering, and issuing copies of handwritten records.

(i) The accounting forms are usually folded in zigzag style, although some roll stationery is used. Such accounting forms are usually printed with the name and business of the user, but stock printed forms and plain stationery may be used. One or multiple copies of stationery may be used. Some roll and folder stationery is provided with edge perforations which engage pin sprockets for registration of forms.

(ii) The one or several carbon copies required may be arranged on rolls at right angles to rolls of stationery or such carbon sets may be interleaved with the forms and may cover the entire area or only a part of such forms.

(iii) Registers may be equipped to retain one or more copies of the transaction in a lock compartment and to issue the remaining copies. Registers may be supplied with a cash drawer, which is opened only by an operation which delivers a serially numbered form into a locked compartment.

(2) Credit registers may be further described as a cabinet or device for retaining in orderly arrangement sales tickets representing charge and other transactions.

(i) Such credit registers usually contain a set of vertical-hinged leaves, each leaf containing several numbered springs, the numbers corresponding with customers' names written on an index.

(ii) Such registers usually contain a storage and cash drawer and are sometimes supplied in combination with adding machines.

(b) Continuous form stationery, which is described as multiple sets of "business forms" with or without carbons, attached and/or folded, for use in billing machines, typewriters, and other office equipment. For example, continuous form stationery may be rolled or "fan folded' and may provide any number of copies up to the limit which will take a carbon impression. This type of stationery is usually printed according to specifications. They may be coated with carbon on the back or interleaved with carbon sheets.

(c) Sales and manifold books, which are described as bound books of multiple sets of forms for making original, handwritten records of sales and/or other transactions. For example, sales books are bound books of sales checks or tickets arranged in sets, usually either carbon coated on the back or arranged to fold or lay one or more carbon sheets between each two copies of a set. Translucent sheets are occasionally combined with carbon paper coated on both sides to reduce the number of carbon sheets. Covers may be arranged to fold in for the purpose of providing a better writing surface and may be ruled for tabulating sales. Sales books may or may not be printed.

Date effective: November 1, 1939.
